Pi Beta Phi Fellowship for Graduate Study

For the year 1930-1931, $\Pi B \Phi$ will offer one graduate fellowship with a value of \$500. This fellowship is open to any member of the fraternity who has received her bachelor's degree, and it may be used at any university, either in this country or in Europe, which offers special opportunities in graduate work along the particular line desired by its holder.

Two points will be considered by the Grand Council in awarding the fellowship; scholastic standing and all-round development of character with its resulting ability worthily to represent the fraternity. Each applicant must state definitely the university which she wishes to enter, the courses which she desires to pursue, and the ultimate aim of her graduate study.

Applications accompanied by photographs of the applicants, credentials from college professors, and other recommendations must be in the hands of the Grand President, not later than January 1, 1930.

All material should be collected by the applicant and submitted as a whole. Blank forms for applications for the fellowship may be obtained from the Grand President at any time. If she so desires, any applicant of former years who has not received the fellowship may make a new application.

AMY BURNHAM ONKEN, Grand President

EDITORIALS

IN decided contrast to our joy in chartering three new Pi Beta Phi chapters is our grief at the thought of relinquishing Virginia Beta from the fraternity roll, which with other fraternities on the Hollins College campus is to be abolished in compliance with a faculty ruling. Active members now in college may continue as organized groups, but pledging was denied this fall so that they will die out.

Virginia Beta, though only ten years old, has been an influence in the progress of the fraternity. Her loyalty, cooperation, and acceptance of the standards of the national fraternity is a record of which her members may be proud. And this same spirit has been carried on after college and made itself a vital force in the alumnae organization.

And so, even though Virginia Beta is to be but a memory it will be a happy one. The friendships made on that beautiful Virginia campus in the bonds of the wine and blue will be everlasting, for it may be truly said that Virginia Beta lived, and lived well.

THE work of officers of any organization often goes unnoticed and is unappreciated, but there are few members of Pi Beta Phi who have been unaware of the strides our alumnae organization has made and who have failed to give credit where credit was due—to Emilie Margaret White, Grand Vice President, and her assistant, Genevieve Herrick Smith. In a few lines it is difficult to express our appreciation to these retiring national officers, but these tributes written by co-workers may well be the voice of the national fraternity.

To Emilie Margaret White this appreciation was written:

"Charm and culture, sympathy and understanding, personal fineness and devoted service to the fraternity—the things that make up our conception of an ideal Pi Beta Phi—these belong to Emilie Margaret White, retiring Grand Vice President. It is with deep regret that we see her leave the official staff of the fraternity, yet mingled with our regret is a keen appreciation for all that she has brought to Pi Beta Phi through her years of outstanding service as Province Vice President, assistant to the Grand Vice President, and Grand Vice President. She has given freely of her time and her strength to fraternity work, but the demands made upon her by teaching and other activities have become too great to allow her to continue longer in active service.

"Under her wise and constructive guidance the alumnæ department has expanded and developed and has responded to the inspiration of her leadership. Pi Phis from coast to coast will cherish the privilege of having known and loved Peggy White. Our good wishes go out to her, who, though she has severed her official connections with the fraternity, still holds a place in our hearts and an enduring interest in Pi Beta Phi."

And to Genevieve Herrick Smith :

"It was cause for universal regret and truly heartfelt sorrow to the whole fraternity that Genevieve Herrick Smith, former assistant to the Grand Vice President, found it necessary to withdraw from the national work of the fraternity at the Pasadena convention. Mrs. Smith has endeared herself to every one whose privilege it has been to work with her during her years of fraternity service and words are utterly inadequate to express what those years have meant to individual alumnæ, to alumnæ clubs, to fraternity officers and to the composite life of the fraternity. Genevieve Smith was so outstanding in her work as Vice President of Eta Province, that the step into the national work was the logical result. She is the type of fraternity officer who not only gives the best and highest of which she is capable, but who is also endowed to a high degree with those rare gifts of initiative and executive ability which make a fine officer. When to these gifts is added those of the spirit—a genuine love for the fraternity and its ideals, a deep affection for people and a sympathetic understanding of their problems, a kindly and gracious manner together with unflinching tact—we realize something of the contribution which Genevieve Smith has made to Pi Beta Phi. To her, as to her predecessor in office, Kate Freund Miller, is due a large measure of the splendid growth of the alumnæ department during the years of her service. Serious illness last year made it apparent that there must be a period of rest from the fraternity work, which Mrs. Smith had carried all through that illness, and so the fraternity must for a time be content with her loyal work and interest in her local club of Kansas City. The hope remains however, that this interim of conventions will restore strength and health, and that in the years to come Pi Beta Phi may look to Genevieve Smith for a return to the wider field of the national work."

TO a fraternity that has maintained its standard against smoking, the action taken by the Twenty-ninth Biennial Convention, composed of delegates elected to represent seventy-eight active chapters to continue this standard, was indeed gratifying.

TWENTY-NINTH BIENNIAL CONVENTION OF PI BETA

California Was Hostess

A detailed account of the legislation and sessions of the Twenty-ninth Biennial Convention of Pi Beta Phi is given in the September Information Issue of THE ARROW. For this interesting account of the social activities and entertainment for the nine hundred Pi Phi guests, the fraternity and the Editor is deeply indebted to Nelle Welles Parr, Illinois Δ, who since early last spring has given unstintedly of her time, first as publicity chairman for Convention, and later as official reporter.

To Largest Pi Beta Phi Convention

IN CALIFORNIA, the golden state of the West, the beautiful gateway to the Pacific, at Pasadena's famous hostelry, the Huntington Hotel, was held the twenty-ninth biennial convention of Pi Beta Phi fraternity, from June 30 to July 5, 1929. There were many outstanding features of this, the most successful convention yet. The place of holding the assembly was unique in many ways. First of all, the hotel as an institution, holds an unequalled record for the extension of real California hospitality, and this coupled with the splendid gardens, swimming pool, spacious lobbies, dining rooms and patios, and genial service given practically entirely to the guests of this convention, immediately sounded the first note of the song of welcome sung throughout the five days. The fact that several hundred Pi Phis live in close proximity, and two active chapters are only a few miles distant, made it possible to have many willing hands and hearts help to mature plans and carry them out. With the exception of the Washington conference, this convention far exceeded in attendance any other one. There were almost 900 registered as attending the sessions, with a delegate from every active chapter and a majority of the alumnae clubs included.

Founders Present

Greatest of all joys was that of having the beloved Founders, Libbie Brook Gaddis, Clara Brownlee Hutchison, Fannie Whitenack Libby, and Inez Smith Soule, gathered from such distant points to aid in the celebration of National Convention in California. One and all felt better for the contact and the opportunity to greet and commune with these four stalwart older sisters. A keen regret was felt, also, that the others, Margaret Campbell and Jennie Horne Turnbull, were not able to join in the reunion.

The privilege of seeing the magic development from a desert country to a veritable fairy garden in such a few years as portrayed in the city of Pasadena, with its grand estates, scenic drives, educational institutions of national importance, recreational parks, civic center, etc., was duly appreciated by the visitors from other states.

The "Special"

Another feature peculiar to the convention was the various means of transportation used to get there. How did they all come? Well, all the modern agencies were used. The largest group coming together, of course, was on the "Special," which left Chicago at midnight,

June 26, over the lines of the C. B. and Q. railroad. There were 246 on the train, when it pulled into Pasadena. The excitement of being on a train for just Pi Phis was continually being added to, by having delegations come aboard at different points as the train came west. Particularly the privilege of having on board many important Pi Phis was spoken of so often. In this group were the two Founders, Mrs. Hutchison, whose grandson was with her to see that those about should not use up too much of her days, and Mrs. Gaddis, whose daughter, Annie Anderson, helped to make the trip as comfortable as possible for her mother. Of course, by this time, every one knows that Dr. Keller is not called president emeritus anymore, as some "clever" Pi Phi youngster on the train, when being asked who Dr. Keller was, replied, "Oh, she's our president Americus." When things began to lag a bit, then the plan to have a "pajama parade" was arranged, so that night it was on from the observation car to the baggage car, with particular stress placed on the singing "Ring Chin Ching." The waiters and porters were quite concerned to know "if all dose girls and ladies belong to that thing what dey all was yelling about." Other privileges taken by the trainites were occasional airings outside when stops were made and it is said that at one place an impromptu date kept the train waiting a while but the railroad didn't mind a bit. Such is the life for a "special" train conductor. Outstanding among the stops made by the "special" was the sightseeing trip through the city of Salt Lake and the university grounds there, made possible through the courtesy of the Gamma Phis, now Utah A of Pi Beta Phi. This ride was followed by a delightful luncheon in a charming garden, and a private recital on the famous organ in the Mormon Tabernacle. The next part of the trip was not as pleasant, for there seemed to be an unusually large amount of heat turned on when the train came over the California desert. However, all this was soon to be forgotten, when the luxurious vegetation of the country around San Bernardino and Riverside came into view and all began to realize that they were actually arriving at their goal.

Via Plane

The newer mode of transportation was used by members from two different points. Flora Hardie and Adele Jahncke were so anxious to get here that they just flew from their home in New Orleans in such a few hours. Katherine Riegelhuth, Nevada A, came in a Lockheed Wasp of the Nevada Air lines, said to be the fastest company in the world. Imagine making a trip that usually takes twenty-nine hours by train, in three and a half hours!

And who were those Pi Phis, who had such a hectic time with their car as they were coming across the desert? Of course hundreds of Pi Phis living in the state motored to Pasadena, and all in all, they came all ways except in a blimp or submarine.

One of the biggest questions asked was, "When and where will all these folks arrive?" The answer was given by the splendid organization of a small working committee on transportation and baggage. Practically every person coming to convention by train or boat was met by a private car, with the usual one exception, a prominent Pi Phi from Texas wired when she would arrive. As per schedule a committee member was at the proper station to meet her. Imagine the girls' consternation when off the train came the informant followed by five others and nearly a dozen pieces of luggage. You have heard that story about the new Ford, but that was too much.

The Big Parade

As the "Pi Beta Phi Special" pulled into the station at Pasadena, the California sunshine and hundreds of Pi Phis were at the station to welcome these hot and tired visitors. Over a hundred people gave their cars for the "buggy ride" from the train to the hotel, and most of them continued giving many pleasant rides during the week. This entourage that left the residential district, so the visitors were introduced immediately to the grandeur of their convention city's setting.

The Host

With true Californian hospitality, Mr. Royce, the manager of the hotel and his able assistants, Mr. Newby, Mr. Brown, and last but not least, Mr. Green welcomed the convention. From the time two years before, that the possibility of having it there was talked over, comfort, happiness, and the every wish of the Pi Phis was the uppermost thought in the minds of all at the hotel. Those, who were privileged to come to convention, know how successfully and completely this was carried out. Every department at the hotel worked so smoothly and with one desire "to serve the Pi Phis." Mr. Green, everyone was looking for him, and he was doing something for someone always. Mr. Brown, in his quiet unobtrusive way was looking out for the comforts of the guests, and was very busy trying to have friends room nearly in the same room, adjust bills, etc. This team, in fact, was so much used that many felt that a new color scheme could be arranged by calling them Mr. Wine and Mr. Blue. When one realizes to what extent the exclusive use of the hotel was carried, all the extras that happened in the twenty-four hour day that many put in, seem possible, for if the girls wanted to swim at three in the morning or have promenades at early and late intervals of the night, or stage a pajama musicale in the lobby of the hotel, there were no objections from anyone at the head of things. This freedom in such a formal place as

VITAL STATISTICS

Possibly to prove that dieting is on the wane the chef of the Huntington compiled the following items that were used during the convention:

95 gallons or 33,250 olives.
For the fruit cocktails there were:
35 gallons of peaches
18 gallons of pears
22 gallons of pineapple
3665 pounds of poultry
1513 pounds of loin of beef
205 pounds of rib of beef
680 pounds of lamb
781 pounds of green peas
135 gallons ice cream
124 gallons sherbet

depot "en masse" was escorted by traffic officers to the hotel, much in the same style as the Prince of Wales. The line of travel was through the city's most exclusive the Huntington usually can be best appreciated by those using it under normal conditions. The extent of the hotel's interest went so far as having the gardeners plant the wine colored carnations in their spacious gardens, so that a supply of official flowers would be available.

True Hospitality

In order that those living in this wonderful hotel for these five days realize the meaning of true hospitality as summed up in the Spanish words, "Ested esta en su casa," which means "Feel at Home," a different plan for a hospitality committee was arranged. In place of just one alumnae club being hostess, there were four; rather than one active group, there were two. A representative from each of the chartered alumnae clubs of Pi Beta Phi was chosen to act together on the following hospitality committee: Mrs. Gertrude Pentland Millikan, Glendale, chairman; Mrs. Netta Nixon Young, Los Angeles; Mrs. Winifred Seay Morris, Long Beach; Mrs. Margaret Gilliland Moore, Pasadena.

The desire of the committee was that whatever was done should be unobtrusive, but so definite in feeling that each guest would know from each and every member of the local clubs, in everything that was done, the real joy that was felt in having the convention in Pasadena. To this end plans were made.

The first week prior to convention was spent by the members of the fraternity's Grand Council in both day and night sessions. The concern for the welfare of these dear people was keen, so a break in the middle of this strenuous week was planned, so that a few hours of California's outdoors and glorious sunshine might clear their overworked brains for the last sessions before the regular assembly was commenced. Cautiously, an invitation for an outing was proffered, and an acceptance received. On Wednesday morning, three automobiles were at the Huntington at seven o'clock to take these guests for their first real glimpse of the convention city. The Long Beach girls, who were assisting, were so afraid that they might be late, that they stayed up all night, so that they could drive the thirty miles and still be on time. This scenic drive took the visitors through the hills of Flintridge, to Glendale—past hillside homes and through the "fastest growing city in the world" to the Los Angeles Breakfast Club.

"Hello Ham"

This club is unique in many ways, hundreds of the city's prominent men from every walk of life, meet each Wednesday morning to eat breakfast out under the eucalyptus and pepper trees. A few men who were accustomed to taking an early morning's horseback ride and then all going together somewhere and having breakfast was the beginning of the plan. Now they have built up a true "Shrine of Friendship" by the side of the road to which the city's most prominent guests are bidden. The many clever songs used are indicative of the personnel of the club. Imagine Miss Onken and Mrs. Stoolman singing the famous "Ham and Egg" song, and then turning to their neighbor, regardless of whom he might be, and saying "Hello Ham," and being answered "Hello Egg." Carrie Jacobs Bond, a guest at the club the week before, said "If every husband would say to his wife every morning before he rolls out of bed, "Hello Ham" and she'd answer "Hello Egg," there would be 100 per cent cheerful breakfasts. It was through the kindness of Helen Unity Hunter that the privilege of the club was extended and much credit is due her for this treat. Had you tuned in on your radio that morning, you could have heard Miss Onken present the greetings of Pi Beta Phi, in answer to the introduction given by the President of the University of Southern California, Mr. R. B. Von KleinSmid. The entire program was interesting, but one highlight came after it was over. Mary Carr, Jack Dempsey, and several others, as popular, were introduced to this group. Jack was most kind and consented to autograph the place cards of some of the Pi Phis there, who claimed to have sons. It is a pity Pi Phis are turning to sons these days, one didn't realize there were so many.

On the way back to the hotel, a stop was made at the world famous Forest Lawn Memorial Park, where a guide for each machine was furnished, so that all the points of interest could be seen in the short time allowed for it. Among those noticed were the "Little Church of the Flowers," so famous for weddings; the many original statues of marble; the mausoleum with its hundreds of art pieces, and the new chapel "Wee Kirk Among the Heather."

Back to the hotel and to work.

The well known saying "the best laid plans of mice and men do often gang awry" certainly worked in the case of the hospitality committee.

As convention approached, everyone was watching their diet, drinking eight glasses of water every day, and getting a little short of ten hours sleep each night. Energy was being stored up for the great event. Netta Young did one too many daily dozens, however, on the golf course this time, and four days before the special was to arrive she broke a bone in her foot, and faced convention in a wheelchair. This calamity brought undreamed of prominence to the hospitality committee, as Mrs. Young was one of the central figures at convention.

Greetings

As each delegate arrived at the hotel, she found a note of welcome to her written on special fraternity stationery. The composition and the writing of these seventy-five letters was done by Jessie Scott Cline of the Glendale alumnae club. She also wrote the notes of welcome to Grand Council, which were written on the first sheet of paper of a gift box of stationery, presented to each member of Grand Council by the Hospitality committee. This blue and silver stationery had an especially designed Pi Beta Phi monogram on it, which was originated by Ruth Massey Alexander of the Long Beach Alumnae club. The design of the monogram was so unique that it was used as a convention motif, in many places.

Mrs. Young's garden provided lovely flowers for the guests rooms, and strengthened the title it has earned of a Pi Phi Garden. The California Deltas took charge of seeing that these lovely blossoms were placed in each room of the hotel, and this was no small undertaking.

Convention

The formal opening of convention came with the model initiation on Sunday night. Following that, everyone went out into the main lobby, where an informal "sing" was held. This seemed to strike the keynote of the fact that this was to be a "singing convention," for Harriet Henderson, with her wonderful voice and captivating smile, and Louise Malin with her musical fingers led in a very inspiring group of familiar Pi Phi songs.

The evening's activities were under Mrs. Young's supervision. She planned the details of the informal reception, which followed the "sing," and presided over this, in her wheel chair, with wonderful grace and charm. All of the present and past presidents of all of the alumnae clubs, local I. C.'s, the Delta and Gamma active chapters, the central convention committee, the hospitality committee, and other outstanding Pi Phis had been asked to assist as hostesses at this event. A reception line, headed by the Grand Officers, the Founders, and others who are holding high offices in the organization, was maintained for a time sufficiently long to enable all present to greet them.

One of the high lights of the "sing" was the singing of a "California Welcome Song," which was written by Louise Malin, Iowa B.

On Monday morning, the ten hostesses, that were chosen for the day, reported for the day, each in a white dress with the blue hostess ribbon and the flower of her club on her shoulder. Each alumnae club chose a definite flower for its members to wear. Los Angeles chose a bunch of violets, Glendale wore pink, Pasadena boasts of yellow gardenias and Long Beach won recognition by its blue posies. So that many could share in projecting hospitality, each hostess was on duty but two half days, thus using one hundred Pi Phis and making the work a joy instead of a burden.

Special work was given the hospitality committee on Monday night. The plan of having the Settlement School program that night gave a very good opportunity to bring the altruistic work of Pi Beta Phi to the attention of other fraternity people. Because of the proximity to Los Angeles, and the numbers of alumnae groups of the other fraternities, it was possible as never before, to have a Panhellenic dinner before the evening meeting. Mrs. Morris of the hospitality committee was given the management of this formal dinner. Those present in addition to the twenty-four fraternity women, were President and Mrs. R. B. von KleinSmid of the University of Southern California; Director and Mrs. E. C. Moore of the University of California at Los Angeles; Miss Ada Blake, Principal of Marlborough School for girls; Dean and Mrs. Thomas A. Clarke, University of Illinois, national president of Alpha Tau Omega. The committee greeted the guests in the lobby and as they were taken into the dining room, a corsage was given to each one, as a special courtesy of the Glendale club. The plan of seating the guests at the table, which was arranged in the shape of a Greek letter II, was to have either an officer of the fraternity or some one who was vitally connected with the Settlement School sit between the guests. It gave everyone a decided thrill to have the Grand President introduce these guests.

Carnival Night

Tuesday night everyone entered into the carnival spirit. Great ingenuity was shown in the costumes, from grand ladies in period costumes to slim young things clad in paper bags, towels, and time tables. Prizes were awarded to South Dakota A for the most beautiful costumes, who were the last word in chic for the modern aviatrix, and to Alla Coe, California B, a charming Pierrette in black and white. Silver compacts were the prizes for this class, and had been given by the Broadway Department store. The first prize for the most original costume went to Washington A girls, who were a group of Saturday nights, and to Mrs. Howard Fletcher, Colorado B, who was concealed in a cleaner's paper bag. Mrs. Curtis of Cleveland was a walking display of Settlement School work and Max Factor make-up so successfully that she was voted the worst looking woman. Miss Onken, as the "Little Corporal," led the grand march, and naturally was the center of attraction and won first prize as the best looking man. The first prizes for beauty were silver compacts, and the prizes for originality were a novelty wooden and silver bracelet, the gift of the Santa Monica club. Judges for the contest were Mrs. Bernice Gerwick, Colorado A, Miss Anna Marshall, Michigan B, and Dr. May Keller, Maryland A.

An interesting development of pre-convention affairs was the formation of an alumnae club in Santa Monica. These Pi Phis felt a bit isolated, so decided to unite and as the result of this union they asked to have charge of the costume night party, so the responsibility was given to them by the central convention committee. One of their members, Helen Hill, Missouri A, designed a tag called the "little high hat," which was cut out of blue cardboard. This tag symbolized a girl's head with a high hat on it, on which was printed in red ink the words "Costume Night, Tuesday, presented by the Santa Monica alumnae." On Sunday afternoon these tags were placed in the mail boxes for each registered Pi Phi, thus letting everyone know in plenty of time, so that she could have a costume ready, and the result of the party proved that it was a wise procedure.

Following the parade, it was time to eat and oh what a treat was in store. The hotel had made especial arrangements with one of California's most expert barbecue specialists to prepare a huge amount of real barbecued meat for the al fresco supper that was served from tables arranged around the pool. Everything was so organized that all these hungry clowns were quickly fed. A flashlight picture was taken from the bridge, and the hotel manager said that never before in the hotel's history had there been such a large crowd taken care of in such a delightful manner, nor so beautiful an effect been attained. There were over a thousand people enjoying this festivity and all were Pi Phis!

In order that the Founders might wish for nothing, and so that the active girls might have the inspiration of their acquaintance, the custom was again carried out of dividing the waking hours of each Founder sufficiently, so that every active delegate could have her allotted time. Of course there were many alarms called into use, for oh, but it was hard to get up in the morning after all the night's festivities, and there could be no hurrying of these dear older friends with their breakfasts.

One of the most important parts of the whole hospitality idea was to see that the "Good-by" was said with as little confusion, and with as much real fellowship as was said the "Hello." This was done in spirit, if not in fact, that last afternoon, everyone went so fast that the smiles of the hostesses were but a blur on the landscape.

Convention Initiate

THE convention initiate, Mrs. Loyd E. Wright of Hollywood, California, was duly presented to Pi Beta Phi at a very beautiful and impressive ceremony on Sunday evening, which was the first formal opening of convention, when she was initiated into the California Delta chapter of Pi Beta Phi.

This honor has been given to other college graduates, women who have in some way been outstanding, and each one of whom has contributed greatly to the fraternity. Seldom does one find so many splendid characteristics in one person, but in Mrs. Wright is represented a wonderful mother, an enthusiastic worker in women's organizations, a charming personality, unusual executive ability, an enviable college record, all rounded out into one of the best examples of noble womanhood one could find.

Julia Kingsbury Wright is truly a Westerner. She was born in Buffalo, Wyoming, June 26, 1893. Her father and mother were among the early settlers in the state. Dudley Kingsbury, her father, was a cattle man, so that much of Julia's early life was spent in the wide open places, and on a horse.

She can tell many stirring tales of the times, when her father fought Indians with Buffalo Bill. When she was fifteen her family left Wyoming, and eventually settled in the Hemet Valley in California, now famed for the scene of the yearly "Pomona Pageant." Having graduated from the Hemet High School, she entered Pomona College, from which institution she was graduated with honors in June, 1915. There are no fraternities for women at Pomona College. After a year of travel, she stayed at home, but became active in the two most active women's organizations in the city, the P.E.O. and Eastern Star, thus being able to be with the same groups that her mother was active in.

Close to Pi Phi

In September, 1918, Julia Kingsbury was married to Loyd E. Wright. Mr. Wright was a lieutenant in the Army, and later was sent to France. Their first child, a boy, was born while his father was still in France. There are three other lively youngsters in the family now, two girls and another boy. Mrs. Wright is well able to manage this quartet, and still be able and willing to be community minded and maintain active part in her city's activities, such as being president of Parent teachers Associations and holding important committee chairmanships in other clubs.

Mr. Wright is a graduate of the University of Southern California Law School and is a member of Kappa Alpha. At present he is one of Los Angeles' successful attorneys, specializing in corporation law and in addition to his regular practice, is a lecturer of law at the University of Southern California.

For several years she has been taken as a guest to Pi Phi benefit card parties and as a prospective buyer at bazaars, so that she has had the opportunity of meeting and forming very close friendships with many of the Los Angeles alumnae club. Through this contact her interest had been well developed in the Settlement School, and she has already been assisting in its maintenance through her attendance at these benefits.

Those who were not able to know her at convention time in any other way—did sense her superior qualities, when she responded so graciously at the banquet to the toast, "The Pot of Gold." In her response, she showed the place a fraternity holds to those who see it from the outside, and it made it seem even more important that Pi Phi standards be maintained.

This convention will hold a sacred place in Mrs. Wright's heart, and has deepened her realization of Pi Beta Phi fellowship, and all that it means to the fraternity itself and to her.

Social Events and Activities

WHAT was the reason that one whole perfectly good evening was given over to being funny? Now this was a really serious matter to one person. Elizabeth Alderson Rehm, California A, explained that each chapter in a province was required to submit its idea of how to be funny, and the best one was chosen so that there could be ten different ones presented at convention. Of course all differ as to how to be funny and still be discrete, so it was Mrs. Rehm's task to manage a rehearsal for each one after the participants arrived at the hotel. Well, it was just another of those things that looked impossible, but she did it—sometimes when the stage wasn't in use. The following are the stunts as they were presented. The numbers were announced by Marjorie Lounsberry, California G:

Alpha Province, New York G, "Jack in the Box."

Beta Province, W. Virginia A, "Frat Meeting."

Gamma Province, Virginia G, "Pi Phi Types."

Delta Province, Michigan A, "Bluebeard."

Epsilon Province, Wisconsin A, "Pantomime."

Zeta Province, Iowa B, "Sleeping Beauty."

Iota Province, Oregon B, "Varsity Drudge."

Kappa Province, California Δ, "Magazines."

The hall was crowded, all were hilarious, and the stunts did make the people laugh. While the ballots were being collected to decide on which stunt was best, the audience was showered with maple sugar, candy, and oranges, the donors being respectively, Vermont B, California Δ, and California Γ.

The answer to the above question is that just such diversions as stunt night, masquerades, sings, etc., must be a part of a convention's program, because the human mechanism must not stay wound up tight all the time. At this particular convention, the two periods set aside for recreation were most opportune, for each one followed exceedingly hard sessions.

The Stunt Cup was awarded to California Δ, who received the most votes and Oklahoma B received the next highest number of votes.

Song Contest

After the stunts were all given, the song contest was held. There were only three songs entered, but each one was an exceptional composition. As with the stunts, ballots were passed for everyone for voting.

The winner of first place was California Δ, whose song was composed by Pauline Downing Tompkins.

Second place was voted to Iowa B, and this was another of Louise Spaulding Malin's compositions.

Chapter Exhibits

The chapter exhibits from the active groups gave full evidence that the individual chapters all have in their membership, those who can typify the important things of local interest and importance in truly an artistic manner. The display showed originality, artistic ability, cleverness, and true interest. The real purpose of chapter exhibits is to promulgate chapter spirit, to create a broader interest, and to show in a concrete way what the chapters have accomplished. The following statement comes from the the committee, who were the judges.

To the twenty-ninth biennial convention of Pi Beta Phi:

The committee on chapter exhibit awards begs to submit the following report:

It has been the pleasure and a duty of this committee to study the seventy exhibits presented to this convention, and it has been its most difficult task to reach a decision. Many clever and outstanding exhibits were submitted, and from these the committee has chosen the one of Colorado A as meeting its requirements to the highest degree "The Colorado Mountains Come to Convention" is not only artistic, but represents the activities of college and chapter, of alumnae club, and mother club, as well as beautifully depicting the section of the country in which the school is located.

The Attendance Cup

The attendance Cup was won by Oregon B chapter of Pi Beta Phi. This beautiful silver cup is offered by the fraternity as a reward for having a large attendance. The winner is determined by the following points: Total number of active and alumnae of chapter present; mileage; actives present; active enrollment; and total enrollment.

The Convention Banquet

THE crowning event of the convention was the final feature on Thursday night, July 4, of the formal banquet held in the dining room of the Hotel Huntington. There were 986 seated at small tables, with the exception of the speakers' table. This is the largest number of Pi Phis ever seated together in one room at a banquet. Unless you were there, there can be no comprehension of the enthusiastic effect of such a gathering. By means of a "public address system," all of the speakers were heard perfectly.

Miss Onken led in the saying of the Pi Beta Phi grace. After which she introduced the retiring Grand Vice-President, Miss Emily Margaret White, as toastmistress of the evening.

To open the toast program, an arrangement of the Pi Beta Phi Symphony, which comes from Missouri I, was sung by Dorothy J. Miller, Kansas City alumnae club.

It was a natural and clever idea to develop the theme for the toasts around the subject "Gold," for this a convention in the land of the first gold.

The Golden Surprise Strike came in the toast of the Convention Initiate, and the "Loving Cup" song brought again that sweet and solemn close to a perfect banquet.

As an interlude in the banquet, Miss Onken took the chair and made the presentations of the many cups and other awards of the convention. There was keen excitement in regard to all of them, so that when the lucky ones were announced great applause was given.

The chairman for the banquet, Mrs. T. L. Alford of San Diego, and her fellow members in the alumnae club of that city, were responsible for the many little extras attending the banquet.

No one can attempt to give a word picture of the splendid manner and cleverness of Miss White, as toastmistress. Her charm of personality, her superb handling of the English language, and her poise and loveliness made a touching finale to her years of service as a national officer.

Recreation Day

THE evening of recreation day, Wednesday, was spent, through the courtesy of the Pasadena alumnae club, at the Pasadena Community Playhouse, where the convention visitors were entertained with the sparkling comedy Why Not?, which was under the direction of Gilmore Brown. The guests who were complimented by the Pasadena Pi Phi's were the members of Grand Council, the Founders, active and alumnae delegates, province presidents and vice presidents, central convention committee, presidents and past presidents of Southern California alumnae clubs, other national officers and many other distinguished members of the fraternity.

This was the one event at which men were really welcome. Mrs. Margaret Moore, Pasadena member of the hospitality committee, who had charge of the affair, spoke to the audience, telling the friends that it was a pleasure to be able to have them come to the theater, and that after the performance, it would be their pleasure to conduct them through the workshop of the playhouse. The lovely pink carnations that were passed to all in the audience came from Mrs. Moore's garden.

Social Laboratory

Pasadena is justly proud of this institution, which was started in November 1918, by a small group under the able director, Mr. Gilmore Brown. The Community Playhouse is a social laboratory, in that each person that takes part, great or small, becomes a useful unit in a great social scheme. Its development has been the result both of thought and experiment. It is particularly for normal average Americans, who in life are not especially strong nor weak, neither exalted nor oppressed, but feel an instinct for self expression and the joy of living. The success of the movement will mean that all other business will be advanced with renewed vitality, and thus we may hope to live together and learn that the art of living together is the sum of civilization.

This theater has an international reputation now, ranking at the top of Little Theaters of the world. The beautiful playhouse of Spanish architecture has become a center for community culture.

Automobile Tour

When the convention was being planned for, the committee heard on every side, that it would be hard to have any real business sessions, for when people think of Southern California they feel that it is a vacation land.

The Los Angeles club is the largest one in the vicinity of the convention, and consequently chose one of the larger things to do. The plan to arrange for an automobile tour, involved many problems.

But such luxurious and comfortable busses "Such happy hostesses," "Such a jolly crowd," and "what a grand ride." The most elaborate coach was, of course, the one that all the Founders and Grand Council, and a few others, not so important but just as careful not to rock the boat, were in. With a motorcycle police escort these thirty coaches left the hotel at one o'clock, and didn't return until about six, so many miles of beautified landscape and natural scenery were covered.

Imagine being able to go right through traffic signals and smiling at the officers in charge. The trip was planned in such a way that many points of interest could be seen in the short time allotted. From Pasadena, they went over the Arroyo Seco Bridge, the largest concrete bridge of its type in the world, and over the hills to Hollywood, passing by the Rose Bowl of Pasadena and then a little farther, the Hollywood Bowl, where thousands of music lovers feast their souls each summer. Near this is the other canyon, where the Pilgrimage Play, the Oberammergau of America is given during the summer months. On through the city's business district, to the Hollywood Boulevard and Grauman's Chinese theater. "Sid" Grauman is famous for his development of the prologues for moving pictures, and a builder of the first million dollar picture house in the world. All along the way, the places of business, such as the Mont Marte Cafe, Henry's, the White Spot, etc., were pointed out as those patronized by the movie people.

Movieland

Just as everyone was beginning to wonder if they would see any Marys or Glorias, the busses turned into the United Artists Studio. It was a guess to know who were the most thrilled, the movie people or the Pi Phis, for as things are now at the studio, there are seldom ever any large group of guests allowed on the lot.

Many anxious moments were put in, because the real reason for the visit had not happened. Finally, everyone rushed to a large "barn looking" building, and soon the word came that Mary Pickford would appear shortly. Some delay in the scene she was making in the sound room for her new picture with "Doug," the Taming of the Shrew, had made her late in coming out. The wait was forgotten when she appeared and spoke to the girls, telling them how happy she was to extend to them the courtesy of a visit to their studio. She came out just as she had been in the scene, with all the make-up and a very elaborate period costume on.

The following story comes from the little Louisiana sisters, who pulled a very clever stunt, unbeknown to any one. Upon arriving at the studio, they soon discovered that they would not see the things they wanted to, if they stayed with the crowd, so after all the group pictures were over, they slipped away by themselves. Naturally they chose to follow a very impressive "collegiate" in white flannels and a blue sweater who seemed to be going "somewhere." And yes he was just doing that, and that somewhere was to the spot where Doug and Mary were making a "set." Still they followed, tiptoeing and shushing all they saw and who saw them. The grand climax came when Doug himself saw them, and answered their come hither look by coming to them and shaking hands. He was most pleasant, and tried to get the girls to talk a great deal so he could hear the Southern drawl.

On and on went the busses towards the west, through Beverly Hills, where they saw many, many homes of famous movie and other people. Then on by the new grounds of the University of California at Los Angeles and the new California Δ chapter house. Once again the long stop at the studio interfered and the return to the hotel had to be made in great haste, thus the trip to the Gamma house, the Coliseum, and the University of Southern California had to be omitted. Back through the busy part of Los Angeles's downtown, past the Marvelous city hall and over the hill back to the "home-tel."

The praise given to the ones who managed and financed this trip can never be sufficient. The courtesy extended by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce in assuming some of the expense is thoroughly appreciated. But to the Los Angeles club as a whole goes the real gratitude, for members who were so glad to do this for convention that in order to make the price of the tickets reasonable, it was necessary for them to manage most of the expense themselves. Grand Council and the active delegates were honored guests of the club.

"Get Togethers"

Mrs. Esther Rogers Carpenter, Pennsylvania A, entertained the Swarthmore alumnae and actives at her home in Pasadena on Thursday. Her two daughters assisted. Eleanor, Washington A, entertained the active girls from her chapter at a buffet supper Sunday evening, and then they all came over to the hotel for the model initiation and reception.

Tournaments

THE swimming stunts and contests were held in the pool down in the hotel gardens, the hour before the costume parade. All the events went off in good order with especial praise for the diving.

The winner of the twenty-five yard free style was Virginia Losee, Michigan B. The prize for this was one of those gorgeous one-piece bathing suits, which was donated to convention by the Perfection Knitting Mills, Los Angeles.

The winner of the swim for style was also Virginia Losee, Michigan B. The prize for this contest a pin with the Pi Phi Crest on it, and this was a gift from L. G. Balfour Company.

The diving contest was won by Helen Duckett, Virginia A. A silver cup was the prize for this and it was given to the convention for a

Archery

On Monday afternoon at the Pasadena Municipal Club Range in the Arroyo Seco, the archery contest held forth. There were not a large number of entrants, but those participating shot exceptionally well. All of the tackle equipment was donated by Mr. Sea of the National Equipment Company, and the place of holding the match was procured through the courtesy of Mr. Gilbert Scutt, park superintendent of Pasadena. Much gratitude is also due to Mr. Ormsby Phillips, chairman of the Pasadena Archery Club, who assisted in the details of the contest. As a prize for the low net in the accuracy feat, Mary Edson, Texas A, won a handsome silver mounted plate, which was the gift of the Mothers' Clubs of California Δ and California Γ. The balloon contest was won by Anita Beccas. Her prize was a pin with a Pi Phi crest on it, which was donated by L. G. Balfour Company.

Tennis Matches

The tennis matches were played on the courts of the Huntington Hotel, courts made famous by such players as May Sutton, Mary Brown, and just recently the popular star, Helen Wills, a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Will Wolcott, Colorado A, won the tennis tournament, and received the pewter compote given for first prize by the Bachelors' Club of California Γ. Mrs. Hugh Hunsinger, Columbia A, received the runner-up prize, which was donated by the Mothers' Clubs of California Γ and California Δ. This was a beautiful crystal vase.

The Golf Tournament

All of the golf tournament rounds were played off at the San Gabriel Country Club. It was a big surprise to see how few entrants there were, and many afterward expressed their regret at not entering so that they could have had the pleasure of playing on a typical California course.

Helen Lawson, California Γ, won the low gross. Helen is a former Del Monte golf champion and now holds the championship at Wilshire Country Club in Los Angeles. Her prize was a silver flower bowl donated by the Huntington. Laura Payne, California Δ, won low net. She is a beginning player and had a gross of 111 and a 22 handicap, which means 89 net. A pewter cup donated by the Union Oil Company was the prize for this score.

Bridge

The Long Beach alumnae acted as the official hostess of the bridge tournament one of the features of the recreation program, which was held in the main lobby of the hotel on Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday afternoons, beginning the play at four o'clock. There were about twenty tables each day. The prizes for each day and the grand prize were given by the Long Beach club members. These games proved a source of great joy, and it was with reluctance that they broke up each time, so that everyone could be ready for dinner.

A first and second prize was awarded each afternoon to the two holding high score, and at the banquet on Thursday night a silver vase was presented to Clara Mae Wright, Indiana B, the winner of the tournament. Recipients of daily prizes were: Josephine Steckel, Pennsylvania; Nita Day Carman, Minnesota A; Carol McBoyle, California B; Flo Cook, Washington A; Marie Anderson Burrows, Minnesota A; Clara Mae Wright, Indiana B.

Conventionettes .

ONE of the most unique clubs within Pi Phidom is the "Bachelors Club," which is composed of California Γ alumnae. One of the first girls from this chapter to start out in the business world was Frances Loftus, and it was she that conceived the idea of the club. This group was organized about two years ago, with a traditional membership of twenty-four. All members who "enter the holy bonds of matrimony" thereby forfeit their active membership. Nevertheless, they are allowed to attend meetings and parties, without power, however. On Tuesday night these Pi Phis went to the house of one of their members, who lives in Pasadena, Alice Pryor, for a midnight spread and a slumber party. The Bachelors were the only alumnae group which presented a skit at the stunt night program. They hold a bridge and dinner meeting once a month, the party being managed by two different members each time. They also have weekly luncheons at some downtown tearoom. When a Bachelor becomes engaged to be married, she must first announce it at a Bachelor gathering, and later she must give the crowd a party.

The central committee felt that the many extra events planned to be worked into every day of convention might interfere with one of the most important regular social plans of any Pi Phi convention, that of having Province Get-togethers. In order to avoid some of this possible confusion a schedule was tried, but for many unavoidable reasons, it didn't work well. However, the spreads, swims, and reunions at regular meal times went right along. Indiana Γ of Delta Province honored the Founders, Grand Council, and province officers at a Dutch Luncheon at the hotel on Wednesday.

Epsilon Province held its get-together Tuesday morning, with a swimming party at six-thirty, then a walk around the hotel gardens, and this was followed by a breakfast served in the dining room at seven-thirty. There were seventy members present. The members of Grand Council and the charter members of Illinois A were the honored guests.

Beta Province held a swimming party with a buffet lunch down by the pool, after the stunt program on Tuesday night. No we didn't hear them come to bed. Zeta Province also had a breakfast reunion on Tuesday morning with the usual honor guests.

Grand Council and Founders were invited to the home of Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, one of the Founders of Alpha Phi. Her home is on the Huntington grounds, and in one of her larger rooms she has a marvelous collection of some 800 different bells, which she has personally gathered from all the corners of the world. Each bell has an interesting story which she told so well. Mrs. Burdette, although seventy-three years old, is very active in public work, and is considered an authority on many things connected with women's club work.

Introducing Three New Chapters •

Successful petitions for Pi Beta charters were presented at Convention by three local groups from representative educational institutions in the North, the South and the West. While Pi Beta Phi ranks among the highest of Women's fraternities in total number of chapters, extension statistics show that in the past seven years its rate of extension has been the lowest—15 per cent, for the average increase in chapters for all women's fraternities ranges from 15 per cent to 130 per cent.

Utah Alpha

THE installation of Utah Alpha was conducted September 10, 11, and 12, with Gail De Wolf, Grand Secretary, as installing officer, assisted by Mrs. Captola Breyley Forker, Kappa Province President. Jean Warner was sent from Wyoming A as their representative and Jane Jones from Colorado B. Ruth Penick, Washington B, was chairman of installation and much credit should be given her for her untiring efforts in making the occasion such a memorable one.

On September 10, at two o'clock, Miss De Wolf, assisted by Mrs. Forker and Pi Beta Phi alumnae, pledged thirty-two actives, and thirty alumnae. It was a most impressive ceremony. Pledging, initiation and the reception following were held in the Jewish Community Center, a beautiful Club, located in the heart of Salt Lake. The girls were fortunate enough to secure it for three days. It was a most appropriate place, for its rugs are of wine and its draperies silver blue, certainly a seemingly background for such occasions.

Immediately after pledging, all the participants adjourned to the Gamma Phi chapter house, where "The Cloth was spread on the Carpet," in true cooky-shine style. A delightful meal was served by the Utah Alumnae Club of Pi Beta Phi, under the direction of Mrs. James A. Hogle, who was the capable chairman of the affair. The tables were beautifully decorated with trailing vines in brilliant autumn colors, garlanded with luscious clusters of grapes and lovely baskets of fruit, while the cookies had places of honor in between.

After a most enjoyable evening spent in singing Pi Phi songs, in which Jean Warner was good enough to lead, the Pi Phi alumnae departed to prepare for the morrow. The new pledges remained with Mrs. Forker who read and explained the Constitution.

Initiation of thirty-two actives occupied the following morning. At noon, a delicious buffet luncheon was served by the Gamma Phi Mothers' Club and was greatly appreciated. At two o'clock, initiation of the thirty alumnae began. Miss De Wolf gave the ritual a very beautiful and impressive interpretation. At six o'clock the formal installation of the chapter took place, and Utah Alpha became the seventy-sixth chapter of Pi Beta Phi.

The installation banquet was held Wednesday night at the Hotel

Utah. The tables were arranged in the form of a Pi, and artistically decorated with baskets of wine colored asters, blue delphinium and the beloved carnation. Virginia Carthey, vice president of the new chapter was chairman for this successful banquet. Miss De Wolf led in the Pi Phi grace and Ethel Paul, Illinois Δ , acted as toastmistress. Her delightful wit added much to a most interesting program. She first introduced Miss De Wolf, whose theme was, "The Golden Arrow." Her toast was a real inspiration, and brought a deep realization of the true meaning of the arrow to every Pi Phi there. The next speaker, Leila Sexton, Indiana Gamma, representing the Utah Alumnae Club, told very cleverly of the "Flight of the Arrow," from far-off Monmouth to the University of Utah.

In response to the subject "A Dream Conceived," Elsie Ward Lowe, Utah Alpha Alumnae, gave a brief history of Gamma Phi. Just how the "Dream was Fostered," was told by Ruth Penick, who spoke of the interest and friendship of the Pi Phi's in Utah, toward Gamma through the years and their delight in the new chapter.

Rodie Hyde represented the active chapter and responded with the toast, "A Dream Realized," cleverly written in verse.

Miss Paul read the many telegrams and letters of congratulation which poured into the happy new Pi Phi's and Ione Lunt Harrington sang two delightful groups of songs.

Mrs. Forker gave a beautiful talk on "The Dream's Promise," and spoke most earnestly of the privileges and obligations each wearer of the arrow must feel and the support which she, in return, would receive from the fraternity. The banquet closed with the singing of the "Loving Cup" song.

On Thursday morning, a model chapter meeting was held and the new officers installed. At noon, the Pi Beta Phi's from out of the city were entertained at a lovely luncheon at the Country Club.

Thursday night, Utah Alpha chapter made its bow to Salt Lake with a formal reception. The club rooms were filled with many baskets of flowers bearing congratulations and the many interested guests gave evidence of the esteem in which the girls are held.

It was with real regret that those who had a share in the three glorious days found them drawing to a close. To the new members, it was time of high resolve to live up to the best for which Pi Beta Phi stands and to the old, a renewal of pledges and a deepening of interest in our beloved Fraternity.

HISTORY OF GAMMA PHI

Gamma Phi, the oldest sorority on the campus, was organized in 1897 by seven girls who became known as "College Women." In 1904, the name became Gamma Phi. Almost from its founding the girls of Gamma were anxious to become a part of a national group. To this end a petition to Pi Beta Phi was prepared in 1914. In 1918, a petition was sent to convention at Charlevoix, but was not presented and the matter was tabled for ten years.

Nothing daunted by this discouragement, Gamma Phi went along with its program of high scholarship, excellence in welfare work, and prominence in campus activities.

Gamma Phi was incorporated and built the first sorority house on the campus. When the ten-year limit expired, it was with great hopes, the group again petitioned at the Twenty-ninth Biennial Convention of Pi Beta Phi, held in Pasadena.

When the charter was granted, the goal for which Gamma Phi had striven for eighteen years was accomplished.

To Pi Beta Phi, of which Gamma is now Utah Alpha, the girls pledge themselves to be ever faithful to the Wine and Blue, and to uphold the high standards for which they stand.

THE UNIVERSITY OF UTAH

The University of Utah at Salt Lake City was the first institution of its kind founded West of the Mississippi, having been established in 1850, just two and one-half years after the arrival of the pioneers in the Valley of the Great Salt Lake. In 1869 under Dr. John R. Park, the institution was adopted to work in classical, normal, and scientific instruction, which constituted the beginnings of the present schools of arts and sciences, and Education. Engineering courses were given as early as 1891, and in 1901, the State School of Mines was formally established. The School of Medicine was established in 1909, and the School of Law the same year. The School of Business was established in 1917. Great strides have been made in real University work in the past ten years.

The campus, which comprises ninety-two acres, is situated on the eastern boundary of Salt Lake City on a high plateau, and overlooks the Great Salt Lake Valley.

Florida Gamma

THE last week end of September is one that will be long remembered by the Pi Phis of Central Florida, for many friendships were renewed and many ties were strengthened in the fraternity. The installation of Florida Gamma took place at Winter Park, Florida—home of Rollins College—September 27-29, inclusive. The Grand President, Miss Amy B. Onken; President of Gamma Province, Miss Lois Thompson; and Vice-president of Gamma Province, Mrs. William Barnesly (Mabel Eldridge) were the national officers present. Winter Park and Orlando are adjoining towns so each was the scene of some of the events.

The opening event of installation was the pledging of the Sigma Phi girls, followed by a cooky-shine. This took place on Friday afternoon, at the home of Mildred Overstreet, in Orlando; the Orlando Alumnae Club acting as hostess for the afternoon and evening. The pledging started at four-thirty and continued until the twenty-two girls were wearing the pledge pin and colors. Miss Onken presided in her usual charming manner and the whole service was most impressive. The beautiful Overstreet home, of the true southern colonial type, with its wide halls and doorways, made a beautiful setting and lent itself admirably to the occasion.

At seven o'clock a delicious buffet supper was served from the dining room. Varied cut flowers and the chandelier entirely hidden by wine and blue balloons, gave to the whole a very festive air. The favors were arrows cut from gold paper, tied with wine and blue ribbon, and on the back each bore a welcome for the new chapter. Between courses, the pledges were busy learning the songs dear to the hearts of all Pi Phis. Later in the evening the pledges and officers gathered in the library where the constitution was read and explained.

Saturday at ten in the morning the initiation ceremony began. The place selected for this was the Woman's Club building of Winter Park—a most attractive building from without—set among giant oaks—and inside even more pleasing, spacious and delightful. The stage had been arranged for the initiation and was most effective. At one o'clock the alumnae of Sigma Phi served the luncheon in one of the reception rooms in the club building. The afternoon was well spent by the time the last were initiated and the chapter installed—all happy to be wearing the arrow and the wine and silver blue.

The installation banquet took place at the Dubsdread Country Club at eight o'clock Saturday night; Guests from Florida Alpha, Florida Beta, and the Deland, Lakeland, Kissimmee and Orlando alumnae clubs, as well as the Grand Officers were included. There were seventy gathered around the banquet table to celebrate the birth of Florida Gamma.

The ball room was fittingly decorated to suggest the theme to be carried out later by the program

—"The Lakes of Winter Park"—the whole to represent a garden by the shore of a Florida lake. Flowers and lattice entwined with southern smilax were all about the room. At one end of the room, lay a miniature lake with palms, oaks and other native plants banked on its tropical shores, gaily dotted throughout with wild flowers. On the tables were tiny lakes landscaped with flowers and shrubs. The wine and blue were brought out in the coloring of the lighted tapers. At each place was a beautiful corsage of rosebuds.

The program was presided over by the president of the Florida Gamma chapter, Demaris Wilson, as toastmistress. As with the decorations the theme centered around our lakes, the program being entitled, "Pi Beta Phi On Lake Virginia." An alumna of Florida Gamma, Mary Ellen Hall, gave a short talk on "The Source." Miss Onken followed with a well chosen message on "The Silver Blue Depths." Clementine Hall, an active of Florida Gamma, gave something of the chapter's campus activities in "The Wine Of Its Breezes." "The Sunlit Shores" by Kathleen Allen, brought a message of welcome from the nearest neighbor, Florida Alpha. Ellen Knight of Florida Beta, told of Pi Beta Phi's activities; her talk was entitled, "The Rippling Waves." "Reflections" was the closing message from the Orlando Alumnae Club; given by Mabel Eldridge Barnesly. The Loving Cup song ended a delightful evening.

Sunday morning Miss Onken conducted the first chapter meeting at the Pi Phi house and installed the new officers. That afternoon the fraternity house was most inviting and lovely as its doors were opened to many guests for the reception, honoring Miss Onken. Demaris Wilson, the chapter president, Miss Onken, the house-mother, Mary Ellen Hall and Mabel Eldridge Barnesly received. Throughout the afternoon the guests including the faculty, student body and many friends enjoyed the hospitality of this new chapter of Pi Beta Phi. The house, as all of Rollins College, is ideally situated amid the lakes and giant oaks. And thus another chapter is welcomed into Pi Beta Phi.

HISTORY OF SIGMA PHI

Sigma Phi was organized in 1920, at the suggestion of the president. This small group of girls gradually gained momentum and grew into a recognized cooperative organization. Three years later Sigma Phi deemed itself well enough established to direct its efforts to securing a charter from Pi Beta Phi.

Pi Beta Phi was chosen because after investigating the leading national fraternities it was found to be the one fraternity that embodied all the standards toward which Sigma Phi had strived.

For five years the members did their best in every way to live up to the Pi Phi ideals, by making their group outstanding in all branches of cooperation with the college.

Last year when Miss Onken visited Rollins she immediately won everyone's heart and inspired them to work harder than ever to be an active part of that which she represented.

ARROW readers can appreciate the suspense that ended on July 4 when telegrams from the chapter president were received at fourteen different homes telling each member of Sigma Phi that the goal had been won.

ROLLINS COLLEGE

Forty-four years ago Florida was a pioneer state. Nowhere in Florida was there an institution for higher education.

It was to meet such a need that Rollins College was founded by a group of idealists who believed that Christian education was not only the salvation of the individual but the hope and protection of democracy.

Today, Rollins is ranked by the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States as a "Grade A" college—the only college in Florida to receive this honor—which insures the acceptance of her credits by practically every college in the country. Rollins College is an active member of the following national educational organizations: The Association of American Colleges, The American Council on Education and The Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

In 1925, Hamilton Holt, Litt.D., LL.D., editor, author, lecturer and educator, accepted the presidency on the assumption that Rollins would forever remain a small college and that informal conferences be substituted for the system of instruction used by the majority of colleges. This new plan, which is called the Rollins Conference Plan of teaching, has already become a contributing factor in the progress of higher education in America and is being adopted by other colleges.

Manitoba Alpha

THE installation of Manitoba Alpha took place October 4, 5, 6, and 7. Much to the delight of the group Miss Onken sent word that she would be the Installing Officer, and it was with great pleasure that the group looked forward to her arrival. Miss Onken, Mrs. Sawers, Epsilon Province President; and Alice Palmer, official visitor from North Dakota, arrived on Thursday evening. Margaret Fiske, Minnesota A, and sixteen girls from North Dakota A, accompanied by Miss Brennan, arrived the next morning. Friday morning, and early afternoon were taken up with sight seeing, and preparations for the pledging ceremony which took place at five-thirty. The actives were pledged first, then the alumnae. This was followed by a buffet supper, which was, as the North Dakota girls said, "almost a cooky-shine." Mrs. Sawers then read and explained the Constitution to the new pledges who were proudly wearing their arrow heads, while the others were preparing for the initiation ceremony.

Saturday morning the actives were initiated. In the afternoon the alumnae were initiated, this was followed by the installation. Initiation was an experience not to be forgotten. It gave a new inspiration to every girl, a new vision of Pi Phi to carry with her, and a new and deeper realization of what her fraternity might mean to her, and to every member of her group.

In the evening the installation banquet was held. White and gold walls, hangings of deep jade green, palms, ferns, and Marguerites formed an effective background. A large gold arrow lighted with alternate blue and red lights hung directly behind the table which was in the form of a double "T," and was centered with streamers of wine and blue. Red roses, carnations, and silver blue candles in deep rose crystal holders, were used for decoration. At each place there was a tiny nut cup of wine and blue, and a souvenir menu tied with the colors, and bearing on its cover a silhouette symbolic of the college girl in the armor of fraternity, holding high the torch of progress. Miss Onken, Mrs. Sawers, Mrs. Long, Miss Brennan, and the official visitors from North Dakota and Minnesota, were presented with shoulder bouquets of roses. During the evening Miss Onken and Miss Brennan were presented with wood-block prints, of northern scenes, by a Winnipeg artist, and Mrs. Long with a diamond set recognition pin. On Sunday afternoon, an informal tea was held at which some of the freshmen were present.

The one cloud on the happiness of the group, the fact that one of the girls was ill in the hospital and could not be present at installation, was removed on Monday morning, when Miss Onken held a special pledging and initiation for her. It was a wonderful opportunity for the group to be able to conduct an initiation ceremony under the guidance of Miss Onken. Immediately following the ceremony was the installation of officers, and a talk by Miss Onken, which was greatly appreciated.

In the afternoon the formal reception was held. Palms and ferns were used to decorate the room, and silver blue candles and red roses, the gift of one of the men's fraternities, were used on the tea table. Tiny marzipan arrow heads served with the ice cream were decidedly popular with the guests.

The chapter has received several lovely gifts in silver, brass and china from friends and other groups on the campus.

ISABEL A. CLARK, Manitoba A

HISTORY OF DELTA PHI

Fraternities for women are comparatively new in Manitoba University. Previous to 1925, when Gamma Phi Beta installed a chapter on the campus, there had been one or two attempts to start local groups, but these had been discouraged by the faculty. It is a tribute to the present women's fraternities that they have today, the enthusiastic support of this same faculty.

The local group, Delta Phi, was the outgrowth of a group of friends, who wished to keep in touch with each other both in college and after graduation, and to not lose contact with the University. It was felt that there was a place for another group on the campus, and the consent of the dean of women was obtained.

On March 7, 1926, nine girls met to form a local group; they had very little knowledge of fraternities in general, but enough knowledge of Pi Beta Phi in particular to make them determined to build up a group worthy to petition her.

Mrs. M. I. Long, the only Pi Phi alumna in the city, gave a great deal of assistance, and with her help the group was officially formed with the object of petitioning Pi Beta Phi. The name, pin, symbol and flower were decided upon and a ritual and Constitution were adopted.

In May of the same year nine girls were initiated. With this nucleus the group began working toward nationalization. Miss Gladys Madigan, and later Mrs. S. Steele Conaway of the Pi Beta Phi Committee on Extension, corresponded with the group and gave a great deal of help.

By the late spring of 1926, there were five groups on the campus—two national, Gamma Phi Beta, and Delta Phi Epsilon (Jewish); and three locals. It was felt that an intersorority council should be formed. In the formation of this body, and the drawing up of a constitution and rushing rules, Delta Phi took an active part.

In January rushing was conducted in accordance with the rules of the council, and resulted in seven pledges. The first very intensive rushing took place in January, 1928. Competition was very keen and Delta Phi was delighted when of the twelve bids sent out, twelve were accepted, making the group the only one on the campus to get 100 per cent of its bid. Delta Phi had now an established place on the campus.

In the spring of 1928 the group entertained three girls from North Dakota A, and later met the whole group half way between Winnipeg and Grand Forks, at Hallack, where a joint picnic was held. In this way Delta Phi made her first real Pi Phi contact and gained some very charming friends. Since then the Manitoba and North Dakota groups have been interested in each other and some very pleasant visits have taken place.

In February the group had the pleasure of entertaining Miss On-

ken. From the minute of her arrival, she completely won the heart of each girl and strengthened her desire to become a Pi Phi. Shortly after Miss Onken's visit, official visitors were sent from North Dakota A, and Minnesota A. They apparently both enjoyed their visit and approved of the group for shortly after, Delta Phi was given permission to prepare its petition.

In May the Letter of Information was sent out, followed by the formal Petition. There was now nothing to do except await the results of Convention. On her way to Convention, Dr. Edith Gordon of Toronto, spent a day in Winnipeg, and the group was given an opportunity to meet her at a tea given by Mrs. Long. From Dr. Gordon, the group learned a great deal more about Pi Beta Phi, and especially about the Settlement School. Miss Brennan who was to present the petition at Convention, spent a week-end with the group before leaving for California. Finally Mrs. Long left for Convention, and the group settled down to wait, with anything but patience, for the result of the extension session.

On July 3, much to the delight and relief of the local, telegrams from Miss Brennan and Mrs. Long announced the acceptance of the petition by Convention. The group have vent to its feelings in an informal party, at which the guest of honor was Jean McIntosh of Ontario A.

THE UNIVERSITY OF MANITOBA

The University of Manitoba was established by an Act of Parliament in 1877. It has grown steadily since then, and as the Provincial University has shared in the rapidly increasing prosperity of the province.

Three small church colleges, St. Johns, St. Boniface, and Manitoba, constituted the University in 1877. Upon their cooperation and good will depended the permanence of the university. The Medical College, was founded and affiliated in 1883. Other colleges received into affiliation were Wesley College in 1888, the Manitoba College of Pharmacy in 1902, and the Manitoba Agricultural College in 1907. At first, the function of the university was only to conduct examinations of the students of the three original colleges. Then in 1901, with the erection of the first university buildings, courses began in the various branches of learning. Financial support was assured by liberal endowments of land from the Dominion Government and by annual grants from the Provincial Government.

In 1913 Manitoba began its work of co-ordination and expansion, and, since then it has grown rapidly. The University of Manitoba now ranks as second largest in Canada. There are some 2,775 students enrolled in regular courses. This does not include summer school, extension classes, accountancy, or short courses in agriculture and home economics.

The University has a distinguished faculty of over three hundred. Some of the most distinguished men of the world of science and letters, are included among the members.

The present buildings are situated in various parts of the city. The affiliated colleges occupy about thirty acres, while the Manitoba Agricultural College, located some three miles out of the city, has a total space of 676 acres with splendid buildings and modern equipment. The Provincial Government has this year, granted the sum of one million dollars toward the fund for new buildings. The site for the University is yet to be decided upon, as there are three excellent locations. When this is decided all colleges, with the possible exception of the Agricultural College, will then be on the same campus.

The Students form a self-governing body. All activities, through sub-committees and faculty executives are controlled by the students.

Manitoba has an enviable record of athletic achievements. In the annual events with the Western Canadian Universities Manitoba's athletes have maintained undisputed superiority over their western rivals. In 1922 Manitoba held the amateur hockey championship of Canada, and in 1928 captured the Allen cup which is to amateur hockey what the Stanley Cup is to professional.

Among Western Canadian Universities, Manitoba has taken the lead in the organization of fraternities both for men and women. There are two social fraternities for men, Zeta Psi, 1920, and Delta Kappa Epsilon, 1925, and two professional fraternities, Theta Kappa Psi, 1923, and Sigma Alpha Mu, 1926; there are also two local groups, one of which is to be installed as a chapter of Delta Upsilon in November.

The fraternities for women are represented by Gamma Phi Beta, 1925; Kappa Kappa Gamma, 1928; Alpha Phi, 1928; Zeta Tau Alpha, 1929; and Delta Phi Epsilon, 1926. Delta Phi, 1926, is now Manitoba A of Pi Beta Phi. All groups are represented in Panhellenic.

Sir Gilbert Parker Guest

One of the highlights of the Pi Beta Phi convention was the visit of the eminent English author, Sir Gilbert Parker. He was the guest of the Grand Council and Helene Unity Hunter at luncheon Thursday noon and proved a most delightful conversationalist. The Ring Ching Song of Pi Phi was sung, which pleased him very much, because it was only the third time a song had ever been sung in his honor.

Sir Gilbert expressed the desire to become a Pi Phi and when asked why, he said because the organization was composed entirely of ladies, and he thought it would be quite an honor to be one among 20,000 members.

MICHIGAN B, WINNERS OF THE BALFOUR CUP

Balfour Cup Awarded

One of the outstanding events at Convention is the presentation of the Balfour Cup awarded by Grand Council to the chapter ranking the highest in the fraternity according to the report made by the Committee on Survey and Standardization. At the past Convention, Lois Franklin Stoolman, Grand Treasurer, presented a beautiful silver vase to be known as the Stoolman Vase and to be presented to the chapter each year which receives second highest honors. California F is the first chapter to receive this honor.

To Michigan Beta Chapter

ELEVEN active members of Michigan B heard the announcement of the winner of the Balfour cup for 1929 at the convention banquet in Pasadena as the culmination of all their hopes. It is, therefore, with a feeling of gratitude and a keen appreciation of the responsibilities entailed that Michigan B receives the Balfour cup.

Scholarship has held an important place in the minds of all Michigan Betas. This year Pi Phi has won the scholarship cup in competition with twenty other sororities on the Michigan campus, after having held second place for two successive years. In order to keep the scholarship of all the members of the chapter high, fines are imposed for every hour of failure or condition, but of far greater influence is the pride which is felt for the rating of Michigan B both on the campus and on the national roll. Individual honors which have come to the chapter have been the election of one of the seniors to Phi Beta Kappa, and all A records which have been made by three other members, two of these being freshmen.

Michigan B has never made participation in campus activities compulsory. However, such a keen interest is felt in campus affairs that everyone wants to take as much part in them as possible. Participation in activities has led to the election of one member of Michigan B to Mortarboard, the national honorary society, and to the presidency of the Michigan chapter of that organization. The junior class has one hundred per cent membership in Wyvern, the junior honorary society.

The large, beautiful, and well-equipped chapter house has been a large factor in the success of Michigan B. Housing twenty-five girls, it has brought them together in a spirit of friendship and loyalty to the standards of Pi Beta Phi which could not have been developed in any other way.

Michigan B cannot say too much in acknowledgment of the debt which it owes to its alumnae, and particularly to those in Ann Arbor. In all its activities they have given their loyal and enthusiastic support, and they have aided the chapter in everything it has undertaken. They have given invaluable advice at all times, and it is to them that much of the credit for the success of Michigan B is due.

HELEN L. DOMINE

Pi Beta Phi Fellow

PAULINE TURNBULL, the Pi Beta Phi fellow for 1929, is studying Classical Philology at the University of Pennsylvania.

She was born in Ames, New York, and received her high school education in Iliion, New York. In the fall of 1911 she entered Syracuse University and was shortly thereafter initiated into the New York A Chapter of Pi Beta Phi.

During her four years of college and chapter life, she divided her time and energy between fraternity and university interests. She was the recipient of the chapter scholarship cup at the end of her freshman year, held the office of corresponding secretary during her junior year, and was President of the chapter during her senior year. In the course of the four years in college, she held membership in the Y.W.C.A. and Classical Club, was elected to membership in Iota Tau, the sophomore society, Eta Pi Epsilon, the honorary senior society, Pi Lambda Theta, the honorary pedagogical society, and at the close of her senior year was chosen as class marshal for commencement and elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

In her junior year she was sent as delegate to attend the installation of New York Γ, where she met May L. Keller who served as Grand President for so many years, and at that time formed a friendship which culminated in her accepting a position as secretary at Westhampton College, Richmond, Virginia. In the fall of 1925 the opportunity presented itself of becoming assistant professor in Latin at Westhampton College, which developed a keener interest in the classics, later strengthened by a trip to Italy in the summer of 1927 and a course in the Linguistic Institute at Yale in 1928. The offer of a tuition scholarship at the University of Pennsylvania was the outgrowth of her work at the Linguistic Institute.

For six years the office of Gamma Province president was held by her, which brought about a wide acquaintance with Pi Phis in the southern territory. While residing in Richmond, she has been an active member of the Richmond alumnae club holding all offices at various times, and she has always been interested in the Settlement School.

PI PHIS IN THE PUBLIC EYE

By Ellen Clare Kribs

IT GIVES me a great deal of pleasure to introduce to the Pi Phis at large one of Texas Alpha's distinguished members. She is one of those rare personalities of whom one reads in books and yet meets infrequently. She stands as a symbol of the modern, combining the gifts of feminine charm, grace and poise with those of astute business ability. She even keeps the rôle of wifehood foremost, while at the same time her position in the realm of professional women is most outstanding.

The story of the career of one of our members will be a help to many who are weighing in the balance the advisability of the question: to have or not to have a career; to be or not to be a professional woman—and if so, what and how?

Mrs. A. L. Chilton (Lenore Hummel) is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. A. Hummel of San Antonio. Her family have been residents of Texas for many years. In fact her grandfather's brother was captured by some of Santa Anna's troops and buried alive in an ant hill, with his head above ground and left to die. As for Santa Anna, that is Texas history in the crucible, from which is derived only a portion of its romantic history.

Her grandfather was one of the original Texas rangers, that organization of supermen so unique in the United States and similar to the mounted police of the Northwest. He built the first business structure in San Antonio.

Mrs. Chilton believes and rightly so, no doubt, that fighting blood flows through her veins; and though, she says "she has been knocked down upon her knees many times, she has never been prostrated there."

It was in 1903 that Lenore Hummel entered the University of Texas. She was graduated three years later with a B.S. degree. In college she leaned toward psychology and took all available courses together with many in pedagogy. In those days it was not particularly the vogue to study psychology and the term "psycho-analysis" was not upon the tongue of every young intellect.

Her desire to teach school met opposition from her family, who were very anxious for her to make her formal début in society, but she won her point and taught for a year in a little school on the outskirts of San Antonio. At the close of the term her family decided to send her to Europe, in the hope that this would prevent her from working for a while at least.

Following her eight months' tour she returned to Texas and found that she had been chosen queen of the annual San Jacinto Fiesta, the famous Battle of Flowers. Upon this throne any Texas girl would be happy to sit. But even this forced entrance into the social world was not enough to allure her away from her ambition "to do something."

And Lenore Hummel did do something. For nearly a year she worked for Wolff and Marx, a department store, writing every bit of the advertising copy and not receiving one penny of salary. Now, Mrs. Chilton realizes that the prestige of her family was an asset to the firm, but not for one moment would she lead you to believe that she should have received monetary remuneration. On the contrary she feels very much indebted to Mr. Wolff for giving her a start.

"I always feel," she told me, "that we should pay for our education just as nature makes us pay for our experiences—and she does! So few succeed in this game because they are unwilling to begin at the bottom and work up. A college education is not enough, actual experience must be gained from some source. Never sacrifice an ideal or a goal for a few dollars in hand. I am a great believer," she went on, "in foreordained careers. Eventually you will come back to the intended if you have any outstanding personality. Do the thing you like to do. Let go of fear and don't be afraid of the little pay check. You'll always come out on top if you have the faith."

Following her apprenticeship and two years in business for herself as head of a service advertising bureau, she married A. L. Chilton, then secretary and vice president of the Guarantee Shoe Company which operated a group of chain stores. Mrs. Chilton then gave up her business career and established her home. Several years later, however, her husband suffered serious financial reverses and Mrs. Chilton was forced to face life without the luxuries to which she had always been accustomed. She knew what it was to be poor and for the first time monotony and despondency crept in. But she rose to the situation and aided her husband in establishing the Chilton Advertising Agency in Dallas.

It was during this time when there was a need for rigid economy that Mrs. Chilton applied for a position with the Neiman-Marcus Company. Mr. Marcus told her that he didn't know what she could do, and she answered that she was sure of that, but she wanted to show him. So she took over the publicity and advertising of the largest ladies ready-to-wear firm in the Southwest and continued with it until four years later when she suffered a nervous breakdown.

During her period of convalescence, Karl Hoblitzell, president of the Inter-State Amusement Company, influenced her to take over the advertising and publicity for his entire circuit and help him put over the opening of the New Majestic Theater in Dallas. And for six years Mrs. Chilton worked in this capacity, booking the biggest attractions and selling the "stars" to the public.

It was at this point I interrupted and asked Mrs. Chilton if she preferred to be known by her husband's name or by her maiden name and she replied, "A professional woman has no right to consider her marriage secondary. If there are children they should come first, if not the husband and the home must have first place. Professional life must not infringe on family life, if so the business woman will be lost. The professional woman must remember that she is a woman and not sacrifice her femininity. She must maintain in all her relationships that austerity which she would observe in the most formal of social relationships. This is what so many women forget and when her flag is lowered, she is lost. And, as for using her husband's name, she prefers it, and feels that it in no way has been a handicap to her, nor has it absorbed her own personality or individuality."

Today we find Mrs. Chilton in her favorite rôle—that of stylist—and the highest paid woman in the field of advertising in the Southwest. It was in 1926 that she entered the A. Harris and Company, for part time only, as a specialist in the ready-to-wear department. Later she took over the entire advertising and promotional work for the concern. It is here that she serves women and the doctrine she preaches, she practices as well that: "he who serves best serves longest."

Mrs. Chilton feels that there is no sex when it comes to brains, but that a woman has to work six times as hard as a man, for he has had generations of business experience behind him.

"Everything I have learned," she remarked, "with few exceptions regarding business has been from men. I have always found them kind and helpful."

She also paid a tribute to the society women when she said, "One of the most inspirational things of my life has been the result of contact with society women. Their quest is always for beauty and the determination for refinement and a nation of beauty. They are trying to teach the nation to play, and never have I called upon them in vain.

Mrs. Chilton loves beauty and it is for this reason that she likes best her service to women. "Clothes are a means to increase beauty. It is not necessary to spend a lot of money to dress well. Women you know," she said, "have blue moods and I know of nothing that will erase them so quickly as to be correctly dressed."

To that psychological training in college she attributes her success, too, not only from what was gained in books, very little in fact; but learning from people.

"Do you then recommend a college education?" I asked.

"Indeed it's worth striving for and here I just want to say that I think the world is getting better and I think that the young moderns are the straightest, the most clear thinking people I've ever known, and their present enlightenment is going to be the salvation of the race. The future mothers are going to be the finest we've ever known. And as for poverty, it need not exist unless one is mentally afflicted. But the mind must be mentally trained and concentration is essential. But with all this one will never succeed through selfishness—one must be conscious of the fact that he cannot work alone anymore than he can live alone. The more one gives the more one gets."

And this is the fascinating story of a Pi Phi, who still serves her fraternity whenever an opportunity is afforded—she who still holds her official connection with the Chilton Advertising Agency, and at the same time writes articles for newspapers and magazines; does all of the advertising on the screen and curtain for the Majestic Theater in Dallas, and at the same time directs the promotional and advertising work of one of the largest department stores in Texas.

Pi Beta Phi Honor Graduates

The thirty chapters listed below have reported to the national chairman of the scholarship committee those of their number who graduated with honor last June. A few chapters reported that they had no honor graduates. Although I am sure that the chapters from which I have had no word may have had honor graduates, I am pleased with the reports that did reach me, for they were in perfect form and came to me at the time designated.

The girls have seemed particularly desirous this year of having good pictures. At least I draw this conclusion from the care they have given the matter of prints to be used for cuts. I appreciate all immediate responses to requests for changes in a few cases.

Stanton Carillon

THE original chime of ten bells was given to Ames by Dr. Edgar W. Stanton in 1899 in memory of his wife, Margaret McDonald Stanton, first dean of women at Iowa State College.

It was the wish of Dr. Stanton to install something which should cause all students and friends of Iowa State College to remember this woman, whose influence had been such a factor in the early days of the life of the College. He finally decided upon the idea of installing a peal of four bells in the tower of Margaret Hall. This thought grew until he decided to purchase and have installed a chime of ten bells in a detached tower, which was finally located by Dr. Beardshear and Dr. Stanton on the central campus.

Dr. Edgar W. Stanton came to the campus in 1870 and graduated in the first class, that of 1872. During the fifty years of his residence upon the campus he served three times as Acting President. He died September 12, 1920. His will provided that after taking out certain bequests the residue of his estate should be collected and turned over to the Iowa State College for the purpose of furnishing some kind of memorial for him. Mrs. Julia Wentch Stanton, Iowa I, and the children decided to request the College to install twenty-six additional bells in the Campanile, thus changing the chime of ten bells to a carillon of thirty-six bells. This request was sent to the Board of Education July 10, 1928, the carillon to be known as the Edgar W. and Margaret McDonald Stanton Memorial Carillon.

Panhellenic Congress and Interfraternalism

AND these few precepts in thy memory" began Polonius as he gave his blessing to the departing Laertes, and so we begin as we welcome a new college year full of fraternity friendships and adventures. May we take up the responsibilities which we have assumed as well as the privileges and bring them all nearer our goal of inter-fraternalism as we dedicate ourselves again to another year of service.

Inform yourself! Can you imagine how almost Utopian it would be if every fraternity member knew, completely and understandingly, the Panhellenic Creed, the Interfraternity Compact, the Standards of Ethical Conduct, and along with these was accurately and honestly informed on Panhellenic regulations generally and specifically? These are all easy to comprehend, just as easy to practice, if only we bring a willingness of spirit and an eagerness to do one's part. The new manual of information gives in condensed form this information which should intensify your fraternity loyalty and interest and which will bring you into closer touch with the progress and expansion of fraternity life. Know your Panhellenic nationally and locally!

Be faithful! What a world of living depends upon that word! Will you be true to the ideals and purposes of your university and your fraternity? Will you be steadfast in fairness, honesty, and justice? Will you be sincere in all your relationships one with another? Will you strive for simplicity which is the essence of good breeding? Will you uphold dignity and womanliness in word and deed? If so, then a large problem in rushing will be solved and more opportunity will be given for the natural attraction of personalities and characters.

Cooperate! No goal is reached through individual effort but rather through consistent working, and playing, together. In whatever we attempt remember that the truest results and the greatest success are measured in terms of cooperation. The very connotation of the word "Panhellenic" implies cooperation. Let us concentrate upon it, this year! Let us climb together hand in hand!

As we think on these things and as we achieve knowledge, loyalty, and unity, let us keep before us the summary of "these few precepts" as given in the closing words of that famous farewell,

This above all else: to thine own self be true,
And it must follow, as the night the day,
Thou canst not then be false to any man.

N.P.C. COMMITTEE ON INFORMATION AND EDUCATION

Edited by Esther Fuller

EENIE, meenie, minie, mo—where will we start? Magazine articles, theses, newspaper work, or book (past, present or in the process of getting written)? We have them all.

Alphabetical seems the surest way of being thorough—and that's the aim of these notes.

Ainsworth (the card catalogue system does have its advantages)—Mary J. This senior of Iowa Zeta chapter won first place in a poetry contest open to all University of Iowa women with her poem "Soil-Life" in the second semester of the last school year. The same poem also appeared in Hawk Wings, the University's literary magazine. There might be, and again there might not be, some connection to the fact that Mary is to be one of the three ruling editors of the magazine this year. Mary chooses well when she uses words, either writing or speaking, and her poetry reflects her choice.

Sarah Tracy Barrows is an alumna of Iowa Gamma, Iowa State College at Ames, but as an instructor in speech at the University of Iowa she is an authoritative figure. "Watch, Water, Wash," in which the differences of pronunciation, correct and otherwise, are discussed clearly, is an article of hers which was printed in American Speech for April, 1929. Miss Barrows is the authoress of several articles on teaching and pronouncing English, and of The Teacher's Book of Phonetics which was published in 1926.

Ideas of going into the business of prophesying the future, or of telling fortunes from handwriting (even though it may be on typewriter) come to me (it's too much of conceit on my part to expect a reader to stick with the writer so that the editorial "we" can always be observed) after a glimpse of Isabel Jones Campbell's new novel, Jack Sprat. A glimpse was all that was possible for it was already in the hands of another purchaser. But the cover was all modernish and inviting looking. Mrs. Campbell was discoursed upon in the May, 1929, ARROW. Jack Sprat was mentioned there, and here it is on the bookstands!

Found: The writer who answers the question she asks in the title of her magazine article! Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, discusses "What is the Monroe Doctrine?" in the March, 1929 issue of The Women's Journal. In a time when politicians are realizing the value of women's opinions more and more, now that they have the vote, it is interesting to find one of the pioneers in the movement to give women this vote still appreciating the woman's viewpoint. Mrs. Catt answers her leading question thus "An obstacle to peace."

The F's score a triumph this time with Jessie Douglas Fox, New York B.

Her novel belongs in this age of publishers who use distinctive stationery trimmed with colors, lines, and dots. Payson and Clarke, Ltd., is this company, and they have fitly handled the printing of Rain Before Seven.

"The study of a girl's heart"—does it sound trite? Well, it most certainly is the opposite. In the first place, the characters are modern and they are treated in an up-to-date manner. Miss Fox has not taken Jennet, and Shawn, and Katherine from any long-petticoated era and attempted to make a story by dressing thoughts of that time in current phrasing. Nor has she herself stood in that long-petticoated era and tried to explain, charitably or otherwise, "the youth of today."

Her book is a story and the publishers describe it as "drawn sympathetically from a deep knowledge of real people and real problems. Kathleen Norris says, "a new writer of great charm and real human feeling."

Rain Before Seven is hard to describe. Be brief, and you are inadequate. Be complete, and you ramble. Prescription: Read it yourself.

Though materialism is supposed to be removed from the chief concerns of new authors and those who are so securely established that they are assured of popular success, still it must be gratifying to Miss Fox to notice that this book had already gone into four editions before the publication date.

Concerning Miss Fox, her first story was written during a vacation from the private school which she had organized at Fitchburg, Massachusetts. The editor of the magazine called it "Russian," though Miss Fox says, "My punctuation was really the cause for that label . . . for I used dashes extensively and tore out my soul with great delight."

She was born and educated in New York; has been a painter, an interior decorator, and a teacher. Incidentally, she comes of a writing family. Her brother, Paul Hervey Fox has written for many years; and her cousin, Faith Baldwin, author of Alimony is one of the most popular of the modern novelists.

And how they do travel, these Pi Phis! Olive Gilbreath, Michigan B, is the subject of quite a lengthy discussion by the editor in the June, 1929, issue of Asia. It makes one who longs to "go places" envious. Listen—

"From January to June, 1928, Olive Gilbreath was the guest of Mrs. William J. Calhoun in Manchou house on Ma-tu-jen Hu-tung, a little alley of Peking. . . Mrs. Calhoun is the widow of the former American minister to China. . . Olive Gilbreath is known as a commuter to Russia and China. . . she has caravanned in Mongolia. . ."

"The Tibetan Banner," those gorgeous wall hangings of silk and color and pattern, is described in the June issue. The following month Miss Gilbreath has another article entitled "'Ware the Pitcher Plant." In this she tells of living in a house which was once a temple. Included are pictures and descriptions of other foreign-leased homes in Peking, city of delight. Gardens where grow oriental flowers, threaded by brooks crossed by miniature bridges. . . reward of Miss Gilbreath's travels.

"Up in the air so blue" might have been sung by Lorraine Gilman, Wisconsin A, after her balloon ride at the Iowa state fair. This was one of her assignments as special feature writer for the Des Moines Tribune during the fair.

If everyone could only write letters as cleverly as those of Agnes Meyer Hücke (Mrs. C. P.), Kansas A, then Uncle Sam would need a much larger force of mail carriers. Whoever said that letter writing is becoming a lost art reckoned without Mrs. Hücke's epistles.

You know those little animated figures of five lines and a head? They parade through the pages, far more expressive than many a word would be.

Putting talent to practical usage is Mrs. Hücke's accomplishment. To her credit put one child's book, Tale of Ten Little Toys, consisting of jingles and pictures. A series of "Figures" (jingles with illustrations) evolved after a protracted stay in a hospital. Another series "Pen and Inklings," of similar type. Some funny wooden toys which she designed and put on the market. "Eve's Epigrams" witticisms with striking illustration, syndicated to newspapers and other publications for the last seven years, has gone from the Atlantic to Pacific coast, and to Canada and England.

Mrs. Hücke writes that she once intended to become a portrait painter, but her sense of humor interfered with her serious ambitions.

Perhaps Mrs. Hücke has never considered herself a doctor but research contributes the fact that a little plaque of her "THINK! IS THE CANDY WORTH THE CASTOR OIL?" prevents overdoses from the candy jar nearby on the mantel of one Pi Phi.

Helen Irwin, Iowa Z, who has been assistant editor for the house organ of Maytag Company (washing machines) at Newton, Iowa, took a vacation at her home in Fort Worth, Texas, before reporting for work on Tremaine Publications in New York City, where she will read manuscripts and do some writing herself.

What would these notes be without mention of Margaret Weymouth Jackson, Michigan A? It's so easy to keep track of her if one just reads the popular magazines.

"One Roundtrip Ticket," the story of Janie, older in wisdom than years, who helps the bus driver, Mike, thwart a thief, appeared in the June number of Women's Home Companion. Other stories appeared in the Saturday Evening Post for March 23, July 6, and July 27, and the February issue of Pictorial Review.

If you like interesting results of real work and investigation read "Women in Odd and Unusual Fields of Work," by Miriam Leuck in the May Annals of the American Academy of Political and Social Science. She has found, from the questionnaire method, that there are 6,000 women railroad laborers. Women go in for deep sea diving, game wardening, and the manufacturing of glass eyes, among other things. Particularly applicable to the present writer is a phrase concerning a woman journalist, "She is still at the job, the surest proof of success in the newspaper world." Such a comfort as Miriam Leuck is.

Anyone who knows Amalia Kraushaar Nelson, Iowa Z, would trust to her analysis of "Parental Education" as it is set forth in the Educational Research Bulletin published by the college of education at Ohio State University. A Phi Beta Kappa, and then instructor in psychology at Iowa, Mrs. Nelson was characterized by her clearmindedness. She describes her article as "a cross section of the various parental-education activities in Ohio which are the result of the program sponsored by Ohio State University," and it deals with the work of the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers, the American Association of University Women, radio talks, alumnae groups, independent study groups, and the churches' interest.

Shirley Seifert has a story, "Path of Justice," in the June issue of Delineator. The library sent its copy to the binders, so all available comment is that if it lives up to her other short stories it is worthwhile.

This is not the end of the alphabet but it is the end of available information. The card catalogue awaits the next influx of notes on the writers who wear the Arrow.

To You Pi Beta Phi's:

To you who have come home for "sweet remembrance's" sake;
 —to you who are at the door about to step out toward a world that beckons;
 —and to you who stay on to keep the arrow bright and straight and true in our midst;
 May this be a happy occasion for you all, becoming one more bond that shall bind you in love, gratitude and loyalty to each other and to your college!

The Province Vice Presidents Visit Gatlinburg

EVER since the Province Vice Presidents have made regular visits to their alumnæ clubs it has been the dream of the Settlement School Committee that some day they might visit the school and then take directly to the alumnæ some of the inspiration that is bound to come with a first-hand knowledge of the work. And this year that dream came true! On August 30 and 31 the Grand Vice President and six Province Vice Presidents, representing Alpha, Epsilon, Zeta, Eta, Theta, and Kappa provinces, were at Gatlinburg for two days of intensive sightseeing.

Two days seemed woefully short to the staff and committee but thanks to perfect weather, a program carefully planned by Dr. Gordon and Miss Evelyn, and complete co-operation on the part of the visitors, it was possible to give them an unusually comprehensive idea of the school, the countryside, and the people.

The Pi Phi Man

Several arrived on August 29 and that evening listened to an informal talk by Mr. Orpheus Schantz, who used to be known locally as the "Pi Phi Man." [Mr. Schantz' interest in the school dates back to those early days when the Chicago alumnæ club, under the most efficient leadership of Mrs. Helmick, did so well the difficult pioneer work for the school. His wife, Carrie Flagler, Iowa Theta, was actively interested from the first and so enthused him that he has rarely missed making one or more trips a year ever since.] He gave a survey of the history and racial heritage of the mountain people, together with some interesting data on the geological and botanical side of the country.

The next morning was devoted to going over the entire property—the farm, the Health Center, the dormitories, the teachers' quarters, the two schools, the Arrowcraft Shop, and even the powerhouse. Everyone attended assembly, where the committee, as well as the Province Vice Presidents, heard for the first time the entire school sing their Pi Phi school song. It was too much for most of them and tears streamed down their faces as they realized just how deeply Pi Beta Phi is instilling its ideals of loyalty and friendship and service into the hearts of these boys and girls.

The afternoon was spent at the Emma Harper Turner Center at Sugarlands. There each visitor was asked to give a little impromptu talk about her particular part of the country—a marvelous opportunity for California! But Alpha Province Vice President with her winter home in Boston and her summer home near Plymouth Rock rather had the advantage as far as material of historic interest was concerned. When it came to inspecting the work the pupils were doing, one of the committee decided that it might be well if her own daughter could attend the school—the quality of the work was so much better than in similar grades in some of our city schools.

After school was dismissed there was a trip up the mountain road to within five miles of the North Carolina line and many were the exclamations at the beauty of the country. And there were cabins here and there to show the newcomers just how isolated these people were before the road came through. A picnic supper on the rocks down by Little Pigeon completed this day and the committee noted with great satisfaction that here, even after so strenuous a day, each Province Vice President was busily chatting with some member of the staff, asking numberless questions and eagerly gleaning every possible bit of information.

Aunt Lizzie Entertains

A walk up Baskins occupied the next morning and included calls on some of the people where much was learned of the homes, the speech, and the hospitality of the mountaineers. The poise with which they greeted a group of unexpected guests and their willingness to explain their weaving or to sit on the porch and sing ballads made a deep impression.

A business meeting filled the afternoon and a picnic supper on the porch of Aunt Lizzie's little hillside cabin completed two perfect days. Some stayed on for further exploration, attending church at Gatlinburg on Sunday morning and revival services at Banner in the evening—visiting up some of the other creeks and becoming more enthusiastic every hour. They all agreed that the two days' visit had been most worth while and unanimously chose Louise Richardson, Alpha Province Vice President, to write the following account of the trip:

According to the Province Vice Presidents the two days spent in a little cottage in Gatlinburg were some of the most enjoyable and most valuable days in their experience. New adjectives were coined; unusual similes were heard; notebooks were filled with what was seen and heard, from the information that story means a lie to the fact that the Settlement School teachers are decidedly good looking. Again was proven the fact that Pi Phi means friendship: California and Nebraska vied with each other as to the number of mouth-melting biscuits which each could devour; Iowa and Minnesota ate honey and watermelon to their hearts' content; Texas and Massachusetts were friends from the start, although one insisted on laffing, the other on larfing.

Although each day began at six-thirty, when blue haze hung over those glorious Smokies, and closed at eleven-thirty, when fraternity affairs were settled at a negligee conference, time was too short for all those two good friends, Doctor Edith and Miss Evelyn, had planned for their guests.

Sightseeing

Far exceeding the wildest fancies of the Province Vice Presidents was the beauty of the region, the harmony of the community, the charm of the teachers, and the value of the work. Who would not revel in the towering chimneys and the wildness of the stretches of forest; the shrub with the fascinating name—Hearts Bursting with Love—which obliging Mr. Mattil picked for those who rode in his staunch little Ford over the old trail abounding in bumps and ruts and rocks out to Sugarlands! Who could forget that gorgeous ride in the rumble seat with the learned chairman of the Settlement School committee over the winding new road bordering on deep gulleys through the new National Park nearly to North Carolina! Then there was the picnic by the roaring fire made by those efficient teachers of Sugarlands; the scrambling up the rocks in the pitchy darkness; the stumbling down a narrow trail; the teetering over those perilous scream-producing bridges with three tiny flash lights shared by twenty picnickers.

Who can ever lose the memory of those friendly contacts: that supper on the porch of Aunt Lizzie's mountain-perched home where it was decided between big mouthfulls of jam sandwiches and eggs that Aunt Lizzie should keep a home for ancient Pi Phi spinsters—and even weary wives. And there was the trip with thoughtful Mr. Smith up Caney Crik to give assistance to the sick cow, and the pleasant chat with its owner who put her callers to shame when she said she'd overslept that morning and not risen till four-thirty! What of that sunny morning when the entire crowd—husband and all—walked up Baskins to visit Izora in her flower surrounded house—here it was that Nebraska and Texas proudly assisted Izora in her weaving—and to hear Myrtle tell of the Harp Singing and sing those old ballads, "Judge and Jury" and "Barbara Allen" and close with "America." What a thrill that gave the visitors!

Friendships

The Province Vice President will long cherish memories of the eager, enthusiastic Doctor Edith, the level headed, sweet-spirited Rebecca, and the conscientious, merry Blanche: how they insisted that each Province Vice President trail over to the hotel in decided undress for a hot bath; how they feared lest something be left undone, and how they filled all with a new love for Pi Phi. Perhaps the Settlement School committee in turn will remember the well-poised Lillian of Epsilon Province who had such a good Pi Phi husband and attractive musical daughter, the charming Florence of Zeta, the efficient Vera of Eta, the versatile Frankie of Theta who insisted in kissing the cheek which had once been kissed by the former First Lady, the gracious Bernice of Kappa, and the broad a'd Louise of Alpha.

From the fun of the picnics, the thrill of the mountain rides, the joys of association with splendid Tennessee men and women and with some of the finest Pi Phis in the country, has come to each of those Province Vice Presidents who were given the privilege of a visit to Gatlinburg, a desire to publish wherever she may go the fact that there is no work more worth the time, the strength, and the money of every Pi Phi than that being done in the heart of the Great Smokies in the Pi Beta Phi Settlement School.

An Old Art Modernized

This interesting story of weaving at Gatlinburg and the part that the Pi Beta Phi Settlement school has played in reviving it was written for the August-September issue of "The Handicrafter" by Winogene B. Redding who resigned from the Settlement School staff in June after four years of devoted and faithful service. The Editor wishes to acknowledge her appreciation to the Emilie Bernat and Sons Company, publishers of "The Handicrafter," for permission to reprint this story.

By WINOGENE B. REDDING

THE revival of weaving in Gatlinburg is at an interesting stage in its development. In this mountain section of East Tennessee, where a large part of the population still lives according to age-old customs, the weaving strikes a modern note that is curiously different and a little out of keeping with the fast disappearing log cabin days. It seems as if we should expect the woman who still lives in a picturesque log cabin to be weaving coverlets made of her own homespun, indigo dyed wool on an old heavy beamed sled loom; instead we find her weaving bright colored scarfs or modernistic towels of fine linen on a small, modern homemade loom whose only claim, as far as looks are concerned, with the old loom long relegated to the loft, is the string heddles.

About twenty-five years ago the home industry of weaving went out of style around here, so to the younger mothers it is a new and strange art. It is to their grandmothers we go for stories of weaving in the romantic age for it seems like romance to those of us who can only gaze at the gloriously colored pieces of weaving that are brought out of an old trunk for us to admire.

It became much more simple to buy a few yards of dress material at the new store than to spend the many months of hard labor that it took to raise a small patch of cotton or flax or to prepare wool from the time it was sheared from the sheep until it was finally woven into cloth for family use.

Grandmothers' Tales

How strange we think the tales of these grandmothers. One tells me with pride that when she was young she used to weave seven yards of blankets or four to five yards of jean in a day; another how she would gather walnut roots to dye wool for suiting for her man and how it would grow darker in color the longer it was worn; the next one, how her mother would raise a patch of flax and how much beating it took to separate the fibers and then the tow was used to fill bed quilts; and another, how long it took to prepare a blue pot and how difficult it was to know when it was just at the right stage to dip the wool. One woman told me recently of seeing years ago, her grandmother's and grandfather's church clothes that her grandmother had woven. The dress was made of very fine dark brown homespun wool and fashioned with a series of ruffles, short and full, down the entire length of the skirt. The man's suit was much more gay as the trousers were woven of colored striped homespun and the woven cotton shirt was made with a ruffle around the vest-like front. They were beautifully sewed with tiny, wee stitches, the happy result of months of work. The weaving days must have been strenuous ones, too, for one woman told me how she used to dread to have her mother sit down at her loom for then two of the children had to sit under the loom, one on each side, to catch the shuttle when it went flying to the floor. Thus was weaving when our country was young and the family clothing and bedding depended upon the ingenuity and art of the womenfolks. This is the way it was preserved in the homes until our day and for our appreciation in these remote mountain regions.

Now these grandmothers watch their daughters weave with an ease that they never imagined possible—even their weaving language is not the same. The "chain" of their time is now a warp, the "gears" are harnesses, "quills" are bobbins, sleys are no longer numbered from 400 to 700 sley—eyes to each one, according to the way the cane pieces were fastened in, but are steel affairs, uniformly made and numbered by the inch.

The reason for weaving has changed as completely as the times for now it is done from choice and not from necessity. It is true that we use the same old patterns, none lovelier could be found, but our adaptations, color schemes, and the uses to which they are put are so different that they hardly seem the same designs.

Weaving In Vogue

Once more weaving is the thing to do in the homes, in fact one might call it the chief indoor sport of Gatlinburg and the surrounding country. There are at least seventy-five women steadily employed at their looms and one can hardly pass a house for miles around without hearing the thump, thump of the beater. Economically it has distinct advantages for the money earned is put to good use. Several women have helped to build and furnish new homes, children are being sent to school, three young girls are earning enough this summer to go to high school again in the fall. It helps to pay for the family car and Victrolas and pianos are invested in because the mountain people are lovers of music. Artistically it is equally important. Every woman takes pleasure in watching a fabric grow thread by thread. That is perhaps the greatest reason why weaving has such a human appeal. It is a joy to discover a woman who lives way up a creek develop a keen sense of color and see her eyes shine when she is given a basket of different colored yarn and told to weave it up into things she thinks are pretty.

In this way her love for color is satisfied the year round for every mountain home is surrounded by flowers in the summer and it is the women who care for them patiently and carefully so the gaily colored skeins of yarn hanging against the dark weathered plank wall transform a dark wintry day into one of brightness and cheer. Some women take special pride in making new designs out of old threadings, a thing which is encouraged. And so it goes, each woman giving her weaving an individual touch for no matter how many are making the same kind of towels or runners each one is different from the other.

When the weaving was first encouraged and taught by the Pi Beta Phi Settlement School, which selected Gatlinburg for its location seventeen years ago, the industrial department had a small and humble beginning. Now the department reaches nearly one hundred homes through the weaving, baskets, and furniture making. The people are taught individually and entirely in the homes with the exception of a few girls each year who study weaving in the school. We reach some of the homes by automobile, when they are situated on the new state highway that goes by our very door, for we are fortunate to be located at the entrance to the proposed Smoky Mountain National Park. Other homes, in picturesque settings which we find up this creek or in that hollow, can only be reached by horseback or walking over steep, rocky roads that are still very rough as good roads come very slowly to us. Gift Shops have been opened to sell our wares to the tourists who come to view the splendid scenery. One is sponsored by the school, others by energetic mountain women who learned weaving in the school in the early days.

True Revival

The women are once more weaving dresses for themselves of bright colored yarns that were not possible to make in a home dye pot, their own linens and curtains for the home, for the new houses have many windows in place of the one little window the old time cabin had. These young women are eager to learn, responsive to suggestions, and give their whole hearted co-operation. They know that without these things no project can be a success. They realize, too, that the articles they weave have to meet a different need in their homes as well as in the homes of others and so it is necessary to give up the splendid but hard ways of their grandmothers and adopt new styles and methods that are in keeping with our modes of living in this generation.

Now we find ourselves plunged into the rapid revival of an old art which is done easier and quicker and is already taking on modern aspects that unfortunately cannot duplicate the richness of color, the wearing qualities and the quaint old-fashioned charm of the laborious products of our ancestors.

In Memoriam

GERTRUDE ANNA CHAPMAN

Colorado Alpha

Gertrude Anna Chapman died on April 13 at Walsenburg, Colorado, following an automobile accident, in which her father, also, was so seriously injured that he died three days later. Pueblo Pi Phis, the members of the active chapter in Boulder, and all who knew Gertrude were deeply shocked and grieved at her sudden tragic death.

Gertrude Chapman was born in Pueblo, Colorado, December 7, 1907. She graduated from Central High school in 1925, and the following fall entered the State University at Boulder. In the spring of 1926 she was initiated into Colorado A.

Pi Beta Phi extends sincere sympathy to her mother, her sister

Harriett (Colorado A), and the other members of her family. To them the Pueblo alumnae club sent the following appreciation—"Gertrude Chapman has gone beyond our horizon, but the memory of her friendship binds closer her sisters in Pi Beta Phi. To us the remembrance of her rare, spiritual sweetness, her beauty, her kindness, her qualities of a true gentlewoman shall be a lasting inspiration. Even as we loved her in life, we honor her in death. Joy and peace are hers—she lives victoriously!"

CARRIE DAUGHTERS BREESE

Indiana Alpha

Mrs. Carrie Breese (Carrie Daughters), widow of the late Dr. Edward S. Breese died at her residence, 138 Hudson Avenue, Dayton, Ohio, on September 27, 1929, after a long illness.

She was a very active worker in the alumnae club of her city, being an officeholder many years. She acted as president of the club during the years 1924 and 1925.

Mrs. Breese also took an active interest in the missionary work of the Baptist church.

During her college career she became affiliated with Pi Beta Phi at Franklin College. Later she became a nurse and it was while engaged in this work she met Dr. Breese. His death eleven years ago was a shock from which she never recovered.

She lived with her sister, Miss Edith Daughters. Our sympathy goes out to Miss Daughters who has always been a helpmate and companion to her frail lovable sister.

GLADYS HELGESON FISHER
District of Columbia Alpha

Gladys Helgeson Fisher died after a short illness in the Georgetown Hospital, Washington, D.C., August 10, 1929, following an operation for the removal of her tonsils. Her death was a great shock to her friends in the Washington Alumnae Club.

Gladys came to Washington in devoted members. Ruth was born in Westfield, Indiana, February 21, 1896, but later moved to Indianapolis where she graduated from the Shortridge High School. Her educational inclinations led her to attend Butler College in Indianapolis for one year, where she was pledged to Pi Beta Phi. The next year she attended University of Wisconsin, where she was initiated into Pi Beta 1915, after completing a year's work in North Dakota University, and entered George Washington University where she became a member of Pi Beta Phi. To those who knew her, the life of Gladys was that of an ideal wife and mother, a true friend, and a loyal Pi Beta Phi. She leaves her husband, Henry Fisher, Kappa Sigma, four children and her mother.

Pi Beta Phi extends sincere sympathy to her family.

RUTH ROBERTS GOOD
Wisconsin Alpha

The death of Ruth Roberts Good marks the end of a brilliant career of one of Pi Phi's most loyal and

Phi. Because of her excellent scholastic standing she was honored in many ways during her student days. She was a member of Theta Sigma Phi sorority and was chosen as assistant curator of the Historical Museum for the state of Wisconsin. The first year after her graduation she served as curator of the Minnesota State Historical Society. On September 12, 1919, she was married to Samuel P. Good. The first nine years of their married life were spent in Warren, Indiana. They moved to Indianapolis about a year ago. Ruth was a leader in her community and was very active in her church, club and social work.

In recent years she gave a great deal of attention to work for children. She was the first to work out a satisfactory system of the mother's home kindergarten. She wrote many children's stories which have been published. She had promise of a brilliant future both artistically and financially in the field of literature. A few years ago her name was listed in the honor section of the Badger, the Wisconsin yearbook, as one who had done a great deal toward bringing honor to her university.

She died July 31 at her home in Indianapolis. Her death was due to complications which developed following a tonsilectomy. She leaves to mourn her death the husband and four small children. And thus a beautiful and useful life was closed by an inscrutable Providence whose plans are beyond our knowledge.

Dr. Matzke Bequeathed Library

ALL rights, title and interest, as well as all royalties from the publication and sale of her husband's books, are bequeathed to Haverford College in the will of Dr. Edith Hedges Matzke, widow of Dr. John E. Matzke, New York Δ, for many years professor of romance philology at Leland Stanford, Jr., University, California. Mrs. Matzke died in San Francisco, April 7.

The will also directs that Haverford College shall receive all her husband's manuscripts and that the school shall have exclusive right to enter into contract for the publication and sale of her husband's books.

The money derived from this source is to be used to maintain the John E. Matzke Memorial collection of books on romance philology and literature in Haverford College library.

In 1922 Mrs. Matzke and her two sons presented Haverford College with what was considered one of the finest libraries on romance philology, representing the lifetime collection of her husband. The gift was known as the "John E. Matzke Memorial Library," it being the wish of the donors to perpetuate the memory of Dr. Matzke.

ARROW POINT

Harriet Henderson, Iowa B, has been announced the winner of one of the most sought for prizes in the musical world—$5,000 given by the National League to finance a New York début. Harriet was selected by the League as the most promising young American soprano. In preparation for her début, she will spend two years in study abroad.

Dr. Grace Raymond Hebard, Iowa Z, head of the department of political economy of the University of Wyoming, was one of the speakers at the dedication services of Teton National Park this past summer. The ceremonies, which took up three days, were carried out by the delegates to the National Editorial Association Conclave at Cheyenne.

Regarding the literary activities of Isobel Jones Campbell, Oklahoma A, and her husband, the Oklahoma City News says:

"One first novel to the credit of a family name is sufficient to create a festive air in that home when the date of publication is but a week in the offing—but given two first novels in the same home, both to be in the hands of a waiting public this week, and what have you?"

"Visit the home of W. S. Campbell, associate professor of English at the University of Oklahoma, and you can learn, for that is the situation which exists there. What, with Mrs. Campbell's first novel, Jack Sprat, announced for release September 15 by Coward-McCann, publishers and Dobe Walls, Mr. Campbell's first novel announced for September 13 by his publishers, Houghton-Mifflin Company, the Campbells are in a state of rare excitement these days.

Mary Young, Tennessee A, has been appointed librarian at the University of Chattanooga during the year leave-of-absence of the regular librarian.

It is with a great deal of pride that California Γ claims as one of its members Cloyde Duval Dalzelle. The possessor of many degrees, a B.A., and M.A. and Ph.D. she is now a member of the faculty of the School of Speech of the University of Southern California. To Los Angeles theater-goers, she is perhaps best known for her work in the Pasadena Community Theater, where for years, because of her unusual dramatic ability she became a very important factor in the development of that little theater. Endowed with a magnetic personality she is an outstanding figure in the Los Angeles alumnae club of Pi Beta Phi.

Seventy-four Alumnae Clubs sent delegates, the largest number ever sent to Convention.

Province Vice Presidents were sent to the Settlement School this fall so that they may have intimate, first hand information to give to clubs when they are visited this fall.

The Assistant to the Grand Vice President has been made a committee of one to receive suggestions for Alumnae Officers in the interim of Conventions.

Convention delegates are to be elected from active membership of club. Only paid members are to serve on National Committees.

Large clubs are urged to make a distinction between paid and non-affiliated alumnae by a more effective use of membership cards.

Annual Club reports will appear in the September ARROW instead of the April number.

All money from clubs is to be sent to the Province Vice President through the Club Treasurer.

CHAPTER MEMBERS

ALPHA PROVINCE

ONTARIO ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

Chartered, 1908.

Pledge Day, October 30, 1929

Five members of Ontario A attended the Convention at Pasadena. All were pleased and thrilled with it and returned with a new realization of the great spirit of the fraternity.

Last year the chapter made money by means of a varsity desk blotter which was distributed to all students living in college residences or in fraternity houses. The idea was quite unique on this campus, and proved so successful that the chapter decided to use the same method for raising money this year. Over three hundred dollars has been cleared.

Ontario A is experimenting this year with a budget system. Fraternity dues are to be paid semiannually and will include those expenses, such as cooky-shines, and the dance, which previously have been paid for separately.

The University Literary Society started its fall session on Tuesday, October 15, and Eleanor Fearman presented a paper on Humbert Wolfe. Violet Maw is the fourth year representative to this society.

A new weekly magazine, the Privateer, has appeared on the campus this fall, and promises to be very good. Several undergraduates are on the staff and members of Ontario A are sending contributions to it.

ISABEL WELLS

MAINE ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MAINE

Chartered, 1920

Pledge Day, February 25, 1930

This year the membership of Maine A is much larger than it has been for the past few years. There are twenty-three active members in the chapter.

The chapter is glad to have several of the 1929 graduates in Orono this year. Frieda Weaver, Catherine Buck, and Ruth Daggett are living at home, while Geneva McGary is assistant librarian at the University of Maine.

An interesting and enthusiastic report of the convention was brought to the chapter by Jennie Hutchinson.

The campus grounds were enlarged and improved by the addition of new buildings and new cement walks. This year a new dormitory for girls is being planned and constructed. Since the number of girls in the college is increasing every year, larger quarters are necessary. The rooms of Balentine Hall have also been newly decorated making a great improvement over the old ones.

The deferred system of rushing which proved wholly satisfactory last year was used again this year. Many of the girls are out for a number of activities such as riflery, hockey, and archery.

DORIS OSGOOD

VERMONT ALPHA—MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE

Chartered, 1893

Pledge Day, October 10, 1929

GRADUATES: Mary Burtis, B.A., 386 Clarendon Pl., Orange, N.J.; Elizabeth Cady, B.A., Proctor, Vt.; Mary Crane, B.A., 50 Washington St., Middlebury, Vt.; Margaret Denio, B.A., Bristol, Vt.; Mary Alice Drake, B.A., 57 William St., Ticonderoga, N.Y.; Thelma Gates, B.A., Enosburg Falls, Vt.; Lucy Gooding, B.A., 151 Church St., Rutland, Vt.; Helen Haase, B.A., Bay Shore, Long Island; Elvira Lacalle, B.A., 125 Main St., Middlebury, Vt.; Margaret Lackie, B.A., East Rygatte, Vt.; Virginia Ladd, B.A., 59 Wren St., W. Roxbury, Mass.; Ruth Moore, B.A., Middlebury, Vt.; Henriette Ranty, B.A., 38 Pleasant St., Middlebury, Vt.; Esther Rushlow, B.A., Shelburne, Vt.; Enid Tillapaugh, B.S., Torrington, Conn.; Kathryn Trask, B.S., Crown St., Brooklyn, N.Y.; and Eloise White, B.A., Fort Washington, Pa.

The college was saddened by the death, last spring of Professor Charles Abbot, one of the ablest and most admired men on the campus, Professor Cornwall replaced him as head of the political science department.

Another great loss to the college was the death of Professor Wilfred Davison, head of the American literature department and dean of the Bread Loaf department. Reginald Cook, Middlebury, '24, was added to the staff of English and American literature departments.

Professor Julian Moreno-Lacalle, founder and former head of the Spanish department, is now teaching in Rutgers University and is replaced by Professor Carlos Concha, former instructor at Yale. Professor Kingsley of the department of sociology was replaced during his absence this year, by Professor M. Taylor Mathews.

Junior Week in May was a great success. There were several innovations such as a college picnic, a bridge and dance, and the choosing of a queen at the Junior Prom.

The college band played aboard the S.S. President Harding during the summer vacation.

The Middlebury trackmen captured the state title last spring in the meet at the University of Vermont.

Mary Burtis, Mary Crane, Ruth Moore, Katherine Trask, and Thelma Gates were elected to Φ B K last spring. Mary Burtis read the class poem on Class Day. Ellen Kellogg was initiated into T K A, national honorary debating society.

The chapter started a fund for a house. A house party was enjoyed by a majority of the chapter at Lake Dunmore during the third week in June.

Alice Hagen, Anna Omwake, Lucille Dickson, and Catherine Carrick were on their class basketball teams. Elizabeth Parker, Mary Hough, Anna Omwake, and Charlotte Adams were on their class baseball teams.

Vermont Alpha's representatives to the convention returned to college this fall full of enthusiasm and new and helpful ideas for the chapter.

The Panhellenic Council decided upon a two weeks' rushing season for this year beginning on September 26, the opening day of college and ending on October 10. With the new rules, each chapter is allowed ten pledges instead of the former number, fifteen. Open rushing was carried on through the summer season.

INITIATED, April 20, 1929: Doris H. Skinner, '32, St. Johnsbury, Vt.; Carolyn Beggs, '32, Brooklyn, N.Y.; Alice M. Brooks, '32, Swanton, Vt.; Verna E. Carrier, '32, Bennington, Vt.; Frances A. Ferguson, '32, Brooklyn, N.Y.; Olive B. Fields, '32, Brooklyn, N.Y.; Norma Freeman, '32, Burlington, Vt.; Emily Maslen, '32, Hartford, Conn.; Katherine Skinner, '31, St. Johnsbury, Vt.; and Theodore E. Wakefield, '32, Burlington, Vt.

GRADUATES: Marion Backus, B.S., Hartford, Conn.; Lucy Bracken, Ph.D., Woodside, L.I., N.Y.; Charlotte Cleveland, Ph.B., Granite Springs, N.Y.; Miriam Idleman, Ph.B., New York City; Eleanor Smith, Ph.B., Port Jefferson, N.Y.; Mary Turner, Ph.B., Montague City, Mass.; Dorothy Wheatley, B.S., Brooklyn, N.Y.; and Agnes Wheeler, B.S., Wilmington, Vt.

The University of Vermont opened on September 17 with a large entering class. Members became acquainted with college life through the special activities given for them: the freshman mixer, the freshman banquet, and the Mortar Board picnic.

Vermont B feels greatly the loss of the eight graduates, none of whom have remained in Burlington, although a few are teaching in nearby towns.

The chapter was glad to welcome back this year Doris Kibbe who in June completed a year of study in France. She studied at the University of Poitiers in Tours, at the University of Grenoble in Grenoble, at the Sorbonne, and the Institute of Phonetics of the University of Paris. From each of these she received a diploma and from the latter an honorary diploma in phonetics.

In June Beverly Householder, who took the lead in the Junior Week Play, was elected to Mortar Board, Narcissa Goodsell was also elected to Mortar Board, and to a national honorary Home Economics fraternity. Margaret Stanley and Anne McLaughlin were elected to class offices.

The annual house party was held on June 11 and 12 at Coates Island. There were not as many there as usual because it did not take place until examinations were over, but everyone enjoyed it to the fullest extent.

Another successful June event was the June Spread. It was given at the Lake Champlain Yacht Club and about sixty members were present, a greater part of whom were alumnæ. Speeches and songs given by the actives and alumnæ were the entertainment.

The alumnæ bought a house lot for the chapter on South Prospect Street not far from Redstone. The chapter hopes to build in the near future.

Beverly Householder, as delegate, and Helen Martin attended the national convention in California. Charlotte Copley Brown, Alpha Province President, an alumnæ of Vermont B went also.

The athletic teams have not as yet been chosen, but everyone is out for some activity or position.

Rushing does not begin until second semester.

MASSACHUSETTS ALPHA—BOSTON UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1896

Pledge Day, October 29, 1929

The first affair of interest on the social calendar this fall was the acquaintance tea given by $\Gamma \Delta$, an organization to which all the women in the college of liberal arts belong. Jean Clough, Betty Burwell, and Fannie Bach hold offices in $\Gamma \Delta$ and were active in making the affair a success.

Massachusetts A announces the pledging of Eileen Dudley, Newburyport, Mass., on October 2. Eileen is one of the outstanding juniors and last year received a letter from the dean of the college congratulating her upon excellent scholarship.

Louise Shannon, a graduate of last June, was elected a member of $\Phi B K$.

Massachusetts A is fortunate this year in being able to open a new fraternity house at 172 Bay State Road, Boston, Mass. There are ten girls living in the house besides Mrs. Ryerson, the chaperon, who is the mother of one of the girls. Since college opened there have been many busy days getting the house settled. One of the alumnae, Mrs. Hinckley, was most helpful in lending the chapter house a dining room and a bedroom set and innumerable other very useful articles. The alumnae club is planning to give a shower for the active chapter and supply other things that are needed. The chapter has purchased many new furnishings and the girls are making their rooms most attractive. The chapter was presented with a very delightful picture of the $\Pi \Phi$ girl which was painted by a fraternity man who knows the girls very well. Some Japanese prints were also presented.

The chapter was interested to hear about convention from Betty Burwell, its delegate to the national convention this summer.

ELEANOR M. CHANEY

NEW YORK ALPHA—SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY

Chartered, February 12, 1896
Pledge Day, September 30, 1929

INITIATED, May 4, 1929: Lillian Bruns, '30, 130-84th St., Brooklyn; Isabel Cutting, '32, 1721 Avenue J., Brooklyn; Ruth Gray, '32, 1210 Harrison St., Syracuse; Dorothea Harnden, '32, 134 Elmer Ave., Schenectady; Vance Sullivan, '32, 825 Quackenbos St., Washington, D.C.; Beryl Thomas, '32, 46 Central Ave., Rye; Marian Wilner, '32, 9 Liberty St., Pontiac, Mich.; Virginia Winslow, '32, 112 Revere St. Portland, Maine; and Madeliene Yost, '30, 940 Catasongna St., Fullerton, Pa.

The chapter announces the pledging of the following girls: Jane Brown, Buffalo; Adelaid Cornell, Chatanauga; Jane Douglas, Westfield, N.J.; Janet Dunbar, Westfield, N.J.; Edith Evans, New Court, West End, N.J.; Thelma Horton, Syracuse; Janet Hurst, Buffalo; Velma Hurst, Buffalo; Dorothy Hutchins, Waterville, Maine; Christine Olver, Syracuse; Ruth Patten, Syracuse; Mabel Pierce, Hartford, Conn.; Dorothy Race, West Englewood, N.J.; Ruth Spriggs, Syracuse, and Ethel Volgeneau, Buffalo.

The Hendricks Memorial Chapel is nearing completion. The religious services of the campus will be conducted in the chapel. An elaborate Medical Center, as complete as there is in the country, is being planned. Already structures are going up in development of such a group. Although the Medical Center is not located on the campus proper it is adjacent to it.

A new position has been established in the university, that of director of religious instruction. Dr. William Powers of Syracuse has been obtained for the position.

On Saturday evening, September 28, Syracuse varsity football squad played its first game of the year. It was also the first game in the East under artificial illumination. It was one of the greatest spectacles on the Hill in many years. The glow of the huge floodlights, the new uniforms, the white ball, the thrilling airplane maneuvers under searchlights between halves—all contributed to making the occasion a memorable one. The chapter house was redecorated on the interior during the summer. The chapter bought a complete new set of dining room furniture and three new oriental rugs. A silver service was presented by the alumnae.

The chairman of scholarship committee has many plans for this year. She plans to obtain statistics on scholarship in other chapters and compare them with those of New York A. She will carefully check up on all grades from midsemester examinations and report them to the chapter. If they are unsatisfactory the chapter will adopt the plan of supervised study. The upperclassmen will aid the underclassmen, especially the freshmen. Great care is to be taken to avoid over cutting. Each person will be fined one dollar for each over cut.

Mrs. Katherine Teller, an active member of the alumnae club, was elected Grand Vice President at Convention this summer. Mrs. Teller was a member of Colorado A, University of Colorado.

The chapter lost, during the past summer, one of its most prominent members, Jenette Saunders, who died on July 28, 1929, from sleeping sickness. She was a girl of great ability and charm which won for her in the chapter's spring elections the office of president for the second semester. She was loved by all as a sister and a friend.

The chapter has already taken a great step toward the promotion of a friendlier interfraternity spirit. Last semester each girl in the fraternity invited as her guest a friend from another fraternity for Sunday night lunch. $\Pi B \Phi$ was the first woman's fraternity to do this on the Syracuse campus.

Pledge Day, September 30, 1929

New York Γ announces the pledging of the following girls: Doris Chase, Port Washington, N.Y.; Margaret Griffin, Jamaica, N.Y.; Marjorie Hart, East Orange, N.J.; Frances Heaton, Canton, N.Y.; Janet Hughes, Upper Montclair, N.J.; Irene Noble, Canton, N.Y.; Jessie Randal, Glenbrook, Conn.; Wilda Remsear, Ogdensburg, N.Y.; Roberta Ruther, Carthage, N.Y.; Portia Van De Linder, DeKalb Junction, N.Y.; Elizabeth Wagner, Little Falls, N.Y.; and Jean Woodcock, Rome, N.Y.

As soon as the summer term closed last August, work was begun on Richardson Hall, redecorating it outside and in. The work was completed just in time for the first classes this fall. Richardson Hall is the oldest building on the campus, being the original college building.

St. Lawrence has added nine new members to its faculty, three of them being well known in their respective fields. Among them are, Miss Jane Louise Jones, the new dean of women, who has recently returned from abroad, where she studied educational methods for women at the various European educational centers. Dr. Harman Ashley, head of the chemistry department, is a contributing editor to Van Nostrand's Chemical Annual and four editions of his own book Chemical Calculations have been placed on the market. Dr. Whitney Coombs, head of the economics department, comes from the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, where he was a farm taxation specialist.

Owen D. Young is making plans to erect three houses for the faculty on the Owen D. Young development, east of the college. These homes may be purchased by any of the faculty. Other faculty members are planning to build there as soon as possible. The chapter purchased a lot on the development last spring and expects to build next summer if possible. K Δ has bought the adjoining lot and will build soon.

The present chapter house has new furnishings downstairs and most of the rooms on the second and third floors have been redecorated.

The chapter is well represented in activities on the hill. At the Moving-Up Day exercises Sallee Wilson was tapped for Kalon, the senior women's honorary society. In June Doris Richardson was appointed manager of archery. Sallee Wilson is president of the women's Literature and Debate club. Gertrude Woolley is vice president of Thelmothesian. Sallee Wilson is co-ed editor of the Hill News. Averil Thompson and Gertrude Woolley are two of the nine assistant co-ed editors.

During the summer the annual $\Pi \Phi$ picnic was held at Trout Lake. There were about thirty present, alumnae and actives.

Several actives did not return this year. Virginia Eddy is director of religious education in the Church of the Redeemer at Newark, N.J. Eleanor Collie holds a similar position in the Church of the Messiah at Philadelphia, Pa. Elizabeth Gould is attending Antioch College at Yellow Springs, Ohio. Doris Sufhland is taking a secretarial course in Glens Falls. Edith Whitney is studying at Barnard College.

DORIS RICHARDSON

NEW YORK DELTA—CORNELL UNIVERSITY

Pledge Day, October 6, 1929

This year Cornell women have a new dormitory, the Balch Halls for Women. Mr. and Mrs. Allen Balch, the donors, both attended Cornell. The buildings are among the most beautiful on the campus, being constructed of native stone in English Renaissance style. President Livingston Farrand dedicated the halls at their formal opening on September 24. There is room for 318 girls, who belong to the senior and sophomore classes. Muriel Gardner is president of one of the four units of the dormitory.

Several buildings are under construction on the Cornell campus, including the new law building, a plant pathology building, several fraternity houses and some new roads.

Cornell has the largest registration in her history this fall, in spite of restrictions in the college of arts and sciences. The greatest proportional increase is in the colleges of agriculture and domestic science. The freshman women were first introduced to the women's fraternities at an informal Panhellenic dance held in the Old Armory, on September 24. Rushing is divided into three short periods, from September 26 until October 5.

The $\Pi \Phi$ house has been redecorated downstairs, this year, with new curtains and drapes, a new suite of living room furniture and new lamps. Miss Thomas, the new house chaperon, is a $\Pi \Phi$. She is taking graduate work in the English department.

New York Δ lost through graduation several members who were prominent in outside activities. The chapter is, however, still represented. Dorothy Wertz and Muriel Gardner are president and secretary of the W.A.A. Jane Ross is president of the Foil and of the Women's Intercollegiate Fencing Association. Five girls are managers of athletic teams: Delight McAlpine of archery, Dorothy Blacking of baseball, Virginia Ryan of basketball, Virginia Urban of tennis, and Thorstina Olsen of track. Elizabeth Chadwick and Dorothy Foley were elected to Dot and Circle, and Dorothy Blacking to the Foil. With these activities as a nucleus, New York Δ hopes to make this a banner year.

JANE ELIZABETH ROSS

BETA PROVINCE

PENNSYLVANIA ALPHA—SWARTHMORE COLLEGE

Pledge Day, October 13, 1929

The students, upon returning to college this fall, discovered a new building in progress, the Clothier Memorial, which is to serve the college, both as a chapel and an auditorium. This imposing structure when completed will be one of the most beautiful buildings on the campus, and, to those in any way connected with the college, it will be a living memory of one of Swarthmore's active and loved alumni, Isaac H. Clothier.

Late last spring the Pi Phis enthusiastically applauded their college when it was learned that the endowment campaign, which was waged for several weeks in April, had been successfully completed. The $1,200,000 goal has been reached and there will be many new improvements as a result.

This fall the chapter is especially active in a variety of campus activities: Anna Rickards, hockey captain, is also president of the athletic association and last spring was one of the two girls who received the junior sportsmanship blazers. Jean Harvey is vice president of the athletic association and Jean Walton is the sophomore member. On the staff of the college yearbook, The Halcyon, are Martha Wood and Amelia Emhardt as art and photographic editors respectively. Martha Wood is also vice president of the junior class.

The rushing rules this fall were very similar to those of last year except for the period of time, which was shortened from four to three weeks. This is a decided improvement and worked out better than any one expected. During the first few days of college there was no organized rushing and fraternity pins were not worn. Rushing during the next week consisted of luncheon dates and afternoon dates. During the last week each fraternity had a special day on which it could have a final party. Rushing was open and confined to the campus.

Just before rushing had actually begun the members of Pennsylvania A were presented with a combined radio and victrola for the lodge. It is a lovely gift and has proved to be a splendid source of entertainment to the freshmen as well as to the members of the chapter. Swarthmore Pi Phis are all quite proud of their one-year old lodge now, various small improvements and additions have transported it into one of the coziest and best looking lodges on the campus.

LOUISE I. FISHER

PENNSYLVANIA BETA—BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1895
Pledge Day, Indefinite

INITIATED, September 21, 1929: Marian

Ash, '32, Downingtown; Josephine Bair, '32, Lancaster; Helen Blecher, '32, Danville; Rachel Gawthrop, '32, Wilmington, Del.; Ruth James, '32, Nanticoke; Esther Hipple, '31, Lancaster; Dorothy Jones, '32, Wilkes Barre; Elizabeth Purdy, '32, Northumberland; Mary Smith, '32, Nanticoke; Constance Williamson, Kennets Square; and Louise Ziegler, New Cumberland.

Pennsylvania B lost seven members through graduation in June of 1929. Helen Steinhilper, president of Bucknell's Woman's Student Government Association, and President of Panhellenic board as well as the winner of Pi Phi's senior scholarship ring; Elizabeth Sale and Ora Cooper, members of Frill and Frown, dramatic club, and of $\Sigma T \Delta$, honorary English fraternity; Miriam Kline, Elizabeth Mills, Rhoda Herr, and Mary Lib Evans all received B.A. degrees.

Bucknell had its fourth consecutive Freshmen Week this year. The committee which returned to college a week in advance to greet the freshmen consisted of a senior member of Panhellenic from each fraternity and a member of each fraternity who had been elected to the Woman's Student Government Board. This method of acclimating new comers to college life becomes more successful each year.

Two weeks of intensive rushing began on September 23; pledge day was October 11. The chapter pledged eighteen girls. Homecoming Day on October 12 gave the active chapter the pleasure of presenting the new pledges to the many alumnæ who returned to see the Bucknell-Washington and Jefferson game. The alumnæ were entertained in the suite after the game.

$\Pi \Phi$ is very proud of its suite in the new dormitory. Its attractiveness has been added to since last spring by a handsome mirror, the gift of the pledges of 1928-1929, and a new strong box, an antique chest in light green and black. The chapter has also invested in a number of small green and black stools which make it possible to hold fraternity meetings in the suite.

NANCY GRIFFITH

PENNSYLVANIA GAMMA—DICKINSON COLLEGE

Pledge Day, October 5, 1929

Dickinson College opened its 147th college year on Thursday, September 19, 1929. One of the largest freshman classes in the history of the college attended the opening exercises. Over two hundred freshman men and women, representing nine states, the District of Columbia, and Porto Rico, assembled to hear President Filler extend to them the welcome of the college. At the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. reception on Friday, September 20, the new professors and their wives were introduced to the student body. Four new professors have been added to the faculty. A new instructress in gymnasium work for girls has also been secured.

One of the surprises awaiting the returning students was the remodeled Old West, which is the most historical of the college buildings. In this building is the famous Memorial Hall, which has been used as a pattern for the remodeling. The college offices are now in Old West, having been moved from their former position in Denny Hall. These offices occupy the first floor of Old West and are designed in colonial style. The former offices in Denny Hall are now classrooms as they were years ago.

Another change has been made, but of an entirely different nature. It has been the policy of the college to have compulsory chapel every day in the week. This year marks the passing of this ruling. Compulsory chapel will be held only three days a week. On one other day a musical organization of the college will entertain and attendance will be optional. This seems decidedly a better arrangement but its success is still a matter of conjecture.

Changing seems to have affected all departments of the college. Rushing rules have been again revised by the Panhellenic Council. Rushing season lasted only two weeks this year. Each freshman girl was assigned five big sisters, one from each national women's fraternity and one non-fraternity girl. This is a combination of the former big sister movement and the former long rushing period. The representative big sisters have only three days in which to gain the friendship of their little sisters.

Pennsylvania F has joined in the changing too. The former chapter rooms were too small and new ones were secured during the summer. They are very attractive and have been made more so by the addition of several new pieces of furniture given to us by alumnae. The chapter is looking forward to a very happy year.

Pledge Day, November 20, 1929

INITIATED, April 27, 1929: Agnes Marie Carten, '31, Pittsburgh; Dorothy Miller, '31, Pittsburgh; Gladys Repine, '32, Pittsburgh; Betty Knapp, '31, Pittsburgh; Judith Edmonds, '29, Pittsburgh; Mary Dudley, '32, Wilkinsburg; Mary Ann Drumheller, '31, Pittsburgh; Frances Smith, '32, Greensburg; Lois Kelso, '30, McKeesport; Helen Hindman, '30, Burgettstown; Edith Raschen, '32, Pittsburgh, and Louise Copeland, '32, Pittsburgh.

GRADUATES: Jeanne King, B.A.; Gertrude Ifft, B.A.; Sara West, B.A.; Isabelle Lohr, B.A., and Judith Edmonds, B.A.

After initiation in April at the chapter rooms, the girls were taken to the Schenley Hotel where a banquet was held, both in honor of the new initiates and the Founders of $\Pi B \Phi$. Fern Wein, chaperon and toast-mistress, presented a clever program in which the guests heard from alumnae, members, new initiates, and prospective convention goers.

In honor of the seniors who were graduated on June 6, Pennsylvania Δ held a picnic cooky-shine in a big woods near Pittsburgh. Events of the occasion were bridge games, catching crabs, and exploring the wilds. Each senior found, at her plate, a bracelet as remembrance from the chapter.

At the Tapping Day ceremony held annually by the University of Pittsburgh to recognize scholarship and activities, Margaret Wagner, '30, was tapped Quax, women's honorary mathematical fraternity.

Every year Pitt holds a Play Day to celebrate the close of college. Last year Isabelle Matthews carried home the cup for the chapter from the scooter race. This year the feature of the day was a parade of floats, one from each women's fraternity on the campus. Second prize, a silver loving cup was awarded to $\Pi \Phi$ for her float. The float presented an old-fashioned girl; the body of the car was covered with her skirts and Isabelle Lohr, one of the seniors, riding on the top completed the picture.

The chapter's house fund is gradually swelling. The alumnae have been sponsoring, each year, a theater benefit to add to this fund; so this year on July 1, Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch was presented under the auspices of $\Pi \Phi$. Members of the local chapter sold candy between acts.

The Panhellenic association at Pitt published the new rushing rules for the year with several changes. There was no fall rushing season this year, and one pledge day only, November 20, at which time the bidding will take place by the preferential ballot system. This will make fall bidding quite a problem but Pennsylvania Δ is looking forward to a busy and happy year.

Ohio A pledged the following girls: Betty McConnell, Steubenville; Mary Elizabeth Kessinger, Frances Lawson, Elizabeth Edgington, Nelsonville; Mary Keller, Kathryn Johnson, Logan; Myra Collier, Sidney; Virginia Nye, Martha Fredericks, Portsmouth; Dickie Gessert, Virginia Wilkins, Cleveland; Marjorie Wolf, Pomeroy; Inetta Pfeister, Wooster; Lucille Dutton, Middleport; Margaret Slaughter, Martins Ferry; Josephine Frazier, Bridgeport; Margaret Harris, Niles; Edna Kennedy, Warren; Doris Lee Fletcher, Summit, N.J.; and Helen McLaughlin, and Alice Morris, Athens.

An outstanding feature of this year was the dedication homecoming of the new Ohio University Stadium, on November 2. On October 12 Dads' Day was featured by the Ohio Wesleyan football game at the new stadium.

During the summer the chapter house underwent a complete renovation. Several new pieces of furniture were added, principally a panatrophe, a baby grand piano, and two beautifully upholstered chairs. Furniture in the bedrooms was repainted and new drapes hung in several rooms.

$\Pi \Phi$ tied for first place with $Z \tau A$ in selling Athenas, the college yearbook, and were consequently enabled to enter four representatives in the Silver Mirror beauty contest sponsored by the Athena. The contest resulted in receiving four places; Lenora Trimble, first; Martha Stewart, second; Maxine Williams, fourth, and Francis Dennis placed.

Both actives and pledges were prominent in campus activities. Last semester a number of girls were pledged or initiated in honorary organizations. Martha Stewart was initiated in $\Phi \tau O$. Susan Porterfield was initiated into $\Sigma A I$ and Kathleen Conaway was pledged. Studio Club, a new organization to further the art of dancing, chose Gertrude Fouts and Susan Porterfield as members. Early this semester, Alene Wills and Kathleen Conaway were selected for the women's glee club. Marian Bolman and Emily Humphrey were pledged to $\Delta \Phi \Delta$. The president and deans of Ohio University comprised a committee which chose the most representative students of each class on the campus. Virginia Ward and Elma Stout were chosen as representative juniors.

Rushing followed a new schedule this semester. Five days were given over to each women's fraternity on the campus for rushing. Three parties were permissible. $\Pi \Phi$ gave a buffet supper at the home of Elaine Roe, a cabaret dance and a formal dinner at the Athens Country Club.

Jenny Davis was elected rushing captain for the season of 1929-30.

Freshman Week opened at Ohio State University on Wednesday, September 25 with more than 3,000 freshmen arriving on the campus. The Freshman Week program consists of a tour of the campus, lectures, tests, and social meetings designed to give the first year students an opportunity to adjust themselves to university life before regular classes begin on October 1.

The rushing period for women's fraternities started October 4. Few changes were made in the new rushing rules formulated by the Women's Panhellenic Association. Formal rushing ended Sunday, October 13. Each fraternity gave four parties, three of them, including the first to be held in the chapter houses. Pledging took place on October 15.

Ohio B started her rushing program by giving an Arrow Tea on October 4, at the chapter house. The second party, the traditional $\Pi \Phi$ mock wedding, was held at the chapter house on October 6. On October 10 the chapter entertained the rushees with a plantation supper at the Hotel Ensors. On Sunday evening, the last night of rushing, a candle light supper was given at the chapter house.

Just before the close of last spring quarter, Chimes held its annual election of members. Among those chosen were three Pi Phi, Jean Bostwick, Marian Riggs, and Charlotte Worrell. Helen Brown Russell was elected to Mortar Board. Virginia Cartwright was elected vice president of $\Sigma A E$, professional social service society. Martha Howard won a silver cup in the women's golf tournament at the university this spring. Florence Bunnell, a pledge, was elected as Ohio B delegate to the Lake Geneva Conference held this summer in Wisconsin. Marian Riggs was elected secretary of Y.W.C.A., 1929-30. Charlotte Worrell was elected treasurer of W.S.G.A., 1929-30. Several Pi Phi were among the cast of the Browning Dramatic Society Play, The Winter's Tale, presented on June 7 and 8.

The All-Ohio Founders' Day luncheon was held on April 27, at the Deshler-Wallick Hotel. Ohio B presented The Gay Nineties, a skit written and directed by Mary Evans. Betty Marten was one of the seven chosen Ohio State May Queens for the May Fête presented by the W.S.G.A.

On Sunday, May 19, a colonial tea was given for fifty rushees at the home of Dorothy Aschinger. The hostesses were costumed in colonial dresses.

A Panhellenic and interfraternity banquet was given at the university on May 22. Representatives from every men's and women's fraternity attended. Ohio B entertained with a formal dinner dance on May 31, at the Athletic Club.

Mildred Marquardt, Columbus, was pledged by Ohio B on May 29, 1929. Several members of the chapter attended the II Φ Convention at Pasadena. The senior farewell ceremony and installation of officers was held on April 29 at the chapter house.

In an effort to bring the alumnae chapter and the active chapter into closer harmony and contacts, each active member was given an alumnae sponsor. Ohio B finds the sponsor system quite successful for both actives and pledges.

On October 1 Ohio State opened with regular classroom work. All summer workmen have been busy preparing for this date. Many of the buildings have been re-decorated, repainted, and remodeled. Some of the old campus walks and roads have been improved. VIRGINIA CARTWRIGHT

Ohio Wesleyan started the new year with 650 freshmen reporting for Freshman Day, September 12. The freshmen girls were received at the Big and Little Sister Tea on Monday, September 20, and a Big and Little Sister Hop on the following Friday, of which Mildred Moyer, was placed in charge.

Wesleyan is very proud of her new athletic stadium which was dedicated at the homecoming game on October 19. This stadium which seats 9,145 persons and is modern in all of its equipment, was made possible by a gift in memory of the late George D. Selby, who was a trustee of the university for twenty-four years.

There have also been many changes in the faculty this year, including the appointment of a new dean of women, Mrs. Louise Bolard More, K K I, who was previously at Hamline University in Minnesota.

Just before the end of last year, the local senior women's honorary society, the Boosters, became a member of the national society of Mortar Board. Josephine Spencer, our last year's president, was one of the charter members, and Mildred Moyer was chosen as a member this year.

Ohio Δ refurbished several rooms before rush week which was September 30 to October 3. The chapter rented a new house and the girls donated furniture and made drapes. This house will provide room enough for all social functions.

Mary Ellen Weightman was initiated into Litoonawa, honorary sophomore organization for girls. Darlene Breckenridge, Bertha Handlan, and Margaret Wells were chosen on the Y.W.C.A. cabinet. Bertha Handlan was elected vice president of the W.A.A. Council and junior representative on the executive council of the W.S.G.A. Darlene Breckenridge received a nonathletic award for outstanding woman in debating. Lady Lou LaLance received an award for the outstanding woman in dramatics. Genevieve Brown was elected corresponding secretary of B II Θ , national honorary French fraternity, and also president of West Virginia chapter of K Φ , national Methodist girls' organization. Dorothy Brand was elected president of Westminster Club, Presbyterian girls' organization. Annette Wiley was chosen regimental sponsor for the R.O.T.C. Irma Ayers was chosen sponsor for the first battalion. She was also elected junior representative on the College of Agriculture Council, secretary of the Press Club, home economics editor of the West Virginia Agriculturist, society editor of the Monticola staff, and joke editor of the Atheneum. Bertha Handlan was chairman of the May Day Festival committee, and Lady Lou LaLance was selected in the queen's court.

The chapter celebrated Founders' Day, April 28, with a cooky-shine. Many of the alumnae returned for it, and gave the chapter interesting accounts of their work during the preceding year.

The Women's Panhellenic Association has made three important changes in the rushing rules. The period of rushing was shortened from three weeks to two weeks. Teas were given by all the women's fraternities the first two days of rushing. One formal party was given at the end of the rushing period instead of the former week-end of formal rushing.

West Virginia University instituted Freshman Week this fall. The freshmen were required to report one week before the college opened in order to acquaint themselves with the campus and its activities.

In the spring elections Maryland A was fortunate in having several of its members elected to offices in both the classes and the college. The freshman class elected Florence Tottle, who was a very capable president during the year, as its representative to the Silver Bay Conference, and Kathryn Smith as alternate. Frances Nixdorff, who was freshman swimming manager, was elected the chairman for Freshman Week, which was more for the purpose of acquainting than of hazing the class of 1933.

In the sophomore class Mary Margaret Gordon was elected class treasurer for the junior year, and Dorothy Greig was elected recorder-of-points. Mary Margaret is chairman of the United Campaign Fund, and was sent to the Silver Bay Conference as the representative of the Goucher College Christian Association.

Helen Lankford, who was editor-in-chief of the 1930 Donnybrook, was chosen by the student body as president of the Students' Organization for 1929-30. Helen has done such outstanding work in all her previous offices that she is very deserving of the highest honor of the college. Dorothy Lea is sergeant-at-arms for the class of 1930, and Betty Greig was elected president of Gimle Hall.

Because of the serious illness of Dr. Guth, the president of the college, in the early part of April, many of the social functions of the college were indefinitely postponed. Dr. Guth passed away at noon on Friday, April 19, and the funeral services were held in the rotunda of Goucher Hall on Monday morning, April 22. Dr. Hans Froelicher, one of the most popular members of the faculty, was elected temporary president to take up the duties of Dr. Guth.

Senior Week for the class of 1929 was filled with pleasant hours of the traditional college functions, and the seniors carried away with them fond memories of their last days at Goucher. The Sophomore Daisy Chain, an impressive though somewhat sad ceremony for the seniors, was followed later in the evening by the Senior Prom, which had been postponed from April. The prom was held at the Maryland Casualty Club, with Dorothy Wilson as chairman.

Following the graduation exercises at the Lyric Theater on June 3, Mrs. J. W. Tottle (Helen B. Doll) gave a luncheon in honor of the graduates at her home in Roland Park. The afternoon was enjoyed by the seniors, alumnae, and the few undergraduates of the chapter who were still in Baltimore.

Frances Nixdorff sustained a serious injury when she was thrown from a horse during the summer, but she recovered in time to resume her studies in the fall.

Several of the girls of the chapter returned to Baltimore about a week before classes began on October 4 in order to help refurbish and redecorate the $\Pi \Phi$ rooms.

One week of rushing took the place of the ten-day period of last year.

The campus has been improved this year by the addition of grass plots making it a little better than the "concrete campus" of previous times. Two new buildings have been bought to accommodate the many new students. K K Γ was installed here last June.

The chapter rooms have a gala appearance as they have been papered, scrubbed, and redecorated. The mothers' club takes an active interest in the chapter. They have just bought a stove and two chairs.

The president appointed a scholarship committee whose duty it is to check up monthly on the standing of each active in her classes. The sponsors of the pledges do the same for them.

Mildred Burnham, who was the comedy lead in the Troubadour's musical show last year, is co-author of the new play that will be presented some time in December. Betty Waller is assistant dance instructor. The majority of the chapter is either trying for a speaking part or the chorus.

A new rushing policy is being tried out. Panhellenic voted to have second semester rushing and free association with the freshmen the entire first semester. They are supplementing this with a freshman education program. Better interfraternity spirit and more friendliness are hoped for as results. Mildred Burnham is rush captain for this year, and everyone is working to strengthen the chapter internally as well as in campus activities.

The formal opening of college took place on Monday evening, September 23. The speaker of the evening was Dr. Marvin, president of George Washington University, Washington, D.C.

There have been many improvements made on the college campus during the summer, such as new concrete walks between buildings and new shrubbery. Three new buildings are almost completed: the music building, Presser Hall; the library; and the power plant. The Athletic Association of the college has had a cabin built near Natural Bridge, Virginia, where for a very small sum a group of students may go to spend week-ends. This is expected to be a source of much pleasure to the college. A Pi Phi group spent the week-end of October 26, there.

Virginia A started the year with a great deal of enthusiasm and an increased interest in fraternity development. The first meeting of every month is to be devoted to a Settlement School program, which will include discussion of ways to raise money for the fund. This will be particularly valuable in keeping the chapter members informed and interested in the Settlement School.

The freshman class, numbering 400, is one of the largest on Randolph-Macon records. The Y.W.C.A. sponsored five teas given for the freshmen, the week of September 23. Eva Smither is chairman of the social committee of the Y.W.C.A., which had charge of planning the teas. Their object was to help the new girls to know each other, and to become acquainted with college activities and associations.

Ana Margaret Hershey won the freshman scholarship last year for having highest grades in her class. This is the greatest honor accorded a freshman.

Mary Elizabeth King is assistant editor of the Helianthus, the Randolph-Macon annual. Helen-Louise Duckett is vice-president of the Athletic Association.

On May 15, 1929, President Cocke announced to the student body that after the present semester there would be no bidding or initiating into fraternities on Hollins campus. She stated, however, that those already affiliated with a fraternity might continue active for the remainder of their time in college. Since Hollins had no sophomore bidding this fall there are only fourteen seniors and juniors as active members of Virginia B.

The Pi Phis hold many of the important positions on campus this year. Elizabeth Fentress is vice president of Student Government, chairman of the Endowment Fund Committee, and president of Freyer, the honorary society of Hollins. Dewar Gordon is house president of West Building and a member of Freyer; Betty Ingles is treasurer of the Y.W.C.A.; Betty Poulnot is president of the Dramatic Association; and Florence Underwood is the business manager of the Spinster, the college annual. Dorothy Quarles is senior representative to the Athletic Board, the college marshal and the head of the Dragons, a secret organization on campus. Jessie Pollard is vice president of the Athletic Board, and Sarah Welch is associate editor of Student Life, the newspaper.

Scholastically Virginia B has done very well. The dean's list is composed of those students who have received high honors and the following Pi Phis were on it: Dewar Gordon, Betty Ingles, Dorothy Quarles, Jessie Pollard, and Sarah Welch.

The new session started on Friday, September 20, with an address by Dr. Mims of Vanderbilt University. Classes began the following day and since then everyone has been busy getting schedules to run smoothly and settling down to hard work.

The chapter is planing to have its fall banquet during the early part of October and to have a week-end at the "cabin," a small house built high up in the mountain.

The chapter regrets exceedingly that after next year it will have to disband but agrees that the unselfish stand to take is to lay aside personal desires and pleasures to uphold the administration in the step it has taken.

Virginia Gamma is fortunate this year in having one of the three new fraternity houses built by the college during the summer. The K Δ and A X Ω women's fraternities are occupying the other two. All three of the houses are three-story brick buildings on the center-hall plan. They are situated in a court across from the campus. The Σ Φ E, men's fraternity, also has a new chapter house. On September 28 it gave a tea for all women students to inspect the house.

For the first time in the history of the college three women's fraternities are eating their meals in their houses. Π Φ is one of the three. The college furnished the dining room with chairs and small tables and installed an electric stove and Frigidaire in the kitchen. The undertaking is quite new and at present only a trial, but several other fraternities are planning to eat in their houses next semester.

Elizabeth Griffin and Edwina Carver have been appointed for their second year on the Flat Hat staff, the college paper. Mary Parry has been appointed associate editor of the Colonial Echo, the college annual. Harriet Smith is vice president of the W.S.G.A. and president of the Women's Judicial Council. Virginia Ford is house president of the Π Φ house and a member of the Judicial Council.

Williamsburg is in the midst of its restoration to colonial times. This undertaking has been sponsored by John D. Rockefeller and through Mr. Rockefeller's generosity Williamsburg will be one of America's greatest shrines. The Blair House, used as the Π Φ chapter house last year, is being torn down and will be restored to its original design. This will be one of the foremost attractions after the completion of the restoration.

Convention has been the main topic of discussion ever since the report of the delegate, Harriet Smith. At each fraternity meeting part of the time is set aside for discussion of some particular subject that was featured at Convention. The chapter is looking forward to carrying out some of the wonderful ideas and suggestions that were brought back.

The local Panhellenic decreed one week of intensive rushing before Pledge Day.

The new library is a great addition to the campus. It is to be formally opened during North Carolina homecoming week, which begins on October 19. The old library building is now being remodeled into an auditorium in which the university is installing a large pipe organ.

Π B Φ at the University of North Carolina is the first women's fraternity on campus to have a house in which to live. For the past several years, the girls lived in the Women's Building and in the village. This year the chapter was able to obtain a furnished home, large enough to house eleven girls and a chaperon. Dining facilities have not been attempted this year. It is hoped that the step taken will prove a successful and permanent one for the chapter. It was most interesting getting the house in readiness for rushing season. A house warming was given on the afternoon of September 29.

Rushing season at Stetson lasts two weeks; during which time each women's fraternity entertains with a formal and informal party. This year Florida A held the informal party at the De Land Country Club, which was decorated to resemble a pirates' den. Refreshments and favors were suggestive of pirates. The formal was a progressive dinner. Each course was carried out in some color of the rainbow. Four courses were held at the homes of members in town, the main dinner course was at the De Land Springs Hotel. This progressive dinner is an annual rushing event and always proves very entertaining.

An occasion of especial interest and inspiration to the chapter was the installation of Florida Γ at Rollins College, Winter Park, on September 27-29. The entire chapter attended the installation ceremonies and were delightfully entertained by Florida Γ. The installation banquet held at the Duds-dread Country Club in Orlando was a delightful event. There were seventy Pi Phi present including Miss Onken and Gramma Province president, Lois Thompson.

The chapter is well represented in campus activities. Lib Wilhelm is vice president of the junior class and Nena Bell Green is secretary of the sophomore class. This was followed by the cooky-shine. The chapter is keeping above 1.5 in the point system, or above 85 per cent for the average.

During the past summer there has been a large historical collection, known as the Florida Historical collection, given to Rollins. The college was fortunate in obtaining Mr. W. S. The college has made a collection of monumental stones, which came from the homes of such men as: Mark Twain, Hartford, Conn.; Franklin Pierce, Hillsboro, N.H.; Calvin Coolidge, Plymouth, Vt.; and Washington, Mt. Ground has been broken for the additions to the Law Club and the University High School, also for the new law library. All of the women in the university are enjoying the use of the Women's League Building, dedicated on May 4. The land surrounding the building has been effectively landscaped during the summer and adds greatly to the beauty of the campus.

The chapter house has been fortunate enough to receive new furniture for two bedrooms and a Frigidaire for the kitchen. The floors downstairs are all re-finished, and the house appears to be in excellent condition.

In the elections of last spring, Helen Jones was chosen chairman of the junior girls' play and Helen Domine was appointed publicity chairman for the same event. Helen Jones, Helen Domine, and Isabelle Rayen received invitations to membership from Wyvern, junior honorary society, of which the latter is president; Virginia Losee was elected president of Mortar Board and also senior member of the judiciary council; and Elisabeth DeVol was appointed chairman of the board of representatives. Frances Bielby and Margaret Eckels won recognition in journalistic fields by being appointed editor of Progress, a physical education magazine, and woman's editor of the summer Michigan Daily, respectively. Margaret Gentz was graduated with highest honors in English.

Michigan B had an unusually large representation at Convention this summer, five active girls returning to the chapter to bring with them the inspiration of the Balfour cup. The chapter was also pleased to learn that $\Pi B \Phi$ stood at the head of the scholarship chart.

The chapter pledged nineteen girls at the conclusion of a successful rushing season: Catherine Bone, Crowley, La.; Mercedes Brown, Detroit; Charlotte Butler, Battle Creek; Helen DeWitt, St. Johns; Nancy Frohne, Marion Lamb, and Gale Werner of Grand Rapids; Mary Jane Kenan, Cleveland Heights, Ohio; Lelia Kidd and Sylvia Lee of Ann Arbor; Ruth More, Sound Beach, N.Y.; Rhea Peck, Plymouth; Florence King, Erie, Pa.; Cecilia Shriver, Salem, Ohio; Anne Tobin, Niles; Mary Elizabeth Watts, Edgewood, Pa.; Mary Willard, Northfield, Minn.; Elinor Wortley, Kingsville, Ontario; and Jane Rayen, Owosso.

LORINDA McANDREW

INDIANA ALPHA—FRANKLIN COLLEGE

INITIATED, September 21, 1929: Susan F. Faucett, '32, Martinsville; Harriett Matthews, '32, North Vernon; Kathleen Davenport, '32, North Vernon; Alice Coffman, '32, Franklin; Pauline French, '32, Franklin; Vivian C. Thomas, '32, Decatur; Annette McOsker, '32, Brownstown; Agnes Medsker, '32, Indianapolis; Esther Rapp, '32, Bargersville; Mary Jane Hogue, '32, Franklin; Mary Louise Kelch, '32, Trafalgar; Marian Mullendore, '32, Franklin; Catherine Miller, '32, LaPorte; and Ruth Cummings, '32, Franklin.

True to expectation, Franklin College opened the fall semester with a greatly increased enrollment. Fifty scholarships were presented to students for this year and several Indiana A girls received one. Because of the large number now in the dormitory, the women's fraternities are beginning to hope for houses in the not far distant future.

With the coming of two new professors in the music department, Franklin is turning its thoughts towards glee clubs and operettas. Professor Cook, the head of the department, has organized both a men's and women's glee club and is already planning tours. A large number of Indiana A girls are entering this field.

$\Pi \Phi$ is well represented in all the campus activities. Mary Louise Rainey, rush captain for this year, was the Y.W.C.A. representative at Lake Geneva. Several girls are active in Wigs and Cues and $\Theta A \Phi$, the dramatic organizations. In the field of public speaking, Henrietta Miller is secretary of $\Pi K \Delta$, the national forensic fraternity; Pauline French and Mary Alice Purves are also members. The scholastic fraternity, $K \Delta \Pi$, is presided over by Mary Alice Purves; in the field of journalism several girls work on the college paper. Indiana A is enthusiastic over the start made so far this year in campus activities.

Rushing season ended with the pledging of the following girls: Lynetta Wilson, Michigan City; Elizabeth Myers, Greenwood; Ethel Bryant, Evansville; Tasca Smith, Evansville; Gail Small, Aurora; Georgia Tucker, Hope; Eloise Stout, Chicago, Ill.; Celeste Jordan and Clarabel Flowers, Indianapolis; Edwina Thatcher and Valerie Thomas, LaPorte; Gladys Morris, Greenwood; Louise Overstreet and Julia Hicks, Franklin.

Athletics are taking quite a hold at Franklin and this year the football team is promising to be very formidable. Boosters clubs are being organized everywhere and everyone is enthused at the prospect. Franklin has the distinction of being one of the four colleges in Indiana granting degrees in physical education. Now students coming to Franklin College may major in physical education and receive their degree from that department.

Realizing that to begin well is essential to much success, Indiana A is emphatically stressing scholarship not only among pledges, but the active members also, as each girl must do her utmost towards winning back to Indiana A the scholarship cup.

Indiana B completed a most successful rushing season with pledging the following girls: Lucile Baker, Indianapolis; Peggy Birge, Cleveland, Ohio; Betty Blanchard, Chicago, Ill.; Harriet Brower, Ft. Wayne; Dorothy Curry, Bloomington, Ind.; Genevieve Ferguson, Jeffersonville; Anita Fox, Madisonville, Ky.; Aldine Gardner, Scottsburg; Virginia Garner, Muncie; Sarah Gilworth, Warsaw; Isabelle Hatfield, Boonville; Anne Hoover, Boonville; Jo Jones, Shelbyville; Marian Jump, Muncie; Martha Long, Indianapolis; Marjorie Mangrum, Commersville; Jean McCulloch, Jeffersonville; Betty Mead, Bloomington; Eleanor Morris, Pendleton; Suzzanne Ribeyre, New Harmony; Maxine Rosebaum, Indianapolis; Maribeth Shields, Indianapolis; Katherine Scott, Jeffersonville; Flora Tousley, Chicago, Ill.; Evelyn Tyndall, Greenfield; Dorothy Viehe, Evansville; and Thelma White, Shelbyville. The active members carry out a tradition of the chapter by giving the freshmen a midnight spread with stunts and songs.

It Φ claims the honor of having one of the six judges for dramatic club tryouts this year. The chapter also claims four members and one officer of the dramatic club.

Emily Pond was reappointed an officer in $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$, national honorary journalistic sorority. Marjorie Mangrum has been appointed to write a column each week for the college paper.

Y.W.C.A. gave a tea for new women students. Elizabeth Karsell, treasurer of the organization, and Thelma White were appointed to have charge of the affair. The chapter has 100 per cent membership in Y.W.C.A.

Patricia Pharr, delegate to convention, has been elected vice president of Pleiades, honorary special organization on this campus.

Among other social affairs, the active members entertained the last week in October in honor of the pledges with open house, followed by a tea dance at the chapter house.

Scholarship is being emphasized this year. New study lamps and tables were presented to the chapter by the alumnae in order that all requirements may be adequately met.

The chapter is very fortunate in having Mrs. Martha George, chaperon for the past six years, return.

MARY O. RIPPEY

INDIANA GAMMA—BUTLER COLLEGE

Chartered, 1897

Pledge Day, Indefinite

Pledge services were held for eighteen girls at the chapter house of Indiana Γ on Friday evening, September 20. Helen Arzet, Sally Bosman, Julia Bowman, Lois Jackson, Ruth Landers, Louanna Lee, Martha Metcalf, Louise Moon, Elizabeth Mushlitz, June Swett, Helen Weyl, Hope Willcutts, and Jean Yeats, all of Indianapolis; Jean Campbell and Frances George of Pendleton; Margaret McLaughlin of Cedar Lake, and Dorothy Milner of Troy, Ohio, are the new pledges.

Ground will be broken for Indiana Γ 's new house some time before Christmas and building will be started in the early spring. The house should be ready for occupancy at the opening of the fall term, 1930. $\Pi \beta \Phi$ is the first women's fraternity to build on fraternity row of the new Butler Fairview campus. The architectural plans are made for an old English Countryside home. This style is suitable to the wooded plot, near which flows a wide canal.

The chapter has divided itself into four class groups and each group will sponsor a project to make money for the new house. The first project, which was sponsored by the entire chapter, was a pound dance given on October 4. Each man paid his date's weight in coppers, each girl being weighed before she went on the floor.

Lois Sherrill, Indiana Γ delegate, came back from California very enthusiastic about convention and saying that it was an experience every $\Pi \beta \Phi$ should have. Her talks on the 1929 convention and her explanation of the proceedings have been an inspiration to every member of Indiana Γ .

The scholarship ring was awarded to Janice Barnard at the senior farewell party last June. This award is something for which every active strives. Pledges living at the house have had to attend study table in the evenings and girls whose grades are not up to standard, will be requested to spend a certain amount of time in the library each week. Marjorie McElroy is chairman of scholarship advancement this year.

K T A, national journalistic scholastic fraternity, was installed on the Butler campus this fall. Of the sixteen charter members, Hilda Lou Carroll, Beatrice Burgan, and Virginia Seeds are Pi Phi's. These three girls have worked on The Collegian, the Butler daily; and Hilda Lou Carroll is a member of this year's Drift staff.

Arline Repp has been elected vice president of Scarf Club, honorary organization for women of the freshman and sophomore classes. Of the eleven vacancies in Thespis, dramatic club, three were filled by Dorothy Scree, Jane Sutton, and Gwendolyn Schort.

The Phi Deltas are now living in their new house, which is the first on fraternity row.

The architecture of the house makes it so much a unit of the college that, it is said, many freshmen tried to register in the Phi Delts' front hall. VIRGINIA LEEDS

Audubon Rd., Indianapolis; Lois Hall, '32, 891 Westfield St., Mitteneague, Mass.; Jean Hay, '32, 327 Cleveland Ave., Whiting; Edythe Kulp, '32, 501 Napoleon St., Valparaiso; Lena Lohrmann, '32, 2215 Speedway Ave., Indianapolis; Louise McGinnis, '32, 345-7th, La Grange, Ill.; Gladys Robbins, '31, Greensburg; Martha Robbins, '31, Greensburg; Marion Warner, '29, Beacon Falls, Conn.; Virginia White, '32, Clinton; Jeannette Wood, '32, 1101 S. 15th St., Lafayette; Charlene York, '32, Carlisle; Ragene Ralph, '31, 1102 N. Dearborn St., Indianapolis; Ruth Casady, '31, 1126 N. Dearborn St., Indianapolis; Dorothy Driscoll, '32, 23 Lincoln St., Lafayette; and Martha Swope, '32, Fowler.

On September 12, Indiana Δ pledged Genevieve Aylard, Shaker Heights, Cleveland, Ohio; Martha Lee Gill, Ladoga; Kathryn Krieg, Indianapolis; Mary Schaefer, Petersburg; Virginia Sheppard, Shaker Heights, Cleveland, Ohio; Kathryn Smith, Chicago, Ill.; Mabel Welton, Chicago, Ill.; Eva Mae Knight, West Lafayette; and Margaret Smith, West Lafayette. After pledging, the pledges were honored with the ceremony of cutting of the traditional arrow cake, which solemnizes their first meal as Π Φ pledges.

This fall there are several new buildings in the process of construction on the campus; the chemistry and mechanical engineering departments are to have new buildings, while work on the Memorial Union has been resumed and it will be completed by homecoming, November 16. It is the gathering place for all of the university students now, and when completed will provide meeting rooms for all the campus organizations, accommodations for alumni at homecoming, as well as the lounges, ballroom, offices, and cafeteria which have been in use since the building was erected. The new university power plant was completed during the summer and a new lighting system is being installed on the campus.

The Y.W.C.A. which carries on the Big Sister work with freshmen girls, sponsored the usual tea, during rush week, and the Freshman Walkout, a picnic supper, as a hearty welcome to the new girls.

Two university social events of the fall were: the Military Ball, given on November 8; this the most important formal dance of the semester; and Σ Δ X , national journalistic fraternity, gave a "Riveters' Rassel" as a choice attraction on October 18. Practically all of the men's and women's fraternities held their pledge dances some time during October.

Φ M and B Φ A have granted charters to local groups; the chapters have already been installed bringing the total number of women's fraternities to nine.

In the chapter, activities in all fields are well underway. Several of the freshmen are working on The Exponent and Debris, the annual. Ruth Acton was made assistant to the co-ed editor of The Debris. Kathryn Smith, Genevieve Aylard, Ruth Acton, Bernice Baugh, Ruth Knight, and Margaret Smith have places in the women's glee club. At the close of last semester, Bernice Baugh and Jean Simpkins were pledged to Mortar Board and Mildred Gordner, to Θ X Γ , national English honorary. Π Φ is fourth in rank of scholarship this year; Rose Cassell was the freshman with the highest average and her name is engraved on a silver loving cup, presented several years ago as a scholarship award. Margaret Mace is assistant to the wardrobe mistress of Play Shop, the amateur theatrical organization on the campus. Martha Robbins was chosen mistress of the wardrobe of Little Theater.

The chapter returned to the house to find that a beautiful china cupboard had been built into the dining room. It was a surprise gift from the building association. Several beautiful lamps and other accessories have brought added beauty to the living rooms.

Ten of the active members are seniors this year and were entertained at the president's reception, October 6.

Δ T Δ is in a beautiful new home this fall; many of the fraternities have remodeled their houses, while X Ω has a new house under construction. Still others have plans for new houses in the near future.

Nine girls from Indiana Δ attended convention in California last summer, and have returned with enthusiastic reports.

FLORENCE G. BERCK

KENTUCKY ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE

Chartered, October 9, 1925

Pledge Day, September 30, 1929

INITIATED, June 10, 1929: Margaret Hughes, '32, 209 Kennedy Ct., Louisville; Mary Virginia Vogt, '32, Newberg Rd., Louisville.

GRADUATES: Frances Lee Day, B.A., 1018-4th, Louisville; Betty Wooden, B.A., Twin Oaks Apt., Twin Oaks Rd., Akron, Ohio; Louise Smart, B.A., 408 Kensington Ct., Louisville.

With the opening of college on September 16, Kentucky Δ had twenty members. Rushing started with a very lovely tea, continued with a bridge party and a formal dinner.

The university is much interested in its new president, Raymond A. Kent.

Betty Wooden and Louise Smart, who were graduated last June, were elected to the Woodcock Society which corresponds to Φ B K in other institutions. Kentucky A is proud to claim two of the seven elected to the honor society.

Mary Renter Gates was again elected president of the W.S.G.A. Josephine Warner is representative of the senior class to student government.

The chapter welcomes Clara Louise Robertson, a transfer from Florida A.

NANCY MERCKE

TENNESSEE ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF CHATTANOOGA

Chartered, September 25, 1923
Pledge Day, October 5, 1929.

The students have eagerly welcomed to the university the new president, Dr. Alexander Guerry. They were equally glad to welcome back Dr. Smith, who returned after a year's vacation as the new dean.

Last year it was decided in Student Assembly that a student council be elected to consult with the faculty on campus problems. This provision has just been carried out. Elizabeth Landress is a member of the new council.

A "commons" is being erected in the large and heretofore unused entrance to the football stadium. There will be two rooms suitably furnished: one for women, and one for men. Between the two will be a soda fountain, where lunch and drinks may be purchased. The commons will be finished very shortly, and the students are looking forward to its opening with enthusiasm.

The chapter house was very much dressed up for rushing this year. The walls were painted, the furniture recovered, and a new orthophonic Victrola bought to replace the one formerly used.

After last year's experiment in second semester rushing, Women's Panhellenic decided to return again to a short rushing season, which began three weeks before the opening of college. The Pi Phis entertained with several teas, bridge parties, buffet suppers, and a dance. The alumnae club recently gave a tea for the rushees at the home of Mrs. John A. Patton, the mother of one of the actives.

The chapter entertained with an afternoon "stagette" dance in order to make money. The girls brought the boys or came as stags. It is the second time the chapter has given a dance of the kind, and they are extremely profitable. It is a new idea at the university, and everyone is very much interested because of its novelty.

The chapter found its plan for raising the scholarship grades very successful last year, and is continuing it this year. A fine is charged for every poor grade—$1.00 for a "D," and $2.00 for an "E," and $5.00 for an "F." This has been a decided incentive to the raising of low grades.

Following the advice of Delta Province President, Anna E. Marshall, the chapter has withdrawn from campus politics. This will probably mean the loss for a time of offices which Pi Phis might otherwise obtain, but the chapter hopes that it will be the means of bettering the unsatisfactory conditions which now exist.

Marion Jones has been elected president, and Elizabeth Landress, treasurer of Σ T Δ , national honorary literary fraternity. Miss Landress is also a member of B II Θ , national honorary French fraternity, which was recently reorganized.

Katherine Roberts and Blanche Fox were elected by the student body to represent the college in a pageant to be given by the city.

After a very successful rush season, Alabama A pledged the following girls: Adele Fort, Birmingham; Martha Posey, Smyrna, Tenn.; Kathleen Scott, Birmingham; Ruth Spearman, Anniston; and Blanche Tanner, Birmingham.

The rush parties included an informal tea given to the chapter by Mrs. Armour C. Polk, an alumna from Louisiana A; and a dinner party at the new Thomas Jefferson Hotel, at which favors from the Settlement School were given to the rushees.

The chapter is glad to welcome Mrs. T. O. Melton of Birmingham as her patroness.

Alabama A is very proud of her new double room, furnished in green and orange.

A Delta Club, petitioning K Δ , has been formed on the campus.

Katherine Brentall won the pledge scholarship cup for this year.

MINNESOTA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

Chartered, 1890
Pledge Day

The Panhellenic Council of the University of Minnesota has decided to try deferred rushing for at least three consecutive years. The first week of the winter quarter has been set for rushing. The value of this plan, lies in the fact that during the fall term the chapters will be able to become better acquainted with the freshmen.

Minnesota co-eds are busily selling subscriptions to the university magazine, The Shiimah. Thus far, $\Pi \Phi$ is second in place in the contest for sales supremacy.

The death of Minnesota's "Grand Old Man," Dr. William Watts Folwell, will be regretted by Minnesotans everywhere. Dr. Folwell was the first president of the university, and had been active until a short time before his death. Recently he finished his last large work, a history of Minnesota. Dr. Folwell was ninety-six years old.

WISCONSIN ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN

Wisconsin A announces the pledging of the following girls: Charlotte Bissell, Toledo, Ohio; Helen Brady, Manitowoc; Doris Byford, Chicago, Ill.; Virginia Claypool, Lima, Ohio; Dorothy Collins, Madison; Helen Echols, Milwaukee; Gretchen Langenbach, La Crosse; Eleanor Lloyd Jones, Madison; Viola Kennedy, Watertown; Helen McEldowney, Chicago Heights, Ill.; Mary K. Palmer, Toledo, Ohio; Marjorie Platz, La Crosse; Elise Salb, Berwyn, Ill.; Mazy Schultz, Beardstown, Ill.; Margaret Smith, Detroit, Mich.; Barbara Swallow, Danville, Ill.; and Dorothy J. Swenson, Wauwatosa. The pledge ceremony was held on the afternoon of September 29 at the chapter house and was followed by a cooky-shine.

This year Wisconsin boasts of a new women's dormitory, Langdon Hall. It is a very beautiful building and its presence has acted as an incentive to the owners of other student houses to brighten them up with fresh paint and new stucco, which has resulted in an even more beautiful campus.

During the summer Jane Cannon won for the second consecutive time, the Wisconsin women's state golf championship, which was held at the Maple Bluff Country Club in Madison, Wisconsin.

Ann Kendall, president of Y.W.C.A. was Wisconsin's delegate at the national Y.W.C.A. conference which took place at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin.

During the summer term, Dorothy Nash, Virginia Linn, and Mary Dean Scott held important offices on the Summer Session Prom committee.

A most colorful autumn background was the scene of Varsity Welcome, one of the oldest and most beautiful of Wisconsin traditions. The address of welcome to the freshmen was made by President Frank, of the university; other speeches were made by Governor Kohler of Wisconsin, and other important state officials. Mary Dean Scott presided on the committee of organization for the senior men and women, and Ann Kendall was on the committee of organization of sophomore and junior girls.

The chapter is happy to have back again this year, Eleanor White, Lois Wascow, and Dorothy Baker.

Julia Grosvenor, the convention delegate gave a thorough talk on convention at the first chapter meeting, which was very interesting and which it is believed will be very beneficial to all the members of the chapter.

MARGARET SEARLE

WISCONSIN BETA—BELOIT COLLEGE

Graduates: Susan Clementson, B.A., 1103 Chapin St., Beloit; Naomi Dahlstrom, B.A., 5952 Ohio St., Chicago, Ill.; Jane Pierson, B.A., 815 Ridge Terrace, Evanston, Ill.; and Virginia Uhel, B.A., 1037 S. Kenilworth Ave., Oak Park, Ill.

Wisconsin B had fall rushing due to a change in administrative regulations made during the summer. The last period was an experiment with the deferred system and the fact that the number of desirable girls was limited made it doubly hard. However, Wisconsin B pledged nine girls all of whom have returned to college this fall. They are: Betty Atkinson, Beatrice Berg, and Louise Tracy of Chicago; Shirley Bolter of Oak Park, Ill.; Winifred Erickson, La Grange, Ill.; Gretchen Hobbs, Beloit; Jeanette Peterson, Gary, Ind.; Katheryn Rassweiler, Downer's Grove, Ill.; and Helen Oekle, Wheaton, Ill.

On Monday, May 20, the ever impressive senior ceremony was held for the four graduates. They were also entertained at an annual senior sing at the house on June 5.

Last spring Virginia Schafer, an active dramatist, took the lead in The Thirteenth Chair produced by the Beloit Players for Mother's Day on Saturday, May 11. Other events of the week-end were a women's swimming meet, a tea at the Faculty and Alumni Club, breakfasts at the women's fraternity houses and dinners given by the men's groups.

One of the precommencement events each year is Recognition Day when all scholastic, athletic, and other awards are made at the chapel service by the president. Marjorie Yourd received a prize for an essay on some phase of the Greek tragedy, as did Katheryn Rassweiler for outstanding work in public speaking.

Members of Wisconsin B are well represented in campus offices for the current, college year. Margaret Freeman is president of W.S.G.A., the third $\Pi \Phi$ to be so honored in the past four years. She is also vice president of the senior class and president of the chapter. Barbara Pierson is president of Y.W.C.A. which was completely reorganized last year. Evelyn Sherman is secretary of the Associated Students, president of Ka Ne, the honorary literary group.

for women, and president of Forum Club. W.A.A. has Gladys Swan as vice president and Joyce Wadmond as secretary. For the third year the class of 1931 has elected two $\Pi \Phi$'s to fill its offices which are open to women, Margaret Boynton and Joan Streetter. Shirley Boller is vice president of the sophomore class.

Ground was broken for the new Art Hall in the late spring and its completion this winter will add another architectural beauty to Beloit's campus.

The tenth anniversary of the existence of Wisconsin B at Beloit drew an unusually large number to the alumnae banquet on June 16. Many charter members were present and Eulalia Drew VanWart, president at the time of installation, acted as toast-mistress.

Commencement was particularly eventful this year for President Emeritus Edward Dwight Eaton returned to deliver the Baccalaureate sermon and President Blaisdell of Pomona College at Claremont, California, gave the commencement address. Susan Clementson was graduated with magna cum laude honors. Sue also received the scholarship ring given by the chapter.

The Panhellenic scholarship cup was given to Wisconsin B for holding first place in scholarship in the campus for both semesters of 1928-1929.

CAROLYN SHEPARD

NORTH DAKOTA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF NORTH DAKOTA

Pledge Day, September 21, 1929

The University of North Dakota opened on September 18 with an increase in enrollment. The new arts building, is completed. Much interest and enthusiasm was shown in football this season. Powerful floodlights have been added to the stadium so that all the games could be played at night. The Nodaks were victorious in their first game of night football.

Two women's fraternity houses, $\Gamma \Phi B$ and $A X \Omega$, have been erected near the campus.

After a successful rushing season North Dakota A pledged eighteen girls: Jeannette Bollinger, Helen Borden, Lucille Coghlan, Margaret Ebert, Marian Fisk, Bernadine Fisher, Leila Gunderson, Kathryn Jones, Marian Kinder, Berneda Larson, Mary Lucas, Gladys Olson, Thelma Pangburn, Genevieve Quarne, Dorothy Reichert, Dell Scott, Dorothy Tompkins, and Carolyn West.

Before the close of the university in June, $\Pi \Phi$ won distinction in several activities on the campus. Alice Palmer was elected secretary of Student Government, to Quo Vadis, and to active membership in the Dakota Playmakers. Helen McAuliffe was also elected to the latter. Kathleen MacDonald and Erva Thompson were elected to the University League of Women Voters.

Sylvia Tastad was elected volleyball manager on the W.A.A. Board of Control, and she was on the varsity baseball team. Myrtle Sands was elected to $\Phi B K$, and was graduated with departmental honors in physics and with general honors.

Neva Bremm and Catherine Baker fill two of the staff positions of the university newspaper. Neva Bremm is also associate editor of The Dacotah, the university annual, and Catherine Baker is assistant class editor. Alice Palmer is president of Panhellenic.

During the summer Erva Thompson was a delegate to the $Z \Phi H$, honorary national professional-dramatic fraternity, convention at Syracuse, New York. She was chosen vice archon of $Z \Phi H$.

Two of the new members of the University of North Dakota faculty are $\Pi \Phi$'s. Myrtle Sands, North Dakota A, is an instructor in physics and Mary Watson, Oklahoma B, an instructor in physical education.

ILLINOIS ALPHA—MONMOUTH COLLEGE

Pledge Day, February 8, 1930

INITIATED, April 19, 1929: Mary Weir, '32, 1015 E. Euclid Ave., Monmouth; Dorothy White, '32, 514 E. Boston Ave., Monmouth; Kathryn Salisbury, '32, 2400 Marey Ave., Evanston; Carol Ramer, '32 10620 S. Seeley Ave., Chicago; Laura Hays, '32, 213 S. 3rd St., Monmouth; Marion Clark, '32, 217 S. 4th St., Monmouth; and Martha Bradford, '32, 6206 Woodlawn Ave., Chicago.

INITIATED, October 4, 1929: Dorothy Laxson, '31, Ontario, Ore.; Michael Miller, '31, 141 N. Channing St., Elgin; Mrs. Mary Brent Bates, '02, 3629 3rd St., San Diego, Calif.; and Mrs. Edith Senseman McMillan, '07, 402-5th Ave., Hibbing, Minn.

Illinois A announces the pledging of Frances Stewart, Murray, Neb.; Helen Wallace, Monmouth; and Helen Jamison, Wapello, Iowa.

During this summer the B K fraternity built a very lovely colonial home. Also many improvements have been made on the campus. The library building has been made larger, making new reading rooms and offices. The campus has been made more attractive by a new, gravel driveway.

Monmouth College feels very fortunate in having for the new dean of women, Miss Mary Ross Potter, for many years dean of women at Northwestern University, and later counselor of women there.

Illinois A was very proud to receive the scholarship cup for the last semester. Eight Illinois A girls made the honor roll, the requirements for which are higher than those for Φ B K. In order to keep the scholarship cup the chapter will not allow girls with grades below "B" to have week night privileges, with exception, of college functions. Girls with grades of "D" or below have one week-end privilege taken away.

The girls of Illinois A are represented in many activities. Katharine Phelps is president of the dormitory. Mary Russell is president of the French Club. Elizabeth Winbigler and Floy Fetherston are on the Y.W.C.A. cabinet. Four girls are on the student council.

The Π K Δ , forensic fraternity, is presenting the play Nevada in order to raise money to send delegates to the national convention in Wichita, Kansas. Katharine Phelps is one of the main characters in the play.

The local Panhellenic has decided against one week of rushing, but in its place is permitting each women's fraternity to give one party between Thanksgiving and Christmas, and one between Christmas and second semester. One the second Friday of the second semester each women's fraternity gives a preferential tea. That evening the bids are handed in to the dean and accepted the next morning by the girls. This does away with the one mad week of rushing and gives the girls a better chance to become acquainted.

FLOY FETHERSTON

ILLINOIS BETA—LOMBARD COLLEGE

Pledge Day, September 23, 1929

Alice Ward, as Miss Lombard, was chosen to lead the Senior Ball which was held on June 1 at the Soangetaha Country Club. This selection was made by the men of the college on the basis of participation in all campus activities as society, athletics, scholarship, beauty, and the spirit of Lombard's independence. Alice is, also, president of Lombard Hall for the first semester this year.

The chapter was represented in the annual Lombard Dance Review by: Alice Ward, Ruth Wray, Dorothy Brown, Eleanor Hitch, Martha Crissey, Grace Metcalf, Floy Breece, Mary Hitch, Neita Ray, Virginia Hinchliffe, Elizabeth Oberg, Pearl Oberg, Florence Hale, Katherine Hooker, and Helen Davis.

At the May meeting of the Lombard Panhellenic Association, the formal rushing season was shortened from a month to eleven days. Under this new system, each women's fraternity was allowed two parties: one formal dinner on a Friday or Saturday night; and one bungalow dinner on a week night. In order to cut the expense of rushing, no dances were permitted.

The chapter has representatives in many activities on the campus this fall: Ruth Lane is helping with the plans for homecoming; Dorothy Brown is managing editor of The Lombard Review, and is one of the cast for the homecoming play, The Clean Up; Lucille Tatman has been elected vice president of the senior class; and Helen Davis is president of the sophomore class.

ILLINOIS DELTA—KNOX COLLEGE

Pledge Day, October 5, 1929

At the beginning of the fall semester an important change was inaugurated at Knox, that of the Open Year plan. Fraternity pledging is to take place in the sophomore, junior, or senior year. Since this is the first semester under this ruling only upperclassmen transferring from other colleges or Knox upperclassmen not pledged last year are eligible for rushing. Having few regulations Panhellenic is relying upon the honor of a "gentleman's agreement" for fairness between fraternities in rushing. Illinois Δ has given the two parties allowed them by Panhellenic under this plan.

Due to the Open Year, Y.W.C.A. has taken special interest in the freshmen. Its cabinet sponsored a freshman dance, a Y.W. Sunday, and a Big-Little Sister breakfast. A "Get-Wise" meeting was held on September 26 for the purpose of acquainting the new girls with the aims of campus organizations and with the leaders in these activities. Illinois Δ was represented by Ruth McHugh, Jeanne Godolphin, Frances Andrews, and Lois Harris.

Much inspiration and a greater realization of the meaning of the national fraternity has been brought to Illinois Δ by her convention delegate, Charlotte Crawford.

Members of Illinois Δ have already engaged in many campus activities. Marian Christy is editor-in-chief of The Gale. Five members are on the editorial staff, and two on the business staff of The Knox Student. Frances Andrews was the representative of the Knox Y.W.C.A. at the summer conference held at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin. The

INITIATED, June 15, 1929: Doris Fraser, '32, 645 Abbotsford Rd., Kenilworth, Ill.; and Dorothy King, '32, St. Regis Hotel, Memphis, Tenn.

GRADUATES: Doris Allen, Laurens, Iowa; Marion Born, 810 Forest Ave., Wilmette, Ill.; Catherine Clark, Ogden, Iowa; Jane Clover, 314 Lee St., Evanston, Ill.; Helen Ellis, 823 Greenleaf Ave., Wilmette; Betty Harwood, 606 Greenleaf Ave., Wilmette; Helene Seibold, 522 Forest Ave., Wilmette; Elizabeth Wilson, 804 Division St., Webster City, Iowa.

Illinois E with Avis Lundahl as rushing chairman, pledged the nineteen girls: Josephine Allin, Maxine Boord, Marjorie Burrows, Martha Jane Clapp, Virginia Copenhaver, Dorothy Delscamp, Marjorie Evers, Jane Grosvener, Mona Haas, Winifred Hannan, Wilma Harvey, Geraldine Harvey, Elizabeth Herb, Ramona Jennings, Mary Lynch, Evelyn McDowell, Georgia Stange, Helen Wageman, and Marjorie Williams.

Northwestern worked out a new system of rushing this year. Each women's fraternity was permitted to have eight parties beginning on September 19 and ending on September 26. One of these was a tea on Sunday, September 22, to which a certain number of new students who were not being rushed were invited through the dean of women's office as well as rushees. Perhaps the most outstanding characteristic of the new system was the division of rushing into two distinct parts. At first invitations were issued for only the first three parties and the tea. After the tea, invitations were issued for the remaining parties. In this way, the rushees were given a better opportunity to meet all the groups; and the women's fraternities could cut down their lists effectively.

The chapter feels proud that six of its active chapter: Charlotte Cornell, the chapter delegate, Nathalie McChesney, Betty Harwood, Dorothea Jones, Dorothy King, and Helene Seibold; and two of its alumnae, Eleanor Thrall and Mae Morey, attended convention.

Nathalie McChesney was elected to Mortar Board, honorary women's fraternity, and is treasurer of the organization.

Illinois E was indeed fortunate to have Miss Onken visiting the chapter during the week of festivities culminating in the annual Northwestern Circus which was held May 4 and 5. During this week, Illinois E won first cup for the circus stunt, first cup for the intersorority relay race, and first cup for the Shi-ai baseball tournament.

ILLINOIS ZETA—UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

Pledge Day, September 23, 1929

Illinois Z opened her fraternity year on September 8, with a rushing tea. Rushing continued until September 14, when formal dinner for the pledges was held.

The chapter announces the pledging of the following girls: Margaret Alexander, Lincoln; Ruth Brennan, Oak Park; Katherine Colp, Marion; Dorothy Farrar, Wilmette; Mary Jane Fithian, Falcon, Miss.; Linda Fitz-Gerald, Urbana; Mary Foster, Danville; Jane Hall, Des Plaines; Elizabeth Hughes, Matoon; Barbara Kurtz, Oak Park; Katherine Leutwiler, Urbana; Beth Olwin, Robinsin; Jeanne Price, Amarillo, Texas; Barbara Jane Qualkinbush, Chicago; Melle Russell, Chicago; Gertrude Walters, Highland Park; and Jean Webster, Des Plaines.

Among these pledges, there are three daughters, Katherine Colp, Gertrude Walters, and Mary Jane Fithians; and three sisters, Melle Russell, Jean Webster, and Elizabeth Hughes. Gertrude Walters holds a record by having a mother, five aunts, and two cousins, all of which are Pi Phi from Illinois Z.

Last June the University of Illinois campus had an addition in the form of a statue, "Alma Mater," by Lorada Taft, an alumnus of the university. This was a gift of the sculptor, the Alumni Association, and the senior classes of 1923, '24, '25, '26, '27, '28, and '29.

The chapter house was beautifully redecorated during the summer. This made it an added pleasure for the girls to return to college this fall. Illinois Z is immensely proud of its clean house and new furniture.

Several of the positions for the approaching homecoming are held by Phi Phi. Alberta Lewis is general manager of the homecoming stunt show. Ruth Breese is assistant director of the homecoming play, Old English, in which June Whitson has a part. Elizabeth Stoolman is chairman of the stamp sales committee. Besides these there are nine girls on homecoming committees: Grace Louise Keiser, Dona Olin, Jane Busch, Glenita Hobbs, Marybelle Kimmel, Lucille Triebel, Dorothy Miller, Barbara Qualkinbush, and Katherine Colp.

Kathryn Burrows holds the position of Big Sister chairman and has made a great success of the parties held so far this fall. Also on Big Sister committees are Lucille Triebel, chairman of the captains, and Elizabeth Stoolman, chairman of the summer work.

In the Y.W.C.A., Alberta Lewis is a member of the cabinet, and Wesa Dale and Lucille Triebel are on the commission. Alberta Lewis is also on the First Council of Women's League.

Francis Hickman is editorial writer on The Daily Illini, the campus newspaper.

Illinois Z has a new cup for selling the most subscriptions to The Siren, Illinois' humor magazine. Since there was a great deal of rivalry and the contest was very close, the chapter is proud of its success.

Sixteen members of Illinois Z, five actives and eleven alumnae, were present at convention this summer where they had a splendid time.

ILLINOIS ETA—JAMES MILLIKIN UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1912

Pledge Day, September 28, 1929

Millikin opened the year on September 16 with a normal enrollment, three new fraternity houses, and with but a few changes in the faculty.

A total of 483 students are registered at Milliken this year, there being 257 men and 226 women. This however does not include conservatory or special students.

Chief in interest to the students was the appointment of Dr. J. L. O'Hara as dean of men to succeed Dr. W. W. Smith who resigned at the close of the last college year after many years of memorable service to the university. Dr. O'Hara comes to Millikin from the University of Minnesota and will be dean of men, head of the department of commerce and finance and professor of commerce and finance. Dr. Wilbur K. Butts comes to Millikin as assistant professor in biology, after finishing his work for the doctor's degree this summer at Cornell University. Dr. Franz H. Rathmann joins the faculty at Millikin as assistant professor in chemistry. John H. McMinn will be an instructor in the department of modern languages. Miss Elizabeth Campbell is professor of clothing in the department of household arts. Joseph D. Grant comes to Millikin from the University of Illinois as instructor in the department of mathematics.

During the summer $\Delta \Sigma \Phi$ finished its new \$35,000 red brick Georgian colonial house. T K E expects to be in their new northern colonial home by February. Z T A purchased a new home next door to the $\Pi \Phi$ house.

For women's fraternities the beginning of a new year means the search for new girls. The first week of college was the traditional Y.W.C.A. Week at Millikin. Each new girl had a big sister who helped her register, and who took her to the walkout, banquet, and reception. The purpose of this week is to help freshmen and upperclassmen to become better acquainted and to make the new girls thoroughly at home. During this first week fraternity women do not wear their badges.

Rushing this year was carried on the second week of college instead of the customary sixth week. Silence, except at parties, lasted from Tuesday night until Saturday afternoon after the bids were delivered. The parties consisted of Panhellenic tea on Monday; open house teas at all houses Tuesday; Wednesday and Thursday, preferential teas; Friday formal dinners; and Saturday bidding and pledging.

Illinois H announces the following list of pledges: Dorothy Knauss, Decatur; Sarah Ann Huston, Decatur; Sarah Elizabeth Morris, Decatur; Martha Henderson, Decatur; Lois Mason, Decatur; Mary Bourne, Decatur; Mary Ann Barnes, Decatur; Cecile Brosseau, Bloomington; Betty Starr, Decatur; Phyllis Seago, Chicago; Margaret Glover, Chicago; Marie Koepke, Chicago; LaVerne Marlowe, Springfield; Alice Stewart, Springfield; Marcella Louth, Chicago; Marianna Sheffer, Mason City, Iowa; Aubrey Royce, Decatur; Mary Addis Patton, Belleville; and Lela Johnson, Centralia.

Through their annual house party in August, the chapter meets girls who afterward become freshmen at Millikin and this party is often instrumental in helping high school graduates to decide on Millikin.

On September 25 the alumnae club entertained the active and pledge chapters at a cooky-shine in the chapter house, at which time convention reports were given by Kathryn Reinhart and Miss Jessie Lockett, active and alumna delegates.

This year Ruth Robertson is president of $\Delta \Phi \Delta$, honorary art fraternity. Elizabeth Cruse and Lenore Chodat were elected to membership in $\Delta \Phi \Delta$, honorary fine arts fraternity. Jane Girton and Esther Engelder alumnae of Illinois H, traveled abroad this summer.

Commencement week at Iowa Wesleyan was a week of great activity for everyone and especially the Pi Phis. On May 31 the seniors presented their class play Icebound with Joy Hall playing a leading part. The May Fête, honoring the May Queen was held on June 1 with the following girls taking part in the pageant, "The Romany Pateran": Bernice Sever, Hortense Sever, Helen Holland, Barbara Graves White, and June Wheaton. The Baccalaureate address and the dedication of the rebuilt college chapel was given on June 2. On Monday, June 3, the senior breakfast and alumnae breakfast was held together at the Hotel Brazelton, at which time Iowa presented to the five seniors $\Pi \Phi$ lockets as favors. The mothers of the seniors were guests of the chapter at this breakfast, and were given corsages. The formal graduating exercises were held following the breakfast.

Iowa Alpha's formal dinner party for the men was held on May 4 at the Masonic Temple. The modernistic idea was carried out in decorations of black and white. Wooden giraffes of black and white formed the place cards for the men and modernistic trees with gumdrop fruit for the women. Favors of black and white Lifetime pencils were given. A clever skit featuring the song the "Wedding of the Little Painted Doll" formed a part of the entertainment.

The annual picnic of the fraternity was held on May 15 at Oakland Mills.

The $\Pi \Phi$ apartment underwent a complete change the week prior to the opening of college, and is now the pride of the chapter with its new rug, curtains, pictures, and furniture. Much thanks is due the alumnae club for their donation of a new secretary to the rooms.

Preferential bidding is being tried at Iowa Wesleyan for the first time this year.

This year Iowa B is placing special stress on scholarship. A study hall under the supervision of the senior girls will be held for those receiving low grades. Anyone receiving four or more hours of I (inferior grade) will have her pin lifted for three weeks and anyone receiving two or more hours of F (flunk) will have her pin lifted for six weeks, and at the end of this time if the grade has not been raised the pin will continue to be withheld and the scholarship committee will deal further with the matter.

The stairs and upstairs hall of the chapter house were carpeted late last spring. During the summer the kitchen floor was covered with linoleum. The chapter is planning to buy new dining room furniture soon for the house.

The chapter is well represented in activities on the campus this year. Jane Brooks is vice president of $\Phi \Phi \Phi$, president of $\Phi \Pi \Gamma$, a national honorary dramatic fraternity, and vice president of the senior class. Phyllis Pascoe is vice president of the junior class and Mary Elizabeth Sayre is secretary of the sophomore class. Edna Dean is president of $\Pi \kappa \Delta$, national honorary forensic fraternity. She helped the college women's debate team in winning first honors at the $\Pi \kappa \Delta$ province convention. The chapter won the intramural track cup last spring. Inez Hamilton and Jerry Roberts were high point scorers for Iowa B. The chapter was honored by the presence of Miss Harriet Henderson, an alumna of Iowa B, at a cooky-shine given for her this fall. She is on her way to Europe to study music.

During the evening she sang some $\Pi \Phi$ songs for the girls and alumnae who were present.

IOWA GAMMA—IOWA STATE COLLEGE

Iowa Γ pledged the following eleven girls: Ruth Bronson, Council Bluffs; Mary Cunningham, Winterset; Helen Engebretsen, Chariton; Ruth Griebing, Wauwatosa, Wis.; Anna Hager, Waukon; Martha Lannom, Grinnell; Ada Miller, Dana; Claire Padden, Clinton; Marion Frances Roy, Evanston, Ill.; Jewell Rutherford, Grinnell; and Lorene Weichel, Elgin, Ill.

Although no figures were available from the office of the registrar late Wednesday afternoon, the day before college began, it is believed that the enrollment for the quarter will be approximately equal to that of last fall. As usual many registrations are expected late.

Working under the plan adopted last year, registration for freshmen students was held on Monday and Tuesday, September 23 and 24. The students, in groups of fifteen or twenty were guided about the campus by faculty and student leaders so that they were acquainted with the various buildings and departments with which they will be associated during their college careers. Convocations were held with President R. M. Hughes and the deans of the various divisions as speakers. Attendance at the convocation for freshmen was estimated at two thousand students.

$\Delta \Delta \Pi$, $\Delta \Delta \Delta$ and ΔT are all building new houses this fall. The new dormitory for women under construction last year has been completed and is being occupied by freshman girls.

On Saturday, September 28, the alumnae club gave a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Herman Knapp at which the pledges were the guests of honor.

Iowa Γ is well represented in campus activities this fall. Shirley Wells was elected to several honorary organizations just before the college closed last spring quarter. They are $\Delta \Phi \Delta$, national art fraternity, $\Phi T O$, national home economics professional fraternity, Jack o' Lantern, local honorary for high scholarship and participation in campus activities. Shirley is also women's editor of the Bomb, the college yearbook, and is a member of the League of Women Voters.

Margaret Jane Walker is also a member of the League of Women Voters and is serving on the Memorial Union Student Council. She has been elected to an honorary landscape architecture organization, the Vistonian Club.

The entire downstairs of the chapter house has been refurbished this fall. Although there have been numerous new fraternity houses built on this campus, Iowa Z can easily hold her own.

Iowa Z was very fortunate in obtaining Mrs. Nellie G. Stanley of Minneapolis, as chaperon for the coming year. Mrs. Stanley was formerly housemother for $K \Delta$ at Fargo, North Dakota.

Rush week at the University of Missouri was held before college opened. Actual rushing began on Wednesday, September 4, with the traditional Rose Tea and lasted until the preferential party Friday night. There were five parties in all. By a new plan for study hours the chapter raised its scholarship rank to fourth for the second semester, ranking sixth for the entire year. The same system is in effect this year with hope for better results.

The University of Missouri again had Freshmen Week before registration. Ethelyn Henwood and Virginia Estes, as members of Cwens, were quite active in the big sister work. All entertainments for freshman women were well attended by Π Φ pledges.

On Sunday, September 21, the chapter held open house to all the fraternities on the campus in honor of the pledges. The actives entertained the pledges with the customary breakfast dance at the chapter house on October 19.

Homecoming will be on October 26. Plans are being made for the tea at the chapter house after the game in honor of the alumnae, and Missouri A is looking forward to having many old Pi Phi with her then.

Mary Jane Richards is president of Freshman Commission.

The chapter had two honor graduates last June. They were Eloise Garland and Edna Sutter. The latter was also a member of Φ B K. Delphine Meyer and Constance Grier received sophomore honors, at that time.

A chapter of $\Lambda \Xi \Lambda$ was installed in Washington University at the end of the last semester. This made the tenth national women's fraternity on the campus.

Washington University is initiating a new style of football this year. Several games are to be played at night with the use of flood lights. This is a very unique feature and is expected to draw a larger crowd. It is also intended to make it easier on the players during the warm months.

MISSOURI GAMMA—DRURY COLLEGE

Chartered, January 9, 1914

Pledge Day, October 9, 1929

Classes at Drury began on September 20, the enrollment being much larger than ever before. Freshman Week was observed as usual by a series of receptions, dances, and lectures.

Drury welcomes five new teachers. One of them is the dean of women, Miss Lula H. Holmes. Miss Holmes formerly acted in the position of assistant dean at Mills College in California. She received her master's degree from Columbia University, and she is a member of $\Phi \beta \kappa$, honorary scholastic fraternity Missouri Γ entertained with a tea in honor of her.

Among the important offices held on the campus Missouri Γ is well represented. Marthell Burman is president of $\Sigma \tau \Delta$, national honorary English fraternity. Frances Atkinson is president of W.A.A., and Dorothy Anderson is business manager of the college paper. Skiff, the honorary society for senior women, elected eight members last spring. There are three Pi Phis in this number: Marthell Burman, Violet Veerkamp and Barbara Horton.

This year rushing was quite different from what it has been heretofore. Each woman's fraternity was allowed dates for two open houses, one night party, one luncheon and one tea. Each fraternity was limited by Panhellenic to spend a certain amount on each event. Fraternity women are not allowed any communication with a prospective rushee outside the hours included in dates. After the last open house, preferential bids were sent to the rushees. These rules have been only temporarily adopted by Panhellenic for this year. Missouri Γ has entertained with one open house and one night party. The luncheon was given by the alumnae club.

KANSAS ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF KANSAS

Pledge Day, September 17, 1929

INITIATED, September, 1929: Virginia Coffman, '32, 824 Huntington Rd., Kansas City, Mo.; Viola Warner, '32, Winfield, Kan.; Caroline Combes, '32, 617 W. Sixty-third, Kansas City, Mo.; Doris O'Donnell, '30, Junction City, Kan.; Betty DeLong, '32, Prospect Park, Atchison, Kan.; Catherine Catlin, '32, 915 Buchanan, Topeka, Kan.; Mary Noyes, '32, 129 E. 12th St., Hutchinson, Kan.

The coolest rush week in some years was experienced at Kansas University this fall, which brought with it added enthusiasm among both the rushees and actives, and thus made the rushing parties doubly successful. An Indian luncheon, a Night Club dinner, and a Modernistic Sunday supper, were novel ideas well carried out. The following girls were pledged: Virginia Thayer, Jane Price, Barbara Mize, Atchison; Mary Margaret Ramsey, Jo Frances Powell, Eldorado; Mildred Fisher, Betty Timmons, Wichita; Dorothy Sayre, Betty Jane Martin, Kansas City, Mo.; Nancy Wilcox, Lawrence; Janice Soule, Topeka; Nan Wright, Alice Fontron, Mary Margaret Starr, Hutchinson; Helen Reigart, Baxter Springs; Janet McCarthy, Havre, Mont.; Harriet Ruth Mayer, St. Joseph, Mo.; Ruth Welty, Bartlesville, Okla.; Natalie Coultas, Wichita. The traditional cooky-shine was held after pledge service.

An interest in all college activities has been evinced by actives and new pledges. Many organization tryouts have been attended and it is hoped that when final announcements are made, there will be a number of successful candidates. Ruth Welty, Mary Margaret Starr, and Harriet Ruth Mayer are new members of the glee club. Betty Timmons and Harriet Ruth Mayer have been elected to the Quack Club. Lela Hackney, appointed head of fraternity intramural activities, urged all members to take part in the tennis tournament; Janet McCarthy went to the finals.

Open house for the new pledges was given on September 27; the faculty were entertained at a reception on October 23; the freshmen have made plans for a formal party to be held December 12.

The plan which was adopted last spring for raising the fraternity scholarship was re-adopted at the first meeting. The plan states that all actives, who do not make three hours of "B" with no "Ds" and "Fs," lose their vote in fraternity. A definite improvement in grades proved the plan quite successful.

New Snow Hall is nearing completion, adding another note of beauty to the campus which all Kansans worship.

INITIATED, September 18, 1929: Jean Nimmo, '32, Cheyenne; Margaret Grisinger, '32, Casper; Mary Belle Pemberton, '32, Spearfish, S.D.; Elizabeth Thornberry, '31, Laramie; Cathryn Johnson, '32, Keokuk, Iowa; Mary Ford, '32, Laramie; Rowene Danielson, '32, Thermopolis; Grace Avery Haggard, '32, Cheyenne; Don Mae Wolfer, '31, Cheyenne; Eleanor Atwell, '31, Laramie; and Lucile Nydegger, '31, Laramie.

After a ten day rushing season, the chapter announces the pledging of the following girls: Elvira Agnew, Lusk; Glyda Mae Burbank, Laramie; Lillian Carlson, Rock Springs; Helen Corbin, Sterling, Colo.; Harriet Alice Cristie, Chicago, Ill.; Marjorie Esse, Torrington; Helen Hylton, Douglas; Marion Isberg, Laramie; Beth Jones, Thermopolis; Peggy Johnson, Lead, S.D.; Dorothy McDonald, Cheyenne; Lucille Schopf, Casper; Hellene Slacik, Laramie; Margaret Thomas, Laramie; and Dorothy Sedgwick, Newcastle; repledged.

This is the last year of freshman pledging on the Wyoming campus. All the fraternities were limited to fifteen freshmen pledges this year, the object being to help the larger chapters to meet the expense problem more gradually than by abandoning freshman pledging all at once. If Φ took eleven freshmen and three sophomores. At present the chapter is larger than ever before.

Wyoming A has many reasons for expecting an unusually successful year. Last spring four honor books were won by Pi Phi: Jean Warner, for exceptional work in the department of English, Sue Horton one for outstanding work in political economy and another for the department of history, and Alice Ellen Ford for outstanding work in the department of psychology and philosophy. Then four Pi Phis were elected to membership in Iron Skull, sophomore honorary: Lala Mau, Mary Ford, Jean Nimmo, and Cathryn Johnson. Henrietta Brown, Lala Mau, and Jean Nimmo were chosen for Big Sisters, and four girls were elected to Spurs, national pep organization. Jean Warner and Sue Horton were elected to Cap and Gown, senior honorary, petitioning Mortar Board.

The fact that the chapter is unusually large is going to aid in raising money to build a new house in the near future. Two very desirable lots are being bought this fall, and many money making and money saving schemes are under way already. One of the loveliest types of contributions to be used is that of the $\Pi \Phi$ fathers of the Wyoming chapter. Each father is asked to contribute what he wishes for a lasting memorial to his $\Pi \Phi$ daughter, and at the dedication of the new house a scroll containing the names of these fathers and their daughters will be placed within the cornerstone.

Several of the other fraternities have made recent improvements on their houses. $A T \Omega$ has completely remodelled and enlarged its chapter house, and $\Delta \Phi \Sigma$, local women's fraternity has purchased a new house since June.

The Cowboy football team has started a promising season by winning the first game with South Dakota Teachers. Everything is pointing toward a successful year in every way.

Pledge Day, September 29, 1929

INITIATED, April 26, 1929: Ailsa Jane Rice, '32, 1950 Dahlia St., Denver; Eunice Brophy, '32, 2530 E. Fourteenth Ave., Denver; Helen Fraser, '32, 1478 Elizabeth St., Denver; Imogene Davidson, '32, 889 Eleventh St., Boulder; and Catherine Sullivan, '30, Rochelle, Ill.

INITIATED, September 20, 1929: Betty Follansbee, '32, 2040 Ash St., Denver.

After an exciting week of rushing, which was notable for the presence of Virginia Hutson, Eta Province President, and the novelty of the parties, Colorado A pledged eighteen girls: Helen Wolcott, Constance Coulson, Jeanette Calkins, Sally Peebles, and Erianna Cotton of Boulder; Ruth Gates, Virginia Tasher, Adeline Roehig, Margaret Anderson, and Harriet Tower of Denver; Mary Alice Thatcher and Katherine Hardy of Pueblo; Suzanne Carroll and Virginia Shumway of Waco, Texas; Emily Jane Chesley of Armour, S.D.; Dora Sargent and Mercedes Sargent of Antoinita; and Louise Blake of Wichita, Kan.

Among the new houses on the hill, are those of $A O \Pi$, and $\Phi K T$. The ground for them was broken during the summer, and the fraternities plan to move into them early this spring. The $K K \Gamma$ house was re-decorated this summer, too.

Helping the independent movement on the campus, is the new Woman's Club Building in which the independent girls may live. With the completion of the Student Memorial Building, the independents will have a headquarters for activity. This movement became quite pronounced last spring, and is still evident on the campus.

In the pledging to honorary organizations on the hill, the Pi Phis were well represented, a $\Phi B K$ key having been awarded to Mary Louise Wellman, while Mortar Board placed the ribbons on Willa Wolcott, chapter president. The spring pledging of Hesperia, junior honorary society, claimed Marita Jameson and Carol Harris. The literary powers of Jean Gillespie, Katherine Collins, and Marian Diamond were recognized by $X \Delta \Phi$, honorary literary fraternity.

Among the Pi Phis who will participate in the campus activities this fall are: Marjorie Benight, who has a position in W.A.A., Jean Gillespie and Maxine Cooley, who will lead groups in the Woman's Club, and Alice Faller, who will help in the costuming of the plays this year.

Freshman week on the campus was filled with teas, dances, and smokers to relieve the loneliness of the newcomers. The teas were sponsored by the Big Sisters and were arranged by Marita Jameson.

The girls who went on the European tour, which was sponsored by Rebecca Vaile, an alumna of Colorado A, have returned very much enthused over the trip.

Colorado B announces the pledging of the following: Jean Aurelius, Denver; Georgiann Burdick, Denver; Shirley de Spain, Denver; Marjorie Hibner, Denver; Alberta Iliff, Denver; Betty Jane Hughart, Denver; Janet Hering, Denver; Dorothy Firebaugh, Denver; Mary Kendel, Denver; Mary Kircher, Denver; Doris Romig, Denver; Florence Shilvock, Denver; Laura Belle Stockton, Pueblo; Margaret Shattuck, Denver; Mary Wilds, Denver; and Betty Yelm, Denver.

One of the most successful parties during rushing was the Arrow School. The living room was converted into a schoolroom with rows of chairs and, of course, the teacher's desk. Under each chair was placed a lunch bag, not to be disturbed, however, until recess. As the students entered the room, they were given copies of the "Lessons in Greek," from which the class later recited. Roll call was taken by the teacher, and the lesson began. The cover of "Lessons in Greek" was of wine color, and the paper was a light shade of blue. Red ink was used in the typing.

In connection with the opening of the football season, a campaign for the selling of season tickets was inaugurated. Each organization was asked to participate in the drive. In addition to a commission for

Mary Kendel was selected to play a leading part in The Admirable Crichton which will be presented on November 21 by the Drama Club.

Several members have been added to the faculty of the University of Denver: Miss Gladys Bell, dean of women at the college of liberal arts; Miss Mary Kotz, dean of women at the department of commerce; Mr. Maxwell, professor of religious education; and Newell Cravath, coach.

OKLAHOMA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA

Pledge Day, September 9, 1929

Having followed an extensive program of construction during 1928-29, resulting in the erection of a new library, student union building, stadium, and infirmary, Oklahoma University, this year, is adopting a more conservative plan of extension. The Fine Arts Building is being renovated and the department of journalism has moved into the new $35,000 addition of the University Press Building, the college's fifth temporary home since its establishment in 1913.

An entire block of new college shops, facing the northern edge of the campus, greatly improves the university surroundings.

Those fraternities who are established in new homes this year are $\Pi K A$, ΔT and $A O \Pi$. The new $\Delta X A$ and $\Phi K \Sigma$ houses are under construction.

The enrollment of O.U. is 5,123. This is the present registration total. It is believed that this number will greatly increase during the remainder of the college year, as it did last.

Continuing their anti-hazing policy, the Board of Regents has abolished both of the men's pep organizations, the Ruf Neks and Jazz Hounds.

The annual Y.W.C.A. mixer and Mortar Board walk-out were enthusiastically received. An interesting feature of the walk-out was that each big sister, and upper-classman chosen by a special committee of girls, called for her little sister, some freshman in the university, to escort her to the affair, introduce her, and make her familiar with university life. The big sister movement is a comparatively recent project, having been sponsored on this campus last year by Mildred Clark, former W.S.G.A. president, who is serving her second term as president of Oklahoma A.

The chapter held open house on Sunday, September 15, introducing: Mrs. Myrtle McColpin, new hostess of $\Pi \Phi$; transfers: Aileen Moore, Arkansas A; Audrey Backenstock, Illinois Δ ; Wenzella Witherpoon, Kansas B; Dorothy Schermerhorn, Kansas B; Mary Ruth Holbrook, Oklahoma B; Josephine Van Brunt, Oklahoma B; Geneva Harrell, Oklahoma B; and fall pledges: Florence Cardwell, Holdenville; Nell Ezell, Holdenville; Katherine Goss, Tulsa; Katherine Grant, Oklahoma City; Claire Haner, Tulsa; Sara Hobbs, Rogers, Ark.; Arline Hutchinson, Muskogee; Margaret Klingensmith, Sapulpa; Mildred Longmire, Sapulpa; Berniece Little, Purcell; Helen Lowery, Oklahoma City; Emily Mitcham, Wichita Falls, Texas; Margaret Monrone, Oklahoma City; Nancy Trent Osborn, Pauls Valley; Evelyn Riley, Marietta; Lady Percy Shaw, Ada; and Katherine Weeks, Wichita Falls, Tex.

It has been decided that dinner shall be served buffet style on Monday night before chapter meetings. Since all of the alumnae have been urged to attend meetings this arrangement has been found to be both festive and accommodating.

The scholarship plan used last year is being followed again this year. Four hours of daily study is being required, two hours in the afternoon and two at night. Those members who do not meet the twenty-four point requirement the first six weeks will be required to go to study hall also. Ten members are appointed each month by the chairman of the scholarship committee to be responsible for pledge study, each girl supervising one study period each week. Mrs. W. C. Campbell, alumna scholarship adviser, is working with the chapter to perfect the study plan.

Nancy Trent Osborn, pledge, has completed two original $\Pi \Phi$ songs which will later be submitted to the national committee.

The pledges had a sneak night the night after pledging, and spent the night at the home of a town girl. With the permission of the dean of women, they serenaded fraternities, and the house members of the chapter.

Betty Jean Young was elected secretary and treasurer of the freshman class. Two pledges have received staff positions on the college daily paper, and two others are assistants in the publication of the yearbook.

Two women's fraternity houses are being built—the Z T A is near completion, and the K A is just started. ΣX has made plans for a new home soon, also.

Following pledge services, September 21, the Fayetteville alumnae club entertained actives and pledges at a cooky-shine.

The University of Arkansas opened on September 23 with a student enrollment exceeding by 121 that of any previous year.

At the beginning of the fall semester $\Delta X A$ and ΔB moved into new homes of their own, the latter having just been completed.

Elizabeth Paisley has returned to the university to do graduate work. During the past two years she taught in the Fort Smith schools.

Last spring Mrs. Marinoni, a patroness of Arkansas A and a nationally known writer, entertained the chapter members at a supper, and during rush week Mrs. Hughley, also a patroness, opened her country home to the Pi Phi for a beautiful garden party.

During the last week of July, Arkansas A was hostess at a house party given at Bella Vista for rushees.

As a result of spring elections, Mary Earle is president of H E honorary home economics club and associate editor of the Arkansas Agriculturalist; Martha Hathcock is vice president of $\Sigma A I$, national music fraternity; and Josephine Barrett is vice president of K Δ II, national educational fraternity, and of A T, honorary English society, and secretary of the Women's League. Mary Frances Drake, a new pledge, was elected vice president of the freshman class.

TEXAS ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS

Pledge Day, Indefinite

INITIATED, June 26, 1929: Julia Smither, '30, Huntsville, Tex.; Mary Edson, '32, Beaumont, Tex.; and Anne Hargrove, '31, Beaumont, Tex.

The three summer initiates are back in college, having filled all requirements.

The fraternity situation in the University of Texas is an important problem to the $\Pi B \Phi$ chapter. The board of regents has put all men's and women's fraternities on a four year probation, and the utmost cooperation is necessary. There is to be no rush week at the beginning of the year, as formerly, and students with senior standing or those having made the honor roll are the only ones who may be rushed. When their eligibility has been established at the end of the fall semester, the rushees may be pledged, but all pledges' grades are to count on the fraternity average. The chapter is determined to cooperate with all rules, and give no cause for criticism. The new rules were explained by the dean of student life at a convocation of all fraternities.

A great deal of attention was paid to scholarship last year, and the fraternity average was much higher than it has been in several years.

The six representatives at convention, Dorothy Rylander, Hazel Mockbee, Mary Edson, Anne Hargrove, Julia Smither, and John Kelley Houssels, brought back inspiration for the new year, and enthusiastic memories of an enjoyable time. One of the new initiates, Mary Edson, won the archery contest, and received a service plate as the prize.

The house has been redecorated, and the chapter is very proud of it. There are new moss-green chenille rugs and the furniture is reupholstered in mulberry velour. The Waco girls gave a script dance during the summer, and with the proceeds, they bought for the chapter house a new combination victrola and radio, that every one has enjoyed very much.

Three transfers, Doris Dunbar, from Southern Methodist University, Claire Beckham, and Janet Shepherd from George Washington University are in college this semester.

Pledge day which was on September 27 closed a very successful rush week for Texas B. Rushing was not entirely within rush week because the active chapter and pledges living in Dallas rushed the entire summer. Pledge day brought to Texas B the following pledges: Nancy Boggess, Rose Mary Lindsley, Henrietta Miller, Sara Miller, Kathleen Murphy, Mildred Murphy, Alice Owens, all from Dallas; Marion Caldwell, McKinney; Helen Davidson and Iza Murchison, Corsicana; Mary Louise Hagelstein, San Angelo; and Beth Kennebrew, Lake Charles, La. All of the new pledges have been required to join at least two campus activities.

S.M.U. does not allow houses for women's fraternities on the campus, so it is necessary for them to have chapter rooms in town. This year the chapter has engaged a very pleasant room.

Texas B is happy to have this year Martha Leake a transfer from Virginia A. She transferred from Texas University the second semester of last year. This year Texas B has a very small active chapter due to a large graduating class last spring.

Louisiana A opened her rushing season at the close of college with a boat ride on the yacht Cocheco, upon Lake Pontchartrain, outside of New Orleans. Date Cards were made by the II Φ art students.

During the summer months, rushing was carried on in a very informal way. The actual rushing season began with the annual rushing house party at the Gulf Coast; Biloxi, Mississippi, was as usual the scene of activities, the party being housed in the new Hotel Biloxi. One day there was a ride on the yacht Cocheco to the Isle de Caprice, twelve miles out in the Gulf from the mainland. Commodore Jahncke, Assistant Secretary of the Navy acted as host, and both actives and rushees enjoyed rides in one of the United States Navy planes which escorted the Cocheco out to the Island. It was a perfect day, with swimming in the surf, fishing, and listening to the negro band aboard the yacht. That afternoon there was tea in Mrs. Garner Tullis' (Mary Lee Brown) beautiful garden of her summer home, followed by a baseball game. That night was stunt night, impromptu stunts taking up the evening. The next night was the banquet; the decorations, little palm trees, crêpe paper lais, menu and place cards carrying out the idea of a trip on the S.S. Pi Beta Phi to Hawaii. Flora Hardie, who has recently been to Hawaii, entertained with a charming dance in native costume, and Perrine Dixon acted as toastmistress. Informal sailing parties, suppers, and bonfires filled up the rest of the time.

College opened on September 24. Open house in the fraternity rooms followed the freshmen registration. The other large parties of rush week were: a tea at Mrs. Ernest Lee Jahncke's (Cora Stanton), a progressive dinner with courses at various member's houses and a supper and slumber party at Frances Cleveland's. The pledge luncheon was held at the Orleans Club, and afterwards the new pledges and the actives attended the first Tulane game.

The pledging ceremony took place on the night of September 28 at Adele Jahncke's, and was followed by a cooky-shine.

Newcomb has a new system this year for the instruction of the freshmen. There were no classes for the freshmen the first week of college. Instead the time was taken up by intelligence tests of various kinds. By the grades they made in these tests their places in the various divisions of the freshman classes was determined.

GRADUATES: Shirley Fabrick, B.S., Bozeman; Frida Hendrickson, B.S., Billings; Claudena Opdyke, B.S., Bozeman; and Margaret Campbell Post (Mrs. Arthur), B.S., Bozeman.

On September 28, the close of the four day official rushing season, Montana A pledged the following girls: Regina Danicich, Anaconda; Muriel Eaton, Bozeman; Alice Gardiner, Anaconda; Elsa Hendrickson, Billings; Constance Holm, Bozeman; Edith Waterman, Bozeman; and Lucille Wright, Billings.

The close of college last spring ended a successful year for Montana A. The spring quarter was especially lively with increased social and campus activities. On April 15, Montana A entertained at an interfraternity dinner, representatives from the four other women's fraternities on the campus, A O II, X Ω, A Γ Δ, and K Δ, attending. The annual Panhellenic formal dinner was held at the Hotel Baxter on May 25 with approximately 175 Greek-letter women present. Founders' Day was celebrated with an impressive dinner party at the chapter house for the pledges, actives, and alumnae. The annual spring party was an informal dinner dance held at Karst's Kamp on May 18. Montana A entertained at a Mothers' Day chocolate on the morning of May 12. Margaret and Helen Souders gave a voice and piano recital at the college on May 23. Montana A held its annual rummage sale for the Settlement School in April.

Woman's Day, which has been called the "prayer hour" of Montana State College women, was on June 10. Elizabeth Gardiner was chairman. Ruth Sweat, '16, gave the address, "The Montana State College Recipe." Miss Sweat was made a member of Φ Ω Σ, honorary fraternity for Woman's Day speakers, of which Nona Sackett Marsh also is a member. Elizabeth Gardiner and Martha Flynn were elected to Mortar Board, and Ruth Sweat was made an honorary member. Helen Oliver received the Wiggenhorn award for freshmen women's oratory; this award is given by Mrs. C. D. Wiggenhorn, Wisconsin A, of Billings, Montana. Helen Souders and Helen Oliver were elected to Eurodelphian, national literary society. Helen Oliver also received a blue and gold swimming suit as a reward for proficiency in swimming. After the Woman's Day program a cooky-shine was held at the chapter house, actives, pledges, and alumnae (including ten who had returned to Bozeman for homecoming) attending.

Martha Flynn was elected to the Student Senate as commissioner of social affairs, Elizabeth Seitz to the Associated Women Students' Council as historian of A.W.S. Louis Cobleigh was elected to Φ Σ, national honorary biological fraternity. Helen Oliver was elected president of Δ Φ, local honorary art fraternity.

Professor and Mrs. R. A. Cooley returned in April from a year's sojourn in Africa where they went in search of parasites with which to combat the ticks that cause one of Montana's most dreaded and dangerous diseases, spotted fever. They brought back several parasites with which experiments are now being successfully made.

Montana A is placing special emphasis on scholarship this quarter. At a recent local Panhellenic meeting it was decided that no special permissions were to be granted to anyone who had not made an eighty average the preceding quarter.

The chapter was fortunate in having four girls attend convention in July. They were Martha Flynn, delegate, Elizabeth Gardiner, president, Esther Bowman, house manager, and Dorothy Grigsby. With the inspiration that they brought from convention plus the encouraging prospects already evident, Montana A is looking forward to a busy, pleasant year.

INITIATED, September 27, 1929: Dorothy Craven, '32, Boise; Helen Hanson, '31, Boise; Marjorie Jones, '32, Palouse, Wash.; and Jean York, '32, Boise.

The chapter announces the pledging of Jane Robinson, Central; Minnie Anderson, Coeur d'Alene; Addie Martin, Rathdrum; Hester Ellis, Portland, Ore.; Dorothy Drake, Challis; Neva Green, Moscow; Helen Dunbar, Dobbins, Calif.; Belle Porterfield, St. Maries; Bernice Schwerdfeld, Colville, Wash.; Evelyn Shoemaker, Nez Perce; Mildred Patterson, Robinson Bar; Julia Valler, Blanche Curry, Pocatello; Frances McMonigle, Ionemarie Minger, and Phyllis Wright, Boise.

Panhellenic has simplified the rushing rules for parties at Idaho. The only decorations permitted at rushing parties are table flowers. Place cards must be simple and favors of any kind are barred. Idaho feels that these steps will be aids in establishing uniform rushing parties.

Idaho A is very fortunate in having as housemother this year, Mrs. Harry J. Smith. Mrs. Smith is a former resident of Moscow and is well known on the campus.

Idaho A entertained the pledges at a cooky-shine on September 29. The members gave an original stunt entitled "Hist!"

which pleased the old girls as much as the new pledges.

The plan of supervised library study for pledges which was inaugurated last year has had such satisfactory results that it is being used again this year.

A new Idaho Junior College has been established this year at Moscow. Now Idaho has a junior college in south Idaho and one in north Idaho. This system will make uniform junior college opportunities throughout the state. The only senior university in the state is at Moscow and takes its students from both junior colleges.

The University of Idaho is very glad to receive the William Edgar Borah "Foundation for Outlawry of War" which has been given by Mr. Samuel Levinson of Chicago. The donor selected the University of Idaho to receive this foundation in recognition of Idaho's distinguished senator's efforts toward peace.

Idaho welcomes on the campus the newly installed chapter of $\Delta \Delta \Delta$. The installation ceremonies took place last May. All women's group houses on the campus have national charters now. LOIS PORTERFIELD

Washington B completed a most successful rushing season, pledging on September 24, the following girls: Myrle Chamberlain, Sarah Jane Paulson, Ingeborg Helgeson, Cecelia Erlingson, Allee Parker, Ruth Combs, and Mildred Weisel, Seattle; Jeanette Frederickson, Everett; Marjorie Neal and Betty Adams, Spokane; Helen Hall, Spirit Lake, Idaho; Frances Appel, LaCrosse; Marie Graunitz, Colbert; Margaret King, Yakima; Mildred Ley, Wapato; Leonore Brown, Tacoma; Gertrude Lee and Beth Schaaf, Aberdeen; Virginia Hutchinson, Wenatchee; and Betty Bailey and Abbie Cranston, Colville.

The chapter is most fortunate in having Miss Dorothy Jackson, former housemother from the University of Washington campus, as housemother for the coming year.

Last spring term was a scene for many activities both in the chapter and on the campus. Margaret McCaskill and Verna Knight both had leading parts in a play, The Swan, and Jane MacPherson had a subordinate lead. Margaret McCaskill had the lead in the senior play, The Haunted House. Emma Louise Daubert was on the varsity debate team, and Marie Gillespie was circulation manager of the Chinook, and sales manager of the Cougar's Paw. This year she is to be assistant business manager of the Cougar's Paw. Betty Bement and Helen McEachren are members of Spurs for this year, Betty having been elected president of the organization, also secretary of the sophomore class. Oregon A has just completed a very successful rushing season and announces the pledging of the following girls: Frances V. Drake, Portland; Hester Hopkins, La Grande; Mildred Collins, Albany; Elsie Jean Oleson, Portland; Marguerite Tarbell, Portland; Marie Curtice, Oregon City; Peggy Standish, Portland; Nora Jean Stewart, Aberdeen, Wash.; Doris Mae McMoran, Victoria, B.C.; Ruth Milligan, Eugene; Geraldine McGrath, The Dalles; Marjorie Haas, Eugene; Barbara Tucker, Aberdeen, Wash.; Harriet Roberts, Stockton, Calif.; Florence White, Portland; Rebekah Van Nuys, San Francisco, Calif.; Claire Fahe, Eugene; Elizabeth Graham, Klamath Falls; and Nancy Chipman, Portland.

The chapter is very proud of Beatrice Milligan, '30, who was elected secretary of the student body last spring, and who was also elected to Mortar Board. Many of the other girls are very active on the campus also.

A Fine Arts Building is now being constructed on the campus. It is a memorial to the late president, Prince Campbell, who rendered so many years of faithful service to the university. A new infirmary will be built later this year. The Sigma Chis, Theta Chis, and Delta Zetas have lovely new houses.

The main social event of spring term was a dinner dance given at the chapter house. A number of guests were invited for the week-end. A tea dance was also given.

Oregon A is trying very hard to raise its scholarship this term, and has taken rather drastic measures to accomplish this. All freshmen and pledges go to study table from 7:30 to 9:30 on week days and Sundays, and are not allowed to go to the library during this time. They are expected to study at the library until 4:30, when they have no classes. The house average is fifty points; all those making less than this number are on strict probation. Probation for sophomores: freshman privileges with the exception of study table. Probation for juniors: no dates until 4:30, one mid-week date. Probation for seniors: no dates until 4:30. Privileges for those not on probation: sophomores, one mid-week date, access to library at any time; juniors: two mid-week dates; seniors: freedom to do as they think best. Each girl is expected to put in at least eight hours a day studying and attending classes. Roll call at house meetings is answered by cuts and grades; causes of unexcused cuts and low grades are investigated. The grades are kept and the girls are talked to if their averages go down.

Oregon B announces the pledging of the following girls: Frances Babcock, Portland; Lois Balzer, Portland; Helen Beecher, Stockton, Calif.; Virginis Best, Salem; Margaret Blackburn, Portland; Louise Ciliax, Pasadena, Calif.; Margaret Drager, Salem; Wilene Dodd, Long Beach, Calif.; Helen Dockery, Portland; Laura Lu Gillis, Portland; Ruth Harrison, Portland; Lucille Hill, Pasadena, Calif.; Betty James, Portland; Estora Rick, Portland; Ruth Salser, Corvallis; Emmajean Stephens, Corvallis; and Dorothy White, Salem.

This year Oregon State College has four great improvements on its campus, all of which are new men's fraternity houses: the A X P, T K E, Φ Σ K, and A Σ Φ. This is an added interest to the campus as the houses are being built so that they will form a fraternity row.

Oregon B chapter house did not have any improvements made during the summer, as the house is not quite a year old, but there were a few details to be attended to. The biggest improvement was the lawn, which is very green; the shrubs and flowers are up and growing very well. The parkway has just been planted.

Last year the chapter had a large study table at which all underclassmen studied, but this was not successful. This year Oregon B is placing two girls at each small study table, with a study lamp. The chapter hopes that this will be a much better system for the underclassmen not only to study, but also to raise their grades.

Betty Robjey has been selected for the chairman of the Co-ed Follies. The Co-ed Follies is a party at which the upperclassmen entertain the freshmen girls. This is one of the largest functions that is given on the campus by the women students.

California A is fortunate this year in having three transfers who have just been affiliated, Helen Henderson of California F, Meredith Savage of Oregon B, and Bernice Wright of California A.

The Associated Women Students of Stanford University are about to realize a long cherished hope. The Board of Athletic Control has voted $10,000 to be used in the building of a new women's gymnasium with the added improvements of new tennis courts, two swimming pools, and facilities for fencing, rifle practice, and sun bathing.

In June, Louise Buxton was elected to Φ B K. In her last quarter in the university she took the lead in the senior farce.

The chapter is especially proud to have Helen Thompson and Elizabeth Hawkins elected to the rally committee, which takes in only a few girls yearly. Helen Thompson has also been made sponsor in Robie Hall this quarter, is a member of the Associated Women Students constitution committee, a member of the honor code committee, toastmistress and in charge of the program for the conference party, and has just been elected president of Masquers Society. Helen Halderman, after a year of competing, is now women's manager of Chaparral, the Stanford comic magazine, Ailene Aldwell and Helen Osborne trying out for the position under her. Elizabeth Hawkins is on the Stanford Daily staff. Marian Strong is social chairman of the Associated Women Students and was also in charge of the conference party. Harriet Sutton is taking part in the next campus production, The Ivory Door, by A. A. Milne.

The girls have returned from convention with new ideas and inspired to do all they can for the chapter. They feel that convention gave them a broader insight into the ideals of Π B Φ and made them all realize the value of their national ties.

In material improvements the chapter house has been partially redone downstairs and a new set of dining room furniture added, while the girls have been busy painting furniture and making curtains for their separate rooms.

adviser, Dr. Dymont. A thé dansant was given for the Hammer and Coffin Society during its convention here this fall.

The chapter is looking forward with pleasure to the visit of the Kappa Province President, Mrs. Forker, whom the girls so enjoyed meeting at convention.

INITIATED, May 15, 1929: Virginia Armstrong, '32, 667 W. California St., Pasadena; Jane Alice Baraby, '31, 2107 F St., Sacramento; Margaret Duveneck, '31, 1015 Warfield Ave., Piedmont; Beryl Holmes, '32, 1420 Jackson St., Oakland; Margaret Lunt, '30, Los Altos; Virginia Oliver, '32, Wrightwood; and Barbara-Lu White, '32, 622 Mandana Blvd., Oakland.

The girls were given a special initiation service at this time so they would be able to go to the convention in Pasadena this summer. Beryl Holmes received the recognition pin for the highest scholastic record among the initiates.

The fall rushing season has just ended and California B pledged seventeen girls, among whom are two Π B Φ daughters, Marion Clark and Marie Hall, Betty Scott, a cousin of Mabel Scott Brown, and a Π B Φ sister, Helen Lunt. The other pledges are Betty Anderson, Mary Atkins, Leah Edsell, Jacqueline Jacobus, Barbara Jacobus, Jean Marble, Anita Martin, Sue Moultrie, Marion Nash, Sally Reynolds, Claire Shortall, Audrey Tautau, and Stephanie Warshauer.

The annual Channing Way Derby, given by the Σ X, held the morning of pledging, had as its central idea a circus, and the pledges were taken through a regular menagerie before reaching their respective houses. Π B Φ took third place in the derby for taking seventeen nuggets. The same evening the chapter held open house for the new pledges.

On September 13 the chapter was given a report on convention by the chapter representative, Alla Coe. A convention together was held at the home of the Province Vice President in Berkeley on September 27.

California B and the Φ Δ Θ had an exchange dinner on September 11. The following Wednesday, September 18, the chapter had an exchange dinner with the ΣK .

One of the most recent honors for the house was the election of Helen Meyer to $\Phi B K$. She is also a member of the Political Science honor society. Alla Coe is women's manager of The Blue and Gold, a member of Mortar Board, and also $\Sigma K A$, history honor society. Wilmer Grace is one of the junior editors of The Blue and Gold and was recently initiated into $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$, women's honorary and professional journalistic fraternity. Betty Ballantine is also a member of $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$ and is junior editor of The Daily Californian. Two sophomores are working for their appointments on the managerial staff of The Blue and Gold.

Clara Catherine Hudson is a member of Torch and Shield and Mortar Board. Virginia Canfield is head of personnel and a member of Mortar Board.

The freshmen are interested in campus activities and some have gone in for Y.W.C.A. work and others have gone out for Little Theater work.

Work on building of the International House is going on, but it is still in its early stages of construction.

INITIATED, June 11, 1929: Caroline Beckwith, '32, 260 Palmetto Dr., Pasadena; Sarah Brasfield, '33, 203 S. Van Ness Ave., Los Angeles; Elizabeth Gude, '32, 646 S. Hudson, Los Angeles; Ruth Lane, '32, 120 W. Doran St., Glendale; and Elizabeth Woodworth, '32, 351 N. Raymond, Pasadena.

California Γ completed the fall rushing season with the pledging of: Betty Cordingly, Mary Ann Cotton, Phyllis Franklin, Marcia Forbes, Isobel Goss, Frances Johnson, Mary Weegar, and Olive Morse, all of Los Angeles; Harriet Gretner of South Pasadena; and Peggy Forbes of Buffalo, N.Y.

Student body elections held last spring for the current year gave $\Pi \Phi$ excellent representation. Janet McCoy was elected secretary of the associated students, and Isabel Loftus was chosen vice president of the College of Liberal Arts.

Isabel Loftus is also president of Amazon, women's honorary service organization, as well as a member of the board of student publications, and secretary of the rally committee. $\Pi \Phi$ has three members in Amazon at the present time.

As this year is the fiftieth year of the existence of the University of Southern California, every effort is being made by both the alumni and student body groups to make it a year of fitting celebration. $\Pi \Phi$ is represented on the semi-centennial committee by two members, Isabel Loftus and Janet McCoy.

To be unveiled as a part of the semi-centennial celebration, a bronze statue of gigantic size will be presented to the university by the alumni. This statue will commemorate the "Spirit of Troy," and, as the Trojan warrior has become the symbol for Southern California's athletic teams, will be particularly fitting.

Interest in journalism is shown by Isabel Loftus and Janet McCoy, both of whom have recently joined $A X A$, national journalism honorary.

Among the new buildings planned for the university is the Seeley Mudd Hall of Philosophy, to be completed in November, which will house the late Seeley Mudd's library of philosophical works, said by authorities to be the finest in the West, which was given to Southern California at Mr. Mudd's death.

INITIATED, June 26, 1928: Frances Bledsoe, Culver City; Margaret Hill, Los Angeles; Janice Jump, Los Angeles; Marjorie Patee, Pasadena; Florence Opperman, South Pasadena; Evelyn Rose, Los Angeles; and Virginia Townsend, Los Angeles.

The past few months have been very strenuous for California Δ . Being one of the hostess chapters for convention, special permission was granted to initiate the pledges at the end of the spring semester so that they might have the privilege of going to convention. As the chapter was so fortunately near, the entire group was able to be there, which was a wonderful thing for California Δ as it is such a young chapter. Definite benefit is most evident in all activities now, and every girl seems to have realized through her valuable contacts this summer, the true national spirit.

After the excitement of convention, the attention of everyone was turned to the new chapter house at Westwood. Committees of girls, under the splendid instruction of Mrs. Phillips, the interior decorator, and mother of one of the active girls, made series of trips during the summer to furniture stores, drapery establishments, etc., to choose the house furnishings. And thanks to the untiring efforts of Mrs. Phillips, and the mothers' club, the chapter house was furnished and ready the day college opened. After all the theater benefits, bridge benefits, and rummage sales that the girls slaved on for so long in order to raise money, it seems a dream-come-true to have the new chapter home. There is no doubt but that the girls will be able to accomplish a great deal more than before, living together and having all the modern conveniences with which to work.

Rush week, consisting of a series of traditional parties, such as the Cabaret Dinner, the Hawaiian Dinner, and the Chinese Sukiaki House, was very successful, and ended with the pledging of ten girls: Adele Alfred, Marjorie Barter, Georgia Crowell, Beatrice Elwell, Frances Hall, Janet Rally, Lorraine Smith, Dorothy Standing, Winifred Story, and Eleanor Thompson.

With a new home on a new campus, a new life naturally evolves. The chapter is very much interested at present working out its house rules, scholarship drives, and social contacts; in fact, the aim of each individual seems to be to make California Δ have an active and successful year in its new surroundings.

MABEL STIDHEM

ARIZONA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA

Chartered, August, 1917
Pledge Day, Indefinite

It is a memorable year for Arizona A, as the fourteen active members who returned to college this fall have come back to a beautiful new home. Just before the close of college last June the chapter held a ground-breaking ceremony, at seven o'clock on a Sunday morning.

The following poem, written by one of the members, was read at this meeting:

"There is something fine in each of our lives
That, bird-like, soaring above our heads, flies Toward blue unattainableness; and strives
To keep pure distance from a world of lies.
At times unnoticed, it can yet impart
A certain dignity to random aims.
When wearied purpose falters, and the heart
Tires of tow'ring failures and petty fames,
This spirit has the power of gentle speech
To soothe, and heal, and call to joy again.
It shines through clouds of glamour, fears and pain,
A compound of love and faith, an emblem high—
This we cherish in our Pi Beta Phi.

"As we have love, as we have faith, as we have loyalty,
Let us put these things into the building of our house.

It will be then not a house merely, but a home,
And a proof of the strength of dreams."

The house is of white stucco and, in accord with the atmosphere of Tucson, is Spanish style architecture, built on two sides of a front patio, which has in its center an irregular pool outlined with rocks. Two long porches, underneath the second story of the house, face the patio, and are very attractive with their regular white stucco arches, through which one can look away toward the Santa Catalina Mountains, north of the house.

The house is truly $\Pi \Phi$, since it was built by Mr. John Murphy, whose wife is an Arizona alumna. The front door of the house bears the $\Pi \Phi$ seal, carved by Mrs. Murphy, who helped her husband plan the home, and who chose the furniture for it while she was in California this summer.

The living room furniture is Monterey style, that Spanish type which looks rather primitive and weathered, and as if no amount of wear could injure it in the least; as if rather it would improve with use. The cushions of the chairs and the davenport are covered in woolen fabrics, of soft, warm orange and brown tones. The drapes at the large front window, the side windows, and the French doors giving onto the porch, are tan wool shot with orange, and the rug matches these colors. The guest room is furnished with the same type of furniture, and is very attractive indeed. An interested $\Pi \Phi$ mother has just presented the house with bed spreads which carry out the Spanish atmosphere of the rooms. The rest of the house is very comfortably furnished, also. It consists of a spacious dining room, a kitchen, a study where study table will be conducted, the housemother's room, just off the library or studyroom, the "town-girls' room" where they may keep powder, toilet accessories, etc.; and upstairs, studyrooms containing individual dressing closets, two baths, and a large sleeping porch which will accommodate thirty-two girls. In the basement of the house is a well equipped chapter room.

Activities are not as yet in full swing. Margaret Koons is president of F.S.T., junior women's honorary society, is secretary of A.W.S., a member of Women's Press Club, and a member of Junior Council. Ruth Hubbard is treasurer of Women's Press Club, and an F.S.T. member. Lillian Nicholas and Kay Kellogg are in glee club. Virginia Culbertson is assistant advertising manager of The Manuscript, campus literary publication. The Arizona Desert for June named Helen Welch as the second most beautiful girl in the university (the choice being made by Buddy Rogers), and in that same issue of The Desert, Ada Mae MacCoy was declared Arizona's "All-Round Co-ed."

Many of our members were able to go to convention, and have come back with an even greater appreciation of $\Pi \Phi$ than they had had before.

NEVADA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA

Pledge Day, September 26, 1929

This is the first year of second semester rushing on the Nevada campus, and it proved very successful for the $\Pi \Phi$ s, as they pledged three of the four eligible girls. The new pledges are, Marjorie Latchford, Los Angeles, Calif.; Violet Tulloh, Alameda, Calif.; and Adele Raiche, Reno. Pledging was followed by a cooky-shine.

Clarence Mackay has donated a \$115,000 endowment for a new science building. This building will complete the quadrangle, whose erection was made possible by Mr. Mackay. Also, the $\Lambda \tau \Omega$ fraternity has inaugurated a new building plan for fraternity houses on the campus, by completing their new chapter house for the opening of the fall semester.

Nevada Λ is particularly strong in activities this semester. Faralie Smithson is president of the Y.W.C.A., and Doris Thompson and Dorothy Ernst are in the cabinet. Kathryn Robison and Katherine Priest are members of Cap and Scroll, and Kathryn Robison is president of that organization. Several of the girls are working on the campus publications. Nancy Mitchell, Alice LeMaire, Emily Gracy, Leona Sellman, are working on the Sagebrush; Helen Webb, Jerry Blattner, Phylis Balzar, Grace Bordewich, Ethel Maraska, Violet Tullah, and Maurine Stromer are working on The Artemesia; and Lois Nicolaides, Adeline Duque, Helene Turner, and Cecelia Sudden are working for The Desert Wolf. Faralie Smithson, Doris Thompson, Alice LeMaire, and Marjorie Latchford are in the glee club. Jerry Blattner is women's representative to the Finance Control Committee, and June Grantley is secretary to the athletic manager. Viou Stewart and Helene Turner are both members of Campus Players, an honorary dramatic society.

The girls are again fortunate in having as chaperon Miss Wynne Bragdon, K K Γ , from the University of Washington.

Installation of Utah Λ chapter was held on September 11, 1929. Miss Gail De Wolfe officiated, assisted by Mrs. Forker, Kappa Province President, Jean Warner of Wyoming Λ , and Jane Jones of Colorado β . The pledging and initiation ceremonies were an inspiration to all the girls. The memory of those three days will live in their minds forever as a most wonderful experience. Fifty-eight former Gamma Φ s were initiated as charter members of Utah Λ of $\Pi \beta \Phi$.

College work started on October 1, with the usual enthusiastic response from everyone. There is a noticeable increase of freshmen on the campus due to the new two-year high school plan which went into effect last fall. This has necessitated the organization of more classes extending later into the day, but the arrangement will probably affect only the lower classmen. The registration thus far totals approximately 3,000.

The first football game of the season was played at the Ute stadium on Saturday, October 5, with the University of Nevada.

The $\Gamma \Phi$ mothers' club held their last meeting as such on September 30, at the fraternity house. The president, Mrs. L. W. Snow, presented the active chapter with \$55 from the mothers, and requested that something permanent be purchased for the house. A committee has been appointed to select the gift.

The members of the scholarship committee are formulating plans so that a close check can be kept on each student's record. An investigation will be conducted two or three times during the quarter. The professors will be visited and every girl's standing reported to the active chapter. Utah Λ has resolved to make this a banner year in scholarship.

The chapter is very happy to welcome as house chaperon, Mrs. McCann of Ogden. All are looking forward to a pleasant and profitable year with her.

Edited by Katherine Robinson

This year will see the completion of a new $150,000 library at Randolph-Macon Woman's College. It will provide stack room for 100,000 volumes and will be modern throughout equipped with all conveniences necessary for a working laboratory.

College homecoming and all that goes with it was started originally on the campus of the University of Illinois in 1909.

Boston University has the reputation of being the mother of college presidents. A recent survey shows forty-five former students serving in that capacity.

THE OLDEST FRATERNITY PIN

What is believed to be the oldest fraternity pin in America was recently plowed up in Chester County, Pennsylvania, where Washington maneuvered Howe and where Lafayette was wounded, says Banta's Greek Exchange. The pin is a Phi Beta Kappa key. On one side is the name John Graham, and the year of the founding of the fraternity, 1776. The pin was presented by William and Mary College, Virginia, where records show that John Graham attended, was graduated, and left to join the Revolution. Since he disappeared about eight months later, the finding of the pin suggests that he was killed in battle where the pin was found.

THE GIFT OF THE INITIATE TO SORORITY

An initiate is one who is making a beginning. Some of us as initiates are making a beginning in Theta Sigma Upsilon. We have been made acquainted with the principles of our sorority, and from now on are to be integral parts of it, parts that are to fit in with those who have been members so that all will form one design or pattern with each member an essential bit of the compact whole.

In order to help develop the ever-growing design of Theta Sigma Upsilon, the initiate must bring with her something worth while—she must bring a gift to the sorority. There are many things that an initiate can give, but there are certain characteristics, certain attitudes that are requisite to her taking her place in the design.

The first letter of the word initiate can well be used to designate some of these gifts, and they are so self-explanatory that just suggesting them is sufficient to bring to our attention their application as the initiate's gift to her sorority:

Individuality—Be ourselves, to help the sorority grow in scope and power.

Initiative—To use our individuality to help the chapter to be an active force.

Industry—In doing our work for the sorority and in the class room.

Independence—Against criticism to live up to these ideals for the good of the group and of the sorority.

INITIATION

Clear shaft of candle fire and robes of light,

With Serious beauty of each quiet face

Of those beloved . . . here in this solemn place

Of many vows, Oh, trembling neophyte

Of other years, how did you learn to bear

This shattering beauty unalloyed, and how

Here breathes the fragrance of a vanished flower,

The unlivid magic of a strange old dream,

Recaptured in the confines of this hour

Of deeply known communion. It would seem

That never abode such joy, such depthless peace,

Since Hera smiled above green fields in Greece.

By JAMES ALLEN

As you think, you travel; and as you love, you attract. You are to-day where your thoughts have brought you; you will be to-morrow where your thoughts take you. You can not escape the result of your thoughts, but you can endure and learn, can accept and be glad. You will realize the vision (not the idle wish) of your heart, be it base or beautiful, or a mixture of both, for you will always gravitate toward that which you, secretly, must love. Into your hands will be placed the exact results of your thoughts; you will receive that which you earn; and no more, no less. Whatever your present environment may be, you will fall, remain, or rise with your thoughts, your vision, your ideal. You will become as small as your controlling desire; as great as your dominant aspiration.

A WORD ABOUT CHAPTER MEETINGS

If there is even a slight factional feeling in the chapter, if members sometimes handle their sorority obligations in a dilatory manner, if the more peaceable members of the chapter are anxious to be excused from the weekly conclave, look to the chapter meeting and make a new resolution to keep it sacred to its functions.

It is ritualistic observance which we know better than any other, therefore it should grow increasingly meaningful and be genuinely missed when college days have gone. Yet frequently the weekly conclave is used as an opportunity for airing prejudices and settling wordy disputes.

The power to keep the chapter members looking forward and working together lies with the chapter president. A conscientious president, who sees the result of harmonious meetings, will do her best to forbid contention. Differences of opinion, let her remember, are necessary to progress, but she is bound by her official position to see that no quarrelsome note ever disturbs the spirit of the meeting.

Unwavering adherence to parliamentary procedure, punctuality, absolute secrecy, and observance of good business methods are necessary if chapter meetings are to be profitable. The value of an occasional program, and of Phi Mu songs, cannot be over emphasized.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR SORORITY OFFICERS

That many factors should be considered in choosing national officers for a sorority was graphically brought out in the answers to a question concerning qualifications which was included in the 1928-29 sorority examination.

This decidedly inclusive list forms an exacting questionnaire which each Sigma Kappa might use to check herself by standards set up by college members for an ideal sorority member as well as sorority national officer.

Factors enumerated by college members have been classified by the examination committee in this way:

I. Personal

A. Personality with the following characteristics: Sincerity of purpose, Loyalty, Fairness, Intelligence, Tact, Ambition, Possessing high ideals, Patient, Sympathetic, Democratic, Will to work, Enthusiasm, Youthful spirit, Dignity (but not enough to interfere with enthusiasm), Common sense, Initiative, Perseverance, Whole hearted desire to serve others.

B. Force and strength of character.

C. Appearance: Attractiveness, Neatness, Dignity, Age (Younger rather than older, with perhaps a mixture among officers.)

D. Physical strength.

E. Wide interest in life and people.

F. High scholarship while in college.

II. Social

Ability to mix well, Sportsmanship, Moral uprightness, Graciousness, Diplomacy, Poise.

III. Executive

Integrity, Efficiency, Ability to organize, Sound judgement, Far sightedness, Precision of thought, Professional or technical knowledge called for in her position, Ability to give constructive criticism to active and alumnae chapters.

THE IDEAL ALUMNÆ

Is organized as well as the college chapter. Has definite committees with definite work assigned. Each committee reports at each meeting.

Has a definite program of raising money, and a fixed budget for the year's expenses.

Is interested in the nearest college chapter's scholarship and student activities, and offers prizes for proficiency in each.

Devotes part of each meeting to study topics, so that each member will be well informed on all phases of sorority work.

Publishes a news-letter at a cost-price for its out-of-town members.

Entertains the pledges, the seniors, and if possible the entire college chapter, at least once each year.

Supports the national philanthropic and scholarship funds.

Does its share in Panhellenic work, and has a report from the Panhellenic delegate at each meeting.

Welcomes out-of-town alumnae at any of its meetings.

Makes a strenuous effort to locate every member of the sorority living in the community and extends each one an invitation to join, and has someone call for the new member to take her to the first meetings so that she will not stay away through shyness.

THE SYMPHONY OF ALPHA XI DELTA

A clear vision of life, that with gra-acious and kindly hearts we may share both joy and sorrow, and bring into living reality the sisterhood of all women:

An appreciation of real merit and worth; steadfastness of soul, that without bitterness or defeat we may encounter misfortune and with humility meet success:

These things, O Lord, help us to instill within our hearts, that we may grow in courage and graciousness and peace.

One of the outstanding events at the convention of National Federation of Professional and Business Women's Clubs at Mackinac Island was the pageant of famous women of the United States. The purpose of the pageant was to suggest the changing standards of education and convention among women, and the development of a high appreciation of the mental and spiritual qualities of womanhood.

The first group presented in the pageant consisted of the famous women during the early struggle for freedom. This included Grenadier Squaw, Shawnee Indian and chief of her tribe, who was the first business woman in the United States; Betsy Ross, the designer of the American flag; Sakakawea, the Bird Woman, who acted as guide for the Lewis and Clark expedition; and Ann Warner Bailey, a heroine of the Revolutionary War who performed some outstanding deeds at the time of the massacre of American soldiers at Fort Griswold, Groton, Connecticut.

The second group consisted of women who were famous for their work during the Reconstruction Period. This included Bonnie Kate Sevier, wife of the first governor of Tennessee; Mary Lyon, pioneer in education; Susan Blow, the first woman to establish a public kindergarten in the United States; Alice Robertson, missionary and pioneer in education, and many others.

The third group presented in the pageant were women famous in arts and literature.

New York City Panhellenic Scholarship Award

THE New York City Panhellenic is announcing an annual Scholarship Award of $500 beginning in the fall of 1930. The recipient of this Scholarship Award will be chosen from the membership of the National Panhellenic Congress fraternities. No applications are to be sent direct to the New York City Panhellenic, as each Congress fraternity has been asked to cooperate in selecting applicants. The name of only one applicant will be submitted by each fraternity, and the selection of that applicant will be made by the fraternity itself.

The specific requirements to be met by candidates are:

1. The applicant shall be a college senior or graduate on March 1, 1930, and shall be a member of a National Panhellenic Congress fraternity.

2. The recipient shall agree to spend the college year of 1930-31 in study in New York City, pursuing a course leading toward a higher degree.

If you are interested in applying for this Scholarship Award, please submit the following information:

1. Letter giving your home address and present address, your age, year of graduation from preparatory school and name of that school, year, course, and major in college, and transcript of your college record. If a graduate, include, in addition, statement of work or study since graduation and present occupation.

2. Statement of graduate work you wish to pursue in New York City and letters from two of your college professors concerning your qualifications for such work. Also letters from two alumnae who know you well.

3. Recent photograph.

The name of the successful applicant will be announced March 1, 1930, and the Scholarship Award will be available for use in the fall of 1930.

The closing date for applications is February 15, 1930.

Send all communications concerning this Scholarship Award to Margaretta Fenn, Assistant to the Grand President, 813 Hinman Ave., Evanston, Illinois.
