LIBBIE BROOK-GADDIS

Margaret Elizabeth Brook-Gaddis
Founder
December 24, 1933

QUIETLY, peacefully, without suffering or warning, a beloved Founder of  $\Pi B \Phi$ , Margaret Elizabeth Brook-Gaddis, passed away as darkness was falling Christmas Eve. Since it must come to all, it was a beautiful time for death to come to her for she was of a deeply spiritual nature and He whose birth was about to be commemorated was very dear to her. One feels that it was much as she would have wished. A quiet, beautiful ending to a quiet, beautiful life, yet how far the loveliness of that life has extended, and how many other lives have been just a little different because of hers!

Margaret Elizabeth Brook-Gaddis was born on March 7, 1850, on a farm near Olena, Illinois. Her parents were Isaiah John Brook, who went to Illinois one hundred years ago from Zanesville, Ohio, and Jane Thompson Marshall-Brook, who went from Winsborough, South Carolina, to Henderson County, Illinois, about the same time. She attended a country school near her home, then Monmouth College Academy and later Monmouth College. It was in the room of Libbie Brook and Ada Bruen that I. C. Sorosis, later to become  $\Pi B \Phi$ , was founded.

Although the youngest of the twelve founders, Libbie Brook possessed something of the spirit of her pioneer parents and in her junior year set out to do some pioneering of her own. She left Monmouth College and entered Iowa Wesleyan College at Mt. Pleasant that she might establish a chapter there. The number of members had been limited to twelve and many times in her later years Mrs. Gaddis has expressed regret because several very desirable girls had to be omitted.

The next year found her again at Monmouth College from which she was graduated with honors with the class of 1870. After her graduation Libbie Brook returned to her farm home and taught a neighboring country school. Later she taught in California and in Kansas.

On February 24, 1880 a friendship which had begun in childhood culminated in her marriage to John Hardin Gaddis. For years their lives were those of the middle-west farm, but although her duties were exacting Mrs. Gaddis never lost sight of the finer things of life.

She was the mother of three children, Charles Brook Gaddis of Avon, Mrs. Annie Lourie Gaddis-Anderson of Denver who became a member of  $\Pi B \Phi$  at Illinois  $\Delta$  and Jessie Maria Gaddis, also Illinois  $\Delta$ , who has been her mother's faithful companion.

In 1929, Mrs. Gaddis was very happy to witness, with Mrs. Anderson, the initiation of her granddaughter, Margaret Elizabeth Anderson, into Colorado A Chapter of  $\Pi B \Phi$ . She was also very fond of her three fine grandsons, John, Martin, and Charles Anderson.

A few years ago the Pi Phis of Avon and neighboring towns organized the Libbie Brook Gaddis Alumnae Club and after Mrs. Gaddis became unable to attend meetings elsewhere, several very pleasant ones were held in her home. Mrs. Gaddis attended many Conventions, where she endeared herself and was an inspiration to younger fraternity members. The last one she attended was that held at Pasadena, California, in 1929.

Mrs. Gaddis suffered a paralytic stroke a little over two years ago and since that time had been confined to her home, going about the house in a wheel chair, but to the end she kept her keen interest in affairs of national importance, and particularly in  $\Pi B \Phi$ .

On December 27, a brief service was held at the Gaddis home in Avon, Illinois, from which the funeral party proceeded to the Presbyterian Church in Prairie City, Illinois, where Mrs. Gaddis had been a faithful member for over fifty years. In the lines through which the lovely grey casket passed, followed by the family, were the Grand President, Amy B. Onken, and Pi Phis from Peoria, Bushnell, Prairie City, and Avon. As the procession neared the flower covered altar, Mrs. Carrie Chain of Bushnell sang "Speed Thee My Arrow," which was followed by the  $\Pi B \Phi$  Anthem, played by Miss Edith Crissey of Avon.

The service was lovely in its simplicity and was in charge of her pastor, the Rev. Edward J. Sabin. The sermon was delivered, as Mrs. Gaddis had wished, by the Rev. John U. Brush, her nephew.

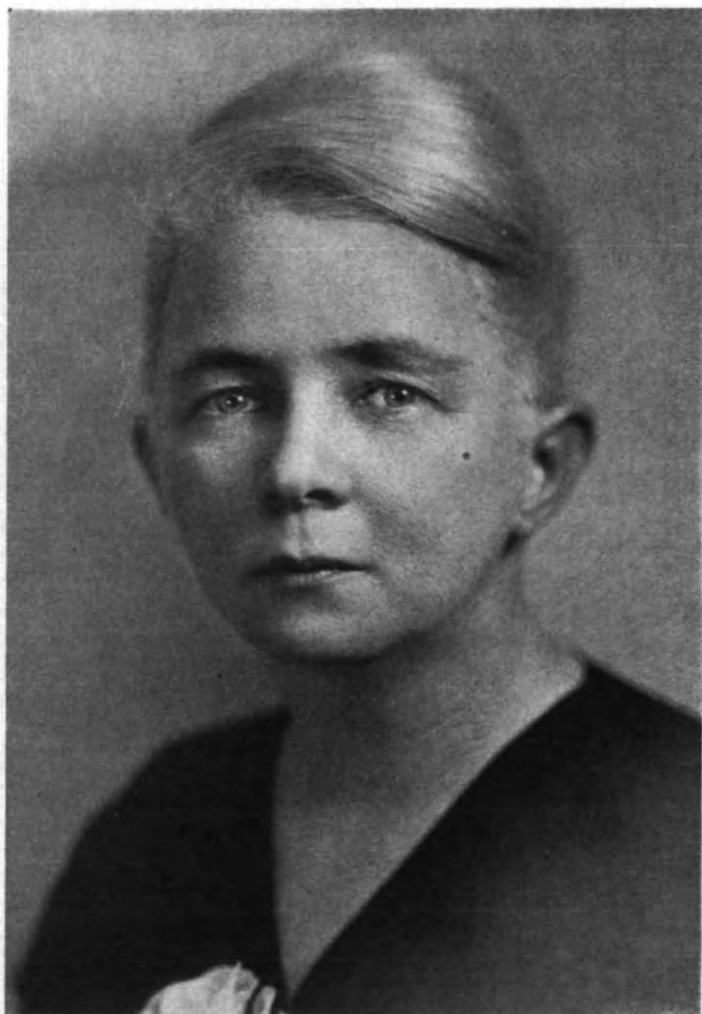

Interment was in the Avon Mausoleum beside her husband who passed away in February, 1923.

Through the ARROW we wish to express to our sisters in Pi Beta Phi sincere thanks for the lovely Christmas cards and greetings received by Libbie Brook-Gaddis and for the many loving expressions of sympathy and beautiful flowers received at the time of her "going home."

A NEW EDITOR

THE ARROW, being the journal of Pi Beta Phi, is something more than simply a magazine. More important, by far, than the presentation of the Pi Beta Phi and Panhellenic news of the day, is the necessity for a certain emanation of the tradition and idealism of our Fraternity, and the explanation and promotion of the projects which we foster, and the standards which we strive to maintain in the fraternity world, and in our daily living.

It will be a source of interest and pleasure to the members of Pi Beta Phi to learn that Adele Taylor Alford (Mrs. T. N.) has been appointed ARROW editor. Mrs. Alford is a fraternity woman of wide experience and acquaintance, possessing a rare and charming personality, and an interest in, and knowledge of the fraternity which makes her particularly well suited to the appointment.

Adele Taylor Alford received her early education in Washington, D.C., and later received her A.B. degree from George Washington University, where she was a member of D.C. A. She taught in the Business High School in Washington until her marriage to Commander Thalbert Nelson Alford in 1911. As the wife of a naval officer she moved about considerably on both coasts, until the death of her husband in 1928. Since then she has made her home in Coronado, California. She has served as president of the Washington Alumnae Club two different times—the last time during the Washington conference; two terms as president of the San Diego Alumnae Club, and as president of Mu Province for the past four years. She attended the last two conventions.

Mrs. Alford brings to the office of ARROW editor valuable fraternity training and background, a heartfelt interest in the work, and the will to serve. We can be sure that under her guidance the ARROW will fulfill its mission—the embodiment of the spirit of Pi Beta Phi.

Convention — Yellowstone Park

IN YELLOWSTONE PARK,  $\Pi B \Phi$  will hold its Thirty-first Biennial Convention, June 24 to June 30, inclusive. Old Faithful geyser, erupting each hour in the "front yard" of convention headquarters, will measure the treasured week, when America's wonderful park will "belong" to  $\Pi B \Phi$ . For all practical purposes, the Old Faithful community, consisting of The Inn, The Lodge, The Camp, Hamilton Stores, The Swimming Pool, The Museum, and The Open-Air Theatre, will be "Pi Beta Phi Town." Even the motor busses will be marked with  $\Pi B \Phi$  pennants. The Rangers who guide and the cowboys who handle the riding horses, will be polished up and decorated suitably for the occasion.

ALONG THE ROAD IN YELLOWSTONE

Convention sessions will be held at The Hall, Old Faithful Lodge—a great rustic room where faint voices, as well as the strong ones, can be heard clearly, thanks to acoustics—capricious and invaluable asset of public meeting places.

ACCOMMODATIONS

The Inn

Convention guests will be housed in Old Faithful Inn, Old Faithful Lodge and Old Faithful Camp—having such a variety of accommodations that every taste and every purse can be content. The three institutions are close neighbors—all adjoining the "front yard" where Old Faithful geyser thrillingly hurls its tower of boiling water high above the forest. The Inn is the most "glorified," log cabin in the West—architecturally a gem. Its guest rooms and meals are those of the highest class resorts. Pi Beta Phi will have the newest and best rooms at this hotel. Not all of the hotel rooms have baths but all have convenient bath service. The great new wing of Old Faithful Inn will be "taken over" Convention week by  $\Pi B \Phi$ . Between The Inn and The Lodge, free auto-bus shuttle service will be operated for those preferring not to walk a couple of blocks.

The Lodge

Old Faithful Lodge, where convention sessions will be held has a magnificent rustic main lodge, a huge log dining room and a Recreation Hall. Many, many rustic log and clapboard bungalows or lodges surround the main Lodge. People who seek a change from ordinary city hotels, or even from resort hotels, enjoy the Yellowstone Lodges. After all, one may stay in hotels everywhere, but the adventure of a Yellowstone Lodge is something to remember. A typical Lodge has a double bed, or twin beds, two chairs, a wash-stand with bowl and pitcher, a baggage stand, and a friendly stove (needed every morning). Each Lodge has two large windows. In each group of guest lodges, there is a large cabin with modern toilets and running hot and cold water. In the Main Lodge, there are baths, a beauty shop and other conveniences. The workers around the Lodges are called "Savages"—they are college boys and girls who sing as they work. No frills or luxuries about living at Yellowstone Lodges, but fun no end.

The Camp

Old Faithful Camp is for motor tourists. If you call Old Faithful Inn "Grade A," Old Faithful Lodge would be "Grade B" and Old Faithful Camp "Grade C." The Camp has cabins, rustic style, for autoists who bring their own blankets and bedding—these are very inexpensive, two people can have such a cabin for only $1.25 per day and do their own housekeeping and cooking if they wish. Or, the Camp has cabins with all furnishings and maid service, very moderately priced. If a woodchuck digs a home beneath your cabin, or Mrs. Hold-up Bear and her twin cubs—wanting to know you better—wake you by sniffing at your door of mornings—all the more exciting! Yellowstone does have its thrills. Old Faithful Camp has an excellent cafeteria, where 25c will buy a meal or 75c a banquet. Motor tourists may elect to stay at any of the Old Faithful units from The Camp to the Lodge or The Inn. Take your choice. Train travelers may do likewise—The Inn, The Lodge, The Camp—choose one. Pi Beta Phi will rule them all Convention Week.

MOTOR TO CONVENTION

There are excellent highways to all entrances of Yellowstone Park. Information can be secured through your local American Automobile Association. There is a charge of $3 for each car license in Yellowstone Park. The roads in Yellowstone are like boulevards.

CONVENTION CLOTHING

Clothing for our Yellowstone Park Convention should be of the simplest summer and sports wear. The only formal function will be the banquet. If you are interested in swimming bring your swimming suit; in riding horseback, bring your riding suit and riding boots. A pair of walking shoes or oxfords should be included, for you will be walking on the geyser formation, and this formation is not kind to good shoes.

The evenings are always cool, so bring a heavy sweater or wrap.

Do not think it is necessary to bring new clothes, Yellowstone is a delightful place to wear your last season's wardrobe. This is not a style show, but Convention where you will experience the joy of fellowship with the girls and women who truly are Pi Beta Phi.

HOTEL ROOM RESERVATIONS

All Hotel and Lodge Reservations as well as transportation reservations are to be made through the convention guide, Bess Randall Erskine.

Make your reservations as early as possible. Fill out the reservation blank and send to the following address: Mrs. Clyde Erskine, Convention Headquarters for Reservations, Northern Pacific Railway, St. Paul, Minnesota.

Reservations will be taken care of in the order received. State with whom you wish to room. If, after you have made reservations, you find yourself unable to come, please notify the Convention Guide.

REGISTRATION FEE

A registration fee of $5 will be charged every person attending Convention, or taking advantage of Convention rates. This will cover as usual a subscription to the Convention Daily, tipping, etc. The banquet is included in lodge and hotel rates.

ATTENDANCE CUP

Pi Beta Phi offers a silver attendance cup upon the following basis:

Mileage .....	50%
Proportion of actives present to entire active membership .....	25%
Proportion of total chapter members present to total chapter membership	25%

CHAPTER EXHIBITS

Splendid spirit was manifested at the last Convention through the excellent chapter displays or exhibits. An award is made upon the following points—representation of chapter (social, athletic, dramatic, musical, and other activities to be included); representation of university or college; artistic effect.

RECREATION

One of Yellowstone Park's great attractions is the opportunity it presents for outdoor sport and recreation of various kinds.

Those who love the water no doubt will want to spend their leisure time in the beautiful new swimming pool. Bring along your bathing suit, cap, and sandals. There is also a delightful solarium in connection with the pool, where beach pajamas will be the vogue.

The woods about the hotels afford delightful hikes, the thrill of seeing wild game. The beautiful wild flowers, hot pools, and geysers are of unusual interest to the lover of nature. Old Faithful Geyser playing every 63 minutes never ceases to thrill and fascinate, and at night a huge light is thrown from the roof of Old Faithful Inn on the geyser, bringing out hidden colors and mysteries. Perhaps you may be fortunate enough to see the Castle, the Lion and Lioness play. Practically all the geysers are at Old Faithful.

For those fond of picnicking the Inn and Lodge will provide box lunches and there are many delightful picnic spots accessible by riding horseback, or hiking. There are many excellent saddle horses, and experienced cowboy guides. Any Pi Phi who is interested, actively or as an onlooker in any form of outdoor summer life, may be assured that her spare moments will be filled, during her stay at Old Faithful.

STUNTS FOR STUNT NIGHT

Are you working upon a stunt for stunt night? This is always one of the most entertaining evenings of Convention as it gives the chapters an opportunity to display their originality. Talk to those who have attended other conventions, get their ideas, then add your ideas to them.

WELCOME TO YELLOWSTONE PARK

H. B. BROWN

TO THE PI BETA PHI FRATERNITY:

THE Yellowstone Park Hotel Company deem it an honor and a privilege to entertain your Fraternity in 1934 and appreciate the confidence placed in us by selecting this great park for your convention.

The natural beauties and phenomena of the park greatly appeal to every one. The geysers, the hot springs, the pools, the falls, the rivers, the lakes and the thousands of acres of forest are alone well worth the trip to Yellowstone and in combining your Convention with a trip of this kind, we feel that it should be a convention long to be remembered.

This company stands ready to make your 1934 Convention an outstanding one in every respect and every facility will be at your service and you are assured of a hearty welcome.

Very sincerely yours,
H. B. BROWN, Superintendent

GREETINGS FROM THE CONVENTION GUIDE

WE OF THE WEST want you to know how keenly we shall welcome Π Β Φ to Yellowstone!

We have longed for Π Β Φ to accept the cordial invitation extended to them several years ago by Mr. Horace Albright then Superintendent of Yellowstone and later Director of National Parks. This was the first invitation ever given to a Greek letter organization, and Pi Beta Phi's acceptance honors the greatest of National Parks.

Old Faithful Inn and Old Faithful Lodge—two of the greatest Log Hostleries in existence will be ours—and after those all too short happy days—the rest of YELLOWSTONE—and the WEST—with all their beauty, adventure, and romance, beckon you.

You will be welcomed with true western hospitality. We want every member of Π Β Φ to come, work, laugh, and play with us in this land of mystery. Our deep desire is to be of service. We want you to have the most enjoyable of experiences, and, if you deposit them in the happy bank of memories for future enjoyment—our dream will be fulfilled.

Please realize no chapters of Π Β Φ ever more eagerly anticipated the delights of being hostess than we do, and you will come, won't you?

A Post-Convention Opportunity

WHY make a trip to and through Glacier Park after a convention in Yellowstone? What experiences can one enjoy in Glacier Park that will not have been enjoyed in Yellowstone? This leads back to the time worn query—"Which is the greatest of our national parks?" The answer to this is that all of the parks are different. Each area was set aside under the protection of the Federal Government because its boundaries enclosed some rare natural phenomena or highly individualistic beauty. Each of the great national playground areas is capable of standing on its own merit without benefit of comparison.

A helpful picture for those about to penetrate Glacier Park's mysteries has been given by Robert Sterling Yard, who says that "As a national park Glacier is comparatively new but geologically is a very old region." Thus he continues: "One or a score million years from now the Canadian Rockies may come to resemble Glacier as it looks today, for both are parts of one vast identical earth surface movement. But Glacier, enormously the older, geologically, cuts downward through the strata into the earlier more highly colored, and more readily carvable rock strata than the Canadian Rockies. It is, let us put it, the more nearly finished product of an identical cause, possessing a wealth of color, carving and decoration peculiar to itself, and in addition it has warmth, an intimate friendliness and the exuberance of life."

It is a mistake to think of this friendly country as simply a section of Rocky Mountains, cut off arbitrarily and set apart by edict of government. It has been set apart because it is an amazing, twisted, confused, labyrinth of colorful rocks that rise suddenly above the plain. It has been described as a bit of the Swiss Alps done in colors of the Grand Canyon. Within its 1,534 square miles of northwestern Montana, there are two rugged paralleled ranges of mountains piled in picturesque disorder, their finest details sculptured with the infinitely slow-cutting tools of glacier, torrent and wind. It is a sublime wilderness of glistening glaciers, turquoise lakes, charming waterfalls, foaming streams, dark forests, magnificent wild flower gardens and wealth of large and small animal life.

The region is an unspoiled wilderness and yet, within its confines, in perfect harmony with the beauty wrought by nature, there are modern hotels and chalets which serve not only as centers from which numerous sections of the park may be explored, but as focal points for an attractive social life. These stopping places are linked by motor highways, launch routes on the lakes, and easy trails over mountain passes.

For delegates to the  $\Pi B \Phi$  Convention, and their friends, a post convention tour to and through Glacier Park has been arranged on an itinerary that is perfect because it will permit members of this fraternity, traveling as a group, to see practically all of Glacier Park in the short space of three days at an extremely low all-expense cost per person. The party will arrive at Glacier Park Hotel for luncheon, July 3. That afternoon busses will be boarded for the 55-mile ride to Many-Glacier Hotel. Many-Glacier is the largest hotel in Glacier Park, with accommodations for five hundred guests. It is situated on Swiftcurrent, one of a chain of charming mountain lakes at the head of the Swiftcurrent Valley. These lakes are surrounded by the massive and impenetrable appearing walls and peaks of the Continental Divide.

The  $\Pi \Phi$  party will remain at Many-Glacier until the afternoon of Wednesday, July 4, giving members of the group who desire to do so an opportunity to make side trips by boat, afoot or in the saddle. There are many places to go, of course—Iceberg Lake, Grinnel Lake and Glacier, Cracker Lake, Ptarmigan Lake and Wall are easy one-day trips.

After luncheon on Wednesday, the party will proceed by bus to St. Mary Lake where the trim launch St. Mary will be boarded for Going-to-the-Sun. This 9-mile ride up a lake which is hemmed in on three sides by some of the noblest peaks of the region, is a thriller; here there is an intimacy with the mountains—Red Eagle, Little Chief, Citadel, Almost-a-Dog, Fusilade, Reynolds, Goat, Whitefish, Singleshot, and Going-to-the-Sun—experienced nowhere else. The night and half the next day will be spent at Going-to-the-Sun Chalets. This chalet group is picturesquely situated on a promontory at the base of Goat Mountain. The location commands views over the water, up and down the lake, which many competent judges have acclaimed the finest vistas in the world. On the third and last day in Glacier Park, the tour will be climaxed with a motor ride over the Going-to-the-Sun Highway to Lake McDonald Hotel and Belton, the western entrance of the Park via Logan Pass. The story of the building of the Going-to-the-Sun Highway is a romance of engineering. The road was completed in 1933 at a total cost of $2,250,000.

The route on the east and west sides of the Park skirts the shores of the Park's largest and most beautiful lakes—St. Mary and McDonald. It follows stream beds flanked by virgin forests and eventually climbs up and over the Continental Divide through Logan Pass. The vistas from every turn, but particularly from the Garden Wall section in the road, are most impressive, because the road hugs sheer walls and cliffs thousands of feet high. The Garden Wall section of the road is without a doubt the most spectacular 12 miles of highway in America, if not in the world.

After luncheon at rustic Lake McDonald Hotel, the party will proceed 10 miles further along the shores of Lake McDonald by motor to Belton, where the train journey east or west is resumed.

THE CODY STAMPEDE

PI BETA PHI will have the exceptional opportunity of attending one of the outstanding rodeos of America at the time of their Yellowstone convention next summer.

It will not be a commercial show, but the real thing—a community enterprise, in which the local folks work for months with no thought of profit—just for the good of the west, and with all the sincerity for a good cause that citizens of Oberammergau throw into their Passion Play.

The Cody Stampede, with Montana-Wyoming cowboys reenacting their sports, their every day work, is as thrilling and genuine a pageant of the real American West as can be found. Thrilling is right—calf roping in 20 seconds, buckaroos tossed high by wild horses, steer-bulldogging, and riding broncs by the most daring of cowboys.

The Rodeo draws ranchers, dudes, and village folk from many miles away. The Indians come in from nearby reservations and pitch their tepees. Crows, Nez Perce, Cheyennes, Sioux and Blackfeet. They ride cayuses, race contest in games and dances.

The bright colors of the buckskin Indian costumes are outshone by the gay-shirted cowboys and glamorous dudes and dudettes from the ranches round about. A Rodeo is an incomparably colorful spectacle.

July 2 will be II B  $\Phi$  Day at the great Cody Stampede, and a special reserved section has been set aside for us.

Vacation on a Dude Ranch

AFTER Convention! You are now in the Golden West, and no doubt you will want to spend a few weeks on a real Dude Ranch. Some of the very best ones are located within an hour of the Gardiner entrance where the  $\Pi B \Phi$  Special arrives.

You can experience there the glamorous life of the Cow-Boy with his brilliant smile, and easy laugh. He will take you for glorious rides, teach you to sit the saddle with charming grace, encourage you to wear a "Ten Gallon" hat, a red bandana kerchief, bright colored shirt, boots, spurs, n'everything . . . in short, make a real Cow-Girl of you. He will spin yarns for you of the old west, the romance of the early days, the traditions of the past or any subject you desire. He will hold you spell bound, he is not schooled in orating, but he has lived this life, and sincerity and genuineness are his charm.

You will get the spirit of the pioneer, your blood will tingle with adventure as you go exploring wooded mountain sides, ride the cattle range, or round up a band of wild horses. You may prefer awe inspiring trails fringed with millions of wild flowers, and their perfume—the tang of pine and sage. Lunching in some enchanting spot with a tumbling brook at your feet, you will afterward climb up and up, to the magnificent peaks where a gorgeous panorama will spread before you. You will return at eventide to the ranch, for a nice hot bath and splendid wholesome food, later to sit on the porch and watch a gorgeous sunset over the mountains and listen to the tinkling bells as the "Wranglers" take the horses out to pasture. You feel the soft, sweet, cool air fan your cheeks . . . this is living! Perhaps you will dance with your Cow-Boy guide and other guests until your sleepy eyes bid you to slumber, or perhaps you will join the singers at the piano in the rollicking Cow-Boy songs . . . then too you may delight in playing games on the lawn, or some of the indoor ones.

Each morning finds new things to do, and new places to go. Fishing, kodaking, picnicking in some scenic spot or historical place, swimming, games on horseback, or just riding through cool forests of stately pines, keeping alert for a sight of deer, elk, moose or coyote, drinking in the pure health giving air, absorbing that sparkle and pep you long for.

RIDING IN THE ROCKIES

This new and unique kind of vacation is for all ages, and bring your husband, and children. What a thrill they all get out of it; the cost is very reasonable; the joy great! We all know the value of vacations, new faces, and new places to re-charge our mental and physical batteries, but the variety of our outdoor experiences, the broadening of our adventures does not come to those who remain year after year in the same vacation rut. Any one who wants a treasure of new and different thrills, must definitely decide to seek them out.

At a Dude Ranch you will find for yourselves and your families a version of outdoor sports which is utterly unlike most of your previous vacations. You might like to take a pack trip into the back country, over awe inspiring trails of unsurpassed beauty, along tumbling, sparkling mountain streams, whose swirling waters are sheltering the fighting speckled native trout. You will photograph the twisted trees at timberline, and the strings of fish, pausing momentarily on their way to the frying pan, and at night sit around the blazing camp-fire and watch the stars, seemingly so near.

And, of course, you will want to see a Rodeo. There is always one near the ranches, always extending through the Fourth of July. No doubt you have attended Rodeos in the east, but the real thrill is to see the Cow-Boys do their stunts in the natural setting, with the Rocky Mountains in the background smiling approval on their daring feats. The Indians parading the streets and doing their tribal dances, or adopting someone into the tribe, a signal honor, and a striking ceremony. Cow-Girls riding the sky-rocketing bronchos—trick and bareback riding—along with the Cow-Boys. Wild Horse races—fancy roping—all this for your vacation.

Nothing really equals the glamorous "Dude Ranch Vacation." For further information, write to me. BESS RANDALL ERSKINE, Convention Guide.

Learning to Be a Doctor

By JEAN MCALISTER, Pi Beta Phi Fellow, 1932-1933

WHAT to write about the life of a senior medical student is something of a problem. In a way it is a confining existence and hardly interesting to others.

At the University of Pennsylvania the class is divided into three groups, one group at one time on medicine, another on Surgery, and another on Gynecology and Obstetrics. We get our practical work in these subjects at the University Hospital, the Philadelphia General Hospital, Children's Hospital, Episcopal Hospital, and the Pennsylvania Hospital. This means much coming and going. Fortunately we are not doing work at all of these during the same periods. It is through this that we gain our first real knowledge of hospital life and it is the responsibility of the senior students here to take the histories of the patients, a most important part of the study of the patient. We also make other studies of the patients but this does not become a part of the record. We watch operations and are sometimes allowed to assist. We learn to give anesthesia and gain some experience in laboratory work.

One of the unique, frightening, and memorable parts of the year's work was two weeks spent in the slums, where we were on call for our practical work in obstetrics. The patients all studied from month to month in a clinic and the students are called for the deliveries. We went from one end of the city to the other, at any hour of the day or night, into unspeakable looking places at times, well protected, however, by the sign upon our cars, indicating the type of work upon which we were engaged. We were inexperienced and some of the things that happened to us were very funny. At an Italian's house to which I was called the husband wept and begged me to call a "doctor" and I did. More pathetic than funny was the arrival of twins in another family, making five children for a twenty-two year old girl and her telegraph messenger boy husband to care for.

During the senior year at Medical School one of the important things upon one's horizon is where the next year or two will be spent as interne. Everyone breathes a great sigh of relief when this question is settled. A number of us have now finished six months here at the University Hospital and it has been a great experience. At present I am on Pediatrics and for a month had most of the responsibility of the nursery. We don't have many babies weighing under three pounds but occasionally we do and then there is great excitement. What we do is to put them in stuffed jackets with hoods, into an incubator, and then disturb them no more than necessary. Some of them have to be fed for a month or two with pipettes but even the smallest one seems to know when the hour for dining has arrived. The greediest ones raise a howl earlier but for about fifteen minutes before mealtime the entire thirty turn loose and it's bedlam.

So far I have been on Private Medicine, Neurology, and Pediatrics. During the remainder of this year I will have Obstetrics, Gynecology, and Laboratory and next year most of the time will be devoted to Medicine and Surgery. In this way we receive a well rounded basic training and after this may specialize along any line. It is here in the hospital that we come in close contact with men of experience and it is my desire to learn everything possible from them while retaining an open mind for anything new in the future.

Medicine is hard work but it is fascinating and will richly repay anyone who loves it.

The National Panhellenic Congress

By AMY BURNHAM ONKEN, National Panhellenic Delegate

TO ASSUME, just previous to any convention, the responsibility of presiding over its sessions is a difficult thing; National Panhellenic Congress is indebted to Mrs. Clifford Rader, Grand President of Phi Mu, for her service to it when, because of the serious illness of Mrs. John Prince, Phi Mu's representative and the chairman of N.P.C., she acted as the presiding officer of the Congress held at the Palmer House in Chicago, October 12, 13, and 14, 1933. Mrs. Rader expressed her ideal for the Congress when she urged that delegates "approach their duties with an 'all-Greek' understanding, in a spirit of mutual helpfulness, and with the idea of discovering new fields of interest and service for cooperative endeavors."

National Panhellenic Congress admitted to full membership Beta Sigma Omicron and Phi Omega Pi, thus increasing the membership list to twenty-three and leaving the Congress with no associate members. Resolutions adopted by N.P.C. include the following:

That N.P.C. fraternities interest their chapters in the preceptor-tutorial system.

That it recommend to college Panhellenics a reduction in rushing costs.

That N.P.C. fraternities cooperate to control the tendency towards competitive building programs.

That a definite cooperation with deans of women and university presidents be sought.

That a program be worked out for dignified publicity which will set forth the definite objectives and accomplishments of N.P.C. fraternities along the lines of scholarship encouragement and attainment; local and national altruistic work; and cultural accomplishments on campuses and in civic communities.

That in the case of an appeal from a penalizing decision of a college Panhellenic, a three-fourths vote of the national presidents of the N.P.C. fraternities represented on the campus concerned shall be necessary for a reversal of the local decision.

Each chapter and officer of the fraternity will receive a copy of the condensed minutes of the Congress, so no more detailed report is given here.

Pi Beta Phi was represented at the Congress by Lois Franklin Stoolman, Grand Treasurer; Mary Katharine Lutz, Editor; and its N.P.C. delegate. It was a very real pleasure for these officers to meet the Chicago and suburban Pi Phis who had a part in making the social side of the Congress a success and to know the active chapter members who served their Panhellenics as delegates to the session for College Panhellenics. These delegates—Janet Johnson of Oregon State College, Betty Harper of the University of Washington, Florence Parrish of the University of South Dakota, Kathryn Stephenson of the University of Arizona, Jane Flumerfelt of Bucknell University, and Corabelle Corbin of Oklahoma State College—and Ruth Nicholas Sutton, Eta Province Vice-President, attended the banquet, which was a joint one given by the Interfraternity Conference and the National Panhellenic Congress. Other social events of the Congress were a tea given by the Chicago Panhellenic and a luncheon given by the Oak Park Panhellenic. Miss Lutz and Miss Onken had the pleasure of attending a most delightful meeting of the Glenhurst Alumnae Club at the home of Mrs. Alben Bates of Elmhurst, the afternoon of October 11.

The incoming officers of National Panhellenic Congress are: Mrs. A. M.

College Delegates Discuss Rushing Problems

By FLORENCE MERDIAN, Editor of "The Aglaid" of Phi Mu

Reprinted by permission from "The Aglaid"

SIXTY-FIVE delegates from college Panhellenics on campuses all over the nation, ranging from Oregon, Washington and California, to Washington, D.C., attended the sessions for undergraduates which were held on Friday in connection with the National Panhellenic Congress in Chicago. Mrs. C. E. Rader,  $\Phi$  M President, welcomed this large delegation, and turned the meeting over to Miss Amy B. Onken,  $\Pi$  B  $\Phi$  President, and chairman of the committee on college Panhellenics, who presided over this session.

The morning program was devoted to round table conferences on such subjects as "Present Day Fraternity Responsibility and Interfraternity Obligations"; "Ways in Which National Panhellenic Congress Can Best Serve College Panhellenics"; "Expiration of the Pledge and the Broken Pledge"; and "Practical Fraternity Problems Which Can Be Solved Through College Panhellenic Action."

An interesting discussion was held concerning the effect of the NRA on student help in sorority houses. One delegate stated that the local NRA board had applied its rulings to their student waiters, and a rather difficult situation had resulted. It was brought out that official interpretation of the code at Washington exempts students who are working for room and board, and campuses where the code was being applied to sorority and fraternity houses were advised to get in touch with officials at headquarters.

The maximum quota system, which is being tried on a number of campuses, proved another interesting subject to the undergraduates. Delegates from Ohio Wesleyan, North Dakota and the University of Illinois led this discussion. As the experiment has been operated, a maximum quota of pledges is set for each group on the campus, and in most cases the plan has been instrumental in securing a more equitable distribution of pledges than might have resulted under the old system. It has aided in saving some groups from losing their charters, the delegates felt. Objections to the plan were that it may disturb the feeling of contentment in freshmen by rather arbitrarily taking away the rights of the individual girls, and that "where campuses are over-organized, surgery is better than artificial respiration" for weak chapters.

The registration fee charged for rushing at the University of Washington was explained by the delegate from that campus, and this unique plan also proved of large interest. To reduce rushing expenses, a $2 fee is charged every girl who is being rushed; those not interested in pledging, don't pay the fee, and thus time and energy as well as expense of inviting them to parties, is eliminated. In case a girl who pays the fee is not invited to at least two parties, her fee is returned, under this novel system.

A guest speaker at the joint meeting of N.P.C. and the college undergraduates, was Dean Agnes Wells of Indiana University, who in her address, made some pertinent and thought-provoking remarks about sororities and chapter house management.

"If a sorority chapter is operated on the right basis, there is something about it that is bigger, deeper and finer than can be found in a college dormitory," Dean Wells said. She advised chapters to use more care in arranging their grouping of girls. Let the pledge make her own choice of housemother or sponsor, since there are many maladjustments along that line, she suggested. Something must be offered in the chapter house besides mere housing, she said.

"Live up to the ideals that were pointed out when you put on your pin," she told the girls. "Freshmen are often disillusioned by the things they find after pledging. The weakness in many groups, both men's and women's, is the lightness with which they take their vows. Sorority membership is more than the mere securing of a pin—though some girls go to college for two pins, that of a sorority, and later of a fraternity!"

One of the aims of a sorority chapter, Dean Wells believes, should be "directing the girls toward a philosophy of life that emphasizes right thinking and right action. The social order is changing; the 'do as you please' philosophy of the last twelve years is going, and chapters have a great duty to perform for their own members."

Rushing and pledging were discussed by the undergraduates at a session of their own, when the delegates exchanged ideas on these subjects, sought interpretation of N.P.C. rules, and grew frankly critical of some prevailing practices. Notebooks were brought out and pencils flew across the pages, as the delegates took down interesting points from other campuses, when they were explained in the informal talks. Virtually every phase of rushing and bidding came up for discussion, a wide variation being shown in the practices on various campuses.

Some of the highlights of the discussion are as follows:

Sororities are criticized more for their rushing tactics than anything else.

You can put all the rushing rules you want on paper, but unless the right kind of a friendly spirit is back of them, they don't amount to much.

Many schools do their rushing the week before college opens, the freshmen being housed in private homes in town, in hotels, or college dormitories.

There should be no gathering of rushees either immediately before or after bids are signed.

Open rushing is interpreted by N.P.C. to mean that each fraternity may have the privilege of stating the facts about its own organization.

Many college Panhellenics pay for the services of their preferential bidding commissioner.

"Hotboxing" and open "spiking" prevail more in the southern chapters than in the northern.

Many chapters in larger schools have abolished personal "dating" during rushing, all entertainment and contact with freshmen being in the sorority houses.

A new college Panhellenic model constitution is needed, with drastic regulations for "police" powers.

Delegates stated they believe that disregard for rushing rules is growing and that "N.P.C. ought to take a more definite stand about rushing."

The undergraduates who attended this informal session expressed the belief on its closing that the exchange of ideas and views with girls from distant campuses, was of inestimable value to them.

Panhellenic Editors' Conference

By SHIRLEY K. KRIEG, Zeta Tau Alpha
Chairman, Panhellenic Editors' Conference

TWENTY-THREE "ladies of the Greek press" gathered at a luncheon meeting Thursday noon, October 12, at the Palmer House, Chicago, when the biennial session of the Editors' Conference of the National Panhellenic Congress was called to order by the chairman, Wilma S. Leland, editor of To Dragma of A O II. Shirley K. Krieg, editor of Themis of Z T A, acted as secretary.

Since a joint dinner with the College Fraternity Editors' Association was scheduled for evening, the sorority editors departed from precedent in their program arrangements, and planned a luncheon meeting, instead of a dinner session, as had been customary in the past. But there was no departure from precedent in the group's evident enjoyment of this biennial gathering of which, in 1931, Mrs. Leland most aptly wrote, "in the estimation of the editors, our meeting is the most enjoyable of the Panhellenic Congress and this dinner proved no disappointment." The 1933 meeting lived up to tradition, and perhaps went a bit beyond it. Not only through the delightful personal contacts, but through the frank and helpful interchange of ideas and experiences do the editors find this meeting of inspiration as well as constructive usefulness, and this year, if we may be permitted to say so, we thought the meeting just a little better than usual.

At any rate, an interested group met late into the afternoon, discussing their mutual problems, and exchanging ideas and plans—and there was never a lagging moment.

Place cards were clever miniature replicas of the various magazines, copies that were identical in design, color and even cover stock. These were the work of the staff artist of the Leland Publishers.

Following luncheon, shop talk began in earnest and a magazine clinic was conducted by Shirley K. Krieg, Z T A. Helen Sims Hall, A Γ Δ, spoke on the timely subject of "Ways to Cut Corners on Diminished Budgets," and Mary Katharine Lutz, Π Β Φ, discussed the topic "General Publicity, With Emphasis on Philanthropic Work." A general discussion and question box followed. Topics covered included everything from the major subject of economies, to type sizes, exchanges, general contents, and the perennial subject of the disposition, or form of presentation of chapter letters. This latter subject is always of great interest to the editors, and is one productive of varying opinions and policies, although present day trend seems to be in the direction of limiting chapter letters to two or three issues a year. When the time for adjournment came the shop talk was still continuing briskly and helpfully, and the meeting dispersed only because of the lateness of the hour—not at all because the editors ran out of anything to talk about.

Seated around the long table which was festively decked with fall flowers for the occasion, were:

Chairman, Wilma Smith Leland, editor of To Dragma of A O II; Secretary, Shirley Kreesan Krieg, editor of Themis of Z T A; Anna Miller Knoté, editor, The Alpha Xi Delta Quarterly; L. Pearle Green, editor, The Kappa Alpha Theta; Agnes Aronson Smith, editor, The Dial of Θ T; Helen C. Bower, editor The Key of K K Γ; Ruth Sanders Thomson, editor, The Alpha Phi Quarterly; Margaret H. Pease, editor, The Lamp of Δ Z and Irene C. Boughton, business manager; Margaret Daigh vanAalst, editor, The Aidebaran of Β Φ Α; Christelle

Ferguson, editor, The Eleusis of X Ω; Amy O. Parmelee, editor, The Trident of Δ Δ Δ; Pearl Bonisteel, business manager and Daisy Payne Young, staff member, The Trident of Δ Δ Δ; Florence Merdian, editor, The Aglaia of Φ Μ; Gertrude J. Barlow, editor, The Urn of Β Σ Ο; Mary Katharine Lutz, editor, The Arrow of Π Β Φ; Jean James, editor, The Adelphean of Α Δ ΙΙ and Nadine Newbill Jenner, associate editor; Frances Warren Baker, editor, The Sigma Kappa Triangle and Marian S. Hemingway, staff member; Helen Sims Hall, editor, The Alpha Gamma Delta Quarterly; Theodora Maltbie Collins, editor, The Lyre of Α Χ Ω.

The new officers selected at this time were: Chairman, Shirley Kreasan Krieg, editor of Themis of Ζ Τ Α; Secretary, Frances Warren Baker, editor, The Sigma Kappa Triangle.

From the days of its inception in 1913, the Editor's meetings have grown in usefulness and popularity until now there is no more important feature of the Congress than the Editor's Conference. And the end of the twenty-year period, as demonstrated by the Chicago meeting, found the conference more strongly engounded than ever—in usefulness—and unquestionably in popularity.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS TO THE ARROW

By BEATRICE STEPHENSON PURDUNN, Illinois Zeta, Director,
Pi Beta Phi Central Office

YOU who were initiated after 1908 automatically receive the ARROW four times a year, providing of course, you send in your changes of address slips when you move.

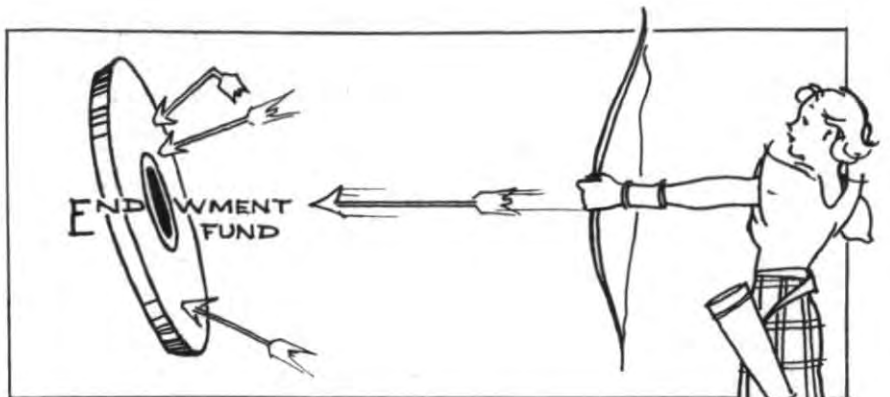

But what about the Pi Phis who were initiated before 1908? How do they keep in touch with the fraternity, if they do not have the opportunity of belonging to an alumnae club or if they do not receive the ARROW as a regular subscriber? If you will read your ARROW of 1923 and compare it with that of 1933 you will see the progress which our fraternity has made. We who subscribe to the ARROW regularly read about the different projects that Π Β Φ has undertaken and the growth that the fraternity has made . . . but what about the non-subscriber?

In order to give our non-subscribers the opportunity of renewing their acquaintance with Π Β Φ, the alumnae department gained permission, for a short time, to allow members initiated before 1908 to subscribe to the ARROW for life, for $7.50, or exactly one-half of the regular price for life subscriptions.

Sometimes when you regular subscribers move you forget to send in your changes of address to the Central Office. This is a source of great expense to the fraternity, but this time we have realized on this expense, for we are sending your returned ARROWS to our non-subscribers as an introduction to Π Β Φ as it is today. Each sample copy that is sent out contains a coupon explaining the offer and requesting that a check for the amount of a life subscription, $7.50, be sent to the Central Office, Marshall, Illinois. By sending the returned ARROWS to our non-subscribers, we are hoping to create a renewed interest in the fraternity among these alumnae and to have more ARROW readers.

Do you know non-subscribers whom you could induce to take advantage of this very reasonable offer? If so, tell them about it!

THE FLIGHT O' THE ARROW. MAY IT HIT ITS MARK THIS TIME.

Do You Know

THAT  $\Pi B \Phi$  is the first organization founded as a national college fraternity for women?

THAT  $\Pi B \Phi$  has seventy-eight chapters in twelve provinces?

THAT  $\Pi B \Phi$  has one hundred and fifty-seven chartered alumnae clubs?

THAT there are over 23,000 members of  $\Pi B \Phi$ ?

THAT  $\Pi B \Phi$  has not an adequate Endowment Fund for internal development?

THAT  $\text{K K } \Gamma$  has an Endowment Fund of \$100,000?

THAT  $\text{K A } \Theta$  has an Endowment Fund of \$80,000?

THAT  $\text{A } \Phi$  has an Endowment Fund of \$56,100?

THAT if  $\Pi B \Phi$  is to maintain the high standards she has always set, she too must have such a fund?

THAT a Fund of $50,000 is being raised?

THAT this fund is needed for

1. Special projects and internal development of our fraternity?
2. Greater support and improvement of our chapters?
3. A safeguard against the loss of purchasing power of income caused by the fluctuating value of the dollar?
4. A definite check against too high annual and initiation fees?

THAT you can pledge money for this fund to be paid over a three-year period?

THAT any sum is welcome?

THAT $21,000 toward our $50,000 goal is already paid or pledged?

THAT THE NEXT CONVENTION WOULD BE A GRAND TIME TO CELEBRATE OUR VICTORY?

Thoughts upon the Endowment Fund from . . .

A FOUNDER

IT IS A long way from 1867 to 1934. How little we realized then what I.C. was to become, with the national officers traveling all over the United States into places which did not exist when we few girls got together in Monmouth. I know we would have been scared to think about a journey from Monmouth to Florida. Now there are chapters and alumnae clubs from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

All the  $\Pi B \Phi$  girls have been so wonderful to me at Conventions and at home, that I hope every Pi Phi will feel she would like even just a little part in keeping our grand fraternity close together, and help the officers who have to work so hard in planning and organizing. The best way to do this I think is in contributing to the Endowment Fund.

INEZ S. SOULE, Founder

THE PRESIDENT EMERITUS

Whether we approve of it or not, whether we desire it or not, the fact remains that we have at last entered upon an era of economic planning. The old order changeth and from the Government of the United States all the way down the line an effort is being made to balance the budget.

The fraternity has heavy financial obligations, hence it must know in advance approximately the amount of money available for appropriation at the beginning of each college year. There are certain fluctuations, however, in the annual income, due to various causes, so the small Endowment Fund of $50,000 is to be regarded in the light of an emergency fund to take care of ordinary running expenses, which must be provided for, even though the usual sources of income should be reduced.

In planning the annual budget, the fraternity owes to its officers the added security, which would be afforded by a fixed income from the Endowment Fund.

MAY L. KELLER

MRS. COOLIDGE

As one who has heretofore been neglectful of her opportunity to make a contribution to the Endowment Fund, may I say a word expressive of my enthusiastic belief in it? No doubt it is true of others, as of myself, that hours crowded with unusually absorbing tasks and demanding obligations have been the cause of seeming negligence or indifference. I am told that there are 21,000 of us loyal members of  $\Pi B \Phi$  who have not made a contribution to the Fund. My own gift is small in amount but unlimited in loyalty, and in the giving I feel that I am claiming the high privilege open to the giver, regardless of the size of the gift, of sharing in the splendid work being done by Pi Phis for Pi Phi in and out of college and for the general good of all through the spreading of Pi Phi influence. Let's all give our mite.

GRACE COOLIDGE

A FORMER GRAND VICE-PRESIDENT

I believe in the Endowment Fund just as I believe in the family bank account. It makes for stability: lessens the eternal worry of our grand officers about making both ends meet: eases the financial strain of local chapters, decreases the possibility of extra fine girls being kept out of Pi Phi because of large fees.

A steady national income lessens current expenses. What joy to have one chapter meeting without discussing finances. Nationally we'd have a sense of stability and solidity, of self respect—almost of serenity; locally greater peace and a wholesome pride in the loyally grateful membership that could make such a happy state possible.

Let's go after that "solid" feeling—wipe the frown from the brow of Grand Council and put the shine in the active's eye.

ANNA R. NICKERSON

A FORMER GRAND SECRETARY

I am proud of the splendid record which our fraternity has made in the past, and, because I wish it to be continued in the future, I believe in the Endowment Fund. Today no organization can hope to develop a constructive program or to maintain its integrity unless it is adequately financed.

The prompt completion of our Endowment Drive is a responsibility which rests upon all of us who have benefited from fraternity contacts, an opportunity for those of us who trust that future generations of college women may benefit likewise.

The need is great, and the need is immediate!

A Woman in Politics

By EDITH VALET COOK, New York Beta

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Edith Valet Cook, New York B, is one of Connecticut's outstanding women in politics, in social service and in law. In addition, she seems to have solved the problem of combining a professional career with the job of being a wife and mother. At the earnest solicitation of one of your contributors, she wrote this modest account of her varied interests.

BEFORE I was married, I seem to have done the usual things, taught school for a while, and finally followed my constant interest in social service work by doing some volunteer work with various organizations. I served an apprenticeship with the Charity Organization Society in New York and later helped to organize what were called "community councils" in New York City, an almost impossible job, since people do not "assort" very well in neighborhoods, especially there.

I came to live in New Haven after our discharge from the Army in 1919, and almost at once found that it was much easier and more fun to do things in a fairly small city. For several years, I commuted almost daily to Waterbury and organized for the city the "Children's Home Commission," a new department which took care of those children for whom the city had to act as guardian for some reason, family breakdown, death of parents, abandonment, illegitimacy, or neglect. The city intended to build or buy a small institution but we persuaded them to take the course, instead, of boarding these youngsters in foster homes. It succeeded very well.

After that, I became Secretary of the Connecticut Child Welfare Association which I still supervise. This organization actually takes care of no children, but acts as an educational and legislative medium for the child-caring work of the state. It was chiefly responsible for pushing through the State Legislature an act creating a State Bureau of Child Welfare to care for the children in the County Homes, placing them out of the institution in family homes, where possible, so that they can have some sort of normal home life. It was also responsible, in the same year (1921) for the passage of our Juvenile Court Act in the Legislature and has made a study of children born out of wedlock in Connecticut and the kind of care they receive. In brief, it is an association of people from all parts of the state, who are interested in seeing that those children who are public charges and those who pass through our courts and are in various state institutions shall have the best possible kind of care—very much the same type of work as that done by the State Charities Aid Association in New York.

From my high-school days, when my mother was working for woman suffrage, I have been always interested in politics. So, after women secured the vote, I went to work in my own ward here in New Haven, in the Republican Party (not having chosen my party by any exercise of reason, I feel sure, but because that had been more or less a family tradition). When the party was looking for a woman to run for the legislature, in 1927, they happened to see me about, and for that reason alone, I believe, they nominated me and I had the fun of serving in the 1927-1928 session. I can recommend a term in any legislative body, local, state or national, for a liberal education in the way our political system works. You are in a little world by yourself, the group composed of all the elements that go to make up the world outside, though it often seems as if all the petty ambitions, vanities and greedinesses were wrapped up together there, and at the same time, a tremendous fund of really disinterested patriotism and good citizenship.

I was, of course, still interested in various welfare measures, and sponsored some changes in our laws regarding delinquent children, and changes that make it simpler to secure support for children born out of wedlock. I opposed as well as I could, being almost alone in this, the set-up of a new "super-finance" body, which of course passed, and has worked out reasonably well, for our state finances. It is probably a little more fun and a bit more astonishing to be in the Connecticut legislature than in that of some other states because our legislature is predominantly rural, containing one and more often two representatives from every town, no matter how small. A town of 500 people has as many representatives as the largest city in the state making almost 300 in all and 35 senators, all of which makes for some tense and often amusing situations, if you can retain your sense of humor. Jury service for women is still pushed by all of us every session and has failed six times, though we have a fair number of women, usually about 20, in the legislature. Connecticut laws are in general surprisingly liberal as regards women, giving them in every other way the same rights as men, legally.

After this experience, I naturally had my political interest increased and decided that I'd like to see what law looked like from another angle, so I entered the Yale Law School and was admitted to the Connecticut bar in 1930. I have not practised law a great deal, as I have been too busy since that time in other ways, but it happened that on my very first case, which was a compensation case, I went to the Supreme Court of the State, and I can remember no occasion on which I was more terrified. By the way, I did not win the case. I think there is a real field for women in the law (even though the profession, like everything else, is overcrowded) particularly if they can help in the movement led by some of the younger lawyers recently and by some of the older judges too, to bring our practise a bit nearer to the social philosophy of the times.

My real interest in life, aside from my baby, who is of course the chief source of joy at present, is the sort of political study and considered political action sponsored by the League of Women Voters. More and more I am coming to feel that some such organization which can embrace people of all parties, and can keep them really to a constant study of governmental problems and resulting political pressure, is a prime need of this country today. Until very recently, the ordinary citizen of some education and with a real interest in his government, has been entirely too inarticulate and has known too little of how the wheels go around. He has left the only important job he has, that of being a citizen, to those people who were, in general, playing a political rôle for their own personal aggrandizement or that of their political group.

Right now the economic crisis has released a tremendous amount of interest in government, in the minds of most of us, and the potentialities of this interest certainly ought to mean the success of our government, if properly used. Our whole social system and our present organization may disappear within the next few years, to be succeeded by a social set-up quite different, but if we can only keep enough intelligent citizens really participating in government, we must succeed in making our part of the earth, at least, a happier place to live. I don't think, by any means, that the women are going to save the country, but I do believe that right now, and for some time past, women have, as a rule, had more leisure to study and to participate in government in a disinterested fashion, and that they should be on their political toes at the moment.

I have been president of the Connecticut League of Women Voters for three years and have recently been elected for another two. From my college days, I fear I have been a continuous "joiner," but I am pretty sure that I shall stick to my political and governmental interests from now on, though not in a narrow political sense. That is too arid and too stultifying and too uncertain, but the less trammelled ways are more satisfying and give one a better chance for accomplishment.

What I'd like to do, really, if I must confess it, is to stay at home with my daughter, bring her up and have a good, care-free time with my friends, for whom there seems to be no time now. But somehow I don't do it, except that I do pay attention to young Edith the second, when she is not herself occupied with her nursery-school and other activities. She is just two years old, a most charming little girl, and already a perfectly satisfying companion both to her Daddy and to me.

MRS. CATT WINS HEBREW MEDAL

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, internationally known suffragist and peace advocate, on November 23 received the American Hebrew Medal for 1933 for the promotion of better understanding between Christian and Jew in the United States. The presentation was made by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt in the Auditorium of City College, New York.

The Lure of Modern Arts

By DOROTHY J. WULP, Michigan Beta,
Associate Arrow Editor

THE depression has been blamed for many things in the last few years; some decidedly to its credit. Perhaps its virtues have been ridiculously exaggerated, perhaps nothing but inconvenience, disappointment, backache, and old clothes should be checked against it. Be that as it may, some curiously pleasant things have come into being during its reign. They may have been coincidental!

One of these delights has been the birth, within the past year (in Hartford, Connecticut, and probably many other cities) of a modern arts club composed of a group of young people, mostly married, who had a desire to know a few things about the modern developments in the various arts. Because most of the members were busy either taking care of the rising generation or earning the money to educate it, they felt the lack of time and energy to pursue alone any comprehensive consideration of the fascinating arts that go on despite floods, earthquakes, and depressions. Collectively, there was considerable interest and even knowledge of many subjects.

It all started by a few women who felt that the years they have been out of college had been painfully unproductive of the vaunted self improvement. A few "why don't we's" and we did. The spontaneous interest, almost pathetic eagerness with which the suggestion was received indicated a desire among people with some enlightenment to see even more light. At the outset it was understood that there was to be no burdensome organization, no prohibitive dues, no exacting obligations. People were to come just to gain what they could from the particular evening's program. If they cared to read up on the subject under discussion, fine, if not they would have plenty of company in their ignorance.

The first meeting, a huge success, offered a discussion of modern music. Two members volunteered to do a little reasearch where necessary to give a talk suited to the untrained audience and to play selections on the piano and victrola to illustrate their points. A general discussion of phases of music lasted until midnight, interspersed with punch and cookies. Many suggestions were made for the following meetings and amazingly, much ability was disclosed. Several knew people outside the group who would be delighted to talk—gratis of course. It happened that there were in the city several experts in fields of art—architecture, marionettes, education, who have been developing ideas during this period of inactivity and were eager for an audience on whom to try their theories. Some thrilling evenings were the outcome. With no effort at all the meetings were planned until next May, with one person after another volunteering to take charge of a subject either arranging it himself or getting some outside help. The topics included modern paintings, for which arrangement was made with the local museum to borrow some slides; poetry, when each member brought some modern poems to read aloud and when, quite spontaneously, the group decided to write a brief poem on the spot. Some remarkable results were the outcome: secondary education, drama, a debate, between two members, on the merits of the governments in Italy and Germany. Not the least of the fun of the evening is the discussion which follows the main paper usually pertaining to the subject of the evening but often following a bi-way equally exciting.

Ten cents is charged for the extremely simple refreshments, not because they are necessary but because it was found that people broke up into informal groups freely over a cup of coffee and a doughnut when they might otherwise go home. No other fee has been charged and that is the only plank on which the group stands or sits. The place of meetings, in various homes, is arranged from one meeting to the next and a certain day in the month is held to minimize red tape. Occasionally a guest of a member with a "message" is pressed into service. The group is kept small—around twenty-five—for practical purposes but at any moment it could double its size because of the interest that has accrued. Many lend books pertaining to the subjects and small groups have often followed up a subject in which they were especially interested.

The really delightful point of the group, aside from its good meetings, is the zest with which people fell in with the casual suggestions. Either the superficial attractions of by-gone days no longer satisfy in their mild way, or they only covered up a deeper desire that sprang to light when the button was barely pushed. Push the button in your community. Some jolly evenings will be in store for you once you do.

NORTH DAKOTA ALPHA WINS SCHOLARSHIP HONORS

By RUTH SURPRENANT, North Dakota Alpha

FOR the past three years North Dakota A has been at the top of the list for scholarship at the University of North Dakota.

In 1931 the chapter was awarded all three of the cups given by Panhellenic. The cups were given for the highest active average, the highest combined average of actives and pledges, and for making the most improvement in scholarship from the preceding year.

For the second semester of 1932, North Dakota A maintained the second highest average among fraternal groups on the campus and also received a cup.

Again in 1933 the chapter rose to first place with an active average of 2.0943, while the combined pledge-active average was 1.9072.

In computing averages, three honor points are given for each hour of A received, two for each hour of B, and one for each C. No points are given for D's, while two honor points are subtracted for failures. The University average this year was 1.589.

It is the aim of North Dakota A to continue to be the highest among scholastic averages on the campus of the University of North Dakota.

HELEN SUTLIFFE RETIRES

Helen Sutcliffe, Kansas A, former Grand President of  $\Pi B \Phi$ , retired last fall from the staff of the Stanford University Library. For many years she had held the position of Head Cataloguer as the rank of Assistant Professor, a very singular honor.

She had served on the Academic Council for fifteen years, and at the time of her retirement a banquet was given for her by her staff workers and many friends at which over two hundred were present.

An Official Review of the Swarthmore Situation by the National Women's Fraternities Represented There

ON JANUARY 9, 1934, the Board of Managers of Swarthmore College received from the women students a recommendation that women's fraternities be abolished from that campus. The Board has acted favorably upon that recommendation. National representatives of the fraternities concerned, in joint meeting, recognizing the fact that the policy of National Panhellenic Congress fraternities has always been one of cooperation with college administrations, unanimously, but with great regret, accepted this decision and agreed upon a uniform date for the withdrawal of charters.

For the past forty-three years, national women's fraternities have contributed constructively to the life of the Swarthmore campus and have played an important part in the activities and progress of the college. An illustration of this complete cooperation was their acceptance of a building program for fraternity lodges, outlined by the college and carried out at a time when building costs were at their peak. These lodges were built on college property but were financed entirely by fraternity members.

Although a proposal to discontinue fraternities was defeated in 1926, it was repeated in 1931, when it was again defeated by a two thirds vote of the women students, a vote which was understood to be final. The evident need for a social program for the student body as a whole was recognized by the fraternities, and in their desire to cooperate with the college, they agreed, March 22, 1931, upon a moratorium for one year on fraternity activities in order to give their attention to the formation of such a program.

This moratorium, which prohibited pledging, curtailed the use of lodges, and limited fraternity contacts to a minimum, reduced fraternity membership on the campus and made it impossible for the present student body to know fraternity and campus conditions under the normal functioning of fraternities.

At the end of the year of moratorium, instead of a vote on the new social program, a second vote on retention was unexpectedly taken and resulted in a recommendation for abolition. Without acting directly upon this recommendation, the Board of Managers declared a year's continuation of the moratorium. In the fall of 1933, a realization of the undesirable effects of the continued tension among the women students resulted in a petition to the Board requesting the privilege of an earlier vote. On December 12, 1933, the vote on the adoption of a definite, proposed pledging plan which was interpreted to represent retention or on the abolition of women's fraternities was taken. While this vote was unfavorable to retention, it is significant that at no time when fraternities were functioning normally was it possible to get a woman student's vote favoring abolition.

The fraternity world will await with interest announcement of the policy of the administration with regard to the type of social program proposed to meet the student needs hitherto cared for by the women's fraternity groups. To what extent will the experiment be influenced by the continuance of the men's fraternities on the campus? What superior situations will it actually

"To Have and to Hold"

By RUTH BARRETT SMITH, Iowa Gamma; Grand Vice-President

A SOBERING YEAR has just left us—a year when the golden standards of civilization have acquired a silvered hue whose intrinsic worth is still uncertain. Corporations and individuals have evaluated most carefully those projects with which they have found time or money to affiliate. What adjustments have come to fraternities during this economic strain? What does our fraternity offer its members to hold them? What, in  $\Pi B \Phi$ , has made possible an increase of more than a dozen alumnae clubs at a time when the opposite might have been a more natural conclusion?

John Hay said that a fraternity is an adventure in friendship. What a varying adventure, those college years in a fraternity chapter! Only in the retrospection of an alumna can the full fruits of those years be viewed. Sociability, good comradeship, understanding, idealism, lasting loyalties are some of the by-products of chapter life. Schools may vary, interests differ, personalities contrast, but underlying all are fraternity bonds which, to the girl of vision are national in scope. The undergraduate, in the past, has thought perhaps, that her fraternity joys would terminate on leaving school. She has looked upon alumnae as necessary adjuncts in time of stress but for the most part, something to be finessed when possible. Now fraternities are training their collegiates to continue their fraternity interests after graduation. True, the college life will be missed and special college friends found absent, but the adventure can continue.

The problem for fraternities is to bridge the gap between the excitement of college days and the broadening maturity which gradually follows. We now recognize that the strength of the fraternity lies both within its college and its alumnae groups. The policy, followed by some, of calling their active and alumnae groups chapters, eliminates a distinction in their contributing powers. The alumna who, with her many interests finds time to furnish fine background and support for her fraternity is as much an ACTIVE as is the college member. Activities for collegiates are well defined in every fraternity. Activity for alumnae, beyond their support of college and chapter, in many instances has been left to "local option."

The enthusiasm of  $\Pi B \Phi$  alumnae extended beyond the usual support of active chapters. Of necessity, it took form in a tangible worthwhile endeavor on which this large group of women, active and alumnae, could concentrate in a united effort. More than twenty years ago,  $\Pi B \Phi$ , through one of its former Grand Presidents, Emma Harper Turner and fellow members of the Washington, D.C. Alumnae Club, recognized that some type of perpetual memorial to the Founders would serve likewise as a link between college chapters and alumnae groups and an inspiration to all wearers of the Arrow. A school in the Appalachian mountains for the betterment of education was proposed and the result was the establishment of the Pi Beta Phi Settlement School in the Smoky Mountains of Tennessee in 1912 with one teacher and thirteen pupils. The majority of the people are believed to be descendants of pre-revolutionary pioneers whose wagons broke down on the westward trek and who were left stranded in these mountain "hollers." The lack of education went far deeper than illiteracy; the majority lacked not only education in letters but in the use of the senses, the ability to concentrate and to make close observations. The children were not the only ones to be taught or was the teaching confined to "book larnin'." The people wanted educational advantages but great diplomacy was necessary for they were suspicious of all who approached them. The development of the school has been gradual but gratifying and today it stands as fine evidence of the loyalty of fraternity members for all has been accomplished through volunteer contributions. The school now consists of nine grades, seven teachers and a well ordered plant. The subjects taught in addition to the regular curriculum prescribed for elementary schools are those which will make better farmers, better home-makers and better citizens of these boys and girls. Agriculture gives the boys practical experience on the school farm. Home Economics holds an interest for old and young. Instruction is given in Hygiene, Home-nursing, and Sanitation. The knowledge of weaving has been improved by teaching new color combinations and by introducing new patterns. Basket and furniture making has also been developed. The sale of these things through alumnæ clubs meant the first money ever earned by some of these people.

The fraternity's pride in the school is almost equalled by the pride of the community in the project. As the school has grown the people have gradually assumed their true responsibilities. They possessed inherent characteristics which needed only guidance to bring them to the surface. They are no longer suspicious but cooperative. There has come a civic awakening which centers in the school. The government, appreciating the beauties of this district has formed a National Park. Much of this virgin timber land was purchased from the families of our first pupils. When the school first opened no roads came within seven miles. Now fine state and government roads lead from Knoxville through the Great Smokies to North Carolina. But the good roads bring new problems with new people. A contingent of CCC men is there. The need for community service grows with Gatlinburg. Once one gets away from the good roads, again one finds districts cut off and remote. The field for service remains. And so, the Settlement School has served a dual purpose: it is a worthy work of social service and it has proved to be the unselfish activity which welds us together in a deeper fraternity interest.

Though the Settlement School is our greatest means of holding the alumnæ, our efforts are not limited to that alone. As in any well organized group, the interests must be sufficiently diversified to appeal to all temperaments. The desire for service to the fraternity may develop in different channels as one's interests vary. The Endowment Fund, which will permit greater internal development in the fraternity and better financial backing for chapters, needs the loyalty and support of every Pi Phi. Active chapters need help in rushing from those gifted in that direction. The Student Loan Fund, which aids Pi Phi undergraduates to complete their education is another fine possibility, calling for cooperation. During these last two years, almost every club has found some local altruistic work in addition to its other activities for the fraternity.

A grave responsibility rests upon the alumnæ clubs of today. Programs, in their content, should appeal to the different tastes. Meetings should be planned to give all members an opportunity to attend and to enjoy the companionship possible. Simplicity should be the keynote. Organization should be so complete that the mechanics are invisible. There are always some members who volunteer their aid. With them as the keystones, progress is made in the building of your organization by using the newcomer or the alumna, willing but timid. The greatest joy comes from laboring together for a common cause. Contentment comes with achievement.

While we lead the fraternity field in the number of organized alumnae groups, we cannot relax our efforts. With the many isolated alumnae throughout the country, a stupendous task still confronts us. Alumnae clubs can render a very real service by educating these unaffiliated members to the advantages of membership in the national alumnae department, to the pleasures of group contacts in the clubs with other Arrow wearers. Fraternity life is not intended for the college years alone.

The reading of the ARROW brings an education in fraternity happenings. Attending the June Convention will prove to all that every chapter has worthy requisites and members of whom to be proud. Thus the national viewpoint will be broadened.

Grand Council is deeply grateful for the splendid efforts and support in the past. May we ask for your continued and further loyalty to the extent that by continuing to hold our alumnae interest and extend it, we may have greater strength in every college chapter, greater activity in our alumnae department, and greater breadth of vision and progress for the entire fraternity.

TEA AT PANHELLENIC

THE TEA held in the lovely Panhellenic club room on the first Sunday in November is an annual event with the New York Alumnae Club, but the presence of Amy Burnham Onken is not! Her visit that week-end added so much to the enjoyment of our guests—over one hundred—and the knowledge of conditions at the Settlement School of which she spoke briefly.

(We open the sale of S.S. goods at this affair and several of our Panhellenic friends always do some of their Christmas shopping then!)

A supper followed the tea at which Miss Onken spoke at greater length to the Pi Phis and answered questions. Sophie Woodman gathered some snapshots, of course, and writes that the management of the Panhellenic and various officers of other fraternities who know Miss Onken were very happy to have her spend several days at the Panhellenic.

A Happy Occasion

By LINDA FITZ-GERALD, Illinois Zeta

ON NOVEMBER 22, 1933, Illinois Z had the distinct honor of initiating Mrs. L. G. Balfour into membership in  $\Pi B \Phi$ . An additional honor was that of having Amy B. Onken preside over the entire ceremony. Guests whom we were privileged to have join us included: Mrs. A. W. Stoolman, Grand Treasurer; Mrs. J. E. Webster, Eta Province President; Mrs. C. M. Purdunn, Director of Central Office; and Mrs. Benjamin Weir, Alumnae ARROW Editor. Illinois H was also invited to share our experience.

At five o'clock Mrs. Balfour was formally pledged, and immediately following this, she was initiated. Members of the chapter took their regular parts in the ceremony with the exception of the president who gladly ceded her place to our Grand President. Initiation followed closely the model initiation of Convention. There was room for fifty visitors including our guests from Illinois H and Pi Phi Alumnae.

A formal banquet was held at six-thirty. Miss Onken spoke for Grand Council, Miss Maria Leonard, Dean of Women, for the campus, Mrs. Eugene Young, for the Alumnae, and Mary Jane Chandler, for the chapter, all expressing their joy at having so distinguished a person within our ranks. Kathryn Leutwiler, president of the chapter, acted as toastmistress.

From eight until ten-thirty o'clock a formal "at home" was held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Balfour. In the receiving line were: Miss Della Fleming, our housemother, Mrs. Balfour, Miss Onken, Dean Leonard, Mrs. Webster, Mr. Balfour, Mrs. Stoolman, and Miss Leutwiler.

All who were privileged to be present have marked the day as a high-light in  $\Pi B \Phi$  experiences. The opportunity of seeing Miss Onken conduct the initiation was in itself an inspiration never to be forgotten. Somehow the very deepest meanings of those vows were renewed in each of us.

We are thrilled to think Mrs. Balfour is a member of Illinois Z, but we know all chapters of  $\Pi B \Phi$  will welcome her as though she belonged to each of them.

set up that will be more educative in the social values fostered by the Greek-letter groups? Will it be more satisfying to the gregariousness that prevails so generally among students of college age? Will it succeed the ever present selective factor in all types of human grouping? How can it determine and maintain the most desirable balance between individual intellectualism, and social experiencing through group relationships? What solution does Swarthmore propose to these and their related problems?

Spending the Food Dollar

By HELEN KAMMERER MCKENDREW, National Supervisor of Chapter Accounting, and MARY DEGARMO BRYAN, Missouri Beta, Member Faculty, Teachers
Faculty, Columbia University

NO PERSON can have reached college age in this generation without having learned most of the things she needs to know about food. From the grade school with its memorable demonstration of the horrible effects of a diet of bread, meat and coffee on white rats, to the college class room and gymnasium, the importance of proper food is regularly emphasized. Everyone, generally speaking, knows that to keep that "school-girl complexion," to have teeth that make any smile a treat, and to be healthy, and alert, she must have her daily requirement of vitamins, minerals, and energy foods. Fortunately, it is not necessary to be "food-conscious" in the sense that one becomes a self-centered bore. No peculiar dietary regime is required for the normal person. It is simply necessary to see that the daily meals include a variety of foods in which fruits, vegetables, milk, butter, meat, fish or eggs are sure to be represented.

An analysis of the monthly food bills offers a simple check on the adequate selection from these foods. At prices paid by the housewife the amount spent for food should be divided approximately in fifths among the food groups of (1) meat, fish, eggs; (2) milk and cream including ice cream, and cheese; (3) fruits and vegetables; (4) cereals including bread; (5) fats, sweets, and miscellaneous. The buyer for groups as large as those eating in most of the  $\Pi B \Phi$  chapter houses, however, should be able to secure wholesale prices on many items. Wholesale prices for cereals, fats, and sugars are relatively lower than those in other classes so that the percentage distribution is shifted slightly. The amounts spent for classes (4 and 5) will be less than 20 per cent each; the percentage for meat will therefore appear higher, 28-33 per cent. This is also true of the percentage for fruits and vegetables which should approximate the meat expenditure. Dairy products should average about 20 per cent in the well-chosen diet. Some peculiarity of a local market might alter this balance but the buyer should at least be able to explain the reason for any important divergence.

A study was made of the food expenditure in twenty-nine chapter houses serving meals, for the month of March, 1933. The averages for the classes were as follows: (1) 28 per cent; (2) 29.9 per cent; (3) 19.4 per cent; (4 and 5) 22.7 per cent. These are excellent and would be useful approximate figures for a monthly check of bills at the price levels represented in various chapters. The range within each class, however, is so large as to be disturbing from the standpoint of the nutritive implications. The range in percentage expenditures for meat, fish, and eggs is from 17.4 to 51.9. Fruits and vegetables are low in both of these chapters—19 per cent and 16 per cent respectively, and milk is especially low where the meat cost is excessive. It is practically impossible for the diet to be adequate if 51.9 per cent of the money is spent for meat. Similarly, though milk is slightly above average, the low meat diet may also be low in some minerals and vitamins due to the relatively small amount of fruits and vegetables used. In five chapters the expenditure for fruits and vegetables is much too low, running from 15 to 19 per cent and in ten the amount spent for dairy products—less than 15 per cent, is suggestive of poor meal planning.

Five of these are the same five chapters in which fruits and vegetables are also low and the diet is therefore probably unsatisfactory from a nutritive standpoint.

The average cost per meal was $0.11. This is a reasonable figure for the numbers served at spring prices. It should be running approximately 10 per cent higher at this time and will probably increase another 10 per cent within the next six months. Here, again, the range was from $0.075 to $0.17, and high cost was not coincident with good selection. The range in cost and in type of expenditure indicate wide variation in food budgets and in food selection. At the risk of repeating commonplaces, therefore, certain menu suggestions may be made:

One pint of milk per day per person should always be included, but this may be taken straight, or in ice creams, chocolate or coffee milk shakes, cream soups, chowders, puddings, or on cereal.

Use plenty of cream on the cereal, too, since the college beauty has to eat three square meals, these days. And speaking of cream, its high content of certain fat soluble vitamins warrants using as much as the treasury can stand especially during winter months. High vitamin intake probably tends to increase resistance to certain types of infection.

Meat, including poultry, or fish is usually served for dinner. Eggs and other meat substitutes may be used at luncheon, and it is also a good idea to make it worth while to get up to breakfast by serving eggs in some form once or twice a week at least, and bacon, sausages, creamed chipped beef and similar breakfast dishes frequently.

Fruit juices, or tomato juice, or fresh fruit should be served daily. The fruit juices may be served at breakfast, or as ices at luncheon or dinner. Tomato juice is also popular for any meal, as is fresh fruit. Incidentally, it is very smart to serve fresh fruit—a platter piled high with it—as the dessert for a formal dinner, or a Sunday night supper party.

Serve a salad at least once a day, and a green vegetable, fresh or canned once or twice a day. Canned fruits and stewed fruits have numerous uses and are good foods.

Potatoes furnish valuable nutrients in addition to starch and may be profitably used once daily. Rice, macaroni, spaghetti, noodles, or hominy may substitute for their starch at either luncheon or dinner.

It is safe nutritional procedure, and a great asset in preparing delicious food, to allow at least  $1\frac{1}{2}$  to 2 ounces of butter per person per day in addition to cream and to cooking fats used in pastry.

It behooves chapters to take seriously the matter of food selection, primarily, of course, because an adequate diet is essential to physical and mental fitness. It is now well established that diet better than adequate increases the general well-being of individuals to such an extent that such nutritive standards as we now have should be raised liberally. No chapter should be open to the question that its food does not, perhaps, meet minimum standards. Another reason for concern about food exists, however, in the fact that most colleges now serve proper food in their dormitories, and fraternity members owe it to themselves and to their parents to keep at least as high a standard as that set in the college dining halls.

Such intelligent buying procedures should be used as will make it possible to serve good food at a cost to members somewhat near that of the cost to students living in dormitories. Since fraternity houses frequently supplement housing facilities to the great advantage of the college, it is desirable that a system of central buying be arranged by the college for the fraternity groups to enable them to take advantage of favorable prices which would be obtainable for the combined numbers.

Painting — a Hobby and Career

By FLORENCE BARNES INGRAM, Iowa Zeta

LONG BEFORE Phil Stong made State Fair popular in story and picture, Iowa Pi Phis were used to seeking through the Iowa Fair Art Exhibit for the paintings bearing the signature of Jean Day-remains "unpainted," but her three daughters are her most frequent subjects. She explains that the training she secured in entertaining her own small children while painting them, has ton. This busy Iowa Z, now the wife of a Des Moines physician, Dr. Leonard West, and the mother of three lively girls, still finds time to pursue her hobby—painting.

Mrs. West makes etchings, silhouettes, pastels, and chalk drawings. The red chalk drawings are very popular and pastel drawings are greatly in demand, but her greatest interest is in oil portraits of small children. Her husband taught her the technique of amusing other three year olds while they pose. Anyone who has experienced the task of trying to get a small child to sit pleasantly in one spot for any length of time, can well imagine the double duty it requires to tell with lively interest the story of "The Little Red Hen," and at the same time observe the length of a small nose and to discover the lights in young eyes.

Jean Dayton West's paintings of children adorn many mantles and living rooms throughout Iowa. For an uninterrupted month this past summer she pursued her hobby, painting portraits of the children of several Chicago families.

Mrs. West received her B.A. degree from the University of Iowa, where she majored in Art. She studied with Hawthorne at the National academy in New York. She has won two gold medal prizes at the Iowa State Fair, and the gold medal prize at the Des Moines Women's Club city competition. She is a member of the Iowa Art Guild, which exhibits in Iowa and adjoining states.

Mrs. West comes from a family of painters and Pi Phis. She is the daughter of Hattie Cochran Dayton of Iowa Z and has four Pi Phi sisters and one Pi Phi sister-in-law. Her father, through a long and successful career as a lawyer, finds the opportunity to paint. While most men of his time travel with a golf bag, or perhaps camera, Mr. Dayton carries his sketch box and finds time to capture in lovely water colors any choice landscape scene he encounters. Her sister, Mrs. Robert Aurner, of Madison, Wisconsin, is a painter of note in her own right. She confines her subjects mostly to landscapes in oil. In such a family of painters Mrs. West has been nurtured.

The State Federation held an exhibit last February by Iowa Artists, all paintings to be self portraits. The choices were made by popular ballot, in which Mrs. West secured the second largest number of votes cast. The self portrait shown here is Mrs. West as she sees herself. When questioned about painting as a career, Mrs. West's reply was like that of an earlier great painter, "My career begins tomorrow."

Bess Randall Erskine, Convention Guide, says she may not be able to understand all the modern campus talk from the East during  $\Pi B \Phi$  convention, but she wants everyone to understand the language of the Yellowstone. She gives us this directory:

My Work as Picture Editor

By ESTHER FULLER JANSS

"IT MUST be so interesting to work on a newspaper . . . so fascinating . . . something doing all the time. . ."

Every woman who works on a newspaper hears this perhaps one hundred times in the course of a year (which would make it more than 500 times I've heard it!) and each time the worker gives a sickly sort of smile and murmurs "Yes," while mentally adding "If you only knew—!"

In the spring of 1928 when I received a diploma indicating that I was graduated from the University with a major in journalism, there were many romantic ideas about "newspapering" floating around. For instance, girl reporters on a daily paper had a daily routine of getting a feature interview with some movie actress, then perhaps a style article telling how some well-dressed woman managed to budget her clothes within $10,000 a year, then perhaps a sob story concerning the loss of a pet dog owned by a little girl. I had an idea that my career would, perhaps, be a series of stories like this headed by a byline.

It turned out that my "newspapering" is far different.

Somewhere along the line I started assisting the picture editor choose good-looking pictures out of the library of the Register and Tribune. This led to my learning the intricacies of going out on a job with a photographer and choosing the subject to be photographed for a layout to go with a story. Then came the mysteries of putting the pictures through the photographic department, choosing the best of the negatives, deciding what size to use them, and getting them started through the art and engraving departments.

It all sounds quite dull and routine, but within a couple of years I was devoting all my time to pictures, and rebelling mentally whenever I was called away to write a story.

In those years of 1928, 1929, and 1930, things were happening quite out of keeping with the ideas we had previously. Columns were written about the failure of the stock market, but I had a bigger thrill out of the pictures of panic-stricken crowds milling about the New York stock exchange, of clerks wearied by many hours of working dropping on cots in the halls of the stock exchange building. There was the story of the marriage of "Lindy," and the frantic search for a picture of the girl who was to be his bride (few newspaper files then had a picture of Anne Morrow, for she was practically unknown to the public except as the daughter of an illustrious father who had not particularly courted picture publicity), and the thrill when we received by special delivery the authentic pictures of "Lindy's" bride-to-be.

In those days we were proud to announce forty-eight hour service on pictures from New York to our Iowa readers. Now we are disappointed when Tuesday's happenings in the eastern coast can not be pictured in the Des Moines Tribune in less than twenty-four hours. We used to boast of "telephoto" service which brought pictures by wireless on a special machine—despite the fact that the picture might be only a mass of blurred objects. Nowadays a telephoto can be distinguished from a posed photograph only by an expert in many cases.

Always there's something doing for the picture editor. A fire, a train or auto wreck, a noted citizen being honored, an inauguration, a wedding of notables, athletic events of all kinds, a cute baby winning a health contest—photographers all over the country are busy taking hundreds of thousands of pictures daily of such things, and the picture editor has the job of selecting the ones most interesting to the readers of that particular paper.

Once it was an event to have a picture as well as a story of a news event.

Nowadays it is a necessity, for the readers demand to see, as well as hear about, what is going on. Psychologists say that a picture is worth a thousand words of description. If so, the job of picture editing would make one equal to a very prolific writer.

A survey taken recently shows that the Tribune is running about six times as much art as it did five years ago. I believed it even before the survey was taken!

There's something insidious about newspaper work. I've sat in sessions with dozens of newspaper men and women, and never once did I hear it defended as a profession. I take that back, I've heard a few reporters of a couple of months' experience on a small paper attempt, rather weakly, to argue that it is a "grand game." BUT—and this is the funny part—all the ones who attack it, work hardest at getting the news. They hate to be accused of thinking it a "romantic" business, but just the same we all do. Else why stick to it?

And to me, the business of getting pictures from China, from London, from Paris, New York, and Cuba, from Podunkville or even from the corner across the street is the most interesting part of it all.

MARY TREE WATSON PRESENTS DANCE RECITAL

By RUTH SURPRENANT, North Dakota Alpha

MARY TREE WATSON, Oklahoma B and now instructor in physical training for women at the University of North Dakota, presented a dance recital* at Stillwater, Oklahoma, her former home on January 6.

Upon her graduation from the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College, she went to London where she took advanced work in dancing at the London Academy of Choreographic Art, studying under Ninette de Valois. After returning to the United States, she studied under Adolph Bolm in Chicago and for three summers danced with the Denishawn dancers in New York.

Mary Tree appeared in fifteen dances on her program in Stillwater. While attending college she was president of her chapter and interested in all IIBΦ activities. She has been teaching at the University of North Dakota for four years and during that time she has been very much interested in the activities at North Dakota A.

CHRISTMAS AT GATLINBURG

Christmas is over once more in Gatlinburg, save as memory of it lingers in the hearts of children whose happiness depended upon the loving interest of members of  $\Pi B \Phi$ .

In groups, the one hundred ninety children in the first six grades participated in three Christmas plays written by Jean Handley, Miriam Swann, and Eleanor Brabson. Jean's mother sent the music for them. The youngsters were dressed as little teddy bears, bunnies, candy canes, old rag dolls with their faces blacked. Each group sang nursery rimes corresponding to their dress and part in the performance. Maryalice Chaffee writes, "The teachers worked very hard to make the program a success, and Mrs. Duffield did her full share with the music. Jessie Brannan's class with the assistance of the P.T.A. took charge of all costumes. They made over a good many from other years, and ized before that there are so many children here that don't have any Christmas except what the Pi Phis provide. Mrs. McDonald bought the candy, fruit, and nuts at wholesale; these cost us $23.

UPON THE THRONE

That isn't so bad when you think of the number of stockings we filled."

Every child in the school participated. An innovation to teach the pleasure of giving was started this year by having the children draw names to exchange ten-cent gifts. Secretly using their little store of left-over toys, the teachers provided for a gift from any youngster who couldn't afford to buy something for the child whose name he had drawn.

Miss Chaffee took several group pictures for publication in "News from Little Pigeon," but as in most cases a number of youngsters moved and spoiled the effect, only a few photographs can be reproduced. However, those that are printed will delight members of  $\Pi B \Phi$ , for the children look like any other groups of normal happy we bought some new material too. Lucy and I think that the clubs sent enough money to cover expenses, also to pay for the candy and nuts used to fill three hundred eighty stockings. I never real-children. Part of a letter written by Miss Chaffee on December 21 may be of interest to ARROW readers:

About fifteen boxes from Pi Phi came with toys and infant wear. The children drew names for gifts. In a few cases we had to fill in because some children could not afford gifts, and so we used toys that were sent. We have seventeen boxes ready for delivery to families where we are sure that the children will not have any toys for Christmas. Into these we put a toy and maybe a pair of stockings (which were sent by some of the clubs) a big Christmas stocking filled with nuts, candy, and an orange for each child in the family. I have taken two boxes out, and the people are very happy with them.

As all but three members of the staff went away for all or part of Christmas, only the Director, Mrs. Pattengill, and Pauline Whaling were left at the School. Miss Chaffee continues:

We have a little Christmas tree up in the living room, and we have some lights on the two pine trees in front of the house which look very beautiful at night. How the people in the Burg enjoy them! I think they said it is the first time anyone has had lights on a tree outdoors. . . .

I am planning to visit some of the neighboring schools for the programs next week. On December 28 we shall have about one hundred adults in for a visit, to play games, and to hear some mountain music. We thought it would be a good time for us to get better acquainted. The local committee, composed of Mrs. Steve Whaley, Mrs. Newt Clabo, Harve Reagan and others, are helping. They think this party will be very nice, because the local people have never had anything like it. We who stay want something to look forward to at holiday time. I think it will help take the place of going home.

THE STAFF

THE NEW MANAGER OF ARROW CRAFT

Another Iowa  $\Pi \Phi$  has come to Gatlinburg to take her place on the Settlement School staff. Mrs. E. A. Pattengill, Iowa  $\Gamma$  and a graduate of Iowa State College, arrived on December 5 to become manager of the Arrow Craft Shop in the place of LaDelle Allen.

Mrs. Pattengill has been president of the Ames Alumnae Club and also chairman of its Settlement School Committee. For ten years she was treasurer of the Pi Beta Phi Investment Company which manages the affairs of the local chapter house. Such a history of interest in both active and alumnae problems proves Mrs. Pattengill's real interest in the fraternity.

Since her husband's death in 1930 Mrs. Pattengill has been hostess at Margaret Hall, a house for graduate women at Iowa State.

She writes of herself, "My hobby is collecting old furniture and textiles. The happiest years of my life were spent in decorating my Colonial home, in finding and refinishing Early American furniture for it."

Mrs. Pattengill's daughter Louise is a member of her mother's chapter of  $\Pi B \Phi$  at Iowa State College.

THE NEW WEAVING TEACHER

The Settlement School is very fortunate in being able to welcome to its staff Veva Narcisse Carr as weaving teacher to take the place of Winogene B. Redding who resigned recently. Miss Carr is a pupil of the same teacher, Mrs. Mary Atwater, a writer and an authority on weaving. Miss Carr, who has come to Gatlinburg from Florida, is not only an experienced weaver but through her own shop understands the commercial problems which the Arrow Craft Shop must meet.

ARROW CRAFTERS PRESENT A DRESS TO MRS. ROOSEVELT

Again can Arrow Crafters say that the First Lady has a dress woven in the Arrow Craft Shop! Mrs. Roosevelt's well known interest in handicrafts and a desire to show her a product of the section of the South in which the President won back his health and for which he has done so many generous things were the reasons for the gift. A precedent was the material sent to Mrs. Calvin Coolidge when she was in the White House.

Maggie Parton, a graduate of the Settlement School, wove the dress for Mrs. Roosevelt last summer.

THE PRESENTATION

By MARIE WINSOR STEBBINS, Assistant to the Grand President

When I arrived in Washington, on November 14, to speak before the Washington Alumnae Club, my thoughts were far from meeting the First Lady of the land. One may imagine my surprise when, upon being greeted by Mrs. Reginald Geare, the club president, I was informed that a dress from the Settlement School, especially woven for Mrs. Roosevelt, was to be presented to her on the following afternoon, and that the officers of the club wished me to make the presentation.

It was a pleasure to accept the invitation; and at the appointed time on the next afternoon Mrs. Geare, Mrs. Clark Ober, vice-president of the alumnae club; Mary Katharine Lutz, ARROW Editor, Jean Kirkwood, president of District of Columbia A, and I drove up to the beautiful pillared entrance to the White House. We were greeted by the head usher who asked us to wait a few moments in the Green Room. In a moment he returned, and ushered us into the Blue Room where Mrs. Roosevelt was standing by a lovely crackly open fire to receive us. After the introductions, we were seated, and Mrs. Roosevelt said, "Do tell me about your school." She wished to know where it was located and all details and when we spoke of the weaving she was reminded that she'd learned to weave when she established a class in weaving at her school. Then I took from Mrs. Geare the lovely silver-blue box—tied with a gorgeous bow of wine and silver blue ribbons—and presented it to Mrs. Roosevelt telling her that Maggie Parton, a graduate of our school, had woven especially for her the beautiful white dress goods, edged with its three-inch band of white Angora.

Mrs. Roosevelt asked permission to open the box at once and worked feverishly at the bow, which Mrs. Geare assured her would slip right off. But, "No, indeed!" our First Lady quickly remarked, "I was reared by a thrifty grandmother, who taught me to save string, so I know how to untie knots." And she did and was so pleased and surprised at the fine, beautiful cloth within, that she wanted to know Maggie's name and address and promised to write to her.*

A bit more conversation, then Mrs. Roosevelt stood—and so did we all, saying our adieus. The last words I heard this very tall, charming lady say in her soft, cultured voice were, "It is very lovely!"

This present was given to Mrs. Roosevelt from Pi Beta Phi Fraternity as a sign of recognition of the very genuine interest she has taken in the Exhibit of Southern Mountain Crafts which opened at the Corcoran Gallery of Art in Washington last November. This exhibit included many handsome pieces of work from our Settlement School.

* Maggie is now a proud girl, for she has a letter from Mrs. Roosevelt.

SOUTHERN MOUNTAIN HANDICRAFTS EXHIBIT

By PHILIPPA GERRY WHITING (Mrs. F. A., Jr.)
District of Columbia Alpha

As Pi Phis we have for years concentrated our energies upon the Settlement School, quite justifiably limiting our interest in social work to the particular job that we were able to do. But occasionally it is worthwhile to look beyond our own problem to the things that others are doing in the same field. There are, of course, many settlements throughout the Southern Mountains which are engaged in teaching the crafts, developing home industries, and otherwise improving the economic and social conditions of mountain people. To unite these agencies and further their common purpose, the Southern Highlands Handicraft Guild has been formed, a cooperating organization to which all craftsmen and handicraft producing centers are eligible whose work measures up to Guild standards in quality, design, and workmanship. The Pi Beta Phi Settlement School is one of its members.

An exhibition of mountain handicrafts by members of the Guild, including a group from Gatlinburg, is now being circulated throughout the country under the auspices of the American Federation of Arts, scheduled for showing in a number of great art museums. This exhibition is of the greatest significance for various reasons: it is, in a sense, official recognition of the high artistic quality of the work of mountain people; it may prove a spur to the whole handicraft movement, which is growing all over the country; it is invaluable publicity; it proves the existence of an extensive market.

In a practical sense, the last is most important. In the six weeks that the show was on view at the Corcoran Gallery in Washington, orders were placed through the Federation amounting to nearly $1,400, which would be an amazing record in straight sales, but is more amazing since the articles had to be ordered—always a disadvantage. By the time the exhibition finishes its circuit several thousand dollars worth of crafts will have been sold, and hundreds of thousands of people will have been interested in mountain products who previously had not known of their existence. This new interest and this wide market should be capitalized. A traveling exhibition is an excellent device for introducing the crafts, but for their permanent benefit there should be salesrooms in every city of any size. Since the Guild is poor and probably will not be able to organize these itself, it should establish an adequate wholesale department so that the crafts articles can be handled by suitable shops already in existence. At present, some centers sell at wholesale and some do not, and the lack of a perfectly definite policy and of an efficient system is discouraging to the prospective retailer. The Great Smoky Mountains National Park offers an increased market for the goods, and it is hoped that the products of the Southern Highlands Handicraft Guild may have the exclusive field there some time.

Pi Phis will undoubtedly be interested in the series of articles on mountain crafts that are appearing month by month in The American Magazine of Art. Several things from the Settlement School have been used to illustrate these, and more will be used in the future. Copies may be obtained from The American Federation of Arts, Barr Building, Farragut Square, Washington, D.C.

THE BLUE RIBBON HEALTH PROGRAM

By VIRGINIA MOORE, Public Health Nurse at the Settlement School

The work in the health department has been very interesting this fall, because we have been pushing the Blue Ribbon Program. On the academic side a child must be making satisfactory progress in school to qualify for a Blue Ribbon Award. On the physical side, he must be free from such defects as bad tonsils and teeth and poor vision; he must weigh within ten per cent of the average normal weight; he must take the inoculations for typhoid fever and diphtheria and be vaccinated for smallpox; and he must have kept for at least a month the ten health habits prescribed by the Tennessee State Department of Health. Last year we had seventy-eight wearers of the Blue Ribbon in the Pi Beta Phi Settlement School, and this year we expect many more. For the first time we are planning a county program with a parade and with prizes for the school having the highest percentage of Blue Ribbon children.

The children are eager and excited and have had defects corrected that otherwise would have been uncared for. Vaccination for smallpox seems to be the thing they dread most, but during the month of November I vaccinated about eighty, and so it seems that even the fear of a bad arm will not keep

This program has been used by the state health department since 1930, and every year the number of schools participating and of children receiving ribbons increases. With almost forty thousand children in Tennessee schools last year receiving ribbons and with a large number that are working to come up to the standard this year, the general health of the population will be raised. Not only will the health of the individual be better, but he will understand better how to guard against poor health in his children.

The dentist has already been busy on dental corrections. When school reopened in January every child was weighed again, and those underweight received extra milk at the noon meal.* The ones that had filled all requirements received a Blue Ribbon early in February. They are cherished possessions. Before that I hardly could go down the road without being stopped by some youngster who wanted to know when the awards were to be given out.

*Money for the hot dish at the noon lunch is given by the P.T.A. which holds rummage sales and sells candy at the weekly movie in the high school building to raise funds for its valuable work.

MR. FENN PASSES

It is with sincere regret that members of  $\Pi B \Phi$  have learned of the death of Prosper Dalien Fenn, father of Margaretta Fenn Putman. Mr. Fenn was a wonderful man and always displayed great interest in the Fraternity.

Mr. Fenn, publisher, printer, and binder, died in December, in Brookline, Massachusetts, while visiting his daughter, Margaretta Fenn Putman, over the holidays.

Identified with the publishing business in Chicago, Mr. Fenn was president of the Metropolitan Syndicate Press for nearly 30 years. He was also vice-president of the W. B. Conkey Company, publishers in Hammond, Indiana. His father, Theophilus Fenn, was founder of the Telegraph, a newspaper at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Margaretta Fenn Putman (Mrs. Redding) was president of Epsilon Province before it was divided, and served afterwards as Assistant to the Grand President. The Fraternity extends to her, deep sympathy in her bereavement.

YESTERDAY'S PROMISE

The woods seems to be full of books about the depression. But try to find a book about our hard times as entertaining and as readable as Mary Badger Wilson's Yesterday's Promise (Penn Publishing). The search will be long and probably unrewarded.

Miss Wilson, New York B and District of Columbia A, has no axe to grind, no theories to expound and happily no "I told you so" attitudes. However, the latest of her novels, while having the appearances of being written for mere enjoyment, has a basic theme of significance underlying its story structure.

The book opens with four women gathered around the bridge table. Sue Page, the sweet type who detests women who lose their tempers even over bridge, has as her partner Leila Somers who has a "perfectly deadly knack of going soft and helpless the minute a man appears on her scene." There is Pauline Kinsey who supplies courage to a charming but spineless husband and Olivia Hirst who knows what it is to be engaged but not married.

After the game, the four go their separate ways, little realizing that soon their separate ways were to be inextricably twisted together. That fateful afternoon in 1929 the four women read a headline: "Panic in Wall Street as Stocks Crash." That headline proves to be a yardstick by which the four bridge-players are to measure their lives during the next three years. To trace the story farther would detract from the very real pleasure that will be the reader's.

The author is exceptionally clever in writing witticisms. One always has the urge to write them down. Too, her method of introducing characters, her inimitable chapter headings and her ever youthful viewpoints contribute much to her books.

Interesting indeed are Miss Wilson's comments upon women's fraternities.

MARY BADGER WILSON

To quote from Yesterday's Promise: "These organizations had ceased to be loosely-bound social clubs with a snobbish slant. Guided by their alumnae associations, women's fraternities have changed amazingly in the past two decades. They had become purposeful groups whose good times were balanced by some definite altruistic work. Their national conclaves set up high social and moral standards to which individual members must conform. In the college world which has naturally felt the post-war laziness of the greater world outside, women's fraternities had been an effective balance wheel."

In conclusion, may we say, that

Yesterday's Promise is not only the story of a group of characters; it is the story of a period. Some will read it to be entertained; others will read it for its keen analysis of social adjustment. Both groups of readers will find it worth their while.

BEAUREGARD: THE GREAT CREOLE

"And to my wife, for her help and encouragement, the book itself." With these words, Hamilton Basso expresses his gratitude to Etolia Simmons Basso, Louisiana A, for her part in the preparation of that brilliant work, Beauregard: The Great Creole (Scribner's).

"AND TO MY WIFE . . . THE BOOK ITSELF"

We believe that to say Mr. Basso's book is one of the finest biographies of the year is not an unduly enthusiastic statement. Nor was it idle praise when the New York Times wrote, "The Creole General had to wait a long time for a biographer, but the waiting was worth while."

Numbered among Mr. Basso's literary assets is his remarkable sense of balance. Even though he does not overlook tradition, he has adhered to fact. He has tempered his liking for the romantic with a conservative use of documentary comment. He has kept his mind open; his judgments have been fair—not too easy a task for one who is "a Southerner by inclination as well as by birth." Consequently, Mr. Basso's portrait of the Confederate General is detailed, searching, well-rounded, and his historical background is painted in with exceptional skill and discrimination.

The Spirit of a Man

The purpose of writing the book was, according to the author, to capture as far as he was able "the feeling of a time and the spirit of a man . . . a man I believe to have been one of the very considerable figures of the Civil War. I claim for him no enormous greatness. He had, however, his moments of real genius and he has not been given his just due."

And so we have the story of the man who ordered the bombardment of Fort Sumter. We see him routing McDowell's army at Manassas. We see him Commandant of West Point but five days—characteristic of the fate that was to destroy his career. We see him honored and dethroned, admired and maligned, often in the right, sometimes in the wrong.

"The Great Creole" he was called, but not for long. He was hailed as the pride of the Confederacy. Women fought for his buttons; children presented him with flowers; men shouted for his speeches. Twice he was the great figure of the South, only to be submitted to indignity and disgrace. The memory of the man whose great passion was to have history speak well of him, is now almost forgotten even in his own city of New Orleans. He began by ordering the shot that history calls the genesis of the Civil War. He ended by drawing numbers out of a wheel for the infamous Louisiana Lottery.

The Four-Year Quarrel

The author has given an unbiased account of the four-year quarrel with Jefferson Davis—that unhappy feud that contributed in no small way to the downfall of “the Great Creole.” The author maintains the “why” of it all is the difference between the men. “It was not so simple a thing as jealousy. Heredity played its part, and environment, and training. Jefferson Davis, in the precise meaning of the word, was a Southerner. Beauregard was not. . . . Louisiana was a part of the Confederacy, an integral part, but only because of geography, politics, and sentiment. Culturally, in tradition, in civilization, it had nothing in common with the rest of the South. The South looked to England for nourishment and inspiration. Louisiana never ceased looking to France.”

Hamilton Basso's book is not only of literary importance; it is a distinct contribution to historical research as well.

Mrs. Basso prefers to have the laurels rest upon her husband's head. “I assure you that my assistance was very slight,” she writes. “I made a few calls on members of the Beauregard family, which were more in the nature of a treat—to me—than a task. On the whole, I was permitted to help only with such inspiring bits as the preparation of the index, the checking of references and the reading of proof.” Nevertheless, we can not forget Mr. Basso's words, “And to my wife, . . . the book itself.”

LADIES OF THE PRESS

Ask any newspaper woman if she doesn't think working on a paper can be one of the most interesting, exciting and fascinating jobs in the world. Here is our roster of six  $\Pi B \Phi$  “Ladies of the Press” who have found it so.

It seems as though the Des Moines Tribune and Register have gone  $\Pi B \Phi$ . Louise Thornburg Cowles (Mrs. Gardiner, Jr.) Iowa Z, erstwhile Tribune reporter was married to the executive editor early last spring. After spending most of the summer in Europe with her husband, she wrote a series of brilliant articles about their sojourn in Moscow. Although no longer a member of the staff, she contributes special articles from time to time. Last fall, she acted as publicity chairman of the Women's Division of the Community Chest Drive.

The Director of the Des Moines Register and Tribune Household Departments is Hazel Marion Brown, Iowa  $\Gamma$ . Among other things, Hazel writes articles about such exotic foods as fattigmandbakkels, lebkuchen, and apricot candy; she creates tempting menus costing next to nothing and points out bargains in the food market.

Esther Fuller Janss, Iowa Z, is the third wearer of the Arrow on the same papers. She acts as picture editor for the Register and Tribune.

Marie George (Mrs. Paul H. Moore) Indiana  $\Gamma$ , knows what it is to have an exciting assignment. She was the first woman to fly the air mail (as a passenger) between Cincinnati and Chicago and was sent to California for two weeks on a Mary Pickford project. As a reporter and feature writer on the Indianapolis News, she spends much of her time going interesting places and meeting interesting people.

Neva Bremm, North Dakota A has been on the staff of the Denver Post for three and one-half years. She is Assistant to the Woman's Editor, which means handling contest publicity, headlines, makeup and general editorial work. The Post runs a woman's page every day, including Sunday. “It's just a general page for women,” writes Neva, “but we find the men reading it quite often; this interest on the part of the male readers is probably due to the fact that we handle the ‘Chaperon,’ which is advice to the lovelorn.”

And lastly, but certainly not least, is Dorothy Jeffrey Wulp (Mrs. George B.) Michigan B, who has identified herself with the Hartford (Conn.) Times. This, together with being the business manager of the ARROW, coaching plays for the Y.W.C.A. and running a nursery school for fifteen youngsters, gives her something to do with her spare time.

A TRIO OF PI BETA PHI PORTRAITS

The three canvasses reproduced here are by Wayman Adams, N.A., one of America's greatest portrait painters. He is the husband of Margaret Boroughs Adams, Texas A. Among the many honors which Mr. Adams has won are the Thomas R. Proctor prize, National Academy of Design; Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Logan medal, Art Institute of Chicago; first Altman prize, National Academy of Design; medal of honor, Allied Artists of America. His membership in the National Institute of Arts and Letters, New York Society of Painters, and National Association of Portrait Painters is indicative of the high place he holds in the art world.

Besides being the wife of a distinguished artist and the mother of a young son, Mrs. Adams is past President of the New York Alumnae Club. During her tenure of office, Mrs. Adams began a lasting friendship with that beloved  $\Pi B \Phi$ , Carrie Chapman Catt, Iowa  $\Gamma$ . Dora Neill Raymond, Texas A, is known to a wide circle of  $\Pi B \Phi$  readers through her important book, Oliver's Secretary: John Milton in an Era of Revolt. Mrs. Raymond and Mrs. Adams were fellow members of Texas A and have been intimate friends for a great many years.

PASSION AND PAGEANT

One of the most charming books it has been our pleasure to read in many a day is Elfrieda Hochbaum's Passion and Pageant (Bruce Humphries). The book is a collection of travel sketches, but travel sketches with a very different approach and feeling. Done as miniatures, delicately and exquisitely, they catch the types of people, the atmosphere and scents and even the tempo of the six localities described.

The author goes first to Bruges where she sees the majesty of the lofty Belfry tower robbed by the tinsel and ribbons of yesterday's carnival and where she learns that "man was nothing, if he did not have, if he had not through the ages had, his passions."

She visits Berlin, the city of contrast and contradiction. "Whizzing speed and unhurried leisure, these, I discovered, were the two conflicting rhythms according to which the nation strives to live. . . . This beat is wilder far than any frenzied anapaest, unfixed yet by the rhythm of man's blood, perhaps unfixable. And headlong into the ineluctable vortex Germany rushes, repudiating all its dreamy meditateness."

Pale Blue Campanula

In Wolkenstein, the author climbs up a mountainside to a tiny meadow where, among a profusion of pale blue campanula, a wayside peasant shrine arises. In St. Ulrich, she visits a tiny shop where an aged woman with palms hardened by nearly a half century of carving, sits fashioning exquisite heads of Christ.

In Erl, the author invites us to a Passion play produced in the true peasant manner—contrasting sharply with the Oberammergau interpretation. She visits the picturesque but smelly street market of Strasbourg and gazes upon the cathedral which boasts but one tower where two should be. And, in the same city, she watches a youthful workman kiss the knotted hand of an old woman on her way to market, even as a knight would kiss the hand of his lady fair.

The book is as delightful to look at as to read. Bound in turquoise blue and with cerise page edges together with charming pen-and-ink drawings by Dorothy Cornell, it is the sort of book one likes to put in the guest room, or give a friend or, best of all, add to one's own library.

A Remarkable Family

Elfrieda Hochbaum, Illinois E, is a remarkable woman with a remarkable family. In private life, she is Mrs. Paul R. Pope, wife of a Cornell University professor. At Northwestern she took her Bachelor's and Master's degrees and was elected to  $\Phi$  B K. (The Popes seem to have made a habit of  $\Phi$  B K: out of their family of four, four of them wear the key.) She studied at Leipzig, Germany, won a fellowship at Cornell University, and became a professor at Wells College. Going abroad in 1930, after having been over frequently and for long stays, she had the desire to write things down from the human standpoint of travel—"tiny human episodes in pocket language." Her latest book is the result.

Mrs. Pope's daughter, Elfrieda, is a member of New York  $\Delta$  and is at present in Germany. She took her Ph.D. at Cornell, taught for two years at Barnard College and was an exchange student in Germany before that.

The author's son, Ernest Russel, like his father is a member of B  $\Theta$  II and is at present on the way to Ecuador. So you see, the Popes are a traveling family!

WHEN TOYS COME TO LIFE

Theodosia Paynter, Illinois E, has written a delightful children's operetta entitled When Toys Come to Life (Raymond A. Hoffman).

The story is about dolls and toys that come to life and act like human beings. The scene is a toy hospital on Christmas Eve, where broken dolls and toys are waiting for Dr. Toybones to mend them before they are needed by children next morning.

The vocal score and libretto is complete and contains full directions for staging, costumes and dance steps. Pi Beta Phi mothers who are looking for something different in the way of children's entertainment will find Miss Paynter's operetta an original and charming work and one which can be easily and effectively produced.

WE HEAR—

THAT Dora Neill Raymond's book Oliver's Secretary (Minton, Balch) has been put on the White Index of books approved by the Roman Catholic Church and that in view of Milton's opinions on divorce, the inclusion of the book surprised the author.

THAT Lois Donaldson has published another of her inimitable children's books, entitled Smoky, the Live-ly Locomotive, with pictures by Wilhelm Schutz (A. Whitman).

SCHOLARLY WRITINGS

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article was written and contributed by the former Editor of "From Pi Pbi Pens," Anna Holm de Monseigne.

Because the writings of Elizabeth Nitchie, New York B, are scholarly, rather than popular, and so appeal to a somewhat limited group of readers, there are, no doubt, many who have not heard of them.

In the Publications of the Modern Language Association of America, Vol. XLVIII, No. 3, September, 1933, appeared an article, by this author, entitled The Moral of the "Ancient Mariner" Reconsidered.

It may safely be said that every one who has read, or studied or taught this classic, and who has found joy in the experience, has been made to feel conscious of the critics, elbowing their way into the picture, and, with their faultfinding, casting shadows across the brightness and beauty of the scene.

Miss Nitchie does not answer these criticisms; in some instances she re-values them, and even quotes from them to prove her point. Rather she makes a symposium of these comments, pro and con, and uses them to support her own contentions.

These critics have been unable to justify the presence of a moral in a purely imaginative poem.

Miss Nitchie's interpretation is an original one, and to us, very interesting: "The Mariner's valedictory piety belongs at the end of the poem. The Story of the Mariner's voyage is a dream, and has a dreamlike quality. But the whole poem is not a dream. It begins with reality—the wedding, the wedding-guests, the Mariner's 'own countree.' Reality drops away as the ship drops

. . . at the end of the poem eve return:

Oh! dream of joy! is this indeed
The lighthouse top I see?

. . . the dream fades, and we, with the Mariner and the Wedding Guest are back in reality, but a reality haunted by the dream. Then comes the moral. "The dream story is not the whole poem. . . . The 'Moral' of the Ancient Mariner proves to be a simple expression of the effect which a horrible dream experience had upon Mariner and Wedding-Guest, and of the very natural resultant waking wisdom."

Another recently published article, A Contribution to Knowledge—appeared in the Goucher Alumnae Quarterly, Vol. XI, No. 2, February, 1933. This describes at some length the work done by individuals under the Academic Honors plan, recently inaugurated at Goucher.

Mention of these two articles merely serves as an introduction to an unusually interesting career. Graduating from Barnard in 1910, Miss Nitchie taught for five years in the Lockwood Collegiate School in Scarsdale, N.Y. In 1915 she began her graduate work. For two years, 1916-1917 and 1917-1918 she was a Curtis University Scholar at Columbia. Her dissertation, Vergil and the English Poets was published in the Columbia Studies in English and Comparative Literature, in 1919. This followed the taking of her Ph.D. in 1918 at Columbia, in English, with Latin as a minor. In the fall of 1919 Dr. Nitche came to Goucher as Instructor in English, and is now a Professor there.

Her books in addition to her dissertation are as follows: an edition of Tennyson's Idylls of the King, (Macmillan, 1926); The Criticism of Literature, (Macmillan, 1928); Master Vergil, an Anthology of Poems in English on Vergil and Vergilian Themes, (Heath, 1930); Pens for Ploughshares, a Bibliography of Cre- ative Literature That Encourages World Peace (in collaboration with three other people, Faxon, 1930). Many scholarly articles from her pen have been published in the Classical Weekly, Classical Journal, and in numerous other journals.

At present Dr. Nitche is teaching English, and is most enthusiastic about it. Her special courses are in Literary Criticism and Romantic Poetry.

Barnard girls will remember "Beth" Nitche as a wee winsome mite of a person, a veritable human dynamo, for all her diminutiveness—and to them the rather formidable list of achievements named above, will hardly come as a surprise.

Neither the adoption nor the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment made any change in the attitude of the University of Illinois towards temperance and every type of misconduct growing out of the use of intoxicants, President Arthur H. Daniels of the university has informed the campus.

His statement was given in response to a request from the University Committee on Student Discipline concerning the position of the university with respect to the use of intoxicating liquors by students while in attendance at the university.

"It has never sanctioned, and it does not now sanction, the serving of alcoholic beverages in any form at fraternity and sorority houses, student dances, or student social functions. No official action has been taken by the university which would suggest that there either has been, or that there should be, the slightest relaxation of the university's attitude on this point."

President Daniels then continues, "on the basis of the philosophy that few things are inherently evil except as we choose to surrender our mastery over them, the university will continue to uphold the ideals of moderation, and of self-control. We believe that the evils which may arise from the legality of traffic in alcoholic beverages can be most effectively resisted by the fundamental virtues of self-respect and self-control."

"Students guilty of disorderly conduct as a result of indulgence in alcoholic beverages must be prepared to accept the consequences, no matter how embarrassing to themselves or painful to their parents who make serious sacrifices to maintain them here. In no other way can the university keep its self-respect, retain the confidence of the people of the state, and preserve the traditional ideals of manhood and womanhood to which the institution has been devoted since its inception."

EXCHANGES AND COLLEGE NOTES

Edited by NITA DAY CARMAN (MRS. ERNEST C.)

The securing of Rockefeller funds to restore Williamsburg and Raleigh Tavern bids fair to make that colonial city a shrine of American fraternalism through  $\Phi$  B K. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has given over \$11,000,000. The shrines to be built at Williamsburg will embody the memory of many noted Greek-letter men, pay proper tribute to  $\Phi$  B K, mother of fraternities, and reveal the glories of 18th century American architecture.

The Laurel of  $\Phi$  K T

$\Phi$  K T is mourning the death of Mrs. Hadwen C. Barney, National President, who died in Minneapolis on October 5.

$\Phi$  M is conducting a book plate contest with the object of adopting a bookplate to mark and beautify all books in chapter libraries.

When the contest closes and the bookplates come from the engraver's hands, the alumnae will then launch their great "book shower."

Every  $\Phi$  M alumna, wherever she may be, is urged to make a gift of at least one good book to the library of an active chapter, to assist in building up therein a collection of books of which each of its members may be justly proud. The bookplate will carry the name of the donor, as well as that of the chapter to which the volume is to go.

Numerous states have workmen's compensation laws which hold organizations, including fraternities and sororities, liable for injuries suffered by employees while on duty, even in the absence of negligence on the part of the employer. Some states have a technical penal liability for failure to carry compensation insurance to take care of these injuries, a form of insurance that costs little. Recently a cook in the Ohio State chapter house of A E  $\Phi$  Sorority fell while going downstairs and was injured. She sued the sorority for compensation and recovered damages. The Signet of  $\Phi$   $\Sigma$  K

Fourth oldest of the American college fraternities, Psi Upsilon this year is celebrating her 100th birthday. In November, 1833, at Union College, the fraternity took her place in the Greek-letter sun. Kappa Alpha Society had been formed as the first fraternity at Union in 1825, Sigma Phi and Delta Phi had followed on the same campus in 1827, and Alpha Delta Phi had been organized at Hamilton in 1832.

From the Phi Gamma Delta

We had just about concluded that the good, old-fashioned afternoon call had been put aside by the time-eliminating, energy-saving, telephone, when our companion—a fine Gamma Phi alumna of many years' standing of unbounded enthusiasm—remarked with the air of introducing another modern problem, "The acknowledgment of a note of courtesy is also a past art. The spirit of the age—for, of course, everything is blamed upon the spirit of the age—does not give us time for the personal touch." We waited for further explanation, and she added—"For example. Before college closed, I wrote several little notes to girls in whom I was interested, to whom pleasant things had happened. One had gained  $\Phi$  B K—I congratulated her upon her laurel crown; another had announced her engagement—I wished her happiness. Another had worked faithfully and well in the sorority office which had been given her—I sent her a word of appreciation. And how many acknowledged my good wishes—how many responded in appreciation of my friendly messages? Not one."

Efficiency has been impressed with deadly persistence upon the college girl. Courtesy is a running mate. For, after all, as the good alumna said, it's the personal touch that counts. Even if it takes the time and effort of a busy college girl, it is never a mistake to be grateful for kind thoughts and friendly words that come her way.

Crescent of  $\Gamma$   $\Phi$  B

$\Sigma$  N has a Permanent Endowment Fund which has passed the three-quarter million mark.

From the Crescent of  $\Gamma$   $\Phi$  B we clip the following fourteen points for the alumna:

FOURTEEN POINTS FOR THE ALUMNA

1. After your graduation, join an alumnae chapter or association. If this is not possible, keep in touch with the sorority through the magazine. There should be no break between the college Gamma Phi and the alumna Gamma Phi.
2. Realize that your true worth to the sorority comes when you leave the ranks of the college chapter. Your life in the chapter house has been a preparation for your usefulness as an alumna.
3. Be imbued with the national spirit. Be enthusiastic not only about your own chapter but about every other chapter.
4. Read your magazine thoroughly. If you are not interested in it, you are not interested in your sorority.
5. Keep informed not only of Gamma Phi Beta events but of Panhellenic events. The efficient alumna is one who knows.
6. If you wish a strong national organization, do your part to make it strong, by effort and by financial support.
7. Remember that you get from Gamma Phi Beta just what you put into it!
8. Instead of saying, "I haven't time," to Gamma Phi requests, reply with "I'll try."
9. Keep in touch with the nearest college chapter by showing your interest in its plans and activities. Make real friendships with the girls; and learn when to be silent.
10. Help in rushing. An alumna should have at her tongue's end what a frenzied undergraduate might forget. Practice should have made perfect.
11. Be a loyal alumna of your college. Just as the college Gamma Phi is measured by her campus activity, so the alumna Gamma Phi is judged by her interest and help in all enterprises of her Alma Mater.
12. Don't stay away from alumnae meetings. After the first absence, it is very easy for the second to happen.
13. Never lose the enthusiasm of your college days. As long as you keep it, you are destined to be worth while.
14. And so round out your alumnae existence that the college girls will smile when they see you coming, and will be glad to claim you.

ALUMNAE CLUB NEWS

ALPHA PROVINCE

BOSTON CLUB

The November meeting, a cooky-shine in honor of our Grand President, Amy Burnham Onken, was held at the home of Mrs. Lora Merritt in Newtonville. A record crowd, including alumnae from a score of chapters and the members of Massachusetts A Chapter, received renewed inspiration from Miss Onken's interesting and informative talk.

This year the Boston Club is basing many of its activities on the Settlement School. More than one hundred dollars worth of Arrow Craft goods has already been sold through the efforts of an enthusiastic committee who display the beautiful handwork at each meeting and by sales sponsored by the Plymouth group.

At the January meeting, Charlotte Brown, a member of the Settlement School Committee, gave us her vivid impressions of our Settlement School at Gatlinburg and a glimpse of its possible future.

The Settlement School will be the recipient of the entire proceeds of a bridge-tea on February 2, 1934 in the magnificent building of the Salada Tea Company. Each member is requested to bring a "white elephant" to be used as a prize, and an auction of surplus packages will add to the interest and help to swell the fund.

VIRGINIA CROOKER

BUFFALO CLUB

The sale of Arrowcraft products this fall, under the direction of Mrs. Wilbur L. Leonard, proved very successful. The club members found that many of the articles would make unique and attractive Christmas gifts.

At the November meeting the club was delighted to have as its guest Mrs. Freeman F. Gosden of Minnesota A. Her husband who is Amos of the famous Amos 'n' Andy radio team was in Buffalo at that time.

The annual Christmas party was held December 16 in the Fairfax Hotel. An evening of bridge with "white elephant" prizes followed a delicious dinner.

ADELAIDE M. ROBERTSON

BURLINGTON CLUB

The aims of the club for this year are: to continue and deepen the feeling of friendly and informal good fellowship between the club and the chapter members; to show greater appreciation to the Mothers' Club and patronesses; to continue the usual support to the Settlement School and local chapter; and to enlarge the boundaries from which the membership is drawn.

Toward these ends two teas have been held, one at which seniors were guests and another open to friends at which Settlement School wares were displayed; two covered dish suppers, both including all active members, one of these followed by a Christmas party; the club made an organized effort to support a benefit bridge which the Mothers' Club sponsored; a successful Rummage Sale was held in October; and in connection with the Settlement School Tea considerable funds were raised by selling home-cooked foods and candies and winter bouquets. The last two activities have become annual events. Although geographic conditions prevent the actual membership in the club of several alumnae who live within a thirty-mile radius of Burlington, yet, due to the enthusiastic efforts of the membership committee, many of these have evidenced a very real and helpful interest in Vermont B and the new chapter house.

In February plans are laid for entertaining the mothers at a Valentine party and also for a food sale. In March there will be an outside speaker on some topic of general interest and in April a benefit bridge will be sponsored.

This year our club celebrates Founders' Day at Middlebury with Vermont A, an event to which all members look forward with pleasant anticipation.

LOIS B. HORSFORD

HARTFORD CLUB

The Hartford Club was very happy to have a too brief visit with Miss Onken when she was in Alpha Province. She brought us interesting news of other clubs and filled us all with the desire to attend convention this year.

Evening meetings have been held the second Thursday of each month at the homes of members. In order to give everyone an opportunity to attend, the Settlement School meeting was a luncheon. It was voted not to pack a box for the school this year but to give them money. A letter was sent to all members urging them to send or bring a voluntary contribution to this meeting as a Christmas present for the school. It was pointed out in the letter that this would be the only appeal for the school this year as there would be no benefit bridge. In response to this letter the chairman announced that $76. had been received.

There has been some discussion of a Panhellenic group in Hartford.  $\Pi B \Phi$  decided to sponsor it and to that end has invited representatives from other organized groups to meet and discuss plans for a meeting.

We are sorry that Margaret Lewis Stearnes, a former president and an active worker for several years, has moved to Tennessee. Several new members, however, have been added this year.

Informal contract bridge parties are held every two weeks and the Settlement School products are selling very well.

Our next meeting on the constitution is in charge of a lawyer, Lillian Malley, who is practising in the city.

ERMINIE L. POLLARD

NEW HAVEN CLUB

On November 16 a Settlement School meeting was held, with Francis Christian Brand, Maryland A, our club president, as hostess. The members brought wrapped gifts for a Christmas box for the children at the School. At this meeting plans were made for a benefit card party for the Settlement School, held on December 9, for which Alice Forsythe Fox, Maryland A, offered the hospitality of her home. Arrow Craft products were on display at the card party, and approximately twenty dollars worth of material was sold. Following the afternoon of cards, tea was served around an attractive table.

MARY MEYER TOLMAN

NEW YORK CLUB

The annual tea of the club was held Sunday, November 5 at the Panhellenic Hotel in honor of our Grand President, Miss Onken. Miss Onken gave a short talk and Mr. Raymond D. Shannon, husband of one of our members, sang a group of songs. Settlement School articles were exhibited for sale.

Following the tea, a dinner was given for Miss Onken at which she spoke, followed by a general discussion.

The annual Settlement School meeting was held Saturday, December 9, in the Solarium of the Panhellenic Hotel. Elizabeth Speir, chairman of the meeting, demonstrated on a small loom, various types and designs of weaving. Settlement School articles were sold.

The January meeting was an informal dance for members and friends, held in the Club Room of the Panhellenic Hotel.

October 17, the Long Island group had a cooky-shine at the home of Annette Burkleman. On December 5, a tea and Settlement School sale were held at the home of Lillian McElvare.

Sophie Woodman is  $\Pi B \Phi$  representative on the Panhellenic House Association, and Beatrice Ecks is our representative on the Panhellenic Board of Governors. Rose Howe accepted the office of treasurer of the club after the marriage of Dorothy Manasse who is now living in Washington.

JEAN PATTERSON

Coming Events

Admission free to members, guests fifty cents. March 7—Group Meeting. Afternoon of bridge, and tea, Club Room of Panhellenic Hotel. Time 2:30. March 24—General meeting. Election of officers, review of current books, tea, Solarium of Panhellenic Hotel. April 28—Founders' Day celebration.

ROCHESTER CLUB

Marion Priddis and Dorothy Pulver were hostesses to the Rochester Alumnae Club, October 18. Ways and means of raising money for the Settlement School were discussed. The report of the results of the first card party was made and plans for another one completed. It was decided to sell furniture polish and floor wax and polish on commission.

Louise Gilpin, Geraldine Gates, and Florence Marshall entertained the club with a delightful luncheon at the Gilpin home December 6. Lydia Darling gave a very interesting talk about the active chapter at Cornell. Louise Donk, who now resides in Toronto, Canada, visited Ruth Rumbold during December and was a guest at the luncheon.

The Rochester Club is delighted over the return of one of its former members, Ethel Froas Baker (Mrs. Harold W.) New York A. Mr. Baker has been appointed the new City Manager of Rochester.

Georgia Osborn Dunkel sails February 9 with her husband and family for London, England, where Mr. Dunkel will study until the summer, then they will tour the Continent returning to Rochester in the fall.

ZOU CHASE WISTLING

SYRACUSE CLUB

Fall activities of the Syracuse Alumnae Club have included the purchase and dressing of seventy dolls for the Settlement School Christmas tree; a Settlement School meeting at which we again showed colored slides of the school and vicinity and held an exhibition and sale of weaving; and a most successful rummage sale under the able leadership of Mrs. Francis Beale (Ellen Manning) at which we made $154.

Our regular meetings have been full of interest and the attendance has been increasing steadily. Miss J. Winifred Hughes, of the Syracuse University Alumnae Association was our speaker at the second meeting, which was held at the home of Ruth Hawks, in Phoenix, New York. At the first evening meeting, Dr. Irving Oberlander sang. He was accompanied by Mrs. Oberlander (Catherine Ruhland), and the spacious home of Rena Skerritt, our hostess, was filled for the occasion. Charlotte Chaffee, chairman of our Settlement School committee, gave a talk to accompany the colored slides which were shown at Marjorie Kirk's meeting; and we observed Christmas in our December meeting at Ellen Beale's, by a program of Christmas readings by Angela Reynolds Vincett.

We feel that so far, we have lived up to the enthusiastic ideals which we set for ourselves at our first meeting in October, when we gathered in large attendance at Martha Coursen's.

CHARLOTTE N. CHAFFEE

TORONTO CLUB

The November meeting of the Club was addressed by Professor Norman Mackenzie, Professor of International Law at the University of Toronto, on "Conditions in the World Today." Professor Mackenzie gave a very instructive talk on the international situation, particularly the new conditions in Germany, the United States, and the Far East. The open discussion which followed showed the keen interest of the members in foreign affairs.

On December 11, we celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of the installation of Ontario A with a huge birthday party at the Barneo. There was an attendance of nearly one hundred including six charter members, the active chapter and pledges and most of the city alumnae. The birthday present was a visit from Mrs. Anna Robinson Nickerson of Boston, who was our beloved Province President in our early days of struggle. Another delightful surprise was a congratulatory letter from Dean May L. Kellar, who as Grand President, presided at our first initiation. We were very much touched to have her remember a date so important to us. The Alumnae Club presented corsage bouquets of wine carnations to Mrs. Nickerson and each of the charter members and the annual alumnae club birthday gift to the active chapter was a dozen monogrammed linen tea cloths and ten dozen serviettes. A feature of the supper was a large birthday cake, made in the shape of an arrow with twenty-five blue candles in red holders.

At this meeting thirty-seven stockings for the Toronto General Hospital Christmas Tree were brought in. The large red stockings, bulging with gay parcels, looked very attractive. Three or four members were responsible for each stocking which contained outfits of clothing and toys to the value of over $5.00 per stocking. The girls had a lot of fun filling the stockings and as they knew that each stocking represented the only Christmas some poor child would have, they made the contents as complete as possible.

BETA PROVINCE

AKRON CLUB

All of the money-making efforts of the Akron Alumnae Club are confined to the Settlement School. Early in November members and their friends attended an aluminum demonstration for which the club was paid a certain amount for each couple attending.

For March 2 is scheduled the annual benefit bridge in the club rooms of the Akron Times-Press. Late in May a dance will be held. We look forward to a visit from Mrs. Frances Curtis, Beta Province Vice-President, and Mrs. Alfred Gibson, Member of the Settlement School Committee, both of whom belong to the Cleveland Alumnae Club.

PAULINE BARCUS CUNNINGHAM

CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA CLUB

During the month of December Central Pennsylvania Club had two very enjoyable and profitable affairs. The first one was the visit of Mrs. Curtis on December 7. In the afternoon a meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Drum, Water Street, Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, after which a banquet was held at the Lewisburg Inn. This gave the club members an opportunity of becoming better acquainted with our province vice-president and her encouragement made the members more hopeful for the club in the future.

On December 13 the sale of Arrow Craft Products was held at Larison Hall, Lewisburg, Pennsylvania. The sale was combined with a tea. This affair was attended by many members of the club and also by many of their friends. Almost all of the products that were on display were sold and orders were taken for some of the articles. The club was pleased with the number of articles sold and the profits gained which are to be returned to the Settlement School.

The next event of the Club is "Active Chapter Night" which is to be a buffet supper to be held at the home of Mrs. Helen Shimer, Milton, Pennsylvania, at which the Club entertains the active chapter. A business meeting will be held after the supper.

The Club has been very successful in obtaining for its members girls who graduated in June, 1933. Up until this time there have been no recent graduates in the club members and they are endeavoring to make their meetings interesting in order to keep these new members. May they be successful!

THELMA GRACE CORMAN

CINCINNATI CLUB

The Cincinnati Alumnae Club has been very active since the opening meeting in October. At this meeting, which was held at the home of Mrs. Burton, reports were given by the members on their respective chapters. In November a luncheon was given at the home of Mrs. Lostras. Plans were made for a tea and benefit theater party. Both of these proved very successful. On November 24, Mrs. Vinacke graciously welcomed all Pi Phi and their friends, and members of other sororities—both active and alumnae, to her home. About one hundred and fifty attended. Tea was served, and a very tempting display of Settlement School articles resulted in $60 worth of goods being sold.

The week of December 2, the Club sold Theater tickets to the production "Bitter Sweet" which was playing at the Mayfair. Ten cents from each ticket went to Pi Phi and a total of $16 was made for the Settlement School.

The Christmas Party was held December 11 at Mrs. Bonds home. Each member brought a 25 cent gift for a child and a good sized box was sent to Gatlinburg. Mrs. Browne gave an interesting talk about her trip to Gatlinburg and told of the origin of the Settlement School.

The Club plans to have a benefit bridge sometime in the spring. We hope to make this a very successful event. So far this year we have sold $100 worth of Settlement School goods and the treasury is swelling. We are looking forward to a banner year.

MRS. L. BURTON RIVERS

Coming Events

February—Evening meeting, cookie-shine, hostess, Kathryn Tuttle. Talk by Mrs. Margretta Tuttle. Music by Mrs. Schmidt. March—Annual Bridge party. Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Whitcomb, Mrs. Vinacke, Mrs. Haggart, Mrs. Rowley, hostesses. April—Luncheon, Mrs. Crabbe, Mrs. Browne, Miss Boleman hostesses. Talk on China by Mrs. Vinacke. May—Founders luncheon. Installation of Officers. June—Evening meeting. Mrs. Hammitt, Mrs. Druley, Miss Konns, hostesses. Book review by Mrs. Luther. Midsummer picnic.

CLEVELAND CLUB

The November sale of Settlement School products was more than usually successful, over $300 worth being sold. The rummage sale of the previous month also reached the $300 mark. The results of these sales, with benefit bridge parties, make up the greater part of the club's contribution to the Settlement School.

At a dinner meeting in November a particularly interesting program was given by Mrs. Genevieve Beckwith, an Alabama Pi Phi, who entertained the club with readings in southern dialect. Mrs. Beckwith also talked informally about manners and customs among the negroes of the deep south. A book review by Mrs. A. D. McKee was the highlight of the December meeting.

Bridge will be played for entertainment and Settlement School profit at the dinner meeting in January with Margaret Schowe as hostess.

COLUMBUS CLUB

The November meeting of the club was held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Hoyer. Mr. Samuel Weyer, the husband of one of the members, gave a most interesting talk on "Ways out of the Depression."

Mrs. A. R. Rankin was hostess for the December spread and meeting. A delightful musical program was presented by some of the alumnae.

It was a great pleasure to meet Mrs. Ray H. Finger, Beta Province President, during her visit here in November. The active chapter invited the alumnae club to a tea given in her honor.

On December 5, the alumnae club held a very successful dance and bridge party at the Scioto Country Club. The proceeds of this dance were for the house fund.

VIVIAN HART RENSHAW

HARRISBURG-LANCASTER CLUB

The Club had an enthusiastic start for the year at a luncheon given by Mrs. Shepler, Saturday, September 30. Quite a few new members made their appearance at this time. At the October meeting, the program committee inaugurated their dessert bridge idea, an idea which proved a grand success. The meeting began with a dessert, and was followed by a bridge game, for which each member paid fifty cents, of course, the proceeds went to the Settlement School fund. In November a business meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Simmons. The prevailing topic for discussion was how to raise money for the Settlement School.

In December, the Club, had as its guest, the Province Vice-President, Mrs. Curtis, who, as usual, was most helpful. The last meeting of the old year was in the form of a covered dish supper, held at the home of Mrs. Rhoads. This was a huge success because of the large attendance. The program committee has some very interesting plans for 1934, and the club expects a most profitable and successful new year.

MARGARET HANDSHAW

MORGANTOWN CLUB

About sixty tables of bridge were in play at the bridge party given November 8 in Elizabeth Moore Hall for the benefit of the Settlement School. Mrs. A. R. Curtis, Province Vice-President, made her official visit at this time and gave a brief talk concerning the Settlement School to the guests. Another feature of the program which preceded the bridge games was a group of songs by Mrs. Charles Hodges (Florence Conant, Michigan B) accompanied by Mrs. Kenneth Hutchinson (Frances Sanders).

A number of articles from the Settlement School were on display and were sold to the guests.

Members of the committee were Mrs. Merl D. Wright (Anna Mary Tropf), Laverne Davis, Dorothy Brand, Virginia Wilbourn, Elizabeth Wade, Jean Wade, Ann Traubert, and Eleanor Stone.

ELEANOR STONE

Coming Events

March—History, Constitution and Examination Questions. Report on Nominating Committee: hostesses, Frances Hutchinson, Bessie Wade. April—Founders' Day Program; chairman, Bessie Wade. Election of officers: hostesses, June Lilly John, Elizabeth Upton, Elizabeth Reed.

OHIO VALLEY CLUB

The membership of the Ohio Valley Alumnae Club is increasing. We now have a membership of twenty-five. Our Christmas party was held at El Villa Inn, Wheeling. Following a brief business session a delightful program was given and then there was a novel distribution of the ten-cent gifts. During November we had a sale of Settlement School articles. In January we had the election of officers. At the February meeting there is to be a book review by Genevieve Brown, at the March meeting a study of the constitution and history, and at the April meeting a Founders' Day cooky-shine. In June we always have our annual picnic.

MARGARET SLAUGHTER

PHILADELPHIA CLUB

The Philadelphia Club has as its able President this year, Mrs. Charles Teller (Katherine L. Burr), and under her leadership we feel we are making great progress.

We are trying a new scheme for meetings this year, alternating a Wednesday luncheon, Wednesday supper, and Saturday luncheon, and in this way manage to keep in touch with a greater number of our alumnae. The meetings have averaged an attendance of about 65, which is an increase of an average of 15 over last year.

In November we had the real privilege of a three day visit from Miss Onken and were greatly encouraged and inspired. Mrs. Rowlands gave a dinner in her honor to which the advisory board and the Executive Committee were invited and later in the evening there was a reception to which any of the Pi Phis were welcome to meet and talk with Miss Onken. Although it was a wet and rainy day quite a number took advantage of this opportunity and came, including six members of the South Jersey Club. The following day was given over to the active chapter at Swarthmore. We are all hoping that Miss Onken can come for another visit in the not too distant future.

The November meeting in Lansdowne found us enjoying the company of the entire active chapter at Swarthmore and it was a pleasure to have them with us to take part in our meeting, as we did in theirs. The December meeting was to a great extent about the Settlement School and we were honored with a visit from Mrs. Arthur R. Curtis, the Province Vice-President, who told us about her recent trip to the school and about some of the changes and improvements that have been made. We also sold about $75 worth of goods from the School shop for Christmas presents. The gifts for the Settlement School Christmas tree were new stockings for the children. These were in addition to the sweaters, nighties, robes and diapers which have been made and shipped to them in December.

We are attempting only one benefit for the Settlement School this year and that is a chain bridge at fifty cents apiece. The chain started with twelve members and if it is worked out carefully should bring us around $1000. So far it has worked very well and we are finding the members willing to cooperate.

The club wishes to express its great sorrow over the death of Libbie Brook Gaddis and to extend its deepest sympathy to her family.

PITTSBURGH CLUB

The first meeting of the Pittsburgh Alumnae Club was a luncheon followed by bridge, at the home of Mrs. Rittman, the new president. After the luncheon the business meeting was held. Plans for the coming year were discussed and arranged.

In November Mrs. Arthur Curtis, Beta Province Vice-President, was guest of honor at a luncheon held at the College Club. We feel that we received inspiration from Mrs. Curtis to carry us through the year. She gave us many new ideas for making money for Settlement School.

In December we had our Settlement School meeting. It was a Cooking School held in Utility Hall under the direction of Ruth Sweat. We sold Settlement School articles and various other items to raise money. We feel that this meeting was quite a success.

For the January meeting we are planning an evening party for husbands and escorts. This is to be held at the College Club.

Pittsburgh Alumnae Club feels very proud to have two of its members as National and Province officers. Marie W. Stebbins is the newly appointed assistant to Grand President and Lois S. Finger is the new Beta Province President.

KATHERINE M. TURNBULL

SOUTHERN NEW JERSEY CLUB

The high lights in our program this fall have been a visit from our Province Vice-President, Mrs. Curtis, and the opportunity of meeting Miss Onken at a reception given for her by the Philadelphia Club. We were delighted to have the president and two members of the Philadelphia Club as our guests at the December meeting.

Mrs. Puff, Settlement School chairman, reports that she has sold $75 worth of articles from the school. Our magazine agent, Mrs. Jones, reports $80 for the School from her department. We are looking forward to our benefit bridge and tea in February.

MARGARET POWERS

GAMMA PROVINCE

SOUTH CAROLINA CLUB

The South Carolina Alumnae Club has recently been organized and received its charter. We now have ten members in the club. During rush week, the club gave a party for the rushees. In November we gave a party for the pledges at Mrs. Hawkin's house. Several weeks ago the club had a tea at the chapter house when Settlement School articles were displayed. The money from the sale of these articles and donations from each member is to be sent to the Settlement School.

We have decided to have meetings on the first Wednesday in the month at the member's houses. Club dues are to be ten cents per month.

WASHINGTON, D.C., CLUB

The Pi Beta Phi Settlement School and its activities was the topic of interest at the November meeting of the Washington Alumnae Club, held at the home of Marion McCoy on November 14. We were fortunate to have with us Mrs. Stowell C. Stebbins, Assistant to the Grand President, Mary Katharine Lutz, ARROW Editor, and Mary J. Hornaday, Gamma Province President. Mrs. Stebbins spoke on the subject of "Fraternities and the New Order," stressing the importance of honesty, faith, and loyalty among college students.

There were many beautiful articles on display at the Settlement School meeting, but the loveliest of all was the exquisite hand-woven white wool material for a dress for Mrs. Roosevelt, made by one of the Gatlinburg mountaineer girls, Maggie Parton, who has been weaving for the Arrow Craft Shop for about two years. The Washington Alumnae Club was asked to make the presentation. Mrs. Stebbins, accompanied by Mary Katharine Lutz, Mrs. Reginald Geare, President of the Washington Alumnae Club, Mrs. George Ober, Vice-President, and Miss Jean Kirkwood, President of District of Columbia A, was graciously received by Mrs. Roosevelt in the Blue Room, and presented the material.

Two theater benefits were given in November and were well attended, the proceeds being devoted to the Settlement School Fund. Many actives, alumnae and their friends enjoyed the performances of Eva Le Gallienne in "Alice in Wonderland" and "Romeo and Juliet."

On December 9 the club was hostess to the pledges and active girls of District of Columbia A at a luncheon at Meridian Mansions where old friendships were renewed and new acquaintances made.

The December meeting was in the form of a Christmas party at the cheery home of Mrs. Richard W. Hynson. The twelve tables of bridge were composed of many local Pi Phis as well as some from western clubs. Christmas decorations added to the air of festivity and the holiday get-together was very successful.

Afternoon bridge parties in November, January, and March make it possible for those to meet who may not be able to attend the evening meetings, and promote friendly associations.

ANN ARBOR CLUB

The initial meeting of the year was a tea at the home of Mrs. Homer Heath.

The annual Settlement School sale, held December 5, 6, and 7, at the chapter house, was very successful. In conjunction with this a candy sale was conducted, the proceeds of which were sent to the Settlement School to buy Christmas toys for the children.

A dinner at the chapter house is planned in January; a luncheon for the pledges in March; a tea and election of officers, March 31; a Founders' Day cooky-shine in April; and a tea or luncheon for the mothers of the girls in the active chapter, in May.

DETROIT CLUB

The Detroit Alumnae Club has had one general meeting so far this year, which was in the form of a tea at Mrs. E. S. Reid's on October 1, given by the North Side Group.

The three groups have been holding monthly meetings, getting together for either luncheon or dinner. One group dressed fifteen dolls for needy children of the city for Christmas. Another made little dolls for charity, and had a good talk on toys for Christmas giving. At other meetings, bridge was enjoyed.

In January the West Side group will give a tea for all Active Alumnae Pi Phis in Detroit.

On February 10, a bridge will be given by the Club as a whole to raise money for Settlement School.

FRANKLIN CLUB

Regular meetings were resumed by the Franklin Alumnae Club with a dinner on October 9, at the home of Dolly Beck. About forty members were present and our year started with much enthusiasm.

In November our club was entertained at the home of Nell and Kate Graves with a dinner at which the Patronesses of the active chapter were guests.

The Christmas party was held at the home of Esther Todd. At this meeting plans were completed for our annual Birthday Party to be held at 6:30 January 9, at the home of Bess Vandivier.

Our annual alumnae letter has gone out to every Indiana A and we are looking forward to a delightful evening. At this time we have many out-of-town and local alumnae, who are not members of our club, as guests. Last year we had as guests of honor, Miss Zeppenfeld, a charter member of our chapter, Miss Covert, the first initiate, and Mrs. Sophia Deere, the first pledge.

We each bring birthday pennies, and alumnae unable to attend send letters (which are read at the meeting) and their pennies. In this way a nice sum is raised. Half of this goes to our local loan fund and half to the active chapter. This is one of the three big parties of the year and one to which we all look forward.

It is with a keen sense of loss and deep sadness that we learn of the death of Mrs. Gaddis. Her vision, her high ideals, made her, indeed, a beloved Founder. The Franklin Club joins the other alumnae clubs in honoring the memory of one who made our Fraternity possible.

DELTA M. BROWN

HILLSDALE CLUB

The Hillsdale Club has conducted an active program during the fall and winter months. A sale of old books was held which yielded $50 for the Settlement School. It is planned to make this sale an annual affair. The club sponsored a Christmas dance from which a sizable sum was realized for the School. This has been an annual alumnae function for several years.

The club has cooperated with the active chapter in numerous improvements for the chapter house. We also joined with them in the festivities of Homecoming during the football season.

KATHERINE LYONS HICKS

INDIANAPOLIS CLUB

The Christmas luncheon-party was held at the home of Mrs. Jasper Scott and was very successful. A collection of toys and dimes was made for the Settlement School and every one responded generously. Professor Stanly Cain, formerly of Butler University, gave a talk on the Smoky Mountain regions around Gatlinburg. He has made frequent trips to Virginia and the Smoky Mountains in particular, so was able to give us a very interesting talk about this district as well as about the people.

The Indianapolis Club and the Indiana Alumnae Club have combined in a bridge tournament to make money for the Settlement School this year. We are hoping to be very successful in this enterprise because we know that the School needs more this year than ever before.

The first guest tea for the year was held in January and incidentally was the first meeting of the new year.

The Indianapolis Alumnae Club wishes to extend a Happy New Year to you all.

MAXINE RIGSBEE

LAFAYETTE CLUB

Our November activity was the annual Settlement School tea held at the Purdue chapter house. We seem to have established quite a number of regular customers now who buy the hand-woven articles each year. We were pleased with the enthusiasm our guests showed.

As our club had two brides this fall, we turned our December Christmas dinner party into a surprise shower. At our next party, the "Sophomore Spread," we hope to become better acquainted with our sophomore actives by entertaining them at dinner.

EPSILON PROVINCE

CHATTANOOGA CLUB

The Chattanooga Alumnae Club wishes to join with all other Pi Phi's in expressing a realization of the deep loss experienced in the death of Founder Libbie Brook Gaddis. Her inspiration will continue and her memory be held most dear.

Starting with the next meeting the club will begin the policy of luncheon meetings at the Active Chapter House with a permanent hostess assisted by committees from the alumnae membership. A charge of twenty-five cents will be made. An attendance prize donated by two members will be drawn at each meeting.

Small contributions were made by the club to the funds for needy sponsored each Christmas by the two local newspapers, The Chattanooga Times and The Chattanooga News.

The Ways and Means Committee introduced a new line of cream and cosmetics at the last meeting from which the club will receive a nice commission. Coat hangers were also brought by members. This industrious committee is still continuing its other projects among which are the sale of Octagon Coupons and Real Silk products.

It is a pleasure to announce that a permanent sale of Settlement School goods is now made possible through the Junior League of Chattanooga at the Junior League Shop, 711 Georgia Avenue.

COLUMBIA CLUB

The Columbia Club finds itself in the midst of a busy year. We hold our meetings on the first Thursday of each month. The November meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Berry McAlester with Mrs. Barton Robnett assisting.

At this meeting final plans for our Settlement School Sale and tea were completed. It was held at Missouri Alpha's chapter house on Wednesday, November 15, between the hours of two and five. The active girls served tea in the library while the alumnae displayed and sold Settlement School products in the living room. Each alumnae had invited at least ten guests and the result was a very large and interested group. Mrs. Frank Dearing headed this committee.

We sold Christmas cards and stationery again this year, as we have for several years, as one of our projects for raising money for the Settlement School. Mrs. Laws Watson was chairman of the group working on this.

Our program committee this year has planned a variety of outside speakers for us. At the November meeting we heard Dr. Dan G. Stine in an informal talk on "Encephalitis." At the December meeting, which was held at the home of Mrs. Sydney Stephens with Mrs. Mary Rieger assisting, Mrs. Bessie Leach Priddy, dean of women at the University of Missouri, talked to us on "The Meaning and History of Greek Letter Fraternities." Mrs. Priddy is a national officer of Delta Delta Delta and is especially versed in her subject. At our January meeting we are looking forward to hearing a review of a current New York play by Donovan Rhynsburger, director of University dramatics. The sophomore actives are invited to have tea with us following this meeting.

SHIRLEY STORM DICKINSON

KANSAS CITY CLUB

The Kansas City Alumnae Club recently held a rummage sale from which we cleared about $45. One of our most interesting projects is the selling of face powder blended especially for the individual. It has the approval of Dr. Denney, one of Kansas City's leading skin doctors. Ernestine McArthur has been devoting much of her time to this way of raising funds.

The Towle Silver Company has been having a display of silver services and flat silver with which we have cooperated to our financial advantage. With these various projects we are sure we shall be able to make our usual donation to the Settlement School and to the Loan Fund.

VIRGINIA TORRANCE

LOUISVILLE CLUB

The Louisville Alumnae Club has held regular monthly supper meetings this year at the various homes of its members. Due to a very energetic membership drive, the club has grown surprisingly.

Nancy Mercke headed a group in the club that brought in $14, our percentage off the total receipts taken in at the showing of a picture in one of our uptown theaters.

Another group in the club presented the fourth annual Christmas dance to make $40.

GERTRUDE VOGT

MEMPHIS CLUB

The November meeting of the Memphis Club was a spaghetti supper given for husbands and escorts. An evening of bridge was enjoyed by the sixteen who were present.

On December 6, the meeting was devoted to the Settlement School. Plans for raising money were submitted. The most promising one was that of a series of six contract bridge lessons to be given by a prominent Memphis teacher. Tickets would be sold for the entire series, and the profit would be shared with the teacher.

On December 28, a delightful Christmas tea was given for active Memphis Pi Phis and their mothers. We welcome this opportunity each year to get in touch with our active members.

WILLMA S. MCCARROLL

SPRINGFIELD CLUB

The last three months have been busy months for our club. Following the regular October monthly meeting a "white elephant" sale was held which proved to be successful as well as entertaining. A rummage sale held in October cleared $25. The social event for the month was a cooky-shine in the home of Mrs. Garrett Hogg for the new initiates.

The annual Settlement School Arrow Craft tea and sale was given in the attractive home of Mrs. R. Glynn. About two hundred and fifty guests called during the afternoon. Barbara Horton, who taught in the Settlement School in 1931, was in charge of the sales. The sales amounted to $55.89.

A luncheon was given in one of the downtown tea rooms during the Christmas holiday season, instead of the regular monthly meeting.

ATLANTA CLUB

The Atlanta Club has held three meetings this fall with an average attendance of twelve members. At the Christmas party each member brought toys for the box to be sent to the Settlement School. It was voted at this meeting to send $5 to the School, $5 to the Endowment Fund and $5 to the Loan Fund.

As a means of raising money, the club plans to have the Towle Manufacturing Company bring their silver display to Atlanta. As a further means, each member is to bring a contribution to the birthday box and pay ten cents "taxi fare" when brought to the meeting by another member. At the regular monthly meetings each member pays fifty cents for the supper which is furnished by two volunteer hostesses.

MARGARET MAY BIXLER

BIRMINGHAM CLUB

The Birmingham Alumnae Club has tried to hold monthly meetings this year without success. We have only about five members attending meetings. Since practically nothing can be accomplished with such a small membership we have decided to devote our time to the meetings of the City Panhellenic in order to help the local chapter.

VIRGINIA HICKS

DE LAND CLUB

The De Land Alumnae Club meetings have been well attended this fall with each member full of enthusiasm.

May Berry has been quite successful in increasing the magazine subscriptions.

The regular January meeting will be held at the Pi Phi rooms. Plans will be completed for a benefit bridge to be given the last week of January.

FRANCES ATKINSON

ST. LOUIS CLUB

As usual at this time of the year, the club has been bending every effort toward raising money—and then more money—for the Settlement School. Our first effort was an exhibition of Towle's silver, held for two days in November at the home of Mrs. Albert Happel. There was no desire on the part of the company to advertise, simply to find out our reactions to their various designs. Over one hundred viewed the silver, and altogether it proved a very pleasant method of raising money.

In November we also held a theater benefit, selling tickets for three performances of Ina Claire in "Biography," and as the committee under Mrs. V. M. Carroll, as chairman, worked untiringly, we realized a considerable profit. The play was a most delightful comedy, so I think every one felt well repaid for going.

Our December meeting was a Christmas party in the chapter rooms in the Women's Building at which all of us brought toys for the children at Little Pigeon. The rooms have just been re-decorated, and are charming with their cream Empire draperies and Venetian blinds. Our meetings, by the way, have been very well attended this year, averaging over seventy.

In addition to the money already earned we are receiving a percentage on a line of beauty preparations, stationery, hosiery, fruit cakes made by one of the club members, and of course the old reliable magazine subscriptions.

MARIE BACON HAGEE

ZETA PROVINCE

The sale of Christmas cards proved quite successful under the chairmanship of Bob Kruse.

Our yearly benefit bridge party given at the Hotel College Arms on January 11 was a very pleasant affair. The display of Settlement School articles was attractively arranged and a number of orders were received.

FRANCES BARNES PICKENS

JACKSONVILLE CLUB

With the Christmas party and business meeting activities of the Jacksonville Alumnae Club really got under way. Mrs. John Norman (Reita Chambers) was hostess for the Christmas supper and tree. The program was devoted to the Jacksonville actives. Interesting reports were heard from four chapters near the club geographically. The Year Books were distributed at this time. Mrs. Joseph Durkee (Kathryn Stevenson) entertained Panhellenic for  $\Pi B \Phi$  with a tea at her lovely home on the river. Mrs. A. B. Conley (Bessie Gumm) and Winifred Sessions took a Christmas basket for the club to Mrs. Rena Galloway Summers, initiated in 1881. Mrs. Summers was a charter member of an I. C. chapter which was later Iowa E. She is now living in the Florida Christian Home, 1071 Edgewood Avenue, Jacksonville, Florida, and would appreciate letters and cards.

MIAMI CLUB

At our Christmas cooky-shine, we had as our honor guest, Mrs. S. C. Stebbins, Assistant to the Grand President. Mrs. Stebbins is the author of our beautiful "Anthem of Pi Beta Phi" and during the cooky-shine we sang this and other Pi Phi songs. She told us of her visit to the White House where she presented to Mrs. Roosevelt a dress woven by a student of our Settlement School. The evening was climaxed by our gathering around the Christmas tree and exchanging gifts which were later sent to the Empty Stocking Fund for children.

MILDRED WRIGHT

ORLANDO CLUB

The Orlando Alumnae Club held its November cooky-shine with the active chapter at Rollins College.

The December meeting was a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Gavino Colado. We were very much pleased to have two new members, Jean McGough, Illinois E, and Mrs. John H. Neville (Jessie Barrett) New York A.

We decided at this meeting to give to the Settlement School all proceeds from our Annual Christmas Dance which was held Friday, December 22. The dance was a huge success, and we made over $140 for the School. Our able chairman was Mary Lanier, Florida B.

ROSE GOODWIN MOORE

ST. PETERSBURG CLUB

The members of the St. Petersburg Alumnae Club meet once per month at 6:30 in the evening for a cooky-shine and business meeting. Although the membership was somewhat diminished, the informal gatherings were continued as usual during the summer months. The hostesses this season have been Mrs. Marguerite Blocker Holmes, Nena Belle Green, president, Lois Faber, Mrs. Henry Baynard (Nancy Lang). At the December meeting Mrs. Frank Houghton was elected treasurer to fill the office of Betty Thomas, whose marriage was recently solemnized in New York City.

On December 22, the alumnae club sponsored a dance for the benefit of the Settlement School. The affair, which drew a number of college students home for the holidays, was given at the attractive roof garden on the Florida Theater Building.

AVON (LIBBIE BROOK-GADDIS) CLUB

At this time the members of the club feel deeply the loss of our member and founder, Libbie Brook-Gaddis. We feel that we were fortunate to have known her and to have had the privilege of having her as a member of our club. Her active interest in  $\Pi B \Phi$  will always be an inspiration to us in our club work.

On October 28, the Libbie Brook-Gaddis Alumnae Club met for a six o'clock dinner at the home of Mrs. Marie Hatch with Mrs. Eula Wingate, Mrs. Audrey King, and Helen Hatch as assisting hostesses. History and Constitution furnished material for the intelligence tests which were given by the program committee. Mrs. Marie Hatch was awarded first prize which was a clever  $\Phi B K$  Arrow. These tests brought out many technical points which are apt to be forgotten.

The members met for a special meeting at the home of Neita Ray to make scrapbooks for the Settlement School. Each one also brought a toy and a trinket to be sent in the box.

HELEN HATCH

BELoit CLUB

Both our membership and our attendance have shown increases this year. This is particularly encouraging, and we hope to be able to increase our contributions to the Settlement School, Loan Fund, and Endowment Fund, though satisfactory means of raising money continue to be few.

The Alumnae Club enjoyed having Florence Hunt Webster, Eta Province President, as a guest at the November dinner meeting. She spoke informally to the Club and the discussions which followed were very enlightening.

In addition to the regular December meeting, the Alumnae were guests of Wisconsin B chapter at a Christmas shower for the House on the evening of December 18.

We are planning a costume party for our Founders' Day celebration. Many lovely gowns of the period of our founding will be worn.

CAROLYN E. SHEPARD

CARTHAGE CLUB

The Carthage Alumnae Club meets every two months, on the last Tuesday of the month, at the homes of the members. Current events are given at each meeting in response to roll call. The program at the meeting on November 28 was a paper by Mrs. J. H. McCulloch on Incidents of General Grant's Life. On January 30 there will be a study of the Constitution, conducted by Mrs. C. L. McClure.

There was a musicale, sponsored by the A.A.U.W., at the home of Mrs. J. W. Williams and Miriam Williams, on November 14, at which Miriam Williams played a group of piano numbers.

MIRIAM E. WILLIAMS

CHAMPAIGN-URBANA CLUB

The program of the Champaign-Urbana Alumnae Club for 1933-1934 provides for six dinner meetings and a Settlement School Exhibit and Tea.

The first meeting was held October 16 at the home of Mrs. Guy Tawney. The special feature of this meeting was a report made by Mrs. A. W. Stoolman, delegate to the National Panhellenic Meeting. As a result of her report on the "Reduction of Rushing Expenses," the local Panhellenic Council has introduced a new rushing program for the coming year.

Mrs. Stoolman was the hostess for the second meeting held November 20. On this occasion Mrs. W. G. Palmer, financial representative of the local Advisory Board, gave a report on the source of revenues and expenditures of the active chapter.

On November 22, Mrs. Balfour was initiated into Illinois Z chapter, Miss Onken being present to conduct the ritual.

On December 4, the Settlement School Exhibit and Tea was held at the Pi Phi house at which about $100 was realized from the sale of Settlement School goods.

Coming Events

February 20—Hostess, Mrs. George Huff, Program to be arranged by Mrs. Guy Tawney, March 20—Hostess, Mrs. Ray Spark, Program, Book Review by Mrs. A. L. Stern, April 28—Founders' Day, Pi Beta Phi house. May 15—Hostess, Linda Fitzgerald, Program, "Question Box."

CHICAGO BUSINESS WOMEN'S CLUB

Our Christmas meeting on December 19 became a gala occasion for we had realized our aim of earning our Settlement School donation early in the season. Money raised at the delightful bridge party and sale of Arrow Craft articles held at Ruth Greenfield's home, added to the proceeds from our sale of Christmas wrappings, cards and etchings (some of these the work of Leon R. Pescheret, husband of Grace Pescheret of the Chicago Alumnae Club North), surpassed our goal.

Besides the $75 sent the Settlement School in December and $25 more being forwarded in February, we were able to contribute $5 to the Endowment Fund and $5 to the Loan Fund.

The group enjoyed Miss Chaffee's letter acknowledging the box of toys we had sent for Christmas in Gatlinburg.

On December 23, Gwendolyn Vinson became Mrs. Weidemann. We wish her great happiness, and we are sorry she felt she could not continue as Corresponding Secretary of our club.

MARGARET WEGENER

CHICAGO CLUB (NORTH)

It has been unfortunate that through a series of emergencies and not the lack of the spirit of cooperation, that Chicago North has been absent from your columns.

Almost an entire change in officers makes it necessary to give herewith a new list. Mrs. Edgar B. Penney, President; Mrs. Melvin Dawley, Vice-President; Mrs. G. W. Wagner, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. Russell Dondanville, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Robert Sellman; Treasurer.

In reassembling our members we find our numbers less as "blessed events" and other very excellent reasons prevent the usual activities of a large number; however we do keep the interest of our group and hope to find many new members during the coming year. Pi Phi who are coming to Chicago must realize how utterly impossible it is for us to find them at all soon. We urge any Pi Phi who are in the city to communicate with our President or Corresponding Secretary that we may have you with us in some of our various groups.

On November 17, Chicago North invited South, West, and the Business Women's group to a cooky-shine at the North End Woman's Club. Although the weather was at its worst for traveling, we had a very representative crowd and a happy evening together. Arrangements were made by Mrs. Carl Wagner, Social Chairman and her committee, Mrs. Bothum, Mrs. Urban and Mrs. Dondanville.

The first week in December, two Settlement School Teas were given, one at the home of Mrs. Waldo Urban, in the Rogers Park district, the other at the home of Mrs. Leon Pescheret, in the Edgewater district.

Beside the sale of Pi Phi Arts and Crafts, there was on sale a very fine collection of Leon Pescheret etchings. A charming one, of a typical cabin at Gatlinburg, Tennessee, was the most popular. Sales of these etchings bring us a liberal profit. Also, may we remind the Pi Phi's that we are still selling Pi Phi Vanilla, the best the market affords and we solicit your patronage; profits go to the Settlement School and none to our local organization.

Chicago North, in order to entertain in the homes, is divided into groups, meeting regularly, the Alpha, Beta and Delta groups have Bridge-Luncheons. The Gamma group plans for the year include luncheons, speakers and book reviews. At their next meeting, following the speaker, Mrs. Flora Dingle Jesseph, Honorary Vice-President of The League of American Pen Women, on "Creative Arts" the members will have a contest in creative writing.

Pi Beta Phi's please communicate with: Mrs. EDGAR B. PENNEY, 1055 Granville Ave., President, Chicago North, and Mrs. G. W. WAGNER, 6222 Lakewood Ave., Corresponding Secretary.

BLANCHE T. WAGNER

CHICAGO CLUB (SOUTH)

The Chicago Alumnae Club, South, began its 1933-1934 season with September meetings of the various groups which comprise the club, and which meet every month or every two weeks according to the individual group.

In October, a benefit card party was held at the Smyth Furniture Company and in December, a tea and sale of Settlement School Arrow Craft products, in which all the groups participated.

It is proposed to have a joint luncheon in February, a cooky-shine in March, and an election of officers tea in April.

We are sorry to report the resignation of Celeste Lofgren, Corresponding Secretary, who has served us so efficiently and willingly for over a year and a half.

CECILE GILROY MUNNECKE

CHICAGO WEST SUBURBAN CLUB

Our programs this year are of unusual interest and a large attendance is noted. In October we met at the home of Ruth Schantz Spelman in Berwyn. We wish you could all have heard what Frances Fursman Gale told us about "Pi Phi Appreciation." Our November meeting was held at the home of Mildred Trumbo in Western Springs. Mr. Schantz gave an illustrated talk on the Settlement School district including the new national park which adjoins our property there. In December we held our annual children's Christmas party given for the children of our members. Seventy were present, the children ranging in age from eighteen months to eighteen years. It was held in the lovely new home of Helen Royer Barry and was a great success.

Laura Reed Allan, chairman of the ways and means committee, sponsored the sale of Century of Progress Christmas cards, bridge scores and tallies, and etchings by the famous Chicago etcher, Pescheret, whose wife is a loyal member of Pi Phi. This committee has already sent over $100 to the Settlement School and is planning a spring party.

ADELIN RAYMOND GAYLORD

DECATUR CLUB

Absence of any Decatur Club news in the November ARROW, due to a sudden change in officers, necessarily makes this letter a summary of the entire four months of activities. A pot-luck supper given September 19 at the chapter house with the actives and pledges as guests was a most excellent way in which to begin the year's work. The actives entertained with stunts and taught the alumnae new Pi Phi songs. Getting acquainted with the new pledges and hearing reports on rushing gave everyone much enthusiasm for the year.

The annual Settlement School meeting was held October 10 in the home of Mrs. Leo Johnson (Henrietta Page). Slides of the school and vicinity were shown.

Millikin Homecoming was observed November

11 by a dinner in the chapter house followed by the regular meeting.

A lovely Christmas tea was given December 12 in the home of Sarah Elizabeth Morris. Each member took a gift for the Y.W.C.A. Toyland.

The semi-annual rummage sale was held October 18, 19, and 20. Christmas cards were sold, the proceeds to go to the Settlement School. The fine record made by last year's magazine chairman has been inspiration to the new chairman, and she reports excellent cooperation among all club members.

LENORE CHODOT

GLENHURSTON CLUB

The Glenhurst Club held its Christmas meeting at the home of Mrs. Verna Hammerschmidt, Elmhurst. Instead of a Christmas party we dressed dolls, renovated toys, wrapped new toys for the Settlement School children, and sent off a satisfying box. Our next meeting will be an "Aluminum Dinner" at the home of Mrs. Catherine Karr, Glen Ellyn.

CAMILLA REED GILLETTE

MADISON CLUB

The Madison Alumnae Club has held monthly supper meetings this fall with an average attendance of twenty-four members. In November it was the pleasure of the club to have Mrs. Sutton, the Eta Province Vice-President, as our guest. At the December meeting the alumnae and the active chapter were entertained at the home of Mrs. A. W. Schorger.

OAK PARK AND RIVER FOREST CLUB

The Oak Park and River Forest Alumnae Club held their first Settlement School Sale in December. The sale was held at the home of Mrs. Irene Kropps in River Forest from 11:00 A.M. until 6:00

P.M. Tea was served in conjunction with the sale. The total number of sales amounted to $70.00.

The Oak Park Pi Phi are to be hostesses at the Panhellenic bridge which is to be held in February. Panhellenic meets every month.

PEORIA CLUB

In addition to a business meeting our club has held three regular monthly meetings. The members are very enthusiastic this year and we average an attendance of thirty at each meeting. The October meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Harry J. Finney at which time additional plans were made for the year. In November the members from Pekin, a town about ten miles distant, entertained us at the home of Mrs. Jesse Black.

Each of us brought a gift to the December meeting, at the home of Virginia Best, which we sent at Christmas to the Settlement School.

The club held a sale of Settlement School articles during the week before Christmas and will continue with the sale later in January.

ROCKFORD CLUB

At our November meeting held at the home of Ruth Ralston, an innovation of last year was successfully repeated. It was a Thimble Party at which all the members made gifts which would appeal to the little children of the Settlement School. These were sent in time for Christmas in Gatlinburg.

Sale of Settlement School goods has made it possible to raise our usual sum for the school, part of which was sent early this year. The customary charge made for rides to meetings is added to this sum and the sale of candy by one of our number has added a substantial amount in the way of commission for the club.

The January meeting was "Beloit Day" with bridge, for which Mrs. Raymond Wiegart and Mrs. Keith Reynolds were hostesses.

FLORENCE G. BERCK

THETA PROVINCE

BURLINGTON CLUB

The Burlington Alumnae Club held its first meeting of the year in October, when we entertained at a luncheon at the home of Treva Hanna. Mrs. Seaman Knapp of Ames, Theta Province Vice-President was our guest. Mrs. Knapp discussed problems of our club and plans for raising money.

On November 16, the club held a supper meeting at the home of Perle Hayden. Supper was served by a committee and each member was assessed twenty-five cents for her supper. This money goes to the Settlement School fund. Our dues this year are to be the minimum, in hopes that our membership will increase.

Our next meeting is to be in January. The Burlington Club wishes each active chapter and alumnae club of  $\Pi B \Phi$  a most happy and prosperous New Year.

MARY EVANS VANDERFORD

CEDAR RAPIDS CLUB

The Cedar Rapids Alumnae Club was very fortunate in being able to have a room at the Little Gallery in which to display and sell their Settlement School handicraft. The Little Gallery is the art center of Cedar Rapids, so this afforded a splendid opportunity to reach an appreciative class of people, as well as show the articles in lovely surroundings. As a result of this, practically everything ordered from the Settlement School was sold.

The lunch basket is on its way. This is a basket sent from one member to another—the one baking something for the next and putting the money received for it, in the basket. Then the basket is passed on to the next one.

Mrs. L. D. Weld sailed from San Francisco on December 1, for a trip around the world. She intends to make a study of missions as she finds them in the various countries.

ELLAUISE K. O'BRIEN

DES MOINES CLUB

The Des Moines Alumnae Club reduced the dues from $2.50 to $1.50 in the hopes of a larger paid active membership. Already there are as many paid actives for this year as there were all of last year. Also, the individual fee to be raised for the Settlement School was reduced to $2 instead of $3.

The club held its annual sale and tea for the Settlement School December 9 at the Des Moines Women's Club. One hundred seventy-three dollars and thirteen cents were the returns on the school goods with a profit of $26. This more than doubled the sale of last year. $25 was cleared on other articles of the bazaar with a total clearance of $51 profits.

The November meeting was changed to an evening meeting with such a large attendance that several other evening meetings are going to take the place of the usual luncheon during the year. At the Christmas meeting the usual white gift offering was collected for Mrs. Ruby Tillmont to give to the poor.

The Des Moines Panhellenic held its annual banquet December 13 with skits representing the third of a century of its local existence taking the place of the regular toasts.

GRAND FORKS CLUB

The Club is larger this year than ever before with twenty paid members. On October 7, the Club sponsored a "Chapter Birthday Party" at the house by having a cooky-shine; about 60 Pi Phi were in attendance.

On November 27 the Club again joined the actives and pledges in a cooky-shine, this time to honor the alumnae club president, Cora Wiseth, who was to be married November 30. She was presented with a gift of silver. On December 9 an Arrow Craft tea and sale was sponsored by the Alumnae Club at the chapter house and articles from the Settlement School were displayed and sold.

On December 18 the club members were invited by the chapter to the annual Christmas party and we helped celebrate the purchase of a new carpet for the stairs and second floor hallway. The traditional holiday dinner was sponsored by the Club when all pledges, actives, and alumnae were invited to a dinner and bridge at the Ryan Hotel on December 28. Twenty-four Pi Phi were present and out-of-town visitors included Marian Wilder of St. Louis, Missouri, Fahn Nelson of Grand Haven, Michigan and Rhea Nelson of Salem, Oregon.

MINNEAPOLIS CLUB

It is customary for the Minneapolis and St. Paul Alumnae Clubs to have a Christmas party at the house with the active chapter and pledges as their guests. This year it was a gay nineties or kid costume party. Prizes were given for the best costumes, and all kinds of games were played during the evening for entertainment. Each club presented the house with a Christmas gift.

In the library of the chapter house, the Minneapolis Alumnae Club had tables set up displaying articles from the Settlement School. A large electrically lighted arrow and evergreen branches were hung behind these tables and on each side of them on the floor stood two large electrically lighted candles. It was a very attractive setting for the Christmas season and a good many articles were sold.

On December 30 the Christmas luncheon was given at the College Women's Club. Mrs. F. C. Murphy of Minneapolis gave a most interesting talk on "Personalities at the Wheat Conference." Her husband was a United States delegate to the Wheat Conference in London this past summer and Mrs. Murphy accompanied him.

MOUNT PLEASANT CLUB

The Mt. Pleasant Alumnae Club entertained the actives and new pledges of Iowa Alpha and the patronesses, October 11, at a tray supper held at the home of Mrs. J. R. Weir. At this same time we were pleased to have as a special guest our Province Vice-President, Laura Storms Knapp. Mrs. Knapp visited the Club officially and it was a joy to have her with us. The November meeting was held with Mrs. McEldowney the afternoon of the fifth. Mrs. Bingham read a review on Virginia—A Commonwealth That Has Come Back, by Wm. J. Showalter. Mrs. Harold Lamn reviewed the September Arrow. The December meeting was at the Wallbank home. The program was a talk on Warm Springs, Georgia, by Mrs. Dale Klopfenstein and an article on The Martha Beery School read by Mrs. A. M. Patterson. The alumnae club is starting a circulating library, the books renting at three cents a day. A local store cares for the books and also takes charge of the renting. A list of the books available was sent to all the clubs and read at the regular meetings so that others than Pi Phi could take advantage of the reading material. The money goes to the Settlement School fund. During the holidays a benefit bridge was held with Mrs. McEldowney and a nice sum was turned over to the Settlement School fund.

The alumnae club, composed mostly of Iowa Alpha members, feels deeply the death of Libbie Brook Gaddis. Mrs. Gaddis was the founder of Iowa A and she had a special place in our hearts. We shall revere her memory.

MARGARET R. PATTERSON

ST. PAUL CLUB

The October meeting of the Saint Paul Alumnae Club was held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Dudgeon—at which the plans for rushing were discussed. A rummage sale was held the middle of October, netting about $10 for the treasury.

Mrs. R. V. Powers was hostess at the November meeting at which Mrs. Walter Hunt gave a talk about the Settlement School and Little Pigeon.

The month of December was a very busy one. The second annual tea and sale of Settlement School articles was held December 3, at the home of Mrs. Paetzold. Approximately $125 worth of articles were sold, and more orders are coming in.

The other two occasions of the month were held with the Minneapolis group and the actives. The party at the chapter house was a very hilarious occasion, with Mae Wests and infants in pinafores vying for honors. After dinner, gifts were given to Mrs. Hall and the actives from the two alumnae groups, and there was a parade of those in costume, with prizes for the most original. The annual Holiday Luncheon was held in Minneapolis at the College Women's Club on December 30, with eleven Saint Paul alumnae attending.

SIoux CITY CLUB

Sioux City Alumnae Club, since its beginning in 1924, has met usually the first Tuesday evening of each month from September to May inclusive.

This year's activities began with a rushing party September 12; the hostesses included all Pi Phi of Sioux City and Vermilion, South Dakota. With the rushes about fifty had lunch at the Sioux City Country Club.

In December a dinner meeting honored Mrs. Laura Storms Knapp, Theta Province Vice-President. Other guests included the alumnae group from Cherokee. In a brief after dinner talk Mrs. Knapp gave many helpful suggestions for club work and activities.

Mrs. Elizabeth Harrington, club president, opened her new house for this meeting and following a custom of the club a little gift was presented to the new house.

In order to help finance the various philanthropic enterprises of the fraternity the club is planning a benefit bridge tea to be given at the Elks Club rooms on January 20.

Tentative plans have been made for a display and sale of Settlement School goods at Easter time.

The usual business and social meetings will continue through the late winter and spring.

A Panhellenic association was organized in Sioux City late last year. Pi Beta Phi sent representatives to the organization meeting and a number of the club members have joined the group.

WINNIPEG (CANADA) CLUB

In September many members of the Winnipeg Alumnae Club attended the Annual Homecoming of the University of Manitoba, at which time an inspection of the new Arts and Science Buildings was also made.

Our annual Charity Dance was held the same month at the Royal Alexandra Hotel. This took the form of a "Prosperity Prom."

A very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Katherine Middleton, October 30, when the Club entertained in honor of Marion Courtice, a recent bride.

In November the Bridge Clubs met jointly at the home of Mary Birt, the Executive Committee meeting first to discuss the agenda.

In December Mrs. Klein, Minnesota A, entertained very delightfully at a Christmas party. Over fifty stockings were filled with candy, nuts and toys to be distributed among needy children.

Our January meeting is to take the form of a party for our pledges.

The Club is looking forward with much pleasure and enthusiasm to again meeting Mrs. Buxton, our Province President.

It was with deep sorrow that the Club learned of the death of Libbie Brook Gaddis, our beloved Founder. Sincere and heartfelt sympathy is extended to her bereaved relatives and friends.

IOTA PROVINCE

CHEYENNE CLUB

The Cheyenne Club, maintaining a very good attendance, has been meeting regularly every month, with three members at a time acting as hostesses. We are glad to report the addition of several new members who are showing a very active interest in the club.

Money has been sent to Wyoming A for rushing, some charity work has been done, and we are now concentrating on the Settlement School contribution.

During the Christmas holidays an enjoyable "get-together" luncheon was held for all alumnae, actives, and pledges present in the city.

MARY A. KLINE

DENVER CLUB

The Denver Alumnae Club starts the new year in excellent financial condition. The Settlement School tea in October was the most successful ever given. Mrs. Thomas Clark, chairman, sent $425 to the School. All indebtedness has been paid and there is a balance in the treasury.

In December the Club joined with the active chapters of Colorado A and B in giving a dancing and card party. No meeting will be held in January. The February meeting will be devoted to ways and means of increasing membership.

LUCIA P. BAKER

LINCOLN CLUB

The Lincoln Alumnae Club had a luncheon with the active chapter this fall which was followed by a very successful exhibition and sale of Arrow Craft articles. A sale of Christmas gift wrappings netted us a nice profit and our vanilla sales have been extended by an arrangement with the Omaha Club to handle this product also. The club has been able to vote contributions to the Settlement School and the Undergraduate Loan Fund and a gift to the chapter house at the annual Christmas party given by the girls for the children of the alumnae.

MARY D. KESNER

OMAHA CLUB

The Omaha Alumnae Club begins 1934 with enthusiasm, paid memberships showing a substantial increase over this date last year. Unusually large attendance at the one dinner meeting fully justified the change from all luncheon and dinner meetings. The program chairman is finding interesting talent among the membership and is drawing upon it in planning her schedule for the year.

A charming guest at the December luncheon meeting was Miss Sarah Taylor, charter member of the Iowa A and sole survivor of her class. She told of knowing the founders of  $\Pi B \Phi$  and incidents of chapter life in I C Sorosis. Miss Taylor is now living in Omaha and it is hoped she will attend more meetings. Mrs. Kilbourne who teaches dietetics in the Omaha Schools gave a most enlightening talk on proper nutrition.

The program of the January meeting was built around Miss Davis, a musician who has recently completed European study.

ELOSIA COFFIN BOURKE

TOPEKA CLUB

The Topeka Alumnae Club is having monthly meetings this year in place of just the four required meetings.

We are delighted to have several new members and the entire club is showing a great deal of enthusiasm.

The Club was greatly pleased with the results of their sale of Settlement School Articles at a Tea given in November at the home of Mrs. Chester Woodward.

Mrs. Warren S. Miller, former Director of the Magazine Agency, is Chairman of the Agency for our Club.

KAPPA PROVINCE

DALLAS CLUB

The Dallas Club feels that it has had a pleasant and profitable fall and winter. The active membership has increased noticeably, nineteen names having been added since the September meeting. Each meeting has been well and enthusiastically attended.

The outstanding event in our program thus far is the Settlement School Tea held in November. More than two hundred and fifty guests called during the afternoon, and $225 was taken in from the sale of the articles made at Little Pigeon. The Club is delighted with the success of the tea.

We are now looking forward to the Bridge Tournament to be held probably in March, the proceeds of which go to the Settlement School.

JUNE H. GRANGER

HOUSTON CLUB

The Houston Alumnae Club entertained this fall at the country home of Mrs. E. E. Townes with a very successful barbecue for the benefit of the Settlement School.

The Club met November 24 at the home of Mrs. Maurice McAshan. We had an interesting meeting devoted to a discussion of the active chapter and rushing.

A delightful Christmas tea in honor of the pledges and rushees was given December 29, at the home of Mrs. Wallace Pratt.

JULIA SMITHER CUNNINGHAM

MUSKOGEE CLUB

The Muskogee Alumnae Club held a rummage sale early in the fall and the proceeds were put in the general fund. By having twenty-five people attend a cooking school sponsored by the Oklahoma Gas and Electric Co. we made $5, which was also put in the general fund.

Our regular November meeting was a luncheon at the Arrow Cafeteria with a hundred per cent local club attendance. All of the active members in school, and several visiting alumnae were guests.

On Wednesday, December 27, a rush tea was given, and on December 30, a luncheon was given for the local club members and active members.

SUE TURNER PITTS

NEW ORLEANS CLUB

The New Orleans Club held its first meeting of the New Year the first week in January. A nominating committee was appointed to select candidates for the coming election of officers in February.

It was decided that as soon as the new officers are elected, work on the carrying out of the plans for the annual bridge party for the benefit of the Settlement School will go forward. The party will be given as soon as possible after Carnival. It was also decided that we would try to give a benefit movie for the Loan Fund, also after the election of the new officers.

The active chapter gave a formal dance in December inviting the alumnae to attend. There were quite a number present, and the alumnae enjoyed it very much.

All of the members are looking forward to the Founders' Day banquet. This is an occasion in New Orleans when alumnae members from years back join again in the spirit of  $\Pi B \Phi$ .

We hope the other alumnae clubs feel as hopeful as we do over the prospect of another happy year in the Fraternity.

MARGARET HENRIQUES

NORMAN CLUB

The Norman Alumnae Club held its first meeting of the year in October. Plans were discussed and it was decided that we pay dues of twenty-five cents at each meeting to add to our Settlement School fund. Our December meeting was omitted. On January 8 we met and heard from Miss Harriett

W. Kritzer, of the art department of our university, an interesting account of her recent visit to the Settlement School.

SABINE DISTRICT CLUB

Sabine District Alumnae Club held a most successful meeting, November 18, in the form of a luncheon at the Country Club. Plans were discussed for the Settlement School sale, under the general chairmanship of Mrs. Ewell Strong. The magazine agency headed by Mrs. Winthrop Leach reported several subscriptions up to date with the promise of a good Christmas list. The decision to sell vanilla again this year was made.

The Settlement School sale was held December 7, 8, and 9 in the Edson Hotel, and a very nice sum was netted for the School fund.

ADELAIDE REED

SHREVEPORT CLUB

The Shreveport Alumnae Club meets the third Thursday of each month. A luncheon is served by the hostess and a co-hostess, this being followed by the business meeting and a short program.

Three regular meetings have been held this fall, the November meeting taking the form of a barbecue with husbands as guests. This was held at the Forty and Eight Club on Cross Lake.

This year stationery has been sold and a supply of mats from the Settlement School kept on hand to sell as the occasion demands.

URSIE BOLINGER LARUE

TULSA CLUB

The Tulsa Alumnae Club has held four meetings this year. The September meeting which was devoted to the installation of officers and a discussion of rush week activities at neighboring Universities, was in the home of Helen Bethel. During October the Club met with Mrs. D. M. Bradley. After a short business session Catherine Crissey gave a splendid review of The Barretts of Wimpole Street. At the Settlement School meeting the next month in the University Club, Arrow Craft products were exhibited and almost every article was sold. In December the Club spent an informal afternoon in the home of Mrs. John Rogers, sewing for Oklahoma B. Mrs. R. M. Wadsworth conducted a stimulating true and false quiz to refresh our memories in regard to the Constitution. Tea was served at the conclusion of each meeting. It was decided to hold both afternoon and evening meetings in order to increase attendance. ELINOR GRUBB WILLIAMS

LAMBDA PROVINCE

BOISE CLUB

The November meeting was a luncheon held at the home of Rachel Driscoll. The Club was favored at the December meeting by a visit from Juanita Gregory O'Day, Lambda Province Vice-President, who gave an inspirational talk on the various interests of the fraternity. A buffet supper was then served at which Mrs. O'Day poured. Mrs. O'Day was entertained during her visit at a luncheon held at the Hotel Boise.

The Club had a sale of Settlement School handicraft just before Christmas which netted about $30.

At the annual Panhellenic Ball held on December 29,  $\Pi B \Phi$  had charge of decorating the tables and received much praise for their attractiveness. During the holidays a bridge luncheon was held to honor the active members and pledges from Idaho A.

JESSIE DUNN

CORVALLIS CLUB

Juanita Gregory O'Day, Vice-President of Lambda Province, was the guest of the Corvallis Alumnae Club at its monthly informal supper held December 6, at the home of Mrs. William Mynatt. Our group enjoyed immensely the intimate but inspirational and helpful talk given by Mrs. O'Day regarding the internal problems of the club and those connected with the active chapter.

On December 11 we surprised the active chapter with a Christmas party. The traditional party of the holiday season was not held this year by the active girls because it was felt that there were other more important uses for the funds usually expended on the entertainment. Dessert was served by our group to the younger girls who were grouped informally around the Christmas tree singing carols. Tiny red candles esconced on green gum-drops beside the individual plum puddings provided the only light except that shed from the illuminated tree.

Our plans for the near future include those respecting convention attendance and an entertainment for the  $\Pi B \Phi$  mothers living in Corvallis. We also are arranging with the active chapter to extend an invitation to the collegiate and alumnae  $\Pi \Phi$  in Eugene to join us in celebrating Founders' Day.

ALICE INGALLS

EUGENE CLUB

Shortly after the resumption of fall activities in October, members of the Eugene Alumnae Club entertained pledges of Oregon A at supper.

The supper meetings of the club, held on the first Tuesday of every month, have proved a successful drawing card, as approximately 90 per cent of resident alumnae attend. We are trying it out this year for each alumnae to pay $1 national dues and pay 25 cents every time we attend an alumnae meeting, which is a lovely six o'clock supper served by three of the members. This year we have a membership close to twenty-five.

At the meeting on November 7, Harriet King Sinnard, Iowa  $\Gamma$ , showed moving pictures of the World's Fair, taken by her and her husband, H. R. Sinnard, instructor in the school of Architecture at the University of Oregon.

Juanita Gregory O'Day, Washington B, newly-appointed Vice-President of Lambda Province, was guest of honor for the December meeting, held at the home of Anne Landsbury Beck. Mrs. O'Day discussed the situation of the Settlement School as well as other national projects, and suggested new ways of earning funds.

Lucy Howe, senior in the active chapter, has recently been elected to  $\Phi B K$  scholastic honorary, with the highest rating ever to be attained at the University. Lucy's home is in Eugene; she is the daughter of Professor H. C. Howe.

The Club voted to allow $25 for Settlement School this year.

We are indeed sorry to hear of the death of our beloved Founder, Libbie Brook Gaddis.

KATHRYN RICKABAUGH

PORTLAND CLUB

The Portland Alumnae Club events have been well attended this year. The annual Settlement School tea was held in November at the home of Mrs. Raymond Brown. A large crowd attended and many selected purchases from the pleasing display of Settlement School products. The  $\Pi \Phi$  in Portland are proud of the school products and are glad to pass them on to non- $\Pi \Phi$  as gifts where the Arrow Craft tags often arouse questions of interest.

Just before Thanksgiving we gave a supper dance at the Congress Hotel which was a success socially as well as financially and is to be made an annual affair.

In December the club was happy to entertain the Province Vice-President, Mrs. R. M. O'Day, at our Christmas party. Her visit proved to be very helpful to the officers and was also enjoyed by those present at the party. A no host luncheon was also given in honor of Mrs. O'Day.

The Christmas charity committee, Mrs. C. Ashley Cook, Chairman, prepared Christmas baskets of food, clothing, and toys for five needy families.

With sincere regret the Portland Club has just learned of the death of our Founder, Libbie Brook Gaddis.

EVALYN BAILEY JAQUES

SALEM CLUB

The Salem Alumnae Club held its third annual bridge benefit-tea November 18, at the home of Adjutant General and Mrs. George A. White. There were thirteen tables of bridge in play during the afternoon. Settlement School products were on display.

The week-end of December 8, the club enjoyed a visit from Mrs. O'Day, Province Vice-President. Friday evening the club met with Mrs. James R. Humphrey for a buffet supper after which Mrs. O'Day spoke informally. Saturday afternoon Mrs. Raymond Bonesteel entertained at tea in honor of Mrs. O'Day.

The regular December meeting was a Christmas party and cooky-shine at the home of Mrs. Don Pritchett, with Mrs. Wolcott Buren and Mrs. Edwin Keech as assistant hostesses. Bridge was played during the evening and gifts exchanged at the cooky-shine. Of special interest was a surprise shower for Mrs. Walter Fuhrer (Claudia Plank) who now has a daughter, Nancy Elizabeth, born December 21.

We are glad to have as new members this year, Mrs. Edward E. Sox (Mae Anderson, Oregon A) and Rhea Nelson (North Dakota A).

In January there is to be a luncheon and in February the meeting will be given to a study of our constitution and history. March will feature a buffet supper and April our Founders' Day banquet. In May we shall have a luncheon meeting and in June the election of officers.

TACOMA (INEZ SMITH SOULE) CLUB

An evening group was organized this last fall and since then we have been having an afternoon meeting and evening meeting every month. Our attendance has been greatly increased.

Book reviews, music, bridge, the making of a quilt to be raffled, the Settlement School program given by Ruth Sturley who has been a member of the faculty there, and the luncheon at the Winthrop Hotel for the active members have been the main activities this year.

At one of our most enjoyable meetings of the year, we were honored with the presence of our Province Vice-President, Juanita Gregory O'Day.

ALICE WHITNEY

WENATCHEE CLUB

During November the Wenatchee Alumnae Club was fortunate in having a visit from Juanita O'Day, Lambda Province Vice-President. The club met at the home of Mrs. Walter Horan, and Mrs. O'Day told us many interesting things about the work of the other alumnae clubs she had visited and also about the active chapter at Washington State College. Her visit was very much enjoyed by our members, and we feel that we gained a great many new ideas from her talk.

Grace Weister entertained the members of the Club at a Christmas party, December 14. Mrs. Merritt Newdall, a former member of our club who is now residing in Coquille, Oregon, was a guest. At this meeting it was reported that our club had donated $2.50 to the local Christmas Cheer Fund.

The January meeting of the Club was held at the home of Mrs. A. H. Sylvester on January 9.

The Wenatchee Alumnae Club wish to extend their sympathy to Mrs. Paul West upon the death of her mother.

MU PROVINCE

ALBUQUERQUE CLUB

The Albuquerque Alumnae Club holds monthly meetings from September through May, usually on the fourth Friday. Although there are only twelve members, we feel that the enthusiasm and interest of each member compensate in a measure for the small number. The September meeting was chiefly one of reorganization after the summer months. At the October meeting plans were laid for the exhibit and sale of articles from the Arrow Craft Shop, which took the place of the regular November meeting. This exhibit was quite successful, in that we sold many articles outright and took orders for many more. We hope to dispose of the remaining things during the coming months. One device our club employs is that of a raffle within the club membership. Five dollars worth of chances are sold at 25 cents a chance, the holders of the two lucky numbers being given the choice of $3 and $2 respectively in Arrow Craft products. The club members are also "hoarding" tinfoil with a view of selling it for the Settlement School Fund later in the year. In January the annual "husbands' dinner" will be held at the home of Mrs. Hugh B. Woodward. Articles from the Arrow Craft Shop will be given as prizes.

ROSSELLE GOULD FARRIS

BERKELEY CLUB

The annual cooky-shine was held at the home of our president, Mrs. Claude T. Faw, December 11, with quite a large attendance. Several new members were present. An interesting business meeting was held and many of the Pi Phi songs were sung during the evening. Mrs. J. P. Beale and Barbara-Lu White were chairmen of the delightful affair.

Mrs. Van der Naillen who has charge of the Arrow Craft products made many sales during the evening. After the first of the year she is planning to display the articles in a shop window of one of our members who very kindly offered the space. In this way we hope to make sales to the general public.

The initiation banquet which will be held some time in January will have Mrs. Ben Gerwick as chairman.

MRS. HARRY REINHARDT

Coming Events

February—Evening card party. Mrs. F. C. Kracaw, chairman. March—Rummage Sale. Mrs. H. P. Houston, chairman. April—Founders' Day Luncheon. Mrs. Dudley Smith, chairman.

GLENDALE CLUB

Our regular meetings have been held as scheduled except the last one which was held January 8, instead of January 4, due to the flood in the Glendale area on January 1. All of our members escaped injury but many have had unusual experiences.

The Bridge-Benefit and the Rummage Sale were both very successful and netted us funds for the Settlement School and Loan Fund. The December meeting was a Christmas Party for the two active chapters, California F and California A. Gifts were presented to each chapter.

Coming Events

March 1—Dessert 1 o'clock. Home of Marguerite Colley. April 5—Dessert, 7 o'clock, home of Genevieve Dunn. May 3—Pot Luck, home of Jessie Cline. June 7—Dessert, 7 o'clock, home of Eva Brook.

LONG BEACH CLUB

The December meeting of the club was a Christmas bridge tea on December 8, at the home of Alta Harding Williams. Ethlyn Bradley Goddard and Freda Kuhne Nicholson assisted.

A buffet supper and bridge at the home of Winifred Seay Morris was held January 12. Lucille Lawson Hall, Janet Wardell, and Gertrude Clarke were the assisting hostesses.

LORA RINEHART BARR

LOS ANGELES CLUB

The Los Angeles Alumnae Club gave a theater benefit at the El Capitan last November. The house was sold out and the party was a great success.

A lovely Christmas dinner was held at the home of Ruth Porter Grady for the December meeting. Christmas Carols were sung and a clever skit was presented in which a gift of $500 to the Settlement School was announced.

Our president, Luella Jackson Beresford, was called east so Dorothy Parke Tulien, the first vice-president has taken her place and is carrying on the year's program in grand fashion.

The January meeting was held at the Assistance League which is a charitable organization. A varied program was arranged by the program chairman.

EDWARDA ROTHE CHESTER

PASADENA CLUB

Fall activities of the Pasadena Alumnae Club began with a luncheon held at the home of Miss Lois Woodruff. Settlement School products were exhibited, and an interesting talk was made by Mrs. Charles Russell Blakely, who taught in the Settlement School in 1916. Grace Post gave a report on the improvement and the decided development of the Settlement School since that time.

Mrs. Charles E. Carver was hostess at the November meeting. A representative of the Catalina Island Pottery Company made a short talk and demonstrated the uses of the clay in modeling the pottery. Tea was served by Mrs. Carver and her daughter, Mrs. Brenton Henderson.

On December 9, the Club enjoyed a musicale given by Mrs. C. H. Rauch, at the home of Mrs. N. F. Stevens.

Contrary to previous years the sale of the Settlement School products was not carried on throughout the year. It was decided that the club would offer the goods for sale during the Christmas season. Through the courtesy of Mr. Dorn, father of Mrs. R. G. Selph, and Ruth Dorn, members of the club, a store was donated for the sale. The sale carried out in this manner proved to be very successful and helped considerably to lighten the burden of the Settlement School Chairman.

EVELYN M. PETERS

PHOENIX CLUB

In October, Mrs. Alford, our Province President, visited us following her trip to the Tucson chapter. She gave us many valuable suggestions and engendered much enthusiasm. She attended our first meeting, a cooky-shine, and everyone felt inspired by her talk.

The bridge-luncheon in November at Mrs. Roger Peterson's suburban home was well attended. More definite committees were formed in order to raise the Settlement School contribution. Each captain has about five or six girls in her group.

Since Mrs. Alford had said that a money gift would probably be more acceptable to the Tucson chapter this year, the club plans to raise some money for it at a Progressive bridge-luncheon in January.

The club did not meet in December, in order to give time for the groups to raise their money for the Settlement School, and also because the Christmas holiday affairs probably would conflict with our regular meeting date.

MRS. O. W. THOENY

SAN DIEGO CLUB

Our first monthly luncheon was held in September at the home of Mrs. Homer D. Peabody. We were happy to welcome into the club five new members: Frances Estes Boughn (Mrs. S. L.), California A; Alice Wyeth Hinman (Mrs. O. J.), California B; Mary McFarland Miller (Mrs. H. H.), California A; Phyllis Curtis Peery (Mrs. Alan), Iowa I; Carey Bailard Phelps (Mrs. Walter), California A. The October meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Terrill Scott. Plans were made for the annual Christmas charity project. In December, Mrs. F. D. Harbaugh opened her home to the club for the purpose of carrying out this project. Members brought baskets of food, clothing, and toys and distributed them to needy families. In January we will have an evening meeting in the form of a cooky-shine at the home of Mrs. Ralph E. Bach. We will discuss plans for the Beatrice Edmonds' play review which the club is sponsoring for the benefit of the Settlement School.

MARY EMRICH VAN BUREN

SAN FRANCISCO CLUB

During the fall months several members of the Club have gathered for informal afternoons of bridge, and in October a luncheon was given at the St. Francis Hotel for Charlotte Lansing, New York A. Miss Lansing was in San Francisco while starring in the musical production "Show Boat."

This month a buffet supper—our annual cookyshine—will be held, and in February the bridge tea for the Settlement School will be given at the Mark Hopkins Hotel.

SANTA MONICA CLUB

The Santa Monica Alumnae Club has held three meetings this season; the first at the home of the President, Mrs. Charles Walters. In October a tea for the two active chapters at Los Angeles and visiting Pi Phi was held at the lovely new home of Mrs. Warren Smith.

The benefit for the Settlement School, which was to have been held in January, has been postponed until April and it will be held at the Delta chapter house.

GLADYS CRAIG TEBBE

TUCSON CLUB

A very charming luncheon party was held in October at the home of Mrs. Gerald Jones in El Encanto Estates in honor of the chapter members and new pledges. Mrs. P. K. Hill (Mary Frances Crane) had charge of the arrangements.

The club had a very delightful visit from Adele Taylor Alford, Mu Province President. The Advisory Council met with her at luncheon at the Old Pueblo Club and the whole club had a combined business and social meeting at the chapter house in the evening.

In December there were two events of great interest. The Settlement School tea, held at the chapter house, was a decided success socially and financially. The Christmas party is an annual event. Florence Jackson Meyers took charge of the buffet supper and the pledges put on their annual stunt circus.

VIRGINIA M. CROWFOOT

UTAH CLUB

At a short business meeting, November 4, plans were made to raise money for the Settlement School and various other funds. On November 12, the officers and executive council had a dinner at the Art Barn for Adele Taylor Alford, President of Mu Province. This same day a number of active and alumnae members of Utah A were initiated into Mortar Board, national honorary fraternity for women, which was recently installed at the University of Utah.

The regular monthly luncheon was held at the chapter house on December 2. A delightful musical program was furnished by members of the active chapter. A rummage sale on December 9, together with sales of Christmas cards, stationery, and magazines, added materially to the various funds, over two hundred dollars having been raised since September. On December 27, a tea was given at the home of Mrs. Martin Lindem (Marjorie Wasson) for the active chapter and prospective pledges, this taking the place of the January meeting.

Utah Alpha alumnae and active members are delighted at the recent granting of a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa to the University of Utah.

INITIATED, October 27, 1933: Margaret Hill, Annabel Scott, Toronto.

The University of Toronto intercollegiate teams were very successful this year. The senior and junior rugby teams again captured the trophies in their respective groups. For the sixth year in succession the rowing crew won their annual race with McGill.

Not long ago an English or Empire Week was held and very prominent and interesting speakers gave addresses, some of which were illustrated. At the present time an Italian week is being held and some of the speakers are from Italy.

On December 21, after the weekly meeting, the Christmas party was held in the apartments. Each member gave a present to the fraternity enclosing a little verse in the parcel. The incoming and outgoing presidents opened the gifts and read the verses. These were highly amusing to the chapter. The present from the alumnae club this year included numerous luncheon sets, each piece having II B  $\Phi$  embroidered in the corner.

As a house is out of the question this year, the chapter has been enjoying lunch in the apartment each day. This constant fellowship among the members greatly increases the fraternal bond. Frequently the members bring guests to these luncheons. Unfortunately, the chapter is forbidden by the Dean of Women to invite prospective rushees to these social gatherings.

For philanthropic work, a subscription dance was held in January. Selling tickets even for a dance is no sinecure in these days when money is so scarce.

In 1927 Ontario A presented a cup for scholarship for which all fraternities on the Campus are eligible. This year this fraternity won the cup.

PLEGGED: Patricia Allen, Elizabeth Carruthers, Peggy Dinnock, Helen Glendenning, Mary Greay, Mary Hartshaw, Mary Somerville, Jane Trow, of Toronto.

INITIATED, December 4, 1933: Margaret Asnip, Saco; Doris Lawrence, Arrowsic; Flora Stone, Fort Fairfield; Ada Woodman.

For the third consecutive year, the state championship in football was won by the University of Maine. This year they were undefeated in any of the state games. Unusual enthusiasm was shown this year and giant pep rallies were held before each game.

Bill Hunnewell, Maine's star freshman cross-country runner, broke away from all opposition to win the freshman intercollegiate cross-country championship of the United States, on the three-mile course at Van Courtlandt Park in New York City.

Gaiety and color were the highlights of the II B  $\Phi$  informal held at the Dorothy Memorial Hall in Bangor.

Military ball, the event of the season, took place in December. The feature of the evening was the announcement of the election of the honorary lieutenant colonel. There were four nominees upon whose names the persons attending the ball based their selections. Ruth Libby, a pledge, was among these.

Ruth Libby, chosen as an "All Maine Woman" in her sophomore year after having been a member of the sophomore eagles, was also a member of the W.S.G.C., and of the Maine outing club. She is women's news editor of the Campus and is one of the highest ranking students in the junior class.

She has been active in journalism and also on the Freshman during her freshman year. She was chosen a member of Neai Mathetai and of  $\Sigma N \Sigma$ , honorary psychology fraternity. ### VERMONT ALPHA—MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE

Chartered, 1893

An attempt has been made at Middlebury to return sororities to their normal activities. Bidding of the sophomore class was tried just before Christmas vacation and Vermont A felt very fortunate when it received the acceptances of seven girls out of a maximum allowance set by Panhellenic at eight. There has been no pledge date designated by the council as yet, waiting for further action by the trustees.

Vermont A has had a share in campus honors. Doris Hiller had the leading part in the first three-act play of the year and Faith Arnold and Josephine Knox have been in one-act performances. Several members have played on class hockey and volleyball teams.

The college is planning a series of broadcasting programs over WGY every Saturday afternoon including chapel services, musical clubs, and all other phases of college life.

Pledge Day, November 27, 1933

There have been several functions here at school within the last few weeks, and in each of them Pi Phi has been conspicuously active.

On December 6, Gamma Delta banquet, an annual get-together given by  $\Gamma \Delta$ , the women's association at C.L.A., was held in Jacob Sleeper Hall at 6 o'clock. Of the cheer leaders and speakers appointed by Gamma Delta Cabinet the following were Pi Phi: Ronnie Werho, Freshman cheer leader, Eleanor Martin, Sophomore speaker, Margaret Jackson, Junior cheer leader, and Martha Chapman, head cheer leader.

Then on December 18, Gamma Delta sponsored a Christmas Party, which was held on the "marble" from 4 to 6, and to which all the professors and their wives were invited, as well as the entire student body. The general chairman of this affair was Martha Chapman, the chapter president.

Pi Phi were shining lights in athletics, also, and the following made their class volleyball teams: Freshman team: Ronnie Werho, captain, Elsa Bates, Lucie de Haro, Ida Finch and Astrid Malmsten.

NEW YORK ALPHA—SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1896

Pledge Day, October 21, 1933

The intercollegiate Model League of Nations Council met at Syracuse University the first week in December. Seven colleges and universities of Central New York were represented on the council.

Boar's Head, campus dramatic society, presented "A Mid-summer Night's Dream" on November 2, 3, 4, with great success. The Syracuse University symphony assisted at the first performance.

The student loan fund has been conducting a vigorous drive this year because of the great need among members of the student body. The proceeds from the all-university Colgate dance were contributed to this fund. It was also enthusiastically supported by all the Greek letter societies on campus.

New York A conducted a successful rushing season in the fall. A unique method of entertaining the rushees was employed during one of the evening parties. The girls gathered around the radio to hear eight of the chapter members broadcast a group of  $\Pi B \Phi$  songs over WSYR, the local station.

The annual Christmas party was held at the house on December 18. The pledges presented the chapter with six pairs of silver candlesticks for the dining room. A beautiful vase was given to the chapter by the mothers' club. The toys received by the members at the party were distributed among the poor children of the city.

The Christmas formal dance was held at the Hotel Syracuse on December 8. The ballroom was attractively decorated with evergreens and mistletoe. Red and green lights, playing on a revolving crystal ball which was suspended from the center of the ceiling, gave a very pleasing lighting effect.

A number of the New York A members who live in New York City and vicinity conducted a dance at the Hotel Astor during the Christmas holidays. Several alumnae as well as members of New York  $\Delta$  and New York  $\Gamma$  attended the dance.

Early in November John Erskine and Owen D. Young, one of our alumni, were present at a dinner sponsored by the Women's Student Government Association. Mr. Erskine presented some very interesting views on a more liberal educational system. Pledge Day, October 10, 1933

The members of A  $\Sigma$  A were entertained at supper at the chapter house before the Christmas vacation.

A cooky-shine was given at the chapter house at which the alumnae presented the chapter with many books. At another cooky-shine, held at the home of Mrs. Paul Case, the house received gifts of jams and jellies.

The annual Christmas party was held at the chapter house on December 20.

Gilbert and Sullivan's Mikado was presented by the Dramatic Club, Women's Glee Club, Men's Glee Club, and the Instrumental Club. Among those who took part in the production were Barbara Crandall, Irene Christatos, Mary Seaman, and Hildegard Uelzmann, in the chorus; Dorothea Summers who is an associate member of the Dramatic Club helped with the costuming, Isabel Krows, make-up. It was the first time in the history of Cornell that these clubs combined to give a performance. The production was a great success and two performances were given. The Women's Glee Club and the Men's Glee Club are going to give a joint concert in the early spring.

During the Christmas vacation many alumnae and active members of this chapter attended a luncheon at the Hotel Astor. Several girls attended the dance at the Hotel Astor given by New York A. The Cornell Women's Club gave a tea at the Barblizon Hotel on December 30.

The Dramatic Club presented "Another Language" as its first production of the new year. Elizabeth Truump took the part of Grace Hallam.

The chapter held an informal dance at the chapter house on January 20.

The skating season is in full swing, and for the first time in three years the toboggan slide has been made ready for use.

Harriett Bennett has been elected to the Widow board.

Every Thursday evening each house exchanges dinner guests with another house. This idea was proposed by Panhellenic and has been very successful.

PENNSYLVANIA ALPHA—SWARTH- MORE COLLEGE

Chartered, 1892

It is a source of deep regret to both chapter members and alumnae of Pennsylvania Alpha that women's fraternities on the Swarthmore campus have been definitely and finally abolished. The final vote was taken on December 12, 1933, under the supervision of the W.S.G.A. The abolition vote secured the necessary sixty per cent majority required by the Board of Managers to decide the issue. As there has been no rushing or pledging at Swarthmore for the past two years there are only eleven members in the chapter now. However, these few actives are endeavoring to continue the work and uphold the ideals of B  $\Phi$  that have been passed on to them by alumnae and fraternity supporters. The chapter will continue under its present organization throughout the school year and plans for disbanding and relinquishing fraternity property will not materialize until next year. It is interesting that the Pi Phi chapter at Swarthmore was the only fraternity on the campus to vote unanimously for the retention of women's fraternities.

Miss Onken's visit to the chapter in November was the source of much interest and great inspiration to the actives as well as to the alumnae of the chapter. The actives entertained with an informal tea in her honor, followed by a dinner, then the weekly chapter meeting in the lodge. She was also entertained by the Philadelphia Alumnae Club while in this vicinity.

Pennsylvania A has been the guest of the Alumnae Club twice this fall, once at a supper party in Lansdowne, Pennsylvania, and once at a luncheon in the home of Mrs. J. A. Turner of Swarthmore. The chapter held its annual Christmas party this year in the home of Nancy Harvey of Swarthmore who was graduated last year. The annual Swarthmore college house-party at Sky Top in the Pocono mountains was held as usual between semesters this year. Winter sports, dancing, and indoor games proved to be popular entertainment for both men and women after the trying ordeal of mid-year examinations. The winter formal given by the W.S.G.A. was held the last of January at the Aronomink Country Club and was one of the most successful co-ed affairs of the year.

Among the personal notices of Pennsylvania A are the announcements of two engagements—one, of Esther Wilson to Kenneth Clark of Philadelphia, and the other of Jeanette Marr to Hunter

Corbett of New York City, who was also graduated from Swarthmore College in 1933. Mr. Corbett was a member of Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity. Elizabeth Reller, who has been studying dramatics at the Royal Academy in London this year, spent her Christmas vacation in a small resort town in Austria where she went especially to enjoy and indulge in the winter sports for which the mountaintops of Austria are so popular.

The chapter is expecting a visit from the Beta Province President before March. It will be Mrs. Finger's first visit to the chapter and the actives are all looking forward to having her here.

The Y.W.C.A. gave a bazaar on December 11 and 12.

The Settlement School display was held the afternoon of December 13, 1933, in Larison Sun Parlor. Many attractive articles made by the Mountain Whites were exhibited and sold at this time.

The winter formal of Beta Chapter was held December 16, in the Tustin Gymnasium, which was decorated in harmony with the Yuletide season.

The Bucknell Department of Music gave "The Messiah," by Handel, on December 12, at the Lewisburg Baptist Church. Helen Godcharles, '35, Margaret Tomlinson, '36, Margaret Blair, '36, Anna Lucy Dunlap, '37, Frances Miles, '37, and Romlyn Rivenburg, '35, sang in the chorus.

A college dance orchestra has been formed at Bucknell, and will play frequently at college dances.

The Kappa Delta Inspector, Miss Anne Fayssoux Johnston, visited the chapter the week of January 8. She attended the winter formal given by the Kappa Delta Fraternity, January 13, 1934.

PENNSYLVANIA GAMMA—DICKINSON COLLEGE

Chartered, 1903

Pledge Day, October 6, 1933

Upon the resignation of Dean Montgomery P. Sellers, Dr. Earnest Albert Vuilleumier, professor of chemistry and dean of the freshman class, was named dean of Dickinson College. Dean Vuilleumier received his doctor's degree from the University of Berne, Switzerland, and was acting Swiss Consul at Philadelphia during the summer of 1923. He is the inventor of the Dickinson alchom-eter and of the Dickinson solids hydrometer. Dean Vuilleumier is a member of O Δ K and of Φ B K.

The doll show, sponsored annually by the Y.W.C.A. to provide a plentiful and merry Christmas for the children of Shiremanstown orphanage, was held the night before Christmas vacation and followed by an all-college cut-in dance. Pennsylvania Γ was represented on the general committee by the following chairmen: Christina Meredith and Priscilla McConnell, gifts; Bernadette DeFalco, program; Harriet Matter, vice-president of the Y.W.C.A., tickets.

After the home basketball games the fraternity houses on the campus have been open for dancing until eleven o'clock. After each game four different houses received guests and everyone, no matter what fraternity, is welcome. This provides a successful way to break down unfriendly fraternity barriers.

As a result of a recent national contest sponsored by the National Press Association the Microcosm, Dickinson College yearbook received an "A" rating. In former times this book was published by the junior class alone, but a new plan has been worked out whereby it is an all-college book. The editor and business manager are juniors and the rest of the staff is chosen from the freshman, sophomore and junior classes.

When courses were elected for the second semester Dean Vuilleumier announced the addition to the curricula of courses in oratory, grammar, Emerson, and modern economic problems.

Pennsylvania Γ is proud to have shown great signs of having raised the chapter scholastic average at the last roll call. Everyone tried hard to keep the grades up.

January 17 at the Φ K Ψ house the chapter held a formal tea in honor of their pledges and patronesses. A new patroness, Mrs. Emory Hartman, K K Γ, from DePauw University, was presented.

This year the chapter held a clever and entertaining Christmas party in the fraternity rooms. Each girl gave and received a small gift which was accompanied by original and appropriate verse. When these verses were read aloud the chapter saw evidences of some budding poetesses.

OHIO ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF OHIO

Pledge Day, September 29, 1933

INITIATED, October 14, 1933: Ellen Biddle, Mary Jane Crawford, Helen Moats, Harriet Roth.

A dinner was held recently in honor of Dean Irma Voigt who has been on campus for twenty years. The students wished to show their appreciation of her great interest and activity on the campus. Her portrait is to be painted for the university.

The Y.W.C.A. has been engaging for some years in philanthropic work in the mining towns that are near Athens. It has established in them Saturday schools where helpful activities are taught by women of the university to the underprivileged children of the miners. The children are as enthusiastic about learning as the girls are about teaching them, consequently the work is a great success. There are also clubs being organized among the mothers of these children. In this way they hope to improve the living conditions in the communities.

At the last convocation Helen Schafer and Betty Bryan were called for Cresset, a senior honorary organization for women who have over a B average, and who are outstanding on the campus. Betty Bryan was also elected to Φ B K and K Δ II.

Preparations for the annual skit show are being made; it will take place in April. Each women's organization on the campus enters their pledge class. The pledges write an original skit and enact it. The winning group is awarded a cup. This show is considered one of the major activities on the campus.

The dean is presenting on Sunday nights a series of book reviews. Each week a new book of merit is reviewed by one of the professors.

INITIATED, November 12, 1933: Virginia Ackerman, Bettie Andrus, Mary Jane Bope, Marcia Fassig, Frances Hamilton, Elaine Hart, Maxine Henest, Elizabeth Hoover, Marjorie Hughes, Jean Middleton, Varian Mills, Freda Postle, Helen Reeder, Olga Schlesinger, Jane Woodward, and Anne Worrell, Columbus; Genevieve Burr, Reynoldsburg; Harriet Ewing, Pomeroy; Betty Garner, Lima; Carol Hagaman, Cleveland Heights; Anna Louise Rickey, Portsmouth; Margaret Trippy, Van Wert.

As one of the national C.W.A. projects, University Hall Chapel, in the oldest building of the campus, is being remodeled this winter. In this chapel Ohio State played host to a group of students who gave, for six consecutive weeks, plays depicting the economic and social problems of 1933. The players were students or graduates of different colleges of Ohio who were unable to find employment, and who chose this field in presenting the most important questions and difficulties of today. The plays were sponsored by the Y.M.C.A. and the Y.W.C.A. of the campus, and were free to the public.

The entire student body and the faculty of Ohio State were saddened at the recent death of Dr. William O. Thompson, president emeritus of the university.

Ohio B was honored by the visit of the Beta Province President, Mrs. Ray H. Finger. A tea was given for her pleasure Sunday, November 20, to which alumnae and girls from all other sororities of the campus were invited.

One of the most informal parties ever given by Ohio B was a Dads' Day dinner, in honor of the fathers of the actives and pledges. The chapter had two weeks previously been awarded a loving cup for the best sorority house decorations for the homecoming football game.

Maxine Hengst and Marcia Fassig received the pledge awards for scholarship at the annual Panhellenic banquet. Josephine Baker also received special recognition fall quarter by playing the leading rôle of "June Moon" in the Ring Lardner comedy which was given by the Strollers Dramatic Society.

The Mistletoe Tea Dance, the only large social function to be given by W.S.G.A. was held December 9. Ellen Wiley McMurray was in charge of the dance.

OHIO DELTA—OHIO WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1925

Pledge Day, November 5, 1933

INITIATED, November 4, 1933: Mary Jane Burns, Marietta.

Ohio  $\Delta$  was happy to entertain Mrs. Ray Finger in November, in whose honor a Panhellenic tea was held in the chapter rooms. Two members from every women's fraternity were invited.

Ellen Hopkins was elected homecoming queen at the Cincinnati-Ohio Wesleyan football game on November 11. This year's homecoming was one of the largest and most successful the university has known. It marked the third time in her college career that Ellen was crowned; she was chosen to act as queen at two previous university dances. Ohio  $\Delta$  had an open-house at the rooms for the alumnae and their friends. At the homecoming dance Betty Hutchinson was chosen as one of the six beauties to have a picture in the year-book.

On November 1 the women's fraternities resumed rushing after a month of closed rushing under the new Panhellenic rules.

Ohio  $\Delta$  held its annual winter formal November 18. Each member invited a guest from another women's fraternity. In order to curb expenses somewhat the programs for the dance were made by various members and a committee put up the decorations. Another social event which was especially enjoyed by the group was a Christmas dinner in the rooms before vacation. Only the actives and pledges were present.

An interesting item was the resignation of William E. Smyser as dean of the college. He has been connected with Ohio Wesleyan for about thirty-five years. However, he will continue his work as professor of English.

As a new device for raising the scholarship, Ohio  $\Delta$  has been having special uninterrupted study hours in the chapter rooms every Saturday morning and afternoon, where all pledges and the actives with low grades are required to study. The success of the plan cannot be determined until next semester.

After the holidays two rummage sales were held for the benefit of the Settlement School.

Leah Gentle was appointed Panhellenic scholarship chairman. Ellen Hopkins, Mary Todd, and Winifred Peck were recently initiated into the honorary sociology fraternity. Ohio  $\Delta$  has three members on the Y.W.C.A. cabinet: Mary Todd, Dorothy Fenton, and Helen Enochs. Helen Bieberson was elected president of  $\Delta \Phi \Delta$ , national art fraternity. Mary Weisall, Betty Hutchinson, and Melba Gaylor were taken into the Freshman Players. Dora Louise Patton was elected freshman representative in W.S.G.A.

PLEGGED: Melba Gaylor, Cliftondale, Mass.; Martha Baughn, Zenia; Gladys Plocher, Elyria; Katherine Ringwald, Chillicothe.

WEST VIRGINIA ALPHA—WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1918

Pledge Day, October 1, 1933

INITIATED, November 25, 1933: Mary Elizabeth Nutter, Fairmont; Jane Holt, Weston; Elizabeth Huey, Mannington.

Two of the three women recently elected to membership in  $\Phi \beta \kappa$  were of the chapter. They are Betty Carson and Margaret Wilbourn. A banquet was held in honor of the new initiates at the Morgan Hotel.

Mrs. Ray H. Finger, Beta Province President, was guest for several days in October. A luncheon was given in her honor by the members of the chapter advisory board, and a tea was given by the chapter.

In order to promote interfraternal friendship the pledges gave a tea in honor of the pledges of all the other sororities on the campus. The pledges also entertained the actives with an informal dance in November.

The chapter was presented with a silver loving cup by the student council for having the best float in the Thanksgiving day parade.

There has been a drastic change in the Panhellenic rushing rules for next fall. It promises to be a decided improvement over the former rules.

Margaret Wilbourn attended the joint counsel meeting of the Middle Atlantic region conference of Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. at West Chester, Pa., where she presented a report of the Canadian Conference.

Dorothy Stevens was one of the three university representatives at the National Student Federation of American conference which was held in Washington, D.C., during the holidays.

Since West Virginia A is stressing high scholarship, actives are trying to help the pledges form good study habits by studying in the university library with those pledges who have not made the required average.

A loan of $400,000 to the West Virginia Board of Control will make possible the erection of a new men's dormitory and two additional wings to the women's dormitory at the university.

The traditional Christmas party was held at the house the night before vacation. As is the custom the fraternities sang carols at the sorority houses and dormitories.

★MARYLAND ALPHA—GOUCHER COLLEGE

Chartered, 1897

Pledge Day, December 18, 1933

INITIATED, November 28, 1933: Martha Carson, Moorestown, N.J.; Maxine Caudill, Morehead, Ky.; Katharine King, Baltimore; Mary Louise Mercer, Wyomissing, Pa.

Goucher has "Tone" now, not in the traditional fashion, but in the form of a new decorum committee which chose this name as expressing most completely the purpose of this organization. The plan is not to complicate life by more rules but to emphasize the necessary things for unity and solidarity of classes, for more graciousness in daily life, and fashionableness in doing kindly though little acts. Twelve outstanding seniors have been chosen as best fitted to foster the new trend. Madeleine Bowler, president of Panhellenic and the chapter, was among those selected.

A complete reorganization of Panhellenic council was made this year. A constitution was drawn up from all the best material available and published for the use of the freshmen. The booklet also contains the Panhellenic Creed and statistics of all fraternities upon campus in regard to their local, national, and financial status. The compiling and editing was done by Madeleine Bowler.

A new infirmary was established this year with a complete change of staff officers. The rooms are painted in soft colors, decorated with attractive furniture, and good lighting arranged. An ample supply of magazines have been made available, and a radio installed in a cozy sitting room for the convalescents. A benefit performance of Eva Le Gallienne's "Alice in Wonderland" was given for the infirmary fund.

Recently a bridge tournament was arranged by a committee of students for the benefit of the Goucher Scholarship Fund. Faculty and students chose partners and enrolled for twenty-five cents. The finals were between Dr. Lloyd, professor of chemistry, and Dr. Riches, assistant professor of political science and two students. A silver trophy was awarded to the winners.

The president and the faculty announced before Thanksgiving holidays an experiment to last one year, that absences from classes before and after vacations would be permissible. The aim was to focus attention on the main purpose of college enterprise, by clearing away what seemed an indefensible and arbitrary penalty. This shift from institutional compulsion to individual freedom agrees with adult education and the maturity and intelligence of students.

October 28, Goucher sent representatives of the athletic association to Hood College at Frederick to compete there in athletics together with George Washington University of Washington, D.C. Helen Grant is president of A.A. This semester the physical education department is beginning classes in fencing. The students are building teams around the famous names in the "Three Musketeers."

November 17, Goucher debated Princeton on the question, "Resolved: That the state dispensing system is the best method of liquor control." Goucher debating the affirmative won. Aileen McQuown is debate president and Virginia Thomas chairman of bibliography.

December 4 to 8 Reverend Doctor S. Parkes Cadman spoke in chapel on knowing one's own personality. To him religion gives a more dignified and adequate setting to personality, with Christ exemplifying a perfect personality.

On December 8 and 9, the translation from Hugo Von Hoffmannsthal's "Jedermann" was presented by Masques and Faces. This was the first time that "Everyman" has been produced in America. Von Hoffmannsthal's tragedy is based upon the medieval morality play of the fifteenth century. Acting in it were Martha Carson and Jean Critchlow; Betty Carson had charge of the scenery, Madeleine Bowler of the make-up.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA ALPHA—GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

Pledge Day, October 18, 1933

The Thanksgiving season was filled with homecoming events, the celebration being the third in the university. Fraternities and sororities competed with stunt acts at the Homecoming rally. All fraternities held open-house and  $\Sigma X$  was voted first prize for the most appropriately decorated house. The football team was unsuccessful against Kansas University in the last game of the season. The final Homecoming event, a ball at the Willard Hotel in honor of the alumni, was attended by many.

The usual round of parties filled the Christmas season. Columbia A's annual Christmas dance held at The Admiral was considered most successful by the many who attended.

Also, at Christmas time, Columbia A participated in an all-university food drive for poor families sponsored by the student publication, the Hatchet. Over fifty families received Christmas dinners and every unit of the university was represented through participation. The chapter, also, following its Christmas-time tradition, provided food and clothing for a family secured through its own channels.

This fall, because of her great interest in handicraft work,  $\Pi B \Phi$  presented to Mrs. Roosevelt an exceptionally beautiful piece of white homespun dress material which had been woven especially for her by a weaver at Gatlinburg. Members of the presentation committee were Marie Winsor Stebbins, newly appointed assistant to Grand President, Mrs. Reginald Geare, president of the Washington alumnae club, Mrs. George C. Ober, Jr., vice president of the Washington alumnae club, Mary K. Lutz, ARROW Editor, and Jean Kirkwood, president of Columbia A chapter. Mrs. Roosevelt was most gracious in her acceptance of this gift and generously expressed her appreciation of it.

The alumnae club entertained the actives at a luncheon in honor of the pledges. As a means of becoming better acquainted with the pledges, each pledge was asked to introduce herself individually to the group at large and tell in short her secondary school training.

As a Christmas gift, the mothers' club presented the chapter with two dozen each of silver knives, forks, and spoons.

Elections to senior council, recently announced, show Catherine Prichard representing Columbian College and Virginia Hawkins representing the division of Library Science. Betty Shipp won the women's golf tournament. Jean Kirkwood has been initiated into Delphi, honorary inter-sorority society. Dorothy Willard is this year continuing her graduate work in zoology at Oxford University, England.

VIRGINIA ALPHA—RANDOLPH-MACON WOMAN'S COLLEGE

Pledge Day, September 23, 1933

For several weeks the sophomores worked diligently on their annual class play. Members of the class wrote the play, as well as the songs for it, and they were well rewarded for their efforts. According to reports from the critics it was the best sophomore play in several years. Dorothy Combs had the leading male rôle, and Jo Culp represented Mae West in a song and dance number. Miriam Johnson was chairman of the committee on costumes, and Mary Alice Shackleton was in charge of the properties, on which committee Marian McAmbly assisted.

December 9, Randolph-Macon held its first formal dance. Oakwood Country Club, where the affair was staged, was beautifully decorated in a gay festive manner and the dance proved to be such a success that the board of trustees consented to more in the near future. Virginia Martin had charge of the decorations.

The actives entertained the pledges with an informal Christmas party at the house the last Sunday night before vacation.

Panhellenic has voted to furnish a suite of rooms in Main Hall dormitory for the use of inspectors and visitors of the different chapters. Each chapter of a national sorority on campus pays $5 and in this way the rooms can be furnished very nicely.

Virginia A was very happy to have a visit from Mary Hornaday during November. She brought many interesting reports from the other chapters of Gamma Province and inspired the chapter officers with personal interviews with them.

VIRGINIA GAMMA—WILLIAM AND MARY COLLEGE

Chartered, 1925

Pledge Day, November 9, 1933

INITIATED, December 2, 1933: Mary Allen, Williamsburg; Jane Oewel, Wytheville; Edith Rahmer, Allendale, N.J.; Kathleen West, Amelia.

With this past holiday season fresh in its mind, the chapter looks back upon the Christmas party it gave for its patronesses, alumnae, and pledges. The gay buffet supper was followed by the appearance of Santa Claus and the distribution of presents. After the singing of fraternity songs, the entire group moved to the middle of sorority court, and there in company with a crowd of fraternity and non-fraternity girls sang carols around a huge illuminated tree.

Through its sale of Christmas cards, which were designed by Frances Lamar, the chapter made $8.50 for Settlement School.

Ruth Sharrett, of the dramatic club and the International Relations Club, played the rôle of the Madonna in the Christmas Pageant presented in the  $\Phi$  B K hall.

By a continued practice of entertaining one non-fraternity girl a week at dinner in the house, and by bringing them in after classes the chapter has established for itself a friendly campus feeling.

Sunday night suppers, regularly prepared by the pledges, are very successful occasions, and looked forward to during the week.

The recently established system of dividing the freshman women into groups conducted by senior girls as sponsors has been found to be a splendid innovation of student government. In this capacity Ann Petty, Nancy De Lashmutt, and Virginia Clark have enjoyed their contacts with the freshmen.

Nancy De Lashmutt has been elected president of the judicial council of the W.S.C.G. Sarah St. Clair, Frances Lamar, and Virginia Clark have been elected to the art club. Virginia Clark has recently been initiated into  $\Phi$  B K.

PLEDGED: Jane Oewel, Wytheville; Roberta Seaman, Seaside Park, N.J.

NORTH CAROLINA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA

Pledge Day, October 17, 1933

The biggest event this fall was the annual visit from our Province President, Miss Hornaday. She helped us with the various problems that were confronting us, and we all regretted the fact that her visit was so short. During her stay here we gave a tea for her and for our patronesses and alumnae who are in Chapel Hill.

North Carolina B at Duke asked the chapter over to Durham one day in the fall to one of their rushing parties. We sang and talked to the rushees, and later on swapped ideas about rushing. We all enjoyed it very much.

Some of the officers of the Women's Association did not return this fall, and a special election was held for the purpose of electing their successors. The three offices to be filled were taken by Pi Phi. The council is made up of seven members, and five of these are from our chapter, the president among them. The president, Janie Joly, was also voted the most popular co-ed on the "Hill."

In December the pledges gave the actives a banquet, which was followed the same evening by a dance in honor of the pledges. We had a figure, at which time the pledges were introduced separately. It was quite effective and was something new for us.

When the grades for the fall quarter came in during the Christmas holidays we found that four of the actives and six of the pledges had made the honor roll, while the chapter as a whole upheld a good average.

NORTH CAROLINA BETA—DUKE UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1933

Pledge Day, October 1, 1933

INITIATED, November 14, 1933: Ethel Whittemore, Miami, Fla.

There has been great excitement on the Duke campus this year, because of the prowess of the football team. They remained undefeated till the very last game when Georgia Tech scored 6-0 against them. Freddie Crawford was elected to the All-American football team, the first one ever to be chosen from Duke.

In order to celebrate this successful season, the Trident Club, a new organization for sponsoring school spirit engaged Emerson Gill and his orchestra to play for a Victory Ball on December 15.

Elvira Burleigh was made a member of the Athletic Council of the W.A.A. Anne Boyd, a pledge, was initiated into the Meridian Club, an honorary swimming organization.

Mrs. Stebbins, the Assistant to the Grand President, paid the chapter an official visit in November and was entertained by the chapter and the alumnae. The force of her personality and the inspiration which she gave will long be remembered in the chapter.

The chapter gave a formal dance on November 1, to introduce the pledges. The actives were entertained by the pledges at a very unique Christmas party. One of the pledges dressed as Santa Claus read a poem characterizing each one of the actives and handed out a suitable present, after everyone had guessed the name of the active.

A new local sorority, Δ E, has come on the campus, making ten sororities in all. The boys have had rushing deferred till the second semester this year, but it has caused great discontent among the freshmen because it restricts their social privileges.

PLEGDED: Ruth Rhea, Columbus, Ohio.

The actives gave a dance in honor of the new pledges.

A week before Christmas the Damas Club had its dance of the season. Catharine Bush, who is president this year, led the figure.

Just before the holidays the actives and pledges had a "spend the night party" at the house. Among the presents on the Christmas tree was an automatic electric waffle iron presented to the house by the pledges.

MICHIGAN ALPHA—HILLSDALE COLLEGE

Pledge Day, December 16, 1933

Michigan A has a new patroness, Mrs. Kenneth Prettie, wife of a Hillsdale lawyer. She was installed November 13 and following the ceremony, actives, pledges, patronesses and alumnae joined in the celebration by an all II B Φ tea. The week before installation, Mrs. Beisel made her annual visit to the chapter and saw the house in its settled condition for the first time. On previous years her visit seemed to coincide with the preparation time for the Christmas party, but fortunately she planned her visit earlier this year.

To start the Yuletide spirit going actives and pledges with their dates and chaperons danced the evening away, surrounded by Christmas trees with twinkling lights and cotton snowmen. Panels of modernistic design adorned the wall with their silver, red, and blackness. The crowning event of the evening was Jinny Le Roux's German cookery. Cookies of all shapes—stars, moons, Christmas trees, hearts—made from an old German recipe, proved quite as palatable as they looked.

New boulevard lights are brightening the campus at night, now, and the college has a printing press which was secured through the influence of its trustees. This press is used to print pamphlets, bulletins, and programs for plays and the like.

A new tradition has been started this year on campus—the idea of a campus Christmas tree and all-college play before the holidays. One of the large spruce trees in front of East Hall was lighted and the college joined in Christmas song beneath its branches. This singing was led by Miriam Chapman. Immediately following, "A Doll's House," by Ibsen, was presented in the Little Theater. Judy Nystrom was one of the chief characters.

Also interested in dramatic activities, are Grace Flood, Virginia Le Roux, and Bernice Loutzenheiser who took part in the homecoming play given by the seniors. This year, "A Far-Away Princess" was presented. Judy and Jinny have recently been pledged to Θ A Φ, national dramatic fraternity, having fulfilled the requirements. Bernice is already a member.

The scholarship ring which is given at the end of each semester to the girl achieving the most success in this line, was awarded to Ruth McCarty. Dorothy Deul was "runner-up," losing by .06 of a point.

PLEGDED: Lois McCarty, Covert; Beth Ranney, Dearborn; Catherine Seaton and Henrietta Bull, Battle Creek; Helen Gordon, Jackson; Dorothy Seger, Detroit; Bess Hagaman, Hillsdale; Carol Stroud, Alice Andrus, and Pauline Cahill, Cleveland, Ohio; Agnes Gettman, Columbus Grove, Ohio.

On October 25 the pledge tea was given; a representative pledge from each sorority attended. On October 26 the chapter gave a formal dinner for the deans of the university. The actives entertained the pledges with a formal dance on November 11.

Marion Giddings was elected to  $\Phi \kappa \Phi$ . Doris Gimmy was elected to Wyvern, women's honorary society.

$\Pi \beta \Phi$  had an exchange dinner November 28 with  $K \alpha \Theta$ . The juniors were entertained at dinner by the Thetas and their sophomores were entertained at the chapter house for dinner.

Michigan B had the pleasure of entertaining Mrs. Mildred Tingley Beisel, Delta Province President, in November. The chapter held a cooky-shine in her honor.

Panhellenic banquet was held October 31; Mary Fitzpatrick was chairman. The Panhellenic ball was given at the Michigan Women's League, December 1. Those girls attending the dance entertained their escorts at breakfast at the house after the dance. Ann Osborn served on the finance committee for the ball.

The chapter held their annual Christmas party the night preceding the Christmas holidays. A breakfast was given for the pledges the following morning.

INDIANA ALPHA—FRANKLIN COLLEGE

Chartered, 1888

Pledge Day, September 16, 1933

The new president of Franklin College, Dr. W. G. Spencer, and the board of directors have made a new ruling for sororities. All sorority rooms must be moved to the first floor of the dormitory. Heretofore the  $\Pi \beta \Phi$  rooms were on the third floor. The moving made it necessary for new furniture, and recently the alumnae club presented Indiana A with new drapes.

Indiana A entertained with a tea in its sorority rooms in honor of Mrs. William Gear Spencer, the wife of Franklin's new president. The other guests included the wives of the new members of the faculty and  $\Pi \beta \Phi$  patronesses.

November 18 Indiana A gave its one formal dinner dance of the year at the Highland Country Club in Indianapolis. Guests from each of the chapters in the state and representatives from the other sororities on the campus were in attendance. There were also several alumnae present.

Just before Christmas vacation the annual Christmas party was given in the rooms. This is the occasion for the original songs by the pledges. Many of the songs were very clever. Because the infant apparel was appreciated so much last year, Indiana A again sent them for the Settlement School Christmas box. These were also wrapped at the party.

In the freshman class elections Frances Louise Dungan was elected vice president and Janet McCarthy was elected secretary. Sarah Briscoe has been appointed copy editor of The Franklin.

INDIANA BETA—INDIANA UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1893

Pledge Day, September 10, 1933

The Christmas spirit thoroughly pervaded the Indiana University campus in December. The Union building was festive with many colored lights. On the evening of December 15 the entire student body gathered there to sing Christmas carols, accompanied by the university band. The following afternoon the annual Christmas party for the poor children of the city was given by all the honorary organizations on the campus. The Indiana Daily Student collected several hundred dollars in its cheer fund for poor families. A.W.S. also sponsored a successful drive for funds for charity.

Indiana B held its annual Christmas party December 18, at which the pledges entertained the actives. After the usual cooky-shine the actives were reduced in station. They were forced to plead, before a freshman tribunal, for their admittance into heaven. Following the stunts, mothers, daughters, and roommates exchanged gifts.

On November 28 the chapter held its traditional Thanksgiving dinner. Guests of honor were Dean of Women Agnes E. Wells, Assistant Dean Lydia Woodbridge, and Mrs. Fanny Weatherwax.

Y.W.C.A. put on an original musical comedy entitled "Frills and Furbelows" on November 16. Floy Frank was one of the authors and was also in the cast. Isabelle Connolly, Elizabeth Burnett, Evelyn Johnson, and Florence Oldfather were in the chorus.

$\Theta \Sigma \Phi$  held Matrix Table on December 11 at which Dorothy Thompson (Mrs. Sinclair Lewis) was the principal speaker. After the banquet  $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$  pledged four girls among whom was Jean Meier of Indiana B.

Dorothy Moss was elected secretary of the junior class. She was also chosen as a member of Pleiades. Florence Oldfather has been initiated into  $\Lambda \alpha \Delta$ . Floy Frank is a new member of  $\Theta \alpha \Phi$ . Beatrice Roehm is a member of the varsity debating team. Isabelle Connolly, Rose Bland, and Alice Zwilling are members of junior  $\Theta \alpha \Phi$ .

INDIANA GAMMA—BUTLER UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1897

Pledge Day, September 21, 1933

Indiana  $\Gamma$  has been devoting all its efforts during the semester to raising the scholastic average. Pledges must attend a study table every afternoon during the week. To help those who are deficient in specific subjects, actives hold special study tables one or two afternoons a week, those actives who excel in certain subjects coaching both pledges and actives who are poor in that subject. There is a general spirit of helpfulness and willingness to be helped in the chapter.

In spite of the intense concentration on scholarship, the activity record has not been allowed to decrease. Lucy Beasley was elected secretary of the junior class, and Pauline McCarty holds the same office in the sophomore class. Jeanne Helt is president of Spurs, national honorary sophomore women's fraternity, and Ruth Repschlager is a member of the same organization. June Willcutts is vice-president of Chimes, national junior women's honorary fraternity, and Lucy Beasley is its secretary. Winifred Hoyt was elected representative of the freshman class at the Utes Club dance recently. Helen Root, Jeanne Helt, Virginia Reynolds, Ruth Repschlager, Jane Moore, and Mary Lou Colvin have all been pledged to Thespis, dramatic club. Lucy Beasley, June Willcutts, Helen Behmer, and Helen Bonnell are all on committees for the junior prom. Helen Bonnell was chosen football queen at the annual blanket hop, and Jessie Fisher was elected freshman rose.

The seniors gave the chapter its annual Christmas party at the house, and, of course, there was the Christmas Formal Dance at Highland Country Club, which was a great success. Many rushing parties were likewise given by various members at their homes.

The chapter has started the new year with the intention of bettering itself in every way—and it is full of hope for the future.

Some of the fraternities on the campus have been entertaining the women's fraternities at tea dances.  $\Pi B \Phi$  was entertained by  $\Delta T \Delta$  just before Christmas vacation.

The pledge dance was held at the Lafayette Country Club on December 2. Many of the alumnae came back for it.

The chapter had its traditional formal Christmas dinner on December 18. The next night the pledges gave a party for the actives.

Evelyn Royer Dunbar was elected to  $O N$  this fall. Harriet Lommel was pledged to  $K \Delta \Pi$ , national educational honorary organization. Aline Marshall had a part in the Play Shop play, "Queen's Husband." Lillian Peterson was chosen as one of the fifteen campus beauties at the women's Panhellenic dance on January 5.

The chapter placed third in the swimming meet on December 14. A group of unorganized girls took first place, and  $K \Delta \Theta$  was second. Mary Frances McQueen and Lucia Prentice made the freshman rifle squad, and Lillian Peterson, Jane Lommel, and Mary Ann Phillips made the sophomore squad. Hope Van Sciever was on the senior hockey team, and Louise Caldwell made the sophomore team. They were both members of the varsity team.

Y.W.C.A. sponsored a sale of imported Japanese objects at the  $K \Delta \Theta$  house the first part of December.

Many alumnae were back for homecoming on November 4. At the cooky-shine that week-end Lillian Peterson was given the recognition arrow for having the most activities during her freshman year. This recognition arrow is passed down in the chapter each year to the sophomore having the above requirements. At the same time, it was announced that Helen Ballou's name would be engraved on the chapter scholarship cup for having the highest scholastic average in the pledge class the preceding year.

MISSOURI ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI

Chartered, 1899

Pledge Day, September 15, 1933

INITIATED, October 30, 1933: Carolyn Ball, Webb City; Jean Brennan, Kansas City; Elizabeth Anne Dickinson, Columbia; Marjorie Lee, Kansas City; Hazel Lind Wheeler, Texarkana, Tex.

The beginning of the second semester, started during the first week of February, strict study hall was maintained during examination week in an effort to raise the scholarship average of the chapter. During this week organ recitals were given every afternoon in the Methodist Church by Dean James T. Quarles, Dean of the College of Fine Arts. It has been an annual custom of Dean Quarles to present these recitals to the students of the university as a means of mental relaxation.

Missouri A entertained with its annual formal Christmas dinner the night of December 14. Following the dinner, which was given at the house, the members and pledges gathered around a Christmas tree in the living room and a presentation of gifts was made by Santa Claus.

The first of three dances allowed to women's fraternities by Panhellenic was given by Missouri A at the house on the evening of November 24.

Following suggestions of Panhellenic the stag list was greatly restricted.

In intramural sports, Missouri A is leading the other women's fraternities on the campus in the number of points which have been attained. Volleyball, baseball, tennis, golf, archery, and swimming events have been held so far, and basketball games are to be played later.

The College of Fine Arts presented the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Vladimir Golschmann, the evening of November 20, and in February, a concert by Lawrence Tibbet. These musical events have been made possible through the purchase by every member of the student body of an activity ticket which includes admission to every extra-curricular activity and athletic event which takes place under the auspices of the university.

During the Christmas vacation the house of Missouri A was entered by thieves and jewelry, clothing, and radios were stolen from the rooms. Police, as yet, have found no trace of the missing goods.

In the first major production of Workshop, "Little Ole Boy," Caroline Hyde had the feminine lead in the play. Frances Ferguson had the lead in a minor production of Workshop, "The Gray Gull." Eula Mae Sence had the dancing lead in the journalism show presented in February. The journalism show is a musical production given annually, and is written and produced by students.

Mary Beverly Neill, Alma Louise Dallas, Jean Brennan, and Marjorie Ming have been elected to Timber Toppers, honorary riding club.

This fall Lu Waite was elected secretary of the senior class, and Joan Stealy secretary of the freshman class. Mary Jane Kerwin and Edith Wilson were chosen as members of the honorary hockey team. Mary Buss, Gene Penney, and Jocelyn Taylor each had a part in the three one-act plays which Thyrsus presented in November. Gene Penney was also pledged to Z & H, an honorary dramatic society. This year at the homecoming parade Missouri B's float won second prize.

Mrs. C. C. Daniel, Epsilon Province President, visited the chapter in November for a few days. During her stay, a cooky-shine was held in her honor. The chapter enjoyed Mrs. Daniel's visit, and learned much from her wider knowledge and experience of fraternity life.

An innovation on the campus this fall was the intersorority sing. Lu Waite was chairman of the committee which made all the arrangements for it. After the sing, all the sororities held open house in their rooms. There was also a tea dance held in the gymnasium of the Women's Building. Another new idea was the contest to find the most popular freshman woman. Mary Lee Harney and Myra Kerwin, pledges, received special mention.

The fall houseparty was held late in November at a resort on the Meramac River at Fox Springs. There was no one at the hotel but members and pledges of Missouri B. This helped promote a feeling of comradeship between the actives and pledges.

Just before the Christmas vacation Missouri B's annual formal dinner dance was held at the Jefferson Hotel. The Christmas cooky-shine was held on December 18. The room was decorated with red, green, and silver tinsel, and under a small Christmas tree were presents for everyone.

The chapter room has just been redecorated by the alumnae club. Venetian blinds and ivory colored drapes have been placed at the windows. Two ivory screens may be used to shut off an alcove, and this same color note is carried out in the cushions on the couch.

A committee of five alumnae and five actives has been appointed to work on plans for both winter and summer rushing.

KENTUCKY ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE

Chartered, 1925

Pledge Day, September 30, 1933

The University of Louisville is represented substantially in civic government. In the November elections, Dean Neville Miller, of the law school, was elected Mayor of Louisville, and two of his appointees are former liberal arts faculty members. Dr. P. K. Vinsel is the new director of welfare, and Dr. H. R. Levall has resigned his office of college physician to fill a city health post. Under the recently-enacted civic works program, the university campus, long neglected, is being extensively improved; 250 men are employed in a plan of landscaping and laying out a system of walks and drives. Buildings are being painted and re-decorated generally, and the property promises to be a credit to the city.

U. of L. is to be host to the state intercollegiate basketball tournament, as it was recently to the Ohio Valley international relations conference, at which time Sir Herbert Ames, League of Nations authority, was the guest speaker.

Following an established custom, Kentucky Alpha undertook the care of two needy families at Christmas-time, working with the family service organization.

During the holidays, the pledges were hosts to the actives at a luncheon, held at the chapter apartment.

A November issue of the Cardinal, University weekly, ran a tabulation of scholarship rating, and Kentucky Alpha led all groups, men and women, organized and unorganized, by several points.

The one February rush party allowed each fraternity was a luncheon at the apartment on Monday, February 5.

TENNESSEE ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF CHATTANOOGA

Chartered, 1923

Pledge Day, October 7, 1933

INITIATED, October 13, 1933: Carolin Carter, Chattanooga.

Early in the fall President Robertson, of Goucher College, visited the university in order to investigate conditions which might lead to the establishment of a Phi Beta Kappa chapter. The result of the visit has not been reported.

The sociology and economic departments have aided the government in research on the Tennessee Valley and also the city in its problem of locating the slums. Among the Tennessee Valley authorities who have spoken at chapel is Mr. David Lilienthal.

This fall a new system of honor scholarship lists has been installed. Under this system all students making no grade lower than C shall be on the Merit List. At the end of the semester all making an average of two points (or B) shall be on the dean's list. The honor roll is composed of those making the highest 5 per cent of the grades. In order to improve scholarship the actives have pledged to study an hour a day on the subject which will aid their average the most, also there is a rule which will lift a pin if the member does not appear on the merit list at the end of the semester. At the end of the second six-weeks period, ten actives and nine pledges were on the merit list.

Mrs. Charles Daniels visited the chapter for a few days in November.

The chapter decorated the chapel for the candle light service preceding the holidays, and likewise for the Christmas pageant, "The White Enchantment," which the music department presented. Two alumnae, Rebecca Jones and Gladys Roberts had important rôles.

At Thanksgiving and Christmas the chapter delivered baskets to needy families. Following a Christmas party at the house, toys were sent with the baskets and also to the Children's Hospital.

The University Players presented, as their first production, "Murder on the Second Floor." The play was given in several small towns near and the players expect to do the same with other productions that follow. Marguerite Bacon, Mary Glenn Walker, Virginia Harrell and Cornelia Samuels aided in the back-stage.

The dramatic department has had a series of one-act plays under the direction of the advanced students. Cornelia Samuels, Virginia Harrell, and Mary Glenn Walker directed, while several actives and pledges participated. Marguerite Bacon directed a Christmas play, "Solitaire," for the Kosma-Woman's Club. She will also play the part of Mrs. Bumstead-Leigh in a play of the same title, to be given by the University Players.

Mary Alice Witt, Cornelia Samuels, and Mary Glenn Walker were recently pledged to Les Independentes, the honorary French club. Evelyn Campbell was pledged to B B B, honorary biology fraternity, and to Σ T Δ, honorary English fraternity. Mary Alice Witt was recently chosen as the most popular co-ed on campus.

Chartered, 1927

Pledge Day, September 11, 1933

INITIATED, September 19, 1933: Frances Malham, Janice Johns, Barbara Seaman, Birmingham.

Birmingham-Southern was privileged this fall to hear James Stephens, noted Irish poet and author. Mr. Stephens spoke on his idea of poetry, how it should be read, and then he read some of his own work. After the lecture he was entertained by Scroll with a reception at Stockham Woman's Building.

In the latter part of November, "The Green Pastures" was presented in Birmingham. Richard B. Harrison who plays the part of the "Lawd" in the play, came to the college and spoke in chapel. His talk on the story of his life was very interesting.

The annual so-called "Battle of the Marne" of football between Birmingham-Southern and Howard Colleges resulted this year in a seven to seven tie. In the parade immediately preceding the game, Alabama A had several representatives. Sarah Sterrett rode with the president of the student body and Mae McIntosh was a sponsor for Σ A E. The first five officers and the president of the pledges rode in the official II B Φ car. Γ Φ B won the cup presented to the sorority having the best float in the parade. Among the fraternities A T Ω had the best float.

Martha Jane Klutz has been elected a member of Scroll. Sarah Sterrett was called for K Δ E, honorary educational fraternity. Charlotte Daly has been elected the freshman member of the co-ed council, and Katherine Lide is on the freshman commission for Y.W.C.A.

At mid term Alabama A was in second place in scholarship. Every effort is being made to regain first place.

The pledges entertained the actives with a formal dinner at the home of Ann Hettrick on December 2. On December 21, the actives had a treasure hunt for the pledges. After the treasure had been found, the actives played Santa Claus at the studio of Rosalie Pettus where gifts were given to the pledges from a stocking hung above the fireplace.

Alabama A was honored, January 4 to 7, by a visit from Zeta Province President, Rebekah Stewart. Her talks and advice were very helpful to the chapter.

Lydia Taylor and Mae McIntosh were among the twelve beauties selected by the entire college at the annual elections. These pictures will be sent to some discriminating judge of beauty and he will select six to be presented in the yearbook.

In November, women representatives from the two colleges in the city, Birmingham-Southern and Howard, formed the co-ed club. Its aim is to promote better relationships between the colleges. The club president is Elna Sessions, Alabama A. Other members from the sorority are Robina Evins, Sara Lowery, and Bernice Lokey.

Alabama A has refurbished its chapter room. Martha Jane Klutz and Elna Sessions were instrumental in bringing about a delightful change.

On Thanksgiving night all sororities held open house. Odd and Even demonstrations and games were held during the week.

The Christmas party was given by the pledges. The freshmen sang their "goat songs" and presents were given to all the upperclassmen. The pledges had the kitchen redecorated in green and yellow for their present to the house.

For the first time students at Florida State College were permitted to travel home by plane for the Christmas holidays. Five Florida B girls were among the first to make reservations for this novel experience.

Pledge Day, September 24, 1933

INITIATED, October 21, 1933: Kathryn Narr, Kansas City, Mo.; Anne Rogers, Beaver Dam; Janet Shaw, Manitowoc; Jane Stafford, Madison.

During the fall, students of the university, circulated a petition asking for an extension of the Christmas holidays. This petition created much interest and discussion on the campus and was finally approved by the faculty and board of regents.

Early in December, many jobs were created by the passing of the Civics Works Administration bill. This has made possible the return of many university graduates of last year and the previous years, to do research work in the different departments. The university also plans, during the coming semester, to give positions to 700 needy students, to facilitate them in continuing their college careers. Mrs. Mark Troxell, dean of women, has been making a special effort during the winter to give financial aid to worthy students, and has received the cooperation of many of the campus organizations.

Betty Jean Daniel has been chosen Sports Queen and was a guest of honor at the annual university football banquet held in January.

Nancy Duggar is the woman student representative on the university public relations committee. This committee was established as a means of contact between the university and Wisconsin high school students who are planning to come to Madison next fall. In November, Nancy spoke at the Manitowoc High School, with other representatives of the university's Doctor Spears, football coach, Mrs. Troxell, dean of women, and Mr. Ryan, principal of the Wisconsin High School in Madison.

Wisconsin A enjoyed a two-day visit from Mrs. Webster, Eta Province President. The chapter was very interested and inspired by hearing from her of the activities of other chapters.

WISCONSIN BETA—BELOIT COLLEGE

Chartered, 1919

Pledge Day, October 5, 1933

INITIATED, November 24, 1933: Genevieve Hubbell, Helen McInnis, Chicago, Ill.; Janet Laudick, Lima, Ohio.

Wisconsin B had as its guest, November 5-6, Mrs. J. E. Webster, Eta Province President. The chapter entertained Mrs. Webster at a supper sing at the house and she was the guest of the Beloit Alumnae Club at a dinner. The Panhellenic tea in her honor was held at the  $\Delta \Delta \Delta$  house.

Homecoming this year saw the return of a number of alumnae to see Wisconsin B, for the second consecutive year, win the cup for the most attractive and appropriate float in the Homecoming parade. The float represented the spirit of Beloit with the various sports grouped around her. The costumes of the figures were of cellophane in keeping with the futuristic theme. The football team also broke the jinx of losing their Homecoming games by defeating Knox. In accordance with an established tradition the chapter sold chrysanthemums to earn money for the Settlement School.

Beloit Players presented this year as the Dads' Day play Noel Coward's "Hay Fever." Sue Willcox took a leading part and other members worked on committees.

Wisconsin B has thus far come out with first place in the intersorority basketball tournament and second place in hockey. Prospects are good for volleyball and tennis also.

The Gold this year is sponsoring a campaign contest whereby the sorority getting the largest number of subscriptions for the book is rewarded with a full page picture in the Gold of its most popular girl. The chapter has chosen Genevieve Fawcett as its representative.

One of the most successful Christmas parties "for the house" held by Wisconsin B took place December 18. Every active and pledge contributed a gift and the Beloit Alumnae Club presented the chapter with a dozen silver spoons.

The annual Wisconsin B alumnae Christmas dinner dance was held at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago with a fairly large crowd in attendance.

Wisconsin B is striving to win back the Panhellenic scholarship cup this semester. Out of the pledge class of twenty only four did not make a C average.

Illinois A is fortunate in having with them two grand-daughters of founders. Mary Turnbull, granddaughter of the late Jennie Horne Turnbull, is a pledge and Ruth Morrow, granddaughter of Inez Smith Soule, is in the class of '35.

Dalies Frantz, noted pianist, appeared in a recital in the Monmouth College auditorium on January 5 under the auspices of the artist's course. Mr. Frantz began a coast to coast tour with an appearance with orchestra in Carnegie Hall, New York.

The chapter held its annual Christmas formal dinner-dance on December 1 at the Elk's Club.

The alumnae entertained the actives and pledges at a luncheon following the pledge ceremony on December 9. Later in the afternoon the group attended the theater.

First semester rushing, which was introduced on the campus this year, was very satisfactory. As it is such an improvement over the former method it will doubtless be continued next year.

In an effort to regain first place in scholarship Illinois A is having supervised study for all girls receiving low marks.

PLEDGED: Mary Turnbull, Elizabeth, Pa.; Evelyn Ruskin, Boston, Mass.; Jane Hunt, Abington; Margaret Hanna, Isabelle Legg, Ruth Graham, Dorothy Maynard, Kathryn Loehr.

The chapter was very glad to have Mrs. Webster, Eta Province President, visit it during the week-end of November 14. A tea was given in her honor.

An open house was held on November 11 to introduce the pledges. A pledge dance was given in their honor on December 9.

Pledges dressed dolls for the Y.W.C.A. Christmas gifts to Chicago settlement children. On December 20, the chapter entertained 16 girls between the ages of nine and fourteen, as did sixteen other chapters on campus. After the children had received their gifts and had eaten, the group of over 200 children met at the  $\Lambda O \Pi$  house to be entertained by Herbie Kay, a well-known orchestra leader.

Mary Ann Timmons was chosen the new rushing chairman after the withdrawal from school of Betty Johnson.

Babe Fraser was chosen on the all-star soccer team which is one of the most important women's athletic teams.

Katherine Ellis was selected to take the leading part in "Beggars' Opera" which was presented at the university theater.

Pledges have been keeping study hours which were assigned to them at the beginning of school.

When a study hour is missed, the pledge must take a penalty. In an effort to better the scholastic average of the chapter, actives with D or F notices were forced to attend study hall with the pledges.

ILLINOIS ZETA—UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

Chartered, 1895

Pledge Day, November 1, 1933

INITIATED, November 22, 1933: Mrs. L. G. Balfour, Attleboro, Mass.

This year Panhellenic found it necessary to limit the number of girls which any woman's fraternity may pledge. The capacity of each house has been recorded in the office of the dean of women and no group may have more than the number absolutely required to support the house. This regulation makes it easier for the smaller groups to continue to function. As things were previous to this time, the larger houses were filled to more than their minimum capacity, and some of the smaller groups were finding it necessary to disband.

Illinois Z was particularly honored this November when Amy B. Onken officiated at the initiation of Mrs. L. G. Balfour. The ceremony was followed by a formal banquet for the chapter and the alumnae, and by a reception in order that faculty, fraternity, and sorority members might meet Miss Onken and Mr. and Mrs. Balfour.

Virginia Fishback was one of the three girls on campus to win the popularity contest which was brought to a close the weekend of homecoming, October 14. The winners were sent to the Army-Illinois football game in Cleveland. Illinois Z won second place in the homecoming stunt show with the production of "Hollywood Hash," a take-off on many movie actors.

Annette Wolfram took the lead in "Good Morning, Dearie," a musical comedy sponsored by Pierrot, a dramatic organization. Julia McPherson played a part in "The Yellow Jacket," a Theater Guild production, and Mary Winnifred Skinner played a unique part in "Gold in the Hills," a similar production. Many of the other girls have worked on committees for these plays.

Virginia Sandberg was general chairman of the annual Y.W.C.A. doll show, December 16. The different entries represented certain operas, such as "Madam Butterfly," "The Desert Song," and "Carmen." Illinois Z won first place with the drinking scene from "The Student Prince." After the show the dolls were sent to a nearby orphanage; the proceeds from the show were given to charity.

On one Saturday of each fall Illini entertain their Dads at a football game, a horse show, plays, glee club concerts, and other amusements. Mary Henley served as women's chairman for the events of the day.

Illinois Z won two cups this fall for first places in Siren sales and star course ticket sales. The Siren is the university humor magazine, and each year the group which sells the greatest number of yearly subscriptions is rewarded with a cup. The star course is consistent of prominent artists who appear at the university.

Julia McPherson has been pledged to  $\Sigma \Delta \Phi$ , national speech honorary, and Dolly Carson was initiated recently into the same organization. Cecilia Kiler is president of the Spanish club. The winter carnival is another event in which many participate. Opportunity is given for exhibition diving, relays, and float formations. Christine Buchholz participated in the diving.

PLEGDED: Betty Friend, Champaign.

ILLINOIS ETA—JAMES MILLIKIN UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1912

Pledge Day, September 16, 1933

INITIATED, October 20, 1933: Marjorie Moore, Decatur.

When Illinois Z initiated Mrs. Balfour on November 22, the entire chapter of Illinois H went to Champaign to be present. They thoroughly enjoyed the initiation and the chance to meet so many well-known members of  $\Pi \beta \Phi$  at the reception.

On November 25, Illinois H gave a Thanksgiving pledge dance, reviving at this dance an old campus custom of asking representatives of other sororities and fraternities to attend. It was the first time this had been done here for many years.

December 9 the chapter held a bakery sale in an uptown shop to earn money for the Settlement School Fund. The alumnae assisted the chapter and sixteen dollars was cleared.

"Nativity" by Rosemonde Kimball, was presented at Millikin's annual Christmas vesper service given December 19 under the auspices of Y.W.C.A. The two parts taken by women were the Angel—Pauline Requarth, and the Madonna—Helen Ruth Chodat. Both are members of Illinois H. It is particularly interesting that the Madonna has been taken by members of  $\Pi \beta \Phi$  almost every year in the Christmas Vespers.

On December 20, the chapter held a Christmas party in the house. Dinner was served to actives and pledges, all seated at one long table; then each person drew a five cent gift from a grab bag in the center of the table. Instead of exchanging expensive gifts as is customarily done, the chapter gave the money saved to a poor family for their Christmas.

A group of one act plays was presented at the university auditorium January 18. Rosemary Moorehead and Edwina Ritscher had parts in "Riders to the Sea."

The modern language classes and clubs sponsored a German movie "Zwei Herzen in Drei Viertel Takt" which was presented January 10 and 11. The money made from this project is to be used to obtain a program of international interest for language students.

The Don Cossack Choir sang at the Millikin auditorium November 9. The first lecture of the university lecture series was given December 12 by Yakontoff; his subject was the economic problems of Russia.

The Millikin University orchestra gave its annual concert December 14. It featured a three piano concerto and also one for two pianos. Both of these were conducted by Jose Echaniz.

INITIATED, October 18, 1933: Jane Duff, Evelyn Hay, Roberta Vance, all of Winnipeg.

INITIATED, December 9, 1933: Marianne Seelheim, Winnipeg.

Marianne Seelheim is the daughter of the German Consul of Winnipeg. She came over from Germany last spring and intends to return in time for the spring term. It has been pleasant to exchange views with a girl brought up in Germany.

Marjorie Manning, one of the pledges, has a leading role in the glee club production, "The Mikado."

The chapter has undertaken as its local charity work this year, the making of quilts for the Back to the Land Movement. The Movement was begun several years ago as a relief project. Its object is to establish on the land those unemployed families qualified for farm life. Each active contributes by sewing together patches for quilts.

The chapter's social activities last fall were limited to a party given in honor of the pledges, a tea given by the pledges for the other pledges on the campus, at the home of Harriet Perry, and the customary New Year's Day reception at the home of Mary Birt. Mr. Bracken, premier of the province, and Mrs. Bracken, one of the patronesses, attended the reception.

The chapter has been working on scholarship and the results of the Christmas examinations were gratifying. No active failed in any subject and the chapter average increased from 68 per cent to 74 per cent. The chapter has an eye upon the Z T A cup presented after the April examinations to the women's fraternity with the highest average.

NORTH DAKOTA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF NORTH DAKOTA

Chartered, 1921

Under the new C.W.A. program 250 students have been given work which will enable them to return to school the second semester. In helping students through school, also, is the "Camp Depression" which is maintained by the university and is composed of nicely furnished box cars for housing men students.

MINNESOTA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

Chartered, 1890

Pledge Day, October 9, 1933

INITIATED, December 4, 1933: Jean Gamble, Fairmont; Marjorie Worthington, Minneapolis.

The last quarter many large projects were started, some of which are already completed. Perhaps the most important was the granting of jobs to 760 university students and 600 university graduates under the United States and the state relief grants. Then, too, a beautiful new dormitory for the student nurses was completed, and plans for adding to Pioneer Hall, the new men's dormitory, were made. A faculty-student committee has been working on a survey of the social life and customs of the students. Detailed questionnaires have been sent out to all students. Information received from these questionnaires will be used in forming a social program that will particularly meet the needs of those students whose social life and friendships have been limited.

The chapter this fall emphasized as much as possible sponsor-pledge relationships, and has checked progress in activities and scholarship in this manner. For those who did not make their average at mid-quarter there was study hall and limited social privileges. Betty Wood, activities chairman, has worked out an excellent activities chart on which all actives and pledges participating in an activity were given a blue star and all acting as officers in any activity were given a silver star.

Ruth Rough had the honor of being the first student to sing with the Minneapolis Symphony. Betsy Emmons was general arrangements chairman for the junior dinner. Betty Wood was third in line at the military ball, and Gloria Boock was chosen for the varsity debate squad.

The chapter's first social event of the quarter was an open house tea dance that the actives gave for the pledges. In the middle of the quarter the chapter entertained at a tea in honor of the housemother, and the pledges gave a very clever informal party for the actives. Two weeks before Christmas the alumnae entertained the chapter at the annual Christmas dinner. Everyone wore "gay ninety" or kid costumes. During the quarter the advisory board entertained the executive council at a Sunday night supper and bridge, and at another time they entertained the house girls at a tea at Pioneer Hall.

IOWA ALPHA—IOWA WESLEYAN COLLEGE

Chartered, 1867

Pledge Day, October 20, 1933

Aid in vocational guidance by method of questionnaires, circulation of booklets, and conference with the dean of the college is being given to students this year in order to better fit them for future positions. Many students have asked for conferences in order to arm themselves with information which will help them select the most lucrative employment.

An activities council, in which each campus organization is represented, has been formed by the dean of the college. The purpose is to secure through student-faculty cooperation a coordination of the activities of the various extra-curricular organizations.

A collection was taken in October during chapel exercises which was sent to the Byrd Antarctic Expedition II. An appreciative telegram was received from Commander Byrd in reply.

"W" tags are being sold by the student council in order to buy sweaters for letter men in the athletic department. Much enthusiasm has been aroused by this plan. Defeating Parsons College in a last minute touchdown, Iowa Wesleyan's football team remained the only undefeated team in the conference.

Actives and pledges of Iowa A were entertained by the alumnae club in honor of Mrs. Seaman A. Knapp, Theta Province Vice President, who visited Mt. Pleasant, October 13. Mrs. William Buxton III, Theta Province President, visited in November.

In order to create more friendships among the women's fraternities on the campus, Iowa A entertained each chapter on the campus at a tea. The chapter is delighted at the apparent success of the plan and may continue it annually. Faculty teas have also been resumed this year. Special talks on matters of general fraternity interest are being given by both actives and alumnae at active meetings.

Pledges were hostesses at the annual Christmas cooky-shine December 16. Several original stunts and songs were given by the pledges and dancing followed.

Iowa A was well represented in volleyball this year. Three pledges and one active were elected to first team. Two actives and one pledge were placed on second team. Several actives and pledges are attending basketball practices. Five actives are members of the Croaker staff. Elise Shane is sophomore class editor, Elna Stewart is circulation manager, and Elinor Thompson is society editor for both Croaker and News staffs. Two actives and three pledges are apprentices to A Ψ Ω. Elna Stewart and Lydia Dvall were initiated into M Σ in December. Josephine Carper, Mary Conover, Virginia Holland, and Helen Weibley are members of chapel choir. Elise Shane is finance chairman of Y.W.C.A. cabinet. Mary Anne Allison is vice president of the freshman class. Elna Stewart is a sophomore class representative on student council. Elna was also elected Homecoming queen and led the Homecoming parade.

IOWA BETA—SIMPSON COLLEGE

Chartered, 1874

Pledge Day, October 2, 1933

As is traditional at Simpson College, Handel's "Messiah" was presented by a chorus of 300 students on December 17.

The senior-faculty reception was one of the all-college events of the season.

As a step toward getting better acquainted, the pledges of Iowa B entertained the pledges of the other sororities on the campus at the house at an informal party.

On December 9 Iowa B entertained the faculty at their annual faculty breakfast.

One of the outstanding social events was the Christmas dinner on December 12 at the house with the alumnae, the mother's club, and the chapter present.

The chapter Christmas party and cooky-shine was held at the house.

The alumnae club gave a tea at the home of Mrs. Carl Seigler in honor of the Iowa B house-mother, Mrs. Brown. The alumnae clubs of all the social groups on the campus, the house mothers, the II B Φ mother's club and chapter were entertained.

Iowa B is still working to attain its goal of "first place in scholarship" and "no campus meeting without a II B Φ present." The weekly requirement of outside activity points for actives has been raised to seven points.

Iowa B is represented this year in the Blackfriars dramatic club, Y.W.C.A. cabinet, and the W.A.A. board. Martha Katherine Riggs has been recently elected president of the state home economics club.

IOWA GAMMA—IOWA STATE COLLEGE

Chartered, 1877

Pledge Day, January 5, 1934

Enrollment at Iowa State College shows a marked increase at the beginning of winter quarter. Approximately 3500 students are registered. Authorities attribute the increase, the first in several quarters, to the great amount of money that has been released in the state in the last few weeks through the activities of the several agricultural relief agencies.

Iowa Γ has affiliated Carolyn Castle, Florida Γ, and Ethel Margaret Gilmor, Illinois B-Δ. Because of a campus Panhellenic ruling, the girls were not allowed to live in the house until second quarter.

Elizabeth Carpenter Buxton, Theta Province President, visited the chapter on January 8 and 9. Mrs. Buxton was honored at a tea given by the actives and pledges on the afternoon of January 9.

Iowa Γ has taken an active part in intramural athletics this year. The chapter team won the championship in the annual volleyball tournament. In the deck tennis competition, there are more II B Φ entries than from any other campus group.

The chapter entertained at a formal dance in Catherine MacKay auditorium on the evening of December 16. The large illuminated arrow and the silver stars hung before the blue stage curtain, together with several decorated Christmas trees, made the hall extremely attractive.

In the first college play of the season, "Both Your Houses," Rosemary Welden, the new chapter president, played an important rôle. Seven girls from Iowa Γ were chosen to model in the style show which was presented in conjunction with the annual horticultural show. Betty Coykendall was named high ranking freshman scholastically in the division of industrial science for the year 1932-33 at the fall honors convocation. The chapter trio, of which Virginia Dunning, Barbara Haegar, and Marjorie Christensen are the members, sang over the college radio station WOI in a broadcast called "Campus Varieties."

With the opening of winter quarter, Panhellenic rules permitted women's fraternities to resume rushing activities. Iowa Γ entertained at several informal dinners.

PLEGGED: Kathryn Joselyn, Webster City; Dorothy Golden, Des Moines; Florence Williams, Villisca.

INITIATED, November 24, 1935: Frances Kanaly, Chicago, Ill.; Paulena Kellogg, Marshalltown; Julia Belle Norton, La Junta, Colo.; Louise Olson, Marshalltown; Catherine Woodbridge, La Junta, Colo.

The Women's Panhellenic Association gave an autumn tea for all Panhellenic members. At this informal meeting a report was made of the N.P.C. meeting in Chicago by the president of the local chapter. It is hoped that a similar tea will be sponsored annually by this group, as it is one method of drawing together the member groups into a united body.

Two new buildings, one of which is to be used as a law commons and the other to house the college of fine arts, are under construction on the campus on the west side of the Iowa River.

The University of Iowa campus received a great shock when the State Board of Education made public their receipt of the resignation of President Walter A. Jessup, president during the last sixteen years. Although the loss to the university of such a man as President Jessup cannot be estimated, he has been honored with a great advancement as he leaves to become the head of the National Carnegie Institute in New York City.

In the annual sales contest conducted by the student publications staff, Iowa Z won second place and was awarded seventy-five dollars. Louise French, as sponsor of the drive, received a prize of twenty-five dollars. Josephine Lovejoy was selected as the assistant editor of the annual yearbook, and Dorothy Allen, Peggy Senneff, Jean Lovell and Florence Whitmore were chosen as members of the staff. Elinor Kraushaar, Esther Kraushaar, Grace Cornog, and Kathryn Jasman were elected to the honorary dance organization; Elinor Kraushaar was pledged to Seals Club, honorary swimming club; Mary Hanneman was selected as a member of the debate squad. There are now only ten women's fraternities represented on this campus. Panhellenic has recently made some definite changes in its organization. A governing board consisting of four disinterested Boulder women and the dean of women has been established to consider all charges against the women's fraternities. Also there is to be a freshman Panhellenic which will help to promote good feeling among women's groups.

Rapid progress is being made on the new freshman women's dormitory which will probably be ready for occupancy next fall.

Edith Jane Sturgeon received a great honor when she was elected Miss Colorado U. at the annual Associated Women Students banquet. Kathryn Walker was pledged to  $\Delta \Phi \Delta$ , honorary art fraternity; Edith Jane Sturgeon and Pauline Parke are new pledges of  $K \Delta \Pi$ , educational fraternity. ### COLORADO BETA—UNIVERSITY OF DENVER

Chartered, 1885

Pledge Day, January 8, 1934

Every effort is being made on the part of a group called "Friends of the Library" to acquaint the students of the University of Denver with the best of recent publications. About twenty speakers have been invited to address the students, each speaker extraordinarily qualified to discuss the subject of his talk. The object of this series of book-talks is to remind the woman and man of the great value of fine books either as a part of or independent of college courses.

Helen Stange Lewis, Iota Province President, honored Colorado B with a visit on December 6 and 7. Social functions, as well as official duties, occupied most of Mrs. Lewis's time. She offered a most inspiring and enlightening talk, and Colorado B feels that she has gained tremendously from this recent contact with a national officer.

Pledges gave the actives a formal dance on December 1 at Lakewood Country Club. They also presented a clever stunt during the intermission period. Colorado B met at the house for a Christmas party on December 20. Names were drawn and presents exchanged among members, accompanied by an original verse particularly suited to the recipient. Colorado A and Colorado B enjoyed the annual Christmas dance on December 26 which is celebrated jointly. Members of Colorado B acted as hostesses this year.

The University of Denver terminated a most successful football season by tying for the conference championship with University of Utah and Colorado Agricultural College. One of the highlights of the grid season was a dance sponsored by the pep organizations on the campus, Parakeet and  $\Phi E \Phi$ , for the University of Hawaii team and coach. The Hawaiians provided entertainment with their native songs and music, an unusual feature for American universities.

Marianna Gardner and Dorothy Roberts, two outstanding pledges, made a straight A average for the fall quarter.

Panhellenic was sponsor of a dance at El Jebel Mosque on January 13. This annual event was well attended by members of every woman's fraternity on the liberal arts campus, as well as by "stray Greeks" and the Greek organizations at the University of Denver School of Commerce.

Mrs. Elizabeth Steele is Colorado B's new housemother, and the chapter is proud to incorporate her into the group. She came to Colorado B from the  $\Sigma A E$  fraternity house, where she formerly served as chaperon.

Flora Steel and Mary Jo Rogers were initiated into  $\Pi K$ , women's honorary journalistic fraternity.

Class dues at the university have been abolished. The Student Senate voted to purchase a radio and place it in the university infirmary for the use of students when they are ill and in the hospital. The infirmary is supported by appropriations from the state and since this appropriation has been considerably lessened such accommodations now come only through the action of the senate.

$\Phi B K$  initiated four students this year: Idelle M. Garcia, Lucille Nelson, Isabel Jones, and Royce Weisenberger. The Arkansas A Chapter was installed on April 4, 1932, at which time Dr. Clark S. Northrup, national president, of Cornell University, had charge of the exercises.

INITIATED, November 14, 1933: Doris Hummel, Ellen Stowers, Dallas.

The fraternity was especially proud that its president, Mabel Hamilton, as secretary of the student council, went as a delegate to the National Student Federation of America convention held in Washington, D.C., December 27-31. There she had the honor of meeting Mrs. Roosevelt and other notables of national life. Mabel Hamilton was on a committee suggested by C. H. McCall, assistant secretary of Commerce, to make definite plans for a selected school for direction of students in public affairs to be held in Washington each year.

A new museum, the Mary McCord, was established by the school of drama for the purpose of collecting famous articles pertaining in any way to dramatic history or drama. The latest gift to the museum was a world famous theater program collection, given by Mr. Eli Sanger, president of the board of directors of the museum. Another donation was a transfer facsimile of the verse carved in stone over Shakespeare's tomb.

Interfraternity debates have begun, counting as another activity by which the best fraternity is chosen. The only intersorority activities are sports. Hockey and volleyball have been played. Helen Davis and Lyra De Wees, pledges, were elected to the all-sorority hockey team. Texas B won League B but was defeated by K A Θ for the title.

The Arden Club has presented "Sir Edward Bulwer-Litton's "Lady of Lyons," and Hubert Henry Davies' play, "The Mollusc." Elizabeth Jameson, pledge, has had the lead in two Dallas Little Theatre plays: "Caesar and Cleopatra" and "Three Cornered Moon." Elizabeth Jameson also INITIATED, October 25, 1933: Hester Harrop, Minna Hopkins, Dorothy Juden, Patsy Kilpatrick, Marion Leverich, Natalie Norton, Charlotte Perret, and Keith Sommerville.

On December 15 and 16, the Newcomb Alumnae presented the "Sorcerer," comic opera by Gilbert and Sullivan. It caused much activity and interest in both campus and fraternity life. Lise Wehrmann sang one of the leads, and Margaret Rosser, a graduate of last year, assisted Mr. Philip Adams, the dramatic director.

November 30, the Jitney Players presented "She Stoops To Conquer," Π B Φ Alumnae acting as sponsor. In spite of the fact that it was before the Thanksgiving holidays, a large crowd attended.

The annual pledge dance was given November 25, held at the West End Country Club. Many of the alumnae attended.

There has been much discussion of deferred rushing in Panhellenic meetings. Newcomb has outgrown its old system and a change has become necessary.

Louisiana A is giving particular attention to scholarship this quarter.

Pledge Day, October 14, 1933

INITIATED, November 20, 1933: Dorothy Deakin, Ruth Graham, Edmonton; Lorna Park, Calgary; Marianne Pearson, Edmonton; Agnes Stiell, Kelowna, B.C.

Rushing for 1933-34 on the Alberta campus was limited to second-year students and graduates of Mount Royal Junior College, Calgary. As a result very intensive rushing was carried on for two weeks in October. There will be no further rushing during the year.

Jean Irving was elected president of the household economics club and Olive Young, Flora Williams, and Marianne Pearson were elected to the Executive.

The Arrow basketball team has been turning out regularly to practices and has high hopes of leading in the house league again this year.

The Junior Promenade, the outstanding dance of the fall term, took place in Athabasca Hall on December 8. A huge devil with claw-like hands outspread over innumerable ascending flames formed the central theme of the decorations, and

MONTANA ALPHA—MONTANA STATE COLLEGE

Chartered, 1921

Pledge Day, September 30, 1933

Montana State College is to have a tenth building added to its campus; this $208,000 project of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation is to be known as Sorority Quadrangle. Grouped together in one building will be houses for six women's fraternities, each completely independent of the others except for a common kitchen. In case one of the groups prefers not to live in the house, tentative plans are to have independent women occupy this one-sixth of the building. Stakes are being driven locating it just off the campus, and work will continue as much as possible throughout the winter; it is hoped that by the Christmas of 1934 the building will be ready for its occupants.

One of the outstanding questions at present under consideration by the local Panhellenic is that of deferred pledging; there is a great deal of agitation both for and against the idea, and as yet no decision has been reached. Panhellenic sponsors monthly exchange dinners, each of the women's fraternities sending two girls to another house, and entertaining in return two girls from still a different house.

Answering the need for inexpensive entertainment, after dinner coffees are again becoming popular; one group will be invited to call at the home of another group for an hour of dancing during the early part of the evening.

Constance Wiggernhorn received a great deal of applause for her work in one of the leading rôles of the fall dramatic production, "Hay Fever," by Noel Coward. Plans are now being made to present Ibsen's "Wild Duck" this winter and a musical production in the spring.

Dorothy Olson, with a score of 193 out of a possible 200, won the Anceny Medal awarded each year to the women's rifle champion.

Just before Thanksgiving a highly enjoyable masquerade was held at the house, with prizes given for the best costume and the best waltz. On the afternoon of Saturday, December 16, the chapter exchanged Christmas gifts (with a fifteen cent limit) and planned to carry out again the annual custom of presenting Christmas dinner to a worthy Bozeman family.

Betty Bell, Joliet, and Mary Daugherty, Butte, are two new pledges of Montana A.

IDAHO ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO

Chartered, 1923

Pledge Day, September 24, 1933

INITIATED, October 6, 1933: Mariette Sebern, Boise.

The Armistice Day Homecoming was carried out in a 1903 tradition. All fellows let their beards grow for several weeks and the girls wore hair ribbons to increase the school spirit. Homecoming week the campus carried out 1903 decorations and 1903 style of dress. Although Washington State was victor it was an exciting game and a very successful Homecoming.

One Idaho football man was chosen to play on the West team on New Year's Day. This honor fell to John Norby, the honorary captain of this year's team.

Cardinal Key, a national sister service honorary to Blue Key, has been installed on the campus and MaeBelle Donaldson has been chosen as a charter member. Rosanne Roark has been pledged to K & H, educational honorary. Hazel Gentry has been elected vice-president of A & A, an underclasswoman's scholastic honorary. Fay Pettijohn was chosen to the Vandaleers, an A.S.U.I. chorus of sixteen students, and also to a Russian octette which appeared several times.

The first woman to be elected to the U. S. Congress, Janette Rankin, spoke about the public works program in a student assembly December 12.

Many remained on the campus during Christmas holidays to take advantage of the C.W.A. work being offered to students of the university, as $17,000 has been allotted for work on the campus.

WASHINGTON ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON

Chartered, 1907

Pledge Day, September 28, 1933

The University of Washington campus is scheduled to receive a million and a half dollars' appropriation to go toward the erection of four new buildings; a new wing to the library is also among the projects planned. The registration of 7200 students makes these additions necessary.

Mary Jane Mueller and Katherine Stewart were pledged to  $\Phi M \Gamma$ , a dramatic honorary.

For the fall informal, the girls chose the tabloid idea, carrying this motive out in the programs and the decoration of the house, which was entirely papered in newspapers. Tabloids about each girl decorated the walls, and even tiny newspapers were circulated.

Instead of giving each other inexpensive gifts at Christmas, the girls gave a party for the children listed among the needy families in Seattle. Also Washington A combined with two other sororities in making a $40 donation to go toward relief work among the poor.

Marjan Harper was elected Town Girls' President for the coming year. This organization is made up of all the girls who live in Seattle going to school at the university, who come together once a month for luncheon and entertainment.

At a Mortar Board tea held before Christmas, Ruth Berry was one of the models. These teas are held annually and the proceeds go to the support of Tolo House, an organization of independent women.

Before the Oregon-Washington football game, the chapter won the first prize of $25 for its float in the rally. Ruth Berry was chairman of the committee.

Washington A enjoyed the hospitality of the W.S.C. Chapter during the week-end of the football game with Washington State College. Several girls visited from Oregon for the O.S.C. game.

Each year before the U.C.L.A. game, the campus celebrates homecoming by sponsoring a sign contest among the houses. This year the chapter sign represented an old English Inn, lighted from within and having silhouettes in the windows. On a sign over the door was "Ye Golden Arrow Inn." Following the game was a buffet supper honoring the graduates.

Jane Smith was in charge of the dean's tea given by the A.W.S. for Miss May Dunn Ward, the dean of Women, and Miss Mary I. Bash her assistant, who is a  $\Pi B \Phi$ .

This year the varsity ball had as its motive the stardust idea. The ballroom was decorated with silver stars hung from the ceiling, and pictures of movie actors on the walls. Mary Frances Hartson was on the committee.

The second in the series of A.W.S. concerts was the Shan-Kar dancers. Jane Smith, Ruth Mackay, and Ruth Berry all worked on the committee.

The mothers' club gave a tea honoring the pledges, where they became mutually acquainted. Another social event honoring the pledges was the alumnae dinner on October 10. The sophomores also gave a bridge supper for them at the home of Ruth Mackay.

PLEGGED: Juliana Neu, Seattle; Stella Stetler, Virginia Cruse, Pocatello, Idaho; Viola Sorenson, Seattle.

WASHINGTON BETA—WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE

Chartered, 1912

Pledge Day, September 26, 1933

INITIATED, October 28, 1933: Elizabeth Beedon, Elizabeth Haydon, Aberdeen; Marie Betchard, Roy; Merideth Daily, Palouse.

The State of Washington appropriated a fund to Washington State College to be used to provide work during Christmas vacation for 200 students who needed money to continue in college next semester. Over 600 applications were turned in for the jobs.

The annual Dads' Day held in the fall and to which dads of all Washington State students are invited was more successful this year than ever before. Almost 600 were present at a special luncheon given in their honor after which they were guests of the college at the University of California-Washington State football game. In the evening all organized groups on the campus entertained their dads at dinner.

Another outstanding event of the late fall was Homecoming for which sixty Washington B Alumnae returned to visit the house and campus.

The All-College-Revue this year was in the form of a musical comedy, "So This Is College." The acts of the different groups chosen were woven together into three acts which, through original songs and acting, gave an exaggerated picture of college life including rushing, pledging, dances, classes, and even a college romance which carried throughout the show. The settings and scenes were characteristic of those on Washington State campus. It was an entirely new idea and was very successful. Marion Bailey was director.

Members of the local alumnae club and their children were entertained at a Christmas dinner party at the house. The arrival of Santa Claus with gifts for the children was the feature of the evening.

Washington B was very happy to have Mrs. Lillian Rusch, new Lambda Province President, for a very enjoyable and helpful visit in December.

Just before Christmas the Y.W.C.A. gave an international festival to raise money. Gifts from many foreign countries were on sale; tea was served and entertainment provided. Katherine Steward, Marion Haydon, Katherine Driscoll, LaVerne Swallow, Eleanor Sprague, and Dorothy Loquum were all on the program.

Elizabeth Beedon has been pledged to  $\Pi A \Theta$ , national educational honorary, to  $M \Phi E$ , national musical honorary, and to Eurodelphian, music and art honorary. Gertrude Nelson, Katherine Steward, and LaVerne Swallow were also pledged to Eurodelphian.

Virginia Gerding had a part in the last all-college play, "Death Takes a Holiday."

Jeffra Boatright has been initiated into  $O N$ , national home economics honorary, and Katherine Driscoll had charge of the entertainment for a faculty fireside given by the students for all faculty members.

Every spring a State High School Conference is held on Washington State campus. Gertrude Nelson is on the committee to make plans for the conference.

PLEGDED: Carol Adams, Newport; Ruth Alexander, Yakima; Gwendolyn Eder, Pullman.

OREGON ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF OREGON

Chartered, 1915

Pledge Day, September 23, 1933

INITIATED, November 21, 1933: Elizabeth Anderson, Klamath Falls; Billie Hammett, Medford; Ruth Rippey, Baker.

According to a plan being put into effect on this campus, men's fraternities agree not to pledge any entering student in the lowest decile of his class as indicated by mental tests and high school record.

The Oregon football team was presented with the perpetual trophy donated by the governors of the states of Oregon and California for the winner of the Oregon-St. Mary's Thanksgiving Day game in Kezar Stadium, San Francisco. The trophy represents a relief map of the two states and the action of two gridders in bronze.

The Prince Lucian Campbell Memorial Art Museum, containing the valuable Murray-Warner collection of oriental art, is now open to visitors.

On the last Sunday before fall term examinations, Oregon A relaxed from studies to enjoy a Christmas dinner party. Names had been drawn for inexpensive gifts. The freshmen were in charge of decorations. Clippings of pictures and letters from magazine advertisements, mounted on card board, made place cards appropriate to each girl. Beginning with Mrs. Crouch, the house mother, everyone in turn read the verse attached to her gift, then unwrapped it. Gifts ranged from rolling pins for girls with "hopes" to a toy gong for the proctor. At this time Mrs. Crouch presented to the house a silver jelly dish.

Betty Henry has been elected a member of  $\Phi X \Theta$ , national commerce honorary for women. Betty Kleinsorge is a member of  $\Phi B$ , women's national professional fraternity of music and dramatic art. Janis Worley is a member of  $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$ , women's national professional journalism honorary. She and Marjorie Linebaugh are on the staff of the Oregana, student year book. Martha McCall and Margaret Daggett are Amphibians. Martha is president of the frosh council of the Y.W.C.A. and a member of Thespian, women's freshman service honorary. Lucy Howe is a member of  $\Pi A \Theta$ , women's national professional and honorary education fraternity, and one of the Senior Six of  $\Phi B K$ . Martha McCall and Lucy Howe made the university honor roll for fall term.

OREGON BETA—OREGON STATE COLLEGE

Chartered, 1917

Pledge Day, October 1, 1933

The football season aroused much enthusiasm on the Oregon State campus this year because of the national recognition of the team and its fine showing.

The A.W.S. finally won their plea for a portion of the registration fee, paid by the women, to be used to bring finer entertainment to the campus. This grant made it possible to bring Dudley Watson, well-known lecturer and artist, to the first convocation sponsored by the women.

New rushing regulations have been formulated which provide that no woman registered at Oregon State College may be rushed during the months of November, February, and May.

After several years of petitioning, Cap and Gown was granted a Mortar Board charter. Clara Park Knappen, Betty Robley Knutsen, and Estora Ricks returned to the campus for the installation. Janet Millard and Jean Dutton were awarded  $\Phi K \Phi$  certificates for their outstanding scholastic attainments, and they were entertained at the chapter house with a cookie-shine.

Janet Johnson represented the college at the National Panhellenic Congress in Chicago this fall. Judy Hyslop had the leading rôle in the National Collegiate Players' presentation of "The Mollusc." Alice Reed was elected secretary of the freshman class. Janet Millard was elected regent of the D.A.R. Chapter which was organized this last December.

MU PROVINCE

CALIFORNIA ALPHA—LELAND STANFORD, JR., UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1893

Pledge Day, January 12, 1934

Because of the administration's policy inaugurated last October of allowing an additional quota of women to register, increased numbers continued to enter last quarter. Since living group units situated not only on the campus but also in the nearby town of Palo Alto are being crowded, plans for a new women's dormitory have been completed. Construction of the building, which will house 200 students, is scheduled to begin this spring.

The presence of many new women on the campus has caused a revision of the rushing rules to effect greater simplicity in rushing functions and a division of periods. One week of rushing came near the end of the autumn quarter, and the final week at the beginning of winter quarter.

This year Stanford University felt honored in being chosen to represent the West in the football game played on New Year's Day at the Pasadena Rose Bowl. Large numbers of students traveled the 400 miles south to watch their team.

Barbara Balfour and Katrina Wallingford wrote and acted in a skit which won for the chapter the first award for all skits presented in the annual Football Gaities. Katrina has recently been elected to Masquers, honorary dramatic society; Marian Jones was chosen president of the organization. Kay Arthur has been prominent in dramatics, having had the lead in the last campus play, as well as smaller rôles in Palo Alto productions. Betty Jane Hedden is a reporter on the Stanford Daily.

CALIFORNIA BETA—UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

Chartered, 1900

Pledge Day, January 16, 1934

INITIATED, January 22, 1934: Betty Jane Hillman, Los Angeles; Roberta Kline, Sacramento; Catherine Genesy, Oakland; Maxine Taft, Berkeley; Barbara Vincent, Piedmont.

The California campus is being further improved this year by the addition of an art museum. One of the old buildings is being rebuilt and converted into a hall for art exhibits, consummating the long felt need of the art department. Work has been done not only on the buildings but on the grounds as well, for the beauty of the campus is enhanced by a creek, which runs through it, and the banks have lately been cleared of all debris, and plotted.

Dramatics have been a prevailing interest lately. Elizabeth Dunning took part in one of the most outstanding productions of the year—"Lucrece." Thalian, which is the drama production society, has added Elsa Meyer as one of its latest members. Activities other than dramatics have included Katherine Torney, who was initiated into Ace of Clubs, the intersorority organization.

The social activities have been largely confined to the formal dinner dance and the mother's and alumnae gatherings. The formal dance was given in one of the large country clubs and was very successful. One of the outstanding events which the mothers contributed was the Rummage Sale for the Settlement School. As well as being very beneficial, this was much enjoyed because of the accompanying bridge-tea.

This year the scholarship record of the chapter has improved. This was accomplished by means of special study-halls, besides the regular underclass study-hall. These special hours were strictly enforced and have proved to be very worth while for those whose grades needed improvement.

PATRICIA ANDERSON

CALIFORNIA GAMMA—UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Chartered, 1917

Pledge Day, February 5, 1934

INITIATED, November 6, 1933: Edith Crawford, Elizabeth Dean, Patricia Dean, Los Angeles; Grace McGee, Whittier; Marguerite Reid, Margaret Thompson, Shirley Vance, Los Angeles.

Christy Fox was the official hostess for homecoming, while Dicksy Lane and Kay Moss were two of the other ten girls chosen to welcome the alumni back to the campus. During this week the women students on campus stage a Hi-Jinks. This year Jane Reynolds was chosen Helen of Troy and presided at this occasion. Christy Fox and Roberta von Kleinsmid also played important parts. The house decoration, which was "The Three Little Pigs," was awarded honorable mention. The float, entered in the homecoming parade, was given first prize in the novelty class. Due credit should be given to Evelyn Herberts, who worked very hard on the house decorations and the float. Taxi day is held each year during this week by the A.W.S. All the proceeds go to the student loan fund. The chapter won the plaque for the second year in succession.

The chapter was second in scholarship among women's fraternities on the campus. The study table system has been working effectively.

Haila Gude played the leading rôle in "Death Takes a Holiday" which was produced by the speech department.

Patricia and Elizabeth Dean tied for first place in the women's tennis tournament held early this fall.

During the Christmas holidays the annual party for poor children was given. A beautifully decorated tree and Santa Claus, as well as the toys and canned food, made the day a joyous one for some thirty-five small children. The Christmas formal was held with the holiday motif carried out in the decorations by means of poinsettias and red candles.

CALIFORNIA DELTA—UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA AT LOS ANGELES

Chartered, 1927

Pledge Day, September 24, 1933

On December 12 California Δ gave a Christmas party for two little boys seven and nine years old. After a dinner which was enlivened by singing of carols, presents of toys, food and clothing were given them.

The officers of the two Los Angeles chapters were guests at the Christmas parties given by the Glendale and the Los Angeles alumnae clubs. Betty Fowler received the book-ends which the Los Angeles Club presents each year to the girl with the highest scholastic record during her entire college career.

This year Κ Κ Γ, Κ Α Θ, Δ Γ, Α Φ, and Π Β Φ combined to give a five-way Christmas formal. The party was very successful and will probably be repeated in the future.

The chapter has a representative on each of the four class councils: Marion McCarthy, senior; Estelle Fowler, junior; Mary Elizabeth Leonard, sophomore; Barbara Dunn, freshman. Mary Badger has been elected to  $\Delta \chi \Delta$ , honorary economics sorority. Two officers in the Y.W.C.A. freshman club are Barbara Dunn and Peggy Perkins.

NEVADA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA

Chartered, 1915

Pledge Day, January 27, 1934

INITIATED, November 25, 1933: Lura Gamble, Hazen; Virginia Hill, Reno; Colene Hollan, Eureka; Rita Jepson, Sparks; June McGuire, Wells; Arnelia Zorich, Truckee, Calif.

On October 15, Mrs. Prince Hawkins gave her home for a tea presenting the 15 new pledges and new housemother, Mrs. Claribel Pike from Idaho Falls, Idaho.

Armistice Day, Nevada A held an open-house after the Chico State-Nevada football game, which was the last home game of the season. Dancing was the main diversion for the remainder of the afternoon.

Mrs. Alford, Mu Province President, was a guest at the house during her annual visit to Nevada A. A reception was given in her honor, mothers and fathers of the actives and pledges, and members of the university faculty being invited.

The annual slumber party was held December 15 at the house. Many of the actives and pledges were there to enjoy the party and cooky-shine which was held shortly after midnight.

Local Panhellenic council has again taken steps to curtail high school rushing which has been a source of trouble in the past, by forcing the high school girls' clubs to submit a complete list of honorary and initiated members. Girls who have accepted bids to become honorary or initiated members since January 22, 1932, will be ineligible for a bid to a sorority for a year after their first matriculation at the University of Nevada.

San Jose Alumnae Club has chosen to sponsor Nevada A.

ARIZONA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA

Chartered, 1917

Pledge Day, October 1, 1933

Especially notable work has been done by President Homer LeRoy Shantz and Dr. Joseph J. Spengler. President Shantz as vice-president of the Botanical Section of the Association for the Advancement of Science spoke on "Botanical Research" at the meeting held December 28 in Boston. Dr. Spengler spoke on "Industrial Planning and Future Population Plans" at the recent Conference on Industrial Planning in Washington. Articles by Dr. Spengler have recently appeared in the American Economic Review, New Republic, Scribner's and American Mercury.

The most interesting of campus events was the December meeting of the Arizona Archaeological Historical Society which took the form of a Mexican "baile."

The Y.W.C.A. held their annual Christmas party for the Yaki Indians.

On October 25 and 26 Mrs. T. N. Alford, our Province President, visited the chapter. During her visit she was guest of the alumnae at a luncheon at the Old Pueblo Club and of the active chapter for dinner at La Fonda. Faculty members, alumnae, and friends were guests at a tea given in honor of Mrs. Alford. The usual formal dinner with the Arrow cake ceremony was held the last night of Mrs. Alford's visit.

On December 6 a tea was given by the alumnae at the house to display the Arrow Craft products. On December 18 the members of the chapter were the guests of the alumnae for dinner. After dinner the alumnae presented a very attractive silver sandwich plate to the chapter as their Christmas gift.

The Mothers' Club held a bridge tea at the chapter house to raise money for the chapter.

Exchange dinners have been held with other sororities and fraternities on the campus.

December 16 the pledges gave a "Black and White" formal dance for the active members. Tropical trees were silhouetted on the walls, and silver stars were suspended from the ceiling. White Arrow cakes and coffee carried out the color scheme.

Members of Arizona A have received the following honors: Irma Bayless was elected to A E, honorary commerce fraternity. Anne Hayden and Dalton Beville were made "Rattlers," honorary sophomore society for women. Kathryn Stephenson was elected to attend the Panhellenic meeting in Chicago.

On December 9 Arizona competed against Tempe. Dorothy Roby and Gladys Bowden were members of the victorious hockey team. Mary Jane Hayden had third high score in archery, and Kathryn Stephenson shot low score in the golf event.

The annual horseshow was held on the Polo Field, December 16. Frances Huddleson and Kay Teague received fourth place in the "pair jumping," and Virginia Lockett fourth place in the "Three Gaited Saddle Class."

PLEGDED: Gertrude Johannessen of Phoenix, and Junia Foster of Tucson.

UTAH ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF UTAH

Chartered, 1929

Pledge Day, January 27, 1934

INITIATED, December 9, 1933: Virginia Allison, Gladys Besley, Marjory Hyde, Beth Papworth, and Margaret Tanner, all of Salt Lake City.

At the beginning of the school year Mortar Board was formally installed on this campus by Mrs. Colman, the National President. Virginia Parsons of Utah A is president of this chapter and Betty Strong was initiated at the installation.

Mary Burnett was initiated into B  $\Delta$  M, honorary musical sorority.

Miriam Hardy was pledged into  $\Sigma \kappa \Phi$ , national language fraternity, and she and Virginia Parsons were taken into  $\Phi \kappa \Phi$ .

It is expected that  $\Phi \beta \kappa$  will be installed on this campus in September, 1934.

Erection of a half-million dollar library was started last quarter, and it will be a valuable asset to the university.

An outstanding social event of the fall quarter on the campus was the Panhellenic-Interfraternity Masquerade held in the Union Building. It was enjoyed by all of the sorority and fraternity members.

The most delightful occasion of the year was the visit of our Province President, Mrs. Alford, in the early part of November. On her arrival she was entertained by the alumnae, and the next noon the chapter president and corresponding secretary took her to luncheon at the Alta Club with Miss Slavens, the Dean of Women, Miss Esther Nelson, Miss Gretchen Horst, and Mrs. Dick. That evening after sorority meeting the chapter gave a cooky-shine in her honor. The next day she met with the Mother's Club at one of their regular meetings, and they thoroughly enjoyed having her as their guest. Needless to say, her meeting with us was very interesting, enjoyable, and very beneficial. And we all wished that she might have stayed much longer with us.

We have a new housemother this year, Mrs. Dick. She is very enthusiastic and does everything possible to help and please us. At the beginning of the year we had a delightful tea for her which was attended by the members of the sorority, their mothers, and the alumnae.

Early in the quarter the Mother's Club had our house entirely redecorated, and the alumnae gave us a new Frigidaire and two kitchen stoves.

A very successful and beautiful fashion show was given by the chapter in November at the Union Building.

We had our annual Christmas party for needy children on the last day of school before Christmas vacation, and cared for about twenty families. Beatrice McCrea, our social chairman, arranged a delightful program for them and they seemed to enjoy it hugely.

The chapter entertained at a delightful dancing party and midnight supper at the sorority house the night after Christmas.

A Ring That Symbolizes Romance and Charm

- The magnetic charm and allure of Tangiers—that romantic town along the Mediterranean Coast of Morocco—has been modeled into the lines of this ring.
- A rich sardonyx complements the dusty yellow gold and suggests the hot, sandy desert wastes against the colorful, tropic brilliance of the sky.
