Announcements

THE Pi Beta Phi Fellowship for Graduate Study has been awarded for the coming year to Christina Meredith, Pennsylvania Γ.

For four years she has been a very active member of her chapter. Scholastically she has been outstanding, having attended each year the "A" banquets which are given by the faculty for the students having "A" averages, and she has recently been elected to Phi Beta Kappa. She has lent her energies to many of Dickinson's organizations, among them the Greek Club, the Harmon Literary society, the Y.W.C.A., the International Relations Club, and the Science Club. In her sophomore year, she was the assistant editor of the handbook which is sent by the college to all new students. In the chapter, she has held prominent positions: she was corresponding secretary during her sophomore and junior years, and she is now president of her chapter. She is the daughter of Josephine Meredith, Dean of Women at Dickinson.

The Editor announces the appointment of Elizabeth Hawkins of California A as editor of the Convention Daily. The Daily will be issued each day of Convention. Subscription to it is included in the registration fee for those attending Convention, but additional copies of the entire series may be mailed to any address for fifty cents. Here is a wonderful chance to share the pleasure of Convention with those who cannot be there, to send the Daily to relatives, to rushees, to patronesses, to friends of the chapters. Communications concerning the Daily should be addressed to Elizabeth Hawkins, 549 Court St., Reno, Nev.

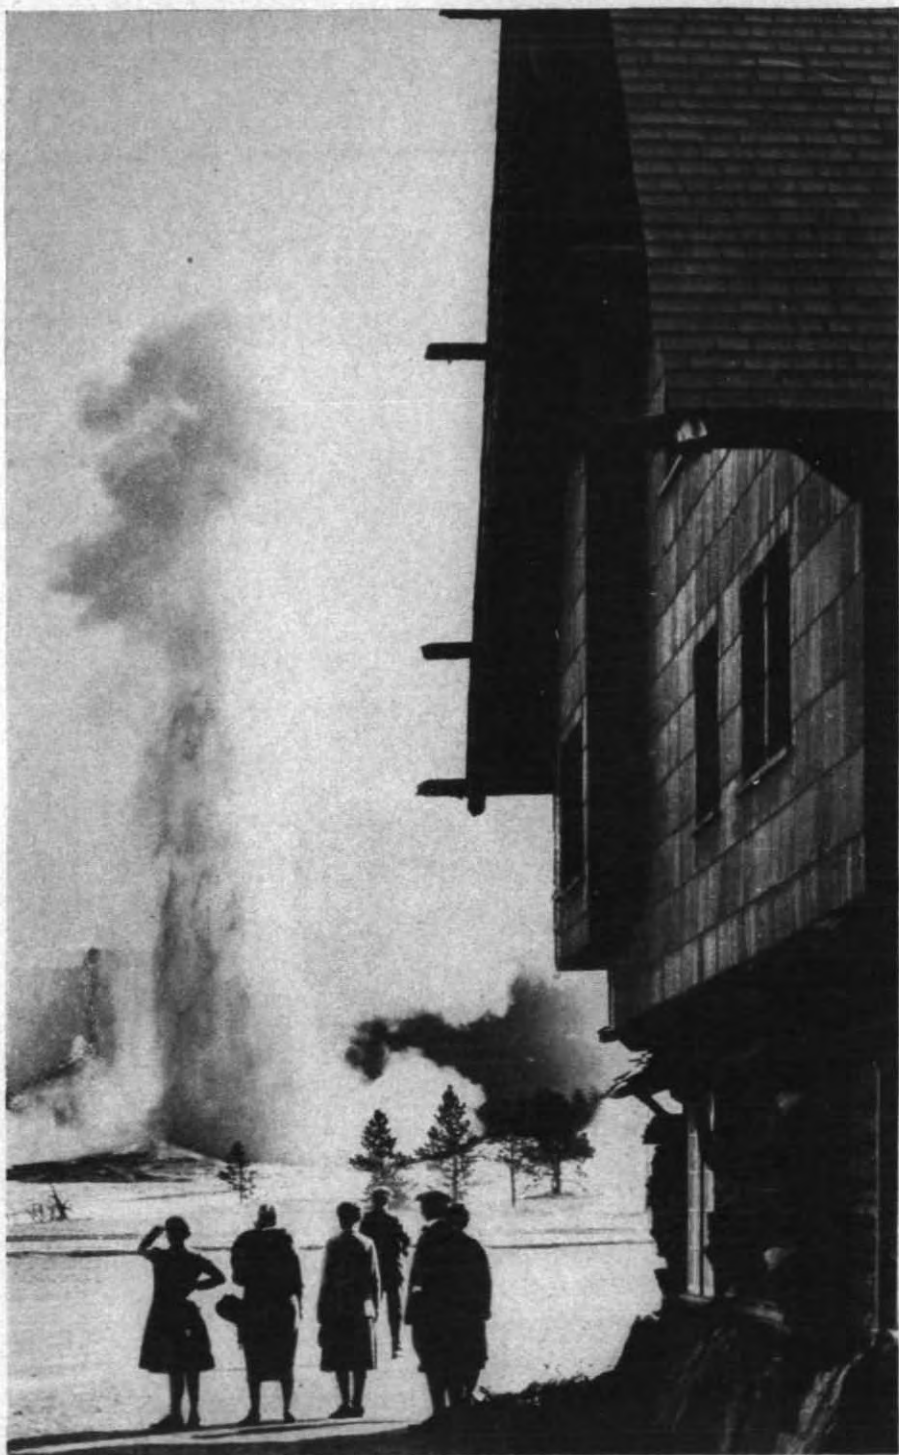

The Editor regrets that the department "With the Actives" was crowded out of this issue. Much interesting material had come in, and she would like to keep it for a future issue. However, if chapters would like their copy returned, will they please notify the editor?

Don't forget that at Convention:

- we have a song contest. Bring a good song from every chapter.
- we have a Fancy Dress Night. Come prepared with a costume. There will be prizes for the best costumes. This has been one of the most entertaining evenings at other conventions—some of you remember the wonderful parade around the pool at the Huntington!
- stunt night is so much fun that you will want to put on the best stunt you ever dreamed of to compete with the other clever ones that will be presented.
- it will help if your best singers are present to help make this truly a "singing convention." We are planning to have a wonderful leader for the music.
- Settlement School night is always interesting—a reminder that our philanthropic work is a very living reality. Bring to it your best interest!

Will Pi Phis who are in any way connected with the Navy send their addresses, both permanent and temporary, to the Editor of the ARROW?

Kappa Province offers a prize to the Pi Beta Phi chapter holding first place on its comparative scholarship list for the greatest portion of time since convention 1931.

OLD FAITHFUL GEYSER, FROM THE INN

Come to Convention . . . Grand Council Welcomes You!

A CHAPTER PRESIDENT once said that she thought of her years in her chapter as "a time for storing up beautiful memories." It is because fraternity conventions have been that for me that I am grateful for the opportunity to say again to Pi Beta Phis, active and alumnæ—"Come to convention!"

What precious memories are mine because of conventions! What lasting inspiration there is in those of associations with our Founders, which have made manifest the eternal youth in their hearts and their abiding loyalty to the Fraternity which IS because of their vision and idealism! Where else could I have gained such cherished memories of Pi Beta Phi as a living organization, expressed in the personalities of its members, young and old, as they have played together and have planned together to keep the Fraternity fine and strong and true? What more precious memories could I have than those of the beginnings of lasting friendships, friendships which are mine only because of Pi Beta Phi conventions, friendships without which life would be immeasurably poorer?

Truly, a Pi Beta Phi convention is "a time for storing up beautiful memories"! And, to become a beautiful memory an experience must of itself be a thing of loveliness: so come to convention both for the happiness of its today and for the lasting joy of its tomorrow!

AMY BURNHAM ONKEN

Our Founders

THE PROMISE

MARGARET CAMPBELL

SOMETIMES we worry over unfortunate and disagreeable things which happen in our chapters; we are inclined to lose sight of the fact that they are as integral a part of life as are the happy things. At the time, however, a fraternity seems a petty local organization. Such a chapter has failed to find the essential thing for which the twelve girls in Monmouth had hoped. When we remember them and realize how blessed we are in still having Margaret Campbell, we become ashamed of our blindness, we begin again to see Pi Phi as a promise of finer womanhood.

Soon Convention will make us forget our separate identities even more. There we will fuse ourselves with other Pi Phis. While seeing the concrete workings of fraternity government, we will also see an abstract—many representative women contributing their best. They are the essence of Pi Phi.

With them each chapter, through its delegates, will have new and vital contacts. The trivialities will shrink to their relative proportions, and once more we are members, not of a bridge club, but of a fraternity. Little golden rays of pride, hope, and understanding shine in our hearts.

THE PURPOSE

INEZ SMITH SOULE

A TINY PERSON, scarcely more than five feet tall, with gray marcelled hair and sparkling eyes, who usually wears either gray or dark blue dresses, with a black silk coat, and one who steps along with the youngest of us, is Inez Smith Soule. Tacoma Pi Phis are proud of this woman, who with eleven others, gave us the privilege of banding together for a purpose to be carried on through the coming generations.

First realizing the permanence and stability of this aim when we are in college, we later join the alumnae group in our home towns, and meet those from other schools whose ideals and ambitions have been similar. Thus we share with our Founder the plans other members have used in making Pi Beta Phi a fraternity to justify its existence. Also once a year we go to Seattle to meet, on Founders' Day, with the active chapter of the University of Washington and the Seattle alumnae. Driving back after the banquet most of us are tired, sleepy, anxious to relax, but not so with Mrs. Soule. She is always wide awake, ready with her sparkling wit, and anxious to keep going. As we reach her home, we have difficulty in escorting her to the door, so unnecessary does she consider it. A supremely independent lady who has her own home, and has it just the way she wants it.

From the inspiration of a Founders' Day Banquet to a Pi Phi Convention is a long step, but our connecting link again is our Mrs. Soule. She usually attends, in fact, has missed very few conventions, and returns with a message of a grand time, lots of work accomplished, ideals and purposes maintained.

INEZ SMITH SOULE

As we think of her, we realize that she unconsciously has set a standard of loyalty, independence, interest, friendship, and activity for all of us to follow; that at convention this purpose is renewed and strengthened; that as long as we have members as interested as she,  $\Pi B \Phi$  will continue to be the finest fraternity in the land. What a fine thought to know that the friendships and purposes founded in our college days may last as long as hers have lasted, and become more dear to us as time speeds on!

AN EXPECTATION

FANNIE WHITENACK LIBBEY

IT WAS snowing outside, and the Pi Phi who stopped for a moment at her chapter house to meet Fanny Whitenack Libbey, our guest for the evening, was exhausted from a long day on the campus. But there was a magic in the quiet fire-lit room; the Pi Phi felt it as soon as she crossed the threshold. It was a new atmosphere of warmth and graciousness, of which the center was the little figure by the fire. The most friendly of handclasps, a smile from young eyes under snow-white hair, and Mrs. Libbey asked me, "Are you one of my girls?"

Sitting down on the hassock at her feet, I thought how glad I was to answer "Yes" to that question, how proud

FANNY WHITENACK LIBBEY

I was to tell Mrs. Libbey that I was one of the links in that great golden chain which she with the eleven others had first begun, nearly seventy years ago. And I felt at once how close Pi

Phi was to her heart, and because I knew what it meant to her perhaps it came to mean just a little bit more to me.

What a thrill there is in thinking of the changes which Mrs. Libbey has seen in Pi Phi! She has watched it grow from a little sisterhood of twelve to a mighty nationwide organization, second to none. Perhaps when we meet at Convention we shall all realize just what it was that made the little group of twelve grow so great; we shall understand that the ideals of I. C. Sorosis, which remain the same as the size of the sorority increases, are what make us proud of the mighty Pi Phi of today. Perhaps we shall return from Convention wanting to work all the harder for Pi Phi, so that it may continue to be as fine a thing as our founders dreamed of its becoming.

BETSY EMMONS, Minnesota A

FRIENDSHIP

*So fragile and so frail a thing is this Called Friendship! This, so often made a toy
To play with for a day and then destroy;
Or, baser still, betray it with a kiss
In reckless hour of ill-considered bliss—
Not, subtle seeming, masquerades as joy
Whose tawdry gold is tawdrier alloy—
And lose today, in yesterdays abyss.*

*But tendrils of lianes, jungle-born,
And prey to every incident of fate,
Strives on some tropic, rainbow-flaming morn
To reach the earth, and there deep penetrate,
Grow taut and ageless, and in beauty bear
Upon its breast, an orchid, lovely, fair.*

EDITORIALS

THE present editor of the ARROW knows she is voicing the feeling of the entire membership of the fraternity when she expresses the keenest regret that Mary Katharine Lutz has had to give up her work for Pi Beta Phi.

Under her hand the ARROW has been vivid, alive, interesting to every type of our members, attractive in style and make-up. She has done a fine piece of work for the fraternity, and not her first, as her own chapter can testify. She was for two years treasurer of District of Columbia A, in itself a tribute to her ability, and since leaving college in 1929 she has served on various committees in the Washington Alumnae Club, was a member of the executive committee in 1932-1933, and a member of the advisory board of District of Columbia A in 1930. She attended the convention in Asbury Park. She has lived in Washington all her life, graduating from the Western High School and going for four years to George Washington University. Since leaving college she has worked with the Society of Military Engineers, for the past three years of that time as business manager of the society, and Associate Editor of their magazine, the American Military Engineer.

She has made the ARROW an interesting record of the life of the fraternity, an inspiration to us all, and she has done this at real personal sacrifice. She leaves a vacancy on the Grand Council and in the Editorship that will be hard to fill.

THE editor wishes to make grateful acknowledgment for the aid that has come to her from every side for her first issue of the ARROW.

From Mary Katharine Lutz have come letters that might serve as models for the careful instruction of the incoming officer by the outgoing one, of which we talk so much to the chapters; from the ARROW staff and contributors the most perfect cooperation, along with the fine material they have sent in; from individuals all over the country messages of encouragement and confidence that have made the task an easy one. Surely such a spirit of helpfulness and of friendliness must be one of the greatest sources of our strength.

CONVENTION means so much that is lovely, so much that is inspiring! Come prepared to get from it the best it has to give. To do that there is only one way—give yourself! Make friends, open up your mind, your best thoughts to the girls you will meet, enter into discussions with your whole heart, work hard on committees, on the Daily, anywhere that you may be called. When the time comes to play, play with all your heart in that wonderful out-door world of the Yellowstone that has so much of wonder and pleasure to offer. Only so will you go back home feeling that your journey was worth while, that you are a stronger member of Pi Beta Phi, a finer, greater woman, because of the contacts you have made. You have before you six precious days with people from the four corners of the United States and beyond—make the most of them! Taken in the right way they constitute one of the greatest experiences that can ever come to any one of us.

YOUR new Editor comes to you with a very humble mind, a very high desire to do for you the thing that you want most, in the way you want it done. She sends to you a cry for help, for suggestions, for contributions, for material of every kind. She cannot perhaps use it all, she may have to make many changes in it—but the more choice she has, the better will be your magazine. The Japanese call their color prints the "Mirror of the Passing World"; that is what your Editor would like to make of your magazine—the mirror of Pi Beta Phi, a true picture of the life of our many chapters, their girls, their interests, their universities and their colleges. Will you help?

THE change of seasons, the inevitable return of Easter, the shift of interest from a presidential election, to the inauguration of a mayor, to the antics of Congress, to the Commencement preparations, to the plans for summer, indicate the rhythm and cyclical plan operating in our lives. With feverish enthusiasm we devote our energy to the raising of money for an organization, or even for ourselves, to the bettering of the schools which our children attend, to the perfecting of our contract bridge game, or to the current campus activity. Then within a few days, months, or perchance years, we shift to another absorbing interest, taking to it the zest and the experience of earlier enthusiasms.

During the reign of each occupation we get from it the satisfactions that we need at the time, satisfactions which are sufficient to justify its existence, even though we may never again return to it. The delight or the knowledge gained from the violin lessons is enough. We need not touch the instrument often again, or become virtuosos, but we have the increment of joy when we hasten on to the next absorption. We are not the same as before, nor are our needs the same. The main thing is that we gain from our activities in their turn the thing which we need at the time.

This year one of our enthusiasms may well be Convention. Although there have been many other conventions, with many of the same people present, and there will be others again in other years, no other one will be quite like this. Certain experiences of the past four years, among both actives and alumnae, certain national and international aspects prevalent in the world today make this convention a special event for us this year. Naturally, we will say this of the next convention too, and doubtless it has been said of previous ones. Each time it is true.

Never is there quite the same group, hence never the same spirit or the same understanding. Thus a convention missed is an experience missed which can never be exactly duplicated. Christmases are repeated, but no two are alike, and no one would we leave out if we could. For many of us, the thrill of participation with a group of women with common ideals, with sympathetic understanding of common problems, is what we seem to need at this stage of our lives.

CABINS—OLD FAITHFUL LODGE

The West for Me

*I love the peaks with their snowbound caps; the stately mountains grand;
The pungent smell of the bending pines that tower on every hand!
The streams that leap through the canyons deep, and the wind's low melody—
I heed their call, for I love them all—oh, the West, the West for me!*

*I love the stretches of desert gray; the brown buttes, grim and high;
I love the scent of the sagebrush flats; the blue of the vaulted sky!
The charm and spell of each draw and swell, and the shifting sand-dunes free—
They grip and hold as their charms unfold—'tis the West, the West for me!*

*I love the trail through the lonely hills to the door of the old log shack,
And an insist strong is luring on, as it calls and beckons back.
I love the croon of the low, sweet tune that sighs through the piñon tree,
And the throbbing note from the wild bird's throat—'tis the West, the West for me!*

*I love the herds on the open range; the riders who guard them well;
Who ride like fiends in the night stampede through the ocean of chaparral!
I love to dream, in the campfire's gleam, of the days as they used to be,
And the stalwart men who were heroes then—so the West, the West for me!*

*Oh, the boundless West, and the wild free life that is spent in the open air,
With the handiwork of the God-of-All in the plains and the mountains there!
I love the sweep of the streams that creep from the hills to the throbbing sea,

Pi Beta Phi Convention, 1934

THE SETTING

By MARGUERITE LINDSLEY ARNOLD, Montana Alpha

THE GOLDEN ARROW has this year chosen for its goal the Land of Wonders. Here, ages ago, arrow heads were fashioned by the Indian from a great cliff of black volcanic glass known as obsidian. Delegates, we salute you!

Nature was in her most generous mood when she assembled the wonders of Yellowstone Park. Not content with giving it the world's greatest geyser display she carved a delicately colored canyon of unsurpassed beauty, caused a great mountain lake to saddle the highest plateau, dotted the entire region with green and blue and red and gold hot spring jewels, and then filled the forests with an abundance of wild animals and flowers.

We hope that aside from the great benefits of attending Convention and meeting those Pi Phis who are our leaders and inspiration, you will find pleasure in availing yourselves of some of the diversions offered by the Yellowstone setting.

The wrangler has a string of saddle ponies and is eager to guide you over any number of intriguing forest trails. The ranger naturalist may be a student or professor from your own school, but now he will enjoy leading you over a Nature Trail where he will explain to you when, how, and why the geysers "geyse" and how they behave when the mercury drops to a minus fifty degrees. Perhaps you will enjoy a swim and a sunbath at the newly completed natatorium where the water comes from a nearby geyser crater and must be cooled by river water to a reasonable temperature before it is possible to swim there.

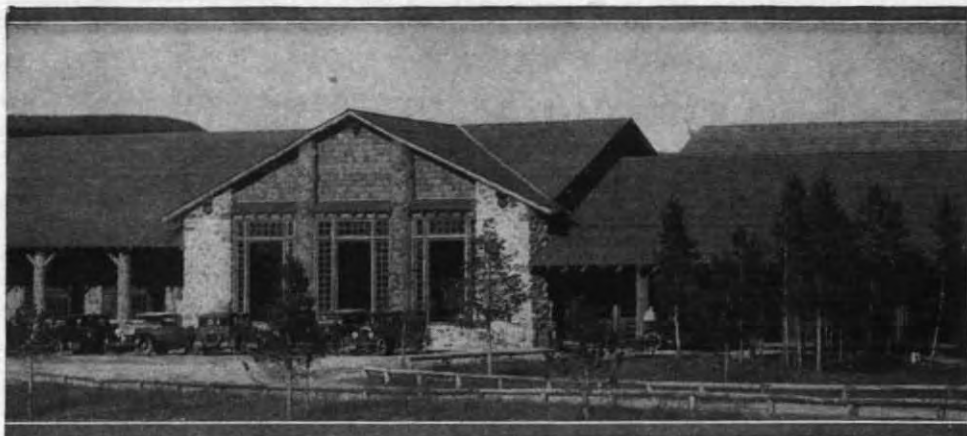

Bears you will see, little roly-poly fellows who when they were born last January were no bigger than baby kittens. Big surly grizzlies, independent and undependable. Round, glossy black and brown clowns of the park,—all best viewed from a distance though the temptation will be great to feed them a morsel from your hand.

Perhaps some of you are fishermen—I know Pi Phis who are! Here is a real chance to indulge the piscatorial urge. A ranger might show you where, for it is rumored—but this is an inside—that a good many of the good looking young men in forestry green will be assigned to duties—not too irksome—at or near Old Faithful from June 24 to 30.

Possibly when the Convention has drawn to a close as all good things must, you will find time to drive to the top of Mt. Washburn where you will be able to get a bird's-eye view of the whole region, or make a special trip to "fossilize" among the petrified remains of ancient forests in the Lamar valley. When these petrified forests were alive, magnolias bloomed here and giant sequoias towered skyward.

We who have lived here through all our brief span of years look forward eagerly toward the changing seasons. There is always so much to learn, to live for, to enjoy—and if we can help you to enjoy this visit and make it a truly memorable one we, with Yellowstone, are at your service.

Yellowstone is honored. She will be a gracious hostess to all of you, and we believe you will retain her memory always.

General Instructions from the Guide

You Who Are Coming to Convention Please Observe the Following Facts Carefully

RESERVATION SLIP

THE BLUE RESERVATION SLIP, found in the front of the February and May ARROWS, should be filled out and mailed EARLY to Bess Randall Erskine, Pi Beta Phi Convention Headquarters, 914 N.P. Building, St. Paul, Minnesota. All information requested is very important and the blank should be filled out completely. Assignment of rooms will be made in the order in which reservations are received. Make your own reservation, whether you are an officer, a chapter or alumnae club delegate, or a visitor. Do not forget to state your preference for a roommate.

REGISTRATION FEE

Everyone attending convention or enjoying convention rates and privileges and registered at Old Faithful Inn, Old Faithful Lodge, or the House Keeping Camps, must pay a registration fee of $5.00. This fee includes tips for the duration of convention and a subscription to the Convention Daily. With the exception of Founders and other convention guests, everyone must pay this fee, personally. A registration fee of $2.50 will be required for each child in attendance. The registration fee is not affected by the duration of one's stay at convention.

FEES FOR HOTEL AND TRANSPORTATION IN THE PARK

Those who arrive on the "Pi Phi Roundup Special" will probably be able to pay all hotel or lodge fees for the six full days of convention and for the transportation in the Park (an inclusive ticket will be issued) and the registration fee before they leave the train. Others will pay these fees upon their arrival at Old Faithful. Since it is difficult to get personal checks cashed in Yellowstone, please plan to use

BESS RANDALL ERSKINE
Iowa Gamma Convention Guide

CONVENTION BADGE

Upon registration and the payment of all fees, each person will receive a convention badge. This badge must be worn at all times since it will be the admittance card to all convention functions. Non-Pi Phis, who take advantage of convention privileges, will be given badges which will admit them to the dining rooms and to open sessions of convention, but not, of course, to closed sessions.

RAILWAY TRANSPORTATION

Those coming to convention by train should buy round trip tickets direct to Yellowstone Park. Railway rates are exceptionally low, this year: do not fail to find out just what they are! There may never again be an opportunity to see Yellowstone Park so inexpensively and certainly there will not again be an opportunity to combine the Park and convention at so little expense. For complete information about transportation or baggage, write to Mr. M. M. Goodsill, General Passenger Agent, Northern Pacific Railroad, 914 N. P. Building, St. Paul, Minnesota.

The Pi Beta Phi Special will leave Chicago at 11:30 P.M., June 22, and will use the Burlington and Northern Pacific routes.

BAGGAGE

Every piece of baggage should be marked with the baggage tags and stickers which will be sent upon the receipt of reservation slips.

MAIL

All mail should be addressed to Old Faithful Inn or to Old Faithful Lodge, Yellowstone Park, Wyoming. Use the address for which hotel reservations are made.

SERVICE

There are beauty parlors and barber shops at the Inn and the Lodge. The Inn has a regular 48 hour service on laundry work and a special 24 hour service for a small additional charge. Regular valet service is available. Special arrangements for personal pressing will be made.

A garage is connected with the Inn and its rates are reasonable.

CLOTHES

For daytime wear, sports clothes, of course, and a warm coat for the cold evenings. Formal evening dress will be necessary for the banquet, informal for the other evenings.

Do not forget to bring a costume for the fancy dress party! While the Hamilton Stores carry some articles of wearing apparel, they provide little except outing equipment and must not be depended upon for costumes. The Hospitality Committee plans to lend a western setting to the party by wearing "ten gallon hats" and other articles of western attire, but undoubtedly every type of costume will be represented, so do not hesitate to be original. As usual, there will be prizes for the most original, most artistic, and best costumes. Anyone who wishes to buy western outing equipment may secure information about sources and prices by writing to the Convention Guide, Dude Ranch, Montana.

RECREATIONAL FEATURES

Yellowstone offers horseback riding, hiking, swimming, and lots of fishing! Many extremely interesting hikes may be taken over the park formations, and Ranger guides will be at the disposal of Convention. All day trips by car will be available for those who do not enjoy walking. The swimming contest and the horse show on Recreation Day mean that those who are especially interested in these events should bring their suits and habits with them. No license is required for fishing and the streams and lakes abound in trout. Every minute which is not filled with convention sessions will be filled with interesting and delightful recreational activities.

Bring your kodak! There is overnight service at the Inn and Lodge where Mr. Jack Haynes, the official Park photographer, makes the most modern equipment available.

A POST-CONVENTION HOUSE PARTY
AT A DUDE RANCH

A most interesting post-convention house party will be held at the OTO Ranch for those who want a taste of this typically western environment. Reservations for the house party must be sent in early since the number who can be accommodated is limited. Betty Stoolman, Illinois Z, daughter of our Grand Treasurer, will be official hostess for this Pi Beta Phi house party.

CONVENTION DAILY

No  $\Pi B \Phi$  can really afford to miss convention, but those who find that they just have to, can still keep in touch with things at convention by subscribing to the Convention Daily. The subscription price—fifty cents—should be sent to the Editor of the Daily, Elizabeth Hawkins, either at her home address, 549 Court Street, Reno, Nevada, or at her convention address, Old Faithful Inn, Yellowstone Park, Wyoming.

YOU REALLY ARE COMING, AREN'T YOU? The concession owners, the hotel and lodge managers, and all convention committees pledge you a hearty welcome and assure you that they will do everything within their power to make your week in this Great Wonderland a happy and beneficial one!

Transportation Arrangements for the Yellowstone Convention

IN CHARGE of Mrs. Clarence Gittings, of Elmhurst, Illinois, the Pi Beta Phi special convention train of 1934 will leave Chicago Union Station, June 22 at 11:30 P.M. (Central Standard Time). Special Pullmans, diners, observation car—a traveling Pi Beta Phi House. Pi Phis join at intermediate stations in Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and points west.

The special at Chicago will be made up of the following Pi Beta Phi special Pullman cars:

CAR "A" "Sagebrush Club," which leaves New York on New York Central R.R. Co., June 21, 9:30 P.M. and picks up Pi Beta Phi passengers at Albany, Syracuse, Rochester, Buffalo, Cleveland, Toledo, and intermediate New York Central points—arrives at Chicago 5:30 P.M., June 22.

CAR "B" "The Corral," leaves Philadelphia on the Pennsylvania R.R., 10:35 P.M., June 21, and gathers in Pi Phis at Harrisburg, Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne, and intermediate Pennsylvania R.R. points—arrives Chicago 5:30 P.M., June 22.

CAR "C" "Montana Club," leaves Cincinnati 9:05 A.M., June 22, via Big Four R.R., and assembles Pi Phis at Indianapolis and from all the Big Four Railroad territory—arriving Chicago 2:50 P.M.

CAR "K" "Adventurers' Club," starts with the special train at Chicago Union Station, Burlington Route.

At St. Paul-Minneapolis, the following Pi Beta Phi Pullmans will be added to the special train.

CAR "D" "Range Riders' Retreat," starts at St. Louis 2:15 P.M., June 22, on the C.B.&Q.R.R., and operates via Burlington and Cedar Rapids. Arrives St. Paul 7:45 A.M.

CAR "M" "Lone Star," will connect with Car "D" at St. Louis. Car "M" will leave on the Missouri Pacific R.R. at 6:00 P.M., June 21 from Dallas, and arrive in St. Louis 11:30 A.M., June 22.

CAR "E" "Wyoming Club," which leaves Kansas City 5:30 P.M., June 22, via Rock Island R.R., leaves Des Moines 11:25 P.M. same day, arriving St. Paul 7:15 A.M.

CAR "L" "Vigilante," leaves Milwaukee 10:55 P.M., June 22, on the C. & N. W. RR., arrives St. Paul 9:30 A.M., June 23.

CAR "F" "Colorado Ranger," leaves Denver 7:45 P.M., June 22, on C. B. & Q. RR. Leaves Cheyenne at 12:15 A.M., June 23. Will have a theatre party at Billings, Montana, the evening of June 23 and will be attached to the Pi Phi Special during the night and arrive for the Livingston reception the morning of June 24 with all the rest of the crowd.

CAR "I" "Sunkist," California and the Southwest will have the option of traveling direct to Salt Lake City, West Yellowstone and Old Faithful, in Car "I," which leaves Los Angeles, Union Pacific RR., 6:30 P.M., June 22, arriving at Old Faithful 5:55 P.M., June 24—or CAR "J" "Golden Gate Club," leaves San Francisco on the Southern Pacific RR., 6:20 P.M., June 22, arriving at Old Faithful 5:55 P.M., June 24.

Pi Beta Phis from the Pacific Northwest are routed as follows:

CAR "G" "Washington Club," leaves Seattle, Northern Pacific Ry., 8:30 P.M., June 22, leaves Spokane 7:30 A.M., leaves Missoula 3:10 P.M., arriving Livingston 9:15 P.M. Sleep aboard car, then join the special train crowd the morning of June 24.

All the questions about transportation costs, reservations, schedules etc., should be addressed to Mr. Max Good-sill, 914 Northern Pacific Building, St. Paul, Minnesota. Mr. Good-sill is General Passenger Agent for the Northern Pacific Railway and is personally assisting Mrs. Clarence Gittings in this work.

TO REACH YELLOWSTONE PARK

Plan to join the special Pullman cars set aside for the fraternity in New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver, Seattle, Los Angeles and San Francisco. Diagrams, on which reservations are entered, are being kept at convention headquarter's office (914 N.P. Building, St. Paul). It is conceivable that not all the special cars will be filled and some may, therefore, be cancelled but in this event, the members of the fraternity will be grouped together in a regular car. All coming from eastern, central and southern states will connect with the special train at Chicago, St. Paul, Billings or Livingston. California and southwest delegates will connect with the main party at Old Faithful.

MOTHER BEAR AND CUBS

"The Special Train" will leave Chicago Union Station, and will be a traveling house party over Burlington and Northern Pacific lines direct to Gardiner gateway. We will have our own observation-club car, diners, and Pullmans. A train newspaper will be published every little while. There will be songs and good fellowship—a jolly experience this train trip all the way to the park.

Below are some typical cost estimates, from representative cities. The 1934 summer tariffs are not yet published and we expect to take advantage of the lowest available summer fares, rail and Pullman. Everyone interested in going to the convention by train, and, for that matter, everyone hesitating between driving out and joining the train parties, should write to Convention Headquarters, 914 N.P. Building, St. Paul, Minn., asking for exact rail and Pullman costs. This definite information will be available shortly after April 10th and everyone writing will receive accurate figures on their proposed trips in April, and early in May. In the meanwhile, these figures based on estimates of what the 1934 summer fares are likely to be, will give you an idea of the approximate cost of rail and Pullman travel from representative parts of the United States:

ROUND TRIP ESTIMATES

Explanation of symbols: † includes surcharge east of Chicago; ‡ from Chicago, Ill.; § from Montreal.

NOTE

Visitors from eastern and central states traveling into Chicago to connect with Pi Beta Pi Special train can save by using Century of Progress round trip rail and Pullman fares. To take advantage of these bargain rates, do this:

Option A—Ask for round trip first class 15-day limit Century of Progress ticket to Chicago (basis one fare plus 25c for round trip); also round trip Century of Progress Pullman ticket (basis one fare and one-half for round trip). These tickets are on sale Tuesdays and Saturdays. Eastern Pi Phis desiring to take advantage of this fare can buy their tickets on Tuesday June 19, spend a few days in Chicago seeing the Fair, and leave on the Pi Phi Special June 22.

Option B—For the thrifty, ask for Century of Progress round trip coach ticket to Chicago—15 day limit (basis only 5/6 of the one way fare for round trip). These tickets are on sale daily. Just be sure to connect with the Pi Phi Special, leaving Chicago, June 22.

IMPORTANT: If you elect to take either Option A or B, when you arrive in Chicago, go to the Northern Pacific office, 73 E. Jackson Blvd., Strauss Bldg., and get your round trip rail and Pullman to Yellowstone "In Gardiner; out Cody"—or "In Gardiner; out Gardiner." The round trip railroad fare from Chicago to Yellowstone and return is $46.95; and round trip Pullman for lower $20.50; for upper $16.40.

DELEGATES and officers are arranging for all rail and Pullman transportation through Mr. Max Goodsill, General Passenger Agent of the Northern Pacific, in St. Paul, Minn., and all convention visitors have privilege to do likewise. If you have any questions or if you are ready to order your tickets and definite Hotel or Lodge reservations, just write to Mr. Goodsill, 914 N. P. Bldg., St. Paul, Minn.

FUN ON THE SPECIAL TRAIN

Everybody who can should connect with the Pi Beta Phi special. The pleasure of meeting members of the fraternity from all eastern and central states and many southern states will be enhanced through the program aboard this Pi Phi House on Wheels. Singing practice by cars out of Chicago the first night, June 22—Pi Beta Phi songs, cowboy songs, Yellowstone songs. On June 23rd, welcome to the Twin Cities and Fargo. Games and fun. At Mandan, North Dakota, Sioux Indians as a reception committee. Will you be "initiated" into the tribe? If you will dance and learn a few "sign language" words, you probably will.

Song contest aboard train the evening of June 23rd. The Pullman car that wins will be rewarded! Also the best singer of cowboy songs wins a 10-gallon hat!

A late breakfast the morning of June 24th, a reception and short rodeo at Livingston, Montana, and then Yellowstone Park!

Room Reservations

All reservations for hotel, lodge and train space should be sent to one address—Pi Beta Phi Convention Headquarters, 914 N. P. Bldg., St. Paul, Minn. They will be numbered and promptly acknowledged, by postal card. Beginning May 10 actual room, lodge and train rooms and space will be assigned and you will be accurately posted. Baggage tags and stickers for every piece of your luggage will be sent you. All reservations are being handled by Mr. Max Goodsill, General Passenger Agent of Northern Pacific Railway.

Be sure every piece of baggage, even cameras, hat-boxes and small bags are tagged. Baggage will be placed in your hotel room or lodge on arrival in the Park.

THE PI BETA PHI CONVENTION TRIP

IT STARTS with Pullman car groups, getting together from Los Angeles to New York. Some Pi Phi Pullmans go direct to the Park but most of them connect with the Pi Beta Phi Special Train at Chicago, St. Paul, Billings or Livingston. The Special is called "Pi Beta Phi Roundup" because of what it does. The train is in charge of Mrs. Clarence Gittings. It carries Northern Pacific dining cars, which are pace-setters for all of America—"Great Big Baked Potatoes," you know, and the superlative food upon which the Northern Pacific builds its reputation. And the Northern Pacific observation car is a useful place for social times. How busy the beauty shop is on regular trains—but on Pi Phi Specials the barber expects to do less haircutting and those things, and more serving of ice-cream sodas, waiting on bridge players in the card room, and maybe valeting shirt-waists and odds and ends at night—versatile chaps are the observation porters.

Sioux Indians, whoops, in Dakota and Bad Lands and train fun going along into Montana, and then Yellowstone and convention for six days. Through this gate at Gardiner, then to Mammoth Hot Springs, Golden Gate, Obsidian Cliff, Roaring Mountain, Norris Geyser Basin, many, many boiling pools and unbelievable natural wonders, Prismatic Lake, Excelsior Geyser, Punch Bowl, Morning Glory, Grotto, Riverside Geyser, Old Faithful! Six days at Old Faithful—busy convention sessions, parties, horseback riding, sightseeing with Rangers. Bears to wonder at, marmots to toss peanuts to, huge souvenir stores to inspect, swimming to do.

Then Home Again! Which way? Some will hurry along to Gardiner or West Yellowstone and straight home. Others will want to stay longer in the Park or at a Dude Ranch, or they may elect to purchase a post-convention trip. Here are a few:

No. 1—To Grand Canyon and Cody, Wyoming:

Lv. Old Faithful 1:00 P.M., June 30 via Continental Divide, Yellowstone Lake, and Yellowstone Canyon.

PUNCH BOWL

Ar. Grand Canyon for dinner—overnight at Canyon Hotel or Canyon Lodge. Breakfast and luncheon at Canyon, morning sight-seeing along Canyon rim, and on trails into the Canyon, under U. S. Ranger escort.

Lv. Grand Canyon after lunch, July 1. No. 2. Ar. Cody, Wyo., before dinner, July

Cost of above $14.00 via Hotels and $11.40 via Lodges.

CODY ROAD

Don't miss "Cody Stampede" July 2.

Cost? Overnight at Cody Inn $2.50; Stampede ticket $1.25.

No. 3—From Cody to Glacier National Park. Lv. Cody, Wyo., 7:45 P.M., July 1.

Ar. Glacier Park 12:13 P.M., July 2. 3 day tour in Glacier Park. $35.00 two persons in room.

No. 4—Alaska:

Those wishing to go on to Alaska can leave Cody, Wyoming, 7:45 P.M., July 1, going direct to Seattle, Wash., where they would connect with steamer on arrival.

The Southeastern Cruise to Skagway, Alaska, and return requires nine days, and costs $80.00.

The Southwestern Cruise to Seward, Alaska, and return, to Seattle requires 12 to 13 days, and costs $115.00.

STAY AT THE INN OR STAY AT THE LODGE

Pi Beta Phi Convention Sessions will be held at Old Faithful Lodge—the Convention Hall has 100 or more rustic cottages immediately adjoining—these have been reserved for Pi Phis, two girls to a cabin. The cabins have double beds, and twin beds, and excellent beds they are; also chairs, dresser, wash stand (bowl and pitcher). Toilets and lavatories in separate club-style buildings are handy to the cabins, and have ample hot and cold water. "Savages" (Lodge employees) fire-up the cabin stoves each morning and the water atop these stoves is soon hot for morning ablutions. Old Faithful Lodge is a jolly place—fraternity boys and girls do the cabin work and wait on tables. Of course, professional cooks and resort-hotel people do the hardest tasks. Meals are "family style" but very abundant and good. The Convention Banquet will be held in the great dining hall of the Lodge. The "Savages" sing as they work and they play with the "dudes" and visit with them like neighbors from home towns. Rates are lower at the Lodge than the Inn, and it is expected that about half the Pi Phis attending Convention will live at Old Faithful Lodge.

Shuttle bus service between Convention Hall at Old Faithful Lodge and Old Faithful Inn, will be free to Pi Phis. Officers and delegates and visitors will be "quartered" at the Inn. It is one of America's most distinctive hotels—a magnificent building of great logs. Its guest rooms are modern and very attractive. Pi Beta Phi will have the new wing for exclusive use, and possibly a second wing of this huge hotel. There are three large dining rooms at The Inn. Meals are of superlative quality, considering the wilderness location of this resort, far from all sources of supply. Undoubtedly the older alumnae will prefer rooms with bath at the Inn, but many of the younger set will "go" for the Lodge, with its lively spirit and rustic service. After all, one can stay at a hotel often, but an adventure in a mountain lodge is quite a rare opportunity! Old Faithful Lodge is not as luxurious as the Inn, but it is fully as interesting in its way and is very comfortable.

THE HOLD-UP BEAR!

Utah Alpha Entertains

PI BETA PHIS everywhere—Utah A bids you welcome to the West and invites you to stop off in Salt Lake City on your way to or from Convention.

If you have visited our city before, you know how many attractions it offers the tourist. If you have never been here, a real treat awaits you. First, there is Great Salt Lake, in whose sparkling blue waters you can float without effort, and where it is impossible to sink. And when the shadows lengthen and the sinking sun casts its brilliant reflection over the quiet ripples of this inland sea, you can ask for no lovelier sight.

In the opposite direction, surrounding the city, stand the stately Wasatch mountains. A short drive up any of the numerous canyons leading from the edge of the city brings you to scenes of enchanting beauty. As you leave the canyon, before your eyes unfolds a breath-taking panorama of city, valley, mountains, and lake.

If your interest lies in historic lore, Salt Lake City is rich in that you are seeking. The Temple grounds, with the unique Tabernacle and its world-famous organ, claim your attention. Both here and in the magnificent State Capitol Building you will find countless relics that mutely recall one of the most colorful chapters in all pioneer history.

These are a few of the sights we are waiting to show you. The chapter house at 92 South Wolcott will be kept open for your entertainment. Just notify the chairman of the committee on arrangements, Miss Gretchen Horst, 677 Seventh Avenue, as to the time and manner of your arrival, the length of your stay, and the number in your party, and we will be on hand to help you enjoy every minute of your visit with us here at Utah A.

A GREETING FROM THE YELLOWSTONE

TO MEMBERS OF THE PI BETA PHI FRATERNITY:

THE National Park Service and Yellowstone National Park are glad that the annual convention of the Fraternity is to be held this summer in Yellowstone, and extend to members of the Fraternity a cordial welcome and best wishes for a most successful convention and a thoroughly enjoyable vacation.

Yellowstone is a fascinating place. The largest geysers of the world are here, as well as several thousand hot springs and pools, and a variety of other natural phenomena.

Yellowstone Canyon is noted for the brilliance and variety of its coloring.

Yellowstone Lake is the largest lake at so high an elevation in the United States. It covers 139 square miles, and is 7,730 feet above sea level.

The park is a great game refuge, with many species of wild life. Nowhere else can you see grizzly bears under such favorable conditions. The black bears will amuse you.

Rangers and ranger naturalists are ready to help you see and enjoy the park.

A hearty welcome awaits you.

Sincerely yours,

ROGER W. TOLL

GRACE CAMPBELL, CHAIRMAN OF REGISTRATION AT CONVENTION

GRACE CAMPBELL was initiated at Oregon A and later received her B.A. degree at Washington State College. After this she did graduate work at University of Washington and at Columbia University. She was treasurer of the Spokane branch of the American Association of University Women for two years and afterwards held the state treasurership for the same organization. She has always been active in Pi Beta Pi affairs and several years ago was President of the Spokane Alumnae Club. At present, she is director of Forensics and English teacher in the North Central High School in Spokane.

A POST-CONVENTION OPPORTUNITY

IN THE February issue of the ARROW you were told of the approximate cost of an ALL-EXPENSE post-convention trip to Glacier National Park, and that as soon as the 1934 Park rates could be established by the United States Department of Interior, definite announcement of the new rates would be made.

It is a pleasure to announce to you now that the cost of this post-convention trip has been materially reduced. The additional railroad fare permitting return from Yellowstone Park via Gardiner, Billings and Glacier National Park will be only $3.40. Standard Pullman lower double berth from Billings to Glacier Park is $3.00; two persons may occupy a lower berth at the cost of $1.50 each; upper Pullman berth $2.40.

MANY GLACIER HOTEL—MT. WILBUR—
SWIFT CURRENT LAKE
GLACIER NATIONAL PARK

The three-day tour of Glacier National Park has been reduced to the following cost:

Three persons in room (each)	$31.25
Two persons in room (each)	32.25

The above all-expense rates include all meals in Glacier Park, auto transportation and lodging at Many Glacier Hotel two nights and at Going-to-the-Sun Chalets one night.

For those who desire to use the Cody exit from Yellowstone Park en route to Glacier National Park, the additional railroad fare for the two parks trip will be the same as mentioned above, viz. $3.40, while the Pullman accommodations in through car service Cody to Glacier Park will be on the basis of $4.00 for a lower double berth and $3.20 for an upper berth.

These are the two largest national parks in the country and are so distinctly different in rare natural phenomena and highly individualistic beauty that a post-convention trip to Glacier National Park furnishes a most fitting climax to our Yellowstone convention, and you never again can see Glacier Park for this small amount.

Educational Qualifications for National Office

[NOTE: One of the questions to come before the coming Convention will be that concerning the requirement of a degree for national officers. The committee appointed at the last Convention has considered the matter in a most unbiased manner, and their report has already gone out to the Fraternity for discussion and preliminary voting. In that report, both sides of the question were fully stated. For the further information of the Fraternity, and especially for the benefit of those who will be at Convention, the committee presents the following articles, one for and one against the proposed regulation.]

IN RECENT YEARS Colleges and Universities have been steadily raising the requirements for members appointed to their faculties. At present even Junior Colleges are requiring a master's degree for the teachers in their collegiate department. So in the face of this, the consideration of the requirement of a college degree for election or appointment to the Grand Council of  $\Pi B \Phi$  at the coming Convention would seem pertinent.

There are two main reasons for the requirement. While a degree may actually imply much or little, it does insure Council members who have had four years of contact with college problems. They have also had at the same time either four years of active chapter experience, or if initiated later in their college course, they bring added maturity to the solution of fraternity questions. In either case those who have had four full years of college are in a better position to understand the undergraduate problems of scholarship, financial needs, extra-curricular activities, leadership, et cetera, in the different years.

Another important consideration is that the Grand Council must represent the Fraternity in direct contacts with college and university officials. A degree implies a certain scholastic standing in a given university, and is an academic introduction. Alumnae who have not graduated are classified separately in all college and university directories and have fewer privileges than graduates, so an academic distinction does exist. It would seem fitting for the active chapters of  $\Pi B \Phi$  to receive the benefit accruing from this distinction.

In reply it may be emphasized that many enthusiastic and loyal Pi Beta Phis for various reasons have not been able to obtain a degree, and yet have rendered devoted and excellent service to the Fraternity. That is true, and yet the exceptions in proportion to the whole number are so few that they become an almost negligible quantity.

It has been the unwritten law of many fraternities that the women in positions of importance should have the degree, but seven women's fraternities have such a rule actually incorporated in their By-laws, four more follow it in practice, and only five report no understanding or regulation in regard to the matter. With the rigid requirements for election as Convention delegate made of our undergraduates, it would seem to fit in with the march of progress to write into our constitution a regulation of academic standing for officers, which is in force already as an unwritten law, and which would be in conformity with the most recent practice of colleges and universities in the selection of their personnel.—MAY LANSFIELD KELLER, Maryland A., Grand President Emeritus.

A degree as a pre-requisite for membership upon Grand Council of  $\Pi B \Phi$  is not, in my opinion, necessary. A degree is an academic rank conferred by an institution of learning. One object of attending college is to win that degree. It gives one quite a thrill on Commencement Day, wearing a cap and gown, to walk up the chapel aisle and receive a diploma, and it is with justifiable pride we see our name on the diploma with the letters of our degree. But after college days, unless we enter the teaching profession, how seldom are we asked, "Do you hold a college degree?" but how very often do we hear, "What is your college Fraternity?"

To be able to say that all members of Grand Council have degrees, carries with it a certain amount of prestige and is a very beautiful theory. But we live in a very practical world where efficiency is more important than a degree and a theory. There are many fine women well qualified in every way to serve as members of Grand Council who because of unavoidable circumstances were unable to graduate. Should they be denied the privilege of serving the Fraternity and should the Fraternity be denied their services? A degree does not even imply that a woman is fitted to do Fraternity work. I hope the members of  $\Pi B \Phi$  are broad minded enough to select for members of Grand Council those women who have ability, Pi Phi spirit and loyalty, and not to disbar them because they lack a degree.—

RUTH HESELTINE, Ohio  $\Delta$ , Chairman, Committee on Undergraduate Loan Fund.

THE COLORADO STATE ASSOCIATION FOUNDERS' DAY CELEBRATION

THE Colorado State Association celebrated Founders' Day and fifty years of Pi Phi in Colorado with a two-day gathering at the Broadmoor Hotel, Colorado Springs, on April 28 and 29, 1934. Miss Amy Onken, Grand President, was the guest of honor. Reservations were received from 300 Pi Phis from Colorado and the surrounding states. The committee, of which Miss Mary C. Frost was chairman, prepared a very interesting program including a model initiation, a banquet, and round tables.

Is Pi Phi Pulling Its Full Weight?

By LOUISE FRANKLIN BACHE, Columbia Alpha

A RECENT TRIP brought me in contact with a number of Pi Phis. It was at a luncheon in a Middle Western city that I met my first fraternity sister. She didn't know me or my connections, nor should I have known that she belonged to Pi Phi, had she not worn the Arrow. It was a wonderful chance to cross-examine her, and I did so. I asked her if she knew about the Pi Phi Endowment Fund. Her reply was that she had just received a letter that very week asking for funds, but that she did not think the time ripe to start an endowment fund.

"Most of us are having difficulties financially," she said, "and there are other things that we would rather give to than endowments which do not feed the hungry."

I was interested in her reaction. She was honest and sincere. I was a little amused, too. One might have thought that she had been asked to give a thousand dollars, five hundred, or one hundred at least. The Endowment Fund is such a small amount when divided among the large membership of Pi Phi. The fraternity sister with whom I talked was beautifully dressed, and drove away after the luncheon was over in quite the loveliest car I had seen in many a day. I wondered afterward if it would have done any good for me to have told her that 95 per cent of the burden of feeding the hungry has been assumed by governmental agencies and therefore is coming out of tax funds. Private welfare work has an increased burden to carry also. But it is a far cry from the days when our ancestors used to tithe religiously to the present era when income tax returns show that about 1.8 per cent of private incomes go to charity, and this covers church gifts also.

College training is supposed to make us think things through—to look on both sides of a question before we jump to a conclusion. And yet, it seems as though many of us, like my luncheon partner in the Midwest, make many of our decisions on impulses.

It was in a southern city that I met the second Pi Phi, a delightful person—very gentle and quiet of manner. I questioned her about the Endowment Fund. "It is not a popular subject with us," she said. "We just don't believe in it." I wondered afterwards if both sides of the question had been considered by this Pi Phi group. Some way, I had my doubts.

In strange contrast to these two interviews was one I had recently in New York City with another fraternity sister. "I have given already," she said, "but I want to give more."

The terms of giving are most lenient. We can make our pledges now, and then pay in three years if we wish. Grand Council has given us until June, 1934, to reach our goal. Mrs. Helen R. Corkum, Chairman of the Pi Phi Endowment Fund, has written each of us a letter, urging that we make our link in the Pi Phi Endowment chain a 100 per cent link. This means that each of us must give before June. Money is coming in very slowly. Perhaps that is because we thought we had until June to tackle the problem and are leaving our decision until the last moment. If you are one of the 21,000 members who have not contributed, won't you send in your pledge now? It doesn't have to be a large pledge. You will not know you are giving it.

Other women's fraternities have their endowment funds, which enable them to do things that Pi Phi can't do. To me it seems as if it would be a very terrible thing for a fraternity which stands for as many things as ours to fail to raise a small sum of money. The fact that the campaign came in the midst of a depression means "all the more" glory if we raise the fund. Don't let's hunt for reasons for not giving, but let's see if we cannot have the total amount pledged by the time of the June Conference. Then Pi Phi will be pulling its weight in the Greek letter world.

A MINNESOTA CO-ED WHO IS AN ACCOMPLISHED AVIATRIX

AMELIA EARHART and Ruth Elder have a potential rival in a nineteen year old senior at the University of Minnesota. She is Adelaide Rowley, known to her Pi Phi sisters as "Bunny," and a member of Minnesota A.

When Bunny received her pilot's license two years ago, she was the youngest licensed aviatrix in the Northwest. She first became interested in flying after her father, F. B. Rowley, professor of experimental engineering, took it up seven years ago. He has been responsible for a great deal of her enthusiasm and ability. Since then she has spent a great deal of her time flying "just for the sport of it." But aviation, Bunny finds also carries heavy social responsibilities. Bunny has been hostess to many airplane parties, giving rides to lucky Pi Phis and friends, none of whom fear to trust their lives to her skillful piloting.

A Pi Phi in the N.R.A.*

By ELEANOR I. JONES, District of Columbia Alpha

YOU ALL have read in the newspapers of the development, the struggles, the policies, and the wonderful achievements of the N.R.A. You have read of the Blue Eagle Division, the Advisory Boards, the National Labor Board, the Administrators, the Public Relations Division, the Correspondence Section, the Compliance Division, the Press Intelligence Division, and the parts they have played in the N.R.A. program. I have been asked to tell you of my job—so I shall tell you a little about a section of the N.R.A., that, as far as I know, has never burst into print, a section that is working night and day on a 24 hour schedule of three different shifts—The Mails and Records Section—my section. None of these other divisions could exist without it—they all depend upon it and call upon it to serve them at all hours of the day and night.

ELEANOR I. JONES, D.C. A

To me, having given all of my time and thought and energy to the N.R.A. since last June, all of it is the most interesting subject in the world, and I am afraid that I have been so entirely engrossed with the subject that I bore my family and my friends with shop talk continually. During the first months it was a nerve racking and never-ending struggle, but one of tremendous interest, and because we who have given many, many days 16 to 18 hours of the 24 and knew no difference between day and night, week-days and Sundays, because we believe so thoroughly in the principles of the N.R.A. and that it is the salvation of the American people, we have uncomplainingly and happily carried on, enjoying it.

I started on the 29th of May, last year. The Act had not been passed—up to that date there had been no attempt to form an organization; only four people were there, trying to start the N.R.A. When I arrived that day, there were the four—General Johnson, Miss Robinson, Mr. Power and Mr. Straus, no doubt all familiar names to you. I, of course, realized that it was a gigantic undertaking for General Johnson. I thought that the files would grow to be enormous, but as I think back to that day, little did I know what was coming or how rapidly it would come. I was given about 15 or 20 folders containing a few hundred letters, the accumulation of two or three weeks correspondence, and from them I started the filing system, which now cares for some million letters. Fortunately, I was able to get two most tried and true assistants who had been with me during the past seven years in the Mexican Claims, and they came, in a very few days. From a roll call of one on May 29th, my section has now grown to 78, and I have asked for more assistance today.

The first day the Mailing Division was assigned to me, we received, I believe, about 200 letters. This increased in an alarmingly short time, each day getting larger and larger, until the peak day of the 8th of August, on which day we received 15,000 letters. Since the close of the Blue Eagle campaigns, the mail has decreased gradually and now our average receipt of mail (including referrals from the White House and other Government departments) is about 3000 letters a day. The N.R.A. mail is all opened, stamped, read and analyzed, routed and delivered by my section. We never have any mail left over from one day to the next. This has been one of my most rigidly enforced rules governing the handling of mail.

In addition to the handling of the incoming mail, we have also to care for the outgoing mail, which has been proportionately as large as the incoming. We are now sending out about 5000 letters daily; some days, when a questionnaire, or a form letter is sent, this number is doubled or even tripled, and this also means very shortly an increase in the incoming letters, when the replies begin to come in. The outgoing mail is collected, sorted, folded, checked for enclosures, sealed and dispatched. We receive two copies of all outgoing letters for the Central Files. These have to be separated, sorted, stapled, classified, indexed, carded and filed. My typists make and file about 4000 cards a day. We receive each day an average of 100 requests for previous correspondence; sometimes such requests are inadequately described and one has to be almost a Sherlock Holmes to find them. However, we have a record of being able to find about 90% of all requests, which is not a poor record for these searchers.

Now that I have told you a few of these details, which may or may not have interested you, I will tell you a few of the interesting things I have encountered which have helped to make the time go by so rapidly, and to smooth over many difficult and irritating days this past summer.

First of all, I have encountered many, many industries of which I had no knowledge before I went into this work—or at least had not considered them as industries. Of course we all know of the Lumber Industry, the Iron and Steel Industry, the Cotton Textile Industry and the Chewing Gum Industry, but how many of us are familiar with the many subdivisions of the Waste Material Industry—the Manure Gatherers, Mattress Renovation, Reclaimed Photographers Films, Scavengers and Dispensers of Dead Animals? How many of us knew that Quilting was an industry? Some unfamiliar to me were—The Sump Dump Industry, the Pyrometric Cone Industry, the Chuck Industry, the Hog Ring Industry, the Metallic Furring Industry, the Bee and Bird Breeders Industries, the Russian and Turkish Bath Industry, and the Kosher Butcher Industry, the Comfortable Industry, the Cotton Pickery Industry, the Jewish Funeral Industries, to say nothing of the Cosmetology and Crutch Industries. I could go on naming them indefinitely.

Then we have many professions, organized and asking for codes, or advice, or help, or how they can help. The preachers, the nurses, teachers, gigolos, dancing masters, the magicians, mid-gets, hod carriers, horse-radish pickers, fowl slaughterers, household servants, chorus girls, dime-a-dance girls and the travelling salesmen. We have one letter from "The Former Pipe Organ Pumpers," who "wish to perpetuate the memory of their honorable profession." The National Fraternities are well represented in our files (although I do not believe we have anything from Pi Phi), many of them writing to ask how they can do their part, some forwarding resolutions of cooperation, and many local chapters asking about hours and wages for the help in their houses. We have a very large Anonymous file and in these we find probably some of the most interesting and amusing letters—some brutally frank in criticism, and in very plain and even objectionable language.

We get many letters from children, asking for help in their debating societies, or class-room programs. Many send essays and poems about the N.R.A., and one little boy wrote us about his football team called the "N.R.A. Eagles." Several children have written asking if there can not be a code for school children, saying that they believe their hours are too long, and that they receive no wages.

You would be surprised to know of the great number of birth announcements sent to General Johnson with "We Did Our Part" engraved or printed on the card. One new baby was named "Nira."

We receive envelopes addressed to General Johnson and the N.R.A. in all conceivable manners. One letter came with a picture of the General cut out of a newspaper, and pasted on and Washington, D.C.—nothing more. We have them addressed to:

- Mr. N. R. A. Johnson
- Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, Administrator for N.R.A. & Our Country's next President
- Mr. U. S. Johnson
- Sock-em-the-jaw Johnson
- Mr. Administrator, Washington, D.C.
- Mr. Johnson—There's only one Mathilda Ludwig for Corsets and Brassiers & Girdles
- Look inside, Washington, D.C.
- The Man of the Year, Washington, D.C.
- Leader of Men and Industry, Washington, D.C.
- General Johnson, The State House, Washington, D.C.
- General Hugh S. Johnson, The Commerce House, Washington, D.C.

Mr. Franklin D. Rosenblatt, Administrator of Moving Picture Code

We have had referred to us from the White House letters addressed to President Theodore Roosevelt, and one came addressed to President Franklin D. Rosenfeld.

We get letters on all sorts of subjects, some having nothing to do with the N.R.A. or industrial recovery. Last week we received a memorandum called "N.R.A.—A Conversation in Heaven," which was the report of a monthly meeting of former presidents of the United States, now in Heaven. George Washington presided but asked Theodore Roosevelt to take the chair in honor of Roosevelt's 75th birthday. Lincoln, Wilson, Hayes, Garfield, Taft, Cleveland, Jackson, Coolidge—all took part in the conversation (This memorandum was in German). Early last fall we had a letter every day, over quite a long period of time, from a man in Denver, who was trying to square the circle.

General Johnson receives all sorts of personal requests for loans, endorsements, autographs and photographs. One postal read:

DEAR GENERAL JOHNSON:

Would love to have your autograph with a letter something like this: "Dear Sir: Enclosed please find $10.00 which you may use as a grub stake until the NIRA MY GOD TO THEE gets into full stride—Yours truly, etc." Sincerely yours ———

No doubt we would all like such autographs. Our correspondence section answered that they regretted to advise that we had no autographs such as he asked for.

One man asked General Johnson for a description of his eyes. He is engaged on a monograph on the subject of the human eye and he wishes to cite a number of personally authenticated examples.

We get letters about race prejudice, married women working, pensions, all sorts of rackets, all sorts of criticisms and all sorts of praise. One woman wrote, "I am writing to ask you if they can set me out again since you passed the new law. They set me out yesterday and my friends set me back again after the officers left. Please answer back." This is the entire letter.

Some of the unusual names from whom we have received letters might be of interest; Mr. Cleo Casebeer, Mr. Hunky Shivers, Mr. Hercules Cavalier, Mr. Alexander Kiss, and Mr. Melvin Kisserback. On one day we received letters from three persons whose names were: Waffle, Fudge, and Frankfurter. We have several letters from Jesus Christ, whose address is in Baltimore. (Of course, the names Jesus and Christi as given names are not uncommon in Spanish speaking countries, but the combination in an American city is a curiosity.) This particular man proposed a great scheme whereby General Johnson should ask every citizen of the United States to give him a penny. He would invest this $23,000,000 in United States government bonds, and thus be taken care of for the rest of his life, and the government would reap the benefits of his money forever. We had a postal card signed "God." It read "Cut out that Sunday work. Remember the Sabbath to keep it Holy. (Signed) God." It was postmarked from Indiana, which, of course, is Heaven to some of you Hoosiers.

One cook sent a recipe for "N.R.A. Squares," which sounded as though it would make a tempting cake. He said they ate like fudge.

The choice of personnel has been a most interesting phase of my work. In the very beginning I chose some of my old assistants from the Mexican Claims, but soon a Personnel Section was organized, and since then I choose from the eligibles sent from there. My staff is composed of all ages, sizes, shapes, nationalities and both sexes. In almost every interview the applicant tells of his troubles—and oh, how many of them are real troubles—it makes one really ill not to be able to give them all jobs. Some have dependents, some have gone through tragedies, some are deserted wives or husbands. Most of them have had no jobs for more than a year and they are glad to get any kind of work, no matter if they are qualified for much higher paid work. The stories of these people would make interesting short stories for any writers.

It is a great source of pride and satisfaction to be a part of an organization such as the N.R.A.—an organization whose sole purpose is for the good of all mankind.

The Land of the Delight-Makers

By DOROTHY WOODWARD, Virginia Alpha

NEW MEXICO, the home of the Delight-Makers, truly is a place of wonder and charm. A land of burning sands and glorious sunshine, of turquoise skies and great white clouds, of dark mountains and shining cliffs, a country fascinating in sunlight, mellow and mysterious in moonlight, alluring and repelling.

The spell of New Mexico came over me, with great force, some years ago during a stay in Taos. Day after day I sat in the shady Plaza watching Indians, Mexicans, and Americans come and go. In the evening I wandered through the patio of the old Hotel where I heard water being drawn from the well, Spanish voices laughing and scolding, the bark of dogs, and the hoof beats of Indian ponies leaving the town for the Pueblo. This, I thought, is where three civilizations meet and mingle. Here lies a vast laboratory for the archaeologist, the anthropologist, the historian. An ancient civilization present in the ruins of the pueblos and cliff dwellings, treasure houses of information on the life and work of the Indians whose descendants still live in adobe homes, dance their religious ceremonies, fashion their pottery, and cultivate their lands along the Rio Grande. A medieval civilization is manifest in the Spanish villages, where the language and customs of the Conquerors of the sixteenth century continue little changed. The frontier cattle days of the American west linger in the lariat-draped saddles and high-heeled boots of cowboys and ranchers, while industrial America transforms old trails into modern motor roads.

Attending an Indian dance, such as the Green Corn dance at Santo Domingo which occurs yearly in August, may well illustrate the contrasts of the country. We traveled several miles from the main highway over trails that lead through sand hills down to the Pueblo along the river. As we rounded the last curve we saw the brush-fence corrals, the adobe church with its tower and bells, and the mud-brick homes beyond. We could hear the rhythmic beat of an Indian drum from the Plaza where the dance was already in progress but we stopped at the church before crossing the acequia into the village. A feeling of reverence came over us as we stepped onto the bare dirt floor of the church and walked forward toward the altar where candles flickered in the dim light. The Santos were decorated with paper flowers and tinsel, dressed in bright colored silks, and hung with glistening beads. The shrine of Saint Dominic, the patron saint of the Pueblo, was empty, his image having been reverently placed in the temporary shrine in the Plaza where the dancers were gathered. The walls behind these shrines are painted with figures of growing corn and other symbols sacred to the ancient beliefs of the Indians whose faith in the efficacy of the Gods of their Fathers has never been fundamentally weakened.

In the Plaza we watched the dancers, old and young, feet and rattles keeping perfect time with the chanting chorus of men and the beating of the drum. The ceremony continued until the sun reddened in the west when, suddenly, the singing, dancing, and drum ceased. One by one the dancers advanced, made obeisance to Saint Dominic in the leaf-covered shrine, and retired to their kivas. Then the roll of a snare drum sounded and at short intervals rifle shots were fired into the air. Slowly a procession formed to replace the image of the Saint in the church. The Crucifer lifted a Cross, crudely fashioned from tin, candles were lit, and incense floated across the air. The drum never stopped and the firing, to frighten away evil spirits, continued. Saint Dominic was lifted to the shoulders of his carriers, a low chant began, and slowly the procession moved toward the church, while Indians silhouetted against a glowing sky, tolled the bells in the tower.

Here were three civilizations in living contrast. The pagan rites of an ancient faith, a dance for rain and fertility before a Christian saint, the chants and pageantry of a medieval procession into a crude church beyond which stood automobiles, evidence of a modern industrial era. Yet over all there was reverence for the Spirit, God, ever-present in the vastness of the desert and the interminable depths of a boundless sky.

Everywhere one sees proof of Spain and her long colonial control of the southwest. I used to wander into the Old Court Room on the Plaza at Taos, to listen. There an American Judge held court, every procedure of which was in both Spanish and English while Taos Indians, in their white sheets leaned or squatted in the back of the room. A bilingual country where American law courts have replaced the practices of the alcaldes and audiencias of old Spain. In the mountain fastnesses of certain areas the rites of the Penitentes, a semi-religious, secret society of the Spanish still flourish. Their devotion culminates in fanatical flagellation and penance during Lent. And, in Spanish villages, one may attend the festive bailes as of old, see dances, hear tales, and sing songs that may have come from the sunny slopes of Andalusia. These are the customs, language, and descendants of a Spain whose Conquistadores penetrated and settled the area long before English colonists inhabited the rocky shores of New England.

This picture comes as a courtesy from the Museum of New Mexico to which it belongs.

New Mexico is surely the land of the Delight-Makers!

Acequia—ditch used for irrigation.

Koshare—group of dancers who impersonate the spirits of the departed.

Kivas—ceremonial chambers.

Alcalde—"the Judge" having administrative and legislative powers as well.

Audiencia—primarily a judicial body.

UTAH MORTAR BOARD INSTALLATION

By VIRGINIA PARSONS, Utah Alpha, President Mortar Board

TWELVE YEARS AGO, the Order of Acorn first petitioned national Mortar Board, and on November 13, 1933, a charter was granted. Betty Strong and I felt so proud to be active members of the charter group of Utah Mortar Board. Long before we had been selected for the Order of Acorn, we had heard other Pi Phis talk of when Mor-steps forward in the history of the University.

Mrs. Coleman arrived late Sunday morning, a glorious fall morning. At one o'clock the Acorn Chapter and Mrs. Coleman met at the Pi Phi house, and over the tea cups we absorbed the Mortar Board enthusiasm and inspiration that emanated from Mrs. Cole-tar Board would come. We had hardly hoped then to be in the midst of all the happiness and enthusiasm that surrounded us when formal installation was held. The day I received Mrs. Coleman's congratulatory telegram, one of the University of Utah's fondest hopes was realized; Mortar Board together with the charter of  $\Phi$  B K, which followed the next month, were definite man's dynamic personality. We were all so lost in what Mrs. Coleman had to tell us that we didn't leave until fifteen minutes before installation was to be held. I was horrified because I had to get dressed and decorate for installation and for the banquet. Needless to say—we were late, but in time to hold installation during one of the most beautiful sunsets I have ever seen. After installation, Mrs. Coleman, the actives, twenty-seven alumnae (many were Pi Phis), and three honorary members were entertained at a formal banquet.

Our installation was over so soon! The following Monday, after a formal tea given by the faculty of the University in honor of Mrs. Coleman and the new Mortar Board chapter, Mrs. Coleman had to hurry on to install the fifty-fifth chapter of Mortar Board at Oregon State. I hope many Utah Alpha Pi Phis will share, hereafter, the inspiration and happiness that Betty Strong and I have enjoyed in our brief acquaintance with Mortar Board.

I JUST MISSED SEEING GOD TODAY

*I just missed seeing God today,
I found so many places where He'd been,
But always He was gone before I came.*

*I saw His touch upon a lily fresh—
I think He came to open it last night,
When yet the snowy blossom was a bud;
For only God its petals could unfold
So tenderly that still its beauty lived.*

*I know 'twas God visited the sky
This evening, when the sun was down;
Who, with His magic brush and skillful hand,
Made of the dull blue there a miracle,
A glowing, shining splendor in the west.*

*And who but God, when all was dark,
Could light a thousand candles in the sky;
Could spread a shadowy, misty path of pearls
Across the arching heavens, all the way;
Could send a meteor flashing to the earth?*

*I tried to follow God from place to place
And, though I never quite caught up with Him,

ETCHING OF LITTLE PIGEON BY LEON PESCHERET, HUSBAND OF GRACE WALLER, IOWA A

THE GRADUATING CLASS

By PAULINE WHALING, Illinois Alpha

Commencement Day for the five boys and one girl who have completed the  $\Pi B \Phi$  two-year high school in Gatlinburg was April 27. It was attended with all the interest and excitement that such an occasion brings to any other graduating class. The proof not only of the ambition of the children themselves, but also of the stimulating effect of their teachers, lies in the fact that the six expect to finish high school and then go to college.

Reva Andes, who hopes to take up nursing, will enter Murphy, a Northern Methodist school in Sevierville. The boys will finish at the Sevier County High School, in the same town. Rex Parton looks ahead to the time when he can devote himself to science. John Carver will go into business, while Leon Clabo will train for aviation. Manfurd Houser and Hugh Watson have not yet decided their future careers.

PI PHI BOYS AT BEREA

By DON SMITH

To most of the boys who finish the tenth grade at the Settlement School the problem naturally arises, Shall I finish high school and, if so, where shall I go? The matter of funds, as might be expected, is always of primary consideration. No school offers more opportunities for self-help than Berea Academy at Berea, Kentucky. For the past few years quite a number of our boys have turned to this school after leaving Little Pigeon.

Among these are Woodrow and Orville Oakley, sons of Wiley Oakley, local guide and lover of nature, who calls himself the Roamin' Man of the Mountains. Woodrow, the older of the two, is interested in woodworking and earns much of his expenses in the Berea furniture shop. Orville is socially inclined and has made quite a bit with his teaching of the local mountain folk games to the students and faculty at Berea. Recently he was awarded a trip to New York to teach folk games to groups there. Assisted by a Berea professor, he is writing a book of folk games.

Another of the Pi Phi boys is Carl Ogle, who is making a fine record at Berea. He is especially to be admired for he had the misfortune to lose one of his hands several years ago in a hunting accident. In spite of this handicap, he was a star forward on the Pi Phi basketball team and still plays a good game in fast competition. Carl, together with Everett (Shorty) Kirkland, another Pi Phi graduate, a little fellow who carries quite a bit of Cherokee blood in his veins, won all major honors in the academy livestock judging contest with more than eighty contestants.

This fall we sent Lavator Cotter, and Muncy Kouser entered since Christmas.

We are justly proud of the record our boys are making at Berea, and we appreciate the fact that none of our graduates has ever been refused entrance when many others have to be turned away.

BOOKS FOR THE SCHOOL

Most people who like books began to read when they were youngsters, and if the children in the Settlement School are ever going to learn to love reading, they must have all manner of books in their hands now. Books that fit into class work and are on the level of the children's general reading ability are needed badly.

In times past when pleas such as this have been published, Pi Phis have responded generously by sending books from their own shelves. Because certain types are so much in demand, lists suitable for different grades are being printed in order that ARROW readers may know just what is wanted. If every Pi Phi who glances through "News From Little Pigeon" would search through her library and send even one volume from this list to Maryalice Chaffee, Director, in Gatlinburg, scores of children would be benefited.

FROM PI PHIPENS

Edited by MERCEDES BAKER JORGULESCO (MRS. JONEL)

Letters from Ethel Hueston, Iowa A, are always bright spots in your editor's mail. Here's one the postman left this morning:

I have been working—rather too haphazardly—on a new novel. And I am leaving on the morning of Easter Sunday to go to St. Louis, and follow the trail of the Lewis and Clark Exploring Party up the Missouri River, across the Rockies near the Canadian border, and down the Columbia River to the Coast. All this with a view to a future historical novel.

I may say frankly however, that I am not following their trail too closely. They made it by boat, and on foot. I am doing it in a brand new little Ford car—my first Ford, and though I have had it one whole week I have not yet even so much as laid a finger to its steering wheel. A good deal of our driving will be on side roads, you see, because we want as nearly as possible to visit all their camp sites, and it seems that in 1804 they didn't have the present motor roads. I am shocked to learn that they didn't even have Kansas City. I can hardly imagine a United States without a Kansas City.

It took them three years for the little jaunt. We expect to accomplish it in ten weeks.

Incidentally, I expect to visit both Yellowstone and Glacier on the trip—but alas, I am afraid I shall not be able to make the dates of the Convention. I will speak a good word for the coming Pi Phis however—and if they get there first, perhaps they will speak a good word for me!

Cordially and sincerely,

ETHEL HUESTON

If there ever was an indefatigable author, this is one! Just a little over a year ago, she returned from the Black Hills in South Dakota, where she wrote three books ending with Blithe Baldwin. When she reached New York, she established, in conjunction with some newspaper friends of many years, a weekly paper entitled The Villager—devoted to the historic and romantic section of New York represented by the two opposite poles of Manhattan, Washington Square, and Greenwich

ETHEL POWELSON HUESTON
"Imagine U.S. Without Kansas City"

Villager, lying right next door to each other. She devoted the entire year to editorial work for the paper and got it off to a good running start. So, on January 1 she retired from active editorial participation to devote her time to a new book.

Incidentally, the Hungarian rights to her next-to-last novel, That Hastings Girl, were satisfactorily disposed of—though Mrs. Hueston can't understand why anybody in Hungary should want to read a light novel of the Black Hills.

And here's news of her daughter, Buell, who was a Pi Phi pledge at the University of Wisconsin. She remained at college only one year and had intended going back but accompanied her mother on the Black Hills tour, got so interested in it that she decided to forego college and carry on with her. She did a great deal of writing there and even sold some. Since their return to New York, she has been writing consistently—editing a page of art news for one paper and doing a fashion page for another, beside some independent shorts. Buell is the other half of the "we" referred to in Mrs. Hueston's letter.

Lois Donaldson (Mrs. Henry O. Koehler, Florida A) tells a charming little story of how she came to write those delightful books In the Mouse's House and Runzel Punzel.

LOIS DONALDSON

"I'd give each child the love of books"

I spent my summers as a little girl on a lovely old farm in Michigan. It was a farm with an apple orchard and cherry trees where a little girl could climb with her favorite story book and sit and read, and eat big red cherries at the same time.

Back of the white house with its green shutters was a long, low-lying barn where a Shetland pony, "Don," and a cow, and a pink pig, "Rosalie," all made their home.

In this same barn lived a fluffy black kitten, "Zoe." One of my most vivid recollections is of a bright morning in summer when Zoe ran upon the veranda of the white house and laid at my feet a little gray field mouse with shiny black eyes.

Of course I caught Zoe and held him tight in my arms while the little gray mouse scampered off the veranda onto the green lawn, and ran like a ribbon of gray into the tall grass of the pasture.

Years later, in a publishing house in Chicago—years after I had grown up, graduated from the University of Chicago, and traveled abroad—I saw a gorgeous picture book of mice. Gray mice they were, full of individuality. They lived in a cunning house and did exciting mouse-like things, so I wrote a story about them.

After all these years, I like to think that the little gray field mouse who scampered back to its home in the green pasture went to "The Mouse's School," ate wild strawberries for breakfast, and did all the exciting things that Mousetta and Runzel Punzel do in these two picture books.

It was while doing graduate work at Columbia University that the vision of making the best of foreign picture books available for American little folk came to Miss Donaldson. Remembering the gorgeous children's books she had seen from Norway, Sweden, and Germany, in all their lovely colors, she became intrigued with the idea of creating stories that would appeal to American children and be fitting "accompaniments" to the genius of famous foreign illustrators.

As she says, "Just as a great vocalist must have the genuine skill of the famous musician in his accompaniment, so must the spirit and charm of these great artists be 'accompanied' by a text that is simple, childlike, and appealing to American boys and girls."

In the Mouse's House and Runzel Punzel illustrated by the German artist, Mathilde Ritter; Karl's Wooden Horse by the Swedish artist, Annie Bergmann; Kylle Kluk whose pictures are done by the famous Danish artist, Louis Moe; Snipp, Snapp, Snurr and the Red Shoes; Snipp, Snapp, Snurr and the Gingerbread; Snipp, Snapp, Snurr and the Magic Horse—all illustrated by Maj Lindman; Smoky, The Lively Locomotive—these are typical examples of her contribution to the field of children's literature—a collection of charming picture books which do much toward the development of international friendship through children's books.

Though Lois received her degree from the University of Chicago, you can't talk with her long without hearing of the joys of Stetson University at De Land, Florida, for there she was a Pi Phi! Those friendships mean much to her, and I've often heard her say that she would always feel she had as many friends in Florida as she has in Chicago.

Since leaving college, Lois has been vitally interested in a business career. She is advertising manager for a Chicago publisher (Laidlaw Brothers) with whom she has been for twelve years. Her professional interests find expression in her activities in the Women's Advertising Club of Chicago, of which she was president in 1928. She attended the International Advertising Convention in London in 1924. Since then she has done work at Columbia University in the field of children's literature. She is now children's book editor for Junior Home Magazine.

"If I could be a fairy godmother, the gift I'd give each child would be the love of books," she told me once, grateful that the good fairy with the power to bestow this gift attended her christening.

"My earliest recollection is of ardently longing to read. At the age of three I often sat, book in hand, and pretended to read—much to the amusement of anyone who would immediately discern that the book was upside down! My grandmother and mother were always reading aloud to me, and to be able to read to myself when they were too busy seemed the most desirable thing in the world."

"By the time I was twelve I was very much at home in an old-fashioned library poring over the Waverly novels, Thaddeus of Warsaw, and Plutarch's Lives. I discovered that books could take the place of playmates and toys and transport one to lovely, far-off places. So to this day books have been my greatest pleasure."

If you read Hamilton Basso's excellent biography entitled Beauregard: The Great Creole, which was reviewed

HAMILTON BASSO
"Novel Novice Worth Watching"

in the last issue of the ARROW, you will hasten to buy his new novel Cinnamon Seed. For this Pi Phi husband has written one of the most absorbing novels on the publishers' Spring lists. He has dedicated his book To Etolia who is his wife, Etolia Simmons Basso, Louisiana A. The April issue of Vanity Fair lists the author among "Twelve Novel Novices to Watch" stating that he "is one of several promising writers whose first novels, appearing this year, are likely to attract a certain amount of critical attention."

One finishes Cinnamon Seed with the same regret one feels when leaving old and endeared friends. But it is not an apathetic book; it has its dramatic moments, its amusing episodes, its poetry and its color.

The book is the story of the changing South. In three generations we see industry and new social and political standards encroaching upon its slumberous tradition. The lethargic plantation life of Willswood with its plodding negroes working in the rich cane fields along the lazy Mississippi is replaced by a swifter life with roaring motor cars, cement highways, a new social code, and even a new method of warfare.

Against this background, the author effects his brilliant and sympathetic characterization. Much of the story is concerned with Dekker Blackheath, made an orphan at fourteen by his father's suicide and reared by his Aunt Elizabeth and later by his Aunt Olivia. Dekker is a dreamer and an idealist. He leaves the lazy plantation life to go out into the world to find himself. Displaying none of the brilliance of his father, he drifts from one job to another—in a tannery, in a lumber mill, driving a bakery truck. But back on the plantation he finds the peace and contentment for which he searched. In the accepted sense of the word, Dekker was not a success but he was the only one of the Blackheaths who was sincere with himself.

While Dekker is the chief character in the book, Harry Brand, the "King Frog," is certainly the most vivid. Brand's grandfather was an uncouth and malignant overseer on the Blackheath plantation. When his employer's wife shot her husband's mulatto paramour, Brand went on the stand to testify against her. The grandson was not much better. He pushed himself into the partnership with Carter Blackheath. He got himself the Governorship of Louisiana and a seat in the U. S. Senate. He insulted and boasted; guffawed and sneered. When a foreign diplomat came to make a formal call, he received him in an old night shirt. When an apology was demanded he said he regretted it wasn't a new shirt and blustered his way into a friendship with the no-longer-insulted diplomat. He had a fist fight in the Senate and made himself thoroughly objectionable to those who still clung to the old tradition. The portrait of the "King Frog" has undoubtedly been patterned after a well-known political figure.

There are other skillfully drawn characters in the book: the old Colonel who would insist upon his mint julep; Jube who made weird music on the jawbone of a mule, and Lance, his grandson, who "conquered" Europe with his jazz band; the old negro servant, Horace, master in the art of taking hours to do nothing; Olivia, the perennial maiden aunt, who grumbled continually without meaning it.

The book has just enough plot interest to give the story force without destroying its character importance. Even Willswood has its excitement and the author makes a conservative and effective use of such scenes. The story is well proportioned and well constructed. In fact, the book has about everything an exacting reader might ask for.

I DID NOT KNOW

*I did not know that you could seem so near me
That I should almost feel your hand upon my hair,*

*I did not know that starry heav'n's could cheer me
And make me think that you were smiling there.*

*I did not know that in the rain or sunshine,
That in the sighing wind or driving snow
I'd ever feel your dear arm around my shoulder,
But God has taught you how—
And now I know!*

RENA BARRY SKERRITT

(Copyright 1930 by G. Schirmer)

RENA BARRY SKERRITT
New York Alpha

(Mrs. Harry H. Skerritt)
"Their lives my daily inspiration"

These words together with the lovely music which Rena Barry Skerritt, New York A, composed for it, were written upon the death of her older son, Harry. One of her cherished memories is hearing Louise Lerch of the Metropolitan Opera Company sing it in a recent concert. This song and "One Day As I Was Walking" has just been published by G. Schirmer, Inc.

"Songs From Childhood" (Carl Fischer, Inc.) is probably Mrs. Skerritt's best known work. It is a group of five songs for and about children, but really for grown-ups to sing. In this collection are "The Good Little Boy," "The Hoppy Toad," "The Lady Bug," "Just About Jelly," and "His First Hair-Cut."

"I have constant requests to present these little songs in the various city schools," she writes, "which I do as often as possible with the assistance of a loyal Pi Phi, Marjorie Almy Carlton, New York A, who sings them very beautifully. Children always make inspiring audiences, and I have treasured letters of appreciation from many of them—those from some of the little foreign folk being quite delicious." These delightful songs are widely used in concerts throughout the country.

Mrs. Skerritt has written many poems besides those which she has set to music. Last Spring she received a prize in the Poetry Contest held by the Central New York Branch of League of American Pen Women, of which she is a member.

Mrs. Skerritt received the degree of Mus. B. from Syracuse University and was awarded a post graduate scholarship. She is married to Harry Huse Skerritt, Syracuse attorney. This Pi Phi began writing when the oldest of her three children was very small and claims that the greater part of whatever she has done has been because of the daily inspiration of their lives. In addition to songs, she has written several piano compositions and sacred quartet numbers.

Once more an artist has found inspiration in the lovely country that surrounds our Settlement School. The etching reproduced with the "News from Little Pigeon" is the work of Leon R. Pescheret of Chicago.

He and Mrs. Pescheret (Grace Waller), Iowa A, visited Gatlinburg about three years ago and became so interested in the beauty of the section, that Mr. Pescheret made several etchings of the neighborhood.

Mr. Pescheret declares that he has not etched any specific spot, but has tried to catch the spirit and general aspect of that part of the country, although many persons who have been down to the Settlement School and surrounding country may recognize some of the landmarks used. Those who have been to Gatlinburg will see that he has indeed caught the spirit of the "Smokies."

Pi Phis who attended the World's Fair were charmed to find in his exhibition in "Streets of Paris" and the "Belgian Village," the lovely little etchings of the mountain cabin which he called "In the Smokies."

"In Tennessee" is now being shown in the Los Angeles Museum of Art, in an exhibit of the Print Makers' Club.

Mrs. Pescheret, an active member of Chicago North Shore Alumnae Club, is an enthusiastic worker for Settlement School.

WISE IN EXPERIENCE

Dr. Maud Lee Etheredge, Illinois Z, is the author of a very valuable book entitled, Health Facts for Students.

No less an authority than Williams McAndrew says in School and Society, "Dr. Etheredge does know how to put life into an old subject. . . . The reading of any book on hygiene is somehow associated in my mind with duty. This volume is pushed upon me with the command to review it. Miracle! The first chapter is so gently persuasive, so quietly logical, so distinctly interesting, that it leads one to think a woman can write a better hygiene than a man. Now that I have read through, I'm sure of it.

"Your health," observes Lady Etheredge, 'depends much on your outlook on life. This is your own. You needn't take a long journey to reach the house with the golden windows. Get the right angle and your own are full of glorious luster.' For college one does need a new adjustment," continues Mr. McAndrew.

"One is close to many more kinds of people. The strong personality usually becomes stronger; the weaker one slumps."

Ray Lyman Wilbur, President of the University of Illinois and himself a doctor of medicine, says Dr. Etheredge is an expert adviser, "wise in the experience of answering questions that pour upon her in her position as medical consultant for women students of the University of Illinois."

Dr. Etheredge is a graduate of the Bennett Medical College in Chicago and she is a member of the Champaign-Urbana Alumnae Club.

MODERN WOMEN

Lorine Pruette, who in private life is Mrs. Douglas Fryar, Tennessee A, has written a new book entitled Modern Women: Success or Failure. Although it was included among new books announced for spring publication, it will not make its appearance until the fall. It is a provocative book and will undoubtedly elicit considerable discussion among thinking women.

"KINDY'S CROSSING"

We who have known Margaret Weymouth Jackson (Mich. A) for her inimitable short stories and articles appearing in the Woman's Home Companion, American Mercury and other important magazines, read her latest book, Kindy's Crossing, with no little curiosity. We found this, her most ambitious undertaking, much to our liking.

Kindy's Crossing is the story of four generations of very real and very interesting people. Bert Inness, the central figure, is a man of genius. Through sheer determination and hard work, this blacksmith's son becomes a great industrial figure. First a manufacturer of carriages, then of automobiles, he has the vision and courage that has characterized industrial leaders of the past decade. But when those tragic years of economic chaos come, not even courage such as Bert's can avert the inevitable decline of the Inness fortune.

There is so much more to Mrs. Jackson's book than the story of Bert Inness. There is the character of his mother, Maggie, who clings to the soil and to the realities of life. There is Estelle, his wife, lovely to look at but with far less of a pioneer spirit than her husband. There is their daughter Blanche, a product of her gin-drinking generation and her daughter Nancy, who is more like her grandfather than anyone in the Inness clan.

They have their tragedies and their gayety; their ambitions and their disappointments. They move as real people against a kaleidoscopic background of world affairs. But beyond the engrossing story of their lives, is a profundity of truth for the reader to discover.

IN MEMORIAM

HARRIET GRIFFIN HAISLEY

Michigan Beta

When friends in Ann Arbor awoke on the morning of Friday, January 12, 1934, they dreaded answering the call of the telephone, fearing the message that it could bring. The thing that just couldn't happen, had happened. Harriet Haisley had gone at one o'clock from pneumonia. Only on the Saturday before she had presided at the International Relations Group luncheon of the Ann Arbor Branch of the A.A.U.W. of which she was chairman.

During Harriet's ten years of residence in Ann Arbor, after her husband, Otto W. Haisley, became superintendent mittee—the city Y.W.C.A., the Public Health Nursing Association, the Community Fund and its service committee as chairman, which had as its particular activity the supervision of the Dunbar Center (colored), the Women's Club, and the American Association of University Women. She had been a member of the board of directors of the Michigan B of Pi Beta Phi Association, and was at the time of her death a member of the Alumnae Advisory Board of the active chapter. Through all of these activities she was her husband's right hand support in his work as superintendent of schools and among his teachers, whose valient friend she was individually and collectively. She was sought as speaker on subjects of education, child welfare, and international relations. At one time she was superintendent of the Episcopal Sunday School. There are few women in Ann Arbor whose interests have led them into such varied channels and whose going will be felt by as wide a variety of people. She was always gracious, and her sympathetic understanding, kindness and sparkling sense of humor made her sought as friend. Her words of encouragement had a way of bringing the best out of those with whom she was associated. One little boy has said, "She was my best grown-up friend." In group discussions, she might say little at first, but when she spoke, what she said had a way of solving the matter under discussion. Hers was an example of an adult female mind that never ceased growing after college days. For several years she had been a student of foreign and international affairs, having been ent of the Ann Arbor city schools, she became actively identified with almost every civic and welfare and educational organization in the city as a director, or as chairman of some important com-the first chairman of that group in the Ann Arbor Branch of the A.A.U.W., in the interests of which she gave her last self.

Harriet is survived by her mother, Mrs. Jennie Griffin of Niles, now of Ann Arbor; her sister Jeanne, Michigan B, who is assistant librarian at the Kalamazoo city library; her son Robert, 13 years old; and her husband, to all of whom goes the sympathy of those who know what Harriet had meant in the life of each.

ELIZABETH PENNOCK FREYTAG

Virginia Beta, Wisconsin Alpha

Elizabeth Pennock Freytag died suddenly in Chicago, on February 3, 1934, the victim of a hit and run driver in an accident in which her husband, Arthur Freytag, was seriously injured.

Initiated by Virginia B, she transferred to the University of Wisconsin in her junior year, and there was affiliated with Wisconsin A. She was graduated there in 1923.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo G. Pennock, of Urbana, Ohio, and was a sister-in-law of Mary Louise Mayo (Mrs. Elmer Freytag), and of Betty B. Freytag, of Virginia B.

At the time of her death she was living in Chicago.

EDITH EVELYN WARD

Edith Evelyn Ward passed away on January 7, 1934, at her home in Cody, Wyoming.

Edith entered the University of Wyoming in the fall of 1919 and became a member of Wyoming A in March, 1920. She and Jane Beck (Mrs. Nelson T. Johnson), on account of scholastic standing, had the honor of being initiated by Amy Burnham Onken, Grand President, who was visiting the chapter at that time.

Edith is survived by her mother, Mrs. John Ward, and five sisters. Four sisters, Ida (Mrs. W. J. Holmes, Jr.), Mabel (Mrs. M. K. Overley), Mary (Mrs. A. J. King) and Florence, are members of Wyoming A, and her youngest sister, Ruth, was pledged to Wyoming A in September 1933.

Edith's generous and unselfish nature and loving disposition had endeared her to all who knew her and her loss is keenly felt not only by her family and close friends but by the entire community. She had a lovely voice and unusual dramatic ability and was always generous with her time and talents. Edith's capacity for friendship was unlimited and to know her was to become her friend. As an expression of the love and esteem in which she was held by the entire community, all offices and business houses closed during the funeral services.

Although Edith's years on earth were few, those few years were filled with more than a full measure of love and loyalty, generosity and devotion to her friends and family, and the memory of Edith as we were privileged to know her will be a never-ending inspiration.

ELVIRA JONES

Oklahoma Alpha

Elvira Jones passed away on March 9, 1934 at her home in Tulsa, Oklahoma, after a protracted illness.

In 1924 she was graduated from the University of Oklahoma where she was a member of Oklahoma A.

Elvira was a devoted member of the Tulsa Alumnae Club. Her loyalty and enthusiasm were an inspiration to all. Although unable to attend meetings she contributed many songs, poems, and plays about Pi Phi which were used on Founders' Day programs. She wrote the words of the song, "The Golden Dart," which was published in the May 1933 issue of the ARROW.

Our deepest sympathy is extended to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Jones, her sisters, Ruby Mae, and Juanita, and to her brothers, W. H., Jr., and Morgan.

De Land, Florida, Pi Beta Phi wish to extend their deepest sympathy to the family of Dr. Lincoln Hulley who was for nearly thirty years president of the John B. Stetson University.

Dr. Hulley died following a heart attack at his home in De Land on January 20.

He was a most versatile man, prominent in religious, educational, and literary circles of Florida.

Laura Plank Milligan
(Mrs. Charles H.)

Iowa Epsilon

Mrs. Charles H. Milligan (Laura Plank), a member of I.C. at Brookfield, Iowa, which later became Iowa E, died August 30, 1933, after a brief illness. Survived by her husband, son, Charles, Jr., and two daughters, Helen and Florence, both members of Iowa A, and a Pi Phi sister, Mrs. W. L. Heath of St. Louis. Was a member of the Oklahoma City Alumni Club.

Jean Alexander, Wisconsin A, 460 Downer Place, Aurora, Illinois, was killed in an automobile accident about one year ago.

Angeline Stedman Allen (Mrs. Arthur), Illinois Z, died March 1, 1934.

Blanche Harter Ivory Carpenter (Mrs. Frank), New York A, died January 18, 1934, at her home in Adams, New York. She was born in Parish, New York, in 1878, attended Syracuse University where she was one of the charter members of New York A. Blanche was always a loyal  $\Pi B \Phi$  and possessed an unusually sweet and lovable disposition which endeared her to all who knew her. She was a member of the D.A.R. and always active in the affairs of her community. She is survived by her husband to whom goes the deepest sympathy of New York A.

Edith Couk Robinson (Mrs. David A.), Indiana B, passed away December 3, 1933, at her home in Roachdale, Indiana.

Mayme Duckworth Stoddy (Mrs. Jas. N.), Iowa E, passed away June 18, 1933, in Seattle, Washington.

Eugenia Dodd, Missouri  $\Gamma$ —Missouri A, died November, 1933.

Mrs. William Hamilton Cooper, Jr. (Nathalie Marie Ekren), Colorado A, died June 28, 1933.

Mrs. Minnie W. Marksbery (Minnie Earhart), Colorado A.

Blanche Dell Mickey, Ohio B, died October 16, 1933, following a six months' illness.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR SUCCESSFUL CHAPTER MANAGEMENT

Tactful and forceful officers are the very foundation of a successful organization.

It is the duty of all members to work with and not against those whom they have selected as their leaders.

Careful selection of pledges, proper development and training at the very outset is essential.

A chapter should "find" itself early in the college year, organize a definite plan of procedure for the year in all departments and strive to attain that goal.

The necessity for cooperation between the chapter president and the other officers cannot be over-emphasized.

Minor officers should not sit back waiting for the president to tell them to do everything.

The Trident of  $\Delta \Delta \Delta$

QUALIFICATIONS FOR A HOUSEMOTHER

She must have a great love for girls and always view them, not in the light of what they are, but of what they may become.

She must be physically fit in order to enable her to live with such a large family and meet the many daily problems.

The age of a housemother is not important, but she must have the spirit of youth.

She needs poise, adaptability, tact, understanding, sympathy, and, always, the courage of her honest convictions.

She must be thoroughly impartial.

She must have a good general education, social training, a pleasing personality, and a deep understanding of the importance that right human relations play in our lives.

She should be practical, with a good basis of common sense.

She needs a sense of humor.

She must have high ideals.

She should have such a keen appreciation of the desirable things her girls do that they will cease to do the undesirable ones.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR A CHAPTER PRESIDENT

She must be fair in her judgments, wise in her decisions, keen in her perceptions; an example to all those whose help and co-operation she asks.

She must be alert, lenient in ideas but strict in ideals, a fellow learner.

She must take things casually and not pounce upon one; tact is essential.

She must not exploit confidences she receives.

She must not pigeonhole girls and set them down as thus and so, but rather try constantly to understand more fully the changing individuals.

She must develop stability, poise, and self-control to deal with the individuals who do vary in temper and attitude from day to day.

She must not resent their variation, but understand it and lead them toward the expression of what is best in them so that their conduct may truly represent them.

The Trident of  $\Delta \Delta \Delta$

$\Delta \Gamma$  received \$20,000 in the form of a legacy from Miss Olive I. Dawson of Colorado who was not a member but who was interested in two  $\Delta \Gamma$  nieces. The Student Loan Fund enriched by the above amount will total \$80,000.

ALPHA PROVINCE

ONTARIO ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

Chartered, 1908

Pledge Day, October 30, 1933

INITIATED, February 19, 1933: Patricia Allen; Elizabeth Carruthers, Peggy Dinnick, Mary Greecy, Helen Jardine, Jane Trow, Toronto.

In February there was a basketball meet in London, where the girls of four universities competed; the University of Toronto team won. In the interfaculty swimming meet, University College carried off the cup. Joan Knowlton, captain of the team, won several events, including the stunts.

On February 5 Panhellenic held its annual banquet, which was well attended by the members of the eleven fraternities of the campus. Toasts, songs, and skits made it an hilarious affair. The chapter was lucky to have Mrs. Stebbins, Assistant to Grand President, present at that time. After the banquet a subscription dance was given by the association to raise funds for the university settlement schools.

The rushing rules have been drawn up for next season for the rushing of second year girls in residence. Rushing is to occur the three days immediately preceding the opening of college.

Ontario A was pleased to have an exceptionally large number of alumnae at the social functions of the chapter this year. The initiation banquet was its usual success. The formal dance was held in March. Founders' Day luncheon was the last social activity before the exams.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Ruth Cooper, 133 Albany Ave., Toronto.

MAINE ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MAINE

Chartered, 1920

Pledge Day, March 3, 1934

Some changes in sorority rushing on the Maine campus were proposed and voted to be referred to Panhellenic at a mass meeting of all sorority women held in the Little Theater in Alumni Hall. These changes were suggested by Mrs. Clara Rader, national president of  $\Phi M$ , then visiting on campus. These changes, as approved by Panhellenic and put into effect, included that all freshman women, eligible and non-eligible, were to be invited to attend so-called "open-house." This consisted of allotting each sorority rooms at Colvin Hall, to decorate in any manner they chose. Then, on set afternoons, interested women could visit these rooms. The idea was to have the freshmen "rush the sororities"—evidence interest in the ones they themselves were most interested in. It retained the former idea of preferential bidding by sororities and preferential balloting by freshman women.

A formal tea was given by Maine A for its patronesses in Balentine Parlor, January 21. Mrs.

James Muilenburg, wife of the dean of the college of Arts and Sciences, and Mrs. Clara Rader, national president of  $\Phi M$ , were guests. Representatives from each sorority also attended.

Sherwood Eddy, the noted lecturer and author, spoke at a dinner in his honor at the Penobscot Valley Country Club. Following the dinner there was a general discussion on Soviet Russia led by Mr. Eddy. All campus organizations were represented at this dinner, and each sorority and fraternity sent two delegates.

One of the most outstanding of the social events of the winter season is intramural ball. This year Helen Walker, pledge, was chosen queen, and received the cup given to the girl so selected.

A pledge service and installation of officers was held at the home of Mrs. Stephen Bussell in Old Town. A buffet supper was held following the service. Games were played and  $\Pi B \Phi$  songs sung.

The Maine Masque presented the Maxwell Anderson play, "Both Your Houses," at the Little Theatre in Alumni Hall in March. Margaret Snow, pledge, had a major part.

The annual formal of Maine A was held at the Penobscot Valley Country Club the evening of April 6; about forty couples attended.

VERMONT ALPHA—MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE

Chartered, 1893

Pledge Day, February 3 and 21, 1934

GRADUATES: Elizabeth Gunnison Brown, Middlebury; Mary Krickel Carrick, 68 Chester St., Newton Highlands, Mass.; Thais de Transche, 1429 157th St., Beechhurst, N.Y.

At a meeting held on January 26 the board of trustees voted not to abolish the women's fraternities on the Middlebury campus. As soon as this action was made known, Panhellenic set the date for sophomore pledging and made immediate plans for freshman rushing. In order to equalize the fraternity groups the freshman quota was set at eight for each group. The results were highly satisfactory, and each of the six fraternities received the maximum number. After a moratorium of nearly two years the activities of the women's fraternities at Middlebury have returned to a normal status.

The college cooperated with the town of Middlebury this year in supporting a series of musical concerts by the Community Concert Association. The programs included the Brosa String Quartet, Frederic Baer, baritone, and Toscha Seidel, violinist.

Miss Elizabeth N. Osborn, college lecturer on "Personality," conducted a series of conferences and talks for the women February 22 and 23, sponsored by the student government association.

A social committee composed of the dean of the college, two advisory members, and six undergraduates has planned several projects of cultural interest to all the women. Miss Osborn's talks, as well as an exhibition of paintings by Hilda Belcher, and a two-day exhibition of handiwork done by the Kentucky mountaineers were arranged by the committee. Evelyn Poppel, vice-president of her class and representative to the student government council, is the sophomore member of the committee.

The first Middlebury Mountain Club Winter Carnival was held February 10, 11, and 12. The week-end program included men's intercollegiate sports meet, women's winter sports jubilee, two hockey games, and the Ice Carnival, at which a group from Lake Placid gave an exhibition of fancy skating. Dorothy Gray was chosen carnival queen by a plurality vote at the carnival ball Saturday evening.

On the staff of the Bread Loaf Writers' conference of Middlebury to be held this summer under the direction of Theodore Morrison of Harvard are Hervey Allen, author of Anthony Adverse; Julia Peterkin, whose novel Scarlet Sister Mary won the Pulitzer prize in 1928; Walter Pritchard Eaton, noted critic, journalist, and author; Bernard De Voto, author of Mark Twain's America; Gorham B. Munson, New York editor and critic; and Raymond Everett, authority on publication.

The first series of five radio programs presented by the Middlebury College Broadcasters over WGY, Schenectady, was concluded February 10. The purpose of the series was to convey in sound every phase of undergraduate atmosphere under the title "Campus Glimpses," dedicated to all alumni, friends, and future students of Middlebury College.

Norman Thomas, prominent Socialist leader, lectured to the college March 12 on the subject "A Program for Our Times."

Those selected for the All-Midd volleyball team included Dorothy Gray, Evelyn Poppel, and Faith Arnold. Dorothy and Janet Gray were chosen for the All-Midd basketball team. Ruth McNulty secured a position on the All-Midd hockey team.

Janet Gray was co-chairman of the frosh frolic and among those on her committee were Isabel Ingham and Ruth van Sickle. Muriel Voter, Susan Hathaway, and Marion Wishart play in the college orchestra. Carol Bloom was chosen as the freshman representative to the student government council and Marion Wishart as secretary of the freshman class. Barbara Wishart is on the varsity debating team.

PLEGGED: Carol Bloom, Newton Center, Mass.; Margherita Cozensa, Rockville Center, N.Y.; Janet Gray, Katonah, N.Y.; Susan Hathaway, Middlebury; Isabel Ingham, New Britain, Conn.; Ruth van Sickle, Newark, N.J.; Muriel Voter, Middlebury; Marion Wishart, Barre.

GRADUATES: Mary Bennett, Ph.B. Literary Scientific, Springfield; Barbara Belcher, B.S. Social Science, Maplewood, N.J.; Rachel Closson, B.S. Commerce and Economics, Wollaston, Mass.; Ruth Dawson, Ph.B. Literary Scientific, Needham Heights, Mass.; Alice Hoyt, B.S. Social Science, Salem, Mass.

After several weeks of trial, the Saturday morning mass meetings have proved a complete success. They are held from ten to ten-thirty each week and are of a light and entertaining nature in order to offset the class lectures. Short plays, dances, skits, and mock campaigns are the features, and more than this, it is a fine opportunity to become better acquainted with one's college mates.

Dean Marion Patterson has been the hostess at a series of coffees given every Sunday afternoon at her home from two until four. Six girls are invited at a time and in this way Miss Patterson hopes to have better and more personal contact with the girls.

Outstanding among the university lectures, were two talks given by Professor L. D. Meredith on "The Gold Standard," and a lecture by Professor Paul D. Evans who chose as his subject, "The Inevitability of War."

The pledge dance was held at the house on March 3 with about thirty-five couples present. The spring formal took place on May 4.

Ruth White was a member of the cast of the sophomore play which was presented just before Easter vacation. Mary W. Bennett has been awarded a year's scholarship to continue her study of French at the University of Toulouse. Helen Taylor and Marjorie Jenks were in the chorus of the spring opera, "Gondoliers."

Faculty-student day was observed at the Fleming Museum on March 16; pictures loaned by the American Federation of Art were exhibited, and tea was served. Among the hostesses were Mary Bennett and Barbara Belcher. On March 1, the Carnegie set on the History of Art, Italian and Modern, was shown.

A new idea was inaugurated March 17, a Vermont-Middlebury play day. Many representatives from the university went to Middlebury to take part in the various athletic contests that were carried on during the afternoon; a dinner was given at night.

Vermont B led the other fraternities in scholarship for last semester with an average of 84.87.

PLEGGED: Marjorie Beach, Burlington; Marguerite Bean, Glover; Margaret Blodgett, Newport; Doris Herrick, Natalie Hilliker, Essex Junction; Martha McGillicuddy, Turners Falls, Mass.; Lona Main, Groton; Elinor Moran, Springfield, Mass.; Arlene Perkins, White River Junction; Helen Taylor, Newport; E. INITIATED, March 3, 1934: Beatrice Warner.

The first formal dance of the second semester was held by the chapter March 2, at the home of Kay Green, followed the next day by initiation. The chapter had another formal dance April 6, a week before spring recess, also at Kay's home. The chapter is planning to close the school year with a formal the last week in May.

On March 16, the student body and faculty of C.L.A. presented stunt night. Eleanor Martin, Ida Finch, and Astrid Malmstem were members of the committee. Stunt night is the one time of the year when the professors doff their dignity and join with certain stage-minded students in burlesquing classroom scenes and in making themselves generally ridiculous to entertain the rest of the college.

Scabbard and Blade, the national honorary military fraternity, held their military ball March 23. During the intermission, pledges who had successfully completed their initiation marched through a sabre arch and received their insignia.

The same night was chosen by the German club for Tivoli, their annual social. One of the features of the entertainment was Dorothy Hey's dancing. The freshman class held their frolic, March 30. Constance Reuter was one of the members of the committee.

The crowning event of the all-university junior week held from April 30 to May 4 was the junior prom which this year featured the music of Ozzie Nelson and his orchestra. The tea dance committee with Martha Chapman as co-chairman and Margaret Jackson a member, presented an unusually successful dance. Other events of the week included the Gilbert and Sullivan Society's production "The Gondoliers," the interfraternity dance, and field day with the boat house dance in the evening.

Elaborate plans are being made for senior week which takes place the second week in June. It will include the senior banquet, senior field day, and boathouse dance, a moonlight sail, and ends with the senior prom.

The gym meet was held March 27. Eleanor Martin had charge of the tickets and programs and ten of the chapter participated in the events.

The basketball season closed with the senior team winning the tournament, and now baseball and tennis are in full swing. Sue Harper, Eleanor Martin, and Barbara Young have signed up for the tennis tournament.

The university is looking forward to an excellent football season for "Pat" Hanley, former Northwestern coach, has been appointed as head coach for the B.U. gridsters. He has already set a precedent by carrying out spring training.

PLEGGED: Elsa Bates, Ruth Moore, Lucie de Haro, Constance Reuter, Ida Finch, Ronnie Werho, Astrid Malmstem, Barbara Young.

INITIATED, March 3, 1934: Dorothy Grant, Flower Sheldon, Scotia; Margaret Gray, Mary Gray, Springville; Inez Duncan, Beaver Falls, Pa.; Virginia Rapp, Wood-Ridge, N.J.; Margaret Jane Williams, Albany; Doris Gillette, Skaneateles; Sylvia Johnson, Oswego; Margaret Weber, White Plains.

GRADUATES: Dorothy Boyden, Marathon; Elizabeth Broad, Jamesville; Doris Cumings, 123 Jenkins St., Oneida; Eldora Dolbear, 109 Warner Ave., Syracuse; Agnes Downs, 115 Linwood Ave., Ardmore, Pa.; Elizabeth Fernald, 109 Oaktree Pl., Leonia, N.J.; Dorothy Henderson, 249 Merion Ave., Haddensfield, N.J.; Eleanor Howard, 127 1/2 W. Kennedy St., Syracuse; Hazel Ingalls, 7 Beekman St., Plattsburgh; Margaret Loop, 825 Blvd., Westfield, N.J.; Virginia Newkirk, 17 Rosa Rd., Schenectady, N.Y.; Ruth Thomson, 829 Prospect Ave., Ridgefield, N.J.; Nanette Unger, 1056 Abbott Blvd., Palisade; Vivian Whyte, 920 Livingstone Ave., Syracuse.

Two new schools are to be established at Syracuse this coming fall. Dr. M. Lyle Spencer, former president of the University of Washington, is the director of the new school of journalism.

The present Teachers' College will be reorganized as the school of education which will embrace a larger field and include all teacher training. Students wishing to enroll in this school after the sophomore year will not have to transfer from their respective colleges, but will be "dually admitted" after having passed a preprofessional entrance examination.

The English club brought the popular writer,

Christopher Morley, author of John Mistletot, to the campus, March 14.

March 13, the co-eds took possession of the men's gymnasium for their annual military ball. Everyone enjoyed a recreational evening including swimming, bowling, ping-pong, and dancing. During the evening members of the new W.A.A. board were presented. Mildred Wicke, as basketball manager, was among this group.

New York A celebrated the advent of Saint Patrick's Day by inviting  $\Phi \Gamma \Delta$  to the house for a gang date. The shamrock theme was carried out at the party. Gang dates are very popular at Syracuse as a means of acquainting men's and women's fraternities.

In February, the second annual winter carnival was held at Drumlin's Golf and Country Club. The queen of the carnival must be active in W.A.A., and is elected by those attending. Mildred Wicke was crowned queen by Dean Griffith in the absence of the mayor of Syracuse who was kept away by illness.

The initiation banquet, held in the Louis Room of the Onondaga Hotel, was one of the nicest in recent years. The tables were beautifully decorated in spring flowers, and the whole atmosphere, from the after dinner speeches on the "Symphony" to the "Loving Cup Song," was filled with the sisterly spirit which pervades true members. The chapter was very glad to have two representatives from New York A. Two of this chapter attended the Cornell initiation, following the annual friendly custom of the two chapters.

Martha Brown was elected secretary of A E E, honorary home economics fraternity. Roberta Foreman is vice-president of City Women's Club for the coming year. Mildred Wicke was elected as freshman camp director, and is a member of Chapel Board.

Betty Fernald was elected to  $\Phi K \Phi$ . Roberta Foreman was initiated into  $\Pi M E$ , honorary mathematics fraternity. The French honorary, A T P, has elected Doris Cumings to its ranks. Betty Fernald and Nan Unger were initiated into  $\Psi X$ , honorary psychological fraternity.

GRADUATES: Eleanore Dailey, Norwood; Carmen Fuller, St. Regis Falls; Hazel Hart, Norwood; Mary MacGruer, De Kalb Junction; Violet Van Houten, Hollis; Helen Wheeler, Kingston.

Panhellenic has decided to lengthen the period between the last rushing party and the day of pledging from one to three days.

New York I won the cup for the first interfraternity song contest held February 16. Mary Lewis was the chapter's song leader. The chapter also serenaded each fraternity on the night of its initiatory banquet.

Marguerite Stowitts was elected to  $\Phi M K$ , honorary journalistic society founded upon the campus last year. Marguerite was also chosen as co-ed editor of Hill News and the Scarlet Saint, and appointed to the junior prom committee. Katherine Gill and Helene Kipp were named as assistant co-editors of the staff of Hill News.

Jean Clifford has become a member of Slu Club, honorary athletic society, and manager of class basketball for next year.

Ruth Eddy was chairman of the Slu Club dance held April 13. At this dance the girls asks a boy, calls for him, and performs all the duties of an escort throughout the evening. Ruth has also become a member of W.S.G.A. and campus council.

The initiatory banquet was held March 10 and the initiates represented dolls set into a toy shop window. After the banquet all the fraternities came to serenade the new members. On March 12, the initiates had their first cooky-shine.

The chapter held an informal "vic" party at the house on the evening of March 24.

New York I had the honor of having Mrs. Cassidy, Alpha Province President, visit them.

On April 28 students of northern New York state colleges met at St. Lawrence for a Student Union Conference.

GRADUATES: Anne Albright, 18 Harvard Pl., Ithaca; Janice Berryman, 4219 Murray St., Flushing; Elsie Hanford, 122 Lake Ave., Ithaca; Jeanette Hughes, Janesville; Margaret Pfeif, 5 Snowden Ave., Schenectady; Emily Ritter, 2757 Brandywine N.W., Washington, D.C.; Evelyn Rogers, Trenton, N.J., R.F.D. 4; Mary Seaman, Kromer Ave., Berwyn, Pa.; Margaret Stillman, Tenafly, N.J.; Dorothea Summers, 214 Cherokee Rd., Charlotte, N.C.; Patricia Mahoney, 8 West 105 St., New York City.

The first social event of the spring semester was the junior promenade held on February 9, during junior week-end. The theme of the affair was the land of the midnight sun.

Initiation took place on February 17 and the banquet was held at the Ithaca Hotel. After the banquet there was an informal dance at the house. Two members of New York A were present at the initiation. Gladys Winters and Anne Albright attended the New York A initiation held on March 3.

More people attended farm and home week than did last year. Mrs. Roosevelt, Governor Lehman, Dr. Warren, and Dr. Myers spoke at various meetings during the week. The members of II B  $\Phi$ in the College of Home Economics participated in numerous demonstrations.

The university concerts have been excellent this year. Ossip Gabrilowitsch, pianist, and Yehudi Menuhin, violinist, and the New York Symphony Orchestra were included in this semester's series.

The faculty lecture series, started last year, has been continued this year. Secretary of Agriculture Wallace spoke on the New Deal in connection with the course given in law school.

Cornell has had a most successful track season as it has won the meets from Yale, Harvard, Syracuse, and Colgate. The basketball season won for the university second place in the league. The university women held an intramural basketball tournament which was won by A  $\Sigma$  A.

A new diversion was introduced into Cornell in the form of a roller-skating party held in the Drill Hall. It proved such a success that another was held after spring recess.

New York  $\Delta$  served as hostess at one of the weekly Willard Straight teas. About fifteen minutes of the time was given to the singing of II B  $\Phi$  songs which were enjoyed by those attending.

In celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary the dramatic club presented Henrik Ibsen's "Enemy of the People." The performance rated one of the best this year.

At the women's mass meeting Edith Trappe was elected president of the Cornell United Religious Workers and was selected a member of Mortar Board. Elizabeth Myers, Gladys Winters, and Frank Zingerle were appointed vice-presidents in the dormitories. While the votes were being counted a fashion show was staged under the supervision of Gladys Winters. Evelyn Rogers played the accompaniment for the models.

Gladys Winters, successful in the Sun competition, is now associate women's business manager. The chapter is now represented on each of the publication boards.

Games night, sponsored by W.A.A., was held in the Drill Hall on March 27.

The Cornell debating team left for Puerto Rico where it participated in debates held at the university there.

The Ithaca High School seniors were rushing guests at an informal party held at the house in April.

The sophomores presented the seniors with May Day baskets as is customarily done. The juniors will hold a strawberry festival for the seniors in Risley Court at the end of May.

Spring Day will fall on May 26 this year. This week-end climaxes the term's festivities except for senior week which starts June 15.

Among the various interesting organizations at Swarthmore College which are endeavoring to improve the present social system is a committee of both men and women appointed by the respective student government organizations which is known as the new social committee. This group is attempting to find a satisfactory social régime to take the place of the recently abolished women's fraternities. They are hoping to make college social functions less restricted and more democratic. The old custom of mixed tables for men and women in the college dining room has been restored. After dinner coffee is served in Collection Hall where the students and faculty mingle together.

In the recent W.S.G.A. elections Elizabeth Thomson was elected president for the coming year; Betty Blair automatically became chairman of the honor system and was also appointed a member of the new social committee. Elizabeth Thomson and Betty Blair were elected to Mortar Board for the coming year.

The annual spring formal of Pennsylvania A was held April 21 at the Aronomink Golf Club preceded by a formal dinner at the Rose Tree Hunt Club. As it was the last dance ever to be held by the chapter before relinquishing its charter a large number of alumnae returned for the occasion. The Founders' Day luncheon was held April 28 at the Barclay Hotel in Philadelphia. The actives joined with the Philadelphia alumnae club in observance of this anniversary.

The new literature building at Bucknell, which was started during the summer, has recently been opened and the classes have been moved to it. The lectures for the survey courses are being held in the new auditorium of the building.

"The Rivals," by Richard Sheridan, was given by Cap and Dagger, the campus dramatic organization, in February. Miss Phyllis Joyce, of New York, was the guest artist, and she took the part of Mrs. Malaprop in the production. Helen Godcharles had one of the leading roles in the play and Romlyn Rivenburg assisted the property staff.

Dr. Hugh Black, of Union Theological Seminary, visited Bucknell, February 25, and spoke to the student church. His address was followed by a student gathering at the home of Forrest Brown, the Y.M.C.A. secretary of the college. Dr. Rufus Jones, of Haverford College, addressed the Bucknell student church, March 11.

The university quartet gave a program of chamber music the afternoon of February 25, in the living room of Hunt Hall. February 6, the men's glee club gave a concert in the Baptist church.

Mr. E. E. Mylin has recently been appointed as football coach to take the place of Mr. Carl Snavely, who has resigned to accept a position at the University of North Carolina.

The girls' mixed chorus sang a few numbers in chapel the morning of March 15.

The week-end of May 10 was set aside for a May festival. All the mothers were invited because Sunday was Mothers' Day. Friday Cap and Dagger gave a play, Saturday was May Day, and Sunday the Bucknell Chorus gave Bach's "The Passion" according to St. Matthew.

Pennsylvania B stood second in scholarship rating for the first semester.

GRADUATES: Jeanette Bastress, 202 W. Main St., Mechanicsburg; Margaret Davis, 400 S. Market St., Mechanicsburg; Christina Meredith, Metzger Hall, Carlisle; Priscilla McConnell, 1509 N. 55th St.; Ann Morris, 252 S. College St., Carlisle.

Pennsylvania G was very happy to have had a visit from Mrs. Stowell C. Stebbins in March. She brought with her many interesting reports from other chapters that she had visited and many helpful suggestions to the chapter officers with whom she had interviews. Mrs. Stebbins and several of the girls had the opportunity to go to Harrisburg to hear Marian Talley whom they all enjoyed.

The chapter had a combined bridge party and tea dance early in March, the proceeds of which went to the Settlement School. The party was held in the K E house, and quite a few people were there.

On March 13, the German club of Dickinson, with the cooperation of the German departments of Dickinson and the University of Pennsylvania, sponsored a trip to Philadelphia to hear the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York present Richard Wagner's opera, "Die Meistersinger" at the Philadelphia Academy of Music. This wonderful opportunity was made available to all students of Dickinson and many of them took advantage of it.

Karl Ringer, one of the German exchange students here, captured a first place medal at the Dartmouth Winter Carnival and International Winter Sports Union meet in the one mile down hill skiing race in February. While there, he received an offer for a position as a winter sports coach at Dartmouth.

The annual "A" banquet in honor of the members of Phi Beta Kappa for this year was held February 23. Pennsylvania G is glad to have had Christina Meredith elected to membership. This dinner was given by the faculty for those students who had made an "A" average in the previous semester. Lena Ritner, junior, and Mary Jane Boswell, sophomore, also represented the chapter at the banquet.

The anniversary of the presentation of the first course in economics offered in Dickinson College was marked by special chapel programs during the week of March 21. In March, 1789, Dr. Charles Nisbet, first president of the college, commenced a series of lectures on economics, and it is believed these lectures are among the earliest delivered in America under that title. Among the students who spoke in chapel of Dr. Nisbet and his work, was Priscilla McConnell.

The lectures referred to are preserved in the Hamilton Library of Carlisle. Taken down verbatim from Nisbet's dictation they are being transcribed by students working under the provisions of the CWA plan for college students, a plan, which incidentally, has made it possible for fifty-seven college students to work here in different college projects.

Harriet Matter of Pennsylvania G, along with Dean Josephine Meredith and Prof. Russell Thompson represented Dickinson at the convention of the North Atlantic Consultation Group for Student Work held in March. Representatives from most colleges in the North Atlantic States met there to discuss problems in youth activities.

Marjorie Black, pledge, was high scorer in the freshman-sophomore basketball game which the freshmen won, thus enabling them to remove their freshman armbands for the rest of the year.

After the big home basketball games, the fraternity houses had open-house victrola dances. The Panhellenic dance was held March 10. The decorations were in black and white and the programs carried out the color scheme. The committee included Priscilla McConnell and Betty Flower. Founders' Day celebrations terminated in a formal dance held in the American Legion Hall.

PLEGDED, MARCH 5: Louise Mumper, Mechanicsburg.

The men's faculty club presented recently a comedy, "Aren't We All." They give a play annually, and the proceeds are used in the student loan fund of the university.

Prep follies, a show in which each sorority pledge group presents a twenty minute skit, turned out to be a great success. The skits, all original, are entered in competition, and the winning skit is awarded a trophy on awards day in May. Ohio A won first place this year. The proceeds from this activity are given to the women's loan fund.

The original cast of "Green Pastures" presented that play here recently.

Ohio B, at Columbus, has invited Ohio Δ and Ohio A to Columbus to celebrate Founders' Day with them. Five years ago this was done.

Play shop, the little-theater of the university, has had its small auditorium remodeled and modernized. They have all new stage equipment and effects. Needless to say, interest in dramatics, make-up, etc., has increased greatly.

The Y.W.C.A. of the campus has entertained a new plan whereby a complete reorganization of its activities has taken place. The smaller committees, such as those of social work and dramatics, have given way to fewer, yet more inclusive ones. There is no longer a sophomore council, but in its place there are large committees whose chairmen are entirely responsible for the activities of the group. Therefore the chosen committee heads, while few in number, are the leaders of Y.W.C.A., and have as important positions as the actual officers. The new idea that has been adopted is important because it is a decided change in the manner of functioning of the organization, and because it places upon each girl in a group a definite responsibility which she must bear in order to remain an active member. Jane Woodward has been selected one of the new committee heads and Freda Postle was elected secretary of the Y.W.C.A.

Ohio B has asked the active and alumnae chapters of Ohio A and Ohio Δ to share the activities of Founders' Day at a luncheon to be held in Columbus. It is the first time in many years that the three Ohio chapters have gotten together to celebrate this day.

Josephine Baker has been selected as the only woman member of the student court. She will serve during her entire period of school, which shall be for two years. This position is one of the most honored of the campus, and was formerly held by Olive Gooding, K K T.

In order to raise money for the Settlement School, a rummage sale was held. Both the actives and alumnae participated.

For the winter social function, a novel rain-bow dance was given by the actives and pledges. Each girl was required to make her own dress of pastel gingham. For decorations, the hall contained balloons and crepe paper of the same light shades; at one end of the letters II B Φ were made with many colored balloons, at the other was a large "pot of gold" upon which a spot light was focused. The dance was one of the most successful, and by far the most inexpensive social affair the chapter has enjoyed.

Elaine Hart is one of the three members of the women's debate team which has had a very successful season.

The pledges were successful in winning the loving cup awarded to the sorority selling the greatest number of copies of the Sun Dial, the humor magazine of the campus.

Ohio B was greatly honored with the presence of Mrs. Lutchter Stark, who visited the chapter March 14-17.

Pledge Day, November 5, 1933

INITIATED, March 27, 1934; Martha Baughn, Zenia; Melba Gaylor, Cliftondale, Mass.; Dora Louise Patton, Ashland; Gladys Plocher, Elyria; Martha Roche, Dayton; Barbara Van Woy, Toledo; Mary Virginia Weisall, Shaker Heights.

GRADUATES: Ruth Atkinson, 5120 Stewart Ave., Cincinnati; Helen Bieberson, Glenwood Heights, Wheeling, W.Va.; Virginia Burt, 111 Pleasant St., Mannington, W.Va.; Maxine Domigan, 127 E. Woodruff Ave., Columbus; Barbara Dove, 2112 N. Broadway St., Shelbyville, Ill.; Dorothy Fenton, Marietta Ave., Terrace Park; Jean Horton, 3215 Oak Rd., Cleveland Heights; Evelyn Watts, Marysville.

Ohio Δ was honored by a visit for several days of the Grand Secretary, Mrs. Nita Hill Stark, for whom a Panhellenic tea was given on March 17 among other entertainments. The girls especially appreciated Mrs. Stark's helpful suggestions and inspiring enthusiasm.

In the annual Ohio Wesleyan Fun Fest, held March 23 and 24, Ohio Δ was awarded a cup for the best performance. It was called "Dinner at Six," a musical parody on dinner at the dormitories. Original words were used in arrangement with popular music. Maxine Domigan was manager of the stunt. After the preliminary try-outs there remained eight women's fraternities and four men's fraternities which were chosen to put on the Fun Fest and compete for the cups. Σ X received the men's cup this year.

Following the monthly dinner held in the fraternity rooms March 26 the pledges entertained the actives with a clever prep show. In addition to the monthly dinners this semester each class cooked a meal together about once a month. The informality made them especially delightful in spite of a burn or two in the preparation. A very enjoyable Founders' Day was spent at a luncheon in Columbus with Ohio B and Ohio A, as the guests of Ohio B. On May 12, which was also Monnett Day at Ohio Wesleyan, Ohio Δ held its annual informal spring rush dance in Stuyvesant Hall ballroom. Each member invited one rushee. Since a number of parents and alumnae were here, in the afternoon an open house tea was held in the rooms.

The new dean of the college is Harold J. Sheridan, who is also professor of education. He replaced William Smyser, who resigned at the end of the first semester.

Nelda Darling and Maxine Domigan were initiated into K Δ II, the national honorary educational fraternity. Dorothy Fenton was chairman of the advertising committee for Monnett Day. Other girls on committees were Helen Enochs, Martha Rocky, Leah Gentle, Evelyn Watts, and Mary Todd. Dora Louise Patton and Marthe Baughn were initiated into Φ Society, freshman scholastic honorary.

The senior farewell banquet will be held the last of May.

RUSH CHAIRMAN: Leah Gentle, 15919 Chadburne Rd., Shaker Heights.

INITIATES: Dorothy Ashworth, Moundsville; Mary Jane Baker, Morgantown; Mildred Collier, Kermit; Virginia Crowell, Charleston; Joann Cunningham, Fairmont; Jean Handlan, Eleanor Hastings, Wheeling; Mary Rightmire, Fairmont; Mary Wilson Siple, Roberta White, Romney.

GRADUATES: Betty Carson, Oakwood Hts., Charleston; Regina Cochran, 220 Park St., Jean Fromme, Easton Rd.; Margaret Wilbourne, 425 Ash St., Morgantown; Elizabeth Huey, 110 Monroe St., Mannington; Dorothy Stevens, 909 Franklin Ave., Aliquippa, Pa.; Sally Lou Musgrave, 1102 Viand St., Point Pleasant; Marian McClure, 1592 Quarrier St., Charleston; Dorothy Belle Upton, 1543 Fairmont Ave., Clarksburg; Mary Wilson Siple, Romney; Marjory England, 2402 Kanawha St., Charleston; Jane Holt, 252 Main St., Weston; Mary Elizabeth Cottrell, 1626 Quarrier St., Charleston; Roberta White, Romney.

The West Virginia legislature resolutions committee recently recognized the achievements of three West Virginia University students. These were: Charles Sleeth, who was selected as Rhodes Scholar from this district; Charles Wise and DeWitt White, who left April 13 on a debating trip to the British Isles where they will represent the United States.

Two hundred students on the campus have been working part-time as a result of the C.W.A. project for the employment of students. The old library has been renovated and made into an administration building with funds secured through the C.W.A.

Dr. Charles Ambler, head of the history department, has secured an appropriation of $50,000.00 for the advancement of West Virginia history. His wife, Helen Carle Ambler, is a member of the Morgantown alumnae club.

Mrs. Lutchér Stark, Grand Secretary, made her official visit to the chapter on March 20-22. A tea was given in her honor.

Mary Jane Baker, initiate, received the second highest number of votes in the beauty contest sponsored by the Monticola, the university year book. Mary Jane was also chairman of the chapter booth at the annual Mardi Gras. Alma Fraser was chosen sponsor of Company A of R.O.T.C., and Elizabeth Russell, pledge, was chosen band sponsor. Genevieve Pixler, pledge, has the distinction of being the first licensed woman pilot in West Virginia. She made her solo flight when she was seventeen. Virginia Crowell and Dorothy Stevens were recently initiated into Orchisis, a national honorary dancing organization. Dorothy is also senior woman representative in student government.

The initiation banquet was held at the Hotel Morgan, March 3. Mary Jane Baker entertained the chapter with a dance in honor of the initiates at the home of her parents, Judge and Mrs. Charles G. Baker.

In an effort to promote closer association between the actives and alumnae, a buffet supper was given for the alumnae in March.

In connection with the Founders' Day celebration in April the chapter sponsored a homecoming week-end at which time the chapter held its spring formal dance in addition to the regular Founders' Day banquet. Alumnae throughout the state attended.

PLEGGED: Jane Baer, Morgantown; Elizabeth Henkel, Martinsburg; Henrietta Leith, Morgantown; Eleanor Mockler, Mannington; Genevieve Pixler, Huntington.

RUSH CHAIRMAN: Margaret Geisey, 86 Sixteenth St., Wheeling.

MARYLAND ALPHA—GOUCHER COLLEGE

Chartered, 1897

Pledge Day, December 18, 1933

INITIATED, March 3, 1934: Jean Flinn, New York City; Gertrude Gale, Ansonia, Conn.; Helen Grant, St. Paul, Minn.; Aileen McQuown, Punsutawney, Pa.

GRADUATES: Madeleine Bowler, 109 Ashland Ave., Buffalo, N.Y.; Elizabeth Carson, 343 East Main St., Moorestown, N.J.; Josephine Fleming, 907 Sheridan Rd., Lake Forest, Ill.; Helen Grant, 1153 Victoria Ave., St. Paul, Minn.; Aileen McQuown, 400 S. Penn St., Punsutawney, Pa.; Mary Louise Mercer, Wyomissing, Pa.; Torrence Speers, 112 Main St., Belle Vernon, Pa.

Since examinations, dances are popular. Recreation room dances appeal to many Saturday evenings. The sophomore class planned a prom for March 10. Kitty King had charge of the decorations and, as the first sophomore prom at Goucher, the dance was a success. Panhellenic dance was held March 2, at the Maryland Casualty Building.

Many Sunday evenings have been given over to firesides. The students always enjoy hearing the faculty read and speak informally. Religion was discussed in connection with art, literature, science, and philosophy, and, needless to say, Goucher profited by these pleasant hours.

On February 24, Goucher entertained Hood College and George Washington University for play day. Basketball, volleyball, and other games were in order. Helen Grant, president of A.A. board, was active in making the guests feel at home. An informal dinner was held in Pensal Hall after the afternoon sports were concluded. Sing-Song came early this year with much good natured rivalry between the four classes.

In February, the freshmen produced three one-act plays, written by past and present Goucher students. Jean Critchlow was in one of the plays, Madeleine Bowler had charge of the make-up, and Betty Carson of the scenery. Just before spring vacation "She Passed Through Lorraine" was presented.

Φ B K initiates for this year were announced in chapel in March, and the address to these new members was made by Professor Edward Potts Cheyney of the University of Pennsylvania. Within a few days, the girls who were particularly outstanding in college functions and activities were presented with huge keys and paper corsages, and elected to the "Also Ran" fraternity. Five of the twenty-one members came from Maryland A—Madeleine Bowler, Betty Carson, Josephine Fleming, Helen Grant, and Aileen McQuown.

Junior-senior banquet was held April 17, at Maryland Casualty Building, and Mr. Francis B. Sayre, Assistant Secretary of State, spoke at this time to the students and faculty. Virginia Thomas had charge of the decorations, and Betty Williams was chairman of the banquet. Almost on the heels of the banquet came junior prom, and the juniors were fortunate to have for music "The Townsmen," Baltimore's leading orchestra.

Founders' Day was observed with a banquet held in Baltimore. All the actives and pledges were present, and many of the alumnae club of Baltimore.

May Day was scheduled for April 28, but this year an attempt was made to combine May Day with the junior-freshman and sophomore-senior boat ride, and Goucher journeyed to Talchester Beach on the eastern shore of Maryland at an entirely new kind of May Day. Virginia Thomas was on the advisory committee that planned May Day.

Goucher Panhellenic started a movement to organize fraternity basketball teams late in the year. Maryland A, together with five other fraternities, answered the summons, and all are prepared to contest next year. Right at present swimming meets are being held.

The seniors are practicing for step-singing, the freshmen for Lantern-Chain, and the sophomores for Daisy Chain, while the juniors are assuming new dignity already. Senior prom is to be held June 1, and Madeleine Bowler is in charge. Tea dance and garden party promise to be interesting affairs also. June 4, Commencement will be held at the Lyric Theatre.

RUSH CHAIRMAN: Martha Carson, 343 E. Main St., Moorestown, N.J.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA ALPHA— GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1889

Pledge Day, March 1, 1934

INITIATED: April 10, 1934: Florence Asher, Harriet Brundage, Gertrude Castellow, Helen Fleming, Dorothy Fuller, Eleanor Gillin, Marie Jorolennon, Louise Menefee, Dorothy Patterson, Dorothy Pickett, Verna Volz, Mary Warner.

GRADUATES: Virginia Hawkins, Priscilla Holcomb, Jean Kirkwood, Virginia McDonnell, Catherine Prichard, and Monta Ruediger.

The universities in the nation's capital have entered into the spirit of the "new deal" of the present administration and are cooperating with the Federal Emergency Relief Administration in aiding worthy students to continue their education. This plan is being accomplished by allowing such students to work at the institutions and for this work the institutions receive sufficient reimbursement from the Federal Emergency Relief Administration to cover tuition charges. The George Washington University at the present time is aiding a number of students under this plan.

Also, in the spirit of the times, George Washington University is further experimental study in education this semester by opening its doors to a selected group of high school graduates who matriculate in the university under an independent study plan.

The one hundred thirteenth annual mid-winter convocation of the university was held February 22 at Constitution Hall. Dr. Harold G. Moulton, president of the Brookings Institution, delivered the commencement address.

The University Panhellenic was happy to act as hostess to N.P.A., which met in Washington during the Easter holidays. The various sororities on campus entertained for the visiting delegates. Local Panhellenic has been reorganized to include all of the sororities on campus and the new delegates are now active in the organization. Rushing plans have been decided upon for next year.

The Panhellenic and interfraternity proms, annual spring events, maintained their usual colorfulness in spite of financial stringencies. Cue and Curtain's final presentation of the year was "Journey's End." Another dramatic success was the Troubadour production, a musical comedy, "Take It Easy," written and produced by students. The second all-university carnival, encompassing all university organizations, was again held in the University Yard.

Columbia A sponsored a bridge and fashion show as a means of making money for the Settlement School Fund which was attended by many alumnae as well as actives. The chapter was entertained by the pledges at a goat show held at Fairmont School. The high point of the show was an act depicting Convention scenes in the fashions of the gay nineties.

The chapter announces the affiliation of Betsy Dern of Utah A.

Virginia Hawkins and Catherine Prichard were selected by a faculty committee appointed to name the five most outstanding women on campus. Helen Nutter received third place in a beauty contest sponsored by the Cherry Tree and judged by Buddy Rogers. The chapter was in the finals of intramural bowling, being defeated by Z T A. Verna Volz has been initiated into A A A, honor society for freshman women, and Ruth McNary is now a member of Delphi, honorary intersorority society.

VIRGINIA ALPHA—RANDOLPH-MACON COLLEGE

Chartered, 1913

Pledge Day, September 23, 1933

INITIATED, February 24, 1934: Mary Glenn Lupton, Winchester; Betsy Wadsworth, Westfield, N.J.; Jean Murray, Tulsa, Okla.; Janet Sanborn, Goldsboro, N.C.; Nancy Hart, Germantown, Pa.; Margaret Ray, DeQueen, Ark.; Dorothylyn Griffin, Waco, Tex.

GRADUATES: Virginia Martin, A.B., Indiana, Pa.; Bettie Brainerd, A.B., Washington, D.C.

Virginia A was very happy to welcome seven new members by initiation on February 24.  $\Pi \ B \ \Phi$  was the only fraternity on campus in which every pledge met all her requirements and was initiated. These girls made unusually high records as pledges and have also been quite prominent in activities on campus. The chapter voted in September to pay for the pearls in the pin of the girl who attended voluntary study hall for the greatest number of hours, but three had such close records that they decided to pay for half of the pearls in each one's pin. After the initiation ceremony the actives and new initiates celebrated with a cooky-shine at the house.

On March 14 the two even classes celebrated Even Day and turned the campus into fairyland. Each dining hall, the gates, and the towers were decorated to represent famous fairy tales and in the evening a banquet for the two classes was held, after which the sophomores serenaded their sister class. Mary Alice Shackleton was general chairman of Even Day and Marian McAmbley, Miriam Johnson, Nancy Cooper, and Jo Culp assisted on committees.

The twentieth annual observance of Founders' Day was held by the student body of Randolph-Macon on March 12. Dr. Harvey W. Cox, president of Emory University, delivered the principal address.

The spring formal was held March 17 at Oakwood Country Club and from March 29 to April 9 the school enjoyed its Easter vacation.

Of special interest to the students and also to people of Lynchburg was the exhibition of paintings of academic and impressionistic schools shown in the art exhibition room from March 10 to 29.

At the present time, work on the annual dance recital and the Greek play in the original is demanding most of the attention and time of students.

Several alumnae and the faculty sponsor, Miss Catherine Murphy, entertained the chapter with a number of delightful parties.

Mary Porter Echols has appeared on numerous student recitals and has also rendered piano selections in chapel several times.

Mary Alice Shackleton was recently elected to Humbog, secret society for girls excelling in athletics, and also H, secret society of outstanding Evens.

The publication of the Dean's List for the first semester, brought recognition to members of the student body who excelled in academic studies. Dorothy Combs and Janet Sanborn were among those on the list.

Betsy Wadsworth was honored by being one of three freshmen chosen for May Court. She was also nominated to appear in the feature section of the Heliantus, school annual.

VIRGINIA GAMMA—WILLIAM AND MARY COLLEGE

Chartered, 1925

Pledge Day, February 15, 1934

INITIATED, February 24, 1934: Frances Anderson, Hingham, Mass.; Carol Gouldman, Fredericksburg; Margaret Johnson, Craiton, Pa.; Roberta Seaman, Seaside Park, N.J.

The two hundred and forty-first anniversary of the founding of the College of William and Mary was celebrated on February 8. Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, the president, delivered a message over the radio. Meetings of alumni clubs all over the country were held, and talks were given which recalled the wonderful record of the college since its founding in 1693.

Under the Federal Emergency Relief Administration fifty-nine men and thirty-two women of the college received aid. The men are to work on building and land improvement, while the women will hold positions of a clerical nature.

Among the outstanding presentations of the dramatic and glee clubs were "The Swan," with Roberta Seaman playing one of the stellar roles; "Midsummer Night's Dream," featuring Kathryn Williams as Puck, and Ann Petty and Marjorie Hasseltine on the directorial staff; "Hansel and Gretel"; and the Easter program with Kathryn Williams as soprano soloist.

The Civics Works Administration recently appropriated $580,000 to the college for the construction of new buildings. Plans are under way for the erection of a student activity building, an administration building, and a new women's gymnasium. The administration has not announced as yet what it intends doing with the remainder of the money, but it is thought this sum will be put toward the improvement of the campus landscape.

On March 12, the local Panhellenic held its annual banquet at the Williamsburg Inn. In addition to the regular members, the representative of each women's fraternity having the highest scholarship average was guest. The cup for high scholarship in 1932-33 was presented to  $\Phi M$ , and the 1933 basketball cup was given to the winning team of  $X \Omega$ .

Florence Fisher brought Virginia  $\Gamma$  in to a close second in the annual paper chase of the Boot and Spur. Kathryn Williams has been initiated into  $\Theta A \Phi$ , honorary dramatic fraternity. Jane Steele, Florence Fisher, and Frances Lamar have been installed as officers in the W.C.S.G.A., while Jane Steele, Mildred Heinemann, Kathleen West, Roberta Seaman, Frances Lamar, Jeannette Philbrick, and Frances Anderson were made members of the French club.

On March 21 the Richmond alumnae club entertained Virginia  $\Gamma$  at a dinner in Richmond. Bridge was played for diversion, and each guest received a small prize. The entire chapter felt it had been brought closer to the alumnae, and it is with pleasure that it looks forward to another such gathering.

Founders' Day marked a special event in the chapter this year. Five years ago, all the members signed a pledge to return to the college in five years. A real reunion took place. From all points in the East they came. The house was turned over to the visitors, and it was well filled. A banquet was held at the Inn, and many speeches were given by all past chapter presidents, as well as by the present one. A true friendship sprang up between the new and old members, and fellowship was everywhere to be seen. The idea of the pledge appealed to the actives, and the members have declared their intention of forming a similar pact.

PLEGDED: Frances Anderson, Hingham, Mass.; Florence Fisher, Washington, D.C.; Kathryn Williams, Chambersburg, Pa.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Elizabeth Jones, 1000 Hanover Ave., Norfolk.

Pledge Day, October 17, 1933

INITIATED, January 31, 1934: Nannie Crowder, Henderson; Barbara Holebrook, Van Wert, Ohio; Flora Johnson, Elizabeth City; Elsie Lawrence, Chapel Hill; Ellen Alice Murchison, Rocky Mount; Mary Shore, Iowa; Julia Wood Skinner, Elizabeth City; Jane Hess Weaver, Archdale.

GRADUATES: Grace Bowes, Rockingham; Rena Henry, Chapel Hill; Katherine Jamieson, Oxford; Elizabeth Johnson, Eustace, Fla.; Janie Jolly, Raleigh; Sara Vann, Franklin; Mary Ellen Watts, Charlotte; Helene Willingham, Rocky Mount; Charlotte Winbourne, Marion.

Initiation, held at night contrary to the usual custom of having it in the afternoon, was followed by a late banquet, at which time everyone joined heartily in the singing of Fraternity songs. Stunts were given by the new initiates, all of which proved to be highly entertaining.

The alumnae club gave a supper at the house so that the alumnae and the actives might become better acquainted. Each group sang songs that were new to each other.

To raise money for the chapter's contribution to the Settlement School, a basketball game was held between  $\Pi B \Phi$  and  $X \Omega$ , the only other women's fraternity on the "Hill." Besides the fact that money was made, the chapter won a decided victory, which meant an additional satisfaction. The game between the two fraternities has now become a precedent which is greatly looked forward to each year. Also, a tea was given by the chapter for  $X \Omega$  and the stray Greeks on the campus.

NORTH CAROLINA BETA—DUKE UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1933

Pledge Day, October 1, 1933

INITIATED, March 7, 1934: Ruth Michler, Frances Smith, Easton, Pa.; Laura Johnson, Washington, D.C.; Ruth Rea, London, Ohio; Rhea Dana, Pinehurst; Anna Boyd, Helen Larzelere, Jacksonville, Fla.; Ruth Lightbown, Palm Beach, Fla.

The campus suffered a great loss in the death of Dr. Moxley Arnold, dean of the freshman boys. His untimely demise brought to an end a successful and promising career.

A new system of elections was incorporated into the constitution of W.S.G.A. last year and was tried for the first time this spring. Any girl on the campus could put herself up for any student government office by merely handing in her name and qualifications. All candidates for office were given a written exam to test their knowledge and ability. After this, a board consisting of seven faculty members gave an oral exam to each candidate and picked three nominees from the number running for each office.

The grievances and complaints of the men's student body came to a head in a large mass meeting February 7. A board composed of student and faculty members met to consider all the questions in regard to the dormitory regulations, university dining halls, university stores, Panhellenic regulations, publications, and the constitution of the men's association. Their findings were published March 8 and the student body is awaiting the outcome of the affair. Some improvements have already been made.

March 7, the chapter held a formal banquet at the Washington Duke Hotel for the new initiates. At this time recognition pins were given to the two initiates who had tied for first place in scholarship, Helen Larzelere and Anna Boyd.

Every other Friday afternoon the chapter holds an informal tea in the room for friends and members. In April, the chapter had a bridge party for the benefit of the Settlement School.

Trurlu Strickland was elected treasurer of the town girls' club, and Priscilla Smith and Virginia Imlay received bids to the forum club, honorary classical club.

In the statistics of the scholastic averages of all the sororities on the campus, North Carolina B ranks second.

PLEGGED: Marian Moore, Miami, Fla.

RUSH CHAIRMAN: Virginia Imlay, 3935 Livingston St., Chevy Chase, D.C.

Cherry Dell Kelly, Adelaide Philson, Katherine Elizabeth Townsend, Columbia.

GRADUATES: Katherine Anderson, Florence; Gertrude Burrows, Oswego; Margaret Watson, James St., Greenville; Margaret Yeadon, Sumter; Leah Zeigler, Florence.

A K  $\Gamma$ , national leadership sorority, has started a move toward an organized women's student body on the campus. There are to be officers for the four classes also. The May Queen election is to be handled by this body. No officers have been elected yet but the constitution has been drawn up and approved. Margaret Yeadon was recently elected vice-president of A K  $\Gamma$ .

W.A.A. recently sponsored basketball games among the sorority and non-sorority girls. On the first evening of the contest the chapter completely overwhelmed X  $\Omega$ . However, the following week when the team was supposed to meet the Yellow-jackets, a non-sorority team, most of the girls were ill with flu and the game had to be forfeited.

Eleanor McColl was elected president of the Euphrosynean literary society and Kathryn Hendley was elected censor. Elizabeth Anderson, pledge, was appointed to serve as usher.

Katherine Bush has been selected to appear in the beauty section of The Garnet And Black, Carolina's annual. She was also recently elected vice-president of H  $\Sigma$   $\Phi$ , honorary Latin fraternity.

The following actives and pledges were on the dean's honor list at the end of last semester: Katherine Anderson, Gertrude Burrows, Katherine Bush, Musidora DuBose, Katherine Anderson and Katherine Bush made all A's.

Maxine Scarborough, pledge, was recently made captain of the freshman class basketball team.

The chapter has recently instituted a plan among the sororities to exchange two girls for dinner one night each week.

MICHIGAN ALPHA—HILLSDALE COLLEGE

Chartered, 1887

Pledge Day, February 16, 1934

INITIATED, February 24, 1934: Lois McCarty, Covert; Beth Ranney, Dearborn; Catherine Seaton, Henrietta Bull, Battle Creek; Helen Gordon, Jackson; Dorothy Seger, Detroit; Bess Hagaman, Hillsdale; Carol Stroud, Alice Andrus, Cleveland, Ohio; Margretta Dehring, Alpena.

GRADUATES: Julie Barron, Hillsdale; Grace Flood, 8136 Morgan St., Chicago; Ruth Forsyth, 3282 Delaware Rd., Cleveland Hts., Ohio; Esther Groff, 4875 Courville Rd., Detroit; Virginia Le Roux, 421 Melrose, Apt. 10C, Chicago; Bernice Loutzenheiser, 409 16 St., Gothenberg, Neb.

To celebrate the hundredth anniversary of the founding of Hillsdale and the ninetieth anniversary of the college, a pageant, to be held in conjunction with commencement, will be sponsored at Mt. Zion, Mrs. Vivian Lyon Moore, Michigan A, is writing the pageant.

An all-state luncheon was held at East Hall for Founders' Day. Mrs. Stowell Stebbins, Assistant to the Grand President, was the guest speaker. Following the luncheon, which was attended by several hundred, Mrs. Marion Hall, who has lived many years in Japan, demonstrated the Japanese Tea Ceremony which has grown to be a cultured art among the people of that nation.

Barre Hill, a graduate of Hillsdale, returned to present a program of operatic airs. His accompanist, Dudley Vernor, is the author of the famous "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi," and a graduate of Albion College. Hillsdale was also fortunate to have Mr. William Pickens, an active member of the N.A.A.C.P., who spoke on the subject of race relations. Mr. Pickens is prominent in the Negro world.

Among the ten members of the freshman commission chosen by the faculty were: Bess Hagaman, Lois McCarty, Catherine Seaton, Dorothy Seger, Helen Gordon, Henrietta Bull, and Beth Ranney. Junior-senior advisers to freshman women were also chosen. Among the six were Ruth Forsyth and Margaret Thiele. These advisers are to help the freshmen accommodate themselves to college life.

The debating season has closed for the year; Dorothy Deuel has taken part in the majority of the debates. Hillsdale was chosen as the scene of the state oratorical contest for more than twenty candidates. Sponsored by the Y.W.C.A., in order to give more students a chance to express their opinions, each Sunday at tea time, groups of interested women meet at various places to discuss informally, such topics as race relations, life, and the like. Arlene Thomas and Margaret Thiele each have charge of a group.

The production class of the dramatic department has sponsored several freshman presentations; Virginia Le Roux has directed two one-act plays. Judy Nystrom, and Virginia were included in the cast of "Hay Fever," a recent dramatic production of  $\Theta \Lambda \Phi$ , honorary dramatic fraternity. Bernice Loutzenheiser was chosen to fill the lead in this play.

Eight from Michigan A are active in the publication of the college weekly, the Collegian; three are working on the Winona, college year-book.

Thirty-two new members have been added to the list of active sorority women on campus. New regulations have been made by the dean and federation for later permissions for women.

Delegates were sent to the League of Nations assembly sponsored by the international relations clubs and the Carnegie endowment fund, at Ann Arbor. Among the delegates were Ruth Forsyth, president of the organization, and several other members of Michigan A.

Each year two all-star basketball teams are chosen by the gym instructor from the various sorority and hall teams, and a game is played between the two. Margaret Thiele is captain of one of these teams and Arlene Thomas and Agnes Gettman are members; Charlotte Russell, Betty Bryant, and Lucille Stephenson are listed as substitutes.

Michigan A has a new scholarship cup by having the highest average. Julie Barron had the highest average on the chapter and was presented with the scholarship ring. Lois McCarty stood highest in the freshman class, and was awarded the chapter bracelet given each year to the one excelling in pledge cooperation and scholarship. Among the highest ten per cent of freshmen in scholastic averages, were also Alice Andrus, Beth Ranney, Dorothy Seger, and Agnes Gettman. Of the sophomore class, those named were Dorothy Deuel and Judy Nystrom, who, with Ruth McCarty were initiated into  $E \Delta A$ , honorary scholastic fraternity.

PLEGGED: Betty Bryant, Battle Creek.

The annual sophomore cabaret, held late in December, brought in the greatest returns of any sophomore project so far. The money goes to the undergraduate fund of the women's league. The cabaret was based on the "good old days" when bustles, and plume hats were in vogue. Margaret Hiscock was general chairman of the cabaret, and every sophomore in the house participated in the event.

The suggestion of later hours for women was again raised and discussed by Dean Alice Lloyd and a committee of representatives which resulted in a change for senior hours.

The Student Parley was held the last week in February. Its purpose has always been to bring the students and faculty members closer together through a discussion of the main problems and issues arising among them. Margaret Hiscock was elected student chairman of the parley.

The university girls' glee club, under the skillful direction of Margaret Martindale, Director, and Maxine Maynard, President, gave a formal concert in January. The glee club entertained at the meeting of the "All Nations' Review," on April 3. On the same evening, they also presented a program, planned by Margaret Martindale, for the meeting of the state D.A.R. Governor Comstock and President Rutheven were present.

Mortar Board sponsored an all-campus fashion shown in March. Marian Giddings, president, acted as general chairman. All of the clothing stores in Ann Arbor exhibited their styles, while certain students were chosen to act as models.

The senior supper was held, March 21, in the ballroom of the women's league, under the supervision of Marian Giddings, chairman. All of the senior women attended wearing their caps and gowns. After the supper, the seniors were entertained by the juniors with the presentation of the junior girls' play, "Gangs All There." Ann Osborn, acted as assistant general chairman of the production; Maxine Maynard was chairman of the music committee. Mary Ann Mathewson, feminine lead of last year's play, wrote the words and music to several song hits of "Gangs All There." Camilla Bowman had a speaking part, while Ruth Bosse, Ann Osborn, and Maxine Maynard were in the choruses.

AFFILIATED: Harriet Greenwood, Youngstown, Ohio.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Margaret Hiscock, 827 Huron St., Ann Arbor.

INDIANA ALPHA—FRANKLIN COLLEGE

Chartered, 1888

Pledge Day, September 16, 1933

INITIATED, March 3, 1934: Margaret Jean Cumming, La Verne Williamson, Columbus; Mildred Wertz, Edinburg.

GRADUATES: Mary Ritz, 415 Mill St., Seymour; Kathryn Mossop, Franklin.

Franklin College was the host to an institute on current trends February 1 and 2 which was sponsored in conjunction with the Johnson County Teachers' Association. Through this institution, four men, outstanding in their field, were brought to the Franklin campus: Dean Charles H. Judd of the University of Chicago, Dr. A. R. Hutton, head of political science department at Northwestern University, Dr. W. F. Ogburn, professor of sociology at the University of Chicago, and Edgar Jones, pastor of the Central Woodward Avenue Christian Church of Detroit, Michigan. Each addressed the student body and the Johnson County Teachers on social trends in his respective field.

Professor R. E. Blackwell, director of public relations and head of the journalistic department, has resigned to accept the position of assistant to the president of the University of Louisville. As yet, his successor has not been chosen.

Indiana A celebrated the forty-sixth anniversary of the founding of the chapter January 9. Miss Jeannette Zeppenfeld, one of the founders of the local chapter, gave a very interesting talk on the history of Franklin College and the founding of the local chapter. Only twelve women had been graduated from Franklin College up to the time of the organization of Indiana A. This reminiscing on the part of Miss Zeppenfeld was enjoyed very much by both alumnae and actives. The first initiate and the first pledge were also present.

The pledges entertained the actives with a Sweetheart dance February 9, at Indianapolis. The state luncheon and dance was held April 28, at the Athletic Club in Indianapolis, and nearly all the girls from the state chapters and a great number of alumnae were present.

Miss Onken's visit to Indiana A was enjoyed by the girls, and each one learned to love her. It will not be forgotten by two of the girls, Margaret Jean Cumming and Mildred Wertz, for they had the honor of being repledged by her, and since have been initiated.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Sarah Briscoe, Edinburg.

INDIANA BETA—INDIANA UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1893

Pledge Day, February 5, 1934

INITIATED, February 24, 1934: Marjorie Bell, Rose Bland, Isabel Connolly, Lois Kindermann, Jeanne Pettinger, Ruth Rinn, Marjorie Rice, Mary Welsh, Martha Woolery, Alice Zwilling.

Indiana B was honored with a visit from Miss Onken in February. During that time she was honor guest at a tea given at the house, having chaperons and house presidents of the sororities, the deans, faculty members, and wives of the faculty as guests. The alumnae entertained her at a luncheon. Miss Onken gave a talk on activities, scholarship, and the ideals of  $\Pi B \Phi$  which left the members greatly inspired and with a desire to live up to the things that  $\Pi B \Phi$  stands for.

A benefit bridge party was given by the alumnae, March 15, for the Settlement School. The house was beautifully decorated and as special entertainment the chapter trio sang several numbers. The trio, composed of Jeanne Pettinger, Hope Hildebrand, and Marjorie Bell, is becoming well known on campus and will appear on the program at the cabaret dance, to be given in May by the university.

The actives entertained at a formal dinner dance February 3.

Marjorie Rice was pledged to  $\Lambda \Delta \Delta$ , the freshman women's scholastic fraternity.

Marjorie Giffin was elected president of the history and political science club. This club is sponsored by students interested in all phases of this division, and lectures are given throughout the year by prominent men in these fields.

Rehearsals are now being carried on for "Good News" which is to be given the first of May. As it is a musical comedy written around  $\Pi B \Phi$ , it is interesting to know that Alice Zwilling has a part in the major cast and several other members have survived tryouts for the choruses.

Vivian Brookins was one of the six girls elected to be a sponsor of R.O.T.C.

Work has been carried on for the last several months to increase the beauty of the Indiana campus. All of the buildings have been cleaned, a new wing has been added to the Union Building, and paths have been built throughout the campus. The university has cooperated with the C.W.A. by giving work to about two hundred students.

PLEGDED: Vivian Brookins.

RUSH CHAIRMAN: Elizabeth Burnett, Walnut St., Bloomington.

INDIANA GAMMA—BUTLER UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1897

Pledge Day, February 8, 1934

INITIATED, February 12, 1934: Jane Crowell, Janice Kellogg, Marydell Rous, Jeanne Spiegel, Indianapolis; Frances Beale, Rushville; Virginia Harvey, Camby.

GRADUATES: Betty Barone, 5747 Carrollton Ave., Helen Carson, 3912 Washington Blvd., Mabel Espey, 647 East 48th St., Helen Gearen, 4160 Guilford Ave., Elizabeth Hadley, 3117 Guilford Ave., Indianapolis; Janet Jerman, 226 East Central Ave., Greensburg; Evelyn Kellogg, 5246 Washington Blvd., Luana Lee, 4829 Central Ave., Betty McCracken, 3057 College Ave., Martha Shirk, 3828 Guilford Ave., Anna Marie Dungan, 470 East 71st St., Indianapolis.

The members of Indiana  $\Gamma$  were unusually fortunate when the Grand President, Miss Amy Burnham Onken, visited the chapter and presided at its initiation followed by the usual cooky-shine.

Janet Jerman was elected to reign as queen of the Butler Relays on March 24, and received a silver identification bracelet in recognition of the honor; the chapter received an electric clock trophy surmounted by a silver figure and engraved with her name. Previous to the events, the queen and her court served tea and led a parade through the city to open the contests.

Jeanne Helt and Frances Strong were on the honor roll for the second semester. Luana Lee and Madeline Sander were pledged to  $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$ , women's national journalistic fraternity, and Helen Root and Virginia Reynolds were chosen for membership in Bluegills, swimming honorary. Martha Reynolds and Mary Ellen Rand were pledged to Thespis, a dramatic club; Helen Root, Virginia Reynolds, and Jane Moore were initiated into the same organization. Martha Shirk and Helen Gearen were selected for  $\Phi E \Pi$ , home economics honorary, and Marydell Rous was initiated into Spurs, sophomore national honorary. June Willcuts was named chairman of the Girl Reserve Committee of Y.W.C.A. Mary Ellen Kapp and Margaret Kapp are active in  $M \Phi E$ , national musical fraternity.

Butler University has been very helpful this year in aiding students to continue their education by placing them on CWA jobs.

A new course has been started again under the instruction of a sophomore offering information in the methods used by the government to determine whether or not canned foods are marketable from the standpoint of purity. This course has helped students obtain employment as government agents in cities where canning factories are located.

Panhellenic has decided upon a group of new rushing rules.

Butler was the fortunate receiver of a gift of 800 volumes of English literature and history which were given by the widow of Mr. B. F. Kinnick.

The alumnae club gave its annual activity in the form of a play, "Her Step-Husband," at the Civic Theater on March 10. The play was completely directed and presented by the alumnae, and one of the actives, Ruth Repschlagler, took part. These productions have come to play an important part in the dramatic society of Indianapolis.

In one of the weekly chapels Governor Paul V. McNutt spoke concerning the duty of a state to provide the necessities for its destitute and to maintain an adequate education system.

PLEGDED: Marian Gearen, Janice Kellogg, Marydell Rous, Martha Reynolds, Marjorie Booth, Indianapolis; Mary Ellen Kapp, Margaret Kapp, Walton.

RUSH CAPTAINS: In-town, Pauline McCarty, 3145 North Illinois, Indianapolis; Out-of-town, Mary Holmes, 3326 Riverview Dr., Indianapolis.

INDIANA DELTA—PURDUE UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1921

Pledge Day, September 10, 1933

The chapter was honored by an official visit from the Grand President, Miss Onken, in February. The value which was gained from Miss Onken's visit will always be remembered. Miss Onken's charming personality and splendid ideas will be a great inspiration for the chapter in the future.

The actives entertained the actives of K K Γ one evening at dinner. The K K Γ pledges were hostesses to the II B Φ pledges the same evening. The chapter intends to continue these exchange dinners with other social groups on the campus.

The formal supper dance was held at the Fowler Hotel, March 16. Dorothy Dampier, social chairman, was in charge of the decorations and the supper.

The Mothers' Club prepared a covered dish dinner for the chapter the evening before spring vacation started. Later in the evening a party was given by the chapter for all those who claimed March as the month of their birthday.

Each class has been invited separately by the alumnae club at different times to dinner at their homes.

Miss Osborn, a noted stylist, spent a week on the campus lecturing to the girls and having personal conferences with them. Miss Osborn had luncheon with the chapter and answered many personal questions for the members.

On March 16 the Home Economics Building opened its doors to visitors. Many members had charge of the numerous exhibitions.

Gold Peppers, an athletic booster organization, has initiated Dorothy Dampier and Frances Powell. Scribes, a literary organization, has pledged Frances Powell. Hope Van Sciever is one of the candidates for May Queen. Three sophomores have been elected to serve on the W.A.A. council for this year. Jane Lommel is in charge of swimming and golf, Louise Caldwell, hiking, and Mary Ann Philips is in charge of the rifle squad. W.S.G.A. officers were elected and Mary Ann Philips, a sophomore, is the new treasurer.

There were no failures or conditions in the chapter for this semester. The chapter placed third among the other social organizations on the campus in scholarship, with an average of 4.39.

Lucia Prentice and Mary McQueen were selected to participate on the freshman rifle squad.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Jane Lommel, 730 Chelsea Rd., West Lafayette, Ind.

MISSOURI ALPHA—MISSOURI UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1899

Pledge Day, October 2, 1933

INITIATED, February 26, 1934: Jewel Cartland, Frances Louise Ferguson, Catherine Hensley, Madeline Murray, Marjorie Reed, Kansas City; Jennette Dike, Donna Louise Williams, Joplin; Barbara Ann Albright, Leavenworth, Kan.; Rosene Cox, Sherman, Texas; Lucy Lee Randol, Columbia.

GRADUATES: Jewel Brandenberger, 1202 Moreau Dr., Jefferson City; Genevieve Evans, 4508 Glen Iris, Shreveport, La.; Carolyn Hyde, Trenton; Dorothy Sylvester, 429 W. 57th St., Kansas City; Edwina Wilser, 1008 W. 63rd St., Kansas City; Rosalie Cousins, 3716 Locust, Kansas City; Rosamond Garrett, 210 Peach, El Dorado, Ark.; Rebecca Rood, 314 W. 6th St., Fulton; Mary Jeanette Symon, 14 Sunset Hill, Columbia.

Mrs. Charles Daniel, Jr., Epsilon Province President, made her annual visit February 5 and gave the chapter helpful advice on scholarship and activity problems.

Lawrence Tibbett, baritone, under the auspices of the Fine Arts School, gave an excellent performance May 4 at Brewer Field House. The university lost one of its most widely known and liked men by the death of Dean James L. Parks, dean of the Law School, March 6.

The actives entertained March 23 with a formal dance at the house, which was decorated with large cardboard flowers and bees, modernistic and brightly painted, set off by pink and violet spotlights. The chapter and alumnae held the annual Founders' Day banquet at the Tiger Hotel, April 28, and short speeches were given by members of the alumnae club and representatives of each class.

Out of the fifteen women's fraternities on the campus, Missouri A held eighth place in scholarship with an average of 236.05 for first semester.

Mary Beverly Neill and Marian Lieberman are members of A Z II, honorary Spanish fraternity, and Mary Louise Theis is a member of Δ Φ Δ, honorary art fraternity. Frances Louise Ferguson received the chapter's ring for the pledge having the highest grades at the end of first semester. Jennette Dike is candidate for Military Queen and Mary Eichenberger was an attendant to the queen of the St. Pat's annual dance given by the Engineers.

RUSH CHAIRMAN: Jane Ray Johnson, 1012 N. Main, Carrollton.

Pledge Day, September 28, 1933

INITIATED, February 20, 1934: Gwenneth Blackmon, Norma Belle Dee, Elizabeth Howell, Nelle Vass Martin, Jean Matheson, Frances Peil, Jo Kathryn Rhein, Mary Louise Straub, Joan Stealey, Mary Williams, Mary Wilson, Edith Wilson, Mary Weiss.

GRADUATES: Jane King, 7331 Dorset; Jean Matheson, 3939 Juanita; Jane Rabe, 611 E. Polo Drive; Lucille Waite, 520 Kingsland; Margaret Watson, 7136 Forsythe; Anne Florence Weir, 121 Linden Place; Gwen Darragh, 1118 Hampton Drive; Mary Weiss.

This year at the annual junior prom on March 2 Frances Peil was chosen as the Hatchet Queen. The prom is the biggest social event of the year and an exceptional number of people were there.

On March 9 and 10 Mortar Board sponsored the presentation of co-ed vodvil. Each sorority gave a short original stunt. There was no prize for the best stunt as the performance was given for the benefit of Mortar Board and for promoting friendship among the sororities.

The Engineer's Masque, March 16, selected Norma Belle Dee as one of the four maids to the queen.

Edith Wilson, freshman, was chosen as a member of the honorary basketball team which is made up of girls from all four classes.

Annie Meroe Burnett is chairman of a rushing committee appointed by Panhellenic. In the recent elections for W.S.G.A. she was chosen vice-president.

A Z II, honorary romance language fraternity, pledged: Inez Wilson, Gene Penney, Lucy Rogers, Jocelyn Taylor, and Jane Petersen. Emily Pope, an old member, was elected treasurer of the society.

This year the R.O.T.C. developed a novel idea. A military ball was held and an honorary colonel chosen from among the candidates put up by each sorority.

For the May Fete these girls were appointed committee chairmen: Lucille Waite, costumes; Annie Meroe Burnett, dancing; and Jocelyn Taylor, scenery and settings.

A new building being erected on the campus will be devoted to the study of physics. It is named Crowe Hall.

Thrysus, the dramatic society, presented "Lightnin'" on April 11 and 12. Jocelyn Taylor and Joan Stealey had the leading rôles, and Inez Wilson was property chairman.

Lucille Waite was chosen as a delegate to W.S.G.A. Convention which was held at Ames, Iowa, in April.

MISSOURI GAMMA—DRURY COLLEGE

Chartered, 1914

Pledge Day, October 17, 1933

INITIATED, March 19, 1934: Helen Louise Dyer, Springfield; Elizabeth Wellshear, Port Smith, Ark.

GRADUATES: Mary Lucy Arnold, 801 North Grant; Catherine Cowell, 445 South Main; Winifred Dark, 420 1/2 South Jefferson; Laura Marie Dishman, 1340 Washington; Mary Margaret Ragsdale, 516 West Central; Virginia Turner, 1055 East Elm; Jane Ullmann, 927 East Walnut, Springfield.

Missouri Gamma enjoyed a delightful visit from Epiphany Province President, Mrs. C. C. Daniel, Jr., in February. The chapter entertained with a spread given at the cabin of one of the members.

Marietta Root, Virginia Turner, and Pauline Morey have been elected into Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English fraternity.

The Drury Players presented their second production this year, "Cock Robin," by Elmer Rice and Philip Barry, on March 23. Pollyanna Plummer had the leading part.

Missouri Gamma entertained with its annual Spring formal in March at the Kentwood Arms Hotel.

Miss Winifred Wygal, the national executive of the Y.W.C.A., visited the college during March. She spoke at the chapel service and then had conferences with the Y.W.C.A. cabinet. Mary Margaret Ragsdale has been president of the Y.W.C.A. this year. Another noted speaker to come to the campus was Dr. C. Douglas Booth, of London, England, who spoke on "Economic Nationalism" and then presided at an open forum.

At the Y.W.C.A. election, Pollyanna Plummer was elected president, and Georgia Mae Shackelford, secretary for the coming year.

The women's administrative council is planning to bring a vocational expert to the campus in the near future to confer with the women of the college.

W.A.A., with a local dancing teacher, was successful in bringing Ted Shawn and his dancers to Springfield.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Jane Doggrell, 1001 Pickwick, Springfield.

KENTUCKY ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE

Chartered, 1925

Pledge Day, February 10, 1934

INITIATED, March 3, 1934: Jane Borries, Nancy Howard, Lucy Lee Minor, Jane Nelson, Mary Frances Pirkey, Betty Scott, Frances Wilson.

GRADUATES: Elizabeth Frost, 2112 Douglass Boulevard; Jane Hartman, 1326 Eastern Parkway; Sherley Jenkins, 2501 Carolina Avenue.

Color, glamour, and tradition marked the joint celebration of the ninety-seventh anniversary of the founding of the University of Louisville and the twentieth anniversary of the University of Louisville Players during the week of April 2. The peak of success was the world premiere of Fred Karem's "Garden of Memories" which was presented by the University Players in honor of the occasion.

The author, Mr. Karem, is a former member of the Players and winner of the Lion's Club dramatic prize in 1929. The sets for the production were designed by Rollo Wayne, noted New York scenic artist and U. of L. graduate, whose novel feature of the setting was a device for a fade-away stage. Both Mr. Karem and Mr. Wayne were present at the premiere. Kentucky A was represented by Sherley Jenkins, chapter president, who took the second lead in the production.

The University is somewhat handicapped by having its various colleges located in different parts of the city. In order to unify the different schools and make them conscious of one big university, an Intramural Night of basketball was held, in which each college was represented. The idea proved very successful and is expected to be used again next year. The money from the gate receipts was contributed to a scholarship fund which is being raised in honor of Joe Steiger, a former student who was killed in an automobile accident this year.

Kentucky A was successful in maintaining the highest scholarship average on the campus for the fall semester, and it is its hope to win a trophy, offered by Dr. A. R. Middleton and Mrs. Middleton at the end of the spring semester for the highest sorority average above the general average of the campus.

Sarah Haley, pledge supervisor and senior, was elected to represent the local organization at the Urban Panhellenic Congress held in April at George Washington University.

PLEDGES: Betsy Archer, Bonnie Bessire, Ella Garth Choate, Juanita Ford, Catherine Lovejoy, Peggy Marvin, Mary Louise Weaver, Florence Weisger.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Adeline Lewman, 45 Hill Rd., Louisville.

TENNESSEE ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF CHATTANOOGA

Pledge Day, October 7, 1933

INITIATED, March 3, 1934: Virginia Leeds, Mary Lusk, Betty Magill, Lillian Magill, Mary Marshall, Martha Miller, Edna Ritchey, Gaby Taylor, Constance Wilson, Chattanooga; Frances Cleveland, Jacksonville, Fla.; Elinor Pack, Sevierville; Cornelia Samuel, Salem, N.J.; Eleanor Wyatt, Cedartown, Ga.

GRADUATES: Ruth Shipp, 2134 Ringgold Rd.;

Marguerite Bacon, 301 Wyatt St.; Agnes Gabbard, 919 Mississippi Ave.; Laura Selcer, Dry Valley Rd., Chattanooga.

A Tennessee Valley Institute took place the latter part of April, replacing the old Institute of Justice, an important annual event for several years. Among those who spoke are Secretary Frances Perkins, John Erskine, Dean Roscoe Pound, David Lilienthal, Dean William Mikell, Professor Ray B. Westerfield, Professor Howard Odum, Bishop Francis McConnell, and E. S. Draper, Nord W. Davis, and Tracy B. Angur, of the land and housing department of the T. V. A.

One of the major enterprises of the year was the student loan drive, which reached its goal in March. The volunteer efforts of the student body finished the campaign in fine style, as the goal of $25,000 was reached.

Henry S. Harriman, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, spoke to University of Chattanooga students in chapel.

A recent survey conducted by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools showed that the University of Chattanooga grades harder than 57% of the sixty-five four-year colleges in the group.

Mrs. Nita Hill Stark visited the chapter over the week-end of March 10, and members of the faculty and Panhellenic were invited to tea to meet her. At Mrs. Stark's suggestion it was decided to add to the penalties decided upon for actives who fail to make grades of graduation quality for the semester.

Marguerite Bacon played the title rôle of "Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh," the second major production of the Players. Mary Alice Witt and Mary Glenn Walker had important parts in the supporting cast. The second semester workshop plays were presented by the dramatic classes in March, Virginia Harrell, Mary Glenn Walker, and Cornelia Samuel, advanced students, directed three of the plays, and several actives and pledges had parts.

Caroline Carter and Evelyn Campbell were recently pledged to  $\Gamma \Sigma E$ , national honorary chemistry fraternity.

Eleanor Wyatt won the Eva Elliot Award for sportsmanship out of a group of almost a hundred girls at the Independent Tourney held in March at Rome, Ga.

Tennessee A hopes to join with the  $\Pi B \Phi s$  in Atlanta, as usual, to celebrate Founders' Day.

A stagette held March 9 brought good returns for the Endowment Fund.

Of the seven new members recently elected to W.A.A. are Elinor Pack, Constance Wilson, Edna Ritchey, Adelaide Biggers, Mary Lusk, and Martha Miller.

RUSH CHAIRMAN: Mary Alice Witt, 2511 East 4th St., Chattanooga.

FLORIDA GAMMA—ROLLINS COLLEGE

Chartered, 1929

INITIATED: Amelia Bigelow, Columbus, Ohio; Grace Connor, St. Petersburg; Suzanne Farnsworth, Cleveland, Ohio; Frances Hyer, St. Petersburg; Margaret Le Fevre, Winter Park; Dorothy Manwaring, Noble, Pa.; Eleanor Reese, Cleveland, Ohio; Juliet Vale, Southern Pines, N.C.

Florida  $\Gamma$  initiated eight pledges February 18, and entertained them at a banquet at the Alabama Hotel. We enjoyed so much having with us at the banquet Anne Jones of Pine Bluff, Ark., who was our model pledge of last year and is not at Rollins this year. Our only regret, however, was in not having Jeanne Myers with us as she graduated in December.

The girls in the chapter have been quite active in dramatic arts, both this year and last. Becky Coleman and Eleanor Reese participated in the Glee Club presentation of Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Mikado," and in the forthcoming production of "Beggar on Horseback." Sally Farnsworth, Frances Hyer, and Frances Southgate all have parts. Another play to be given in the late spring is Barrie's "Dear Brutus" and Eleanor White has an important rôle in this.

On March 10 a French celebration was held commemorating the French pioneers of Florida. Among the participants was Grace Connor. Two days later we gave our annual patroness tea at the chapter house and were happy to have with us several of the mothers who are wintering in Florida.

We are happy to announce the pledging of Katherine Lacey of Niagara Falls.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Frances Hyer.

ALABAMA ALPHA—BIRMINGHAM SOUTHERN

Chartered, 1927

Pledge Day, February 2, 1934

INITIATED, March 1, 1934: Peggy Arnett, Katharine Daly, Ann Hettrick, Eleanor Hall, Gene McCoy, Edna Snow, Birmingham.

GRADUATES: Martha Jane Kluttz, 4021 Lenox Rd.; Sarah Sterrett, Old Columbiana Rd.; Lydia Taylor, 1025 South 30th St.; Florence Vance, 3925 Ninth Court S., Birmingham.

The initiation banquet was held at Waggoners' Tea Room, at which time the initiates were honored and the scholarship cup was awarded to Gene McCoy, the initiate having the highest scholastic record.

Preparation is being made for the installation of a chapter of A A  $\Delta$ , freshman honorary sorority sponsored by Scroll. Four of Alabama A's pledges were approved for membership which makes them charter members. Katherine Lide was elected vice-president and Charlotte Daly was elected secretary of the group. The other two members from the chapter are Gene McCoy and Betsy Bryant.

The school was fortunate in having Sir John

Hughes, professor of history and economics at Oxford University, address the student body; he gave a very interesting lecture.  $\Pi \Gamma M$ , social science fraternity, into which Rosalie Pettus was invited to membership on March 20, has had many candidates for public offices address the student body at chapel time. The chapel period was further made enjoyable by the rendering of several negro spirituals March 7, by the male chorus of the Miles Memorial Negro College.

Alabama A is planning a benefit bridge to be given in May, with the cooperation of the alumnae. The bridge will be given for the Endowment Fund.

At the cooky-shine March 15, Florence Vance and Ann Hogan, sang the song they had composed for Convention and the whole chapter certainly appreciated and enjoyed it.

March 18, Alabama A was hostess at the regular Sunday afternoon tea in Stockham Woman's Building, which the co-ed council sponsors. Representatives from a large number of campus organizations called during the hours from 3:30 to 5:30.

March 31, the pledges entertained the actives, at Norment's Lake.

A large number of the chapter attended the annual City Panhellenic luncheon April 23. There was an unusual and original program, in the form of a marionette show, which was a play giving the rush talk of all the sororities at Birmingham Southern, Howard, and the University of Alabama.

Birmingham Southern students look forward to the building of the annex to the library.

Panhellenic made a complete revision of the rush rules. The number of days for rushing was shortened, and all dates had to be made through the dean's office.

At May night festival each class had to perform a stunt before the queen and her attendants.

Alabama A has received the scholarship cup again for having the highest scholastic average on the campus.

PLEGDED: Daisy Dean Smith, Birmingham.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Barbara Seaman, 1028 S. 40th St., Birmingham.

FLORIDA ALPHA—STETSON UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1913

Pledge Day, October 2, 1933

GRADUATES: Ellen Gustafson, Green Cove Springs.

The chapter dance at the country club in Daytona Beach proved to be one of the outstanding events of the Stetson social season.

The glee club has returned from a trip to Mount Dora. Those from the chapter making the trip were Dorothy Skillman and Evelyn Shuler. Evelyn rendered a solo, "I Love Life." Dorothy Hon has one of the leading roles in a one act play, "When the Horn Blows," under the direction of Virginia Einsel, a member of the play production class.

Ruth Boisch has been extended an invitation to join  $\Theta A \Phi$ , national dramatic honorary, and has been initiated into  $M O \Sigma$ , national scholastic honorary. Helen May Christain has been chosen to take charge of the story telling period in the B.S.U. mission school.

Florida A sponsored a play, "The Importance of Being Earnest," under the direction of Irving G. Stover. Chapter members taking part were Virginia Einsel, Virginia Morris, and Ruth Boisch.

Eloise Hill had the leading female role in a one act play, "The Boor," directed by Ruth Boisch, a member of the play production class. Eloise has also been elected vice-president of  $\Pi K \Sigma$ .

The chapter was delightfully entertained at a buffet supper in the room the Wednesday after initiation by Mrs. Gregg and Mrs. Black, patronesses.

Mrs. Ned Fuller entertained the members and their dates at a tea at her home March 27.

Mary Louise Foard was one of the outstanding figures in the tennis tournament.

FLORIDA BETA—FLORIDA STATE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN

Chartered, 1921

Pledge Day, September, 1933

INITIATED, March 3, 1934: Martha Emma Neeld, St. Petersburg; Arline Gray Lockhart, Brooksville; Jean Clarke, Tampa; Frances Morrow, Jacksonville.

GRADUATES: Katherine Gardiner, 363 N.E. 20th Ter., Ida Miller Gautier, 528 S.W. 5th St., Miami; Joy Makinson, Kissimmee; Elizabeth Williams, 512 Dartmoor St., St. Petersburg.

The A.A.U.W., Mortar Board, and the campus have been able to bear, as a part of the program of Artist Series some worthwhile and interesting lectures: "Royal Road to Romance" with Richard Haliburton; John Spargo discussed "Why he Preferred Capitalism to Communism"; Dr. Ben A. Arneson interpreted the political history of America in 1933; Sherman Rogers in a very brilliant and flashing manner crusaded for more "Faith in America"; Kinnoke Adachi, a foremost speaker from Japan, presented the conditions between Japan and China. His perfect English was the prayer of all American students.

The mid-winter carnival was created this year. Of course there was no snow but a picturesque snowman was made out of cotton and paper. The carnival was much enlivened by the arrival of the Mercer glee club as serenaders. After the recital of the glee club there was a big girl-break dance at the gym.

The university in Gainesville celebrated their military ball; five Florida Bs were sponsors. The junior-senior prom took place May 1; in the middle of May the chapter is to have its annual dance. Each sorority has been given permission to have one dance a year.

There have been three artist series this semester of unusual interest. Ruth Page, the internationally famous ballerina danced here, and Yasha Davido delighted his audience when he sang again and again repeated encores. Vladimir Horowitz, a young Russian pianist, was the last performer of the artist series.

Junior minstrel, which is a production written and directed by students, was produced during the latter part of April. Frances Louise Boggs had the leading part. Emma Lee Goodwin wrote the words and music for several of the songs. Charlotte Stevens was assistant dance director in this production and had one of the leading male parts.

One of the landmarks of the school, the Education Building, is slowly being torn down and is to be reconstructed in the next few months. This building was one of the first on the campus.

Frances Morrow and Arline Gray Lockhart were tapped for freshman cabinet of Y.W.C.A. Joy Makinson was the past president of Y.W.C.A. Marjorie Helveston and Mary Virginia Warren have been working on the yearbook, Flastacowo.

Dr. Quilliam, former president of Wesleyan, was the speaker during religious emphasis week. Several times during his visit here he had tea with the chapter. Joy Makinson was chairman of this week.

PLEGDED: Gladys Hart, Jacksonville; Virginia Duncan, Tavares.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Evelyn Haynie, 920 West Blvd., Gainesville.

After initiation the chapter entertained the initiates with a banquet at the Alabama Hotel. The chapter was happy in having present the model pledge of last year, Anne Jones, who is not at Rollins now. The only regret was in not having Jeanne Myers present. She graduated in December.

Becky Coleman and Eleanor Reese had parts in the glee club's annual project which was the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta "The Mikado." In the forthcoming production by the student company, "Beggars on Horseback," Sally Farnsworth, Cricket Manwaring, Frances Hyer, and Frances Southgate all have parts. "Dear Brutus" is to be given in the late spring, and Eleanor White has one of the leads in this.

The busiest week during the year at Rollins is Founders' Week which is the last part of February. Many alumnae come from all parts of the country and the week is climaxed by the "animated magazine." On this occasion a coterie of famous authors, prominent men in affairs of state, and well known poets are brought together for a magazine which literally comes alive. Among those here this year were Corra Harris, Fannie Hurst, Edwin Cranberry, Marjorie Cummings Rawlings, Arthur Guiterman, and others. There were over 3000 people present on this occasion.

The week of March 10 was marked by a celebration of the work of the French pioneers in Florida. At the annual Alliance Francaise dinner Grace Connor was one of the speakers. The following week at the annual art exhibit Becky Coleman was one of the girls chosen to serve and receive.

WISCONSIN ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN

Chartered, 1894

Pledge Day, February 12, 1934

INITIATED, March 24, 1934: Patricia Baldwin, Viroqua; Margaret Clausen, Wauwatosa; Dorothy Dunn, Gardner, Mass.; Syla Olson, Duluth, Minn.; Laura F. Parish, Delavan; Rowe Raab, Sheboygan; Dorothy Teeple, Detroit, Mich.; Hildegard Thadewald, Milwaukee; Helen Theiler, Tomahawk; Joan Vartier, Milwaukee; Katherine Walsh, Burlington, Iowa; Virginia Weber, Milwaukee.

GRADUATES: Charlotte Conway, 104 Lathrop St., Nancy Duggar, 1938 Rowley Ave., Madison; Nancy Hotchkiss, 350 Forence Ave., Houghton, Mich.; Mary Kessenich, Maple Bluff, Madison; Vivian Merrill, Provo, Utah; Marie Weber, 2658 N. Grant Blvd., Milwaukee; Barbara Williams, 1018 Cass St., La Crosse.

Following initiation a banquet was held and that night the chapter gave a formal party for the benefit of the new members.

The new W.S.G.A. president, Jean Charters, was unanimously elected to that office. Hannah Greeley was unanimously elected senior representative, which office carries with it the responsibility of president of senior women and head of key-stone council. Mrs. Max Otto, a former president of this chapter, made the installation speech.

Junior prom took place February 2; decorations were arranged by Mary Murdock. Edna Balsley was one of the members of the court of honor that attended the queen.

Nancy Duggar and Pauline Reinsch represented the chapter at the Matrix banquet at which Countess Tolstoy, daughter of Count Tolstoy, spoke.

This spring many of the sororities are having crews, which are being trained by different members of the varsity crew. The members of this chapter are looking forward to May 19, mothers' and fathers' week-end, when races between the sororities will take place.

In trying to increase personal contact between the faculty and the student body, Wisconsin A gave a faculty tea, March 11. The chapter was pleased because of the large number of prominent faculty members who attended.

Over Washington's birthday several of the girls went on a four day skiing trip up north. They drove to Medford and stayed in an old farm house there.

PLEGDED: Mildred Morris, Racine; Margaret Rowlands, Madison.

RUSH CHAIRMAN: Jean Glanville, 2030 Church St., Wauwatosa.

WISCONSIN BETA—BELOIT COLLEGE

Chartered, 1919

Pledge Day, October 5, 1933

INITIATED, February 24, 1934: Eleanor Dexter, Rockford, Ill.; Joyce Hartman, Janesville;

Mary Lou Messmer, Katherine Mitchell, Milwaukee; Isabel Gordon, Betty Childs, Hinsdale, Ill.; Elsie Kleinschrot, Queen's Village, L.I.; June Breen, Marjorie Jenkins, Dorothy Jorgenson, Ruth Kennedy, Marion Loomis, Betty Launspach, Eileen McNellis, Bonnie Pohlman, Lois Woodard, Chicago, Ill.; Annabelle Studebaker, Beloit; Katherine Nathan, Lancaster.

GRADUATES: Ruth Bennett, 1033 Ashland Ave., Wilmette, Ill.; Anna Louise Burlingame, 4452 Woodlawn Ave., Chicago, Ill.; Betty Frazer, 416 Drexel Ave. South, Minneapolis, Minn.; Elaine Jacobson, 10720 South Hoyne Ave., Chicago, Ill.; Louise Kleinschrot, 9404 212th Place, Queen's Village, L.I., N.Y.; Frederica Ramsey, 7012 Constance Ave., Chicago, Ill.; Margaret Rider, 10902 South Hoyne Ave., Chicago, Ill.; Olive Willson, 3045 South Superior St., Milwaukee.

"Fashion," the period melodrama revived by Beloit Players March 16-17 included three acts in its cast. Jean Weirick, Sue Willcox, and Betty Childs delighted playgoers in their rôles of belles of 1850. The production was directed by Virginia Schafer, assisted by Betty Childs. The play reproduced faithfully the atmosphere and costumes of the middle nineteenth century and played to capacity houses for two nights. Jean Weirick's "before the curtain" interludes brought forth howls and cheers from the period-minded audience.

To celebrate the completion of the new faculty and alumni clubhouse, the faculty women's club sponsored an at home tea for all students March 22. The new house, facing President Maurer's home, is the former residence of Louis E. Holden, retired vice-president of the college. The old faculty club, long a local landmark, was razed to make room for the B & O II house, opened last fall. The new clubhouse has been completely redecorated and refurnished and provides a most attractive center for faculty and alumni functions. Funds for its rehabilitation were raised by reviving the now classic faculty farce, "The Lamentable Tragedy of Julius Caesar." President Irving Maurer played the difficult rôle of the ill-fated Julius.

Recent chapter social activities include a supper sing for the local alumnae, a chapter tea sponsored by the new initiates, and a Mother Goose party held March 24. The initiates presented a new chair to the house at the tea. Several Rockford alumnae visited the chapter recently and were conducted about the campus inspecting points of interest.

Plans are being made to receive Mrs. Stowell C. Stebbins, assistant to the Grand President. A Panhellenic tea will be held in her honor.

Among campus honors are the election of Isabel Gordon to the presidency of Emerson Hall and the vice-presidency of W.S.G.A., the election of Margaret Rider and Betty Frazer to the Order of the Senior Bench, senior women's honor society, and the awarding of a service key to Anna Louise Burlingame for her work on the staff of the Round Table, student newspaper.

The Blue Moon, recently revived literary magazine, will be issued shortly, according to editorial announcements. Contributions have been received in sufficient quantity to publish at least three issues before June.

Wisconsin B emerged victorious from the intramural basketball contest with a record of four straight wins and is now tied for the lead in volleyball with  $\Delta \Delta \Delta$ . Mary Lou Messmer and Isabel Gordon were members of the Beloit team which participated in a basketball and volleyball tournament held at Carroll College the first week in March. The Beloit team won in both sports over Milwaukee State Teacher's College, Carroll, and the University of Wisconsin.

Pledge Day, December 9, 1933

INITIATED, March 24, 1934: Mary Turnbull, Fifth St., Elizabeth, Pa.; Evelyn Ruskin, 904 Beacon St., Boston, Mass.; Jane Hunt, 500 W. Latimer, Abingdon; Mrs. Grace Doty, Urbana; Isabelle Legg, 508 N. Second St.; Dorothy Maynard, 734 E. Boston Ave.; Ruth Graham, 124 N. Seventh St.; Margaret Hanna, 307 W. Broadway, Monmouth.

GRADUATES: Eleanor Gehr, A.B., 815 Monroe St., Evanston; Gertrude White, A.B., 1044 E. Main St., Galesburg; Frances Fleming, A.B., 1020 S. First St., Montrose, Colo.; Elizabeth McCulloch, B.S., 7932 Westmoreland Ave., Swisvale, Pa.

The chapter was very glad to have Mrs. Webster, Eta Province President, visit during February 21 and 22. A dinner was given in her honor.

Wallace Hall was the scene of the annual faculty reception, February 23. After being received by its hosts, the faculty, the student body was kept laughing by the antics of the faculty in a skit entitled "Salon International."

The Crimson Masque one-act plays, which were given in the Little Theater February 16, were "Highness" by Glorloff, "Love is a Racket" by Kirkpatrick, and "Portrait of a Gentleman in Slippers" by Milne. Eleanor Gehr, Betty McClenahan, and Margaret Jean Loehr had parts in these plays. This program of plays was one of the outstanding productions of the year.

Gertrude White, representing Monmouth College, won second place in the state oratorical contest with an oration entitled "The Score is Too Low" and had the privilege of going to Lexington, Ky., to attend the National  $\Pi \kappa \Delta$  Convention where she was Monmouth's representative in women's oratory.

Lois Fetherston was elected president of Y.W.C.A.

The annual operetta was presented May 11 by the glee and choral clubs. This year the performance was Gilbert and Sullivan's "Gondoliers," a rollicking comedy.

The pledges entertained the actives, alumnae, and patronesses at a tea on March 2.

"Tartuffe," a musical comedy by Moliere, was presented March 16, by National Collegiate Players. Gertrude White, recently elected a member, played the part of Mariane, Oregon's daughter.

The "Swan," a romantic comedy in three acts, by Molnar, was presented April 20, by the freshman members of Crimson Masque. Evelyn Ruskin played the part of Princess Beatrice, and Margaret Hanna was one of the ladies in waiting.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Nadine Knights, 204 S. Sixth St., Monmouth.

ILLINOIS BETA-DELTA—KNOX COLLEGE

Chartered, 1884

Pledge Day, First Monday of every month

INITIATED, February 24, 1934: Elizabeth Johnson, Jean Fuhr, Mary Jane Willis, Marion Rose, Louise Herlocker, Galesburg; Alta McGaan, Altona; Marion Yeoman, Avon; Virginia Scott, Wyoming; Alice May Dewey, Peoria; Maxine Lamb, Kewanee; Ruth Nickless, La Grange.

March 24, 1934: Vera Brodman, Caroline Van Dolah, Peoria; Frances Birkenbusch, Pekin; Betty Phares, Le Roy; Peg Deiterich, La Grange.

Knox has begun an extensive system of advertising, and foremost among the methods is the use of the theatre. The Knox Theatre entertained three thousand high school students in five performances of "A Midsummer Night's Dream." Thirteen of the cast were from Illinois B-D and these included the three women's leads: Lorraine Lindsey, Laura Louise Kuhl, and Margaret Gessner.

For several years Knox has not held her own on the football field and the past season was a most discouraging one. However, the college has hired as the new coach Lloyd S. Burdick, who graduated from Illinois and was an outstanding member of their team during his four years there. He has also been honored by being a member of the All-American team. Knox is glad to have such a person in charge of their football team and is anticipating a "new deal" on the field.

An old tradition is to be revived. This is the Campus Sing of which Nan Orwig is in charge, and which will take place the evening of May 5. It should be very enjoyable as competition will run high and all the groups are putting their best efforts into it.

Rose Eleanor Brittain was elected as one of thirteen members to  $\Phi \beta \kappa$ .

The chapter has worked hard to raise its scholarship this year, and was sorry to lose the cup to  $\Lambda \Sigma \Delta$  by only one-tenth of a point.

One of the activities which is earning an important place on campus and becoming very outstanding is the Y.W.C.A. This organization has been radically changed in both its purpose and program during the past year and the chapter feels honored to have had Edna Harshman elected its new president, and June Orwig its secretary. The chapter also has five girls on the cabinet.

After the elections for W.S.G.A. Board the chapter was well represented by having three out of eleven as members of the Board: Margaret Pennington, Margaret Gessner, and Tibby Johnson. Nine of the girls on the all-star and reserve volleyball teams which were chosen at the end of the volleyball season were from the chapter.

On March 9, the Y.W.C.A. elected twelve girls to the Freshman Commission. This is the highest honor a freshman woman can attain, and is awarded on the merits of future promise, scholarship, and ability. Illinois B-D claims three of these: Marion Rose, Tibby Johnson, and Maxine Lamb.

The chapter enjoyed the annual visit of Mrs. Webster. A cooky-shine was given in her honor and entertainment was furnished by the pledges.

PLEGDED: Jane Godfrey.

RUSH CHAIRMAN: Margaret Pennington, 340 S. Spring, La Grange.

ILLINOIS EPSILON—NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1894

Pledge Day, October 1, 1933

INITIATED, March 17, 1934: Dorothy Sheehan, Georganne Rundall, Eleanor Rockwood, Evanston; Jane Ann Youngerman, Des Moines, Iowa; Dorothy Wetzel, Kansas City, Mo.; Augusta Roddis, Marshfield, Wis.; Georgianna Minchin, Chillicothe; Ruth Lee, Geneseo; Priscilla Morse, Lake Forest; Orr Royster, Henderson, Ky.; Geraldine Pletz, Chicago; Dorothy Molloy, Brooklyn, N.Y.; Julie Ferguson, Colby, Kan.; Ruth Gray, Oak Park.

GRADUATES: Carol Duffield, Chicago; Nell Griffith, Washington, D.C.; Marana Halstead, Brookston, Ind.; Ann Louise Hankins, Glencoe; Jean Hoch, Marion, Kan.; Gertrude Sieber, Evanston; Dorothy Snyder, Wilmette; Jean Sudduth, Springfield.

Panhellenic has made some changes concerning rushing. There will be a formal rushing season at mid-semester; three parties will be given and the rules observed in the fall will be followed at this time also.

Jane Ann Youngerman and Georganne Rundall attended the Y.W.C.A. Conference at St. Charles, Ill.

Eleanor Rockwood is a member of A A Δ, honorary scholarship sorority, and Η Σ Φ, classical language fraternity.

Jane Orr is president of Alethenai, literary society. Eleanor Rockwood is secretary and Betty Eikenberry is social chairman. Other members of Alethenai are Jean Hoch, Wylene Baldwin, and Dorothy Snyder.

Edyth Lou Docekal has been appointed society editor of the Daily Northwestern.

The fourth annual charity ball was held in February at the Aragon with Wayne King's and Jan Garber's orchestras. The purpose of this dance was to raise funds for the Settlement School. Virginia Sanford and Isabelle Mulligan were members of the charity ball committee.

March 10, the pledges gave a combined scavenger hunt and radio party for the chapter in honor of their sorority mothers. Dolores Holliday, Nell Griffith, and their escorts won the prizes offered to those who first completed the scavenger hunt.

March 13-17, the Waa Mu show of 1934, "Sweet Music," was presented by W.A.A. and the men's union. Agnes Fraser as a chorus girl and Betty Eikenberry as a show girl fulfilled their parts splendidly. Leota Belle Hall was again co-business manager of the show. Betty Lapp was the co-chairman of the publicity committee, and Carol Duffield was the chairman of the make-up committee. Members of various committees were Dorothy Sheehan, Jane Ann Youngerman, Eleanor Rockwood, and Mary Elizabeth Collyer. Jane Neuman, pledge, designed the posters and the cover of the show book.

March 16, a cooky-shine was given to the pledges who had made their grades by the actives before a blazing fire place. The girls sang Η Β Φ songs for two hours. It was such a success that the chapter has decided to give one every year on the eve of initiation.

At the initiation banquet Jean Hoch, former chapter president, and Dean Robnett spoke on the meaning of the Arrow and what Η Β Φ should mean. A jeweled pin was presented to Betty Johnson, former rushing chairman, for her splendid work of last fall.

Isabelle Mulligan was chosen as the sweetheart of Σ X at the Σ X ball given by the alumni for the Northwestern University and University of Chicago chapters.

The actives gave an apache party in honor of the new initiates. Virginia Brack and Betty Mersbach did an apache dance and Nell Griffith sang. Melba Dohrmann, one of the stars of the Waa-Mu show, did a specialty number from the show.

RUSH CHAIRMAN: Barbara Ballenger, 1340 Asbury Ave., Winnetka.

Pledge Day, February 15, 1934

INITIATED, February 17, 1934: Nancy Branyan, Waukegan; Molly Ruth Owen, Terre Haute, Ind.; Jean Henley, Hannah Ponath, Champaign; Ruth Woodward, Berwyn; Ruth Cogdal, Betty Friend, Jane Hadden, Urbana; Gloria Crawford, Muriel Gates, Fay Sullivan, La Nelle Phelps, Chicago; Betty Harbors, Peoria; Margaret Huckins, Kankakee; Marian Kennicott, Des Plaines; Genevieve Lewis, Quincy; Harriett Peel, Crystal Lake; Mary Winnifred Skinner, Princeton; La Vonne Taylor, Benton; Jane Rose Whitley, Harrisburg; Mayo Dazey, Evanston.

GRADUATES: Jean Briggie, 2131 Park Dr., Springfield; Eleanor Evans, White Hall; Betty Ford, 4843 Park Ave., Indianapolis, Ind.; June Gale, 339 S. 4th, Pekin; Ercilla Kiler, 608 W. Park, Champaign; Kathryn Leutwiler, 710 Pennsylvania, Urbana; Julia Macpherson, 1200 S. Douglas, Springfield; Virginia Sandberg, 375 Palos Rd., Glencoe; Jane Rose Whitley, 12 S. Mill, Harrisburg; Ruth Lawyer, 812 Colfax, Evanston; Miriam Buchholz, 605 Delaware, Urbana; Willa Van Pettan, 407 N. Prairie, Champaign.

Illinois Z has strived especially this year for high scholarship and in an effort to obtain it, the scholarship chairman has required each girl to report her class cuts each week in meeting at the time of roll call. Every other week each girl makes an estimate of her grade in each subject. As a result the chapter obtained first place in scholarship among the women's fraternities. Out of the twenty-nine, Illinois Z has the largest membership.

Three persons have been elected to Φ Β Κ: Florence Fifer, Betty Ford, and Ruth Lawyer. Miriam Buchholz was initiated into Φ Κ Φ, national honorary for the highest three per cent of seniors in each college of the University. Two of the freshmen also made A A Δ, freshman scholastic honorary for girls. They were Betty Friend and Nancy Branyan.

Mary Jane Chandler was elected president of Y.W.C.A. for the coming year. Mary Jane was also general chairman for the Y.W.C.A. stunt show which was given March 16-17. On March 16 the performance was preceded by a formal dinner in the house for the girls and their escorts. The Y.W.C.A. stunt show is given annually, and consists of competitive group stunts from as many women's fraternities as care to enter, and of individual stunts. Jane Rose Whitley won second place in the group of individuals with "Songs of the Nineties." All of the stunts were based on some historical event.

In February the women's league show, "Hit the Deck" was presented; Elsie Rinearson and Jane Rose Whitley both had important parts. Dramatic activities on campus always receive more enthusiasm in the spring than at any other time of the year. Other girls in the house have taken part in "The Adding Machine" and other Theatre Guild plays.

The chapter entertained the parents of the Champaign-Urbana girls at dinner in February. This is to become an established custom in order that there may be a closer and more understanding relationship between the local parents and the members. Mothers' Day week-end also served to create a more sympathetic feeling between the girls and their mothers, and between the mothers as a group.

The pledge class of '35 had a class reunion at the Formal Dinner dance which the chapter gave March 24.

Julie Macpherson and Dorothy Carson were initiated into Σ Δ Φ, honorary speech fraternity. Julie was also named queen of the all-fool's formal,

March 23, given by the combined dramatic organizations on campus. She is also a member of the committee for senior ball, to be held the last school night in June.

PLLEDGED: Jean Henley, Champaign; La Nelle Phelps, Chicago; Jane Stout, Lincoln.

RUSH CHAIRMAN: Virginia Fishback, Carrollton.

ILLINOIS ETA—JAMES MILLIKIN UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1912

Pledge Day, February 5, 1934

INITIATED, April 14, 1934: Barbara Jack, Decatur.

The Town and Gown players presented on the night of March 9 "The Swan," by Molnar. Their next production, to be given in place of a senior play, will be "The Merchant of Venice," Helen Ruth Chodat has one of the leading women's rôles.

The Millikin conservatory orchestra and choir are making a series of trips to nearby towns where they are presenting concerts. Some of the towns being visited are Maroa, Alton, and Lexington. Martha Rugh and Barbara Jack are members of these groups.

A new organization has been started, the verse speaking choir. It is copied from and managed like choirs of this sort which have recently been started in various colleges in England. Pauline Requarth, Rosemary Moorehead, and Helen Ruth Chodat are members. Janet Alsip is co-manager of the choir. The first public program is to be given sometime in May.

The modern language classes sponsored an "International Night" April 17 in the language class rooms. One large room was transformed into an international café in which the guests danced, refreshments were served, and a floor show was presented. In adjoining rooms each different language group exhibited things characteristic of the countries which they were studying. Janet Alsip was in general charge of this affair. Helen Ruth Chodat, Rosemary Moorehead, and Mary Frances Wood were on assisting committees.

The pledges celebrated a "pledge week-end" in March, when all the town pledges moved into the house for the weekend. They entertained the activities with a formal dinner.

DeWolf Hopper, the famous exponent of Gilbert and Sullivan opera, and his company presented two performances at the Millikin auditorium February 22. One performance was of "The Mikado" and the other of "Pinafore." On March 9 the English poet Edward Davidson came to the university to address the student body. He read some of his own poetry and lectured on what poetry could mean to different people.

PLEDGED: Molly McIntosh, Beverley Hills, Calif.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Cynthia Conklin, 10 Powers Lane Pl., Decatur.

MANITOBA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MANITOBA

Chartered, 1929

Pledge Day, October 17, 1933

INITIATED, March 10, 1934: Jean Christie, Harriet Perry, Muriel Hurst, Dorothea Tait, Elizabeth Pim, Marjorie Manning, Ruth McFarlane. March 19, 1934: Isabel MacArthur.

GRADUATES: Yvonne Keeler, 358 Assinikoin Ave.; Eleanor French, 211 Waverly St.; Evelyn Hay, 150 Montrose St.; Dorothy Precious, 831 McMillan Ave.; Marion Slagsool, 318 Baltimore Rd.; Ruth Vanstone, 603 Strathcona St.; Winnipeg.

This semester has seen the resignation of the president of the university, Dr. J. A. McLean. There has been no successor chosen to date.

Keen interest has been evinced in hockey this winter. Although the team was unsuccessful in the finals, there is general confidence that it will take a prominent place next season.

The local Panhellenic has been devoting its attention to rushing rules, and the fall rushing season will be shortened by a week.

This has been the most eventful in many years for Manitoba A, owing to Miss Onken's visit. Although of brief duration, it was an inspiration to the whole chapter. Miss Onken initiated seven girls, and was the honor guest at the initiation banquet held at the Manitoba Club, where, in 1929, she installed the chapter. Miss Onken spoke to Panhellenic, and the chapter held a Panhellenic tea for her; thus her influence was felt in the fraternity world on this campus.

The spring formal was held on February 19, at the Royal Alexandra Hotel. The ballroom was decorated with hollyhocks and various spring flowers, with a quaint picket-fence around the orchestra.

Betty Banning has been elected secretary of the co-ed executive, and secretary of the arts council. Harriet Perry is the junior women's representative on the U.M.S.U. council. Sally Chipman is vice-president of the co-eds. Isabel MacArthur took part in the Minneapolis skating carnival and the Winnipeg winter club carnival.

Marianne Seelheim has left for her home in Germany, where she will be one of the seven girls permitted by Hitler to study medicine.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Thelma Hermanson, 188 Oak St., Winnipeg.

NORTH DAKOTA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF NORTH DAKOTA

Chartered, 1921

Pledge Day, February 13, 1934

INITIATED, February 26, 1934: Avis Butler, Wiliston; Alice Drew, Devils Lake; Almira Summers, Sykeston; Grace McAuliffe, E. Grand Forks, Minn.

The fifty-first Founders' Day of the University of North Dakota was celebrated February 22. President West presided and introduced Hon. R. A. Nestos, ex-governor of North Dakota and a member of the university class of 1904, who was the principal speaker.

The university basketball team was victorious this year in winning the conference championship.

North Dakota A had the honor and pleasure of entertaining Amy B. Onken for two days. A formal reception was given in her honor at which faculty members and representatives of each fraternity and sorority were present. A cooky-shine was held at the House and she was a luncheon guest of Δ Γ. Miss Onken was also the guest speaker at a Panhellenic meeting.

Mortar Board held a "Fashion Tea" on March 24 at the Δ Γ House with a representative of each women's fraternity acting as models. Margaret Pierce represented Π Β Φ.

Β Θ Η and Η Β Φ jointly furnished an act for a "Hobnob," university informal.

The sophomores and juniors of the chapter were awarded trophies for having perfect attendance at the Carney song contest practices.

Dolores Bonzer and Lillian Morck were the guests of Manitoba A at their annual winter formal, and they thoroughly enjoyed themselves during their visit.

Mary Cave was in the cast of the two Dakota Playmaker productions, "Lightning" and "Hedda Gabbler"; Lillian Morck was in "The Late Christopher Bean." Harriet Miller has been pledged to Σ A I, honorary music sorority, and Geraldine Gibbens has been initiated into Matrix, women's journalism society. Almira Summers was on the program committee for the annual junior prom, and Inez Christensen has been named on the commencement day program committee.

PLEGDED: Alia Trangsrud, Fargo; Lorene Berg, Dickinson; Lois Swenson, Scobey, Mont.

REPLEGDED: Geraldine Gibbens, New Rockford; Irene Boynton, Minot.

RUSH CHAIRMAN: Miriam Onstad, 102 8th Ave. S., Grand Forks, N.D.

MINNESOTA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

Chartered, 1890

Pledge Day, October 9, 1933

INITIATED, February 17, 1934: Margaret Buell, Elizabeth Donaldson, Marion Donehower, Margaret Hofacre, Helen Marie Jacobsen, Margaret Ryan, Minneapolis; Barbara Boeringer, Virginia Blundell, St. Paul; Juanita Hansen, Valley Springs, S.D.; Marion Nelson, Aberdeen, S.D.; Virginia Ruhe, Watertown, S.D.; Jeanette Sellman, Decorah, Iowa; Opal Smith, Atlantic, Iowa.

GRADUATES: Helen Borden, B.A.; Gloria Boock, B.A.; Florence Coones, B.A.; Meredith Donaldson, B.A.; Marion Pulling, B.A.; Betty Mullen, B.A.; Marlys Robertson, B.B.A.; Ruth Rough, B.A.; Adelaide Rowley, B.A.

Minnesota A has been especially honored recently by having as guests both Fanny Whitenack Libbey and Amy Burnham Onken. The inspiration received by each member of the Fraternity will not be soon forgotten.

The chapter has been concentrating this year on scholarship. Joint meetings of pledges and actives are beneficial in bringing out suggestions that aid each girl. The girl receiving the highest average and the one making the most improvement are each presented with a II B & bracelet.

The Daily, Minnesota's campus paper, has recently been protested by a propaganda paper, the Broadside, but as yet, no definite action has been taken by the student body.

Constance Fegles, Elizabeth Donaldson, Marion Donehower, and Esther Barragar were committee women for the annual sophomore ball held at the Hotel Lowry on March 2. Gloria Boock, president of senior women, was third in line at the inter-professional ball. Betsy Emmons, toastmistress at the Annual W.A.A. Banquet, was in line for the junior ball. Edith Reed, member of A A P, the architectural honorary society, was elected secretary of the architectural society and editor of Keystones, the architectural magazine.

The chapter entertained at the traditional "snowball" formal at the house on February 23. The illuminated arrow and blue lights, together with silver curtains draped about the walls, made the room extremely attractive.

PLEGDED: Janet Orr, St. Paul; Gretchen Bomboy, Fairmont.

RUSH CHAIRMAN: Jean Hummel, 2309 Irving Ave. S., Minneapolis.

IOWA ALPHA—IOWA WESLEYAN

Chartered, 1868

Pledge Day, October 20, 1933

INITIATED, March 26, 1934: Charlotte Allen, Kansas City, Mo.; Virginia Lowry, Albert Lea, Minn.; Hazelle Lockhart, Packwood; Alice Talbot, Morning Sun; Mary Anne Allison, Margaret Gray, Mary Jane Hall, Viola Smith, Mt. Pleasant.

A special pep chapel and college dance were given by the student council in celebration of Iowa Wesleyan's basketball team which won the Iowa Conference championship by the Stanley Dean point system. Raymond Patterson, captain, was named captain of the all-conference first team. At the pep chapel Coach Glen H. Bingham was given a traveling bag, a gift from the student body.

Dr. Thomas C. Poulter, head of the science department and senior scientist of the Byrd Antarctic Expedition II, was one of the men assisting in the first major operation to be performed at Little America, March 15.

Religious emphasis week was celebrated March 20-24. Dr. Harold Lancaster of Ottumwa, Iowa, was the guest speaker. An important mid-winter guest was Branch Rickey, owner of the St. Louis Cardinals.

The annual mothers' tea was given by the chapter at the rooms March 30. At the March cooky-shine Iowa A had as a guest Margaret Goodson, Missouri A, who was in Mt. Pleasant directing a home-talent play. The annual Panhellenic party was given by Z T A April 13. Pledges from each sorority gave a short program. College guest week was held in April. The alumnae club entertained the actives at a Founders' Day dinner; convention slides were shown. The annual chapter serenade was held May 1, and the spring formal dance was given May 19. Commencement breakfast will be June 4.

Mid-year activities include organization of a clarinet quartet of which Elna Stewart and Alice Talbot are members, and a violin quartet of which Josephine Carper is a member. Josephine is also a member of special choir. Alice Talbot has been appointed finance chairman on Y.W.C.A. cabinet. Helen Hunt was initiated into A Ψ Ω. New W.A.A. initiates include Alice Talbot and Elna Stewart.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Helen Hunt, E. Monroe, Mt. Pleasant.

IOWA BETA—SIMPSON COLLEGE

Chartered, 1874

Pledge Day, October 2, 1933

INITIATED, March 24, 1934: Margaret Arnold, Hamburg; Eleanor Benson, Earlham; Ruth Davis, Phyllis Emmons, Lucinda Graves, Indianola; Marjorie Heaton, Creston; Marie Henderson, Shenandoah; Lucille Hextell, Ruth Hunsicker, Des Moines; Cleta Marquis, Woodburn; Mary Ida Nelson, Maxwell; Jean Roberts, Monroe.

GRADUATES: Harriet Newsome, Indianola; Harriet Proudfoot, Monroe, Wis.; Dorothy Shenton, Council Bluffs.

The student council sponsored an all-college copper carnival on February 17. The feature of the evening was a series of stunts presented by the sororities and fraternities. Iowa B won the silver cup which was awarded to the best stunt given by the sororities. Representative men and women were announced at this time, also, having been voted upon by the entire college. Iowa B had two of the four representative women, Harriet Newsome and Dorothy Shenton.

The alumnae entertained the pledges at a luncheon given in their honor at the home of Mrs. Buxton, Jr., on February 24. On March 10 the actives entertained the pledges at a surprise breakfast at the house. On March 8 the advisory board were guests for dinner at the house.

Iowa B is still emphasizing activities and working toward the fulfillment of the motto, "No meeting on the campus without a II B  $\Phi$  present." This season Iowa B has two representatives on the debate squad, Phyllis Emmons, and Marjorie Heaton. Christine Smith is president of Zetaethan Literary Society this semester.

"Blackfriars," dramatic organization, presented in March, "Death Takes a Holiday." Louise Hartzler was scenic director and Marjorie Heaton was a member of the cast.

The year book, The Zenith, has Ruth Greenwalt, class editor, Dorothy Shenton, women's athletic editor, Josephine Bean, II B  $\Phi$  editor, and Louise Hartzler and Grace Margaret Moist on the staff.

Following initiation on March 24 the alumnae entertained the new actives at a cooky-shine at the house.

Two of the new initiates, Marie Henderson and Phyllis Emmons, made straight A averages for last semester for which they were presented a box of II B  $\Phi$  stationery.

IOWA GAMMA—IOWA STATE COLLEGE

Chartered, 1877

Pledge Day, January 5, 1934

INITIATED, February 20, 1934: Betty Blanco, Jane Hawkins, Dorothy Meyers, Roberta Weirich, Florence Williams.

GRADUATES: Beatrice Bernick, Wilma Boag, Margaret Clapp, Marjorie Christensen, Margaret Laughlin, Alice Needham, Florence Williams.

A series of lectures in memory of Dr. O. H. Cessna, a member of the first graduating class of Iowa State College and until his death last year the school's chaplain, were presented during Easter week by Dr. Charles W. Gilkey, dean of the chapel, University of Chicago. Dr. Cessna, who was known affectionately as the "Perennial Prep," was the father of Ethel Cessna Morgan, Iowa T, 1904.

Early in April Iowa State was host to W.S.G.A. delegates from some thirty colleges. At the close of the convention the girls were the guests of Panhellenic at the annual women's Panhellenic formal dance held in the Memorial Union on April 7.

One of the most popular features of "Veishea," the college's annual exposition, is the night show. This year the musical comedy, "The Student Prince," has been chosen. Eleanor Zoller will sing the part of the princess. Seven other girls from the chapter are working on the night show crew.

The Y.W.C.A. this year inaugurated a new and popular plan of religious study. A group which called itself the "religious pilgrimage group" studied and made actual visits to the services of the Catholic church, to several protestant churches, and to a Jewish synagogue in Des Moines. Miss Grace Hoover, the popular Y.W.C.A. secretary, who has been on the campus for five years, announced her resignation at the annual spring retreat of the new cabinet. Her successor has not yet been named. The new cabinet for 1934-1935 includes Florence Williams, Lucy Frech, Margaret Woods, Edith Fezler, and Betty Coykendall.

A plan in which actives and pledges hold occasional joint meetings has been adopted this spring. A college rule prohibits pledges from living in the house; it is thought that these joint meetings will help create a feeling of unity which is difficult to attain because of this arbitrary separation. Topics of common interest are discussed.

Doris White, Ruth Farnham, and Rosemary Welden have recently been pledged to  $\Phi$  T O, home economics honorary. Rosemary has also been wearing the pledge ribbons of  $\Delta$   $\Phi$   $\Delta$ , honorary art organization, and  $\Phi$  K  $\Phi$ , all-campus scholarship honorary. Rosemary played a lead in the George Cohan play "The Tavern," given by the Iowa State players on March 3.

Betty Coykendall has been named to the editorial board of the Student, campus newspaper, and has been chosen editor of the library supplement.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Margaret Johnson, 160 North Hyland Ave., Ames.

IOWA ZETA—UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

Pledge Day, September 21, 1933

INITIATED, March 24, 1934: Dorothy Allen, Sioux City; Emily Corbin, West Branch; Katherine Freeman, Moline, Ill.; Kathryn Jasman, Sheldon; Florence Kingsley, Waverly; Elinor Kraushaar, Aberdeen, S.D.; Janet Musselman, Quincy, Ill.; Jean Lovell, Mason City; Martha Maier, Omaha, Neb.; Flora McCann, Pueblo, Colo.; Amanda McCloy, Iowa City; Helen McNeill, Onawa; Mary-Lou McQuillen, Charles City; Ellen Nash, Chicago, Ill.; Jane Niles, Anamosa; Ellen Jane Phillips, Council Bluffs; Mary Margaret Senneff, Mason City; Jean Shanks, Centerville; Emma Lou Smith, Waterloo; Virginia Whitsell, Centerville; Ellen Wilson, Mediapolis; Jean Voorbees, Burlington.

GRADUATES: Mary Blanchard, 505 E. Rusholme, Davenport; Veona Vook, 450 N. Court, Ottumwa; Marjorie Danforth, Winterset; Paulena Kellogg, 615 Fremont Street, Marshalltown; Josephine Lovejoy, Jefferson; Louise Olson, 111 N. 10th Street, Marshalltown; Mildred Mott, Coralville; Mary Remley, Anamosa; Kathryn Welch, Mapleton.

The chapter initiated the largest percentage of pledges on the campus. As long as scholarship has been the particular project of the year the chapter feels gratified in that twelve girls have received more than a B average.

The women's association of the University of Iowa sponsored a three fold program this year. Its main work centered around the establishment of a Freshmen Orientation for women. In preparation for this orientation plan thirteen colleges were invited to a conference which was held February 17. At the conference, speeches were given by representatives from Northwestern University, Chicago University, and Iowa colleges. In carrying out the orientation program sixty junior and senior women were chosen on the basis of leadership, scholarship, and ability to serve as freshman group leaders. Those chosen from Iowa Z are: Elinor Kraushaar, Mary-Lou McQuillen, Ruth Aurner, and Mary Hanneman. The second main project for the year has been the formation and administration of an activity point system for women. The purpose is to stimulate interest in campus organization by bringing about a more even distribution of honorary positions in the organization and to limit the amount of activities of one individual and thus improve the quality of work to be done. On February 14 was held the first all University women's mass meeting; at this time there was cast a large majority vote of approval for the activity point system as presented. As a final undertaking the women's association is working to have the elections of the various campus organizations held the same day at a central poll. In connection with their program for this year was sponsored their first all University party—the Spinsters' Spree. At the mass meeting of February 14, the three most eligible bachelors were elected and presented at the dance by one of Iowa's most representative spinsters.

The following girls were asked to become members of the Y.W.C.A.: Emily Corbin, Katherine Freeman, Kathryn Jasman, Ellen Jane Phillips, Emma Lou Smith, and Jean Voorbees.

SOUTH DAKOTA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH DAKOTA

Chartered, 1927

Pledge Day, September 22, 1933

INITIATED, March 3, 1934: Ruth Barnett, Betty Denu, Rapid City; Betty Henkin, Elk Point; Ruth Powers, Burke; Helen Williamson, Sloan, Iowa; Helen Wolfe, Sioux City, Iowa.

GRADUATES: Alice Abell, 512 Dakota, Vermilion; Pauline Hunt, Rapid City; Elinore Tjaden, 323 Pine, Vermilion.

South Dakota A was greatly honored to have Miss Onken with them in March. The chapter entertained at a Panhellenic luncheon, and she was later honored by the alumnae advisory board in Sioux City, Iowa.

South Dakota A won first in the annual Strollers' Vaudeville presented March 21. "Modiste Shop" was the title of the act. The scene was laid in a style salon where a young couple comes to buy clothes. These are shown to the couple by choruses of girls with hats, sport clothes and formals. Humor was provided by Betty Denu, Rapid City, an awkward country girl who disrupts the shop for a time but is soon transformed by the stylish gowns of the "Modiste Shop."

The winter formal was held at the house on March 9. Laverne Williamson, A Φ, was elected by the military students to be honorary colonel to preside over the military ball which was held February 24.

Beverly Bailey, Ruth Powers, and Katherine Colvin were initiated into Φ Σ Ξ, national honorary language fraternity. South Dakota A won for the second consecutive year the Guidon trophy for expert marksmanship in rifle. Ruth Powers, Harriett Reeves, Helen Williamson, and Gerda McClintic are new members of the rifle team.

Elinore Tjaden is doing volunteer social work in Sioux City, Iowa, this semester. She is also employed as investigator in the Federal Emergency Relief Program in Vermilion. Pauline Hunt is practice teaching English in the University High School this semester.

Dorothy Pier and Beverly Bailey represented South Dakota A in the Vanity Fair contest. Ruth Powers was elected treasurer and Florence Parrish was elected vice-president of W.A.A. Janet Johnson was chosen as "Miss Fashion" at the tea dance held on March 23.

PLEGGED: Allene Cheisman, Newell.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Vivian Haivey, Yankton.

NEBRASKA BETA—UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA

Chartered, 1895

Pledge Day, February 19, 1934

INITIATED, March 11, 1934: Charlotte Treat, Sancha Kilbourn, Marian Wilson, Cornelia Wolcott, Helen Hewitt, Mary Jane Munger, Dorothy Boehner, Ruth Louise Dierks, Helen Higdon.

GRADUATES: Lois Brahm, North Platte; Anne Bunting, Lincoln; Katherine Grabill, Sidney; Catherine Weller, West Point; Betha Marie Garrett, Omaha; Ruth Preston, Avoca, Iowa.

In Ivy Day all of the members took part in the intersorority sing with "My Pi Phi Girl" and "Speed Thee My Arrow."

Athletics have claimed the attention of the members, the basketball team having been placed in the semi-finals, and several of the girls having entered in the annual swimming and riding meets.

April 3 was the date of the co-ed follies, given by the women of the campus. Nebraska B presented a skit centered around an original dance by Maxine Thuresson.

Among those who have been received into university players are Beth Langford, Barbara Bates, and Veronica Villnave. Jacqueline James is active in studio theater work.

PLEGGED: Eugenia Bedson and Virginia Foster. RUSH CAPTAIN: Mary DePatron, 1970 Howard, Lincoln.

KANSAS ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF KANSAS

Chartered, 1873

Pledge Day, September 18, 1933

INITIATED, March 3, 1934: Betty Ann Stauffer, Arkansas City; Ann Horton, Atwood; Mary Margaret Manary, Dodge City; Helen Black, Isabel Perry, Kansas City; Caroline Bliss, Nancy Bonfield, Caroline Brink, Frances Bruce, Elizabeth Freet, Ann Ireland, June McGinness, Nancy Newlin, Eleanor Nolan, Kansas City, Mo.; Jane Allen, Lawrence; Anne Hubbard, Ottawa; Virginia Ewers, Margaret Pyle, Wichita.

Kansas A has been active in rushing since the opening of the new semester, following a different plan this year of having a few rushees for each week-end.

Winifred Koenig was elected vice-president of W.S.G.A. at the election that took place March 8. Edythe Mulveyhill was elected to the National Collegiate Players, and was chosen for the office of secretary in that society; Betty Lou McFarland made the dramatic club in the recent tryouts. Caroline Bliss, Frances Bruce, and Helen Black appeared in the water carnival of April 19. Nine pledges appeared either in choruses or in speaking parts in the "Hilarities of 1934," a musical comedy given in March. Isabel Perry received title of sophomore beauty queen. The intramural basketball team placed second in the tournament, the first place going to a group of independents. Nancy Newlin was elected to the quill club, the honorary literary society. Betty Ann Stauffer was elected president of the advanced standing commission of Y.W.C.A. and Caroline Brink publicity manager.

The chapter entertained the dean of women, Miss Agnes Husband, at a dinner given March 15, in order that she might become better acquainted with the new initiates, as well as renew her friendships among the older actives.

A recent feature of the university concert course was the Roth String Quartet, in a recital given March 8, and an extra feature on the student activity ticket was a dance recital given by the pupils of Miss Ruth Glover of Kansas City, brought here under the auspices of T Ξ, honorary dancing fraternity.

The three social events of greatest interest since the opening of the new semester were the women's Panhellenic party, March 2, the junior prom, March 9, and the men's Panhellenic party, March 16, the first and last mentioned being given for the ten people with the most seniority in sorority and fraternity houses respectively, and their dates. The chapter is looking forward to its own spring-formal, which is to be given May 19 in the newlyredecorated ball-room of the Memorial Union Building.

March 20, Kansas A participated in the second Panhellenic exchange dinner of the year.

Shortly before the close of the first semester the chapter honored its graduating president, Elizabeth Ranney, with a formal dinner, at which occasion she was presented with a silver dressing-table set, a gift from the chapter in view of her services in the past and the affection with which she was regarded in the house.

PLEDGED: Amy Lou Hoffman, Kansas City, Mo.; Betty Lou McFarland, Topeka.

RUSH CAPTAINS: Margaret Cremin, 112 East Jasper, Tulsa, Okla. Assistant: Margaret Ryan, 719 Union St., Emporia, Kan., Kansas City, Kan., and Kansas City, Mo.; Jane Ferguson, 2400 Washington Blvd., Kansas City, Mo.

KANSAS BETA—KANSAS STATE COLLEGE

Chartered, 1915

Pledge Day, February 6, 1934

INITIATED, March 24, 1934: Caroline Dawley, Frances Farrell, Dorothy Hughes, Betty Trenkle, Manhattan; Iris Miller, Gertrude Tobias, Lyons; Marlene Dappen, McPherson; Emily Davis, Merriam; Weldene Middlekauff, Beatrice, Neb.; Virginia Pettibon, Hutchinson; Pauline Pope, Ottowa, Winifred Winship, Phillipsburg.

On February 20 the chapter entertained the football lettermen and head coaches of Kansas State at a formal dinner-dance at the house. Lynn Waldorf from Oklahoma Agriculture and Mechanical College, who has been secured to succeed "Bo" McMillan as head coach, was heartily welcomed to Manhattan by the student body and townspersons the last week in March.

Kansas B was one of the entrants in Aggie Orpheum, March 2 and 3, the annual spring inter-fraternity stunt night.

Marlene Dappen has been elected to membership on the Y.W.C.A. cabinet.

As is the usual custom, Kansas B united with the Manhattan alumnae club in the celebration of Founders' Day. The spring rush party will be held at the Manhattan Country Club on May 19.

The chapter held a rummage sale the last week in April to raise money for the Settlement School.

PLEDGED: Elaine Beard, McPherson.
RUSH CHAIRMAN: Frances Farrell, College Campus, Manhattan.

COLORADO ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO

Chartered, 1884

Pledge Day, September 24, 1933

INITIATED, February 3, 1934: Mary Jane Barkley, Peggy Benwell, Jane Collins, Dorothea Earle, Elizabeth Ann Evans, Betty Belle Ewers, Frances Hodges, Helen Houston, Denver; Dorothy Arthur, Barbara Benjamin, Pueblo; Elizabeth Knowles, Dorothy Knowles, Elizabeth Snyder, Greeley; Martha Greenwald, Flushing, N.Y.; Betty Buchanan, Tulsa, Okla.; Justine Sabin, La Junta; Louise Brounck, Ft. Morgan; Jane Sampson, Colorado Springs; Louise McAllister, Boulder.

GRADUATES: Georgiana Clark, 724 Fillmore; Betsy Forbes, 1563 Gaylord; Elizabeth Glaze, 1665 Albion; Virginia Grant, 914 Clarkson; Betty Howard, 721 Emerson; Margaret Kunsmler, 5086 Vrain; Marguerite McGrayel, 1749 Holly; Pauline Parks, 2511 Bellaire; Margaret Plettner, 2225 Bellaire; Edith Jane Sturgeon, 4408 West 34th, Denver; Martha Greenwald, 3373 165th St., Flushing, N.Y.; Josephine Stauder, Fowler; Kathryn Walker, 330 Jackson, Ft. Collins; Dorothy Van Valkenburgh, 947 University; Marjorie Wangelin, 625 Mapleton, Boulder.

Mrs. B. Webster Baker, formerly of Denver and Los Angeles, became the new house mother of Colorado A in January. Mrs. Baker brings to the chapter a wealth of sound, practical experience and a charming, dignified and understanding personality, which have already been a source of inspiration to the members.

Margaret Plettner led the Junior Prom this year and Virginia Grant led the engineers' ball.

Marjorie Wangelin had the lead in one of the campus plays during the winter quarter.

Colorado A entertained the little sisters of the actives the week-end of February 17 at the winter formal dance.

Several freshmen made the honor roll fall quarter; this means that they were in the upper tenth of the class. These girls were Helen Houston, Louise McAllister, Louise Brounck, Jane Collins, Dorothy Arthur, and Elizabeth Ann Evans.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Jane Ross, 1375 Bellaire, Denver.

GRADUATES: Elizabeth Stovall, 503 S. Corona; Betty Pollard, 2236 Birch St.; Catherine Hansen, 1652 Humboldt St.; Mariana Gardner, 1101 Madison St.; Ruth Ernst, 350 South Race St., Denver.

Betty Lee Lyons was awarded the cup for the outstanding pledge.

Woman's student league banquet met at the Olin Hotel on Lincoln's birthday. Chancellor Frederick M. Hunter, Dean Gladys C. Bell, and Mrs. Byron E. Cohn were the guest speakers.

A tea was given in the Renaissance Room of the Mary Reed Library, in March for the mothers of all students and the women of the University.

Kedros, senior women's honorary, tapped Betty Pollard and Catherine Hansen, making a total of five Colorado Bs among the fifteen members. Dorothy Jean Armor, Genevieve Baker, and Marv Morgan were selected as new members of the Mentor organization which helps new girls on the campus to become adjusted. Betty Oakes, Shirley Hanson, and Catherine Hansen were made members of the co-ed journalists organization. Mary Elizabeth Foster was bid to A & Z II, Marion Gray to I & II, Olive Remington to K & L. Dorothea Greene earned membership in the Philosophical Academy and Catherine Gibson in the American Poetry Society. Berith Schroder earned her points for membership in R.A.C., honorary athletic association. Jean Lardner played one of the three woman's rôles in the university drama club production of "Julius Caesar."

Genevieve Baker was chairman of the freshman-sophomore dance committee, Joyce Johnston was on the junior prom committee, and Betty Pollard was chairman of the senior prom committee. Joyce was also the chapter candidate for junior prom queen.

The pledges of Colorado B entertained at a tea for the other pledges. The annual dinner for the fathers of the actives and pledges was held at the house in March.

The Colorado B vocal trio, composed of Mary Elizabeth Bailey, Rosemary Douglas, and Betty Oakes has been doing a good deal of work this year.

The alumnae bridge party and fashion show was held March 10. Betty Pollard, Katherine O'Neill, and Catherine Gibson were chosen as models from Colorado B.

April 28 and 29 were celebrated as the semi-centennial Founders' Day at the Broadmoor Hotel in Colorado Springs. Amy B. Onken, Grand President, was the guest of honor. Meetings, a model initiation with Miss Onken officiating, and other events filled these two days.

Colorado B's annual vaudeville was given April 6, in the University Civic Theater. Profits from this entertainment are given to the student union fund.

The spring formal dinner dance was held May 5.

Once a month Colorado B celebrates "birthday night," one of its regular Monday night dinners when girls having birthdays during the month receive some small favor.

PLEGDED: Evelyn Danahey, Denver.
RUSH CAPTAIN: Mary Elizabeth Foster, 651 South Gilpin St., Denver.

WYOMING ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF WYOMING

Chartered, 1910

Pledge Day, September 23, 1933

INITIATED, January 27, 1934: Maudie Doyle, Madeline Guilford, Betty Miller, Martha Omenson, Harriet Tupper.

Wyoming A was honored January 19 when five queens were announced at the annual cadet ball. Martha Omenson was presented as cadet sponsor, Mary Cargill and Genevieve Stewart as battalion sponsors.

January 24-25,  $\Theta A \Phi$  presented "The Queen's Husband." Nancy Burrage, Maudie Doyle, Gloria Hopkins, and Eleanor Atwell had leading rôles. April 4, the University Theater presented "Dear Brutus" in which Gloria Hopkins and Nita Nuhn had major parts.

The pledges entertained at their annual return dance January 26. A.W.S. held a project dance February 17, in order to raise money to send as a field representative around the state, Luella Galliver, dean of women, February 25, the alumnae entertained the pledges and new initiates at a buffet supper at the Laramie Country Club. The annual Panhellenic formal was held March 2; alternate dances each sorority sang one of their songs under their respective lighted pins. The junior prom was held April 20. The sophomore class sponsored a Powder River ball April 14, the first to be held for several years. On April 28 Founders' Day was celebrated by a cooky-shine at the house and the following day all members attended church in a body.

Each year the alumnae are hostesses at a tea and fashion show in the house. It is the only occasion of this kind on the campus. The chapter entertained the faculty, alumnae, mothers, presidents, and house-mothers of each sorority at a reception on April 4.

Members recently initiated into Spurs, national pep organization, were Lois Horsch, Elizabeth Howard, Margaret Jane Lynn, and Beth Tanner. Elizabeth Howard was elected secretary for next year. Maudie Doyle was initiated into  $A Z \Pi$ , national romance language society. Eloine Cook and Marion Rugg have been pledged to  $\Phi \Gamma N$ , national commerce organization. Mary Cargill is new A.W.S. board representative.

A charter has been granted by the university for the organization of the independent club. Its purpose is to provide social activity for non-fraternity men and women on the campus.

The chapter basketball team ran away with the honors in the intra-mural basketball tournament taking first place by a large margin. Wyoming W.A.A. was hostess for girls representing every university and college in the conference at play day on May 12. At this time competitive sports and entertainments took place.

Wyoming won the Rocky Mountain Conference basketball when they defeated Brigham Young University in a three game play off. The team went to Kansas City where they entered the A.A.U. tournament. They were only defeated the final game, earning second place.

Wyoming A will entertain at their annual formal dinner dance on May 19.

The Engineers on the Oklahoma campus held their annual celebration the weekend of March 17. They elected a queen and held a parade and coronation ceremony in honor of her and of St. Patrick, their patron saint.

Panhellenic gave their semi-annual scholarship banquet in March, at which time the Panhellenic scholarship cup was presented to  $\Phi M. \Pi B \Phi$  was second in scholarship.

Leisure time classes have recently been organized in the university. These classes meet twice a week and are attended by people not enrolled in the university as well as students.

In honor of the new initiates, a buffet supper was held in the house on April 8. Oklahoma A was especially honored this spring by having Mrs. Jerry Bywaters, Kappa Province President, visiting the chapter at the time of initiation.

Katherine Walling was elected to  $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$ , national honorary journalistic fraternity. Virginia Lee received the crested  $\Pi B \Phi$  ring awarded each year to the pledge making the highest grades. Norma Stovall was elected to the chairmanship of the sophomore Y.W.C.A. class, Katherine Gibson was one of the two nominated for W.S.G.A. president.

PLEGDED: Helen Downing, Tulsa; Gary McCall, Waco, Texas; Susan Jane McWilliams, Ardmore.

GRADUATES: Catherine Cave, 429 S. 11th, Muskogee; Elvira Parker, 1020 S. 8th St., Ponca City; Ruth Swan, Konowa; Mabelle Harrington, 2134 S. Cincinnati, Tulsa; Sarah Millian, 406 Lawrence, Muskogee; Mary Yerby, Poteau; Joy Davis, Nichols Hills, Oklahoma City.

Oklahoma B was honored with a visit from Miss Mary Tree Watson, alumna of this chapter, in November. Miss Watson, a talented dancer, presented a recital at the college auditorium during her visit.

Charlene Allen, Lela Parks, and Delores Huffman were chapter representatives in the Redskin Beauty Review, at which time the campus' prettiest girls were chosen as queens.

Mrs. Bywaters, Kappa Province President, was a guest of the chapter March 25 and 26.

Construction work was begun on the new $450,000.00 girl's dormitory on the campus. The building is to be ready for occupancy by fall. C.W.A. funds are being used to meet expenses, and student labor is employed whenever possible.

New rush rules have been formulated and are to be used this fall. There are to be four dates instead of three, and pre-rush dates are to be abolished.

Helen Mullendore was given the Scholarship Award for the freshman pledges.

Girls on the dean's honor roll of distinguished students are: Joy Davis, Mary Marsh, Elvira Parker, Catherine Cave, Betty Price, Patricia Mills, June Bernard, Lila Jean Jackson, Helen Mullendore, Catherine Amt, and Mary Margaret Reed.

On March 24 the members and pledges were guests of the Tulsa alumnae club at a tea in Tulsa. The Oklahoma City alumnae club, Oklahoma A, and Oklahoma B celebrated Founders' Day together at a banquet at Oklahoma City.

ARKANSAS ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS

Chartered, 1909

Pledge Day, September 12, 1934

INITIATED, February 23, 1934: Mary Almy, Okmulgee, Okla.; Isabel Storms, Tulsa, Okla.; Clara Burleson, Juliet Marie Stone, Helen Gile, Phyllis Thompson, Fayetteville; Daisy Mae Langston, Magnolia; Mary Frances Rouw, Van Buren; Arline Leath, England; Agnes Soule, Huntsville; Virginia Robinson, Cincinnati; Geraldine Harrell, Tillar; Virginia Ellen Edwards, Sarah Drew Hamburg, Little Rock; Katherine Steel, Texarkana.

For the second consecutive semester, Arkansas A has had the highest scholastic standing of any women's fraternal group.

A cooperative cleaning and pressing establishment was started by the students of the university recently in order to get such work done more cheaply. Each fraternity on the campus is a member of the establishment and there are also many individual members. The plant operates on the minimum NRA price code.

Helen McCreight was elected Miss Arkansas Traveler and crowned at an all-journalism banquet given in her honor. If K, honorary journalistic sorority, gave a luncheon early in March for the twenty-five most outstanding women on the campus. Six members of Arkansas A were among those who received invitations.

Changes in the rush rules for next fall were made by Panhellenic recently. Rush week was extended to include three days instead of two as formerly with the preferential party on the fourth day.

One of the prominent social events of the year was the Panhellenic vice-versa dance. Sorority emblems made of flowers were used as decorations and the sorority house-mothers chaperoned. The girls took the boys and the sorority pledges went as stags. Engineer's day with the traditional sham-rock and special exhibits, followed by a dance, also was the center of much interest.

The chapter held their Founders' Day banquet at the Washington Hotel this year followed by the annual spring formal dance at which the Fraternity colors, pin, and crest were featured in the decorations.

At the inter-fraternity stunt night this semester, the chapter presented a sorority doll shop with eight girls representing the dolls of different sororities. Each girl did a stunt as the proprietor brought her forward for the inspection of the customer.

"Holiday" and "Death Takes a Holiday" were presented by Blackfriars, dramatic organization of which Virginia Ellen Edwards is secretary. Jean Foutz played the lead in the former production.

TEXAS

Chartered, 1902

Pledge Day, February 16, 1934

The leading rôle in "Lady Windemere's Fan," presented by the curtain club of the university, was played by Kathleen Koon, a pledge. The second lead was given to Mary Isabelle Manton.

Intramural sports among the sororities have been popular this year. Swimming, tennis, basketball, and baseball contests have been entered, and at the end of the term the winning sorority will receive a loving cup. Although the chapter has not always been successful, the cooperation and general spirit offers great opportunity to the chapter.

Texas A honored the Austin alumnae with a buffet supper February 27. Following it, a program was given by the pledges consisting of a violin solo by Clemmie Cummings, a toe dance by Marshall Elmore, and a pantomime by several of the pledges.

Rush rules in the university have again been changed. Beginning with the fall term of September, 1934, rush week will be held the first week of school. Girls may be pledged any time during the year, but their pledges expire unless a passing average is made by the end of the term.

The chapter's annual spring formal honoring the pledges was given at the Stephen F. Austin Hotel March 23. Decorations of lighted balloons were used, as well as an arrow of wine and blue flowers against a background of palms and ferns. Refreshments were served buffet style to about two hundred and fifty guests.

Texas A is enthusiastic over Miss Onken's "Call to Convention." Many plan to attend.

The following members and pledges were on the university honor roll: Louise Alsworth, Helen Davis, Lyra DeWees, Mary Nell Cullum, Joie Honea, Frances Falvey, Elizabeth Jameson, Mary Knowles, Beth Spenser, Elizabeth Miller, Elizabeth Troth, Gwynne Wimberly, Lucy Walker, Frances Falvey made the extraordinary record of seven A's in seven courses.

The annual women's Panhellenic show, "Powder and Patches," was given March 23. It was a musical comedy written entirely in rhyme, entitled "Salt Water Sophistry." Jean Whatley, Beth Spenser, Dorothy Wyatt, and Elizabeth Jameson were in the cast.

"Alison's House," by Susan Glaspell, the Pulitzer Prize winner, was presented by the senior Arden club, April 11. Helen Marie Rehwaldt played the part of Mrs. Hodges.

Carey Kurth, a senior in the music school and a member of M Φ E, honorary music fraternity, gave a recital April 6.

Dr. Henry Nelson Wiemin, professor of the philosophy of religion at the University of Chicago, who was brought to the school by Ψ X, honorary psychology fraternity, spoke on "Moral and Religious Values." March 27 and 28, Mr. Max Montor, internationally known actor and dramatic reader, was presented by the Carl Schurz Memorial Foundation of Philadelphia. He read Hauptmann's, "Hanneles Himmelfahrt" in German and Lessing's "Nathan the Wise," in English. The famous Fondren Lectures were also given at the university in March.

The ex-student's association gave a dinner and reception March 24 which it plans to make an annual affair modeled on the University of Texas Round-up.

On March 25, the S.M.U. mothers' club honored the university with an open house. They plan to make this all-college social affair an annual occasion.

The fraternity celebrated Founders' Day with the Dallas alumnae with a cooky-shine April 27.

The alumnae club held its annual Settlement School bridge tournament April 6. Prizes, donated by Dallas business concerns, were awarded by a lottery.

North Texas Methodist students held a conference in March on the campus of S.M.U. The theme of the conference was "Religion and the Well-Integrated Life."

The inter-sorority basketball contests have just been completed, with archery and swimming next. Loving cups are given to the winners.

There was recently organized an inter-sorority club on the campus. The name is Rohes Imogue. The purpose of the organization is to promote more amicable relations among sororities. Mabel Hamilton is one of the seven founders.

Texas B had its annual spring formal the first Friday in May.

It was decided at Panhellenic to have no summer rushing.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Mary Gregg Langley, 5001 Drexel Ave., Dallas.

LOUISIANA ALPHA—H. SOPHIE NEWCOMB COLLEGE

Chartered, 1891

Pledge Day, March 4, 1934

INITIATED, March 27, 1934: Evelyn Potter, Ft. Worth, Tex.; Eleanor Shands, Cleveland, Miss.; Montine McDaniel, Forest City, Ark.; Lydia Allen, Betty Thompson, New Orleans.

On March 3, a scrip dance was given by the chapter for the benefit of the Settlement School. It was an unqualified success.

The president of the chapter, Lynne Hecht, was elected to A Ξ E, honorary senior society, and also won the annual Jennie C. Nixon Debate.

Louisiana A is paying strict attention to the chapter scholarship rules, in endeavoring to raise its standing. Three of the pledges, Louise Schramm, Claire Dolph, and Irving Allée, made the dean's list; the requirements are having an average of above 88 in each subject, and being recommended by at least two of their professors. Only a few are elected, and it is considered an achievement.

The chapter regrets that Nancy McMorris was unable to be active this semester.

The pledges gave their spring dance in honor of the actives April 14. Representatives from all the other sororities were invited, according to custom.

A new local sorority, Φ Σ, has been organized on the Newcomb campus. Louisiana A wishes that this new sorority for Jewish girls may have the greatest success, as a need for such an organization has long been felt.

Newcomb won the Randolph-Macon debate. Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt was in New Orleans for a short visit; she left March 26.

PLEGDED: Evelyn Potter, Ft. Worth, Tex.
RUSH CAPTAIN: Marion Leverich, 1431 Pleasant, New Orleans.

LAMBDA PROVINCE

ALBERTA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA

Chartered, 1931

Pledge Day, February 26, 1934

INITIATED, November 20, 1934: Dorothy Deakin, Ruth Graham, Edmonton; Lorna Park, Calgary; Marianne Pearson, Edmonton; Agnes Stiell, Kelowna, B.C.

The Panhellenic Banquet was held at the Mac-

Donald Hotel in January. All members of women's fraternities were invited and the affair was extremely well-attended. During the banquet each fraternity sang one of its songs and during the evening each fraternity presented a short skit. The competition was keen but all in a delightful spirit of friendliness. It is hoped that this innovation will be continued as an annual affair because there is no better way of promoting inter-fraternity good-feeling.

Lambda Province President, Mrs. William Rusch of Spokane, Washington, arrived in Edmonton on February 10, and spent the week-end with the chapter. Besides being a very enjoyable week-end, it was a profitable one. A Valentine dinner and dance, held in Athabasca Lounge, formed the principal social function of the week-end.

The university was fortunate in having as a guest lecturer on February 28, Dr. T. Z. Koo, an outstanding Chinese scholar and the representative of China at the opium conference at Geneva. Dr. Koo has also been prominent in the Y.M.C.A. movement over a period of years. Convocation Hall was crowded to capacity to hear Dr. Koo on the subject of "Problems of the Pacific."

Margaret Smith has been appointed valedictorian of class '34.

The Arrow basketball team retained the E. Bakewell trophy for House league basketball. The team was captained by Gwen Nixon.

PLEGDED: February 26, 1934, Mary Sutherland.
RUSH CAPTAIN: Marianne Pearson, 9836-108 Street, Edmonton, Alberta.

MONTANA ALPHA—MONTANA STATE COLLEGE

Chartered, 1921

Pledge Day, September 29, 1933

GRADUATES: Nina Davis, 503 N. Black, Bozeman; Anna Lee Johns, 800 West Broadway, Butte; Jean Miller, 921 S. 3rd; Patty Patten, 805 S. 3rd; Mary Jane Roberts, 1216 West Aluminum, Bozeman.

Montana A is making plans and anticipating a delightful time at convention. As one of the hostess chapters it hopes to be able to do its part in showing everyone a good time.

Sir Herbert Ames spent a week at Montana State, giving lectures on national and international affairs. Formerly treasurer of the League of Nations, Sir Ames' visit was made possible by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. His lectures were attended by large and enthusiastic crowds.

Mabelle Wilcomb was elected President of the Spurs. Vivian Finley and Wilda Parker were initiated into A. A.

Scabbard and Blade sponsored their annual military ball in February. The various company sponsors, chosen at this time, included Ann Sanders, Company A, and Maxine Moss, Band Sponsor.

Through the efforts of C.W.A., Montana State has been able to give employment to some ninety students who would be unable to continue school if it were not for this work. It includes work in every department of the college, therefore making it possible to employ everyone in a job in which he is most capable. Only those most in need are given work.

A very delightful time was had at the winter formal dinner dance. Later in the quarter the new initiates entertained the older actives at an informal fireside.

"The Wild Duck" by Ibsen was the school's winter play. Helen McArthur showed marked ability in one of the leading rôles.

This year the students took a great part in helping to make High School Week a bigger success than ever, feeling that their efforts would help to promote the interests of the college throughout the state. One of the big features of the week was the musical drama, "Student Prince." Brownie Greene and Ann Sanders had prominent parts in this production.

In basketball this year, Dorothy Olson and Wadine Huntley won Brown medals as recognition for their outstanding play.

The Mortar Board had their usual "girls' chance" dance in April. The dance enables the girls to show the boys just how to treat a date. They call for the boys and pay all expenses.

A series of assemblies are being held in which the students are given opportunity to discuss affairs pertaining to the student body as a whole. One of the most prominent questions deals with the problem of a new grading system which would provide a fairer estimate of the student's ability, than does the present one.

Alice McDowell and Doris Iten are two of the newly elected officers of A.W.S.

PLEGDED: Vivian Finley, Bozeman; Jane Habien, Butte.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Lila Ross, Blackmore Apt. X, Bozeman, Montana.

VIRGINIA RAB SYMONDS

IDAHO ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO

Chartered, 1923

Pledge Day, February 11, 1934

INITIATED, March 3, 1934: Betty Dahl, Plummer; Madge Miller, Emmett; Fay Pettijohn, Castleford; Eleanor Stewart, Post Falls; Berniece Wilson, Kuna.

GRADUATES: Mae Belle Donaldson, 536 Third Ave. E., Kalispell, Mont.; Helen Theriault Stover, Palouse, Wash.; Ada Yost, Rita Yost, Kellogg.

The Moscow alumnae club presented the chapter with a trophy cup for being first in campus scholarship for second semester of last year. Hazel Gentry's name is engraved on it for having the highest average in the house. Each year a name will be engraved on the cup.

Rosanne Roark has been elected treasurer of the junior class and treasurer of W.A.A. She has recently been initiated into Curtin, local dramatics honorary, for her outstanding ability in play production. Rosanne and Nellie Irwin were presented with "I" sweaters and initiated into the women's "I" club for their achievements in women's athletics. Isobel Gibson has been pledged to  $\Phi$  T O, national home economics honorary. Betty Dahl, Madge Miller, and Rachel Nelson were chosen on the university rifle team.

Rosanne Roark and Berniece Wilson took parts in the last dramatic play, "Trelawny of the Wells." Berniece and Fay Pettijohn have been chosen to take solo parts in a light opera, "Gondoliers," to be given in the near future by the music department. Betty Dahl, Rosanne Roark, and Betty Pomeroy have been given parts in the chorus.

Members and pledges were hostess at a tea, honoring the housemother. Invitations were extended to all housemothers on the campus.

Faculty and students mourn the loss of a loyal supporter and devoted dean in the death of Dean Francis Miller of the forestry school.

Howard Grenier, basketball center, was chosen on the all-star team of this conference.

The annual pep band show was carried out in part by a dedication to President Roosevelt, in which the Franklin D. Roosevelt March was played. The band will make a good-will tour through southern Idaho and the Vandaleers through northern Idaho in an effort to bring high school seniors to the university in the fall.

Sir Herbert Ames was a guest of the international relations club and during his visit he lectured several times at open meetings. Michael Arenstein, leading cellist, gave a recital while he was a guest of  $\Sigma$  A I, music honorary. Carl Sandburg, American poet, was brought to the campus by the English club and appeared at a student assembly.

An Idaho memorial is being erected near the administration building on the slope of the hill. It is to take the form of steps which are being made from the stones that composed the steps of the administration building which burned in 1907.

The annual junior week will be carried out in the NRA scheme and all decorations for dances, the parade, and assembly will be taken from that idea.

PLEGDED: Betty Pomeroy, Kemmerer, Wyo.;

Mary Poyneer, Everett, Wash.; June Quayle, Montpelier; Elsie Wahl, Genesee.

RUSH CHAIRMAN: Isobel Gibson, 822 Linden Ave., Victoria, B.C., Canada. NELLIE IRWIN

WASHINGTON ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON

Chartered, 1907

Pledge Day, September 28, 1933

INITIATED, February 5, 1934: Marion Bregren, Marjorie Branch, Seattle; Ruth Clark, Tacoma; Betty Ann Crosby, Seattle; Virginia Cruse, Pocatello, Idaho; Wilhelmine Docherty, Yelm; Jane Haas, Tacoma; Barbara Jones, Florence Parr, Margaret Seamans, Seattle; Julia Anna Templeton, Aberdeen.

The associated women students became literary during the winter quarter and published an up-to-date book on campus etiquette called It Is Done. The book, entertaining to read, is well worth while and has become very popular.

Panhellenic is writing an information book about all the houses on this campus. It is written for the benefit of the future pledges and is to give them a general idea of the history and national and local policies of each woman's fraternity. It will be a splendid book when it is finished and may lead to many new ideas.

Washington A had three very happy and interesting days when Mrs. W. J. Rusch, Lambda Province President, visited the chapter. The birthday party given by the alumnae on one of these days, January 24, was made especially enjoyable in having Mrs. Rusch here. After the cooky-shine the various alumnae groups each presented the house with a gift among which were: a card table, four decks of cards, cake plates, a bath mat, and two brass candelabra.

Gwyneth Sawyer pledged  $\Sigma E$ , a women's medical honorary, Priscilla Church pledged  $I \Sigma II$ , a chemistry honorary, and Marion Harper is a member of Totem Club, women's activity honorary. Patricia Fiset, among her many activities, was elected secretary of the associated women students and also became treasurer of Spurs. Ruth Berry, formerly vice-president of the sophomore class, is now president. Peggy Hartson was appointed chairman of the associated arts, one of the big committees in associated women's students. She was also a prominent figure in the junior prom work, as was Kay Stewart. Mary Jane Mueller played with the penthouse players in "Three-Cornered Moon." In the spring she will have a lead in the junior girl's vaudeville. An alumna, Marjorie Douglass, sang the leading rôle in a delightful Japanese opera named "Atsumori." The opera was original, composed by W. C. Laurence, and presented in Meany Hall.

Washington A gave a tea for her housemother, Mrs. Ayers Lasater, February 20.

The  $\Gamma B \Phi$  winter informal was given at the Tennis Club with Peggy Hartson in charge. Several dinner parties preceded the dance.

Washington A was one of the houses to hold open house for the successful candidates of the political election for A.S.U.W. Anson Weeks and his entertainers, who were in Seattle at that time and who played at several of the houses, added much to the gaiety of the occasion.

PLEGDED: Harriet Hancox, Spokane.
RUSH CHAIRMAN: Ruth Berry, 3620 E. Prospect, Seattle. MARY JANE MUELLER

WASHINGTON BETA—STATE COLLEGE OF WASHINGTON

Chartered, 1912

Pledge Day, February 9, 1934

INITIATED: March 17, 1934: Dorothy Loquvam, Joan Wickersham, Helen Ruth Nash, Spokane; Dorothy Wilkinson, Colfax; Claribel Raasch, Hoquiam; Vera Kruse, Tacoma; Betty Francisco, Pomeroy; Marion Haydon, Ruth Dole, Aberdeen; Jean Rosenberger, Stockton, Calif.; Bernice Finley, Ruth Alexander, Yakima; Gwen Eder, Pullman.

GRADUATES: Mary Alice Allen, Pullman; Marion Bailey, Waitsburg; Jeffra Boatright, St. John; Aroa Fenn, 2023 W. 3rd, Spokane; Virginia Harger, 1112 W. 5th, Spokane; Elizabeth Beedon, Aberdeen; Meredith Dailey, Palouse.

One of the outstanding events of the early spring was the Style show given by the Washington State College ad club. Gertrude Nelson was director and Meredith Dailey had charge of makeup. Katherine Steward, Kathryn Driscoll, Marion Haydon, Virginia Gerding, Eleanor Sprague, Carol Adams, and Florence Johnston also took part. Some of the dresses modeled were by the Young American Designers and represented college students' ideas of smart clothes. These dresses were displayed for the first time in the West.

The annual mothers' week-end was held May 12 and 13. The mothers were entertained at a tea, dance drama, and vespers. Betty Francisco was in charge of the committee which made plans for the entertainment. At the woman's day program given on Saturday morning Spurs and Mortar Board members were tapped.

At the high school conference, representatives from various high schools of the state were given a chance to become acquainted with the college and to learn about the various courses offered. Gertrude Nelson was on the committee which planned for this week-end.

Washington State College has been especially fortunate in the speakers which they have been able to secure for convocations this year. Of special interest was the lecture given by Carl Sandburg. He read and interpreted some of his poems and then sang some Negro spirituals of which he has made a collection. Maurice Hindus, author of well-known books on Russia, presented a clear and startling picture of the new Russia. Dr. T. Z. Koo, noted Y.M.C.A. worker, spent several days on the campus.

Dorothy Loquvam had the lead in the freshman play "Where's Your Wife" by Thomas G. and Fleta C. Springer and Joseph Noel.

Initiation was an especially happy occasion this spring as the chapter was fortunate in having both Lilian MacLeod Rusch, Province President, and Juanita Gregory O'Day, Province Vice-President, present.

Marian Bailey has been pledged to  $\Delta \Phi \Delta$ , national art honorary, and Jeanne Beatty to  $\Gamma B$ , economic honorary for women.

To earn money for the Settlement School, a lost and found department has been established in the house into which all stray articles found in the halls or shower room are put. The owner must pay a penny to redeem her lost possessions or they are sold at auction to the highest bidder. The last auction netted $3.50 as well as lots of fun.

RUSH CHAIRMAN: Elizabeth Haydon, 703 North K, Aberdeen.

PLEGDED: Barbara Kimbrough, Spokane. JEANNE BEATTY

Chartered, 1915

Pledge Day, January 6, 1934

INITIATED, January 27, 1934: Betty Gallagher, Klamath Falls; Martha McCall, Portland; Frances Watzek, Wauna; Alene Walker, Portland; Janis Worley, Susanville, Calif. Margaret Daggett, Mary Jane Moore, Klamath Falls; Alice Tillman, Helen Dodds, Eugene; Willa Bitz, Baker; Nancy Weston, Portland.

GRADUATES: Mildred Shields, 6319 S.E. 34th

Ave., Portland; Greta Kirkpatrick, 1654 Charnelton Ave.; Lucy Howe, 1514 Alder St., Eugene.

Winter term examinations brought to a close March 17 the second semester of the school year. Spring vacation was for a week, registration for spring quarter being March 26, followed by three days of rushing, then pledging.

Most interesting was a visit to the campus of the nationally known writer and liberal editor of the Nation, Oswald Garrison Villard. Mr. Villard is the son of Henry Villard, railroad builder and benefactor of the University of Oregon when it started as a struggling institution in 1881.

One day each year the outstanding junior men are seen shining shoes at temporary stands on the campus. This day is known as junior shine day and is conducted to raise money for junior week-end, which is an annual event of the spring term.

A Panhellenic committee has been revising the rushing rules, these new ones to go into effect for summer rushing.

The University of Oregon's basketball team, in the northwest championship, came in for second honors, the University of Washington winning first.

The Matrix table banquet was given February 23. This is sponsored by  $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$ , women's national professional journalism honorary, yearly, in conjunction with one given by every chapter of the honorary. One girl from the junior and one from the senior class in each house, outstanding in the field of arts and letters, is invited. This year Marytine New and Lucy Howe were bidden. Janis Worely is a member of the organization.

After the intramural basketball and swimming meets for girls an all-university team is picked for each. This year four members of Oregon A were rated on the all-star teams. Greta Kirkpatrick, senior, and Barbara Weston, sophomore, were placed on the first basketball team, while Margaret Daggett and Martha McCall, both freshmen, were named on the star swimming team.

The sophomore whiskeyno was held February 16. This is an all campus dance sponsored yearly by the second year class. Nancy Weston worked on the decorations committee.

April 14 the freshman class gave their dance, the frosh glee, an annual semi-formal affair.

The Mortar Board ball was given April 28. This dance is always a treat to the men for the usual order of things is reversed, instead of the men taking their dates all the men's duties are assumed by the girls.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Nancy Weston, 3132 U. S. Grant Pl., Portland.

OREGON BETA—OREGON STATE COLLEGE

Chartered, 1917

Pledge Day, October 1, 1933

INITIATED, January 27, 1934: Peggy Jones, Shirley Wheeler, Portland; Helen Nelson, Marshfield; Janet Stephens, Moro; Alice Reed, Corvallis; Sue Edwardes, San Francisco, Calif.

After many months of uncertainty as to the administration of higher education in the state of Oregon, the board of regents appointed George W. Peavy, for many years dean of the school of forestry, as acting president of the college. A banquet sponsored by the student body in honor of the appointment of President Peavy brought forth wide acclaim throughout the state and was attended by a large number of the faculty members, alumni, students, and honor guests.

The local Panhellenic has ruled that all rush affairs during closed rushing may have only simple flowers and place cards as decorations. It is believed that this new ruling, which has been used on several campuses, will eliminate the heavy financial burden of rush week.

The director of dormitories has allowed the chapter to move the rest of the pledges from the hall to the house. In order to accommodate the additional number the upstairs library and the hospital room have been turned into attractive study rooms.

Oregon B ranked third in scholarship on the campus this term and first among women's fraternities of fifteen members or more.

The chapter was happy to have Mrs. William Rusch, the new Lambda Province President, visit in the early part of January. The night before her departure, a cooky-shine and an informal "get-together," attended by actives and several alumnae, was held in her honor.

February 23, Oregon B entertained with a dance carrying out the idea of a country club. The house was decorated with various trophies and cups, polo sticks, golf clubs, and other decorations representative of summer sports.

Janet Millard was recently elected sergeant-at-arms of the associated women students. Alice Griffin has been awarded a scholarship to Merrill Palmer for the fall term of 1934, and has been appointed as co-chairman of mothers' week-end which is the outstanding event of spring term.

PLEGGED: Kathleen Blaine, Seaside; Alice Pauling, Astoria; Eloise Wyman, Portland.

CALIFORNIA ALPHA—STANFORD UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1893

Pledge Day, January 12, 1934

GRADUATES: Frances Bledsoe, 3330 Club Drive, Los Angeles, A.B.; Rose Cubbison, Stanford University, A.B.; Martha Ann Hotchkiss, El Cortez Hotel, San Diego, A.B.; Jane Snow, 1524 Hays St., Boise, Idaho, A.B.; Katrina Wallingford, 300 N. Terrace Drive, Wichita, Kan., A.B.

Stanford received a signal honor when on March 17 the FIDAC (Federation Interalliee des Anciens Combattants) medal for promotion of world peace was awarded at a special assembly. The work done by Professors Treat and Ichihashi of the history department, and by the research of the staff of the Hoover War Library was responsible for the award, made for "the promotion of peace and goodwill in the Far East."

The A.S.S.U. concert series ended with a recital by Walter Gieseking, February 6, and a concert by Rosa Ponselle, April 10. This annual series of musical concerts by the finest artists procurable has proven to be one of the most popular cultural events on the campus. Both students and outsiders may attend, but the season tickets available to students make it both reasonable and worthwhile.

Students supported the drive made in March for funds to send the track team to compete in the annual meet of the Intercollegiate Amateur Athletic Association of America. A track meet, in which stars from all over California took part, and a Rally Committee dance was held, the profits from both being turned over to the Athletic Board to finance the trip.

A series of Tuesday night lectures by department heads on the advantages offered in the various divisions of the curriculum have proved entertaining and helpful. The purpose of these talks is to aid students in choosing a major and to familiarize others with the fields other than their own.

A new tradition was started—the Sophomore Carnival which took place in April. It was given for the Student Benefit Fund, and Bobby Steinbeck and Holley Arthur were on the committee to arrange for it.

Charlotte Gibner was elected to Cap and Gown, honorary women's fraternity, and Katrina Wallingford received acclaim for her part in the reading of "The Affairs Of Anatol" sponsored by Masquers.

Betty Jane Hedden now holds the position of United Press editor of the Stanford Daily, while Virginia Johnson, Betty Miller, and Jane Kellogg have secured positions as reporters.

PLEGGED: Agnes Daily, Miriam Ward, Fort Smith, Ark.; Marjorie Wise, Portland, Ore.; Jane Seydell, Donna Evans, Wichita, Kan.; Barbara Jane Kegel, Henrietta Jones, Piedmont; Jean Straub, Los Gatos; Barbara Booth, San Francisco; Ruth Goodan, Los Angeles; Helen Shelton, Hollywood; Wythe Jenkins, Jeanette Munkelt, San Diego; Catherine Bates, Ely, Nev.; Adrienne Johnston, San Mateo; Katherine Moran, Flintridge; Marie Howard, Palo Alto; Juliette Proctor, Santa Rosa.

Success is practically assured for the erection of an experimental theater, by the announcement that an anonymous gift has been given the University. Workers in the field of the drama have been trying for quite a while to obtain this auditorium and are elated over the prospect.

A new idea has been suggested in the chapter to invite some professor to lead a discussion in his subject for a limited time after dinner. Having one every three or four weeks, the outlook on world affairs will be broadened and the girls will be in closer association with the faculty.

Founders' Day was observed on April 14 in Oakland by members and alumnae of the chapters of Stanford and California. Each chapter prepared a skit based on fraternity life.

The alumnae and mothers' clubs held their annual rummage sale on March 16 and 17; the results were very gratifying. Half of the proceeds are sent by the alumnae to the Settlement School and the mothers' club used half to improve the chapter house. This year they are planning to redecorate the dining room.

Jeannette Brown and Helen Leach were recently elected to Ace of Clubs and Elizabeth Dunning and Jeannette Brown were elected to Torch and Shield. Both are honorary societies for women. Three of the graduates have attained high positions on major campus publications and are in the senior hall of fame. Eleanor Breed is a member of Mortar Board.

PLEGGED: Joan von Schmidt, Alameda; Eleanor Holmes, Sacramento.

CALIFORNIA GAMMA—UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Chartered, 1917

Pledge Day, March 5, 1934

GRADUATES: June Bradford, 1505 Old Mill Rd., San Marino; Helena Dingle, 132 S. Kilkea, Los Angeles; Christy Fox, 617 N. Rodeo, Beverly Hills; Roberta von Kleinsmid, R.F.D. 6, Box 48, Phoenix, Ariz.; Jane Wall, 7390 Magnolia, Riverside.

A student's forum has been organized at the University of Southern California. The purpose is to promote freedom of speech for the students. Outstanding speakers are obtained for each meeting, and after the address, free discussion is opened. Both national and local problems are discussed, and include religious, social, and foreign relations problems.

A cantata, "Seven Last Words of Christ," was presented on March 21, by the combined choral groups of the university assisted by the university concert orchestra.

W.S.G.A., for the first time, is publishing an activity book, which will help women interested in activities to have access to all the information necessary to them, and will provide permanent record blanks for women to fill out with their activities. Roberta von Kleinsmid, who has been president of W.S.G.A. for the last year, is responsible for the book's taking form. Elizabeth Dean, sophomore, was elected secretary of W.S.G.A. at the last election.

February 12 was "Gamma Night," when all the alumnae of California  $\Gamma$  have a reunion. This time, in addition to being a reunion for Gammas, it was in honor of Mrs. Arthur's eighteenth anniversary as chaperon of the chapter. The Gammas presented her with a writing desk and pen set.

On February 15, California  $\Delta$  came to this house for dinner, and to see some pictures of Yellowstone Park. Two members of Grand Council: Mrs. Warren T. Smith, Grand Vice President, and Mrs. T. N. Alford, ARROW Editor, and the new Mu Province President, Mrs. D. F. Smith, were there as guests of honor.

Roberta von Kleinsmid was elected to  $\Phi K \Theta$ , and Jean Williams to  $\Lambda K \Delta$ , sociology honorary fraternity.

PLEGGED: Jean Colkitt, Los Angeles; Frances Dunlop, Glendale; Helen Fulton, Chicago, Ill.; Maxine Harris, San Diego; Jane Hereford, Pasadena; Ruth Nurmi, Fresno.

GRADUATES: Marion McCarthy, Dorothy Welbourn, Los Angeles; Jane Taylor, Hollywood; Margaret Campbell, Glendale; Ruth Hill, Santa Monica; Gertrude Mason, Sacramento; Carolyn Goldwater, Phoenix, Ariz.

This spring the chapter started a series of informal teas in order to promote a feeling of friendliness on the campus. Each member may invite as many guests as she wishes, either students or professors. The teas have proved very successful and will no doubt be continued next semester.

Mary Badger was recently initiated into  $\Lambda X \Delta$ , honorary economics sorority; Mary Sue Howard has been admitted into the university dramatics society. Carolyn Goldwater is to have her picture in the personality section of the yearbook.

Carolyn Goldwater is chairman of the intersorority friendship committee, which, under the direction of the Panhellenic Council, arranges exchange luncheons between sororities as a means of fostering friendship. They are also planning a tea for all of the pledges on the campus.

March 23, U.C.L.A. celebrated the sixty-sixth anniversary of the founding of the University of California.

California  $\Delta$  is planning a dinner in honor of President Sproul on his next visit to U.C.L.A. in June. As the two sections of the University of California are some five hundred miles apart, the president has to divide his time between them.

Early in February the annual tin-can dance was held in Maple Hall, the hall being appropriately decorated with tin cans and various other objects from the "dump" heap to make it very informal. Representatives from the various sororities were invited to attend.

Winifred Walsh, Margaret Traner, Mary Vaughn, and Amelia Zorich were elected to  $X \Delta \Phi$ , national honorary English society. To be eligible for election to this society, the candidate must have an average of 2 or above in English for two semesters.

Mrs. Ruth Barrett Smith, Grand Vice-President, visited the chapter the early part of March. An informal reception was held at the house, mothers and alumnae being invited to attend. The new initiates and the pledges worked up a skit and composed a song for the occasion, both of which were very clever. The double quartet, made up of actives, also entertained with several songs.

The annual Mackay day celebration was postponed from its original schedule until the following week owing to the death of Governor Balzar of Nevada. Nevada  $\Delta$  now possesses a cup for winning the intersorority song contest which was held at the luncheon.

Nevada  $\Delta$  again entertained the state forensic contestants with a breakfast at the house. This has been a custom for several years and is always looked forward to by the contestants and the chapter.

Pledge Day, January, 1934

INITIATED, March 4, 1934: Junia Foster, Tucson; Marilynn Fox, El Paso; Gertrude Johannessen, Phoenix; Alice Huffman, Tucson; Jane Keel, Abilene, Kan.; Mary Luckett, El Paso, Tex.;

Jeanne Metcalf, Tucson; Catherine Newton, Lander, Wyo.; Dorothy Roby, Phoenix; Betty Fee Spears, Cisco, Tex.

GRADUATES: Dorothy Roby, Route 2, Box 110, Phoenix; Roberta Sainsbury, St. Johns; Eleanor Smith, 6458 El Cajon Blvd., San Diego, Calif.; Kathryn Stephenson, 6410 Wenonga Rd., Kansas City, Mo.; Katherine Teague, San Dimas, Calif.

Arizona  $\Delta$  won first place in scholarship standing on the campus. In honor of the achievement the actives were guests of the alumnae at dinner on April 11. Roberta Sainsbury was awarded a fellowship in home economics and will return next year to work on her master's degree. Irma Bayles and Gertrude Johannessen were initiated into  $\Delta E$ , honorary commerce fraternity; Colony Kinsley was pledged to  $\Pi \Sigma \Delta$ , mathematics fraternity.

Elnora Little was elected president of the archery club. Both Elnora Little and Mary Jane Hayden competed in the state archery tournament held in March. Frances Huddleson received a riding crop for being the best university woman rider in the annual rodeo parade. The rodeo is one of the most colorful events in Tucson and attracts many winter visitors.

Panhellenic rules have been reorganized and accepted by the sororities. Kathryn Stephenson was chairman of the committee which made new regulations providing for a court of appeals, extension of control, and more severe and regulated penalization.

The international relations group sponsored a dinner at the commons on March 10. Dr. Holton, as guest speaker, gave a comprehensive survey of the "War Debt Settlement." On March 19, the university was privileged in hearing Dr. A. E. Douglas speak on "Tree Rings and Prehistoric Cities." Dr. Douglas is a renowned astronomer and originator of the tree ring method for the measurement of prehistoric time.

Kay Teague and Kathryn Stephenson were members of the archaeological expedition which went into Mexico to study prehistoric caves and pueblo ruins of Chihuahua.

Spring music festival week was observed March 21-26. Frances-Huddleson, pianist, took part in a student recital. Anne Donofrio and Emily Watkins sang in the "Seasons," which was presented by the university oratorio society.

Kay Teague, as vice-president of the local A.W.S., was co-chairman of the committee in charge of the A.W.S. convention held April 17-21. Meetings were relieved by social events.

The chapter entertained at a "Mother Goose" party. The hostesses and guests came costumed as characters from nursery rhymes. Following the coded formal held on St. Patrick's Day, the members entertained their guests at a supper party held at the house. The actives and the Phoenix alumnae were hostesses at a garden tea given March 30, at the home of D. A. Donofrio in Phoenix. High school girls of the city were guests. The formal dinner dance is planned as a May event.

PLEGGED: Emily Watkins, Birmingham, Ala.; Helen Jimerson, Kansas City, Mo.

AFFILIATED: Mary Elizabeth Perkins.
RUSH CHAIRMAN: Mary Jane Hayden, 87th and Brooklyn, Kansas City, Mo.

The girls of Utah are anxious to entertain the members from other chapters on their way to Convention. It is the chapter's wish that every  $\Pi B \Phi$  may know that she personally is extended an invitation to stop here before she goes to Yellowstone Park. Plans are made for the many girls whom the chapter hopes to have as guests in Salt Lake City, even though the time be short.

An event of wide interest was the installation of  $A X D$ , national social sorority, on this campus. The installation, which took place in March, is of especial significance since it marks the disappearance of the last local chapter from the Utah campus.

One of the features of the main rush period was a double quartet. A group of eight girls worked out several  $\Pi B \Phi$  songs, some of which the chapter had never heard. Soon the fraternities on the campus heard of the double quartet, and the girls were requested to sing before the men rushees. They sang for many of the fraternities, learning for each one the fraternity's favorite song.

Katherine Ritchie is a newly initiated member of  $X \Delta \Phi$ , national literary fraternity for women.

The chapter has given some unusually clever parties under the direction of Beatrice McCrea, social chairman. Early in February, the chapter was entertained at a "Devil's Hop." The walls of the hall and living room were lined with black paper on which were red imprints of hands. Red was the keynote everywhere. Refreshments consisted of doughnuts served on miniature pitchforks and red punch.

MARYLAND ALPHA "ALSO RANS"

Maryland A has five seniors who were elected as "Also Rans." Every year, a few days after the  $\Phi B K$  elections are announced, Goucher College acclaims those girls who came close—perhaps they surpassed in realms other than that of study—to achieving a  $\Phi B K$  key. Everybody knows that there's many an earnest, independent, yes brilliant student who has dared to take subjects and forgot to reckon on the grades she might get—the student who is just not sufficiently inspired in certain required subjects to do honor work in them. These girls have done more than merely study. They have upheld qualification grades, and at the same time carried on or participated in most of the activities at Goucher College.

For such a student there's consolation at Goucher, there's some distinction, jocular and good-natured, but publicly acknowledged. The honorable order of "Also Rans" now have their day; those who did not make the Brain Trust are solaced with Brobdingnagian keys of card-board, which they hang about their necks beside corsages of paper flowers. For a whole day they wear them, sweetly independent, acknowledging no essential defeat, living proof that all is not mind that phi-betas.

Maryland A is proud of the quality and quantity of her contribution to the "Also Ran" Fraternity.

Genevieve Jessup is now employed by the Denver Charities Association as an instructor and field worker. Her Denver address is 2042 Creighton Ave. Betty Johnston Thompson is also employed by the same association.

Concerted action to prove to colleges, educators, and the public that American fraternities are a constructive force in academic life was taken at the recent joint meeting of the Executive Committee of the National Interfraternity Conference and its Educational Advisory Committee at the Williams Club in New York City.

A new working formula, in the form of fraternity criteria and intended to establish closer cooperation between fraternity and educational institution, was set up by the Conference. The criteria are the first formal declaration of the Conference in regard to definite standards of responsibility of the fraternity to colleges and universities. The new platform declares that the fraternity is under obligation to encourage the most complete personal development of its members, intellectual, physical, and social.

The standards, adopted at a joint meeting of the Executive Committee and the six deans of the Educational Advisory Committee are:

"We consider the fraternity responsible for a positive contribution to the primary functions of the colleges and universities, and therefore under an obligation to encourage the most complete personal development of its members, intellectual, physical, and social. Therefore we declare:

1. That the objectives and the activities of the fraternity should be in entire accord with the aims and purposes of the institutions at which it has chapters.
2. That the primary loyalty and the responsibility of a student in his relations with his institution are to the institution, and that the association of any group of students as a chapter of a fraternity involves the definite responsibility of the group for the conduct of the individual.
3. That the fraternity should promote conduct consistent with good morals and good taste.
4. That the fraternity should create an atmosphere which will stimulate substantial intellectual progress and superior intellectual achievement.
5. That the fraternity should maintain sanitary, safe, and wholesome physical conditions in the chapter house.
6. That the fraternity should inculcate principles of sound business practice both in the chapter finances and in the business relations of its members.

These criteria, states the National Interfraternity Conference, should be applied in close cooperation with the administrative authorities of the institutions, with detailed methods of application necessarily varying in accordance with local conditions. It is the purpose of the National Interfraternity Conference to offer suggestions, after further study and investigation, regarding practical steps to make this cooperation effective.

ALPHA PROVINCE

BOSTON CLUB

The March business meeting was devoted to a discussion of proposed constitutional changes, directed by E. Louise Richardson, Alpha Province Vice-President. Mrs. Claire Groh Monroe was in charge of the refreshments which were donated by members of chapters other than Massachusetts A.

Many chapters were represented at the Founders' Day luncheon in the Pioneer Dining Room, Boston Y.W.C.A., on April 28 at one o'clock. The annual business meeting was followed by a special program, held at two-thirty.

All Pi Phis in and around Boston are urged to attend the summer reunion and picnic at the home of Mrs. Anna Robinson Nickerson, 28 Rock Island Road, Quincy, Massachusetts, at noon on July 14.

VIRGINIA CROOKER

BUFFALO CLUB

In February the Buffalo Alumnae Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Homer H. Woods. About twenty members were present. Mrs. Wilbur L. Leonard, Settlement School chairman, reported on the demonstration dinner held in January and given by a representative of the Aluminum Company of America. A percentage of all sales made went to our Settlement School fund. The club will be able to make its usual contribution to the School thanks to the untiring efforts of Mrs. Leonard.

At the March meeting new officers for the coming year were elected and were installed at the luncheon held on Founders' Day. We hope to have some of the Pi Phis from Niagara Falls with us on that day.

ADELAIDE M. ROBERTSON

BURLINGTON CLUB

The most interesting event in the club, since our last letter to the ARROW is the party which was given to our Mothers' Club. It was in the form of a Valentine Supper served by alumnae members. Seating arrangements were planned so that every member sat by some other member's mother. Following the supper a short program of readings and music was given and then an informal social hour was observed. The weather proved as severe as such an unusual winter can produce but nevertheless twenty mothers and about as many alumnae appeared, some having driven several miles.

An innovation in our program was tried in March. We asked a speaker from outside our club or club interests to bring us a message. Dr. Katherine McSweeney was fortunate enough to procure Miss Florence Maddock, a state Y.W.C.A. worker, who gave us an inspiring, though informal talk on "How a Woman May Justify Her Existence." At this meeting our pledges were entertained.

Another departure from custom will come in April when the club will serve the Initiation Banquet at the chapter house. The object in this is not so much to make money as to save money and to further develop the feeling that the chapter house is the center for the chapter's activity. We hope for a visit from our Province Vice President at this time.

In April too a benefit bridge is planned to raise money to offset the amount we miss by not having all chapter house rooms occupied this season.

Vermont Beta has been founded thirty-five years and we hope to make some special recognition of this fact before the year passes.

LOIS B. HORSFORD

HARTFORD CLUB

The Hartford Club with the cooperation of other organized alumnae groups has arranged for a luncheon on April 7, which all college fraternity women in and around Hartford will attend. We hope to make this Panhellenic gathering an annual affair.

The committee in charge of Founders' Day is trying to have 100 per cent attendance at the luncheon. The New Haven club will celebrate with us on that day. The meeting will be at the Town and County Club in Hartford.

In May, the Western Massachusetts Club will be our guests for luncheon. Mrs. Paul, who has spent many years in China, is going to show costumes from that country and tell us about their customs.

We hope that at least one of our members will be able to attend convention. If we are not represented by a delegate, we plan to send an exhibit to show what we have done in our first year as a separate club.

ERMINIE L. POLLARD

NEW YORK CLUB

At the February meeting, Mr. Lawton Mackall gave a most interesting talk on Portugal, which he illustrated with slides. Autographed copies of his book, "Portugal for Two," were sold, the profits from these sales going into our Settlement School fund. Mrs. Mackall is a member of the club. The book is the story of their travels in Portugal.

The annual Panhellenic ball was held, March 2, at the Hotel Plaza, New York City.

A bridge tea was given Wednesday afternoon, March 7, at the Panhellenic Hotel.

At the general meeting, March 24, in addition to reports and election of officers, book reviews were given. Mercedes Jorgulesco reviewed, "Soldiers—What Next?" by Katherine Mayo, and books from Pi Phi Pens. Frances de Lamater Kretschmann reviewed books by Don Marquis and Evelyn Ibrig talked on current Broadway productions.

Founders' Day, the last general gathering of the year, was celebrated with a luncheon at the Panhellenic Hotel. Convention will be discussed and pictures of Yellowstone National Park will be shown by the Northern Pacific Railway Company.

Our delegate to convention will be Annette Burkelman. Kathryn Hearle is chairman of our exhibit.

JEAN PATTERSON

ROCHESTER CLUB

The Rochester Alumnae Club of Pi Beta Phi had its regular January meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert K. Burns with Mrs. Maynard Cassidy as assisting hostess. The program was given by Miss Lois Lawrence who told about her trip to Europe last summer. The club learned at this meeting that one of its members, Louise Cassidy, had been selected as Alpha Province President.

Mrs. Emery A. Brownell and Mrs. Chas. L. Rumrill were hostesses at the February meeting at which it was decided to start a book club in order to raise money for the Settlement School. Mrs. Robt. E. Waldon and Mrs. Franklyn S. Pulver had charge of the program about the Constitution.

The March meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Chas. L. Rumrill with Miss Eleanor Good and Mrs. Richard C. Wiestling as hostesses. Mrs. C. R. Pearson was elected Vice President and Mrs. Franklyn Pulver Secretary for the next two years. Miss Florence Ford gave a very interesting talk on "The Abandoned City of Angkor" which she visited last year.

DOROTHY W. PULVER

SYRACUSE CLUB

The Syracuse Alumnae Club enjoyed a delightful evening of music on January 26, after a dinner at the home of Mrs. Schuyler Black. Josephine Sullivan, daughter of Sara French Sullivan, rendered selections on the harp. Marjory Almy Carlton, accompanied by Rena Barry Skerritt, sang for us. Several of the selections were Mrs. Skerritt's own compositions. A charming surprise was the setting to music by Rena Skerritt, of the poem, "Preference," written by Della Mae Black, and sung beautifully by Marjory Carlton. We have many talented members of New York A, Charlotte Lansing and Doris Onderdonk Jelks being two of the outstanding ones.

TORONTO CLUB

The club has grown so large that we know very little of the personal activities of our members. The January meeting attempted to overcome this difficulty by having a very interesting report from Dorothy Harding on some of the things being done by our alumnae, and Helen Anderson gave a delightful account of her interview with Cornelia Otis-Skinner.

In February we had planned to have a bridge in aid of the Settlement School. We were delighted to have a visit from Mrs. Stebbins at the same time. She came to the party at Dorothy Carson's and added much to our enjoyment. Mrs. Stebbins is a very attractive and helpful visiting officer. We shall always be glad to welcome her.

The March meeting was strictly intellectual. Vi Anderson, our outstanding exponent of modern poetry, gave us a well prepared paper on Modern Poetry. Her reading of some of the shorter poems of T. S. Elliott, Gertrude Stein, etc., with an illuminating commentary, was stimulating and we had a glimpse of what the moderns are trying to do.

ELIZABETH CRUIKSHANK

BETA PROVINCE

AKRON CLUB

On Saturday, January 27, Sigma Delta Theta sorority of Akron University entertained the Pi Beta Phi alumnae club most enjoyably with a bridge tea at the Woman's City Club. Mrs. U. M. McCaughery assisted in pouring.

A regular meeting was held Wednesday, January 31, at the home of Mrs. H. L. Dorman and daughter, Edith (Michigan Alpha). Mrs. William O'Neill, who has since moved to Buffalo and whose departure is much regretted, assisted the hostesses.

A luncheon was held Saturday, February 24, at the Marialta Tea House, for the purpose of making final arrangements for the benefit bridge which the club sponsored Friday, March 2. A nice sum was realized therefrom for the Settlement School.

PAULINE BARCUS CUNNINGHAM

CINCINNATI CLUB

The Cincinnati Pi Phis have had three meetings since the last letter was written. In January, Mrs. Ben Bryant entertained at a bridge-luncheon. This was a large meeting, and enthusiastic plans were made for our benefit bridge. It was decided to have each member give a party in her own home instead of having one large party. These parties were given the last two weeks in February. The prizes came from the Settlement School products—one prize for each table—and each guest paid 25 cents. The final report of the proceeds from this will be given at the early April meeting. All Pi Phis joined in this wholeheartedly and we look for a good report.

The February meeting, at Erma Ichie's, was the yearly cooky-shine. We were very happy to have Mrs. Curtis as a guest at that meeting. The table was beautifully decorated in large arrows made of candy hearts. Fraternity songs were sung and a business meeting followed. Mrs. Curtis gave us news of other clubs, and many helpful hints as to money making schemes for the club.

The annual bridge party for the men was held in March at the home of Mrs. Wright. A lovely dinner was followed by an evening of bridge. Each couple brought a 'white elephant' for a prize. Everyone had a most enjoyable time.

Every effort is being made to raise money and the treasury is swelling. We hope to have a large donation to send to the Settlement School this year.

MRS. L. BURTON RIVERS

COLUMBUS CLUB

The Columbus Alumnae Club has had very interesting meetings this year. The January meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Russell Tobias. Mrs. James Lord gave some entertaining reviews of current books.

At the February meeting plans were made for a series of benefit bridge parties, the proceeds of which were for the house fund. Several members of the club volunteered the use of their homes for the parties. Mrs. Howard Nudd was hostess for this spread. The active chapter presented a delightful program.

Mrs. Jerry Murphy entertained the club at the home of her mother, Mrs. Wendell Paddock, on March 5. Mrs. Ernest Carman gave a most interesting talk concerning her trip to the Settlement School. Plans for Founders' Day were well under way at the time of this meeting. It is hoped that all active chapters and alumnae clubs in the state will be able to have a dinner in Columbus on April 28.

VIVIAN HART RENSHAW

HARRISBURG-LANCASTER CLUB

The club started the new year with a most interesting Settlement School meeting at the home of Mrs. Belt. Slides were shown depicting the activities and work of the Settlement School. These proved to be quite instructive for all members of the club. As a means of raising money for the School, each member agreed to have a private benefit card party of her own, turning the proceeds over to the club. In the February meeting, quite a few successful card parties were reported. The March meeting was held by Mrs. Prince in Carlisle, and, in spite of the bad weather, turned out to be a successful affair. Plans were made to celebrate Founders' Day with a luncheon at the Old Stone Inn on April 28, and a breakfast meeting for May was announced.

MARGARET HANDSHAW

OHIO VALLEY CLUB

This year the club has as its president Mrs. Carl Gustky (Jean Haller). To the list of officers the club has added a publicity chairman, a program chairman, and a Panhellenic representative.

At the February meeting Genevieve Brown reviewed "Separate Star" by Mary Badger Wilson, one of our Pi Phi authors. At the March meeting the historical and constitutional program proved to be quite interesting. At this same meeting the club presented their past president, Dorothy Farnell, with a gift in appreciation of her sincere guidance through the club's first year. We celebrated Founders' Day April 28 with a dinner party. Hilda Owens sang some Pi Phi songs and a playlet was given under the direction of Helen Anderson. Husbands and escorts were invited to this meeting.

The club is planning a benefit bridge in May in order to contribute to the Undergraduate Loan Fund and the Settlement School. The club has decided to keep a scrapbook and guest book combined. It is to be kept up by the corresponding secretary.

SOUTHERN NEW JERSEY CLUB

Our club has been very gay with lots of parties and just one business meeting since our last letter. In January we made a tour of the Franklin Institute Museum and Planetarium in Philadelphia under the able leadership of Mrs. Matlock. In February we gave two card parties, one in Haddonfield at the home of Mrs. Puff, and one in Moorestown at the home of Mrs. Powers. At these we collected $57.00 for the Settlement School. Our business meeting in March was at the Woodbury Country Club where we met for luncheon. The program was most interesting. Miss Florence Pratt gave us a talk on "Lenten and Spring Foods." Mrs. Eugene Corderey, who had just returned from the N.E.A. convention in Cleveland, told us of the modern problems in education, and made us feel something of the crisis through which our schools are passing.

MARGARET POWERS

TOLEDO CLUB

The Toledo Alumnae Club celebrated Valentine's Day and George Washington's Birthday with an evening bridge party held in the up-river home of Mrs. Joseph L. Hampe on February 17. Fourteen couples attended the party. At midnight a Dutch lunch was served. Tables were decorated in red, white, and blue.

Founders' Day will be observed on April 21 with a luncheon at the Toledo Women's Club. Mrs. George Bradley is in charge of the arrangements, and is assisted by Mrs. Joseph Willis, Mrs. Frank Powell, and Mrs. Vradenberg. The luncheon will be followed by installation of officers.

GAMMA PROVINCE

RICHMOND CLUB

The Richmond Alumnae Club is proud in having a larger average attendance this year than ever before. Each month has brought together a group representing many different chapters.

The usual Christmas Cookie-Shine was a lovely event with President Emeritus May L. Keller as hostess. The March meeting was a supper party at the home of Adelaide Rotherth, with the active chapter from William and Mary College as guests. Both events will add riches to our memory stores.

Coming Events—

April (Date to be announced)—Dinner Party in honor of Mrs. Emma Sippel, Province Vice-President as honored guest.

April 28—"Founders' Day" Luncheon at The Gypsy Tavern, City.

April Meeting—At the home of Mrs. Ruth Gay.

May Meeting—At the State Industrial Farm for Women, Elizabeth M. Kates, hostess.

WASHINGTON CLUB

An increasing interest has been shown this year in alumnae club activities. In January the Washington Alumnae Club met at the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association where it enjoyed a program given to the discussion of Pi Phis with interesting positions. Mrs. Harvey Wiley spoke on local liquor control and of her interest in the Tugwell Food Bill. Mrs. Friedman, cryptographer, thrilled the club with stories of code deciphering. Miss Jones, librarian at the N.R.A., related some of her experiences with that organization. Mrs. Atherton reported on the benefits of speech correction in public schools. About ten members of the active chapter were with us at this meeting.

The Panhellenic luncheon, always well attended in Washington, was privileged to have Mrs. Roosevelt as guest of honor and speaker. A large number of Pi Phis were present at the luncheon on February 10 at the Mayflower Hotel.

Mrs. Byron U. Graham was hostess to the members of the club in March at her spacious home on Bradley Lane. Mr. Clifford K. Berryman, cartoonist for The Evening Star, gave an illustrated talk on his many experiences as portrayer of political life in the capital city. His daughter, Miss Florence Berryman, and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Louise Rhee Berryman, are members of the Washington Alumnae Club.

Thoughts of convention in Yellowstone are uppermost at present in the minds of several members of the club who are planning to attend this Thirty-First Biennial Convention in one of America's lovely parks.

ANN ARBOR CLUB

The Advisory Board entertained the pledges at luncheon on initiation day at the home of Mrs. Homer Heath.

A tea was held at the home of Mrs. A. H. White on Saturday, March 31, at which the officers were elected for next year.

Founders' Day was celebrated in Hillsdale this year. Our club looked forward with a great deal of pleasure to the luncheon which was held at East Hall on their campus.

MAR KELLER

BLOOMINGTON CLUB

Delta Tau Delta honored one of its members, Dean Edmondson, recently with a tea for his outstanding work as Dean of the Liberal Arts school of Indiana University. He is the husband of Anna Hatfield Edmondson.

The following telegram was sent by the Bloomington Alumnae Club to Carrie Chapman Catt on her recent birthday. "We, the Indiana Beta Alumnae Club of Pi Beta Phi, extend sincere birthday greetings. We are proud of our relation through fraternal bonds to one of such splendid achievement whose life has been devoted to the elevation of womanhood. We in the wine and blue, join a nation with our honor."

A very interesting letter from Frances Whitley Harris of Indiana Beta, now of Hollywood, California, was received and read at the last alumnae meeting.

Mrs. Carolyn Karsell and daughter Elizabeth have returned from a month's visit with the former's sister in New York City.

Ex-Senator and Mrs. Wm. Hoadley (Lucille Hughes) have returned from a trip to New York City.

The Alumnae Club, which was divided into three groups to make money for the Settlement School, is quite busy with their plans. One group has held successfully a Valentine party and a dance. Another group will sponsor a bridge party soon. The third group is planning an Old Magazine and Candy sale.

Mrs. PHIL N. ESKEW, Secretary

DETROIT CLUB

The Alumnae Club of Detroit is having a good year under the leadership of Gladys Finch, president.

Since our last letter, we have had two general parties, besides the usual monthly meeting of each group.

On January 24, the West Side group gave a tea, and the chance to just visit, which was the idea of the teas this year, was very much enjoyed.

A dessert-bridge at the Wardell, February 10, was quite successful, both as a good time, and for raising some money for the Settlement School. Selling home-made candy at the tables helped out quite a little.

Shortly before that we accepted an offer by the Towle Manufacturing Company to make a study of flat table silver. We found it quite interesting, and were happy to make seventy-five dollars.

We are sorry to lose Mrs. Wild as Province Vice-President when we had gotten to know and enjoy working with her, but will welcome Mrs. Burt, who as we already know, is full of enthusiasm for Pi Phi work.

Our coming events include a state meeting at Hillsdale College for Founders' Day, April 28, and an East Side group tea in May.

ANNA S. GROFF

FORT WAYNE CLUB

The Fort Wayne Alumnae Club was entertained at a Valentine dinner at the home of Mrs. Edgar N. Mendenhall. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Gordon Graham, Mrs. William Boggess, and Mrs. Stephen Dinius. The meeting was in the interest of one of the Indiana chapters, and a bridge tournament was played with teams of members to represent each Indiana chapter. Purdue was the winner, and it was decided to send damask napkins to the chapter at Lafayette.

The March meeting was a dinner at the home of Mrs. W. E. Thornton who was assisted by Mrs. R. A. Crosby. At the business meeting following, Mrs. Merle Abbott, vice-president, assumed the office of president for the remainder of the year in place of Mrs. Roland Burt, who has been appointed vice-president of Delta Province. Mrs. Burt (Aline Morton, Wisconsin A) has been very active in our club during the several years in which she has lived in Fort Wayne, and has contributed much to the club as an enthusiastic and efficient president.

Because of Fort Wayne's proximity to Hillsdale, Michigan, we were invited to celebrate Founders' Day there with the Michigan chapters. The majority of our members had already planned to attend the Indianapolis State Luncheon. However, we expect to have two representatives at Hillsdale.

HELEN JONES DINIUS

FRANKLIN CLUB

Our birthday party in January was a marked success with about seventy present. Our birthday pennies amounted to something over $47. Again we were fortunate to have with us, Miss Jennie Zeppenfeld, a charter member of our chapter, Miss Sarah Covert, the first initiate, and Mrs. James Deere, the first pledge.

In February we had the privilege of a few days' visit from Miss Onken. It just happened that she was here for a regular dinner meeting which was held at the home of Pansy Barnett. We were all encouraged and inspired by her visit.

Our March meeting was held at the home of Hazel Hougham. Elizabeth Myers talked on the constitution, stressing the parts affecting alumnae, explaining late changes and the proposed amendment.

We planned a mothers' tea for May and we are all looking forward to commencement and the June spread when so many alumnae meet with us.

DELTA M. BROWN

EPSILON PROVINCE

COLUMBIA CLUB

Since the appearance of the last ARROW the Columbia Club has held two meetings. The February meeting was held at the home of Queen Smith with Alma Hill and Helen Hungerford assisting. We were pleased to have with us Mrs.

Charles Daniel, our Province President, and she told us of several new money-making schemes. Mrs. W. A. Beiderlinden read several articles from the last ARROW. We were joined at tea by the mothers of the town members of the active chapter.

The March meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Herbert Reese with Mrs. Sherman Dickinson acting as assisting hostess. A discussion of the resolution sent to the club by the committee on educational qualifications was held.

The final report of the Settlement School committee was made. Founders' Day banquet plans were discussed.

The club accepted an offer from the Parks Dry Goods Company of 5 per cent commission on all purchases made by Pi Phis and their friends during March and April. The only requirement made was that Pi Beta Phi must be written on the sales slip at the time the purchases are made. At the close of the business meeting the juniors of the active chapter were entertained at tea.

Coming Events

May 3—Reports of the Advisory Board members; Entertainment of the Seniors; Hostesses, Mrs. Gene Smith, Mrs. Laws Watson, Mrs. J. H. Cour-sault. June 7—Summer Rushing Plans, Hostess, Mrs. John Allton.

SHIRLEY STORM DICKINSON

KANSAS CITY CLUB

The Kansas City Alumnae Club held its February meeting at the home of Mrs. J. W. Jenkins. A lovely luncheon was followed by a short business meeting. The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to bridge. The March meeting was perhaps the longest of the year. It was decided to have a rummage sale April 13 and 14 with Octa Acree in charge. Two hundred dollars was voted the amount to be sent the Settlement School. Katharine Lyons, our president, was chosen to be the convention delegate with Alice Bartlett as alternate. The Founders' Day celebration this year was a cooky-shine at the home of Mrs. Porter and voluntary contributions were taken at that time. The new constitution and by-laws were read and approved. After this business, Clarence Shepherd, a prominent architect of this city, talked on Oriental rugs, a subject in which he is well versed. Our April meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Paul Koontz with plans for the cooky-shine being discussed. A rushing committee report was made by Marian Simmons. The election of officers will be held the evening of the cooky-shine which was the last meeting of the year.

VIRGINIA WILBER TORRANCE

MEMPHIS CLUB

The Memphis Club was quite busy from Christmas till February 16 making plans to raise money for the Settlement School. At the January 3 meeting we planned an evening benefit bridge party to be given some time in February at the Peabody Hotel. We also devoted that meeting to an oral examination on the constitution and history of Pi Beta Phi. The remainder of the program was given over to a book review of Miss Bishop by Bess Streeter Aldrich.

February found the club quite socially minded. First, on the evening of the sixteenth, we had our benefit bridge party. The tables were placed in the Louis XVI Room of Hotel Peabody. At one end of the room we had an interesting display of Settlement School handicraft. Chances were sold on a handwoven scarf and a wood basket for the fireside. The table prizes were Italian ware ash trays. An ice course was served later in the evening. Homemade candy was also sold. We cleared about thirty dollars on our party. The Settlement School articles were kept over for a while and several members bought some of them.

On February 24, the Memphis Club was co-hostess with the A O II alumnae club to the city Panhellenic association. The meeting was held at the attractive A O II lodge on the Southwestern college campus. After a short business meeting a delightful book review of Christopher Morley's Thunder On the Left was given by Rabbi Ettleson. Tea was served to about seventy guests, during which time Miss Mary Walton Sohm, who was presented in a dance recital last spring, gave two interpretative dances, "Statuette" and "The Death Dance" from the opera "Thais." The color scheme carried out at the tea table and in the refreshments was dainty pastel shades. Baskets of jonquils were placed about the room.

At the March 22 meeting we discussed plans for a rummage sale to be given some time in May.

We had only two other meetings this year, the Founders' Day luncheon and a picnic in May, which closed our year's activities.

ELIZABETH MARKHAM

NASHVILLE CLUB

The Nashville Alumnae Club has had a very enjoyable year. Our monthly meetings are all planned and put in program form to be distributed at the first meeting in the fall. The October meeting was devoted to the amendments to the Constitution. Frances Helen Jackson, the hostess, gave the club a beautiful program of harp music.

In November the club was successful in raising money for the Settlement School. A benefit bridge was given at the home of Mrs. James Crabtree with the husbands of the club members as guests. This is an annual event of November.

Mrs. Paul Stricker gave an interesting review of "Modern Plays" for December. February 14—Valentine's Day—was a red-letter day for the Nashville Alumnae. A Panhellenic tea at the home of the president, Mrs. Gilbert Marshall, was given. It was a gala event and most successful. The officers of all local organized alumnae clubs were invited and also many representatives of national women's fraternities who do not have an active local alumnae club.

The March meeting was in the form of a bridge party with Mrs. J. T. McShane and Mrs. E. B. Wagner, joint hostesses. The prizes were articles from the Arrowcraft Shop.

In April we celebrated Founders' Day with a banquet at the Nashville Woman's Club and after the election of officers at the May meeting, we hope to have this club make a "pilgrimage" to Gatlinburg toward the last of May.

It has been a happy club year. Our members have found it true:

"As gold more splendid from the fire appears,
So friendship brightens with the length of years."

ELIZABETH GILL HUNT

ST. LOUIS CLUB

With most of the important business and money-raising projects of the year successfully completed, we turned our attention to the Founders' Day banquet which was held the end of April. At the March meeting we decided to have a formal affair and to follow the general idea of last year's delightful banquet. We again announced the winner of the bridge groups contest and had stunts, prizes, and speeches.

The club has been in close touch with the active chapter and at their initiation had a committee prepare supper and attend to all details so that the active girls could concentrate on a perfect initiation ceremony.

In April we elected new officers for next year. The members had already designated their choices for nomination by means of a primary election system.

ZETA PROVINCE

DELAND CLUB

The DeLand Alumnae Club held its March meeting at the home of Mrs. D. C. Hull. After the business of the club was transacted plans were made for Founders' Day at which time Stetson and Rollins chapters were invited to join the club at a luncheon to be given at DeLeon Springs Hotel. The club then discussed the Settlement School.

The club had an enjoyable time giving the Stetson chapter a surprise party on March 28 in the chapter room following the regular meeting.

FRANCES BARNES PICKENS

ST. PETERSBURG CLUB

The St. Petersburg Alumnae Club has met regularly during the season on the first Wednesday of each month. Genevieve Morris, Mrs. Harriet Endicott Johnson, and Elizabeth Wilhelm were hostesses for the January, February, and March, cooky-shines respectively.

At the last meeting the annual election of officers resulted in the selection of the following to serve for the coming year: Mrs. Nancy Lang Baynard, president; Alys Pilkington, vice-president; Katherine Warmington, secretary; and Nena Belle Green, treasurer.

Although the club occasionally has a visiting Pi Phi, we should like, through the pages of the ARROW, to extend a welcome to our meetings to any fraternity member passing a period of time in St. Petersburg.

AVON (LIBBIE BROOK-GADDIS) CLUB

On January 27, the Libbie Brook-Gaddis Alumnae Club met for a six o'clock dinner at the home of Edith Crissey with Jessie Gaddis, Fern Fennessy, and Ruth Woods as assisting hostesses.

The meeting was devoted to the history and management of the Settlement School. Margaret Lomax is now president due to the resignation of Mrs. Neita Ray Rhinehart.

HELEN HATCH

BELOIT CLUB

February 24 found several local alumnae with returning sisters present at the initiation ceremonies of Wisconsin B. We feel fortunate in having this opportunity to renew our initiation pledges.

At our regular February meeting the members of the executive council of Wisconsin B were our guests at dinner and an informal social evening. Hazel Weirick opened her home in Janesville for the March dinner, followed by an entertaining evening at cards. The eight graduating seniors were guests at a Saturday luncheon in early April. At our Founders' Day celebration, members appeared in costumes dating back to the year of our founding.

The Beloit Alumnae Club is happy that Barbara Piersen Thayer (Mrs. R. A.) has returned to Beloit, making a welcome addition to our membership.

CAROLYN E. SHEPARD

CHAMPAIGN-URBANA CLUB

The January meeting of the Urbana-Champaign Alumnae Club was held at the home of Mrs. George Huff. Following the regular business meeting the popular play "Let 'Em Eat Cake" by Ferber and Kaufman was read by Mrs. Albert Stern.

A social meeting was held February 20 with Mrs. George Clark as hostess. The committee's arrangements for bridge were slightly frustrated as most of the guests seemed more inclined to chatter over their knitting and embroidery.

The hospitality of Mrs. Maurice Hecker and her two small sons, Maurice and Jim, helped to make the March meeting a very enjoyable occasion. For the program feature Dean Leonard gave a very inspiring talk on the Conference of Deans of Women which she attended in February, together with the meeting of the Department of Superintendents of the National Educational Association which directly followed. Because of the combinations of these events Dean Leonard was able not only to have many interesting conferences, but also to hear some of the outstanding educators in the country give their opinions on the problems of present-day education.

At this time Mrs. Young, scholarship representative of the Advisory Board, gave a detailed report on the scholastic standing of the active chapter for the first semester. Since this report was made it has been officially announced that Pi Phi led all other sororities the first semester with a 3.771 average.

It was decided at the March meeting to commemorate Founders' Day with an informal cooky-sine to be held at the Pi Phi House. Each member will contribute fifty cents, half of which will be used for a buffet supper and the other half will be sent to the Settlement School.

Mrs. Maurice Hecker, our member in charge of the Arrowcraft articles, with her many ingenious ideas of salesmanship, manages to clear five or six dollars at each meeting of the club, to add to our annual gift of $100. Our club is equally strong in support of the Endowment Fund, which was the subject of discussion at our May meeting.

NELLE M. SIGNOR

CHICAGO CLUB (North)

At the December board meeting Mrs. Melvin Dawley was elected vice-president to take the place of Mrs. Dickens who moved to Washington, D.C. Mrs. Edgar Penney, our president, left for California in January for a two months' visit with her sons and their families. Her work was very ably carried on by Mrs. Dawley.

As a part of our scheme for raising funds for the Settlement School, the Alpha group of Chicago North held a most delightful bridge party at the home of Mrs. Calvin H. Pfingst, 6307 Fairfield Avenue, Saturday evening, February 24, for husbands and friends.

On March 24, the Gamma group gave a style show and bridge. The spring fashions were shown by Mrs. Aurel Burtis Kuhn at her lovely apartment, 2130 Lincoln Park West. The hats were furnished by Mr. Harry S. Frank. Our own girls were the models.

The Beta-Delta group have planned a dinner dance to be held at the Edgewater Beach Hotel, Thursday evening, March 29.

We were pleased to have Mrs. D. S. Sutton, our Province Vice-President, with us at our regular board meeting in March.

The seven clubs in Chicago area and active chapter at Illinois E held a joint Founders' Day luncheon in the Crystal Room at the Blackstone Hotel, April 21, at 1:30 P.M. We were fortunate in having Miss Onken as our guest and speaker this year.

Pi Beta Phi please communicate with Mrs. Edgar B. Penney, 1055 Granville Avenue, or Mrs. G. W. Wagner, 6222 Lakewood Avenue,
BLANCHE T. WAGNER

CHICAGO CLUB (SOUTH)

Chicago Club South had for its March meeting a cooky-shine at International House at the University of Chicago. About fifty members attended. We were pleased to have Mrs. Sutton for our guest of honor. She gave a very interesting talk.

As a prelude of convention, a representative of the Northern Pacific Railroad gave us two excellent movietones; one, Magic Yellowstone, and the other, The Dude Rancher.

The April meeting was a tea for the election of officers at the home of Carol O'Meara in Beverly Hills.

Founders' Day was celebrated with the other clubs in the Chicago area at a luncheon at the Blackstone.

JUNE ADAMS HORNER

CHICAGO BUSINESS WOMEN'S ALUMNÆ CLUB

As most members of our group are newcomers to Chicago, many of our meetings have taken the form of a city tour. The Chicago Lighting Institute, the Tribune plant, the National Broadcasting Company's studios, as well as the shortwave radio broadcasting and finger print departments at the Chicago police headquarters, have been some of the most interesting places visited.

Ruth Greenfield gave another delightful benefit, a dinner bridge this time, and quite a sum was raised which we hope to increase with our rummage sale.

The club has been happy to have Ruth Sutton as our guest at dinner.

MARGARET WEGENER

CHICAGO WEST SUBURBAN CLUB

Another year is nearly over in the history of our Pi Beta Phi clubs. To us this has been a year of unusual interest and enthusiasm, brought about, I am sure, by the extra effort we have all made to prove that there is no depression in our love and loyalty to Pi Beta Phi.

Our meetings throughout the year have been well attended, averaging over half of our enrollment, which is good considering the fact that our membership is drawn from ten different suburbs within an area of twenty-five miles.

Our January meeting was a musicale tea at the home of Mrs. Effie Patch Yeaton (Michigan A) in Western Springs. Our guest artist was Mr. Francis Creydon.

In February we entertained our husbands and "boy friends" at an evening party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Berry, Jr. (Helen Royer, Illinois Z), of Hinsdale. In spite of sub-zero weather, over eighty Pi Phis and guests were present. Two one-act plays were given by Alice Stevens and Dorothy Rice Lewis (both Illinois A). After the program, games of bridge and ping pong were arranged for those who cared to play. There was dancing and a supper was served. The gentlemen present voted unanimously to make this party an annual event.

Our March meeting was more of a business meeting and was held at the home of Nora Wray Wishard (Iowa A) of Western Springs. Lucile Evan Carpenter (Ohio A) reviewed the constitution, and the officers for the next year were nominated and elected. The social hour which followed was filled with knitting, chatting, and eating.

Our April meeting will be a benefit card party given to swell the fund to the Settlement School and will be in charge of Laura Reed Allen (Illinois A).

This year we will join the other Chicago clubs in the celebration of Founders' Day with a luncheon to be held at the Blackstone Hotel on April 21, and many are planning to attend.

Our May meeting will be held in Downers Grove with Myrtle Drew Nott (Illinois Z) as hostess, and will close this year's activities.

Hope many of us will meet in convention at Old Faithful Inn.

ADELINE RAYMOND GAYLORD

DECATUR CLUB

The first meeting of the year was a cooky-shine held at the chapter house on January 9. A large crowd attended the dinner and meeting afterwards. It was decided at this meeting the amounts to be sent to the Settlement School, the Loan Fund, Endowment Fund, and the Decatur Community Chest.

On February 13 the monthly meeting took the form of a get-together for games and fun.

The annual constitutional quiz was held on March 13. Questions and answers written on separate slips of paper were matched and read together for a review. A discussion of the procedure followed.

The April meeting, which was held on April 28, commemorated Founders' Day.

The semi-annual rummage sale was held on Friday and Saturday, April 13 and 14.

In February the Mountincaft Exhibit was shown at the Decatur Art Institute. Articles made at the Pi Beta Phi Settlement School were given much attention, and many orders were taken for these goods.

LENORE CHODAT

NORTH SHORE CLUB

At our November meeting at the Georgian Hotel in Evanston Miriam Simons Leuck gave us a very interesting talk on conditions in Europe last year, with particular emphasis on her impressions of Vienna and Austria.

Mrs. Harry Eugene Kelly reviewed Alice Roosevelt Longworth's Crowded Hours for our December meeting at the chapter house.

We enjoyed a luncheon at the chapter house in January, after which some of our members gave a splendid group reading of Eugene O'Neill's Ab, Wilderness, directed by Jean Burns.

In February Helen Phillips Hudson gave a musicale at the home of Marion Van Hoesen Martin in Evanston.

Jean Burns' dramatic interpretation of "The Road to Rome" was very popular, as her programs always are.

We made plans for a benefit bridge party and fashion show on April 6 in the Congregational Church House in Evanston. We had a food sale at the same time, and hoped to raise a large sum toward our Settlement School fund contribution.

KATHRYN C. MERRIAM

PEORIA CLUB

The Peoria Club has continued to hold regular monthly meetings with an average attendance of thirty. Everyone seems to enjoy the meetings very much this year. Most of the meetings have been devoted to the Settlement School but we plan to give our time the rest of the year to other interests of Pi Phi. In addition to having a sale of Settlement School products each member donates a quarter at each meeting which we divide among the Settlement School and the Endowment and Loan Funds.

We hope some of our members will be able to attend Convention and regret that not all of us will be able to go.

JEANNETTE BROWN McCUSKEY

ROCKFORD CLUB

Our meeting in March took the form of a desert-theater party. Dessert was served at the apartment of Edith Whiting with Florence Berck assisting. Afterwards a business meeting was held and then the party adjourned to the movies.

Almost all of the year's meetings have been held in the various homes of the members, but Founders' Day was the exception and was observed on April 28 at a noon day luncheon at a local tea room.

During February a group of members visited the Beloit active chapter in whose welfare our alumnae chapter is much interested. We found during an interesting evening that the chapter is functioning this year with a strong active membership.

Efforts on the part of the Settlement School chairman have made possible the sending of approximately $12 to the school.

The year probably will be closed with a picnic in June, after the election of officers.

FLORENCE BERCK

THETA PROVINCE

AMES CLUB

The meetings of the Ames Club have taken on a very social nature this year, the members showing a tendency to linger and visit. In November the club gave a large tea at the chapter house to display Settlement School products. The sale of these has been very successfully carried out during the past two years by Mrs. H. L. Eichling.

The husbands of members were entertained at a potluck dinner at the chapter house in October, the pledges at a luncheon at the Dodds' home in December, the seniors at the Schleiter home in January. The active chapter joined the club in a cooky-shine at the home of Mrs. Floyd Johnston in February. Other luncheons have been at the Stafford and Knapp homes. All the members of Pi Beta Phi gathered for a Founders' Day luncheon on April 28.

Good results were obtained from a rummage sale held long after every member thought her attic was empty. A plant, bulb, and shrubbery sale is planned for this spring to raise further money for the Settlement School. The club has made a number of robes for the active chapter.

We expect Laura Storms Knapp, Theta Province Vice-President, to bring us inspiration from Convention. June will probably find many Ames members on the road to Yellowstone.

JOSEPHINE HUNGERFORD DODDS

DES MOINES CLUB

The membership for the club has doubled that of last year.

The club has sent $10 to the Undergraduate Loan Fund and $25 on its pledge to the Endowment Fund.

There have been three evening meetings so far in order to reach those alumnae who can't attend the Saturday afternoon meetings. Each month, the club as a unit has tried to sponsor some project for raising money for the Settlement School. In February the club held a small benefit bridge at which it cleared over $12. In March, the club and friends attended a tour through one of the local wholesale grocery plants followed by lunch donated by the company with profit to the club.

Founders' Day is to be celebrated by a cooky-shine of just the local alumnae this year.

In early June the annual Flower Show of the city Garden Club will be held at the city water works park. During the three-day show the alumnae club is going to sell popcorn and exhibit Settlement School articles.

CANDACE SECOR ARMSTRONG

CEDAR RAPIDS CLUB

The Cedar Rapids Alumnae Club is planning a musicale for the evening of April 9, at the home of Mrs. W. J. Foster. Prof. Paul S. Ray and Dr. E. B. Dike of Coe College faculty will furnish the program. This is to be a benefit for the Settlement School.

The last meeting of the year will be a bulb and plant sale at Mrs. E. W. Spence's gardens. Each year Mrs. Spence sells bulbs to the Pi Phi and gives the proceeds to the Settlement School.

Mrs. L. D. Weld, who is on a trip around the world, sent us a card from Shanghai saying she met two Pi Phis there, and expected to meet another when she arrived in Canton.

ELLAIOUS K. O'BRIEN

DULUTH CLUB

There has been little if any news of the Duluth Alumnae Club this year due to some oversight on our part. Mrs. Ruby B. Olmstead, the recording secretary, has left for Chicago to make her home and she has asked me to complete her work for this year.

The first meeting last fall was in the form of a picnic, which will be repeated for the June luncheon. We have luncheon meetings the first Saturday of each month with an average attendance of fifteen members.

The evening bridge party to which the husbands and friends are invited was at the home of Mrs. Arthur Collins. This has proved a means of becoming better acquainted as well as adding to our treasury.

Each member is earning an extra dollar in any way that she desires to add to the Settlement School fund. A small sum will be used to add to the linen supply of Minnesota A chapter.

Several of our members have left town for the rest of the year. Among them are: Mrs. Ruby B. Olmstead, Evelyn Deighton, Corinne Whitely, and Elizabeth Huey.

At the March meeting at the Woman's Club, Mrs. Jim D. Hill led an interesting discussion of Current Literature. In April the meeting will be at her home in Superior, Wisconsin. She will be assisted by Mrs. W. C. Lounsbury. The traditional cooky-shine on Founders' Day at the home of Mrs. Elmer Blu and took the place of the regular May meeting.

Several have talked of driving to Convention at Yellowstone Park this summer.

ELEANOR ABBETT

MINNEAPOLIS CLUB

On March 16, the active chapter, St. Paul and Minneapolis Alumnae Clubs gave a tea in honor of our Grand President, Amy B. Onken. Miss Onken's visit was a great inspiration to all of us, especially her keen interest and enthusiasm about convention.

Our first meeting of the new year was a dinner held at the chapter house. We had as a guest speaker Mrs. Reginald Healy who gave a most interesting talk on "Public Affairs."

On Sunday, February 17, our alumnae club entertained the Mothers' Club and all mothers of alumnae at a tea at the home of Mrs. B. G. De Vries.

We had a very pleasant surprise at our last meeting on March 20, for we were privileged to have Mr. Dick Randall, father of Bess Randall Erskine, convention guide, as our guest. Besides telling us of all the wonderful things that are being planned to entertain Pi Phis at convention, he told us many interesting western stories. After his talk a regular business meeting was held at which there was election of officers for the coming year.

FRANCES M. SEIDL

SAINT PAUL CLUB

Mrs. Royce Martin was hostess for the January meeting of the St. Paul Alumnae Club, at which final plans for a study and sewing group were made. Besides the regular fourteen members who attended the first meeting at Mrs. Walter Hunt's home, there were seven guests. Mrs. Harrie Perkins reviewed "As the Earth Turns." The February meeting was at the home of Mrs. H. H. Miller. The sewing group met at Mrs. Healy's and started baby dresses for the Settlement School. Three of these were finished at the next meeting at Mrs. Martin's. Mrs. Harold Stubbs donated a large assortment of sample materials, from which the group are making rompers and dresses for two-year-olds to be sent to the Settlement School. At this meeting Mrs. Marguerite Brown, a graduate of the Chicago Dramatic School, gave a series of short plays and stories.

Miss Onken was a guest at the chapter house for a few days and the alumnae of the Twin Cities entertained at a tea in her honor on Friday, March 16.

At the March meeting, at the home of Mrs. Harry Wilkins, Virginia Wood was appointed representative for the Founders' Day banquet, which was held jointly with the Minneapolis Alumnae Club and the active chapter.

DENVER CLUB

The February meeting was a supper and an impromptu farewell party for Mrs. Thomas Clark who was moving to Minneapolis to live.

The annual Pi Beta Phi bridge tea and fashion show was held at the Daniels & Fisher tea room March 17. The sum of $125 was raised. On March 24 a luncheon meeting was held at the home of A. B. Trott. It was voted to send $100 to the Settlement School.

Founders' Day celebrating fifty years of Pi Beta Phi chapters in Colorado is to be held at the Broadmoor Hotel in Colorado Springs April 27 and 28. Members from Wyoming and New Mexico are planning to attend. The committee in charge have arranged an interesting program and Miss Onken will be the guest of honor.

The April meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Leonora Bosworth who is one of our oldest alumnae. Her enthusiasm for Pi Beta Phi makes her a well-loved and admired member.

LUCIA P. BAKER

LARAMIE CLUB

The Club meetings this winter have proven quite popular with the members of various ages and interests as it was hoped they would be. January found us gathered at a lovely luncheon at the home of Mrs. Wilburta Cady, the usual committee of five helping her. This was the Settlement School meeting. March brought a buffet supper for the pledges of the active chapter in Laramie. This month brings Founders' Day and the banquet with the active chapter at which time we hope to have a guest speaker. May will bring the party for the seniors of the active chapter.

Many enthusiastic plans are being made for the Convention we are so thrilled to have at our doorstep.

The Laramie Club extends its sympathy to Lydia Tanner Corthell in the death of her father at Big Piney in March and to Ida Ward Holmes in the death of her sister Edith, a Pi Beta Phi, at Cody in March.

LINCOLN CLUB

For the February meeting of the club a special effort was made to secure the attendance of non-active and former members of the club. It was held at the home of our president, Mrs. E. C. Ames, in the evening, so that several members who teach or are otherwise employed, could attend. There were ten former members present.

At our March meeting the club voted ten dollars to the Endowment Fund. Plans were made to hold the Founders' Day banquet the evening of April 28. It is hoped that a large delegation from the Omaha Club may attend.

MARY D. KESNER

TOPEKA CLUB

The Topeka Alumnae Club is having very successful and interesting meetings each month. The March meeting was most beneficial. The program was a contest on the constitution. Founders' Day was celebrated by a cooky-shine at the home of Mrs. C. A. Gardiner. We will go to Holton for the May meeting at the home of Mrs. Will Beck.

The club is sponsoring a benefit show next month to raise money for II B Φ.

MRS. W. C. EPPERSON

WICHITA CLUB

Wichita Alumnae Club knocks at the club news door for admittance, after an absence of several months.

Our Christmas tea has come to be an institution of the holiday season. It is our most elaborate rush party and this year was again held in the lovely colonial home of Mrs. Ralph Rounds.

We have had a most gratifying magazine sale this year, having sold subscriptions amounting to $470.75.

Just now we are particularly elated at the success of the most ambitious money-making venture we have ever attempted. With Mrs. Marsh Murdock, our president, as a most capable chairman, we held a luncheon and parade of fashions at Hotel Lassen on March 17. Fourteen members of the alumnae club modeled fashions from sixteen of our leading department stores and shops. In addition to the regular features of a fashion show, several models led beautiful dogs; ten children displayed costumes matching in color those of the girls with whom they paraded; a millinery firm presented a designer who, beginning with a plaque, demonstrated the several steps of hat-fashioning and produced a very clever finished product. As each model approached the stage, her name, description of her costume, price, and store presenting it were announced through a loud speaker. The ticket sale far exceeded our expectations and the jingling of the dollars which came rolling in was music to our ears.

Mrs. Lee Hobs, our Panhellenic representative, is chairman of the Panhellenic dance to be given April 14. Proceeds from this dance are used to swell the scholarship fund.

Mrs. Thomas Walker has been elected recording secretary.

We were happy to greet Mrs. Roy Eblen at our last meeting. Mrs. Eblen, a former active and popular member of our club, now lives in Hartford, Connecticut.

We welcome as new members the following: from Oklahoma A, Peggy Cochran, Mrs. Fred Hathaway, Mrs. Bond Hammond; from Oklahoma B, Gladys Madigan; from Missouri B, Mrs. Thomas Walker; from Kansas B, Mildred Kingsbury. Two former members of our club, Mrs. Claude Beal of Clearwater, Kansas, and Mrs. William Baugh, of Kansas City, are again affiliated with us.

Coming events: April 7, meeting at the home of Mrs. Herman D. Ewers, mother of Mrs. James Simpson, chairman; assisting hostesses, Mrs. William Baugh, Mildred Fisher, and Lowrie Jane Smart.

April 28: Cooky-shine in celebration of Founders' day, at the home of Mrs. Edgar Dunne. Committee chairman: Mrs. Robert Howse.

NEW ORLEANS CLUB

The New Orleans Alumnae Club held its annual election of officers at the February meeting. Several committees were appointed and each one started into action. One committee was appointed for the purpose of raising money for the club's donation to the Settlement School and to the Loan Fund. Arrangements were made with one of the local uptown theaters to share the profits of all tickets sold for a special night at the theater. The committee put forth every effort in selling tickets and combined with the support of the other members of the club made a good profit for the evening.

A telephone committee was also appointed to keep in touch with the rest of the club members in regard to such affairs as the movie benefit, meetings, and changes of address.

Plans are now underway for an alumnae tea prior to the annual Founders' Day banquet.

With such a start for the alumnae club we are looking forward to a wonderful year.

MARGARET HENRIQUES

NORMAN CLUB

On March 5 the Norman Alumnae Club met at the Spinning Wheel Tea Room for dinner. Afterwards our regular business meeting was held and tentative plans were made for a tea, the proceeds of which will go to the Settlement School. The tea is to be held at the chapter house where articles from the Settlement School will be sold. There will also be a candy and cake market, the profit from which will be added to our endowment fund.

Our club is helping with the landscaping of the yard of the chapter house, which will be very lovely with its tall Lombardy poplars across the back, and several new shrubs in front of the house.

VERA GRIFFIN WILLARD

OKLAHOMA CITY CLUB

Although Oklahoma City Alumnae Club has yet another meeting, to be held in the form of a cooky-shine, the club feels that it has indeed had a profitable and successful year. The club held regular meetings the second Friday of each month and all were very well attended.

The opening meeting of the year was a registration tea, where all the new members were cordially greeted and made to feel the enthusiastic spirit of the old members. The tea was attended by over one hundred women. Four bridge luncheons and two cooky-shines held in an informal manner added a delightful sociability and greatly strengthened the feeling of loyalty and comradeship among the club members.

The sale of school products in conjunction with the Settlement School tea held in December was a successful affair. Almost every school product was sold.

One of the important events of the year's calendar was the fashion show held February 14, at the Biltmore Hotel, where members of the alumnae club and Oklahoma A served as models. Over three hundred were in attendance. Extra funds raised in this manner enabled the club to substantially increase their gift for the Settlement School, Student Loan Fund, and Endowment Fund.

The Founders' Day banquet held at the Biltmore Hotel was well attended by Pi Phi alumnae and active members of Oklahoma A and B chapters. The singing of Pi Phi songs characterized the greater part of the program with short speeches reviewing the year's work from the presidents of Oklahoma A, Oklahoma B, and Oklahoma City Alumnae.

At the recent election, officers for the coming year were selected as follows: president, Mrs. John F. Butler; vice-president, Mrs. Thomas Sterling; secretary-treasurer, Miss Jo Van Brunt; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. B. Kennedy, Jr.; reporter, Mrs. Frank Chilson.

MRS. W. B. KENNEDY, JR.

OKMULGEE CLUB

The Okmulgee Club has met the second Tuesday of each month since September. Two additional parties have been given besides, the first a shower for Dorothy Phillips, who became the bride of Everett Carr in September, the other a shower for Frances Hays, who was married December 8 to Spencer Radnich. Mr. and Mrs. Radnich are now living in Oklahoma City.

At two of our meetings we had as our guests former members of our club, Mrs. Paul S. Stotts of Hays, Kansas, and Mrs. Harry Baker of Tyler, Texas.

A newcomer in our club is Mrs. Howard Colton, a recent bride. A rummage sale is to be held April 14 for the benefit of the Settlement School. Founders' Day banquet will be held at the home of Mrs. Jack Dalton. Election and installation of officers will be held at this time.

JOSEPHINE BAKER

SHREVEPORT CLUB

Although this Club is small, we have had a very successful year under the able leadership of Bernice Sedberry. Twenty-five dollars has been sent to the Settlement School and a donation made to the Endowment Fund.

A poster is being prepared for Convention and plans are under way to celebrate Founders' Day with a cooky-shine.

Two new members have been added, one from Oklahoma Alpha and one from Florida Beta.

Officers for the new year will be elected at the next business meeting.

URSIE B. LARUE

TULSA CLUB

Our January meeting was a delightful afternoon musicale in the home of Mrs. Robert Wood. Each member was entitled to invite one guest.

In February we held a cooky-shine and business meeting at the home of Mrs. Earl Sneed.

On March 24 we entertained the active chapter of Oklahoma B at tea in the home of Miss Martha Watson. About thirty-five actives came over from Stillwater. It was a real pleasure to have this opportunity to become acquainted with them. A banquet on Founders' Day and a picnic in May will bring our club year to a close.

ELINOR GRUBB WILLIAMS

CALGARY CLUB

Our club was very fortunate in having Mrs. Rusch as a visitor at our February meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. Fry. This was in the form of a twilight tea. It was decided to sell metal sponges for the benefit of the Settlement School and Gweyn King was appointed to have charge of the sale.

Mary Mooney plans to write to alumnae in nearby towns and appeal to them for donations to the Endowment Fund.

The Calgary Alumnae Club held its first meeting of the year on October 23 at the home of Mrs. Harvey Shaw. Plans for meetings in the coming year were discussed and ways of helping the active chapter.

It was decided that each member should pay 25 cents each meeting above our local dues, part of which will go to help the active chapter and the balance to the Settlement School. We also decided to make a special effort to get subscriptions for magazines through the agency and in this way help the Settlement School further.

Coming Events

October—Discussion of the active chapter. January—Study of the Settlement School. March—Study of the Constitution. April—Founders' Day celebration. June—Picnic with the active girls.

MARY BOWLEN MOONEY

EDMONTON CLUB

The Edmonton Club meetings have been very well attended and interesting. We adopted a local charity this fall, by connecting ourselves with the University of Alberta Hospital Out-Patient Department. So far, they have made three calls upon us. At Christmas we also undertook to provide a Christmas dinner and toys for a family in need.

We find that our new fraternity house has established a very friendly bond between the actives and ourselves, as well as providing a friendly atmosphere for the active members.

At our December meeting, final suggestions were received and adopted for the budget for the coming year.

HELEN McCAIG

EDMONTON CLUB

The Edmonton Alumnae Club has held regular meetings since Christmas with full attendance, with the exception of our president, Margaret Malone, who has been unable to attend regularly owing to illness. It is with regret that we accepted her resignation as president. Mrs. McCuaig has accepted the office and is carrying on the work.

Our social service duties have increased considerably since we decided to adopt a local charity.

The senior farewell party was held at the home of Mrs. McLeod, who also gave a tea the same afternoon for the new pledges. Eleven members are to be graduated this spring and our number will be considerably depleted. We are hoping that several of the girls may return for graduate study in the fall. The alumnae are planning a bridge in aid of the Endowment Fund.

EUGENE CLUB

The Eugene Alumnae Club has had exceptionally nice meetings every month this year, a very good attendance, an average of about sixteen—a lovely six o'clock supper at the different homes.

We were sorry to hear of the death of one of our founders, Libby Brook Gaddis.

We also wish to extend a note of sympathy through the ARROW to one of our own members, Mrs. Cordelia Dodds, in the loss of her sister, Mrs. Louise Willard Hunter, on February 1 at Northfield, Minnesota, where her husband is on the faculty of Carleton College. Mrs. Hunter was a Pi Phi and a classmate and intimate friend of Helen Kerman who is one of the province vice-presidents.

The dean of women at the university here asked that all alumnae clubs meet on the first Monday of each month so at the last meeting we voted to change our meetings, which were the first Tuesdays, to the above mentioned date.

At our next meeting, April 2, which is to be a few miles in the country at the home of Mrs. Evangeline Hurd, we plan to entertain the senior girls.

Last spring the Corvallis Alumnae Club came here and we had a formal dinner together at a hotel. We are hoping it will be possible for us to meet with them again this year at Corvallis.

We have sent some money to the Endowment Fund from the club and are now working to send individual subscriptions.

We have sent suggestions to convention committees and some are planning to attend if possible.

Something personal—imagine me, a grandmother, trying to write a letter for the ARROW and thinking of a double wedding. A son and daughter are to be married April 8. We have seven children and two grandchildren.

KATHRYN WILSON RICKABAUGH

PORTLAND (ORE.) CLUB

The spring activities of the Portland, Oregon, Alumnae Club are progressing under the direction of the president, Mrs. R. M. McCormick.

In February the club had its annual Valentine bridge party at the home of Mrs. Willis W. Ross. In March, we met for lunch and had a Constitutional Program. At the present time every one is busy with benefit dessert luncheons for the Endowment Fund.

We are looking forward to the Founders' Day banquet in April.

A committee is making extensive plans for the evening bridge benefit to be held in May.

EVALYN BAILEY JAQUES

SALEM CLUB

The Salem Alumnae Club had its January meeting, a luncheon, at the Marion Hotel.

A business and social meeting was held in February at the home of Mrs. Edwin Keech. Tentative plans for another benefit were discussed. It was suggested that a summer garden party be given, the proceeds to go to the Endowment Fund and the Settlement School.

In March the club met with Mrs. James R. Humphrey for the annual buffet supper in compliance to the husbands and men friends of the members.

Founders' Day was observed April 28 with a luncheon followed by an afternoon of bridge at the home of Mrs. Wolcott Buren. We hoped to have all Pi Phis who live in or near Salem present.

SEATTLE CLUB

In January the Seattle Alumnae Club met at the chapter house for a birthday dinner and cooky-shine. We were very happy to have Lillian Rusch, the Lambda Province President, as our guest of honor.

The actives entertained with a reading and music. Marjorie Douglass sang a Pi Phi rushing song which she had composed.

As Mrs. Lewis Cassutt is unable to return to Seattle, Mrs. H. G. Stewart (Roberta Hindley) was elected to take her place as president of the club and she is carrying on in a most enthusiastic fashion.

Everyone enjoyed the alumnae dance given at Club Victor in February of which Mrs. Horace Vanasse was chairman. There was a profit of $48.

We are looking forward to the Founders' Day banquet to be held April 25. The chairman for this affair is Mrs. Roscoe Torrance.

A mothers' and daughters' bridge luncheon is being planned for May 8 with Mrs. E. C. Matthias as chairman (Georgia 3530), and a picnic for the seniors in June at Mrs. Florence Denny Heliker's "Lockhelden," Windimere, Sand Point Road. Miss Gloria Svensson (Georgia 7010) is chairman. Call her for this date.

JETRAL TEMPLETON

SPOKANE CLUB

On February 14 the Spokane Club gave an evening bridge party in one of the down town hotels which was open to the public. There was an attendance of a hundred and fifty at forty-five cents each. Refreshments were served and there was entertainment. The proceeds were given to the Settlement School and the Endowment Fund.

Another event to help earn funds for the Settlement School was a Spring Dance given April 6. This took place during the spring vacation so that many students who are home may enjoy the dance.

The club planned to celebrate Founders' Day with a banquet. Mrs. William Rusch, the province president, and Mrs. Frank Ohme, attended the initiation ceremonies at Washington State College March 18.

At the last meeting officers were elected for the following year. Mrs. Helen Browder—president, Mrs. Helen McEcheran—vice-president, Mrs. J. J. Caplice—secretary, Mrs. Guy Perham—treasurer, Miss Marjorie Neal—corresponding secretary.

MARJORY NEAL

INEZ SMITH SOULE CLUB

The February meeting of the Inez Smith Soule Alumnae Club, afternoon and evening groups, held a joint cooky-shine, at which there were twenty-four present. Besides the business meeting there were games, sewing and music. It was held at Jennes and Margaret Bonnell's home with Dorothy Wiegall assisting.

The March afternoon group met in Olympia at the home of Miss Anna Louise O'Bryon with Mrs. Imogen Billings assisting. After luncheon there was a business meeting. The greater part of the meeting was spent discussing the coverlet we are making, which is to be raffled, and the proceeds (we hope they will be $40.00 or more) to go to the Settlement School. The evening group met in Tacoma at Mrs. James Chisholm's home with Miss Jane MacPherson assisting.

We are looking forward to our Founders' Day banquet in April with the Seattle group in Seattle, and also May, the last meeting of the year, at Mrs. W. Ohlson's lake home with Mrs. C. R. Low and Mrs. C. Jacobs assisting.

ALICE WHITNEY

WENATCHEE CLUB

In February the Wenatchee Club met at the home of Mrs. Dewey Webb in East Wenatchee. At this meeting Mrs. Walter Horan gave a very interesting review of famous Pi Phis.

Mrs. Harry Fenton and Mrs. James Garrett entertained the club on March 5 at the home of their mother, Mrs. Ward Joseph. Miss Grace Wiester gave a summary of the articles in the February ARROW and also explained the Endowment Fund. Mrs. L. M. Shreve read some exceptionally interesting letters from her cousin, Dr. Clementine Bash, Washington A, telling of her work in the Dove Hospital in Peking, China, of which she is in charge. Mrs. Shreve also showed us some very interesting pictures which had been sent to her by Dr. Bash.

Mrs. George Schultz and Miss Jane Webb will entertain the members of the club at its next meeting on April 3, at the home of the latter.

It was decided to have a cooky-shine at the home of Mrs. Walker Pickens on Founders' Day, April 28.

Mrs. Merritt Newdall (Marjorie Owens), a former member of our club, who is now residing in Coquille, Oregon, has been very seriously ill for several months. We are happy to learn that she is now on the road to recovery.

JANE WEBB

FANNIE WHITENACK LIBBEY CLUB

Fannie Whitenack Libbey Alumnae Club has been happy to welcome seven new members to the club since last year. Our monthly dinner meetings have been well attended, and everyone has been so interested this year.

In October we were very pleased to have Mrs. Juanita O'Day, Province Vice-President, visit us. The members were all happy to meet her, and very inspired by her helpful suggestions.

This year the club has been sewing for the Red Cross during part of each meeting. We have also made small donations, and the Red Cross has made us feel that our welfare efforts have been greatly appreciated.

During the spring vacation, we are planning a dinner and card party to be held at the home of Miss Marjorie Webb, in honor of the actives home from college.

We are looking forward to a Founders' Day banquet, planned at the home of Miss Irma Zickler.

EUVONNE ATKINS

MU PROVINCE

EL PASO CLUB

The El Paso Club is going abroad to celebrate Founders' Day this year. It is going to cross the Rio Grande River to Juarez, Mexico, for luncheon. On March 31 there will be a tea at Ann Fuller's to complete plans for this trip.

At the January meeting of Panhellenic, the members of  $\Pi \beta \Phi$  gave a playlet, "The Feathered Nest," written by Louise Rosser, Oklahoma A. It carried out the N.R.A. theme and was supposed to occur in a court room. Mrs. Dove was played by Carrie Thamma Brown, the only I C member of the club.

Mrs. B. J. Kellenberger entertained the alumnae with a waffle luncheon in February. Several Settlement School products were raffled off at this meeting.

FRANCES R. BROWN

LONG BEACH CLUB

The Long Beach Alumnae Club had its annual cooky-shine at the home of Mrs. C. D. Barnes on the evening of March 15 with Mrs. Lily Weber and Mrs. N. L. Cooper assisting. The occasion was especially delightful in that three I C members were in the group attending. Our club is very proud of these members.

A dinner bridge to raise money for the Settlement School is being planned for April. Mrs. Van Hall is general chairman.

Founders' Day will be celebrated as usual in cooperation with the other active and alumnae chapters of Southern California.

LORA RINEHART BARR

PALO ALTO CLUB

In October the Palo Alto Club arranged a bridge party and fashion show in order to obtain money for various new furnishings for the chapter house. The active girls were models for the gowns loaned by a San Francisco shop, their youth and grace contributing greatly to the success of the affair.

In November a tea was held at the home of Mrs. Dean Buchan to display and sell the settlement school articles. Each member was asked to invite as many friends as she felt would be interested. The afternoon of March 2 a bridge tea was given at the Chapter House in order to raise funds for the Settlement School.

Two of the meetings this year have been cooky-shines, one in September at the home of Mrs. Paul Manning, the second in March at the home of Mrs. Earl Anderson. We regret that we shall lose as a member Mrs. Anderson (Catherine Schultz), when she leaves in September to make her home in Manila, P.I.

The club has acquired a number of welcome new members by the recent establishment of the Naval Air Base for the dirigible Macon at Sunnyvale, California, only a few miles from Palo Alto. The Pi Phi Alumnae there are to be hostesses for the May meeting.

A new Civic Theater was erected last year in Palo Alto, where a number of plays have been cleverly presented with local artists as members of the casts. Mrs. E. C. Converse (Velma Randall) has had leading parts in several of these.

Margaret Willis Smith succeeds to the position of Province President to complete the term of office of Mrs. T. N. Alford, who is now ARROW Editor.

DOROTHY NEEDHAM

SAN DIEGO CLUB

The San Diego Alumnae Club met at the home of Mrs. Rae D. Pitton February 24. The meeting was devoted to the study of the Constitution. The Settlement School Chairman gave a report of the proceeds from the Beatrice Edmonds' play review. More than enough was cleared to take care of the club's usual contribution. A dessert bridge at the home of Mrs. W. S. Carrington in Coronado took the place of the usual monthly luncheon in March. A luncheon at the home of Dr. Bessie and Miss June Peery is being planned for the observance of Founders' Day.

The announcement that our own Mrs. Alford will be ARROW Editor was greeted with congratulatory enthusiasm. Her rare charm and personality have always been inspiring to the San Diego Alumnae Club. We are happy to share her, knowing that her natural fraternal enthusiasm and keen judgment will make her an invaluable member of Grand Council.

MARY EMRICH VAN BUREN

TUCSON CLUB

The Tucson Club had its regular meeting on the Constitution in January. This meeting was held at the Chapter House. On March 15 the meeting for the election of officers was held at Hacienda del Sol, a ranch school for girls in the Catalina Foothills. Elizabeth Angle and Doris Oesting, Principals of the school were hostesses. After the regular business meeting the hostesses conducted the members on a tour of the school. Several out of town Pi Phi were present and were lavish in their praise of Tucson's grand spring weather and the beauties of the Hacienda. The orange trees were in full bloom in the patio of the main school building. The new officers elected at this meeting will be installed at the Founders' Day Banquet to be held with the active chapter.

VIRGINIA CROWFOOT

UTAH CLUB

No January meeting was held, a tea given in honor of the active chapter and prospective pledges late in December having taken its place.

At the regular monthly luncheon at the chapter house on Saturday, February 5, Mrs. Florence Love, president, reviewed the history of Pi Beta Phi. The rest of the time was spent in a discussion of plans for the entertainment of Convention visitors passing through Salt Lake City to or from Yellowstone Park this summer.

On Tuesday evening, February 27, the club entertained the actives and pledges at a cooky-shine at the chapter house. One hundred twenty-seven guests were in attendance. A clever "March Hare" idea was carried out by the committee in charge.

Following the regular luncheon on Saturday, March 3, Miss Myrtle Austin, member of the English department of the University of Utah, gave a splendid review of "Peter Abelard" by Helen Waddell.

Wednesday night, March 21, was Pi Beta Phi night at the Club Dorado. The sixty per cent of the proceeds from tickets sold by the alumnae club, with the assistance of the active chapter, helped to swell the club treasury considerably.

It has been decided by active and alumnae members to adopt "On to Convention" as the theme of our Birthday Banquet. In fact, Convention is the most talked-of subject at present here in Utah Alpha.

Leadership has always been characterized by the qualities of HONOR, STRENGTH, and INITIATIVE.

HONOR to hold tenaciously to our personal and business integrity.

STRENGTH to forge ever onward toward the goal of greater perfection in the quality of our product.

INITIATIVE to employ skillful workmen and modern ideas in manufacture.

... these are the dominant qualities that have made the L. G. Balfour Company indisputable leader in the fraternity jewelry field.

There are always those who—falling short of these qualities—fail, and nurse their envy with unscrupulous assaults on the leader.

A company, firm in the conviction of its integrity must bear the brunt of such attacks with dignity—THE PENALTY OF LEADERSHIP.
