THE ARROW OF PI BETA PHI

NOVEMBER, 1936

EDITORIAL

WE EXTEND a most cordial welcome to our new chapter, Louisiana Beta, which was installed the week-end of October 16, 1936. Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, is the home of this new chapter, and information about the installation of the chapter and the university will appear in the next issue. The story was received too late for inclusion in this number.

Life in a fraternity chapter may mean so much of real development! It offers such varied lines of effort—it may train executives, it may make excellent housekeepers, it may awaken a real ability to live among people well and pleasantly, it may train business women, it may cultivate a genius for friendship—best of all it may awaken strength of character in a girl, may make her really wish to make a mark of excellence in her world, whether that be a world of business struggle, a life of artistic effort, or the capable and efficient living of a married life. Wherever her lines may be cast, a member of a college fraternity should have gained from its close associations and its efficient organization many things that will make life easier in the living.

But only with effort will these things be acquired, and that effort must be sustained from the very beginning to the end of college life. From pledge to senior, girls must be led to give the best that is in them to their college and their fraternity. Only so will they continue all their lives long to give that best to the emergencies and demands of life as they come, only so will they find fullest measure of satisfaction in every relation of life.

Books would normally seem an essential part of college life—but are they? How many chapters have real libraries? Not just a few books of reference, a few discarded novels,—but books chosen to be of real value, books fitted to be a pastime for a restless hour, books offering refuge for a tired spirit, books offering stimulus for the active minds of the girls in our chapters, books to make into lifelong friends.

What are we doing about it? Have our chapters a definite interest in books as friends and companions? If not, why not? The Editor would be glad to hear from chapters that have made real libraries for themselves.

For some years the ARROW had a department called "What a Fraternity Girl Thinks," then pressure of material crowded it out. It offered so much of value and interest that we should like to revive it, confining it this time to one issue of each year, for this year the May number. Chapter problems, topics of general fraternity interest—look back over old ARROWS to find the type of article wanted, then write a brief article, not more than two hundred words, preferably less. Only active girls may contribute, only a chapter name will be used as signature, and only those articles can be used which are interesting in theme and well-expressed in good literary style. The Editor reserves the right to judge of their suitability. Would you like "What a Fraternity Girl Thinks" revived? It rests with you!

A question in last year's fraternity examination concerned the ARROW and in the answers was much of interest. The girls want so much of the ARROW! More pictures, more of everything that costs money, more money than we have to spend at present. The letters showed real interest, and that was heart-warming to the Editor—they ranged from praise of various features, through intelligent criticism to one which very wisely said that the girls needed first of all to be taught to read the ARROW! An interesting point for pledge supervisors there! All were illuminating and yet humbling to the Editor, and they brought the girls who read the ARROW very close. For them we are most grateful.

Of great interest is the appointment of Dr. James A. Grier to the presidency of Monmouth College to succeed Dr. T. H. McMichael, who resigned a year ago. As the son of one of our Founders, Ada Bruen Grier, his connection with $\Pi B \Phi$ is close, and the good wishes of the fraternity go with him in his work for the college of our origin. Dr. Grier has had an interesting career in the United Presbyterian Church, and for the last six years has been pastor of the Second Church in Monmouth.

Are any Pi Beta Phis writing poetry? The editor would be glad to hear of their work and to use some of it!

Few men have given as much to their own fraternities and to the whole fraternity world as did George D. Kimball, $\Sigma A E$, who died on July 8, 1936. For thirty-six years Mr. Kimball served on the Supreme Council of $\Sigma A E$, his term of service ending only when he refused re-election in 1934. He was further distinguished as having introduced the original motion which led to the founding of the National Interfraternity Conference, and he had always maintained his strong interest in the real spirit of panhellenism.

He was the brother of our own Martha Nutter Kimball, former Grand Treasurer, and guest of honor at our recent Convention in Chicago. To her and to $\Sigma A E$, $\Pi B \Phi$ wishes to express its deep regret and its sense of the loss that all fraternities have suffered.

* * *

For fourteen years Amy Olgen Parmelee has been so prominent in the fraternity world that it is hard to think of her in any other relationship than as the editor of the Trident of $\Delta \Delta \Delta$, and as the distinguished delegate of that fraternity to N.P.C. Now Amy Parmelee has resigned! Her loss will be greatly felt. Her fine magazine has been a model for all of us, a factor of strength in all that is best in the fraternity system. Says our own Amy Onken of her "To have in the continuous development and prestige of her own fraternity and in the deep affection of its members an indelible record of outstanding service and of abiding appreciation for it, means to Amy Olgen Parmelee, I am sure, full recompense for her long-continued and devoted pouring-out of herself to $\Delta \Delta \Delta$. Those of us whose contacts with Mrs. Parmelee have been from outside her own fraternity, however, would be unwilling to have that record fail to speak, with equally lasting emphasis of appreciation, of her service to all fraternities. Surely by her personal friendliness, her generous giving of her ability and time to the problems of college and fraternity women, and her living of the ideals which are common to all fraternities she has given to us all an increased realization of the value of the things which mean true fraternity!"

* * *

Aside from Mrs. Parmelee three other prominent editors have resigned and will be greatly missed: Jean James Demorest of the Adelphian of $A \Delta \Pi$; Mildred Pease of the Lamp of ΔZ ; and Jessie Helen Sims Hall, of the A Γ Δ Quarterly. We extend a welcome to their successors—and it is really a comfort to find oneself no longer the newest fraternity editor!

* * *

All Pi Phis attending the annual convention of the National Council of Teachers of English to be held at Thanksgiving time in Boston are invited to communicate with Massachusetts Alpha chapter at 131 Commonwealth Avenue.

* * *

MARGARET CAMPBELL

WITH DEEPEST GRIEF we have to announce the death of Margaret Campbell, Founder, at her home in Monmouth, Illinois, on October 15, after a long illness. Miss Campbell was the oldest living graduate of Monmouth College, and the only surviving member of her class, 1867—the year of our founding. She was the first treasurer of the Fraternity.

Of all our Founders, Miss Campbell had within the last few years the most active contact with her own chapter, and was present at the installation of Illinois Alpha when the chapter was restored in 1928. Her life was spent in Monmouth, with the exception of the years from 1903 to 1924, when she was first teacher and later matron at Thyne Institute, negro mission of the United Presbyterian Church, at Chase City, Virginia. Her work there was one of service and sacrifice of which we may be proud.

Her health was frail during the last years of her life, and she made her home in Monmouth with her sister, Agnes Campbell Murray, always a loyal Pi Phi, initiated into I.C. at Monmouth College in 1873. To Mrs. Murray the Fraternity extends its love and sympathy.

Those of us who have had the privilege of knowing Miss Campbell feel too a sense of personal bereavement. Our Founders have been so active in their interest, so close to the hearts of all members of Pi Beta Phi, so truly a part of the life of the Fraternity, that the loss of one of them is keenly felt.

A Toast Given at the Convention Banquet by Fannie Whitenack Libbey

Since coming into this room
I realize that it is great, It is great to be One of the Founders of The Beta Theta Chi & to be at this convention. To see so many shining Golden Arrows forcibly reminds me of her beginning. In the beginning The Beta Theta Chi was small and weak, she was so small & so weak that it never would have done to name her The Beta Theta Chi.
So - we named her J. C.

We did see all her needs, but - The Founders felt she contained a "Hidden Power" that sometime would be recognized for the friendships formed and for the good that she would do.

We visioned her as finding a home in other Colleges.

To Expand was our greatest ambition, and this we did.

Very soon we established a Chapter in Iowa.

For 20 years I.C. survived, rising above the difficulties she met and if not rapidly yet steadily growing.

Then, as if by magic I.C. cast aside this ket name and became our beloved : Pi Beta Phi.

Tonight, after these many years it is a great happiness to me to see our fraternity as, she now is. Large, commanding and strong and well established in the College world.

Loyalty, ability and zeal all are in the making of Pi Beta Phi.
There's to our President Emerita.
There's to Each Loyal Worker,
And there's to our Council, Grand Gown worth can never be rated though it's known through all the land.

PI BETA PHI FRATERNITY
THIRTY-SECOND BIENNIAL CONVENTION
EDGEWATER BEACH HOTEL CHICAGO
JUNE 21-27, 1936

Onken, Stark, Kimball, Keller, Noble, Will, Webster, Wild, Fisher, Bang.

Convention!

THE thrilling Sunday afternoon when people were arriving, when a walk down the passages between the two great wings of the hotel meant stopping every few feet to greet an old friend or meet a new one, when just to watch the efficient registration desk for a few moments was to realize what careful planning had gone into every detail of Convention and how hard Helen Pierce Bang and her whole committee had worked!

Dinner was hard to eat that night with reunions everywhere, and the first session just ahead. That first session itself brought both laughter and tears from its very beginning until its climax in Mrs. Libbey's late arrival and the tribute paid to her. To think that sixty-nine years after our founding we could still have even one of the Founders with us! and that one so charming, so interested in the present day affairs of the Fraternity, so eager to know the girls, so understanding in her talks with the officers. Fannie Whitenack Libbey will always live in memory as the outstanding figure of the 1936 Convention.

Indeed, it was a Convention of personalities. The first night when Beatrice Edmonds gave her delightful reading of "First Lady," the inspiring talk of Dean Maria Leonard of University of Illinois, who has been called the "Dean of Deans," Welthy Honsinger Fisher's spiritual and uplifting address on Panhellenic night, Esther Lloyd-Jones' practical talk to the actives on "Leadership," the banquet with its brilliant toast list—the whole scheme of this Convention called attention to the rare women we have in Pi Beta Phi. That was its strongest, its most lasting impression, not only that we had present the largest gathering in our history—except the Washington Conference—and one far larger than any other women's college fraternity has ever had, but that size was not its strongest feature. These were women of personality and charm, girls of exceptional beauty and intellect—and our pride in them was unbounded.

The banquet program is given here, but no program can show that banquet—and again the numbers present, 1084, were only an incident. From the balcony the tables were a sea of gleaming glistening white—the cellophane baskets filled with the gardenias which were favors for the guests made every table lovely. It is interesting that they were designed by

Mrs. Jay Seaver, not a Pi Phi, but a close friend of Marie Hakes King, Illinois E, who planned the banquet so efficiently. The program was dedicated to the new History of Pi Beta Phi, centered around epochs in the fraternity's life—and with each of the toasts the curtains parted and a girl in the costume of the special period, one from each of the seven chapters of Eta Province, appeared in a tableau bearing an armful of gorgeous flowers. The candlelighting ceremony was reverently and beautifully given—and more than one had tears in their eyes as they saw Mrs. Libbey's face while the tribute was being paid the Founders.

Fancy dress night brought out an amazing number of costumes, literally hundreds of knights and ladies, fairy tale figures, sheiks—there were authentic costumes from all over the world, and pity the poor judges who had to decide which was best.

So many little things—the little knot of people always around Lois Stoolman in her wheel chair—the province luncheons and dinners with their chance for really talking hundred and were perhaps never even seen again!

Keen discussion of chapter girls on chapter problems—color, life, brilliancy, pretty girls, lovely gowns, laughter—perhaps a few tears—beauty and solemnity of the model initiation—the Canadian girls singing "O, Canada" with all their hearts—Doris Stammats in her wheel chair, the girl we all loved so much—so many former Grand Council members: May Keller, President Emeritus; Martha Nutter Kimball, Grand Treasurer; Emma Patton Noble, Grand President; Julia Ellen Rogers, Grand Secretary; Mary Thompson Reid, ARROW Editor; Josephine Coates Marshall, ARROW Editor; Nina Harris Allen, Grand Vice-President; Kate King Bostwick, Historian; Marie Freeman Palmer, Supervisor of Chapter Accounting; Grace Post, treasurer of the Settlement School; province officers galore, many present and past committee members—Mrs. Epperson with her three Pi Phi daughters—Mrs. "Lum" and "Lum's" sister—Settlement School night, with interesting new moving pictures, a play of mountain life written, directed and played in by Rosemary Moorhead, Illinois H, who is a teacher at the school, and a smart fashion show of clothes and useful things—the ARROW Craft Shop, which did over $1400 worth of business—chapter exhibits, this time showing ingenuity as never before, since their cost was limited to $10 this year—the Beach Comber, capably planned and ably edited by Dorothy Deuel, and leaving behind it a surplus of something like $300 under Dorothy Stecker's management—these and so many other things crowd the memory!

Truly a Convention to go down in our history!

Some Impressions

By MARTHA NUTTER KIMBALL, Convention Guest and former Grand Treasurer

THE privilege of being convention-guest in 1936 was for me a lovely experience. Foremost among convention impressions I would rate the pride we alumnae were able to take in the beautiful bearing of our girls as they came and went in that public place. We can't be too grateful to them for this testimony to their devotion to Pi Phi ideals.

To both young and old there was inspiration in the messages from Pi Phis who had made good conspicuously, Dean Leonard, Mrs. Welthy Fisher, Dr. Jones; we are glad they wear the arrow. Nor did we stop with notable Pi Phis, for there was the Panhellenic banquet. These women who have achieved—how we delight in them!

The Settlement School always claims a large share in our affections. The convention exhibit again made it possible for us to point with pride to Pi Beta Phi's share in the revival of native arts and crafts in our country. It is a fine thing for a favored group of American women thus to help bring a more abundant life to these Americans of the Tennessee mountains. The school's usefulness is widening. Could it not easily become a model for such enterprises everywhere?

Yet it was the personal element that most strangely warmed the heart. Now a member of one's own chapter appears, seen too seldom since college days. Again, the friends made at earlier conventions and even their children make themselves known. Thus the years are spanned.

Convention, 1936, was a complicated as well as a marvelously smooth-running affair to one whose active duties had ended in 1908. The machinery, so much more intricate now, was well-oiled. Work that used to be done at convention, because it was smaller, is now done largely before convention meets. Committees, often large, now do work that formerly belonged wholly to the Council. In spite of this no 1936 Council member belonged among the unemployed, while new and important officers have sprung into being.

Much attention was given at Convention to details, to the details of courtesy and gracious living. Enough deference and respect were shown me to last till the end of time. And didn't I revel in it!

We Initiate Mrs. Adams

THE Convention Initiate of 1936 is a most interesting and charming woman whom it is a pleasure to honor—Lucile Wheeler

Adams of Champaign, Illinois. Mrs. Adams was born in White River Junction, Vermont, and attended Vermont Academy in Saxton's River, Vermont. Although a resident of Illinois since 1916, Mrs. Adams returns each summer to her camp at Greensboro, Vermont, which has been in her family for sixty years.

Mrs. Adams was graduated from Mt. Holyoke College, and received a master's degree from Columbia University. She taught in the high schools of Reading and Springfield, Massachusetts, and in the Friends' Select School in Philadelphia, before becoming assistant professor of home economics at University of Minnesota. Later she joined the faculty at the University of Illinois, where she has been ever since.

Her work has been on subjects connected with foods, and she has written many articles for the National Food Administration, and for the University of Illinois. Mrs. Adams has also had the experience of working two summers in Dr. H. C. Sherman's laboratory in New York on subjects connected with nutrition for the Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor in New York City.

In 1918 she married Dr. Roger Adams, present head of the chemistry department of the University of Illinois. During the war both Dr. and Mrs. Adams were engaged in important work in Washington, D.C., where Dr. Adams was a major in the Chemical Warfare Service of the army, and Mrs. Adams was supervisor of the experimental division of the Home Conservation Department of the Food Administration.

Mrs. Adams is president of the Mt. Holyoke Alumnae Association of her state, is active in the Congregational Church, and is prominently identified with many interesting organizations in her home town of Urbana, Illinois, and also with the A.A.U.W. She is serving her second term as vice-president of the Illinois State League of Women Voters.

FANCY DRESS NIGHT

By RUTH WILSON, Tennessee A

IF I HAD been elected "Miss America" or "Madame Dixie," I'm sure I would have experienced no more of a thrill than I did when presented with the prize, a large blue and crystal vase, the reward for the costume most typical of Pi Beta Phi at the Fancy Dress Ball during Convention.

Right here and now let me say that a bit of psychology and a dash of dramatic training were brought into play in my carrying off the coveted prize. With happy memories of other gay assemblies at Asbury Park and at Yellowstone, I reasoned thus with myself. "You are not pretty—even your best friends admit it; you are not funny; neither are you original. Perhaps you can be typical. But typical of what? Typical of Pi Beta Phi, of course."

When my sister and I packed our bags for Chicago we forgot many things essential to a complete week's sojourn, but we included several costumes which she and I had worn on various occasions. There was a riot of scarlet and yellow taffeta that represented Comedy in its most loquacious moment; there were all the makings of a peasant girl with rosy cheeks and a fringed scarf tied under her chin; and for good luck there was the old faded blue and white dimity with its many rows of val lace and insertion that had been my costume in "The Copperhead" and again in "One Sunday Afternoon." Tucked in the suitcase too was a voluminous stiffly starched, white petticoat that had been worn by a Louisville belle on her wedding day back in the "Gay Nineties."

With a deft twist, my sister ripped off the sashes of our own evening dresses; one was wine, the other blue. Cleverly she fashioned a bustle by draping the skirt over the long white beflounced petticoat. The Edgewater Beach Florist Shop donated the wine carnation, and I sneaked out late one night to snip off enough silver paper from Kentucky Alpha's chapter exhibit to fashion the Arrow for my hair. Behold, you have the Girl of Old I.C.

Then came the big moment when so many costumed Pi Phi members assembled that it was necessary to place them four abreast for the Grand March. Now I'm not professing to be the least bit clever. But I do admit that I had sense enough not to parade too close to those beautiful creatures. I was particularly careful to stay as far as possible away from that gorgeous girl in the white net hoop skirt with the blue satin bows that made me think of Margaret Sullavan in "So Red the Rose." I also shunned the company of the cute little Texans in the magnificent robes of state! I realized that even though I might have eleven personal friends in the judges' stand, I'd never be noticed with all that glamor and beauty and humor that paraded by in its bid for recognition. Perhaps I won by a fluke. Who knows? And who cares? It was all such fun!

The ball presented a kaleidoscope of color—a riot of costumes ranging from the attractively ridiculousness of Raggedy Ann with the white shoe polished eyes, to the amazing pretentiousness of the Mexican woman—both winners in their classes. Little Red Riding Hood, grandmother, and the wolf attracted a great deal of attention, particularly when it was discovered that beneath the scarlet hood and cape was Miss Onken in company with Mrs. Webster and the delegate from Nova Scotia A. I can see them all, and I wish you could. The mountain woman with the high buttoned shoes; the Arab woman or maybe she was Syrian; the various groups of quintuplets with Dr. Dafoe; our ARROW Editor in a gorgeous crimson kimona that is oh, so many years old! There was the Magazine Agency, and the original newspaper outfit worn by Carol Lee Davis of Bucknell, which I know was concocted with a snip, snip here and a few pins there as the Grand March assembled! There too was the bride whose veil had a moment before been the curtains of Room 202 and her calla lily bouquet, the hand towels!

Yes, the Fancy Dress Ball is always something to cherish with the happy memories of Convention!

Convention Art Exhibit

By LAURA STORMS KNAPP, Iowa Γ, Chairman

IF YOU would learn a bit about art, a little of those who are interested in things artistic, and more about artists, we suggest that you somehow acquire the task of arranging an art exhibit. This has been our good fortune for Grand Council asked us to arrange for convention an exhibit of the work of Pi Phi and Pi Phi relatives who are artists and artistic craftsmen.

The fun started with the letters sent to clubs and chapters asking for the names of prospective exhibitors, and those going to the artists asking for exhibits. The excitement was well under way when we went with two porters into the room filled with odd-shaped boxes and began opening them to find what had been sent us. The satisfaction followed when our visitors expressed delight with the result.

Our able assistants were Helen Rosenthal, Washington A, and Jean West, Iowa Z. It took us all day to arrange and hang the lovely things which had been sent.

Just inside the door of the West Room we hung the large, colorful oil portrait of "Irene" by Miriam Buckholz, Illinois Z. She must have been an Italian, fascinating as she sits in despondent repose. There were three other pictures by the same artist. One, an oil of a small blond girl, we learned after convention, was that of the daughter of Mrs. Adams, convention initiate. Three transparent pastels by Mr. McCombs, father of Ruth Clifton, Washington A, hung next. His medium is the French crayon and formed an interesting contrast to the nine life-like portraits done in red crayon by Jean Dayton West, Iowa Z.

Virginia Castleton Bryner, Utah A, was represented by six lovely water colors. A table held pewter by Marian Wilder, North Dakota A, and a former Pi Phi Fellowship girl; pottery vase made by Lorraine Lovall, Minnesota A; sculpture, Pearl McArthur Strack, Indiana B; pottery, Helen Hoface, Minnesota A; wooden trays and vase, Betty Burrows, Iowa Γ; and a miniature by Gene Hobbs, Illinois Δ.

Mr. Pescheret, husband of Grace Wallar Pescheret, Iowa A, brought in three of his beautiful color etchings. In the center bay was a long table filled with Haeger Pottery. Mr. Haeger is the husband of Betty Mills Haeger and the father of Barbara, both Iowa Γ. Above and on each side were two water colors by Ruth Doolittle, Oregon B; five water colors, Dorothea Schulz Germundson, Illinois Z, one a self portrait; six water colors, Mrs. Roy H. Clayburn, sister of Adeline Stewart Schroeder, Wisconsin B.

Across the west end were three water colors by Florence Page Jaques, Illinois H, and three bird studies by her husband, with whose work we are familiar through the National Geographic; a marine, Mr. J. Arthur Heppes, father of Jean Heppes Firsch, Illinois Δ, and four paintings by Hal Fraley Nelson, Oklahoma A.

The seven lithographs by Constance Forsyth, Indiana Γ, and a landscape by her father formed a much admired group. Also on the south wall were two paintings by Mrs. Leslie Van Alstine, mother of Enid Hayward, Colorado A; four oils, Phoebe King Higgins, Nevada A; an interesting group by Margaret Sandzén, Kansas A, and her father, Berger Sandzén.

Down the center of the room, on large screens were shown photographs of original furniture designs by the husband of Mary Gibson, Colorado B; water colors and a charcoal, Louise Hartzler, Iowa B; water colors, wood block and linoleum cuts, Hilda Herz, Nevada A; paintings, Helen Cook, Ohio Δ; oils and wood cuts by Kathryn Dayton Aurner, Iowa Z; linoleum and block prints, Jane Allen, Kansas A; nine lovely photographs by John Barry, brother of Alice Howe Barry, Iowa Γ; and music written by Lilian Craig Coffman, Iowa A.

In a glass case we exhibited wood carvings by Royce Martin, husband of Sylvia Gray Martin, Minnesota A. They were very life-like and although they needed no titles the captions were very clever as for example the one on the figure of King Immanuel which read, "He plays the king as though he momentarily expected his opponent to play the ace."

We had a delightfully interesting variety of work shown by the thirty-six different artists and were much gratified by the interest exhibited in the lovely things done by Pi Phis and their relatives.

MRS. STARK RECEIVES DEGREE

NITA HALL STARK

AN INTERESTING announcement made at Convention was that Nita Hill Stark, Grand Secretary since 1931, and before that President and Vice-President of Kappa Province, and chairman of the Settlement School committee, had been honored with the Degree of Doctor of Laws from Baylor University of Texas, as a recognition of her work in connection with the development of education in her state.

Owing to Mrs. Stark's inability to receive the degree in person, it was conferred in absentium, only the second time such a thing has been done by Baylor University in ninety-three years.

Mrs. Stark is also a member of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary educational fraternity.

KIEFER OLYMPIC CHAMPION

THOSE who saw the swimming meet during Convention will remember with pleasure the eighteen-year old boy Adolph Kiefer, who gave us such a generous exhibition. From Chicago he went to Berlin, where he won the 100 meter back stroke Olympic Championship, making a new world record of 1.05:9, which is almost incredible. During his recent European tour and the Olympic contests he was also acclaimed one of the greatest swimmers of all times. Those who watched him that day and saw his poise, vitality, and general physical fitness, are not surprised to know he has attained the highest honor an amateur athlete can hope for.

Attention is called to a recommendation passed at the last National Panhellenic Congress at Biloxi that "the Congress go on record as looking with disfavor upon the use of fraternity names and insignia in commercial advertising."

MRS. SOULE'S BIRTHDAY

IN JULY Tacoma alumnae of Pi Beta Phi honored Inez Smith Soule, Founder, in celebration of her ninetieth birthday. They arranged a dinner in her honor, given in the Army and Navy room of the Winthrop Hotel, with covers for sixty members and invited guests.

Mrs. Soule, for many years a resident of Tacoma and widely known for her activities in many organizations, has been regular in her attendance at alumnae meetings, and she is known throughout the northwest for her interest in fraternity affairs. Mrs. Soule was graduated from Monmouth College in 1868. She came to Tacoma in 1901, and was ninety on July 26.

With her as honored guests were her daughters, Mrs. Leonard Brown and Mrs. G. C. Morrison, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Cleon Soule. A granddaughter, Mrs. Morris Ellsworth Webb (who will be remembered by those who attended the Yellowstone convention as Leonore Brown), also attended, and other special guests were Mrs. H. G. Fletcher of Seattle, Province Vice-president, and Miss Harriet Johnstone of Seattle, who accompanied Mrs. Soule to the Asbury Park Convention.

So lovely a celebration almost makes up for the disappointment of not having Mrs. Soule present at Edgewater Beach!

Tacoma, Wash.

August 1, 1936

Dear Mrs. Alford,

I wish to express through THE ARROW the following thanks for the birthday greetings sent me by members of Pi Beta Phi:

To the many Pi Phis who were so kind and thoughtful in remembering me on my birthday, I wish to express my sincere appreciation.

Wishing you all a most happy and successful year I am

Yours in Pi Beta Phi,

The musical score is written for voice and piano. It begins with a tempo marking of 'Hymnus Largo Andante' and a key signature of one flat (B-flat). The piano accompaniment features a steady, rhythmic accompaniment with chords. The voice part enters with the lyrics. The tempo changes to 'Con molto Sentimento' for the second system. The piano part includes dynamic markings such as 'p' (piano) and 'crescendo'. The score concludes with a 'dim' (diminuendo) marking.

Pi Beta Phi Memorial Hymn written by Louise Spaulding Marlin of Iowa Beta won the memorial hymn contest. Mrs. Marlin, who lives in Glendale, California, has always been very well known in Pi Phi activities both nationally and near her home. At present she is a member of the national committee on Fraternity Music. The beautiful hymn is evidence of her interest and loyalty.

A SCHOOL FOR LOVE

By LORINE PRUETTE, Tennessee A

The Author: Born of revolutionary stock in the blue grass section of Tennessee, Lorine Pruette came north as soon as she was graduated from the University of Chattanooga.

LORINE PRUETTE, Tennessee A
"I'm concerned with why we behave like human beings"

She worked for the government during the World War, after which she studied for the master's degree at Clark University and for the doctorate at Columbia. She has taught at Smith College, the University of Virginia, and New York University. At present she is a consulting psychologist in private work and a member of the staff of the Psychological Clinic of the Association of Consulting Psychologists in New York City; she is also an accredited representative of the Psychological Corporation.

Her first book, Woman and Leisure, A Study of Social Waste (Dutton, 1924), is now a standard reference on the subject of women's work and adjustment to problems of modern life. Writing about it Dr. Joseph Peterson of the George Peabody College for Teachers says, "You have entered a field that is very important, one that you should continue to hammer and hammer at until you see more women waking up to their opportunity."

She is best known among psychologists for her biography of G. Stanley Hall (Appleton, 1926), under whom she studied at Clark University. Dr. Joseph Jastrow, of the New School for Social Research, has declared this to be "a very notable piece of work . . . one of the distinctive biographies of recent times."

Dr. Pruette has contributed to many of the leading magazines of the country. She has written scientific and popular articles, stories and poems.

She has lectured before parent-teacher associations, town forums, radical and conservative groups. While her subjects are of serious importance in contemporary life they are usually treated with a saving touch of humor. She attaches importance to the open discussion at the close of the lectures and her audiences are customarily moved to extensive and vigorous participation in this discussion.

She is now working on the Commission on Human Relations, preparing a book on family relations for high schools. The Woman's Home Companion will soon publish an article of hers on child training.

"I have always followed these two lines of writing, fictional and scientific, both really concerned with that old question of why we behave like human beings," she explained. Her new novel is almost finished; it is concerned with the problem of the artist, in love and in society. It will probably make its appearance next spring.

The Book: Lorine Pruette, best known to us for her brilliant psychological writings and for her astute book reviews, has given us one of the year's gayest and subtlest novels.

This amusing book is not to be enjoyed by those who prefer the old-fashioned-girl-under-a-shade-tree type of story. But those who like the brilliant scintillation of a witty, sophisticated writer, will find Dr. Pruette's very clever.

It is a story of Betty—a sheltered, winsome Southerner, engaged to an unimaginative George. She travels to Paris to buy her trousseau and the three riotous, exciting weeks spent with her expatriate cousin and his friends, are the means by which Betty becomes of age—mentally—and the not-too-interesting, little girl is transformed into a charming, attractive woman.

This book is not to be considered "just another story," for under the gay nonsense of the light, amusing plot, the author has laid the foundation of a very true psychology of all her characters. And the balance of the two is ingenious.

There are unusually well written descriptions—in particular that of the races and of the Bohemian party.

Dr. Pruette's new book will be welcomed by a large group of discriminating readers.

The Reviewers: With dexterity and the disciplined grace of a fencer, the novelist thrusts the blade of irony into the fabric of youth, deflecting it adroitly just in time to turn the point from tragedy to high comedy. "School for Love" is a discerning as well as a diverting novel. Lisle Bell, N.Y. Herald Tribune.

Lorine Pruette, who has written some serious books about psychologists, women workers, and parents, displays a pleasing, facile touch in her first light novel. She writes in an amusing, knowing, sympathetic style. Beatrice Sherman, N.Y. Times.

LOVELY JOURNEY

By JESSIE DOUGLAS FOX, New York B

The Author: Although several years have elapsed between the publication of "Rain Before Seven," "What Mad Pursuits," and "Lovely Journey," Jessie Douglas Fox has not been idle. Numerous magazine articles and serials have found their way from her typewriter into print, but they have appeared anonymously or under a nom de plume and their identity remains a guarded secret between publisher and author.

Miss Fox lives in a lovely old home built by her grandfather in Yonkers on the Hudson River. The charming house, with its priceless antiques, reflects the graciousness and good taste of this Pi Phi author.

A hard-working writer is she, who disciplines herself to spend many hours a day at her typewriter, but finds time to pursue her hobbies. "I like gardens, cooking, strange places, dogs, antique furniture, and people." Incidentally, the "and people" may explain why her characters rise from the pages of her books, to act and speak as very real individuals.

Miss Fox graduated from Barnard, traveled extensively in Italy, England, Canada, and the United States, was obsessed with the desire to be an artist, but decided that teaching was financially safer. She taught in the Albany Girls' Academy, resigned that position and took up interior decorating in New York. She established a girls' school in New England but "escaped to write under contract for a newspaper syndicate." Eventually, she tried her hand at novel writing with gratifying success. When someone recently asked for news about herself, she modestly replied, "the news I like best is that my brother expects to have a play produced this autumn and my cousin, Faith Baldwin, is adding another to her long list of novels."

The Book: This is a novel of ordinary life, concerning ordinary people but it is by no means an ordinary book. This is the story of

JESSIE DOUGLAS FOX

"I like gardens, strange places and people"

Elizabeth, her family and the friends with whom her life is involved. The novel opens in the setting of a small Hudson River town very much like Miss Fox's own Yonkers. The reader is introduced to a number of exceptionally well-drawn characters. There are Elizabeth's two sisters: determined, sprightly Rhoda, who wants to become a doctor, and crippled, gentle Nan, who aspires to writing poetry. In vivid contrast are the family tyrant, Aunt Myra, and the "good angel," Uncle Jo.

Elizabeth, who adores to travel, has been invited by her uncle to go to Europe, but Aunt Myra puts a stop to that by withdrawing her financial aid to the family. It means, too, that Elizabeth must secure a teaching position so that there will be sufficient money to send Rhoda to medical college. The scene moves to a girls' boarding school in Albany. Here Miss Fox shows her familiarity with the scene, for only one who has known the confining, inflexible life of such an institution, could have pictured it so well.

But, divertissement is soon to appear in the form of Rufus, a gay, irresponsible, but lovable young man. Their marriage is followed by the countless happinesses and tragedies that such a union would inevitably bring. Then into Elizabeth's life comes Stephen—the man who would have made her a dependable, sterling husband. Rufus is deeply in love with Elizabeth and when there seems no way out of the predicament, the story moves to a swift and satisfactory conclusion. Elizabeth sets out at last upon her trip to Europe, but more important, she sets out upon her "Lovely Journey" of life. The title of the book is taken from Sara Teasdale's poem:

You go a long and lovely journey
For all the stars like burning dew
Are luminous and luring footprints
Of souls adventurous as you.

The Reviewers: "An expertly written and entertaining story." Lisle Bell, New York Herald Tribune.

"The author has a marked gift of understanding of life and a rare sense of portrayal from fiction to life, in reality, as the reader thinks and lives with the people of 'Lovely Journey.'" L. J., Boston Transcript.

DEATH BELOW THE DAM

By ESTHER HAVEN FONSECA, Wisconsin A

The Author: After Esther Haven Fonseca completed her recently published mystery, she started upon another entitled "The 13th Bed in the Ballroom." It has already been accepted and will appear sometime this winter under the Doubleday, Doran Crime Club imprint.

Mrs. Fonseca's family are indeed fraternity minded. Her mother is a Delta Gamma, her father a Delta Tau Delta, and, like their famous sister, Mary Haven Nelson and Anita Haven Frazier are members of Wisconsin

Alpha. In addition, the author is a member of Theta Sigma Phi, Phi Kappa Phi (women's professional journalism fraternity) and Mortar Board. She is at present vice-president of the Chattanooga Alumnae Club.

Immediately after graduation, she and five companions left for Europe. In England they met many members of Ramsay MacDonald's Cabinet, including Margaret Bondfield. They were entertained by Lady Astor at her Cliveden County home on the Thames and attended a reception given in honor of Lord Balfour. They spent two months studying the position of women in industry in England while they lived at a settlement house in East India Docks region (Limehouse Nights district) and at various working girls' clubs in London, Manchester, and Birmingham.

Back in New York, she spent two years as instructor and lecturer for a calculating machine company. (She admits mathematics was always her weakest subject.) Then for additional experience, because she always believed that someday she would write she "took a flyer at working in a department store" in Minneapolis for six months.

In 1928 she married David Fonseca, a Mexican of Spanish descent who holds degrees in engineering from University of Guadalajara in Mexico and the University of Illinois. Their two sons "one very dark and one very blond" were born during their three-year residence in Chicago. "When the depression hit the engineering business, we took to rural Wisconsin," she revealed. "We spent one summer in a two-room house in the country experimenting with raising celery, but that was one of the drought years and even the stream in the swamp dried up, so we managed to raise only as much as we could water by pail—enough to eat and distribute to our friends—and was it good!

"April 1, 1934, there was a heavy rain in our part of the state and a serious flood resulted, washing away two dams and a bridge in the river near my home. This disaster was fortunate for us as it not only provided Mr. Fonseca with engineering work on the new bridge, but gave me the germ for the flood idea—the first part of 'Death Below the Dam.'"

Mr. Fonseca is at present connected with the T.V.A. Mrs. Fonseca's first book was written while they lived on the top of Look-out Mountain. She explained how she managed to accomplish so much with two small sons. "Breakfast at seven, through at seven-thirty, dishes stacked, beds made, and odds and ends picked up by eight, and then four hours of writing until noon, while the two boys, one six and one four, ran in the woods or played just outside the porch. Which meant that I must spend my afternoons doing housework, to the amazement, and probable consternation of my neighbors, who must have thought I was some kind of a freak to be shaking out rugs at three in the afternoon just when all proper southern women are sitting on the porch dressed in organdie, with a fan and a cool iced drink. But the second book was written with the luxury of a maid."

The Book: If you want to bury yourself in a remarkably good mystery story, don't fail to read "Death Below the Dam." It has all of the hair-raising, terrifying thrills of a first-rate murder story, with two bodies instead of one, a broken dam, two washed out bridges, and an island cut off from the mainland, thrown in for good measure. Yet the horrors are not overdone. It is a well-balanced story and has a carefully constructed plot. All clues and intimations are satisfactorily disposed of and the interest is maintained to highest pitch throughout. Unless you peek into the last pages, which is strictly against the rules, you'll never guess who did it. We've read a lot of mysteries and we thought we were quite adept at solving the murder before the characters did, but Mrs. Fonseca certainly fooled us this time. We hope you will be looking forward to "The 13th Bed in the Ballroom" as much as we are. Tip: "Death Below the Dam" is a grand book to give that mystery-loving husband or brother.

The Reviewers: "The author, who is, so far as we know, a newcomer in the field of mystery fiction, has succeeded not only in producing a thrilling story of murder and detection but also in creating a set of characters who are real men and women, not mere puppets." Isaac Anderson in the New York Times.

"A satisfying love story, complicating outside circumstances, and a judicious use of the

By ETHEL HUESTON, Iowa A

The Author: Many a time and oft, the name of Ethel Hueston has appeared in this department. But no one seems to have heard from her for several months. However, one may be assured that whatever her activities, she is doing something interesting and is no doubt gathering material for another book.

The Book: To our way of thinking "The Man of the Storm" is the best book Ethel Hueston has written—and her previous ones were good stories indeed. We found her newest story fascinating reading from the first page to the last.

Perhaps you will remember that she and her Pi Phi pledge daughter retraced (by car to be sure) the steps of the Lewis and Clark Expedition. From this and from a vast amount of research and study of journals and archives, grew the story of "The Star of the West." And now in "The Man of the Storm" she tells the story of John Colter, who dared to return west after the other members of the expedition went back to civilization.

There is romance, adventure, intrigue, a love story theme, brilliant bits of local color, well-drawn characters, and a plot written by history that is more exciting than most fiction.

Pretty Manuela, spirited Doña Teresa, the mysterious Tempête (the Man of the Storm, from whence the author got her title), the courageous Colter—all leave their dusty places in forgotten archives and live once again by Mrs. Hueston's accomplished pen.

The Reviewers: "If Mrs. Hueston's novel had done nothing else, its existence would have been amply justified by her description of that brief dramatic interval in 1803 when, between the Spanish occupation and the conclusion of the Louisiana Purchase, St. Louis belonged once more to its French founders." Margaret Wallace, New York Times.

"Tall yarns of the Lewis and Clark period and the excitement of the time are interestingly interwoven with facts and customs to make 'Man of the Storm' a highly readable romance." Springfield Republican

COME SUMMER

By VIRGINIA McCARTY BARE, Virginia A

The Author: Virginia McCarty Bare, who is now living in Rye, New York, has lived in countries as far separated as Scotland and Puerto Rico, for her husband, who is a Presbyterian minister, has preached in many parts of the world. She has three charming children, which probably accounts for the fine way in which she has written this young people's book.

She says she has always written and probably couldn't stop it if she tried. "I first drew blood," she writes, "when I was in high school with a jingle which won a cash prize in a packer's contest. My effort was: 'Pigs is Pigs wherever they are, but ham's not ham till it's Southern Star.' Then again in college, I received a prize from the literary magazine for a piece of nonsense verse called 'A Little Piece of Chicken Fell From Off the Stove One Day.' But I didn't start writing continuously and professionally until about twelve years ago. Since then I have turned out a good many things, mostly girls' stories and essay-articles for adults."

The Book: For ages 12 to 16. This very real and human story tells of the struggles and triumphs of Denise and Christopher Owen when they escape from under the wing of a domineering but well-meaning aunt to make a home for their young sister and brothers on the New Hampshire farm left them by their father.

They work hard to make the little cottage livable: papering; painting; doing all sorts of things they have never done before—finding them hard but not impossible, experiencing the thrill of achievement. As a delightful contrast to all the hard work there are gay picnics with their friendly neighbors, the Barneses, village dances, the county fair, all novel and exciting to the city-bred Owens. Even the cold New England winter, to which they had looked forward with dread, has its novelty and fascination—Christmas and winter sports are high points. Denise has a few eventful days as the guest of Kim Barnes at the Dartmouth Winter Carnival, where she also sees again friends of the old carefree New York days.

This fine story of the gaiety and courage with which a family of modern young people meets the problems and responsibilities of freedom, and of how, as a result of a serious disaster, they come to appreciate and understand their aunt, is interesting from start to finish, and is written with a charm and humor that make it delightful and satisfying reading.

CREATIVE ENGLISH

By NELLIE IRENE BUTTON, Vermont A

The Author: Nellie Irene Button is the author of two very different types of writing. Her only book is a textbook for English classes and she has had several poems published—notably, her quatrain "October" appearing in Paebur's Anthology of Magazine Verse for 1935. She is now at work on a volume of verse which will probably make its appearance before the winter is over. This

The Reviewers: "The reason Come Summer is especially welcome is that, while there are many interesting well-written books for boys, books of adventure, popular science and fiction, strangely enough there are few equally good books for girls of the same age. Apparently it is a difficult art to produce books that are modern enough to appeal to the clever, sophisticated feminine youngsters of today and yet are clean and idealistic.

VIRGINIA McCARTY BARE, Virginia A
"Pigs are Pigs, but Ham's not Ham"

"The author of Come Summer seems to have achieved a happy combination—a series of intimate family jokes and small happenings, woven around a really serious experiment in living and a tender little love story that leaves one with a happy feeling, after finishing the book." Port Chester Daily Item.

author is unique in that she does not wish to rush into print as soon as a bit of writing is completed because, as she puts it, "Years of criticism at a school desk have made me a slow producer, a slow, cold reviewer of my own work."

Miss Button obtained her B.S. and A.M. at Middlebury and was for eleven years an interested member of the Western Massachusetts Alumnae Club at Springfield.

The Book: The following publisher's statement gives an adequate description of this author's book:

"The temptation to live vicariously is a strong impulse, often overpowering in its appeal to youth. It is easier for the imagination to accept ready-made reactions of others, described in books, than it is for the senses and the imagination to respond to original stimuli. . . . An Experience Curriculum in English, 1936 report of the National Council of Teachers of English.

"To the thousands of teachers who know this all too well, Miss Nelle Button offers her solution in Creative English. She makes pupils see, listen, touch, taste, observe; she makes simple and natural the recording of their impressions and observations. The amount of space in Creative English devoted to exercises is, as you might suspect, far greater than that devoted to discussion. It is not a special course for the gifted few. It is English from the creative point of view for all,—a review of essentials, a means of developing an appreciation of forceful, beautiful prose and verse, a chance for individual expression. Creative English catches between the covers of a book a kind of teaching and training that most teachers find decidedly elusive."

The Reviewers: "Once in a blue moon there comes to the reviewer's hands a book that is different, a book that challenges his attention and demands at least a modicum of his respect and homage. Such a book has recently come to the notice of this reviewer. . . . The author's style is clear and unadorned and adapted to pupils at the secondary-school level. The section on the training of the senses is interesting and richly suggestive. . . . One longs for a writer courageous enough to tell in a specific way how our roseate dreams may become reality; how fine-spun theory can actually be reduced to practice. Here is a writer who emerges from her laboratory and, with no apology whatever, presents both her method and her product. It is by no means bad product at that. The pupils' productions bear the stamp of sincerity, a sincerity distinctively adolescent. Glimpses of beauty there are—fugitive perhaps, but unmistakable evidence that youthful souls are trying the length of their wings." . . . Vincent A. Davis, of the Kansas State Teachers' College, in a review appearing in The School Review for May, "Creative English is a beautiful book, beautifully done."

SINGING LEAVES

EMILY LOU LINSLEY, Ohio T

Emily Lou Linsley (Emily Leavitt), whose children's book, "Singing Leaves," has recently been published by the Fleming H. Revell Co., New York, was initiated into Ohio Gamma chapter of Pi Beta Phi during her freshman year at Wooster University. Her other three college years were spent at the College for Women, Western Reserve University, where she graduated with honors.

Her professional writing career has so far covered a period of thirteen years. However, she remembers two books of poems and some humorous skits she wrote in preparatory school.

Mrs. Linsley's articles and poems for adults have been published in magazines of the house and garden variety and in religious magazines.

The children's magazines in which her stories, articles and poems have been published are: Junior Home, Girl's Circle, Boy's World, Junior Life, Boy's Life, Child Play, Girl's World, Golden Now, and Wee Wis- dom. Her children's stories have also been published on the children's page of several newspaper syndicates.

Mrs. Linsley has one son, Edward Leavitt Linsley, who has been the inspiration for much of her writing for children.

THIS AND THAT

In the next issue of THE ARROW, we hope to be able to tell you about an accomplished Pi Phi and her unusual family. There is a fascinating story concerning Ethel Chamberlain Porter, Illinois B, and the experiences that have gone into making her new book about the Balkan countries. It will probably make its appearance shortly. . . . Philip Van Cise, brother of Ethel Van Cise, Illinois B, has caused favorable comment with his book entitled "Fighting the Underworld," published by Houghton Mifflin ($3.50). . . . Some of the most outstanding book reviews appearing in the New York Herald-Tribune and New York Times are written by two members of the Fraternity. Lorine Pruette, Tennessee A, recently wrote the leading review for the Tribune when her criticism of "Return to Philosophy" by C. E. M. Joad appeared on the front page of the book section. Florence Finch Kelly, Kansas A, reviews books almost every week for the Times. Incidentally, it was she who reviewed the latest book of Dr. Mary B. Harris, Pennsylvania B. . . . Hamilton Basso, husband of Etolia Moore Simmons, Louisiana A, has followed that splendid biography of Beauregard with three outstanding novels: "Cinnamon Seed," "In Their Own Image," and most recently, "Courthouse Square," all published by Scribners. . . .

Sacajawea of the Shoshones

By HELEN GOTTSCHALK, Wyoming A

Dr. Grace Raymond Hebard, a notice of whose death appears under "In Memoriam," graduated from the University of Iowa, where she was affiliated with Pi Beta Phi. It was because of her interest in a local group at the University of Wyoming, Alpha Omega, that Pi Beta Phi was petitioned and Wyoming A granted a charter, in 1910.

She wrote many western books and for thirty-three years she worked on research to find the lost chapters in Sacajawea's life. Now that she is gone, may her last work be crowned with success!

FROM "rags to riches" is considered a long way up the social ladder in our generation, but from the "haul" in a gambling game to the subject of a scrap between states is even farther. And Sacajawea, the Shoshone princess, traveled that trail.

In 1803 when President Thomas Jefferson made the purchase of the Territory of Louisiana, embracing 1,020,571 acres of land,

DR. HEBARD TALKING TO A SHOSHONE INDIAN WOMAN ON THE WIND RIVER RESERVATION
The Indian woman was over 100 years old at the time and died soon after.

thousands of hostile Indians, untold wealth, and herds of the now extinct buffalo, he chose to lead an expedition into that wilderness Captain Meriwether Lewis and Captain William Clark, both leaders worthy of breaking the path in the west.

They traveled up the Missouri River, and upon arriving at the Mandan Indian villages, which were situated where Bismarck, North Dakota, now stands, they made final preparation for the penetration of the west.

Touissant Charbonneau, a French-Canadian trapper, was secured as a guide and with him came Sacajawea, his wife, whom he had grudgingly accepted as booty in a gambling game.

On February 11, 1805, while the party was yet in its winter quarters, the little Shoshone woman gave birth to a boy. And on April 7 when the western expedition left, Sacajawea went too, carrying her papoose on her back, Indian fashion. It was felt by Lewis and Clark that her presence would be valuable because their itinerary led through Shoshone country and it might avert trouble.

At the outset no one realized her worth, yet it was her knowledge of wily rivers, hidden mountain passes, and Indian strategy that brought Lewis and Clark safely back from the Rockies. Had it not been for Sacajawea, they would have died many times.

After her heroic part in the expedition, the little Indian woman lived in comparative oblivion—for a while with the Comanches of Oklahoma and later with her own nation—till she died on April 8, 1884, on the Wind River reservation in Wyoming.

It is now, some fifty years later, that her grave, in a wind-swept cemetery, devoid of trees, surrounded by tumble weeds, but facing the white-capped Wind River range—becomes the scene of battle between Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Wyoming.

First, at the suggestion of the Honorable Joseph M. Carey, Wyoming's first senator to Washington, the government became interested in erecting a permanent monument to mark the grave of the woman-guide. This was later strengthened by the late Senator John B. Kendrick. Then the federal government appropriated $2,500 for the purpose, and immediately Wyoming's neighbors pricked up their ears and claimed that Sacajawea was buried within their various boundaries.

The possessive interest has become even greater as the appropriation has grown. At the present time, the fund appears to be nearing the $5,000 mark, bringing the states' individual claims to the foreground.

Our government, always a referee in such matters, has set the deciding factor. The monument will be erected within the state's border which can prove, by written evidence, that the mortal remains of the immortal Sacajawea lie buried within its borders.

Dr. Grace Raymond Hebard, department head of political economy at the University of Wyoming, and prominent western historian, has the only written and permanent evidence to prove Sacajawea is buried on the Wind River reservation in Wyoming.

The Reverend John Roberts, Episcopal Missionary on the reservation, has in his parish records, the official statement of the death of Sacajawea. Dr. Roberts, who was at the time a young minister, conducted a Christian burial over Sacajawea's grave on April 9, 1884, after the little old Indian woman was found dead the morning of April 9 on her "shakedown" of quilts and blankets in her tepee. She had died during the night, alone, as she had often lived.

When the argument arose regarding the rightful place to erect the monument over the grave, Dr. Hebard requested that Dr. Roberts have a photograph taken of the actual record as it stands in the parish book. This he did, taking his volume of vital statistics to Lander, the nearest town, himself. He watched the photographer take the picture, destroy the film after the print was made, and had the picture sent to Dr. Hebard. All this precaution was taken so there would be no defacing the proof, thus facilitating the stealing of Wyoming's rightful possession.

This picture has been sent to Washington. If Wyoming receives the appropriation, Dr. Hebard was intended to have the honor of designing the decoration of the memorial which is to take the place of the small stone slab, now marking Sacajawea's grave.

Only last year, New York University nominated Sacajawea for one of the ten positions in the Hall of Fame of American Men and Women. Because she is relatively unknown in the East, she did not gain the position, but many years hence her name may occupy the niche it rightfully possesses.

Mortar Board Breakfast

ONE of the most interesting gatherings of convention was the Mortar Board breakfast held in the Marine Dining Room on Tuesday, June 23. Twenty-six members were present:

Hallie Chapman Collins, Colorado University; Martha Roberts, Iowa State College; Harriet Miller, University of North Dakota; Dora Louise Patton, Ohio Wesleyan University; Mary Ann Price, University of Illinois; Beatrice Bradley, Franklin College (Gold Quill) similar to Mortar Board; Grace Snyder, University of Michigan; Harriet Heath, University of Michigan; May L. Keller, University of Richmond; Lucy Pope, Florida State College for Women; Faith Martin Hanna, Kansas State College; Melba Quigley Milton, University of Nebraska; Jeannette Finney Ruby, University of Nebraska; Martha McCall, University of Oregon; Wilda Parker, Montana State College; Barbara Kimbrough, Washington State College; Clover Johnson, College of William and Mary; Marian Rose, Knox College; Carol Gouldman, College of William and Mary; Ruth Clark, University of Oklahoma; Adrienne Johnston, Stanford University; Eloine Cook, University of Wyoming; Jane Collins, University of Colorado; Mary-Lou McQuillen, University of Iowa; Sally Fisher, University of Illinois; Mabel Welton Guthrie, Purdue University.

Our Distinguished Dr. Mary Wolfe Pennsylvania Beta

(From The Bucknellian)

THE election of Dr. Mary Moore Wolfe to the Bucknell Board of Trustees, not only brings additional honors to an already distinguished Bucknell graduate, but gives to the University the benefit of her great experience in executive and administrative offices. The selection of Dr. Wolfe for this position seems singularly appropriate, for not only is she a Bucknell graduate and a native of

Pennsylvania B

Lewisburg, but also her forebears were the men who actually brought about the erection of the University. Their descendants through the generations have continued to be interested in and connected with Bucknell, and this newly-erected relationship but serves to continue and strengthen an old tie.

After her graduation from Bucknell in 1896, Miss Wolfe in 1899 received her degree in medicine from the University of Michigan. A woman of unusual physical vigor, of unusual mentality, will power, and industry, she soon proved that she also had real executive force.

At 25, Dr. Wolfe was appointed an assistant physician in the Woman's Department of the Norristown State Hospital in Pennsylvania. In two years she had been made chief physician. This position, which gave her her first wide experience with mental diseases, she resigned late in 1910 to open a private sanitarium.

This work Dr. Wolfe continued until 1914, when she was elected to the newly-created position of Superintendent of the Laurelton State Village, an institution for mentally defective girls and women, which as yet existed only on paper. It was Dr. Wolfe's task to erect the buildings, create a staff, plan the work of the institution, and administer everything. All this she did, and after 20 years of work, during which time she has built up a notable organization, she is still serving the state as head of the institution.

The institution now includes 10 stone cottages, housing nearly 700 girls, and five fine barns, in addition to the farm colony layout. Last year the property was valued at $1,800,000, and the equipment, furnishings, and livestock at $160,000.

Six months after the arrival of the first patient, Dr. Wolfe was fortunate in securing the services of Miss Mary Van Uxem, of Columbia University, now Dr. Mary Van Uxem. A trained psychologist, she began scientific studies with the very first patient. She has gone on making studies of every case that has been committed to the institution.

And that, to quote Dr. Wolfe, brings us to the matter of schooling and the Sears Roebuck catalogues. All these girls had gone to school before they came to us, and they all had had unpleasant experiences in school. These experiences became increasingly more unpleasant as the girls fell farther behind in their school work.

One day one of the girls brought to Dr. Van Uxem a Sears Roebuck catalogue. Pointing to a pair of shoes on a page, she asked Dr. Van Uxem to order them for her. Dr. Van Uxem asked her why she wanted that particular pair, inquiring why she did not select another pair on the page opposite, calling attention to the difference in price.

When the girl told Dr. Van Uxem that she could not read, the doctor asked her if she would not like to learn, remarking that then no one could fool her and that she would always get the worth of her money.

The girl admitted that she would like to learn to read, and that was the beginning of a school at the Village. Today five teachers are must know how to cook, to launder, and to do dining-room work or housework. Sewing is encouraged also, but not required, as so many articles can be purchased ready-made. Knitting, crocheting, and fancy work, too, are encouraged, to employ leisure time.

Girls have been on parole, and 85 per cent of these paroles have been successful. At the end of five years the per capita cost of the 194 girls paroled had saved the state employed in the Village schools, two are graduates of normal schools and three of colleges. They teach the girls from the fourth to the eighth grades, just as they would be taught in the public schools, except that the classes are smaller.

Largely out of this mail-order house beginning, the Village's present parole requirements have developed. The first is the educational standard of the three "R's." To be eligible for parole a girl must be able to read, to sign her name, and to read signs. It is fine if she is also able to write a nice letter, but that is not required, though she must be able to read writing. She must, of course, be able to make change, so as to know whether she is getting the wages due her.

Not only does the Village have a good library, but it is also well patronized. Only one state institution in Pennsylvania has a larger proportion of its girls withdrawing books.

To be eligible for parole a girl must also be trained in industry. She must be able to practice three trades so well that she can be self-supporting at any one of the three. She $65,000, less the cost of the parole officer. Besides, the paroled girls have been self-supporting and most of them have small bank accounts, for they are taught thrift. Today, out of 680 girls 66 or ten per cent are on parole.

Under the old law the training of the Village girls was to be principally agricultural. Many of these paroled continue to live on farms or in small towns. So at Laurelton the girls do all the lighter types of agricultural work. They raise garden truck, care for, and milk the cattle, take care of the sheep and the chickens, all under the supervision of a woman truck gardener or a farmer. The most important requirement for parole is that the girls must have social adaptation—the ability to live in the world without getting into trouble.

Naturally Dr. Wolfe's interests are widespread. Professionally she is active. In 1906, while Dr. Wolfe was chief physician at Norristown, she was one of 10 alienists requested by a Congressional investigation committee to inspect the Government hospital for the insane at Washington, D.C., and to testify as to its general condition and the efficiency of its administration. In 1907 the Federal government sent her to Amsterdam, Holland, as one of five delegates representing the United States, to attend an International Congress on Nervous and Mental Diseases. In 1933 she was elected vice-president of the American Association on Mental Deficiency, and in June, 1934, she was elected president of that organization.

Dr. Wolfe has been identified with the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women, the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Women's Christian Temperance Union, the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women, the Business and Professional Women of Pennsylvania, and has been president of the General Alumnae Association of Bucknell University. In addition to receiving her B.A. degree in 1896, Dr. Wolfe gained a Bucknell A.M. in 1900. In 1933 Bucknell conferred upon Dr. Wolfe the degree of Sc.D., this being the second time in 87 years that an honorary doctorate has been conferred upon a woman by Bucknell. Dr. Wolfe is also a member of the Woman's Legislative Council of Pennsylvania. All these interests are outward and visible signs of Dr. Wolfe's continued belief in the practice and the value of social service.

Three of Dr. Wolfe's grandfathers were among the 10 founders of Bucknell University. One great uncle, a physician, was chairman of the original board of trustees. Another great uncle, also a trustee, in 1845 made the tedious trip from central Pennsylvania to Providence, R.I., to consult President Francis Wayland, of Brown University, as to the best ways of developing a Baptist college in Lewisburg.

Come of pioneer stock, Dr. Wolfe, too, has pioneer, forward-looking ways. Her presence in the Board of Trustees should mean much to Bucknell and to Bucknell women.

Founders' Day in Los Angeles this year had as its outstanding feature the appearance of a group of twelve girls from California Γ and Δ chapters in the costumes of the sixties. As each girl stepped into the frame a short sketch of the life and personality of the Founder whom she represented was read. After the last one, all twelve walked through the frame and stood as "Speed Thee My Arrow" was sung.

A Pi Phi Goes to Pitcairn

Yacht Yankee,
January 10, 1934

WE ARRIVED in Wreck Bay at Chatham Island on Christmas afternoon, having crossed the equator the day before. The Galapagos Islands belong to Ecuador and are situated directly on the equator. They are 900 miles from Panama, and 2500 miles from Pitcairn Island, so they are indeed isolated from the rest of the world.

Whatever their origin may be, they are very strange Islands. Water is scarce on them, so, except in the rainy season, when the trees shoot forth sprouts and a scrubby grass comes up, the vegetation is almost negligible and the land has an arid appearance. High up in the hills, where it sprinkles now and then, there are trees of a sort, and some orange and lemon groves. From the sea the islands are very similar in appearance—working up to one large cone, with dozens of dead craters on the sides of the hills, and many lower peaks. Chatham Island has a fair water supply and has attracted people for years and years. It was the headquarters for pirates in buccaneering days, whalers called there and several expeditions came out expressly for the purpose of catching the galapagos, the huge land turtles after which the islands are named. To quote William Beebe, "They are one of the few places on the earth where aboriginal man never existed; there surely is no other place where man has so much adventured . . ."

The only people on the islands have been drawn to them by one scheme or another and they are a queer lot. Originally the Ecuador government used the Galapagos as a penal colony; then more Ecuadorians came for agricultural purposes, and there was a Norwegian expedition about seven years ago. On Chatham Island there are about three hundred Spanish looking inhabitants living in adobe huts in an "Hacienda" under the most primitive of circumstances.

We anchored for a day about $\frac{1}{8}$ mile from shore and gathered together all the horses we could get. Eight of us went off early in the morning in a rainy drizzle which got worse and worse as we went on. We rode all over the island, ending at luncheon time at the only decent looking place we saw—and there we found an amazing couple living a life quite alone, as the rest of the islanders are uncongenial. Senora Cabos is a young Norwegian girl who came with the expedition and married Senor Cabos, an Ecuadorian whose father was a brutal governor of the penal colony and was murdered by the convicts. The young man was educated in Paris and has been to London and New York. They have two children who were born there, with no medical aid, and they have a sizeable frame house. They were most cordial to us, inviting us to both luncheon and dinner—and such a meal as she prepared for us, away up there in the lava hills with practically no convenience! soup with yuca in it (a potato-like vegetable), broiled chicken, dressing, and fried potatoes, a dish of rice and fried plantain, and a delicious dessert of a mixture of yuca and eggs, fried in deep fat and served with syrup. All through the meal we had Norwegian bread, especially made for us, and tea with lemon. We had to leave right after the meal as it was getting dark and we had a delightful hour's ride down to the harbor in the dusk.

Then we moved to our next island, Floreane. There are only three families there and if you can believe it, they are not on speaking terms with each other. We met two of the families and heard of the third. I must tell you about the two we saw.

They are both, according to them, escaping from the shams of civilization and are getting back to nature. But they are approaching it from two entirely different points of view. The first group consists of Baroness von Wagner (authentically so)—about forty and very plain—with her young and handsome lover, Robert Philipson from Berlin. It is hard to understand the combination. With them is another German who does the cooking. We walked up to their place, five or six miles up the hill over terrible lava. Our feet were nearly torn to bits and the walk took us three hours. When we arrived the people were more than cordial and invited us to supper. They have done wonders with the place and are bringing their knowledge of civilization to the island. She knows a lot about agriculture and architecture and out of practically nothing they have made a wonderful garden with everything in it from beans to celery. Their water trickles down through a rock in the hill and they have to water the place night and day. They have orange and lemon trees and are growing bananas and papayas, too. Also they have ducks, chickens, dogs, and rabbits, and everything is so orderly. Their house is very simple, but will be improved upon in time. The only things they have to get from elsewhere are flour, sugar, and kerosene. Otherwise they live off the soil, killing wild cattle and hogs for meat, and using donkeys as beasts of burden. They seem happy in their little oasis in the midst of so much barren land and are planning to stay there the rest of their lives.

The other family was quite different, fanatics prompted by some strange Chinese cult to leave civilization and live alone. They are a Dr. Ritter from Berlin and a strange looking woman, not his wife, who is half paralyzed and has lost her upper teeth. They found a little spring nearer to the sea than the baroness and about $2\frac{1}{2}$ hours' walk from her place. Unlike her, they have brought no ideas of western agriculture with them, but prefer to live on what is already on their little oasis. Also, their creed forbids them to eat meat and cooked foods, so they make a diet of raw eggs and raw bananas, papayas, and pineapple. However, we noticed that when they came to the boat for dinner they ate heartily all that we had, including turtle steaks.

Much has happened since the last time I wrote to you. Nearly a month has passed and we have covered over 3,000 miles. We were twenty-one days exactly under sail between the Galapagos Islands and Pitcairn, and we enjoyed every minute of the sail. We had wonderful weather, although for a few days the winds were lighter than we could have asked for. However, we made fairly good time, and delightfully cool nights were a boon after rather hot days.

Then, two days ago, we sighted Pitcairn Island. The night before, a terrific wind blew up and we had a squally night. The boys hardly had any sleep and toward morning it started to pour rain. About five o'clock, through the mist and rain, we suddenly saw the island ahead of us towering a thousand feet out of the sea. It was a wonderful sight, after so many weeks of nothing—not even another ship—but water and sky. It was awfully rough and we rolled around like a cork. The captain had the boys lower the mainsail and we were "hove to," hoping that the islanders could venture out on such a day to get us, because the seas are so high and the landing so perilous that to land in a ship's dinghy is impossible! We were about a mile from the shore at the time, and could see the tops of the houses amidst the tall cocoanut palms on the hillside. About 6:30 we saw two sails near the shore and realized that boats were coming out after all. When they were about 200 yards from the Yankee, they dropped sail and took to the oars, and we could see that the 37 foot boats, with beams of 7 or 8 feet, were crowded with men. Such a crew as you never saw! They certainly looked like pirates in their old clothes, with their unshaven faces and missing teeth. They shouted to us in their old-fashioned English and raced to reach the ship. With one accord they leapt on board and for a while we seemed swamped with these English-Polyne-sians. I wonder if you've read "Mutiny on the Bounty"? If you have you'll know about the islanders. In case you haven't, I'll tell you a bit about them and you must read the rest.

In 1779, Fletcher Christian mutinied on the British ship Bounty and put Captain Bligh with 18 men afloat in a launch. He, Christian, took the Bounty to Tahiti, where several of the men remained. He with 8 men took the ship, a native wife apiece, and several natives with their wives, and they settled on Pitcairn Island, which wasn't on the charts and where they would be safe from British law. He burnt the ship. The men, in the next few years, were in one way or another exterminated except for Alexander

Smith (John Adams), who, the only white man left, with several natives and children of the mixed marriages, started a little community, established a church with the Church of England prayer book, and taught the people agriculture. And two days ago, it was the descendants of the mutineers who leaped on deck and spoke to us in their 18th century English. In the 146 years, only a few new names have been introduced into the island and the new blood has all come through men as no woman has been reported to have married into the clan. Despite this continual intermarriage, the race does not seem to have degenerated except for the poor teeth, which may be due to diet; and the 200 people living on the island today seem to compare favorably mentally and physically with 200 people elsewhere. They still speak English, but between themselves they have a patois of English and Tahitian.

The men wore all kinds of clothes: some in captain's hats, some in naval coats, sailors' middies, old shirts, overalls, dungarees, etc., and most of them had on quaint looking high straw hats. They turned out to be very friendly and urged us to come ashore. They came below and played our victrola and laughed and chatted like old friends. One man asked me if I had any perfume, and later gave me a handmade cane for a small bottle of eau de cologne. At breakfast the Skipper announced that the three girls and half the boys would go ashore in the morning and the rest could go in the evening when the first half returned. He asked Exy and me if we would stay the night on shore to get information for their story. We were excited at the prospect and packed a little bag to take along. It was still pouring rain and the waves were easily twenty feet high when we jumped from the bulwarks of our yacht into their long boat—when we were all in there were 39 people in the one small boat! Then the most exciting ride of my life followed. We rode the billows, right close to the rocky shore, with the men seven to a side and one steering in the stern. It reminded me of pictures of old viking days. We slipped between high rocks and the waves piled up on the island to our left, but we were not at all nervous, because these men and their fathers before them had manned similar boats for 146 years.

I'll never forget the picture we saw as we rounded a point and found the landing place ahead. On the shore were thatched huts covering the boats, and on the rocks around were crowds of children; high up on top of the cliff under the cocoanut palms were more people; and several ran down the steep path to meet us. The actual landing was one of the cleverest feats I have ever seen. The boat was steered through the narrowest channel imaginable and we rode into the beach on the crest of a wave. The men lifted us out on the shore and we were welcomed by the beaming faces and friendly salutes of the islanders. Boats come every so often to the island now, but it had been years since any passengers had come ashore, so the islanders were as pleased and excited as we were. They showered us with invitations to come to their homes and looked like disappointed children when we had to refuse.

It fell to Exy's and my lot to stay with Ada and Edgar Christian, two pillars of the community. They are all called by their first names because of there being so few surnames. Ada is middle aged and was dressed in a simple gingham dress and a funny old-fashioned hat. She had a beautiful smile and one of the kindest faces I have ever seen. Before I left I felt that she was a "Lady" in every sense of the word. She managed her household with such ease and never once raised her voice. She was a perfect hostess and the milk of human kindness was certainly in her soul. I should add here that the Seventh Day Adventists have sent missionaries to the island for years and that the people have a faith that carries them through all kinds of troubles. Before I visited Pitcairn I despised the missionary movement, but since seeing what their interpretation of Christianity and their faith mean to them, I have changed my mind. They don't drink or smoke and their attitude of brotherliness is amazing. They center their social as well as religious life around the church and they practice what they preach—"Do unto others as ye would be done by" A personal God, so real to them, is a necessity in their life. During all these years nothing has happened to shatter their faith. . . . They cling to their Saturday Sabbath, their attitude toward pleasure, their awaiting Christ's coming . . . they taught me how 200 people can live together in a truly Christian spirit.

To return to the day's experiences. We walked up the steep path to the town on the hill followed by the men and children, and were met by the women at the top. It was there that Ada met us and invited us to spend the day with her. We said good-bye to the rest of the crew and followed our hostess—the others went off with different members of the community. Our house was on the outskirts of the "town" and commanded a beautiful view of the sea through the palms. The houses are all alike so a description of Ada's will suffice. They are frame structures with tin roofs, where the rain water pours down and is directed by a leader into the cement lined tank. The islanders depend on rain for their water supply except for one spring which is used only in an emergency. Then the kitchen is a separate little building. Stone ovens are used, and heavy iron pots and pans. And one utensil which we noticed in every house was the cocoanut and potato scraper, fitted onto a saw-horse-like stool. The main house is very simple with a sparsely furnished living room and the number of bed rooms required. In practically every house there is an organ and the walls are hung with religious pictures and texts.

During the morning many townspeople kept dropping in and they were anxious to hear all about our trip. The women are rather a poor looking lot. Their teeth are missing in practically every case and they have bad figures. Like the men, they go barefooted, so their feet are broad and very hardened. However, they are kindly and friendly and they made a good impression on us. After a while Ada suggested that we go for a walk, so we started out between raindrops and made a tour of the truly tropical village of "Adams-town." The streets are paths through palms, banyan trees, oleanders, frangipani and other tropical trees, so you can imagine the beauty of the place. The houses are nearly hidden amongst this tropical growth and they are located in layers up the hillsides, on top of which is the community garden where every man has his plot to farm. In the center of the town are the church and administration building on either side of a square where the big bell is located. We were shown the rudder of the Bounty which had just been found.

At every house we were greeted warmly and given fruit, and on our return to Ada's, had a wonderful meal of bean soup, chicken (both boiled and fried) served with sweet potatoes and a salad of tomatoes, onions, and scraped cocoanut. Also there was a plate of delicious raw carrots and dozens of delicious homemade rolls. For dessert we had "Yankee pie," their name for pumpkin pie, and an arrowroot pudding served with cocoanut milk. We had a drink similar to Postum, made of burnt bran, and cocoanut milk was used again. After dinner the others had to go back to the ship so Exy and I scrambled down the hill to see them off. The boats were laden with bananas, watermelons, snow fruit, mangoes, passion fruit, musk melons, pineapples, pumpkins, and other things—gifts to us in payment for some canvas, salt pork, and kerosene which the Skipper gave them. And the crew, too, were laden with gifts of baskets, hats, boxes, and the novelties made by the islanders.

Exy and I, accompanied by the missionary, visited more people in the afternoon, including old Aunt Anne, aged 84, and her sister, the Widow Butler, the oldest people on the island. They told fascinating tales of the early days. Then we had supper with a "Young" family. After supper the bell rang and we were told that there was to be a special song service in our honor. So we went down to the church and were ushered onto the platform with the missionaries and the choir. The church soon filled with the islanders and the singing began after an opening prayer. To see these hard looking, dark complexioned men singing to their hearts' delight "Jesus Knows" and "Crown Him with Many Crowns" was really an inspiration. They nearly brought the roof down, so loudly did they sing. And the harmony was quite wonderful.

After the service we returned to Ada's and had a good night's sleep in not too bad a bed, which was spotlessly clean. Just before saying goodnight, she gave us two glasses and a pitcher of lemonade.

We woke up at seven the next morning to find that the men had already gone to the hills, so Exy and I had our breakfast alone. We had seven different kinds of fruit, some English biscuits, and the bran drink again. And after another stroll around the town and an hour spent with Hilda, Ada's daughter, in the kitchen, we had another delicious meal. This time the "pièce de résistance" was green banana pancakes served with sugar cane syrup. At last we had to bid our kind friends adieu and we started down the hill with every conceivable kind of fruit in bags and all sorts of presents. We had had Betty send back some things from the boat the night before which charmed the womenfolk—two dresses, soap, perfume, etc. We were carried into the long boats by the men and started off, accompanied by several of the women. Half way out to the yacht they raised the sails and we literally tore along in the breeze—over forty of us in a 35 foot boat. At last the ship was reached and we were handed on board. It was terribly rough and the poor souls who had come out with us were deathly ill. Finally we said good-bye to them and they piled into their two boats. Such a sight; I shall never forget them as they sailed back to their isolated island home, the man in the bow waving his white hat and all of them singing at the top of their voices "God be with you, till we meet again."

Appleton Luncheon

A GATHERING of Pi Phis in a part of the country that is without an organized alumnae group was the luncheon given by the girls in the vicinity of Appleton, Wisconsin, on August 19, 1936, at the Riverview Country Club, in Appleton, in honor of Adele Taylor Alford, ARROW Editor, then convalescing in Theda Clark Memorial Hospital, in Neenah, Wisconsin, and her daughter, Adele Alford Heink, former pledge of California Δ . Convention was the principal topic, since three of those present had attended. The organization of an alumnae club to take in the whole Fox River Valley was discussed, since in addition to the names given here there are also possible members in Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Neenah, and Green Bay, all within a radius no larger than is covered by several of our regional clubs.

Among those present were: Mrs. F. F. Wheeler (Georgene Pearsall), Appleton, Wis., California A; Mrs. A. M. Johnston (Florence Ross), Appleton, Wis., Wisconsin A; Helen Brady, Manitowoc, Wis., Wisconsin A; Mrs. Gilbert F. Rankin (Frances Brewer), Manitowoc, Wis., Maryland A and Missouri A; Mrs. Paul J. Pannier (Eleanor White), Appleton, Wis., Wisconsin A; Mrs. Laurence A. Burley (Gertrude Scanlon), Appleton, Wis., Wyoming A.

Pi Phis everywhere will be interested to know that Peggy Anne Landon, daughter of Governor Alfred M. Landon of Kansas, is an active member of Kansas A chapter and was elected vice-president of her chapter last spring.

OVER THE WORLD

The Editor welcomes notes for this column

Mercedes Janet Hurst, Indiana B, president of the Women's Advertising Club of Chicago, is also vice-president of the Chicago Federated Advertising Club, the first woman to be so chosen in that club, which is made up of both men and women executives in the advertising field.

Margaret Borroughs Adams (Mrs. Wayman, wife of the famous artist) Texas A and Louisiana A, again had charge of "Dicker Day," Adirondack mountain institution—the day when townspeople and others bring farm products and handiwork to be sold and bartered on the grounds of Mill Village art colony.

Mary L. Mathews, Indiana Δ, convention initiate in 1921, was honored at the celebration of ten years of progress in the school of home economics of Purdue University—progress which is in large part due to her work as Dean of that school.

Emma Vogt Ives, Missouri B, of New York City, is head stylist of Vogue. We hope to have more about her work in a later issue of THE ARROW.

Rebecca Downey White, Michigan B, in addition to graduating with the highest honors from the University of Michigan last year, winning election to both Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi, was given two awards for excellence in Italian, one from her own university, and one from the Italian government.

Thelma Havens Ballou, Vermont A, is living in Peking, China, where she and her husband, Earle H. Ballou, are active in missionary work. A printed letter from Dr. Ballou descriptive of their work has come into the Editor's hands, and made her quite homesick for the Orient!

Louise Polk Huger, Virginia B, is secretary to the publisher of the New York Times.

Alice Philipson, Missouri B, is on the staff of the Girl Scouts, in New York.

Mary Alice Jones, Tennessee A, distinguished herself further last spring by chasing and capturing a thief who was making off with her purse—containing $700!

Florence Nichols Harrison, Illinois Δ, of Wheeling, West Virginia, challenges the record of Florence Collins Peterson, Wyoming, who has nine children. Mrs. Harrison also has nine children, and seven grandchildren, and three of her daughters are Pi Phi, Florence Hall Gentry, Esther Hall Yount, and Mary Hall Ertel, all of Illinois Δ.

Evelyn Morris, Manitoba A, who plays under the name of Judith Evelyn, appeared in the Hart House Theatre, Toronto, production of the "Magnanimous Lover," by St. John Irvine, and won the memento from Lady Tweedsmuir for the best individual performance by a woman in the Dominion Drama Festival.

Marjorie Farrell, Indiana B, is now assistant manager and interior decorator at the Pearson Hotel in Chicago.

Helene Foellinger, Illinois Z, is woman's editor of the News-Sentinel, Fort Wayne, Indiana.

Gladys Campbell Blakey, Illinois Δ, last year published a bulletin on History of Taxation in Minnesota, one of the School of Business series. She has also collaborated in writing three others. Her husband, Roy G. Blakey, is acting head of the Division of Economic Research, in the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

S. Marie Vaughn is a statistician with the St. Louis Relief administration.

Mary Tree Watson, Oklahoma B, is dancing with Ted Shawn's company.

Constance Day Tawney, Minnesota A, operates the Cafe de Las Ondas, Laguna Beach, California.

Jane O'Sullivan Coffin, Nevada A, is doing interesting things with poetry, and has been called the "Poetess of the Palms."

Emily Legg Randall (Mrs. Raymond Ross), Washington, living in Fort Yukon, Alaska, north of the Arctic circle, is probably the most northerly Pi Phi. Her five-year-old son is the only white child there.

Bernice Van der Vries, Kansas A, is having a most interesting career as state representative in Illinois. More of her another time! She has undoubtedly a distinguished career before her.

Leta Horlocker, artist, of Los Angeles, again this year managed the Art Exhibit at the Los Angeles County Fair, as she has done with great success for many years. It is of interest that Miss Horlocker was the first province officer of the fraternity to be chosen from the West Coast, and that she was responsible for the fine display of articles from the Settlement School at Bullocks in Los Angeles.

MAGAZINES—FOR THE UNUSUAL GIFTS

"Knock, knock."

"Who's there?"

"Howard."

"Howard who?"

"Howard you like to receive a gift subscription this Christmas?"

With the busy season now in full swing it is especially important that Pi Phi and our friends keep in mind that we have a Magazine Agency.

If we are magazine minded, which I am sure most Pi Phi are, we can not only assist others in solving the Christmas Gift problem, but avoid the wild scramble that most of us have about a week before Christmas.

Our special bulletin of Christmas Gift offers will be sent any Pi Phi upon request from your District Chairman. If you are already selling our subscriptions you know what a fine project we are carrying on. If you are not using our Magazine Agency for your friends and yourself we urge you to start at once.

Commissions vary from 5c to $1.50 on all magazine subscriptions. These commissions are sent at different intervals to the Settlement School Treasurer, Miss McCleverty. The School depends upon this income for a part of its budget.

The new set-up of having the agency divided into four districts should make the work more efficient as well as add to our volume of business.

Addresses of District Chairmen appear in the Directory pages of this number. Don't forget the Pi Beta Phi Magazine Agency.

ARROW CRAFT SHOP

TEN YEARS OF ARROW CRAFT

THE current Pi Beta Phi year seems to be one significant for Settlement School anniversaries. First to appear is the tenth anniversary of Arrow Craft Shop; later months will bring the School's own twenty-fifth anniversary.

Arrow Craft's rise to a preeminent position among American handicraft centers is the result of an ever-increasing loyalty on the part of Pi Beta Phi's members throughout the country and Pi Beta Phi's workers throughout the 'Burg. Then, too, a number of handicraft experts have given to the Shop the benefit of their special training. Small wonder that the present weaving-teacher encouraged our weavers this past spring to prepare a special anniversary towel with a motif of ten lighted candles.

In a report to the Convention preceding 1926 Miss Evelyn Bishop said, "The baskets and weaving we have for sale are in Mrs. Dowell's room in the attic. Not the least of our troubles is to find a place to store and pack, as well as to sell, the baskets. The business has grown until it really would keep one person busy all the time if it were handled as it should be." Today the Shop is attractively housed in the School's first building, the remodeled schoolhouse. The weaving department is set up nearby in the stone building which earlier housed the woodcraft department. Their staffs include four full-time workers and many assistants. Besides, there is a branch shop in the lobby of the Mountain View Hotel with an extremely able manager there. And in 1936 all of these workers are busy all of the time.

Twelve months' industrial income in that pre-1926 year had amounted to $4,981. For the twelve months preceding the 1936 Convention net sales were reported as $25,830.72. Edgewater Beach sales alone, the largest in Convention history, amounted to $1,456.77. Since then Arrow Craft's manager has reported August, 1936, the best month in local retail history, with over $1,600 in cash sales.

That the development of Arrow Craft has remained altruistically worth while in the ten years of its rapidly expanding business is perhaps best illustrated by quoting an official of the Southern Highlanders in Norris, who said in September of this year, "Recently I asked a member of the Pi Beta Phi staff at Gatlinburg what proportion of her weavers were at or near the relief level. She indignantly declared that none of them were, which brought to me forceful recognition of the value of Pi Beta Phi work in that area."

SOUTHERN HIGHLANDERS' SHOP, NORRIS DAM

By PAUL JOHNSON

IT WAS in 1931 that the Southern Highland Handicraft Guild was formed. A voluntary association of producers of fine handicrafts in the area of the Southern Highlands, this organization dedicated itself to the maintenance of highest quality in handicraft production. The Guild has since 1931 operated its cooperative retail shop, the Allanstand Cottage Industries, in Asheville, North Carolina. Handicrafts of all the members of the Guild are placed for display and sale in this shop, the profits from which are employed in the work of the Guild, as determined by the members.

In May, 1935, an organization of equal significance was formed. The Southern Highlanders, a cooperative corporation organized under the laws of the state of Tennessee, has broad powers. Its purposes include marketing of all types of Southern Highland handicrafts, both in tourist shops and in metropolitan areas; creation of a design counsel service by means of which styling, designing and market information may be made available to handicraft producers; providing a research service for the solution of production problems; and increasing the economic well being of all producers of handicrafts in the area of the Southern Highlands.

A retail shop of the Southern Highlanders is operated at the Norris Dam of the Tennessee Valley Authority, and there is also one near Chattanooga, Tennessee. Here the handicraft products of the region have been presented to thousands of tourists and visitors. Weavings, woodcarvings, pottery, and other fine handicrafts have been carried to all parts of the country.

On May 1, 1936, Southern Highlanders opened its shop unit on the lower concourse of the International Building, Rockefeller Center, New York City. Handicrafts are here assembled in wider range than has ever before been possible. Their use in modern home decoration schemes has been emphasized. This display is realizing one of the foremost dreams of handicraft producers, in proving that Southern handicrafts embody both the tradition of finest workmanship and the character which makes them possess a modern, living beauty and usefulness.

Numbered among the membership of Southern Highlanders are almost all of the members of the Southern Highland Handicraft Guild*—schools, workshops, individuals, cooperative groups.

* Arrow Craft Shop belongs to both the Southern Highland Handicraft Guild and the Southern Highlanders, Incorporated.

The Weavers' Guild Play

By EVELYN BISHOP

NEWS came to me, "The Weavers' Guild is writing a play, rehearsals are about to begin, the play will be given early in July." There was no need to add that the women were having a grand time writing it and that we must be sure to go. I had seen two original productions that Homemakers classes had put on in years past and knew well that this one would be worth the trip from Norris to Gatlinburg.

The program, when the gala night finally arrived, read as follows:

LIGHTENING THE LOAD
An Original Three Act Play Presented By The Gatlinburg Weavers' Guild

Act I. October, 1898

Scene: Home of Mrs. Nancy Burns on Lonesome Creek where her neighbors have come to a workin'.

Act II. Spring of 1930

Act III. Spring of 1938

Scene I. College room of Jewel Hamilton.
Scene II. September, 1938. Living-room of a home in Gatlinburg, where Jewel lives.

The cast of characters is too long to bear reprinting, but the names, chosen by the actresses for themselves, were particularly interesting.

A deep plot was not necessary. There was just the story of the changes that had come to individual families and to the community since the School had come, and the later changes when the Park had given employment to the men. The first act was the one that created the most interest. It is hard to say which of the women wrote it. Miss Redding had to keep pruning it down, for at each rehearsal the women would think of more to add—bits of old mountain superstition or philosophy, sayings which amused them as much as the audience. The older women had really experienced many of the things related in this act of the play, and as true to the times were the stage settings, for the loom, wheel, dye pots, and costumes had been in use by the actresses or their neighbors in years past. The second and third acts seemed to follow real happenings so closely and were done so naturally that they appeared to be merely the recounting of the story of the past few years.

Personally, my greatest enjoyment was in seeing the thoroughly good time the actresses and the audience were having. Old and young paid little attention to the terrific heat of the room that evening. The auditorium was packed and it was indeed a Gatlinburg audience. The play was full of humor and local color, and I think we all hoped the weavers were really sincere when they said as soon as the curtain went down on their last act, "Let's do another one next year!"

Report of the 1936 Settlement School Committee Meeting

By LILLIAN BECK HOLTON, Chairman

THE Settlement School Committee spent the week of July 7 to 14 at the School for the annual Committee meeting. Lillian Beck Holton (Mrs. E. L.), the new chairman, presided and Marie Bacon Hagee (Mrs. G. M.) was made secretary. Josephine McCleverty continues as treasurer. Charlotte Brown was made editor of News from Little Pigeon and Jeffries Green Pace (Mrs. E. M.) was put in charge of publicity and club programs. Mrs. Hagee and Mrs. Pace are new members of the Committee.

Reports given by the director, principal, Arrow Craft director, nurse, and other members of the staff showed that the past year was one of great accomplishment. Conferences with people of the community showed that our work is still greatly needed and greatly appreciated. Conferences with county and state officials brought out the cooperation of the School with these officials and their intent to continue to help in furthering our work.

The addition of the fourth year to the high school was decided upon and that necessitated the equipment of a chemistry laboratory in the high school building. The additional teacher required will be paid by the county. This position, as well as three vacancies caused by resignations, was filled.

A more efficient plan of production for Arrow Craft, presented by the weaving supervisor, was adopted. Needed repairs were decided upon. The management of the farm and the plan of production were discussed with Mr. King who will have charge of the agriculture in addition to being principal this year. Closer contacts with the Magazine Agency, the Grand Vice-President, and the Province Vice-Presidents were planned. Miss Onken was again made Grand Council advisor to the Committee.

An inspection trip to the Southern Highlanders' Shop at Norris Dam was made. The Committee greatly enjoyed the Weavers' play which the weavers wrote and presented for us under the direction of Gene Redding. The tea given by the Gatlinburg Alumnae Club was another delightful event, as was the dinner given by Stella Huff at the Hotel. On each of these occasions, as well as in regular sessions, the Grand Vice-President joined the Committee.

After adopting budgets for both the School and the Arrow Craft Shop, the Committee adjourned with the feeling that, with the plans made and the excellent staff to carry them out, the coming year should be most successful.

GOOD USE OF THE FELLOWSHIP!

A letter to Miss Onken from Frances McNulty, who held the Pi Beta Phi Fellowship in 1930-31:

"I thought you might be interested to know that I am to teach English at Hollins College this year. Of course, the work would never have been open to me if I had not studied for a Master's Degree, and I could not have done that without the help of the Pi Phi Fellowship. I cannot possibly tell you and all of Grand Council, in words, how much the experience of studying at Columbia meant. Even now, five years later, I am still discovering what an inspiration it was to be! Not only to help me to find congenial work, but in many ways which do not show on the outside; acquaintance with interesting people, books and music, and countless ideas for teaching.

"I haven't written much lately except some verse in the Lyric, the New York Times, and the Junior League Magazine. I took a fascinating writing course this year at Bread Loaf (Middlebury's summer English School in the Green Mountains)."

SUCCESS BECOMES A TRADITION

The successful chapter does not pledge anybody just to fill the house. The group has learned that sooner or later a large number must be discarded and they are a frightful drag while affiliated. Pledge training and discipline are definitely related to initiation. A large initiation class means a large active chapter and a correspondingly large number returning to school each fall.

The writer recently discussed with a traveling secretary the reason for the unusually long period of success enjoyed by a chapter of his Fraternity, the secretary suggesting that success had become a tradition in the chapter. Of course, it takes something to create a tradition and to keep it alive. The real answer is that the members of this chapter are so keen about the Fraternity that they work diligently to maintain its high standard of performance; they know how to entertain; they subject their pledges to rigid, but wise, discipline and give them a thorough training; they initiate a large percentage of each pledge class, and, above all, the active chapter provides the pledges with a living example of what a good chapter is like.

EXCHANGES AND COLLEGE NOTES

Edited by NITA DAY CARMAN, Minnesota A

Approximately 200 of young college women writers, members of Theta Sigma Pi, national honorary and professional journalism society for women, went to Texas for the biennial national convention of that organization. They were guests of the University of Texas chapter and the Austin Alumna chapter, June 18, 19 and 20.

It is interesting to recall that there are men who are members of sororities and women who are members of fraternities. Dr. Richardson of the University of Arkansas is listed as a founder of Chi Omega while General John J. Pershing is a full fledged member (in good standing, too) of Delta Delta Delta; George Banta Sr. helped found Delta Gamma (and wrote the first constitution) and was made a member of that sorority; Eleanor Payne's father is a member of Alpha Delta Theta. Lucy Pattee of beloved Sig Alph memory was an initiated member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon in token of her services in saving valuable Sigma Alpha Epsilon documents during the Civil War, and Betty Locke, founder of Kappa Alpha Theta, was offered membership in Phi Delta Theta. Are there others?—The Fraternity Month

VALUE OF A DELTA GAMMA MOTHERS' CLUB

1. It is a means of securing home cooperation in promoting the rules and policies of the Fraternity.
2. It affords an opportunity for the mothers to become acquainted with each other and with the members of the chapter, and provides a reliable means of giving mothers information concerning the chapter and the Fraternity.
3. It secures the interest and assistance of mature minds in the welfare of the chapter.
4. An organized mothers' club is in a position to be of great financial assistance to the chapter.
5. It can assist in entertaining and rushing.

6. An enthusiastic interested Delta Gamma mother is the finest kind of Delta Gamma "publicity."—The Anchor of Delta Gamma.

HOW DO WE RATE?

By Louise Leonard, A T Δ, National Panhellenic Delegate

Last spring, when fall rushing plans were already in the air, there came to my desk by chance one of the prevailing booklets which are prepared for the information and edification of the presumably uninformed rushers who invade the campuses each fall. Persons will disagree concerning the details of what should go into such booklets, but it has always seemed to me that fraternity good taste is as valuable a requisite as personal good taste. Therefore it was with a distinct shock that I read among the "Do you know's" of this booklet prepared by a chapter of a fraternity other than my own the startling query "that ——— fraternity ranks first of all the N.P.C. fraternities because of ———." The reasons, which could easily be refuted by one with a Panhellenic background, I omit since the identity of the fraternity in question is not pertinent to the present discussion.

A universal besetting sin of the human race is talking too much. Most of us love to talk and it is impossible to talk a great deal and not have a goodly amount of that talk worthless. With some of us a stronger designation must be used, dubbing our words harmful or even vicious. This is especially true in any superficial discussion of the relative rating of the N.P.C. groups. Supposedly we have all long since put away childish things. Why then should we resort to the methods of pre-kindergarten days when we flounced our starched skirts, switched our pigtailed, and figuratively, if not actually, stuck out our tongues and hurled as the final clinching argument—"Well, my father can buy me all the ponies I want?"

There are twenty-three member fraternities of N.P.C., each of them known as a general, social, college fraternity. The chapter rolls of the twenty-three vary in length and in importance. When you think of the collective ages of these organizations there comes to you, if you are of a mathematical turn of mind, an amazing comprehension of the thousands who are members of one or another of the twenty-three. Obviously, in spite of fraternity magazines, bulletins, newsletters, and the many other means employed for keeping in touch with members, it would be impossible to keep them all informed on every phase of fraternity progress and present day trends in fraternity living. It is even impossible to be certain that some over-zealous undergraduate won't lose sight of the fundamentals of her Greek education given her during her pledge-training days.

Each of the twenty-three N.P.C. fraternities is founded on ideals which dedicate its members to service and to honor and uprightness in all human relationships. Each fraternity was founded because it was felt that within its circle deep friendship and high endeavor could be more easily fostered than without the bond of ritual. One fraternity could not possibly give membership to all who wished it and retain the close association which is an essential for the forwarding of its highest aims. It would all seem very simple then to think that one fraternity being good, and there being plenty of students to fill the ranks of twenty-three fraternities, the twenty-three would be just what was needed. And, since the problems of all twenty-three must be approximately the same, there would out of this similarity of purpose grow a solidarity which would tend toward cooperation and understanding among the individual chapters of those fraternities in working together. But the usual picture is quite different. There are campuses on which a really Panhellenic spirit prevails—where those chapters that, through some turn of the wheel, are undergoing a lean period are really given a helping hand, sympathy expressed for their present hard luck, and their good points enlarged upon in conversation. In general the campuses after rushing remind one who views them with a discerning eye very much of battle fields whereon national, chapter, and individual reputations lie torn in shreds without regard to truth or consequences, so long as the letter of the college Panhellenic rules is preserved. Theoretically everyone deplores the methods used in rushing, but we all go on year after year building up a more elaborate and complicated and devastating system of competition which completely undermines and at least temporarily annihilates the finer qualities of interfraternity relationships. Nothing in the whole system is more vicious than the complete lack of reticence in making statements which can not be proved by facts. It would indeed be a brave national officer who would undertake to prove the assertion that her fraternity was the "best" or "first," for she knows there is no such listing.

It is beneath the dignity of any fraternity woman to make such a statement concerning her own fraternity or to make derogatory remarks concerning the national or local rating of any other fraternity. Every organization has a few skeletons in its closet, but their parading does little but harm all fraternities. A college Panhellenic should be a constructive body engaged in a progressive program of real value to its members and the general college community. There should be fostered a spirit of confidence in the integrity and fair play of all its members. Keen though competition is, it should be carried on without questionable methods and statements. It should not be necessary for any group to be forced into methods of which it disapproves in order to preserve its existence. If all twenty-three N.P.C. fraternities would earnestly apply themselves to the task this change could be brought about.

How does a fraternity "rate"? "first," "best," "Big Six," and on and on? It rates by its members truly living the ideals of the fraternity, by their being contributing members in the better activities of the campus and their home communities, by remembering that there is a culture which is supposed to be acquired through a college education and intellectual contacts that is more than a veneer. It rates by actually being and not saying it is. In fraternity as in all else—"What you are thunders so loud I can not hear what you say."—Alpha Gamma Delta Quarterly.

IN MEMORIAM

MARGARET E. CAMPBELL, Founder, born November 7, 1846, died at Monmouth, Illinois, October 15, 1936. A tribute to Miss Campbell appears on the first page of this issue.

JENNIE SWEET SUTLIFF, I.C., Kansas A, initiated 1882, died at Palo Alto, California, March 10, 1936, after a brief illness. She is survived by two sisters, Helen B. Sutliff, of Palo Alto, for many years librarian of Stanford University, and Addie Sutliff Wheeler, of Milwaukee, Wisconsin. No family in Pi Beta Phi has ever been more active and more loyal. In 1893 Miss Jennie installed Vermont A chapter. Miss Jennie and Miss Helen, (later Grand President), built and maintained a house for the Pi Phis in Lawrence, Kansas, the first fraternity house on the Lawrence campus, and it was so beloved a home for the chapter that to this day a round robin letter is carried among the girls who lived in that house. Miss Jennie had for years made her home with her sister Helen.

MABEL DUNSHEE FERRAL (Mrs. J. C.), I.C., Iowa E, initiated 1881, died April 25, 1936.

LULU BURT CRAVENS (Mrs. W. B.), I.C., Illinois B, initiated 1884, died October 25, 1935.

GRACE RAYMOND HEBARD, I.C., Iowa Z, initiated 1882, died in Laramie, Wyoming on October 11, 1936. Long on the faculty of the University of Wyoming, Dr. Hebard was responsible for the founding of Wyoming A chapter. The history of Wyoming had engaged much of Dr. Hebard's interest for years, and elsewhere in this issue is an account of her last service to her state. Her funeral in Laramie was attended by both alumnæ and active members of Pi Beta Phi in a body.

She was born in Clinton, Iowa in 1861 of pioneer parents, and attended high school there. In 1882 she received the first bachelor of science degree issued to a woman at the University of Iowa. She was active in many other organizations, including $\Phi \Gamma N$, American College Quill, and $\Phi K \Phi$.

Dr. Hebard has been well known for her literary contributions, both books and magazine articles. Her books include, "The History and Government of Wyoming," "Pathbreakers from River to Ocean," and "Sacajawea." She was admitted to the Wyoming bar in 1891, after receiving her M.A. degree from the University of Iowa. In 1893 she was awarded a Ph.D. from Illinois Wesleyan.

In recognition of her work in Wyoming, she was to receive an honorary doctor of science degree from the University at the semi-centennial commencement activities next spring. Dr. Hebard will live long in the hearts of her students and co-workers as the personification of loyalty, industry, and perseverance.

NELL CUSTER SWISHER (Mrs. Stephen A.) I.C., Iowa Z, initiated 1882, former Grand President, the first after the change to the Greek letter name, died April 16, 1936, in Iowa City, Iowa, where she had lived for seventy years. In addition to her always faithful service to $\Pi B \Phi$, Mrs. Custer had been active in every fine organization in her city—the Federation of Women's clubs, the Methodist Episcopal church, the League of Women Voters, and for eight years was first woman member of the state democratic central committee. She was a delegate to the Democratic National Convention in San Francisco. She had served on the advisory board of the local Panhellenic, and was president of the $\Pi B \Phi$ building association.

LUELLA GREEN KENNEDY (Mrs. C. K.), I.C., Iowa B, died January 6, 1933, in Whittier, California.

ETTA MELENDY BASSETT (Mrs. Hiram M.), I.C., Iowa A, initiated 1882, died in St. Barnabas Hospital, Minneapolis, July 27, 1934.

Pledge Day, Undecided

From the opening date of college, the chapter has been enthusiastically making plans for rushing which does not start until the last of November. In previous years rushing was until the first of the second semester, however this year Panhellenic has changed the date to November 26, through Christmas vacation.

Last July a $\Pi B \Phi$ state convention was held at Belgrade Lakes. There were about sixty present, all of whom were delighted to meet Miss Hood, who succeeds Miss Peene as Province president. Plans were made for the chapter for the coming year. Miss Peene gave an interesting report of Convention, after which Louise Calderwood, president of Maine A, told of her visit to Convention. The alumnae made plans for organizing several alumnae groups within the state. Π Beta Phi songs were sung, and several alumnae spoke.

The chapter is fortunate in having a new chapter room this year. The room is to be in Professor Waring's new house, which is only a short distance from the campus. The room contains a large fireplace, and through the help of the state alumnae will be furnished very attractively. Formerly, the chapter meetings were held in a classroom.

Oak Hall, a freshman men's dormitory, which was destroyed by fire last year is being replaced by a new building which is yet unfinished. The M.C.A. building and "The Pines," the former home of Dr. Small of the faculty, are being occupied by freshmen until the new dormitory is completed.

The Maine alumnae are offering a $\Pi B \Phi$ ring to the girl who will have done the most for the chapter at the end of her college year.

On October 18, the Bangor alumnae are giving a tea for the actives and pledges at the home of Mrs. Brush.

INITIATED, January 30, 1936: Jeanne Geddes, Jean Fitzgerald, Constance Jost, Mabel MacKenzie, Halifax; Catherine Finlayson, Ottawa, Ontario; Helen Napier, Campbellton, New Brunswick.

The university opened on September 29. We are pleased that we now have sufficient resident alumnae to form an alumnae club in Halifax.

Rushing took place the week beginning October 18. The alumnae gave a tea for the rushees and the chapter a dance at the Waegwoltic Club. According to local Panhellenic rules each fraternity is limited to two parties.

This year three members on the Shirreff Hall House Committee are members of Nova Scotia A, one being the president and the two girls on the Students' Council are both members of the chapter. Helen Holman is on both. Fran Drummie, a graduate student, is again vice-president of the Glee Club. Helen Holman and Catherine Finlayson are class officers. Gene Morison is in charge of girls' debating.

The welfare committee is hoping to find work for $\Pi B \Phi$ members reading to and teaching the children in the hospital.

The formation of a dramatic club on the campus is being discussed. This will be for the purpose of studying plays from the production angle.

Of last year's class, four have returned to the university: two to study for their M.A., one to study Education, and one to study singing. Graduates, May 1936: Elizabeth Ballen, B.A.; Frances Drummie, B.A.; Frances Gardner, B.A.; Margaret Kerr, B.A.; Janet MacGregor, B.A.; Elizabeth Miller, B.A.; Mary Watson, B.A.; Mildred Allen, B.Sc.; Gwendlyn Gillespie, B.Com.; Merle Purtill, LL.B.

INITIATED, April 22, 1936: Marilyn Manning, Worcester, Mass.

With the inauguration of the new women's dormitory, the Women's College at Middlebury has opened another year. The enrollment of freshmen is the largest in the history of the college.

Through the combined efforts of the Student Union, Panhellenic, Mortar Board, and other organizations, a very successful freshman orientation week was held. There were teas, a scavenger hunt, and an entertainment to initiate the freshmen into the traditions of Middlebury.

During the spring the students had an opportunity of hearing two excellent lectures. One was given by Dr. Hans Kohn of Smith College on the German situation, and the other was by Robert Frost, who has an honorary degree from Middlebury.

Marion Wishart and Ruth van Sickle were tapped to Mortar Board in April. Janet Gray was elected head of the Student Union.

At the annual Junior Prom, Isabel Ingham was chosen junior attendant. Jane Kingsley was appointed Woman's Editor of the yearbook, the Kaleidoscope.

Isabel Ingham, Helene Cosenza, Jane Kingsley, and Elizabeth Gates were voted into the honorary English Club. After last year's debating season, Jane Kingsley and Carol Bloom have qualified for this year's varsity team.

In June Barbara Wishart graduated cum laude. GRADUATES, June 1936: Harmony Buell, Plymouth, Mass.; Evelyn Comesky, Brewster, N.Y.; Audrey Keffer, Ridgewood, N.J.; Isabel Kinney, Cobleskill, N.Y.; Ruth McNulty, Hingham, Mass.; Barbara Wishart, Barre, Vt.

During the summer the floors of the chapter house were refinished and a new davenport and several other pieces of furniture were given to the chapter for the chapter room. The chapter members of the class of 1936 bought new curtains for the chapter room.

Mrs. Anna Bosworth, alumna of Vermont A, is house-mother this year.

Vermont B is well represented in various activities on campus this year. Helen Taylor is the president of Student Union, Frances Hennessey is the second vice-president of Student Union, Marguerite Bean is president of Y.W.C.A., as well as of Dramatic Club. Marguerite was also elected to Mortar Board. Kathryn Scott is the secretary of the Women's Athletic Association. Phyllis Mann and Lois Brown have been initiated into the University Players. Francis Hennessey is the photographic editor of the 1938 Ariel, the junior yearbook. Gwynneth Jones is the president of Press Club.

Marion Herberg graduated magna cum laude last June. Esther Sinclair was elected to $\Phi B K$.

Marguerite Bean and Kathleen Donahue were representatives of $\Pi B \Phi$ at Freshman Camp, held at South Hero on Lake Champlain, for three days before the official opening of college.

The "Big Sister" plan for relationships between upper-class women and freshmen, to aid in the orientation of freshmen, has been revised this year whereby fewer of the upperclass women are "Big Sisters," each one having three freshmen assigned to her.

On May 25 the women of the university celebrated Lilac

Day in a somewhat different manner than formerly. In preceding years Mortar Board wrote and presented a pageant but this year all the women participated in a "Lantern Walk." Each class had a song to sing and the members of the different classes walked together. After the walk the Lilac was planted on the back lawn of Redstone.

Vermont A joined Vermont B in Burlington in celebration of Founders' Day, Stunts, singing, and a cooky-shine provided the entertainment.

The Southwick Memorial Building, a gymnasium for university women, on Redstone campus has been completed and will be open for indoor gym classes by the last of October.

The university has opened a new cooperative house this year, making two of this type of dormitory for women on the campus.

"Ancient History" by Dr. Clarence Perkins has recently been issued by the Harper Press in their series of Harper Histories. Dr. Perkins is the visiting head of the history department at the University of Vermont this year, taking the place of Paul D. Evans, absent on leave. He is regularly professor of European History at the University of North Dakota.

Martha Douglass and Lois Brown were chosen to represent $\Pi B \Phi$ in the Discussion Club which has been organized by the University debating society.

On October 4, the first of the $\Pi B \Phi$ open house breakfasts was served at the chapter house. These breakfasts are open to all students at the University and have in the past two years proved to be successful in aiding upper-class women to get acquainted with freshmen as well as in creating a more democratic panhellenic spirit.

Edith Maddock, '36, was married to Howard Ruhmshottel at the $\Pi B \Phi$ house on September 26. Natalie Hilliker, '36, and Janet Wooley, '36, were two of her attendants. The house was decorated with flowers, and a reception tea was held directly following the ceremony.

Mrs. Scott, vice-president of Alpha Province East, was the guest of the alumnae club on October 14 and 15.

INITIATED, November 7, 1936: Ann Haavisto, Carolyn Magee, Winona Wildes.

Massachusetts A has been very busy with rushing, pledging, and initiation. The rush party was held in the form of a $\Pi B \Phi$ Theater. Invitations were printed like theater tickets asking the rushees to a dinner-theater party. Dinner was served at 6:00 p.m. and the table was decorated with wine carnations for each guest, the place cards symbolized a stage with scarlet plush curtains. For a center piece a jack-horner pie of pastel shades concealed favors of novelty pins which were drawn out by a silver ribbon. Following the dinner the guests were ushered into another room, the theatre, where a performance of stunts and a parody of "Pyramid and Thisbe" was presented. The party was closed with the Arrow Cake Ceremony which made a lasting impression upon rushees, actives, and alumnae.

Pledge day was scheduled for October 29. On November 6, the pledge dance was given with Ida Finch in charge. The Initiation ceremony was performed on November 7 for Ann Haavisto, Carolyn Magee, and Winona Wildes.

All the elections have not been held, but $\Pi B \Phi$ is already active in College affairs. Astrid Malmsten, Ida Finch, Vivian Greene, are the Gamma Delta Cabinet—in W.A.A. are Astrid Malmsten, Ida Finch, Lotte Lehmbecker; Y.W.C.A. has Mariam Taylor, Constance Reuter; freshman acquaintance party was partially managed by Astrid Malmsten, Constance Reuter (Chairman); on Hub Board is Lucie DeHaro; and on the Student Board, Phyllis Hood, and Vivian Greene and Verina Roger is a member of Student Senate and All-University Council.

The customary freshman week activities were preceded by a weekend of fun for thirty freshman women at a camp not far from the University. Beth Maxwell, Flower Sheldon, and Esther Fernald were councilors. Activities included games and sports, and at night there were speakers to give the freshman hints on all phases of college life. Approximately two hundred more students are enrolled in the University for the school year of 1936-37 than for the year before.

As is customary at the chapter house each summer, one of the bedrooms was completely refurnished with Stickley furniture. Also the purchase of a combination phonograph and radio has added to the success of the rushing parties.

Two new buildings are slowly rising on the Syracuse campus, one to house the School of Citizenship, and the other the Medical College. On September 29 President Roosevelt was present to aid in laying the corner stone for the new medical building, the erection of which was made possible through a Federal loan.

New York A welcomed a transfer from Wisconsin A, Nancy Wright.

Estella Holdsworth was delegate to the $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$, national journalism fraternity, convention at Austin, Texas, during the month of June 1936. En route to her home in Syracuse, Estella was able to visit the Texas Centennial and to spend a day at Convention in Chicago. Beth Maxwell has been elected president of the Women's Chapel Association. She is also president of $\Sigma T A$, honorary architecture fraternity. Beth is the only woman member and the only woman ever to be president of the Syracuse chapter. Esther Fernald has been elected secretary of Women's Student Senate and Jean Olmstead of the City Women's Club.

Rushing season is in full swing and the chapter had its first rushing party September 26. Over 100 freshmen attended the reception and were entertained by various members of the fraternity. Margaret Unangst and Mary Prokop pantomimed the $\Pi B \Phi$ whistle song and a skit was presented at the end of the evening by a few of the other members. Singing of the $\Pi B \Phi$ songs figured in the entertainment. Three girls from Ontario A, Mary Owens, Ruth Cooper, and Margaret Dinick, are visiting the chapter and are proving to be a great assistance to us in rushing.

Mrs. Carleton Fox, president of Alpha Province West, visited the chapter. The members were happy to have her for the formal rushing party which came during her visit. Before the formal party two more rushing parties were put on. The first one was in the form of an amateur program, and the second represented a night club. Both of these party ideas were used last year at rushing with success.

Jane Perrigo, president of the chapter, appointed a new committee at the first chapter meeting of the new semester. This committee was called the Look-Out Committee and its duties consisted of keeping on the look-out for celebrities who should happen to visit the campus and to suggest various ways of entertaining them.

Panhellenic Council decided to have a Panhellenic tea this year to replace the separate teas given for their pledges by each women's fraternity.

The offices of rush captain and pledge supervisor were formerly vested in one girl, but at the last chapter meeting it was voted to make them two separate offices. Mary Prokop was elected by the chapter to replace Dorothy Elliott and upon the resignation of Mary Prokop from her position as recording secretary, Dorothy Elliott was elected to fill the office.

INITIATED, September 26, 1936: Florence Boyer, Stottville; Jean Craig, Silver Lake, Staten Island; Helen Heald, Nashua, N.H.; Hilda Keller, Clyde.

New York Δ began its 1936 season with the initiation of four girls on September 26. After the ceremony at the house, the alumnae gave a cooky-shine for the chapter at the home of Mrs. George Warren.

Rushing season started on September 29 with the Panhellenic dance, at which the members of each women's fraternity entertained the new students. The rushing parties at the chapter houses were given from October 1 to October 10. There were ten parties in all; three teas, four informal evening parties, an informal dinner, and two formal dinners. The first five parties given by New York A were photographic parties, with decorations, refreshments and entertainment in keeping with that theme. The informal dinner was a circus party and included a ringmaster and several acts, a peanut stand, popcorn, hot dogs, soda pop, and other typical circus features. Superstitions were used as the theme of the formal dinner.

Pledging took place on October 12, and the whole chapter and several alumnae remained afterward for a buffet supper. The new pledges spent the night at the house.

A breakfast in honor of the pledges was given Sunday, October 18, at the Cortland Country Club. The formal pledge dance, also in their honor, was held October 30.

Marcia Brown has been elected secretary of the Women's Athletic Association, and Barbara Brown, one of the new pledges, was chosen manager of the freshman tennis team. Ellen Carnell was elected business manager of the Cornell Countryman. Mary Elizabeth Latham is alumnae news editor of the same magazine and also vice-president of the Home Economics Club. Sharrott Mayer is a member of the Mum Ball committee.

PLEGDED: Barbara Brown, Flushing, L.I.; Sally Gibson, Detroit, Mich.; Helen Gross, Great Neck; Margaret Myers, Washington, D.C.; Marion Neunert, Elizabeth, N.J.; Margaret Stinard, Albany; Lucille Shoemaker, Astebos, Can.

Founders' Day was celebrated again this year with Ontario B on April 18. It was in the form of a high tea at the Ancaster Golf and Country Club in Hamilton. Many of those who had attended the Alpha Province conference in Toronto were present, so that there were quite a few chapters represented.

At the close of the college year in May the annual house party was held at Mary McLean's summer home at Sturgeon Point. About thirty-five members of the active chapter spent a week swimming, sailing, golfing, playing badminton, tennis, and bridge. It was a last gathering for the whole fraternity before they scattered for the summer holidays.

Graduation exercises were held on June 5 and there were twelve members of II B Φ who received degrees. Elizabeth Graham attained special distinction by heading her class in Household Economics. After the ceremony there was a garden party for the graduates and in the evening a dance in Hart House. The fraternity gave a senior farewell luncheon the following day at which Margaret Hill and Kathleen Mann were presented with the Frances Shenstone and Patricia Allen Memorial awards.

The fall semester began September 26 with the annual Senior-Freshie house party at Whitney Hall for both city and residence girls. Betty Carruthers was on the committee which planned an interesting program for the freshmen over the weekend. It included a costume party and fashion show at the Women's Union on Saturday night, church on Sunday, a tour through Hart House, a musicale and tea at the Women's Union and a welcoming address by the Dean of Women. On Monday morning the seniors helped the freshmen register and enroll in their various classes. The entire weekend proved to be very successful in becoming acquainted with the university.

This year Ontario A members once more hold prominent offices in various student organizations on the campus. Mary Evans is on the executive board of the S.C.M.; Josephine LePan is treasurer of the Women's Undergraduate Association; and Peggy Carson is the third year class president. Joan and Gail Ferriss are in charge of the Women's Interfaculty Golf Tournament, which is beginning to become a popular event on the campus.

The Senior Farewell Ceremony was held on May 23, at the chapter house. The house was kept open until June 5, Convocation Day.

Five members distinguished themselves academically last year. The Board of Governors Gold Medal in fourth year German was won by Kathleen Milligan, the Alumnae Association Prize in Canadian History by Doris Hayman, the Board of Governors Prize in fourth year English by Molly Dorland, the Board of Governors Scholarship in second year Romance Languages by Beverly Brent, and Corinne Cherry received the Sir Wilfrid Laurier Scholarship in French.

During the summer the den downstairs was refurbished as a sitting room for the chapter. There are ten girls living in the chapter house this year.

The invitations to pledge membership were sent out during the summer and after the September supplemental examinations. Since all the answers have not been received yet, the date for pledging has not been set.

Bucknell University opened its largest year in its history this fall with 400 incoming freshmen and a total of 1,191 students. Under the leadership of Acting President Arnaud C. Marts, the University has already completed one wing in its rehabilitation program for Old Main which was destroyed by fire in 1932.

A "Design for Living" series of addresses given by nationally prominent speakers are featured in the compulsory chapel period each week.

The fall sports program is well under way and the football team has already won two and lost one of its nine games. The soccer schedule and tennis tournaments are also well advanced.

The Bucknell Band won a prize of $50 as the best appearing band at the Pennsylvania Volunteer Firemen's state convention, recently.

A II B Φ May queen reigned over the spring festival last term. This year, one of the pledges, Irma Hewitt, had a leading role in "Death Takes a Holiday," the play given on Fathers' Day, October 24. Eleanor Scureman, also a member of II B Φ , is the assistant director. Cap and Dagger, the dramatic organization on the campus, is sponsoring a production of "Hamlet" to be given in February.

The II B Φ symposium on June 6 was one of the largest that has been held. Approximately 115 alumni came back for the banquet.

The pledge dance officially opened the social season here when the active chapter introduced its 10 pledges to Bucknell society.

Sunday night supper was served to the active chapter by its pledges recently. More cooky-shines is the slogan of this year's Pennsylvania B chapter.

Betty McMahan is the president of W.S.G.A. on the campus. Kathryn Shultz is treasurer of her class. Carol Lee Davis is news editor of the Bucknellian, the University's weekly newspaper. June Grim, Dorothy Blix, Alma Bloecker, and Carol Lee Davis are junior editors of 1937 L'Agenda, the senior class annual.

Pennsylvania Γ had four of the five girls elected to Φ B K last spring. They were June Bietsch, Dorothy Reeve, Mary Jane Boswell, and Elizabeth Goodyear. The first two girls are also members of the senior women's honorary fraternity, Wheel and Chain. Elizabeth Goodyear spent last summer doing special work at the Sorbonne in France. Dickinson officially opened on September 17, and the first week was filled with freshman receptions, teas, and open meetings.

Pennsylvania I bid and pledged eight girls. The season was shortened to twelve days and included several periods of open rushing at fellowship and the panhellenic tea. Nancy Hendrian and Ann Schuch, II B Φ representatives on the Panhellenic Council, poured at the tea.

Pledging was on September 28, and the party following it was held at a cabin along Laurel Lake. The pledge dance was held November 7.

The regular college picnic is postponed until spring, but a Panhellenic picnic-hike for the women was substituted. The picnic was held at Bellaire, a three-mile hike from the campus, where swimming in the Conodoguinit was the main event of the program.

Dickinson has several exchange students this year. Living at the women's dormitory is a French-Russian girl, and in the men's division there are a German and a Japanese exchange student.

Margery Black, one of our seniors recently elected to Wheel and Chain, was also elected the most popular girl in the junior class. Mary Carolyn Hurst, last year's pledge supervisor, is the other member of Wheel and Chain for this year.

The members of Ohio A were greatly pleased upon their arrival in Athens this fall to find a beautifully furnished, spacious, new home awaiting them. Mrs. Finsterwald, one of our most loyal alumnae, offered her house last spring, and since the house was in such a desirable location and was so much larger than the former II B Φ house, her offer was quickly accepted. Wine and silver blue has been used in the color scheme of the downstairs—never before have any of the members of Ohio A appreciated the true beauty of this combination. Twenty girls have been living in the house this fall, and accommodations have been provided for an additional ten girls in the dining room.

It was with deep regret that the chapter learned of Mrs. Finger's resignation. She has been a most loyal and inspiring province president, and she will be greatly missed.

Ohio University has begun what promises to be a banner year. The latest figures of enrollment indicated that fully two hundred more students have registered at Ohio University than ever before. The largest enrollment previously recorded was in 1930. This is further proof that more prosperous times really have come.

The rushing season began immediately after registration was finished, and lasted four days. The first party was an Arrow Tea. The following night the rushing chairman planned a tour of the world, starting at the house, and ending in China—which was a cabin out in the woods a few miles from Athens. The II B Φ wedding was the attraction at the next party. Mrs. Grosvenor, who was the mother of one of the charter members of Ohio A and the grandmother of another II B Φ , graciously offered her home for the wedding. The rushing season was climaxed by a formal acceptance banquet at the house, when twenty-seven rushees made known their intentions of pledging II B Φ .

When Cresset, senior women's honorary, made its selections last spring, Eleanor Karr was among those honored. Selections are made upon scholarship and leadership in extracurricular activities. The members of Cresset have taken under their guidance the freshman women who have given evidence of outstanding ability in scholarship or leadership in activities, or both, with the idea of aiding these women to make the most of their possibilities. Three freshmen were included in this group: Frances Batten, Margaret McCarrell, and Emajean Wright.

Convention delegate, Mary Ellen Bibbee, and the two girls who were initiated in June in order that they might attend, Elizabeth Carnes and Emajean Wright, have returned full of enthusiasm. They have given glowing reports of all the sessions and the social activities in connection with the convention.

One end of the floor was portioned off into a small garden of palms, ferns and garden benches—this was completely surrounded by a white picket fence.

Jean Crayton, Cornelia Evans, Helen DeForest were made members of Chimes, Junior Honorary. The girls are chosen for scholarship, personality, and activities on the campus at the close of their sophomore year.

Julia Hamlin is a member of Mortar Board. She is also vice-president of Y.W.C.A.

Maxine Hengst was awarded the Amy Burnham Onken Award for Beta Province—and the award was presented to her at the Founders' Day banquet celebrated jointly with Ohio A and Ohio Δ .

Ardith Kleinhaus and Alice Blake were II B Φ representatives for Freshman Queen. Alice Blake was chosen as alternate.

Spring rushing tea was held at the home of Mrs. Forrest in May. About two hundred girls were invited.

The summer rushing held in September took the form of a County Fair, held at the summer home of Mrs. Galbreath near West Jefferson, Ohio. There were many decorated booths displaying games and sorority information to attract the rushees. A picnic supper was served and later in the evening a full length moving picture was presented.

The Carnation Tea, held at the Chapter House, two open houses, and a cooky-shine finished the rushing season—the result was thirty-eight pledges—the largest pledge class on the campus.

Two members were chosen for Φ B κ , Varian Mills and Marcia Fassig. Mary Russell was made vice-president of Browning Shakespeare Society, and Jane Bangert was made Circulation Manager of the Sundial, campus publication.

West Virginia University suffered a great loss this year by the death of Dr. Robert Allen Armstrong, former Freshman enrollment increased to such an extent that the men's dormitory, just completed last fall, cannot house all the freshman men and many have been forced to take rooms in private homes. Woman's Hall is also overcrowded and women's fraternities have been requested to allow pledges to room in the house if there are any vacancies.

Eleanor Hastings, president of the chapter, is also president of K Δ II, Virginia Davis is a member of Li-Too-Awa, honorary sophomore organization. June Finnegan is treasurer of the Junior class and Evelyn Crowell is vice-president of the Senior class.

A group of thirty-one cadet officers and the University band attended the Mountain State Forest Festival in Elkins, W. Va. President Franklin D. Roosevelt attended the coronation ceremonies, at which Jane McClure and Jean Handlan represented their congressional districts as princesses.

Attendants to the queen at the May Festival last spring included Alma Fraser, Mary Jane Baker, and Virginia Crowell. Juniors who were in the May Pole dance were Mildred Collier, Helen Louise Hughes, Adelaide Grotz, and Jean Handlan.

The late fall opening of Goucher (classes began this year on October 2) has delayed the activities of Maryland A beyond their usual time.

Convocation and Matriculation Vespers ushered in the fall term, followed closely by the first classes. The first week also saw the College Spirit parties in full swing. At one of these Jean Dockhorn, president of Masks and Faces, made an address of welcome to the incoming students.

By local Panhellenic ruling, rushing in any form is delayed until after Freshman Reception, which is held in the rotunda of Goucher Hall. The next day formal rushing began; and at the time of this writing rush parties are at their height. INITIATED, October 7, 1936: Norma Hatfield, Agnes Shapter, Virginia Texas, and Winifred Thornton.

George Washington University began its 116th academic year on September 23 with a great increase in architectural facilities.

Foremost among the new buildings is the girls' dormitory, Strong Hall, the donor of which is Mrs. Hattie M. Strong, a member of the board of trustees. The building has not been officially opened, but has been occupied since the college year began. It is a six story structure with receiving rooms, elevator service, and a sun roof, and furnishes a beautiful home for the women students.

D.C. A is fortunate in being one of seven sorority chapters occupying a suite of rooms in the new sorority apartment house, which is also a part of the Better Housing Plan inaugurated last spring by President Marvin. The building was purchased by the college during the summer and each chapter was assigned rooms which were remodeled, decorated, and made ready for occupancy when the fall term began.

The chapter rooms include three rooms, kitchenette, bath, and several spacious closets. In addition, a large studio structure located across the court behind Sorority Hall is being set up for dancing and other sorority functions.

The chapter is particularly happy in the choice of Mrs. Newton Buckley, a member of Nebraska B, a graduate of the University of Nebraska, and a member of Mortar Board, as head resident of the apartment.

D.C. A held informal meetings every other week during the summer months and the first formal meeting took place September 28.

The Panhellenic tea on October 4 formally began rush season. The rush party program, which started October 11, included teas, a lawn party, buffet supper, a board-walk party, luncheons, breakfasts, a banquet, Arrow Nite Club, the Arrow Cake ceremony, and a novel and very entertaining Hilly-Billy Party which was drawn from the winning skit at Convention this year. Informal pledging was October 27, formal pledging October 28, and on October 31 the active chapter gave a dance in honor of the pledges.

The college social calendar is only partially filled as yet. Football and its attendant suppers and dances and fraternity post-rush season parties are in the limelight at present, while the Homecoming Celebration on November 26-28 promises to be a headliner.

With the addition of new buildings, new courses and the resulting increase in campus spirit, D.C. A hopes to have a most successful year and to be able to introduce a large pledge class in the next chapter letter.

Randolph-Macon officially opened September 15, the first few days being devoted entirely to the freshman orientation program. Rushing began September 18 and ended October 2, extending over a period of two weeks instead of the usual week. Under the new system sorority girls were permitted to visit freshmen in their rooms the first week, with open house and teas taking place the following week. Virginia A entertained at the formal garden tea Monday and the silhouette tea Thursday. New Panhellenic rules allowed open rushing only at the Thursday tea before preferential bids were signed Friday.

Randolph-Macon has an enrollment of 622 girls this year, with four foreign countries, France, Germany, Puerto Rico, and Ecuador, represented in the student body. A few changes have been made, including the addition of seven new faculty members, a cut system, and a rearrangement of the chapel periods. The whole college was saddened by the death of Dean N. A. Patillo this summer. His absence is profoundly felt by those who knew and loved him.

Virginia A started off greatly handicapped this year by the loss of twenty-six girls, including ten seniors, but was very fortunate in having Bonnie Elledge, a graduate of last year, back on campus as an assistant in the Chemistry Department. In spite of the small number there are prospects for a promising year ahead of us.

A few improvements were made on the house the first week of school in preparation for rushing. The kitchen was painted and new furniture bought for the sun parlor.

One of the seniors of last year, Dot Combs, was elected to Φ B K, while Lynn Buchanan received first honorable mention for freshman scholarship, and Marian Carlisle third honorable mention in junior scholarship. Marian is president of Sock and Buskin, the dramatic club on campus, and was also a training group leader during freshman orientation. Glennis Teter participated in freshman orientation and is chairman of the costume committee for the Junior Play. Eleanor Benninghofen is secretary of the Art Club.

When the last Dean's List came out, two members of Virginia A were represented: Winifred Dickey and Marian Carlisle. Winifred is also a junior Usher, a position given to those with an exceptionally high scholastic record. Jean Terrell, pledge, was elected president of the freshman class.

William and Mary's 244th year was officially opened on September 22, with the record enrollment of 1,236 students, the largest undergraduate group in the history of the college. Under a Freshman Orientation Program a formal banquet and dance was given for the new class on Thursday night, September 17. Members of Mortar Board, $O \Delta K$, and the Student Government officers were hosts to the freshmen.

Nine changes in the faculty of the College were announced by President John Stewart Bryan. These additions are mainly in the new Department of Fine Arts established at the College this year. The department is divided into three special fields: Architecture, Painting, and Sculpture; Music, and the Theatre. No attempts are being made to train students professionally in the arts, instead the greater understanding obtained by some technical work is stressed, with the idea that a knowledge of the history of an art lends depth to its contemporary practice. In the field of the Theatre it is proposed to repeat the plan of giving plays nightly during Garden Week in 1937 so that visitors can get an intimate feeling of eighteenth century amusement on the site of the capital of Virginia at the height of its power and culture.

On Saturday, September 19, campus fraternity rushing began, having been delayed a day because of a slight hurricane on the eastern shore. Through the following week rushing was conducted in the dormitories at fixed hours and under rigidly enforced rules. These rules were set up by the Panhellenic Council, consisting of two representatives from each fraternity, with Clover Johnson as president. In conjunction with the Freshman Orientation Program, all the fraternities held open house on Sunday afternoon, September 20, for the new women. They were conducted from one house to another in small groups under the Y.W.C.A. freshman sponsors.

The William and Mary Players will present as their first play this year "Squaring the Circle," a satire on Russian communistic marriage. Margileth Meyer has been made assistant director for this production.

New Honors have fallen to Virginia I since last May. Both Clover Johnson and Carol Gouldman were elected to Mortar Board, with Clover as president and Carol as secretary. Clover was also chosen as president for our local Panhellenic Council this year. Harriet Morden is now social editor of the College paper, The Flat Hat, and Pearl Brueger is her assistant. Lucille Haynes is also on the staff of the paper. Augusta Porter has been made president of $H \Sigma \Phi$, honorary classical fraternity, and associate editor of this club's national magazine, The Nuntius. Joan Anderson and Lucille Haynes are also members of $H \Sigma \Phi$. Betty Bartel is the new treasurer of J. Leslie Hall Literary Society and Harriet Morden is vice-president of $X \Delta \Phi$, honorary journalistic fraternity. Margileth Meyer was bid to the Dramatic Club after only one semester's work in dramatics. Carol Gouldman is on the executive council of the W.S.C.G.A.

Pledge Day, October 13, 1936

INITIATED, April 27, 1936: Julia Folsom, Tallahassee, Fla.; Mildred LeFebvre, Chevy Chase, Md.; Patty Penn, Clayton, N.C.; Martha Wyant, Sharon, Pa.

Since June but few changes have occurred on the campus of the University of North Carolina. Two buildings have been renovated and opened for the students' use. After two years' isolation Swain Hall has begun to rattle with dishes and knives and forks and cheery students' voices. Person Hall, former black sheep of the campus with bricks, planks, and rubbish strewn around it, shines like a brand new dollar. It is almost ready to welcome the new art department. The addition of this department completes the Fine Arts School of the University.

Although the college enrollment has reached its history's maximum with 2948 students, the women's enrollment is below that of last year with 289.

Having most direct effect on the campus girls is the experimental orientation program for the new junior and senior co-eds. It is sponsored by the Y.W.C.A., in which the chapter members take an active part. This program aided the widely scattered girls to become more familiar with each other; they became more familiar with the honor and campus code than heretofore; they were urged to join all extracurricular activities. They were made to feel at home.

Many of the members of North Carolina A arrived a few days early to prepare for the new term. Some new green furniture and a radio freshen the living room.

The ruling made last year which required all members to participate in at least two extracurricular activities has been continued.

Rushing at North Carolina B began September 25, and bids were issued October 3. The chapter had an informal gathering in its room after the bids had been accepted. In preparation for rushing season, there were several changes made in the chapter room, all of which greatly improved its appearance. This work was graciously supervised by Mrs. Fuller, one of the alumnae in Durham. Having come through this strenuous week successfully, with the help of the local alumnae, the chapter is looking forward to a very pleasant year with its new pledges.

Several members of $\Pi \beta \Phi$ are trying for parts in the current Duke Players production, others are interested in the Y.W.C.A. and Women's Athletic Association, and the school paper claims the attentions of quite a few. Helen Lazere, president of one of the dormitories, is doing excellent work on the student government association. Charlotte Miller has been elected to Duke Players.

The chapter is very glad to have with it this year two transfers. They are June Mauls from Florida B, and Jane Gunn from Missouri B. It is also fortunate in having its province president so close, and it will be a pleasure to work with Mrs. Altwater. Mrs. Owen has also been extremely helpful as president of the Alumnae Advisory Board.

Pledge Day, September 14, 1936

INITIATED, October 7, 1936: Harriet Holman, Springfield; Wilbur Kirland, Virginia Townsend, Columbia; Margaret Rollins, Florence (May 4, 1936).

South Carolina A is beginning this school year with definite aims in mind. Special efforts are being made toward high scholarship and toward an active interest in extracurricular activities.

Many changes have taken place on campus, the most important being the new rushing regulations. Under the new plan, rushing was carried on extensively during the week just preceding the opening of the fall school session. The hospitality of the Woman's Building was offered to all rushes. This change was proposed mainly to avoid the usual interference of rushing while school is in session. Girls who were not here for rush week cannot be pledged to a sorority until November. Although not so many girls came as was anticipated, it is expected that this plan will be a success.

A new ruling has also gone into effect that no girl may live in her sorority house. All sororities owning chapter houses are given one year to dispose of them. Only chapter rooms may be maintained. South Carolina A has a lovely apartment facing the University Library, just off the main campus. The chaperon, Mrs. Esther F. Osborne, is the mother of a member of Pi Beta Phi at the University of Florida.

Mrs. J. R. Hawkins, alumna, gave a tea at her home on Wilmot Avenue to which actives, pledges, and rushes were invited. Mrs. Percy Crown, another alumna, also entertained for the actives and pledges.

During the summer, $35,000 has been expended in further construction on the University stadium. Under a $450,000 construction project, a new student's activities building is nearing completion on the campus, and plans are being made for the erection of a Panhellenic building.

Josephine Philson has been made president of A K F, honorary national leadership sorority. Margaret Hawkins has been recently elected to A K F. Because of exceptional scholastic averages, Elizabeth Anderson, Josephine Philson, Lida Liles, Cherry Dell Kelly, and Harriet Holman have voluntary class attendance during their senior year. Martha Kirkland has been elected president of the freshman Y.W.C.A. Jane Williamson has been elected vice-president of the Euphrosynean Literary Society. All of the pledges were elected to Damas, co-ed dance club.

A great many changes have taken place in the University administration. Dr. J. Rion McKissick, former Dean of Journalism, succeeds Dr. L. T. Baker as president of the University. Mrs. McKissick is a Pi Beta Phi patroness. Several professors who were given a year's leave of absence to study are back on the campus. Mr. John A. Chase, registrar, has been made Dean of Administration.

The chapter is making plans for a formal dance to be given in November. Spring prom was a success, and all are looking forward to this dance with much enthusiasm. Pledged, Sept. 14: Polly McKenzie, Harriet Donnelly, Ray Overton, Columbia; Betsy Yeadon, Sumter.

MICHIGAN ALPHA—HILLSDALE

Chartered, 1887

Pledge Day, November 13, 1936

School opened this fall with the largest freshman class that Hillsdale has ever had. A special drive was made this summer to obtain students of superior standing and all sororities and fraternities cooperated through the Public Relations office in interesting new students. Sorority rushing has been deferred for six weeks.

II B Φ was presented with the scholarship cup again this semester. Along with the Stoolman vase it assumes an important place in the newly decorated house.

At a two day conference held last spring, the students of Hillsdale discussed plans and improvements for the campus. This fall several of those suggestions have been put into effect. A new walk is being constructed; and a new system of cuts has been installed whereby all upper classmen with B averages have unlimited cuts. Comprehensive examinations are also being experimented upon.

Helen Faunce is president of Y.W.C.A. Martha Jose is the present editor of the Winona, Hillsdale's yearbook. Dorothy Seger is president of both International Relations Club and E Δ A, honorary society. Bess Hagaman is president of Σ T Δ, professional English society, and of the psychology club. Many other members of II B Φ are active in extracurricular activities.

Homecoming plans are under way for October 17 with a banquet, play, and dance, under the sponsorship of the senior class.

With twenty-one actives and a prospective Freshman class, Michigan A is looking forward to an interesting year.

BESS HAGAMAN

was elected to take her place.

During the summer a great many improvements were made on the chapter house by the alumnae. Most of the rooms in the house were papered, the halls and stairway were newly carpeted, ruffled curtains were placed in most of the bedrooms, two new chairs and an end table were purchased for the living room, and new glassware was added.

A new system of rushing was tried this fall. Instead of the usual ten day period of intensive rushing, the time was lengthened to nearly three weeks with dinners every other night in place of every night as before. As in years past no group was allowed more than four dates with each rushee, and these dates consisted of a tea, two informal dinners, and a formal dinner party.

Orientation week was a great success this year and a number of Michigan B assisted with the program. Grace Snyder was in charge of all transfer students. She was assisted by Edith Zerbe and Jean MacGregor. Six members were chosen to act as freshman advisers. They were Mary Margaret Barnes, Josephine Cavanagh, Betty Gatward, Lois King, Mary Jane Mueller, and Susan Willard.

The campus has two fine new buildings under construction. One is the Burton Memorial Carillon Tower which houses the third largest carillon in the world. This tower is the first unit to be built of the proposed new School of Music. The second of these buildings is the Horace H. Rackham School of Graduate Studies.

Mrs. George Codd is house chaperon this year. Mrs. Codd is formerly of Detroit, and last year she held the position of social director of Martha Cook Dormitory on campus. Michigan B feels very fortunate to have her here this year.

MICHIGAN BETA—UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

Pledge Day, October 17, 1936

Thirty-nine active members and three pledges returned to school this fall. Barbara Hanna, pledge supervisor, was unable to return to school this year, and Jean MacGregor

A dinner was given September 7 at Ye Wayside Inn in honor of all the initiates.

Last spring several campus honors came to Indiana A. Beatrice Bradley was tapped for Gold Quill, which is the women's honorary organization on the campus; Sarah Briscoe and Traber Guthrie were May Queen attendants. Julia Province was in the Court of Honor at the Junior Prom. Sarah Briscoe graduate cum laude and Mary Owen graduated magna cum laude, received the Gold Quill Cup for being the outstanding senior woman, and the Scholarship Cup, which is awarded to the senior having the highest scholastic average for four years. The student body voted for the five most outstanding women on the campus. Two of these representative women were members of II B Φ, Mary Owen and Traber Guthrie.

Indiana A entertained the faculty of Franklin College with a breakfast at the Country Club last June. The annual II B Φ alumnae dinner was held at the home of Mrs. Harry Hougham, June 8, the evening of Commencement. Mary Owen was presented with the scholarship ring and Mary Mather, who had the highest grades in the pledge group, was given the recognition pin to wear for a year.

During the summer the rooms were redecorated. Indiana A patronesses, the Mothers' Club, and the Alumnae Club were generous in helping.

Indiana A reports a very successful rush week which ended with the pledging of twelve girls. Franklin College officially opened September 8 and this same day was the beginning of rush week. The first rush party was a Sweetheart Sweet Shoppe. The other rush party was the Traditional Rose Dinner; the II B Φ cooky-shine was September 12, and that evening all of the women's fraternities on the campus held Open House.

This year a new merit system has been introduced on the campus. It enables the students with the highest scholastic averages and the most extracurricular activities to receive the offices on the campus. These offices are for the senior class, the Student Council Executive Board, and junior and sophomore board members. Julia Province is on the Student Council Executive Board.

Dr. Leander Murdock accepted a position as instructor of German at Marshall College, Huntington, West Virginia. Dr. Leo Hertel has replaced Dr. Murdock as head of the department of Modern Languages at Franklin College. The death of Miss Hazel Gillespie, head of the Home Economics Department, has necessitated the appointment of Miss Leah Bedwell as head of the department. Dr. Charles A. Deppe, head of the Biology Department, has been granted a leave of absence and his son, Charles F. Deppe, has taken over his duties.

The first all college social function this year was a College Mixer sponsored by Blue Key, September 25. Franklin College opened its football season September 26 by defeating Oakland City College 26-6.

Jeanette McElroy is assistant editor of the Franklin, the college paper; Sarah Haas is news editor; Nell Duffy is exchange editor; Rosemary Chappell is copy editor; Rena Templeton and Julia Province are reporters; Martha Brown is assistant advertising manager; Elizabeth Baker is a typist.

Mary Boegholtz has been selected associate editor of the 1937 Almanack, the college annual; Pauline DeVore is women's sports editor; Mary Mather is her assistant; Betsy Cohn is photography editor; Martha Smith is proof reader; and Ruth Miller is a typist.

Julia Province is president of W.A.A., and several members of II B Φ are heads of sports. Sarah Haas is treasurer of Y.W.C.A., and Virginia Heavilin is president of History Club. Indiana A is well represented in the choir with ten of the twenty-eight choir members. Betsy Cohn is the choir accompanist. Several girls have joined Y.W.C.A. and Wigs and Cues. Betsy Cohn and Nelle Duffy are W.S.G.A. members and Nelle Duffy is treasurer of the organization.

Sarah Briscoe, who graduated last spring, is taking post-graduate work at Franklin College.

The active chapter and the pledge group had a spread and are planning a tea for the faculty women and faculty wives.

Lawrenceburg; Ann Batsch, Dunkirk; Alice Lloyd, Bloomington; Kathleen Behrman, Indianapolis; Myra La Tour-ette, Covington.

The chapter's new house chaperon, Mrs. S. E. Warren, was presented to the faculty women and faculty wives, and to the other campus sorority chaperons, at a tea given at the chapter house, September 27. The decorations and refreshments were carried out in a color scheme of green and white. Music was provided throughout the afternoon.

The chapter house of Indiana B was remodeled this summer to form one unit of a home of early American design. The other unit will be ready for occupancy by next fall. The new unit will contain recreation rooms, guest rooms, chapter room, dining room, and dressing room for town girls. The chapter is looking forward very much to the completion of its new home.

The annual bowery dance was held on October 24. Costumes were varied, colorful, and bizarre. Music was furnished by Joe McCartney and his band. The walls of the house were covered with wrapping paper, the windows with burlap, the floors with sawdust, and refreshments were served on barrel top tables. The home was dimly lighted by candles placed in the necks of bottles.

Chapter members are taking a prominent part on the campus. Alice Lloyd is a member of Mortar Board, of the Y.W.C.A. Cabinet, and is assistant psychology instructor. Marjorie Rice is treasurer of Pleides, honorary social organization. Hortense Zaring is treasurer of Panhellenic.

Joan Robinson, initiated last year, is studying this year at the Paris Conservatory of Music in France.

Indiana B welcomes Beatrice Bradley, transfer from Indiana A.

INITIATED, June 18, 1936: Mary Anna Lichtenauer.

The chapter moved into its new house last April, and has the pleasure of entertaining prospective members in it this fall. Two rush functions; the Sweetheart Sweet Shoppe, and the wedding of the Freshmen Women to II B Φ were given during rush which was held the week before school started.

This campus is continuing to use a quota system, adopted last year. It has been a success so far, with each organization being limited to seventeen freshmen, and unlimited upperclassmen. This year two January freshmen may be pledged at the beginning of the second semester.

Last spring the chapter decided to make an award each semester, to the active chapter girl who makes the most improvement in her scholarship record. Jane Dungan was the first to wear this pin, and now Mavilla Rainey is wearing the award.

Now that school is under way, the actives and pledges are taking an active part in school activities. The chapter was second on the campus in athletic activities for last year, the unorganized girls were first. A great deal of credit for this goes to Dorothy Schilling, who won the school tennis and ping pong championships. She has been awarded a pin by the Women's Athletic Association for proficiency in sports, and has been elected president of Blue Gills. This is an honorary swimming organization, and Marion Gearen has been elected as its secretary-treasurer.

Three of the new pledges have been pledged to Thespis, dramatic club. Margaret Parrish, Jane Sumner, Jane Ludwig, pledges, and Louise Edwards of the active chapter, will be in plays for this organization this winter. Louise Edwards also is a member of the Butler Speakers' Bureau, which sends its members out to various organizations throughout the city and state, to give readings and other entertainment.

Other campus honors include: Mary Lou Colvin, who is a member of Θ Σ Φ, and secretary of the Student Council; Margaret Kapp, who is a pledge to Scarlet Quill, senior honorary; Lucille Jamieson, Dorothy Schilling, Marjorie Kale, pledges of Spurs, sophomore honorary; Juliana McIntosh, Helen Barton, Marcella McDermitt, pledges of W.A.A.; and the chapter president, Jane Beasley, who has been elected secretary of the senior class.

Both alumnae and actives are looking forward to Homecoming, to be held October 31. The actives will entertain the alumnae with a luncheon at the house. A football game between Franklin and Butler will be held at Butler Bowl in the afternoon. Following this, a dinner dance will be given in the gym.

A Bowery Ball is to be held November 6. The new pledges will be presented to the campus at an open house on November 8.

PLEGDED, September 16, 1936: Doris Brown, Jane Bennet, Betty Grauel, Dorothy Gimbel, Viola Hall, Frances Hall, Mary Anne Kibler, Jane Ludwig, Helen McMahon, Betsy Murbarger, Margaret Parrish, Barbara Sarsfield, Jane Sumner, Dorothy Springer, May Ann Tindall, and Helen Jean Willcuts, Indianapolis, and Jeanne Davis, Nutley, N.J.

Purdue began its fall term with registration in September 14, 1936. There are approximately 2300 in the freshman class, the largest that the University has known.

The campus has been somewhat modified by the construction of the new Administration Building, and the enlargement of the Purdue Memorial Union.

This year the system of deferred rushing was tried. Rush did not officially begin until two weeks after the opening of school. Open rush extended over a period of two weeks. The preference dinners were held on Thursday night October 8. Immediately following the dinners, the rushees signed their bids. Indiana Δ pledged nineteen girls.

Purdue held its annual Homecoming on October 10 and 11. Many of the alumni were back.

The campus has quite a different aspect this fall with the new journalism, education, engineering, and agriculture buildings. All four are rapidly being completed and should be ready for classes second semester. Mr. Charles Baird of Kansas City, chairman of the University's board of visitors, has donated chimes and an electric clock for Memorial Tower on White Campus. Four bells will chime each quarter hour and an hour bell will toll each hour. The bells are so pitched that they may be used later for the basis of a complete carillon.

The enrollment this year is the highest in the University's history. It totals 4,064. A greater number of sons and daughters of alumni than ever before are included in this year's students. This perhaps is due to the fact that the University is almost one hundred years old, the centennial being in 1939.

Δ I is building a beautiful sorority house which should be ready for them to move into by December of this year. The second and third floors of the Π B Φ house have been redecorated. The chapter gave a tea for the pledges September 20. The first informal party of the year was given November 14.

Missouri A is pleased to have Sara Williams, Φ B K; Elizabeth Ann Dickinson, Mortar Board; and Jean Murray, president of Panhellenic. The members have begun activities with great interest. Helen Mary McLatchey is president of Junior League of Women Voters; Virginia Lippard, vice-president of Burrall Leadership; Frankie Ricksecker, chairman, and Julia Greenfield, member of Workshop Board; Nan Latham, captain of Rifle Team; and Jane Meinershagen, secretary of glee club.

School life is again in full swing at Washington University. There is a renewed spirit and a feeling of unity and well being much more evident this year than usual. This harmony has come as a result of a very successful rush season.

As for extracurricular activities, pledges as well as active members are finding a great many things to fill up their time; glee club, Thyrsus, the dramatic organization; Student Life, the weekly news sheet; as well as athletics; Campus "Y"; and many others bid for much of the time of the members of Missouri B.

The Pi Phis are fortunate in being able to lead the social season by being the first to introduce formally their pledges to social life. The pledge dance on October 17 in the Women's Building amid gay decorations and colorful flowers, was the first sorority dance of the season.

To be able to get a real picture of the life of a Π B Φ at Washington University, one would have to look into the recently redecorated chapter room in the Women's Building. There the huge mirrors reflect and reflect again the beautiful modern furniture in whites and blues and soft shades of contrasting colors. There one could see the reflection of working, playing, gay and serious members of Π B Φ , but most of all the harmony of the real Π B Φ atmosphere.

PLEGDED: Sara Jean Alexander, Peggy Lou Baker, Virginia Coughlin, Helen Deppe, Jean Harney, Bernice Meyers, Jean Mohler, Joan Mohler, Virginia Rashbach, Shirley Reichardt, Nancy Timmerman, Lonabess Wilcockson, June Wilcockson, Jo Wilson, Peggy Woodlock, Betty Jane Ziocik.

Missouri Γ is very greatly elated as to the outcome of the rush season this year. In previous years the number of pledges had been quite small because of the quota system. However, this year Missouri Γ was more or less unrestricted in her rushing since so few actives returned to school.

Drury College has many new members on the faculty this semester. Miss Holmes, Dean of Women, is being followed by Miss Ederle, Dr. Bennett, Dean of Men, is being succeeded by Dr. Peters who has come to Drury from the University of Illinois.

On Drury campus the annual Beauty Queen Contest has again started. Three of the eight nominees are members of Π B Φ . Helen Stamate, Jane Reynolds, and Josephine Whissenand.

The pledge group entertained the actives with a delightful dinner party at the home of Virginia Martin. The group is cooperating well with the chapter not only in chapter work but also on the campus.

Recognition pins have been awarded to Mary Jane Johnson and Edythe Callahan for high grades in the active chapter. In the pledge group for last year Helen Mae Baldwin was given a pin for the highest grades and Jane Reynolds for being the best all around pledge.

FLORENCE ANSCHUTZ

KENTUCKY ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE

Chartered, 1925

Pledge Day, September 27, 1936

INITIATED, October 15, 1936: Jean Lovejoy, Hazel McLean, Louisville.

Rushes were first entertained by Kentucky A this year by a wine and blue tea. At a musical dinner at the Pendennis Club, hand-painted place cards and gardenias were given each rushee. Pi Beta Phi songs inspired by Convention were sung between the courses. Although the freshman class was much smaller this year, rush season was successful.

Kentucky A has started off well in campus activities. In the class elections just held, Betty Scott was elected secretary of the senior class, Catherine Duffy, vice-president of the junior class; Dorothy Althaus, secretary of the sophomore class; Ann Fallis, treasurer of the freshman class. Kentucky A girls are presidents of the Women's League and Pallas Club (similar to Mortar Board). Louise Rose is secretary of the Y Club, and three of the six girls on the Student Council are members of Pi Beta Phi. At the opening play of the University Players, "Play Boy of the Western World," Mary Elizabeth Fishback was holder of the book.

Elaborate plans are being made for the celebration of the Centennial of the University of Louisville, which is the oldest municipal university of the United States. Founders' Day is April 3, and most of the activity will center around that date.

Under the able direction of new Coach Laurie Apitz, the University of Louisville team has won two and lost no football games so far this season. This is a new situation for University fans. Other additions to the faculty are Miss Mary Nevius, in the girls physical education department; Miss Lois Blakley, in the social science department; Mr. Harvey C. Webster in the English department; Mr. William Clay in the biology department; Dr. Martin Scheerer in the Psychology opening, left by the leave of absence granted Dr. Ellis Freeman; and Miss Linda Kincannon as assistant to the Dean of Women. Mr. Emil Sunley is acting head of the newly organized Division of Social Administration during the absence of Dr. Margaret Strong.

PLEDGED: Virginia Barret, Tommie Choate, Ann Fallis, Martha Lynch, Jean Parish, Emily Tuel, Willie Ware, Louisville. ELLA GARTH CHOATE

TENNESSEE ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF CHATTANOOGA

Pledge Day, October 9, 1936

INITIATED, April 15, 1936: Betty Judd, Chattanooga; Doris Townsend, Perryopolis, Pa. Initiated, June 16, 1936:

Edith Nancy Stone, Lookout Mountain. Initiated, October 15, 1936: Lucia Brabham, Chattanooga.

The University of Chattanooga started this year, her fifty-first, with a student body of more than 500 regular students for the first time in her history. The library of the school has been greatly enlarged and beautified, with a new reading room with comfortable chairs and scientifically designed lamps, and a new reference room and stacks.

Tennessee A redecorated the house this year. The old furniture was replaced with new, and the light fixtures, the plumbing fixtures and the pipes were changed. The painted walls of the house were washed, inside and out. The Alumnae Club and the Mothers' Club joined with the active chapter in having all this work done.

During the last semester of last year a group of senior girls joined together to organize an honorary society, which was given the name of Quadrangle. Mary Glenn Walker and a non-fraternity girl, Katherine Pryor, were the guiding spirits in the founding of the organization. Mary Alice Witt and Virginia Harrell were also in the group of girls who founded Quadrangle. The founders, all of whom were in the graduating class, chose seven girls in the class following them, to carry on the work of the organization. Of these, two, Virginia Leeds and Mary Lusk are members of Tennessee A.

Many of the offices in organizations on the campus are held by members of $\Pi B \Phi$. Jane Fergus is secretary-treasurer of the student body, and four of the class officers are held by Adelaide Biggers, Mary Lusk, Sara Lois Dent, and Eleanor Overend. Mary Lusk serves as president of Les Independents, the French club, and of the Y.W.C.A., and Louise Sutton is vice-president and Barbara Scott, secretary of the Y.W.C.A. Virginia Leeds, the chapter president, serves $\Theta A \Phi$ honorary dramatics fraternity, as secretary, and Gertrude Witt holds the office of historian in the same organization. Adelaide Biggers is a page in the Coed Cotillion Club.

A new instructor in the French department of the university is Miss Christine Smith, an alumna of Iowa B, who graduated from Simpson College in the class of 1935. Tennessee A was very happy to welcome to the University of Chattanooga a transfer from District of Columbia A, Alice Dougherty.

The first play to be presented by the University Players will be a comedy, The Love Expert. Of the five feminine roles, three will be played by members of Tennessee A, Virginia Leeds, Gaby Taylor, and Gertrude Witt, and one by a pledge, Amanda Thrasher.

The Dean's List, a list of those students who made an average of B or better had the names of six members of $\Pi B \Phi$ on it; Jane Fergus, Mary Elizabeth King, Mary Lusk, Cornelia Samuel, Louise Sutton, and Mary Alice Witt.

PLEDGED: Lucia Brabham, Margaret Ann Catlett, Minnie Lee Evans, Catherine Goode, Leora Hill, Elizabeth Knight, Jane McConnell, Sarah Shepherd, Chattanooga; Iris Andrews, Elizabeth Lusk, Amanda Thrasher, Cleveland; Marjorie Hixson, Hixson; Virginia Waller, Lenoir City. MARY LUSK

Pledge Day, September 18, 1936

Alabama A had, as always, to cope with a complete summer of rushing, concluded by one concentrated "open" rush week. The chapter feels that it was unusually successful in getting a group of the highest type girls.

Last semester was brought to a close by a large dance to which 500 guests were invited and which was followed by a breakfast for the members and their dates.

In the latter part of April, Gene McCoy and Katherine Lide were made members of Mortar Board. $\Pi B \Phi$ was the only fraternity on the campus to have two members honored. Recently Gene McCoy was elected vice-president of the organization. On April 16, Mary Collier and Annette Mitchell were tapped for A A Δ . Annette is now president of the group. In Belles Lettres Literary Society, $\Pi \Phi$ holds two offices: Marguerite Johnston, president, and Annette Mitchell, vice-president. On October 7, Gene McCoy and Annette Mitchell were elected to serve on the Coed Council, women's representative governing body.

Alabama A was fortunate in that it lost no members by graduation. However, two members active in the past year, Anne Hettrick and Edith Teal, as well as two alumnae, Olive Moses and Rosalie Pettus, were married during the summer.

$\Pi B \Phi$ ranked high in scholarship on the campus, obtaining either first or second place during the whole year. The coming semester should bring an improvement. All social efforts of the summer were directed toward rushing, including a Coney Island Beach party at Mildred Blair's camp on the river, and a progressive dinner party based on the idea of an ocean voyage with its various ports of call. Plans are now being made for a poverty party, honoring the new pledges, to take place October 22.

The Birmingham-Southern campus has seen many improvements over the summer, including a new series of paved roads. Three new professors have been added to the faculty and a number have returned from sabbatical leave. Two European exchange students, Max Fleckner of Switzerland and Daniel Tenaille of France, are teaching conversational courses in French and German. The enrollment is the largest in many years.

The chapter is happy that its president, Barbara Seaman, can be present at the installation of Louisiana B. Of course the campus as well as Alabama A of $\Pi B \Phi$ is looking forward to Miss Onken's long-hoped-for visit in the latter part of October.

PLEDGED: Miriam Freeman, Marian Murphy, Mary Margaret Price, Martha Richardson, Margaret Sessions, and Leila Wright, Birmingham. MARGUERITE JOHNSTON

Chartered, 1913

Rushing has not started for Florida A. The new inter-fraternity rules for rushing state that formal rushing begins November 4. Up until that time no parties shall be given and everyone is to be on an equal basis.

In the recent election of officers for Student Council, Helen Mae Christian was elected vice-president, and Dot Hooker, treasurer. Helen Mae is also vice-president of the Student Body. Lola Hammer is again outstanding in dramatics. She has the lead in the play "The Kleptomaniac." Helen Spaulding is president of Panhellenic.

At the first meeting of the year, Florida A's two representatives to the National Convention, Helen Spaulding and Betty Dreka, gave a glowing account of the activities of the convention. It made the entire chapter wish that it might have been present.

Graduates: Marjorie Hammer, Dot Skillman, Betty Stover, Maxine McClarty, Sara Wilson, Sally Klefeker.

LA VERNE BYRD

FLORIDA BETA—FLORIDA STATE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN

Chartered, 1921

Pledge Day, September 21, 1936

INITIATED, October 16, 1936: Julia Burnett, Madison; Martha Hayes, Blountstown; Martha Rosenbush, Green Cove Springs; Betty Wynn, Coral Gables.

Seniors graduating in June were: Betty Boggs, Marguerite Groover, Jacksonville; Ruth Mock, Memphis, Tenn.; Helen Kibler, Lakeland; Mary Irene McKay, Tampa.

During the summer months, Mrs. George Henderson of the Tallahassee alumnae took charge of redecorating the house. New furniture was bought for the smoking room and the dressing room. The living room furniture was covered, and a wine rug was bought for the floor. Also the sun parlor furniture was recovered and a new rug bought. All the bedrooms were painted and redecorated.

A $\Pi B \Phi$ houseparty was enjoyed by the greater number of members at Daytona Beach in August.

This year Florida B has a new house mother, Mrs. Edna Evans Clough. Recently a reception was given in her honor, the members of the faculty and the chaperons of the other sororities on campus being invited.

Although the activities on campus have just begun, several members are taking leading parts in them. Phil Asher is Chairman of Even Demonstration; Eloise Frink is the director of it; and Ermine Lawrence is on the script committee. Eleanor Williams and Arline Lockhart are on the script committee of Odd Demonstration.

Betty Wynn is the chairman of Torch Night. The members taking part in it are: Peggy Jackson, Freddie Frink, Eugenia Cannon, Danner Baker, and Ann Ladd. The pledges taking part are: Janet Jewett, Lucile Smoak, Carolyn Mills, Frances Moss, Mary Allen, Janet Mattern, Marjorie Anderson, Mary Ellen Daetwyler, Margaret Kennard, Martha Robbins, Mary Taylor, Reuben Coleman, Joan Miller, Betty Vinning, Eula Ley, Katherine Savarese, Mary Alice Lester, Eleanor Bushnell, and Harriet Post.

Betty Curtis, Eula Ley, and Virginia Wiggins have been tapped for the Village Vamp Club. Orientation leaders are Phil Asher, Ermine Lawrence, and Betty Wynn. Jean Clark is on the Off-Campus committee of the College Government. Dorothea Marsh is the junior class representative to the College Government Association.

All the members are looking forward to the arrival of Miss Onken.

Florida B had much success in rushing this fall. Forty-one girls from throughout the state of Florida were pledged. After pledging the first cooky-shine for the new pledges was held. A week later there was the pledge banquet at the Las Robles Country Club. At that time the song "The Pi Phi Girl," was dramatized and other entertainment was given by the members.

There have been many changes made on the campus during the summer. Five new dormitories have been built and most of the sororities have been moved from their houses into these dormitories. These buildings are of the Spanish type and are part of a new building plan.

As pledge day is not until January 17, we have a long period of rushing ahead of us. This is the first year that deferred rushing has been tried on this campus.

Last June, on Honors Day, $\Pi B \Phi$ was awarded the swimming trophy. Eileen Gallagher was awarded her "R" for making three honorary teams. Jane Thayer was awarded her blazer for athletics. Dorothy Manwaring was placed on the Golf and Hockey honorary varsity teams and Evelyn Smith on the Volleyball and Baseball teams. Dorothy Manwaring is president of Libra and Frances Hyer vice-president of the same organization. Frances Hyer is also president of ΦB , honorary dramatic and music fraternity.

Ruth Conner who came as a transfer from Florida B last year, was affiliated at the first meeting. The chapter is very happy to have with it this year, Augusta Yust and Elizabeth Miller, both transfers from Florida B.

Pledge Day, September 27, 1936

The close of another successful season for Wisconsin A last June was marked by the participation and recognition of its members in campus activities.

Dorothy Teple was elected to $\Phi B K$ and Mortar Board. Appearing in "Of Thee I Sing," most proclaimed of campus musical productions, were Jean Weirick, Margaret Clausen, Janet Shaw, and Joan Oldfather.

Carolyn McKay was business manager of the coed issue of The Octopus, student monthly magazine.

To round out the season, the chapter added another cup to its collection by winning the mixed baseball championship.

Beginning September 19, and lasting a week, the rushing parties consisted of a tea, a luncheon, a two-way split dinner, informal and formal dinners. An unusual number of $\Pi B \Phi$ transfers came to Wisconsin A this year. Hildegarde Thadewalde returned to the University after having spent a year of study in Germany.

The first event on the social calendar was an "open-house" dance, held October 2, in honor of the new pledges.

PLEGGED: Elizabeth Freeman, Cody, Wyo.; Nadine Straite, Keokuk, Iowa; Jane Rapp, Milwaukee; Joyce Wenstedt, Mosinee; Marion Welch, Eau Claire; Dorothy

Jambor, Wauwatosa; Ellen Sexton, Marshfield; Betty Rae Kiene, Topeka, Kan.; Mary Rowlands, Racine; Edith Wagner, Detroit, Mich.; Jean Tyler, Elizabeth Schatz, St. Louis, Mo.; and Carol Kleymeyer, Louisville, Ky.

$22,500 was spent this summer in remodeling and furnishing the upperclass women's dormitories and in improving the College property in general. A system of night lights was installed in the Strong Stadium.

At commencement the appointment of Dean Katherine B. Whitney was announced. For the past eight years she has been the Acting Dean of Women. Due to the growth in the German and Romance Language departments two new instructors have been added: Donald Allan Murray and Alfred Hayes. The athletic department has a completely new set-up with Louis E. Means as director and Charles E. Butler assisting.

Active members in prominent campus offices are Joyce Hartman, vice president of Associated Students and of W.S.G.A.; Betty Barber, vice-president of Y.W.C.A.; Betty Launsbach, secretary of Players; and Marion Bailey, vice-president of W.A.A. Two seniors, Marion Loomis and Betty Launsbach, were elected to Chamberlain Science Club, honorary science society; Mary Kendall is President of North College, one of the freshman dormitories. "Front Page," Ben Hecht's and Charles MacArthur's successful satire on newspaperdom, has been chosen as the fall play. Betty Launspach is to be co-director, while Dorothy Vale and Corky Crain play the leading roles of Mollie and Peggy Grant, and Betty Schreiner has the part of Mrs. Grant.

Wisconsin B won the scholarship cup for 1935-36. Rushing closed September 26 with the customary formal banquets. Panhellenic allowed two other functions, a tea dance and a supper-sing.

ILLINOIS ALPHA—MONMOUTH

Pledge Day, December 5, 1936

INITIATED, April 8, 1936: Frances Bryson, Xenia, Ohio; Margaret Kenan, Cameron; Evelyn Frederick, Avon; Marion Irish, Evanston; Frances Hand, Davenport, Iowa; Grace O'Connor, Monmouth; Margaret Thorpe, West Allis, Wis. Initiated, June 10, 1936: Mrs. Kritzer, Monmouth. Initiated, September 25, 1936: Karene Hanson, Chicago.

For the first time in thirty-three years a change has been made in the administrative head of Monmouth College. Last spring the senate appointed Dr. J. H. Grier to succeed Dr. McMichael, who now holds the position of president emeritus. Dr. Grier is a son of Ada Bruen Greir, founder of $\Pi \Phi \Phi$. The day school opened Dr. Clark, who for twelve years was head of the history department, died quite suddenly. Mr. Lynn Turner, who has been studying at Harvard the past few years, was secured to fill the vacancy. Mr. Leland Neil is filling the vacancy caused by the resignation of Prof. Goodrich in the French department. Mrs. Robert Devlin has been temporarily appointed as instructor in freshman English. Miss Mary McCoy, for a number of years city librarian at Indianola, Iowa, has been appointed college librarian to succeed Mrs. Jennie Elliott who resigned last spring. Miss Dorothy Donald, assistant in the Spanish department, and Prof. Toussaint, head of the speech department, are away working for their Doctor's degrees at the University of Wisconsin. Miss Ruth E. Garwood and Miss Jean Liedman, respectively, have been appointed to fill the positions.

The Y.W.C.A. cabinet has four $\Pi \Phi \Phi$ members on it; Ruth Graham, Mary Alice Hill, Evelyn Ruskin, and Frances Bryson. National Collegiate Players, honorary dramatic society, took in Evelyn Ruskin and Frances Bryson as new members. Flora Hauhart was crowned queen at the annual May fete held in the spring. Betty McClenahan was an attendant. Selection is made by the men of the college. The winners in the college beauty contest held last year are Ruth Graham and Ruth Wiley. $\Pi \Phi \Phi$, national debating fraternity, initiated Dorothy Maynard as a new member last spring. This fall Evelyn Ruskin was elected secretary of the senior class. Frances Bryson and Frances Hand were taken into $\Sigma \tau \Delta$, honorary English fraternity, this fall.

Founders' Day was celebrated with a dinner. Six girls from Knox College and local alumnae were present. The table was arranged in the form of a large arrow. Before dinner was served a candle lighting service was held.

On May 4, and 5, Miss Inez Webster, province president, was a visitor on the campus. It so happened that Mrs. Gregory, province president of $\kappa \kappa \Gamma$, was here at the same time. $\kappa \kappa \Gamma$ and $\Pi \Phi \Phi$ gave a tea in honor of these officers. Members of the other women's fraternities on the campus were invited to meet them.

Panhellenic has been trying to develop closer relationships between the women's fraternities this year. As a result an all sorority meeting was held the second week of school. At that meeting talks were made concerning the opportunities and obligations of fraternity women. The rushing rules were read and explained. Other gatherings similar to this have been arranged for the future.

INITIATED, April 18, 1936: Violet Bielefeldt, Placenta, Calif.; Barbara Boyden, Sheffield; Elizabeth Osborn, Downers Grove.

The enthusiasm with which Illinois B Δ chapter has commenced the school year gives promise of a full and profitable year. The period of rushing and rushing parties culminated at a formal dinner held at the Galesburg Club on the evening of September 23. Some hundred rushees, alumnae, actives, and patronesses participated in this colorful event. The alumnae receive the sincere gratitude of B Δ chapter for their invaluable assistance at this time.

Marion Rose of Illinois B Δ was elected president of Mortar Board.

Virginia Reinicke has been chosen editor-in-chief of the Knox yearbook, The Gale. This is the second consecutive year that a B Δ member has been editor-in-chief of this book.

The homecoming play for this year has B Δ members filling three of its six women's roles: Jane Pasche, Frances Lafferty, and Marion Baker.

A number of the B Δ chapter have been chosen to sing in the college choirs and Glee Club: Jeanne Eldridge, Virginia Gibson, Jean Fuhr, Barbara Boyden, Wanda Goode, Jane Ella McCanna, Helen Fuhr, and two pledges, Jean Rowe and Margaret Ann Simmons.

A Capella Choir: Jane Ella McCanna.

Vesper Choir: pledge, Marian Stuckey.

Harriett Hebard of B Δ has been elected president of the French Club on Knox campus.

In W.A.A. there are several very active B Δ members. Lucille Quinn has been chosen president. Peg Deiterich, Louie Herlocker, Beatrice Greene, and Martha Johnson are on the W.A.A. Council.

Alice Richardson heads B B B, the honorary biological fraternity.

B Δ chapter is happy to welcome to Knox College and the local $\Pi \Phi \Phi$ chapter, Mrs. Carter Davidson, wife of the new president of Knox College.

Illinois E, as hostess chapter to the Convention, entertained all the delegates and guests at a tea at the chapter house in Evanston on Thursday afternoon, June 25. The chapter was awarded a special stunt cup for the dance. "Rhapsody in Blue," presented on stunt night at the Convention.

Edyth Lou Docekal was the winner of the Amy B. Onken Award for the outstanding senior in Eta province; for this she received a jeweled guard for her pin.

In May the chapter won second place in the intersorority sing; the song presented was "The Chain of Pi Beta Phi," which was written by Mary Whittaker, a member of Illinois E.

The bridge tournament between the Women's fraternities on campus last spring was won by the $\Pi \Phi \Phi$ team, Phyllis Thompson and Jane Hankins.

Mary Gibson, then a sophomore, was general chairman of May Day. She was appointed assistant editor of this year's Syllabus, the college annual.

Mildred Evans was chairman of the procession arrangements for May Day, and Patsy Jones had charge of the ushering.

Marjorie Mayland was elected to A A Δ , freshman honorary fraternity. At the Matrix banquet given annually by $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$ she was honored by being named one of the ten most outstanding freshman women.

Upperclassmen honored by invitations to this Matrix banquet for prominent women were Augusta Roddis, Georganne Rundall, Mary Blair, Libby Weir, Peggy Griggs-by Betty Mersbach, Edyth Lou Docekal, and Marie Ranstead.

Phyllis Thompson, nominee of $\Pi B \Phi$ for Syllabus beauty queen, was one of the eight girls chosen to have a full page picture in the annual.

The summer formal was held on June 10 at Skovic Country Club in the form of a dinner dance. At the party the engagement of Eleanor Winter, graduating senior, of Evanston, to Jack Davis, $\Phi K \Psi$, also of Evanston, was announced.

This year Northwestern has no dean of women. Her work is being carried on by personnel workers.

Chapter members who were chosen to be group leaders for the incoming new students this fall were Betty Barker, Margaret Hanna, Doris Eberle, Mildred Evans, Mary Gibson, Vernal Johnson, Virginia Lord, Kay Maloney, Marie Ranstead, and Betty Smart.

Representatives of $\Pi B \Phi$ on Panhellenic council this year are Marv Blair, chapter president, and Georganne Rundall, rushing chairman. Patsy Jones is the newly elected $\Pi B \Phi$ representative on Shi-Ai, organization for junior and senior women prominent in activities. Augusta Roddis, elected to Shi-Ai last year, will be active again this year.

Georganne Rundall was co-chairman of the arrangements committee for Dad's Day on October 17. Kathleen Kenety, Nancy Powell, Kay Maloney, and Jane Pool also worked on Dad's Day committees.

The chapter feels that it has had an unusually successful rushing season this fall under the direction of Georganne Rundall. Twenty-eight girls were pledged.

PLEGDED, September 26: Joan Anderson, Indianapolis, Ind.; Patty Bradford, Rockford; Portia Clarke, Adel, Iowa; Mary Elizabeth Comlev, Wichita, Kan.; Mary Dickey, Wauwatosa, Wis.; Molly Docekal, Sheridan, Wyo.; Eleanor Eberle, Oak Park; Charlene Eddleman, Pinckneyville; Lorraine Gaillard, Great Neck, L.I., N.Y.; Elizabeth Gehrig, Hempstead, N.Y.; Ella Marie Hamilton, Manitowish, Wis.; Virginia Hickey, Park Ridge; Jean Ellen Jens, Wheaton; Doris Kadel, Mamaroneck, N.Y.; Martha Kiger, Mattoon; Jean Laver, Winnetka; Ellen Mahle, Danville; Jane Marqua, Wilmette; Polly Pearman, Rockford; Betty Pool, Evanston; Joan Punton, Kansas City, Mo.; Helena Rayl, Decatur, Ind.; Frances Stirton, Chicago; Suzanne Swan, Pittsburg, Kan.; Peggy Wagner, Park Ridge; Frances Whittemore, LaGrange; Janice Wolford, Glencoe; Mary Jean Ziesel, Elkhart, Ind.

For the spring semester of 1936, Illinois Z again won the Panhellenic Cup for first place in sorority scholarship with a university average of 3.93. Belle Fullerton was elected to $\Phi B K$ in March.

Jane Hadden was elected to Mortar Board in April and was also chosen Women's Editor of the Illio, yearbook. Likewise in April, Torch, an activity honorary for junior women, chose Jane Chapeck, Grace Ellis, and Jean Fair as members. Ruth Bucholz and Anita Knapp are to be the sophomore members of Shi-Ai, an honorary to promote friendship as well as activities in the Greek houses of the campus.

In October, the campus was saddened by the death of G. A. Huff, Athletic Director of the University, a man very much respected both by the students and by the faculty. A special memorial service was held in the stadium, immediately preceding the Washington-Illinois game.

Members of the chapter are busy in campus activities this fall. Virginia Rugh is vice-president of the Women's Athletic Association; Jean Fair is the junior chairman of Orange and Blue Feathers, a Women's League organization for freshman women; Jane Chapeck is a member of the Y.W.C.A. cabinet and leader of a discussion group for freshmen; Ruth Cogdal is a member of the Elections Committee of Women's League; and Grace Ellis is a junior business manager of the Illio. Anita Knapp, Ruth Bucholz, and Beverly Belyea are all members of the editorial staff of the Illio and of Women's League standing committees, while Margery Diehl is busy in W.A.A. Suzanne Little is a sophomore manager of the Stat Course, an organization which will bring to the campus this year a program of artists to include John Charles Thomas and Josef Hofman. Beverly Belyea has just been elected to the Student Senate.

The chapter will give a dance for the pledges on November 6 in the chapter house.

Several committees in the chapter are busy planning decorations for homecoming on October 24. Nell Gere has been chosen as a candidate for Homecoming Queen.

ILLINOIS ETA—JAMES MILLIKIN UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1912

Pledge Day, September 19, 1936

INITIATED, June 13, 1936: Lois Holmes, Rosemary Reid, Decatur; Ellen Horn, Ravinia.

At the close of rush week September 19, Illinois E started the college year with its largest pledge class in five years. The information obtained at the 1936 Convention of $\Pi B \Phi$ by the chapter delegate, Emily Jane Wood, concerning pledge supervision has given the chapter much confidence in the success of the coming year. Campus activities were started with the annual Panhellenic tea, held September 13 at the Millikin Conservatory of Music. Emily Jane Wood, social chairman of the Millikin Panhellenic society, was in charge of the tea. The following week was devoted to the Y.W.C.A. membership drive, and a Millikin women's wiener roast was held September 17. Jesse McKeown is the acting art chairman of the organization this year. Both the active chapter and the pledge class gave their support to Y.W.C.A. week.

The annual Millikin Mixer sponsored by the senior honorary fraternity and sorority, $\Lambda \Omega$ and $\Pi M \Theta$ was held October 2 in the Millikin gym. The main attraction of the evening consisted of a stunt contest in which each sorority and fraternal on the Millikin campus participated. T K E was presented the award for the best stunt while $\Delta \Sigma \Phi$ and $\Pi B \Phi$ both received honorable mention. Among those campus organizations to hold their first meeting of the year during the following week were: $\Pi M \Theta$, Home Economics club, and French club. $\Pi M \Theta$ is the senior women's honorary organization on campus, and Emily Jane Wood is acting president this year. A varied and interesting program has been planned. $\Pi M \Theta$ joined with $\Lambda \Omega$, senior men's fraternal, and took charge of the sale of freshman caps and ribbons. The purpose of the French club is to keep an active interest in the French department of the University. Jesse McKeown, Elizabeth Geiger, and Ellen Horn are members of this club. A luncheon held September 26 started out the season for the Home Economics club. Margaret Swency is the club secretary and Lois Holmes is an active member. The Millikin Women's Athletic Association which has been inactive for the past few years is reorganizing this year, and Emily Jane Wood represented $\Pi B \Phi$ on the committee for reorganization. A wiener roast was held October 7 out at Lake Decatur in celebration of the new W.A.A.

The University orchestra under the direction of Jose Echaniz is already planning a program for the latter part of the month. Beatrice Hill, Joanne McDavid, Ellen Horn, and Martha Rugh McDavid, '34, are members of the orchestra. The choir is also making plans for the coming year, and Beatrice Hill, Margaret Jane Stormont, and Margaret Admire are singing in the choir this year.

Millikin Homecoming is to be held the weekend of November 6, 7, and 8 this year. Plans for this occasion will include the annual freshman-sophomore fight, the bonfire, pep meeting and the homecoming play, "Hay Fever," which will be presented by the Town and Gown players. Millikin will meet Bradley in the homecoming game on Saturday, and a dance will be held in the Millikin gym that evening.

A radio dance was held October 10 in the chapter house and plans are being made for the fall pledge dance which is given by the active chapter each year in honor of the pledge class.

The chapter was delighted to be able to entertain Mrs. Ruth Barrett Smith at various luncheons and dinners during her brief visit in April, and also to have her present at a pledge and an active meeting.

The founders of $\Pi B \Phi$ were honored at a luncheon held in Moore's Dining Room on Saturday, May 2. On the same afternoon the annual Mothers' and Daughters' Tea was held at the home of Isabel MacArthur. The table was decorated with green tapers and had a beautiful centerpiece of spring blooms.

On Saturday, May 9, the annual rummage sale of old clothes and furniture took place, and the profits of the sale exceeded those of any other time.

The $\Pi B \Phi$ weekend was the last fraternity event of the year. It was held during the first weekend in June at Whytewold Beach, Manitoba, where three of the girls kindly offered their homes—Norma Jane Verner, Yvonne Sharpe, and Mary Kate Florence. A great many of the alumnae came down for Sunday; and, in all, there were about forty girls present. Swimming and canoeing and games occupied the daytime, and sing-songs and marsh-mallow roasts were organized for the evenings. The whole affair was very successful and it is to be hoped that it will be repeated again next year. Margaret Lough was in charge of all arrangements.

For the coming year, the chapter plans to take a house along with four other women's fraternities, each one having a chapter room of its own. This is an entirely new venture and one which may point the way to a Pan-hellenic House in future years. Some of the proceeds of the rummage sale will go to help payments on the room.

Four members of the alumnae are going to other Universities to study during the coming winter—Betty Banning to the Sorbonne, the University of Paris; Margaret Bjornson to Germany; and Pat Blair and Dorothy Herser to the University of Toronto.

INITIATED, May 24, 1936; Enid Godwin, Mandan; Jean Hoagland, New Rockford.

Harriet Miller and Virginia Rice were elected to Mortar Board, of which Harriet is president, Lorene Berg and Alfa Tangsrud were elected to $\Phi B K$, and Harriet Miller and Marion McIntosh to $\Pi A \Theta$. Harriet is also president of $\Pi A \Theta$. Vivian Helgerson is president of $\Phi X \Theta$, national commerce sorority, and attended the national convention at Portland, Oregon as delegate of the North Dakota chapter. Ruth Fiskum and Kathleen Olsen were initiated into $\Phi X \Theta$. Virginia Rice was elected president of Women's League Board, and Eleanor Shaw is president of W.A.A. Harriet Miller was chosen to act as a Grey Gown, honorary service organization. North Dakota Alpha is well represented in $K \Phi O$, speech sorority, of which Kathleen Olsen is president.

Harriet Miller, Kathleen Olsen, and Virginia Rice are members of the Dean of Women's Advisory Council. Harriet Miller is president of the University Orchestra, and Claire Stromberg is librarian. Cleo Nelson has been included in the cast of "Skidding," a forthcoming Playmaker production. Alice Marsh is secretary-treasurer of the Women's Glee Club, and Elnora Hopper, Harriet Miller, and Claire Stromberg are members of the Madrigal Club. Eileen Stenson has been named assistant advertising manager of the Dakota Student, campus newspaper.

The University of North Dakota's homecoming is scheduled for October 16-17. Harriet Miller is chairman of the committee of awards. According to the annual tradition, the $\Pi B \Phi$ pledges were hostesses at a tea for all new girls on the campus.

North Dakota A observed the fifteenth anniversary of the founding of this chapter. Mothers, patronesses, and alumnae were guests at the occasion.

PLEDGED: Dorothy Flynn, Betty O'Keefe, Kathleen Olsen, Rebecca Onstad, Cheryl Rodger, Grand Forks; Adelaide Aas, New Rockford; Alice Marsh, Crookston, Minn.; Evelyn O'Keefe, Fargo.

INITIATED, April 24, 1936; Lucille Davenport, Sylvia Brassett, Betty Ann Shaffer. June 21, 1936; Jeanne Gibson.

In the women's spring elections at Minnesota, Frances Healy became president of Pinafore, the women's sophomore organization of the campus. Frances was also made a member of "More Than Bored," an honorary freshman organization which is in imitation of, and chooses its members in the same manner as, Mortar Board. Catherine Gavin was put on the Y.W.C.A. cabinet as its junior representative for the coming year.

Mary Norby was delegate to Convention, Minnesota A was honored to receive the Attendance Cup. All who went consider Convention among their finest experiences, and are eager to attend another one. With a great deal of enthusiasm, a deeper admiration for $\Pi B \Phi$, and with the many new ideas received, the members hope to participate in a most successful year with the chapter.

This fall Mary Norby was chairman of a Freshman Week committee, and Margaret Hofacre was in charge of the "Big Sisters." Ruth Ellison and Dorothy Andrews also worked on Freshman Week committees, and Marjorie Cummins sang at several freshman entertainments.

Enrollment at Minnesota has again increased this fall, with 3500 students entering as freshmen.

October 5 completed formal rushing week, and on that evening nineteen girls were pledged. The first two teas, for town and out-of-town girls, respectively, were carried out in an elaborate circus motif, with paper covering the walls and ceiling to suggest a tent, and cleverly drawn circus animals all over the room. The third tea was carried out in maroon and gold. The dinners elaborated the themes of Hill Billy, Paul Bunyan, and Under the Sea, ending with the traditional wedding ceremony on Saturday night.

PLEDGED: April 22, 1936; Lucille Ruff, St. Paul. May 11, 1936; Marion Larson, Anne Louise Jacobson, Minneapolis. October 5, 1936; Marion Syverson, Jean Calhoun, Eunice Carleton, Barbara Dunn, Doris Ekman, Ruth Geaves, Patricia Hanley, Betty Kulp, Avis Liechty, Monica Schissel, Frances Sinclair, Vivian Witt, Minneapolis; Jane Foster, Anne McKay, Jane Miller, Joy Thompson, St. Paul; Hannah Dowell, Crookston; Ruth Sommers, Harrisburg, Pa.; Ruth Weaver, Anoka.

INITIATED, October 3, 1936; Mildred Hassler, Farmington.

Iowa A climaxed the college year 1935-36 with the Commencement Breakfast in honor of the Seniors on June 1. The two Seniors were Emily France and Virginia Holland. Crested compacts were given to both girls for farewell gifts. The best pledge bracelet was awarded to Margaret Hall, and to Helen Weibley went the honor of having her name engraved upon the plaque bearing the names of members who have made the most improvement scholastically during the Sophomore year.

Among the other honors $\Pi B \Phi$ received at commencement time was having Virginia Holland as representative in the annual May Fete. Virginia was chosen by the Senior class to be the May Queen. Virginia also had the feminine lead in the commencement play. Alice Talbot was the Junior Mantle Orator at the Cap and Gown service. Pauline Carroll, Margaret Conover, Virginia Hall, Betty Lundgren, and Alice Talbot were listed on the honor roll which was announced at the Honors Day chapel services, May 11.

The $\Pi B \Phi$ spring formal was held at the Country Club on May 9. The theme of the party was S. S. Arrow. May 10 the mothers were entertained at a tea given at the chapter rooms. This was followed on May 12 with the serenade.

This summer Iowa Wesleyan was able to pay the college debt and now has the distinction of being one of the few middle western schools that is absolutely free from owing anything. There are several new instructors on the campus this fall.

Iowa A purchased some new furniture for the chapter rooms last month. Chief among the new furnishings is a wine and blue davenport and chair, and also wine draperies. Six chairs were presented to the chapter with the best wishes of the Mt. Pleasant Alumnae Club.

Thus far $\Pi B \Phi$ has begun another successful year on the campus. The chapter is represented in $I \Phi$, honor fraternity, by Alice Talbot, Betty Lundgren and Alice Talbot are debaters and members of $\Pi K \Delta$, the former is secretary-treasurer of the forensic fraternity, Alice Talbot is our member on the student council, Charlotte Allen is president of W.A.A. Helen Weibley is social chairman, and Wilma Howe is manager of intramural sports. Charlotte Allen Weibley, and Alice Talbot were on the Croaker staff. The latter is also news editor for the Tiger this year. Other reporters on the Tiger staff are Helen Weibley and Betty Lundgren. Wilma Howe, Alice Talbot, Helen Weibley, and Betty Lundgren are members of Hershey Hall council.

After two weeks of hard rushing Iowa A pledged seven girls. A party was given on October 3 for the new pledges and guests. One of the afternoon programs was a cleverly written poem of a fashion parade. Another program was a wedding of $\Pi B \Phi$ and a rushee. After the wedding a make believe reception was held at which the refreshments were served.

The theme of the formal dinner was "The Land of the Wine Carnation." This idea was attractively carried out with oval wine and blue placecards and programs fitted into the favors which were wine and blue bracelets. The tables were beautifully decorated with wine carnations and tall silver blue tapers. In the Π shaped center between the tables carnations were growing in a green garden around a lighted arrow. These were given to the rushees after the dinner. The toast program compared the life of a fraternity girl to the growing and cultivation of a wine carnation. The rushees were taken to the home of an alumna for rush talks and refreshments.

Pledging services took place the evening of October 2. PLEDGED: Lucy Allison, Betty Elgar, Suzanne Schreiner, Marjorie Smith, Mt. Pleasant; Wilma Howe, Hillsboro; Lorraine Plank, Eldon; Harriet Tade, Hillsboro.

Iowa B is again stressing extracurricular activities and scholarship for this year. The scholarship cup has been retained for two consecutive semesters and the chapter hopes to retain it this semester, which will automatically make it permanent. Phyllis Emmons, president, is also president of the Student Council, president of $A \Psi \Omega$, president of Y.W.C.A., president of Panhellenic. Eleanor Benson is president of Zetethian Literary Society. Four members are on the W.A.A. board, four staff members on the Simpsonian, weekly paper, and five members on the Zenith staff, the college year book.

The social season began this year with a Derby dance with decorations in imitation of a horse race. The Alumnae and Mother's club were entertained at a Sunday tea in appreciation of the work they have done for the chapter. Early in November the faculty was entertained at the annual faculty breakfast. Open house for the fraternities was held in October.

Homecoming plans are well under way and the hopes are for a greater return of alumnae than for sometime. A large get-together has been planned with arrangements being made for a dance in the gym. There will be dinner at the house for the homecoming alumnae November 6.

INITIATED, June 5, 1936: Ida Griffith, Laguna Beach, Calif.; Mary Jane Hayes, Bonner Springs; Dorothy Lemon, Pratt; Katherine Turner, Amarillo, Tex.; Mary Anne White, Kansas City, Mo.

Kansas A had a very successful rushing season this year. We again operated under the quota system. On the first day of rushing all the rushees were required to visit every sorority. The second day was given to sending and receiving date cards. Regular rush functions followed on the third and fourth days with preferential in the evening on the last day.

University work started with the largest enrollment in the history of the school, about 4,600. Construction has begun on a new women's dormitory, the second given by Mrs. Elizabeth Watkins. It is for women with high scholarship average who are self-supporting and wish to prepare their own meals.

Open House for the pledges was held at the chapter house Saturday, October 3. Kansas A will be hostess at the Wednesday W.S.G.A. tea for all women on October 28.

The annual chapter picnic will be held Monday, Oct. 12, followed by the baseball game between the actives and the freshmen. Afterwards the entire chapter will attend the intramural volley ball game in which our team is competing.

In the spring elections Kansas A won the following offices in W.S.G.A.: college representative, Gertrude Field; Fine Arts representative, Carolyn Bailey; vice-president, Barbara Pendleton. Recently Katherine Ehrke, Jane Coates, and Sarah Stauffer were chosen to be members of the Dramatic Club. Delos Woods made Quack club and she and Jayne Coates made Tau Sigma, honorary dancing sorority. Mary Isabelle Taylor made the Glee Club. Continuing the precedent set last year, the Panhellenic Council held a series of teas before registration to acquaint the new freshmen with the campus, the different groups on the campus, and other new students.

Registration was held the week of September 14. In honor of the new pledges, a tea was held on September 27 to which all the fraternity men on the campus were invited.

The Mothers Club has been very active this year in helping the girls. They have presented the chapter with $25.00 to aid in rushing, new monogrammed napkins, a complete set of new dishes and a buffet supper for the girls and their rushees.

Rush week theme was "Going Away to School." The opening party was a farewell party at a Night Club, with the house cleverly decorated in black and white, and the actives wearing black and white formals. The next day a breakfast was held en route to school in the "Cit" of Denver. The final dinner of rush week was after arriving at the destination and a tour was made of the big hotels, going to the homes of several alumnae. Pledging was held on September 19, followed by a cooky-shine for the 22 pledges.

Elizabeth Sargent is the women's representative on the Interscholastic Council. Mary Esther Barton is president of Parakeets, honorary pep club. Betty McNair is president of Kedros, honorary organization similar to Mortar Board, and Bettina Caruso was elected president of Alpha Lambda Delta, honorary freshman women's scholastic fraternity.

A freshman enrollment of almost 700 swelled the total student body to a new high of 1700 this year. Accommodations for their proper handling is provided in the new Liberal Arts building, construction of which was completed last spring. It houses most of the offices and classrooms concerned with the college of Liberal Arts.

A further step in the building program on the campus is under way. Plans were approved last month for the new Student Union, to contain lounges, ball room, and bookstore. Actual building is delayed until President Crane makes inquiry into the possibility of WPA funds. The new project was speeded up by a student poll at the close of last quarter.

Wyoming A has taken first place among campus organizations in scholarship for two succeeding years. Success in academic lines this year will give the chapter the silver cup permanently.

Helen Gottschalk, senior this year, was voted as Wyoming University's most popular coed. Helen is, in addition, an activity girl, a member of I I M, social science honorary, and president of Mortar Board.

Two members of the chapter were chosen by Phi K Phi: Elizabeth Howard and Betty Miller. Eloine Cook is also a Mortar Board girl, I I M, and A.W.S. treasurer.

Two sophomore honoraries, Iron Skull and Spurs, both of which are tradition bearers on the campus, have five members of I I B Phi. These were announced last spring at Honors Assembly. These girls, recently initiated, are: Anne Boyce, Eleanor Galberg, Helen Christensen, Virginia Thomson, and Jane Zachman.

Wyoming A was winner of a campus song contest sponsored by Mortar Board, and including new compositions and parodies. Sigma A I, national musical honorary for women, claims Betty Fish, Ada Bishoff, and Jeanne Diver. Jeanne Diver is also society editor on the Branding Iron, campus weekly newspaper. Patricia Sullivan, freshman, acts as assistant business manager to the B.I., and as secretary of the freshman class.

The position of Junior Prom Queen, coveted under any circumstances, was won last April by Genevieve Stewart, president of Panhellenic.

The Wyoming campus has, for the last two years, substituted a magazine published in spring quarter for the usual annual. This has been so well received by the students, that it has been decided to make the magazine a quarterly, The Wyo. The first issue is expected late in November.

The chapter officially announced Mrs. F. S. Burrage, Laramie, as house mother at a tea given October 6, for patronesses, alumnae, and faculty wives.

Open houses, with a half hour of dancing at each house, provided entertainment to fraternity groups in October.

The annual pledge dance will be held November 20.

The first football game of the year was September 26 when Oklahoma tied the Tulsa university team in a 0-0 score. On October 3 Oklahoma defeated Colorado by 8-0 at Boulder.

The university campus is greatly improved this fall by the addition of a new Biological science building, a new Business administration building and the completion of a new clock tower for the union building. W. Gordon Matzene has presented the university with a $100,000 collection of oriental art which is exhibited to all students and the university library has been given the valuable collection of Oklahoma historical documents and relics which were collected on the famous 101 ranch.

Ruth Clark is acting as the president of the W.S.G.A. of the university and is also a member of Mortar Board for this year. Patience Sewell has been appointed feature editor of the Sooner yearbook. Caroline McEldowney was elected one of the Sooner beauty queens last spring.

Oklahoma A has entertained at formal dinners for Dr. W. B. Bizzell, president of the university, and Mrs. Bizzell, Miss Edna E. McDaniel, dean of women, and for the alumnae advisory board of the chapter. Pi Kappa Alpha entertained at a buffet supper for the pledge class of Pi B Phi.

PLEGGED: Faye Bateman, Johnny Lee Ingle, Nancy Marsh, Katherine Bretch, Josephine Kilpatrick, Oklahoma City; Mary Wirt Head, Elizabeth Coe, Ardmore; Mary Ellis Tack, Allie Lou Conner, Katherine Jane Hayden, Tulsa; Mary Jess Thompson, Lucille Jackson, Muskogee; Josephine Sullivan, Wichita Falls, Tex.; Mary Ann Paxton, Okmulgee; Melva Collins, Claremore; Betty Nance, Purcell; Flora Deen Finley, Pampa, Tex.; Phyllis Jean Blanchard, Snyder; Evelyn Braden, Nashville, Tenn.; Dell Perkins, Midland, Tex.; Emma Moody, Shawnee; Mary Terrell, Navasota, Tex.; Dorothy Jayne Dustin, Norman; and Dorothy Jane Parks, El Reno.

OKLAHOMA BETA—OKLAHOMA A. AND M.

Chartered, 1919

Pledge Day, September 11, 1936

Oklahoma B held the highest scholastic standing among women's fraternities on the campus at the end of the second semester.

One of the newest buildings on the campus is an annex to Murray Hall, the girls' dormitory. As yet it is not completed but work is being rushed on it in order that it may be finished by the second semester.

Oklahoma A. & M. College has as her football coach, Ted Cox, formerly of Tulane University. He has a very promising team.

The outstanding factor at this college is the increase in the enrollment. It has passed the four thousand mark which is a record enrollment.

Betty Price, winner of the Amy B. Onken award for Kappa Province last year, who is a member of Oklahoma B, is an addition to the School of Commerce faculty.

Study halls are held for the new pledges from 8:00 until 10:15 every night and from 4:00 until 5:30 on Tuesday and Friday afternoons.

Phyllis Barnes was elected secretary-treasurer of the freshman class. Helen Mullendore is president of the W.S.G.A. this year.

Girls making the Dean's Honor Roll second semester of last year were: Helen Mullendore, Rebecca Jane Nichols, Betty Price, Marvel Anderson, Virginia Ingle, Christine McKown, Grace Elizabeth Hill, Grace Hoffman, Helen Hurst, K. J. Pratt, and Jeanne Price.

Lou French Hatchett won the Freshman Queen Race. Maxine Moody, entrant from Pi B Phi last year in the Band Queen Race, was reelected by popular vote again to claim that honor.

Social activities are in full swing once more. Open house was held October 11 during which time the pledges were introduced by the chapter to the fraternity men on the campus. One night each week representatives from a fraternity are guests at dinner.

Formal pledging was held Wednesday, September 30, followed by a cooky-shine.

PLEGGED: Janelle Stallings, Waggoner; Mary Beth Lating, Tulsa; Shirley Shelby, Escondido, Calif.; Mary Ingle, Shattuck; Marian Evans, Stroud; Mary Gertrude Gray, Fairfax; Helen Jo Leftwich, Frances Leftwich, Holdenville; Marjean Wilson, Lou French Hatchett, Virginia Woods, Oklahoma City; Miriam Thompson, Stillwater; Elfreda Woods, Carolyn Tyre, Carol Stanley, Ardmore; Eleanor Parks, Chelsea; Aleene Plummer, Perry; Phyllis Barnes, Pawnee; Betty Jane Hatfield, Nowata; and Addie Matkins, Bartlesville.

JEANNE PRICE

ARKANSAS ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS

INITIATED, June 11, 1936: Betty McCurry, Margaret Briggs, Virginia Hinkle, Louetta Kendrick, and Rubelle Roark.

This fall the active members of Arkansas A on returning to school were met by a newly and attractively re-decorated chapter house filled with graceful looking chairs, pillowy divans, and soft sinking carpets.

Campus activities have begun to get their yearly stronghold on the student body, and the members of Pi B Phi are doing their bit toward helping them along.

Isabel Storms, one of our most prominent and outstanding seniors, is now Commander of Guidon and received a number of girls into the company. Those of Pi B Phi being taken in were Bettie Barnes, Laura Louise McDaniels, Ann DuBard, Margaret Jacoway, and Patty Joe Mahoney.

Margaret Jacoway, and Isabel Storms were the seniors who were honored by being offered membership in Octagon, an organization composed of outstanding senior women.

Patty Joe Mahoney joined Swastika, and Alice Henry was taken into Sigma Epsilon, a freshman honor society.

Those becoming members of Rootin' Rubes, a girls' cheering squad, were Delle Davis, Laura Louise McDaniels, Willette Eustice, and Maurelle Pickens.

Bettie Barnes, society editor of the school paper, the Arkansas Traveler, is also president of Pi Kappa, treasurer for the Women's League, and secretary for the Blackfriars.

Alice Jones was elected secretary for the International Relations Club, is vice-president of A T and is also secretary of the Deutscher Verein.

Helen Gile, is secretary for University Theatre for this coming year and is taking the lead in a Shakespearean drama that is to be produced.

TEXAS ALPHA—TEXAS UNIVERSITY

Pledge Day, September 18, 1936

INITIATED, March 30, 1936: Helen Blyth, Doris Dickinson, Sarah Dugger, June Fisher, Elizabeth Holcombe, Edwina Holland, Roberta Johnson, Isabelle Kronzer, Nell McDavid, Emily Marshall, Charlotte Maer, Eugenia Moss, Nancy Nixon, Noel Reynolds, Jeanne Richey, Rowena Simpson, Peggy Stinnette, Margaret Terrell, Mary Helen Terry, Ella Mae Turner, Ruth Weddington, Martha Chastain, and Evelyn Milie.

This year Rush Week was observed from September 13 to 16 before the opening of school. A most effective dinner was held the last day; the arrow-shaped table was covered with a gold cloth, and wine carnation clusters resembled jewels in the arrow. On Pledge Day an open house was held in honor of the fifty-six new pledges.

Texas A is happy to welcome four transferred initiates: Ann Russ, Jane Denman, Frances Connally, and Cornelia Thompson; and four transferred pledges: Dorothy Miller, Elizabeth Sharp, Carol McPherson, and Jean Sanders.

In the recent Texas University-Oklahoma University football game, Brownie Green was chosen Sweetheart of the team. Between halves, she presented the captain of the Oklahoma team with a scroll of good sportsmanship.

Beth Ryburn was elected into Mortar Board last spring.

Plans are being made for a new chapter house which is to be ready for occupation by the opening of school next fall. It is to be situated in the same block as the present house. The new house is to accommodate all of the active members of the chapter.

Texas A was rated third in scholastic standing of the campus in last year's calculations.

A Christmas dance is being planned for December 18, 1936. It is to be a tea dance and to be held at the Austin Country Club.

L.), Houston; Janet Pilcher, San Angelo; Margaret Pressler, Ann Ross, Austin; Susan Sanford, Eagle Pass; Josephine Schreiner, Kerrville; Monda Marie Thompson (Mrs. John), Austin; Helen Townes Smith (Mrs. A. J. K.), Houston; Margaret Day Trigg, Fort Worth; Jane Turner, Longview; Virginia Woodward, Dallas.

CAROLYN RUSSELL

TEXAS BETA—SOUTHERN METHODIST

Chartered, 1916

Pledge Day, October 25, 1936

INITIATED, October 16: Patsy Burgher, Catherine Wilson, Helen Hunt, Pauline Day, Dallas.

Texas B won second place for the Balfour Plaque, given each year to the most outstanding woman's fraternity on the campus in campus activities, sports, scholarship, cooperation, leadership, and religious activities.

Homecoming was celebrated on November 14. The pledges under the supervision of Patsy Burgher worked on a float for the parade. Mary Knowles, president of the chapter, was in charge of the school social held in Dallas Hall on November 14 for the ex-students.

Mary Ann Collins has been elected Sweetheart of the famous Mustang Band for this year. She went to the University of Texas on Saturday, November 31 where she met on the field, the Sweetheart of the Texas Band, who is also a member of $\Pi B \Phi$.

We are anticipating with much pleasure a visit from Miss Gladys Scivally, Kappa Province President. The school newspaper, The Semi-Weekly Campus, is now in full swing with Francis Hallam, editor, at the head. Pledge Jean Rowland was nominee for the Sweetheart of the Freshman Blue Shirts of S.M.U. The interarsity sports begin this week with soccer and $\Pi B \Phi$ intends to take an active interest with Betty Touchstone as activity supervisor.

The chapter entertained with a formal dance at the Dallas Country Club on October 16. A Slumber Party has been planned in the near future.

Texas B completed a very successful rush week. Due to the quota system the chapter was allowed to pledge eighteen girls and our two transfers, Samuella Wynne of Louisiana A and Pauline Kettle of Texas A.

VIRGINIA CARLISLE

LOUISIANA ALPHA—H. SOPHIE NEWCOMB

Chartered, 1891

Pledge Day, October 5, 1936

Rushing was most successful for Louisiana A this season. The chapter gave two parties for the rushees. The first on September 25 was a nursery rime party; everyone came in costume and played all sorts of children's games. The second party was a progressive dinner, having the different courses at the houses of actives and coffee with the alumnae.

Louisiana A is well represented on the campus this year. Leila Werlein is the president of Student Body, Patricia Woodward is the recording secretary of Student Body, and Mary Peacock the treasurer. In the Dramatic Club, Louisiana A is represented by Amy Smith as stage manager and a great many members of $\Pi B \Phi$ are active members of the Dramatic Club.

The Tulane and Newcomb student bodies elected sponsors for the Tulane-Auburn football game. Among the sponsors chosen were Amy Smith, Patricia Woodward, Mary Peacock, Corinne Maunsell, and Leila Werlein from Louisiana A.

Pledging held on October 5, was followed by a banquet at the Orleans Club. At the banquet stunts and speeches were made toasting the new pledges.

The enrollment at Newcomb has been greatly increased this year. Many new instructors have been added to the faculty. This being the 50th Anniversary of Newcomb, there promises to be a great deal of celebration on the campus. The Tulane Yearbook, of which Louise Schramm, Louisiana A, is the Newcomb editor, will be dedicated to Newcomb College.

PLEGGED: Lucille Baker, Elizabeth Cooper, Peggy Jones, Malcolm Tullis, Alice Westfeldt, Gretchen Thomson, Celine Penn, Elise Terhune, Minette Deneger, Gloria Grehan, Dorothy Shands, Elizabeth Buxton, Martha Crawford, Betty Heaton, Stella Minton, Althea Huey, Dorothy Mary Brechley, Katharine Oliver, Mollie Merriman, Marjorie Stauss, Mary Katharine Meek, Barbara Ellis.

BELLE LIPSCOMB

LAMBDA PROVINCE

ALBERTA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA

Chartered, September 1931

Pledge Day, November 14, 1935

Alberta A was pleased to have a visit from Mrs. Warren Smith, Grand Vice-President, in March. During her visit a banquet was held combining Founders' Day and the senior farewell ceremony. Spoons with $\Pi B \Phi$ engraved on them were presented to each graduate. The week preceding the ceremony was full of festive engagements. The Panhellenic tea for graduates was held at the house this year. The graduates were entertained at a delightful luncheon at the Macdonald Hotel given by the Edmonton alumnae and at a private luncheon carried out in $\Pi B \Phi$ colors and emblems. At the convocation ceremony the University of Alberta bestowed the honorary degree of LL.D. upon Sir John Falconer, former president of Toronto University.

The Calgary alumnae organized summer rushing. Their program included a breakfast party, a theater party and a corn roast at an out-of-town ranch. In Edmonton there were several parties and a formal tea at the chapter house. As money raising projects successful rummage sales were held by the active chapter and the alumnae clubs in both Calgary and Edmonton during the summer.

Registration at the University began September 21. Although the first year enrollment did not equal last year's the total number is greater. This year the University is carrying on without a president. Dr. Wallace, former president, is now at Queens University, while Dean Kerr is acting president.

Alberta A has the same house again this year with fifteen girls living in it. This is a big year for rushing as the chapter gained the right to rush first year students.

The University activities are just getting under way again. Wauneta initiation was held September 29 and Margaret Hutton was soloist at the ceremony.

Just now the chapter is planning to sell a box of apples for the Kiwanis club on their tag day. The proceeds of this campaign go to philanthropic works, mainly for crippled children's hospitals.

MONTANA ALPHA—MONTANA STATE

Chartered, 1921

Pledge Day, September 28

INITIATED, March 28, 1936: Mary Beers, Doris Rember, Billings; June Edwards, Malta; Helen Everson, Reserve; Dorothy Kelly, Helena; Marian Schmidt, Fort Benton; and Lenore Stewart, Great Falls.

Montana State College celebrated Homecoming October 10. Each organization was represented by a float in the large parade down town. A pep club was organized for the game and is to be continued. Many alumni came back to the homecoming game.

On Woman's Day, Montana A received many honors to its members. Katherine Duncan was chosen as the outstanding senior woman and is to be the Woman's Day speaker from her class. Members chosen for Mortar Board were Wilda Parker, Brownie Greene, and Vivienne Finley. June Edwards, Wanna Finley, Vesta Robbins, and Georgia Heissick were pledged to Spurs, national service organization. Anne Sanders and Katherine Duncan were in the Big Ten of the senior class. The Home Economics Club chose Vivienne Finley as its president. Several girls received swimming suits for their ability in swimming.

Vesta Robbins was awarded the Wagner scholarship made available for the first time this year to the student attaining the highest scholastic record at the end of his or her freshman year.

IDAHO ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO

Pledge Day, October 4, 1936

Moscow students were pleasantly surprised on April 17, when an assembly was called and a one day holiday was declared in honor of General Chrisman, military officer at the University, who was recently given charge of military tactics at the University for life.

In addition to the new $75,000 infirmary which is being erected on the campus, plans are being made for a large new residence hall for men. These improvements will add a great deal to the appearance of our campus.

Idaho Alpha enjoyed entertaining Washington Beta at a buffet supper on Founders' Day. The Pullman chapter chartered a bus to transport them both ways, and when they mounted the bus to depart, each chapter sang a farewell song.

This year a new system was employed for honoring the mothers of the students. The Pi Phi did their share in this project by entertaining about 10 mothers. The week-end of May 8-10 was set aside for this purpose and a series of programs was arranged. On the Friday night of this week a dancing recital, called Taps and Terpsichore, was presented. Bette Mottern, Clara Young, Mabel Morton, Tybe Coffin, and Helen Parmley all had active parts in this. Saturday afternoon a May Day program was presented at which time Clara Young and Ellen Bradshaw were elected to Spurs, national sophomore service women's honorary. Fay Pettijohn was pledged to Cardinal Key, upperclasswomen's honorary. Saturday evening a song fest was given at which time nine girls' groups and four boys' houses competed for a cup. Pi Phi placed second in the girls' groups, and won distinction because of the black and white uniforms, which were both clever and original.

June Quayle and Helen Parmley were recently pledged to Kappa Delta Pi, national education honorary. Betty Obermeyer was chosen new president of Phi Chi Theta, national business honorary. Fay Pettijohn was elected A.W.S. Yell Queen.

Four of Idaho A's girls graduated in June. Helen Madison graduated with a B.A. degree in English; Berniece Wilson with a B.S. in music education; Margaret Quist with a B.S. in education; and Jean Irvin with a B.S. in business.

This spring the University will begin construction on a new Student Union building which will add a great deal to our campus.

Idaho A was very successful with its rushing this fall and pledged eleven new girls, ten of whom will live in the house, and one town girl. Frances Paine was rushing chairman.

PLEDGED, October 4, 1936: Janet Anthony, Spokane, Wash.; Peggy Blomgren, Rachel Braxton, Ann Smead, Boise; Jean Cleveland, Kooskia; Lorraine Jensen, Twin Falls; Jeannette McGregor, Spirit Lake; Christine Nuckols, Montpelier; Ruth Steele, Idaho Falls; Phyllis Thomas, Ashton; Doris Wiley, Moscow.

WASHINGTON ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON

Chartered, January 5, 1907

Pledge Day, September 26, 1936

INITIATED, April 28, 1936: Milmae Floyd, Arlington, Va.; Audrey Hinkle, Twin Falls, Idaho; Dorothy Johnson, Seattle; Betty Plant, Vancouver, B.C., Canada.

Mary Frances Hartson, '36, Mortar Board president and Totem Club member, this year won the Amy B. Onken National Award, the highest of all II B Φ awards. She is now at Mills College in California, having received a fellowship there. The University scholarship bulletin shows II B Φ to be second among the national sororities.

In May, Barbara Jones, captain of the Women's Varsity

Debate Team, was pledged to Mortar Board, and to Totem Club, local activity honorary. Marjorie Hood was pledged to W-Key, local underclassmen's scholastic and activity honorary for women; and Ruth Clark was initiated to M Φ E, national music honorary. Jean Douglas scored several hits during the spring and summer appearing in Penthouse and Studio Theater productions. Others representing II B Φ on the campus are Margaret Wilson, W-Key member and Associated Women Students office manager, and Dorothy Johnson, who is active in YWCA work. Washington A hopes to retain this fall the cup given by Lieutenant-Governor Meyers signifying the winning of the sorority division of the University Song Contest, sponsored by the Malamutes, underclassmen's activity honorary.

A new infirmary, a new chemistry building, and a new women's dormitory have been built during the past year on the University of Washington campus. The new dormitory will accommodate almost 500 girls. The registration for the University totals nearly 10,000 students which is practically a record attendance.

The annual II B Φ Founders' Day banquet was held April 28, 1936, at the Edmund Meany Hotel, initiation ceremonies preceding it. Mary Frances Hartson, '36, Louise Conner, and Florence Parr, '36 won awards for scholarship and grade improvement. The Junior Class was presented with the scholarship cup. On May 24, II B Φ held its spring formal at the Inglewood Golf and Country Club; and on June 7, the Senior Breakfast was given at the Chapter House. Graduates were: Ruth Berry, Betty Boone, Virginia Cruse, Beulah Darrow, Patricia Fiset, Mary Frances Hartson, Virginia Jarvis, Florence Parr, Virginia Rae Symonds, and Mary Elizabeth von Boecklin. Washington A will begin its social season this fall with the traditional costume party to be given in November.

WASHINGTON BETA—WASHINGTON STATE

Chartered, 1912

Pledge Day, September 29, 1936

Washington B has been fortunate in starting off this year with a completely redecorated chapter house, inside and out, and with an unusually large group of active members returning to school.

Due to a stressing of scholarship last semester, Pi Beta Phi holds second place among National Women's Fraternities on this campus, and with the combined effort of the chapter it is hoped that next semester may bring first place.

The girls are represented in many campus activities. Barbara Kimbrough holds the position of A.W.S. president this year. Y.W.C.A. cabinet, Mortar Board, II M E treasurer, are among her many other activities. Another prominent senior is Joan Wickersham, also Mortar Board, A.W.S. cabinet, Secretary of the Student Body, R.O.T.C. Battalion Sponsor, and Y.W.C.A. Cabinet.

Notable in journalism work is Hope Kimbrough, associate editor of the Cbinook, year book, and a feature editor of the Evergreen. Others on the Evergreen staff are: Myra Francisco, associate editor, Betty Hollenback and Virginia Hill, assistant day editors.

Hope Kimbrough and Virginia Hill are active members of Spurs. In Orchestra, dancing honorary, Phyllis O'Day is president for the coming year and Virginia Burkholder is treasurer. II B Φ is well represented in Eurodelphian by Myra Francisco, Ethel Klein and Virginia Burkholder, vice-president. Bette Settle was initiated into F B. R.O.T.C. Sponsors are: Ethel Klein, Virginia Rogers, Geraldine Dyer. An act is being prepared for the All-College Review under the direction of Betty Hollenback. A large number of the houses enjoy participating in this yearly entertainment.

Several new buildings are now well under construction: a Women's Dormitory, to accommodate 250 girls, and a new Women's Gymnasium. This summer a new stadium was completed which seats 40,000, and is a tremendous improvement over the old structure. The Δ Z sorority is building a new chapter house, as is also A Γ P fraternity. The campus as a whole is becoming much more attractive each year.

OREGON ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF OREGON

Chartered, 1915

Pledge Day, September 26, 1936

INITIATED, April 30, 1936: Helen Wiedmer, Salem; Marjorie Hewitt, Harriet Rorich, Portland; Nancy Ogden, Hood River.

Fall term rush week began with an open house tea at every house on the campus. After a week of strenuous rushing, Oregon A pledged twenty-one girls.

During the summer needed improvements to the chapter house were made. The second and third floors were covered with linoleum. The Mother's Clubs gave the house two love seats for the living room, window seats, and furniture for the den.

There is a new infirmary and men's gymnasium on the campus.

Eleanor Norblad, senior, returned from a six months tour around the world, and Catherine Cummings spent the summer touring the United States. Betty Tubbs, Jane Cook, and Jean Mavis Moore announced their marriages during the summer.

In scholarship, Oregon A ranked second among sororities on the campus.

The freshman class has made a promising start in activities with Jane Weston being elected secretary of the class, and Betty Moore, Pat Brugman, and Dorothy Denslow being pledged to Φ B, the national music and dramatics honorary. Frances Watzek was appointed assistant chairman of the Homecoming Dance. Molly White is also serving on the directorate. Felker Morris is assisting in plans for the Sophomore Informal.

INITIATED, April 18, 1936: Elinor Hanson, Corvallis; Marian Huff, Astoria; Gail Sollender, Piedmont, Calif.

After a busy summer of vacationing and extensive rushing, the members of Oregon B are back at school and anxious to start another interesting year. During the summer the house was painted and calcimined, and is in excellent condition.

Shirley Wheeler and Helen Nelson were elected to Mortar Board, and Helen Nelson is president of this organization. Alice Reed was elected president of O N. Wilna Ireland was elected to A A Δ. Elinor Hanson, Wilna Ireland, and Gail Sollender are new members of Talons, the sophomore women's service honorary. Alice Reed is a new member of Φ K Φ. Lois Gelsinger and Jean Managhan are on the Rally Committee this year. Jean Managhan is the vice-president of the junior class. Dorothy Hill, Mary Price, June Porter, Lenore Reynolds, Frances Staver, and Meredith Wilber are all Rookess counselors.

FRANCES STAVER

MU PROVINCE

CALIFORNIA ALPHA—LELAND STANFORD JR. UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1893

Pledge Day, March 20, 1936

INITIATED, June 10, 1936: Mary Jane Hill.

A dinner-dance, held in honor of our new pledges, was the outstanding Pi Phi social event of spring quarter. The affair was held in Hotel del Monte, one of the most attractive resorts of California. This spring formal at Del Monte is becoming a tradition with our chapter, and is anticipated each year with great enthusiasm.

After pledging, a scavenger hunt and informal supper was held in the mountain home of an alumna, Mrs. Edith Manning, whose cabin is situated on the Skyline-Boulevard above the campus. A jolly-up and formal Sunday night supper were also held in honor of the pledge class.

Initiation was deferred this year, and our only pledge who was initiated before summer was Mary Jane Hill, who planned to attend Convention, and was therefore able to be initiated. Adrienne Johnston, a prominent member of the house, who has always been outstanding on the campus, was delegate to convention, and was awarded the cup for being the most outstanding delegate present. With her were Helen Zwick, Janet Brownell, and Mary Jane.

Autumn quarter classes began yesterday, so this quarter's activities are barely under way. Last quarter, however, Pi Phi had a fine representation in campus affairs. Ruth Goodan, who is now chapter president, was a member of Cap and Gown, secretary of Cardinals, on the Carnival committee, a member of the English Club, Woman's Head of Convalescent Home Drive, a contributor to the campus humor magazine, the Chaparral, and was elected to the Hammer and Coffin Society.

Adrienne Johnston is vice-president of the senior class, vice-president of the chapter, and was the vice-president of the Y.W.C.A., chairman of the Finance Drive, a member of Cap and Gown, Sophomore Woman on Ex-Committee, and member of various dance committees. Dramatic activities on the campus have three representatives of Pi Phi: Henrietta Jones, who is secretary of Masquers, Henrietta Watson, who played a leading part in the spring show, "Three Sheets to the Wind", and Kay Arthur, who also took a leading rôle in the same production. The latter was a member of Masquers and Cap and Gown, and was outstanding in play-writing as well as acting.

Stanford publications have a number of Pi Phis working on their staffs. Virginia Johnson, Florence Brown, Jeanette Munkelt, and Jane Wilson were on the Stanford Daily. Jayne Copp, Kay La Gaza, Jean Fox, Janet Brownell, Alice Hind, and Barbara Niven were on the business staffs of the Quad and the Chaparral.

Jerry Reed was awarded Lower Division Honors in Scholarship, and was on the Sophomore Political Committee, a co-chairman of the May Brunch, and a member of the registration dance committee spring quarter. Peggy Woodard was treasurer of the Y.W.C.A., a member of the Sophomore Committee, and Rally Committee. Kay Moran is head of Rally Committee, and last quarter she was treasurer of the Women's Athletic Association. Helen Shelton is Panhellenic delegate. Elsie Lillard was a member of the election board, a member of the Student Aid Committee, a member of the Masque Ball Committee, and president of the Stanford Union.

Holley Arthur, who was president of the chapter last year, was on Women's Conference, Panhellenic Council, received a scholarship to the Workers' School, and participated in intramural golf. Edith Hind was vice-president of the senior class, member of Phi Delta Phi, and a member of the Finance Committee. Wythe Jenkins was on the senior class gift committee; Virginia Johnson was a Roble Hall Sponsor, Night Editor on the Daily, and a member of the Senior Class Prom Committee. Barbara Steinbeck was president of Cap and Gown and a member of the Senior Class Day Committee, chairman of the Senior Luncheon, and Y.W.C.A. membership chairman. Mary Strange was a member of Cap and Gown and a member of the Senior Chapel Committee. Jane Sevdell was made a member of Phi Beta Kappa, the History Club, and the Senior Class committee.

The Junior Class Water Carnival and the Sophomore Carnival were outstanding university events of the spring quarter. The Convalescent Home Drive is an annual affair which takes place in the spring, and money is raised through a number of events such as the King and Queen Contest, the May Brunch, and the Masque Ball. The King and Queen Contest will be abandoned this year, due to the hard feelings it causes between fraternities on the campus.

INITIATED, September 17, 1936: Betty Hall. Chapter rushing began August 14 with a formal tea and was dimaxed two weeks later by gardenia and arrow dinners. California B was successful in its pledging of thirteen girls who were honored at a dinner Tuesday evening, September 1.

In the early hours of the morning on the day following pledging, several thousand people gathered to watch the initiation of new pledges of all sororities at the Channing Way Derby, an annual event sponsored by the Ξ Xs. In carrying out the theme "Nautical But Nice," Father Neptune and several fraternity men put the girls through all types of tests such as scrubbing the decks, relay racing with dead fish, and riding on a rubber tire from a crow's nest high on a telephone post to Moby Dick in the street below. On the evening of the Channing Way Derby open house was held to honor new pledges.

A new idea that Ace of Clubs, inter-sorority honor society, introduced this semester is the exchange pledge luncheons, which now take place every Thursday noon. Five pledges from each sorority have lunch at another sorority as guests at the latter's pledge table. This promotes a much friendlier attitude between new pledges, and also enables the girls to become better acquainted.

Midsemester rushing is in the form of two dinners each month. In addition to formal dinners, pre-rally informal dinners are being given after which the girls are taken to the bonfire rallies in the Greek Theater.

Following the initiation ceremony on September 17, a banquet was given.

The Mothers' Club has been responsible for the complete redecoration and refurbishing of the sun porch, which is beautifully done. New window curtains have been added at all bedroom windows, and the room of the house mother has been refurbished. A tea for mothers was held early in the fall, and a bridge luncheon was given by the Mothers' Club on October 7. At this time work of the Settlement School was purchased.

The Panhellenic fashion show tea was held September 22 in Peacock Court of the Hotel Mark Hopkins in San Francisco. This chapter was happy to be one of the two sororities on the campus having more than one model. Nancy Lou Glass and Jean Hagan were the models selected from II B Φ.

The semester formal dinner dance was held at the St. Francis Yacht Club in San Francisco, October 31.

Among those active in campus activities this semester are Ellie Mahan and Nancy Lou Glass, who received higher appointments on the Little Theater Managerial Staff. Nancy Lou Glass was elected vice-president of the Sophomore Class. Eleanor Kingsland and Peggy Moorhead are new pledges who are actively interested in the Daily Californian newspaper, and will act as hostesses to a group of fifty members of the staff at dinner at the chapter house. Barbara Vincent, sorority president, is a member of Torch and Shield, honor society, and she and Marion Barmby are members of Ace of Clubs, an inter-sorority honor group. Alice Martin is president of Δ X A, Applied Arts society. Betty Jane Hoffman is social chairman of Phatates and is planning for the group's bridge tea which will be given later in the month at the II B Φ house.

PLEGGED: Barbara Booth, Winifred Fishel, Vera Goepfert, Piedmont; Anne Everingham, Eleanor Kingsland, Mary Kinnock, Hope Merrill, Berkeley; Alberta Hill, Peggy Moorhead, Richmond; Ann Frost, Alameda; Helen Rivolta, Pleasanton; Norah Brown, Norma Lauppe, Sacramento.

CALIFORNIA GAMMA—UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Chartered, 1917

INITIATED: March 10, 1936: Virginia Beatty, San Diego; Susan Hitchner, Pasadena; June Campbell, Marjorie McCoy, Ruth Porter, Los Angeles.

Registering during the week of September 16 to 21, the University of Southern California opened the fall year with an increased enrollment which has broken all records for several years.

Crowds of students assembled on September 13 to commemorate the founding of the institution in 1880 by participating in the Founders' Day ceremony. Dr. Rufus B. von Klein Smid spoke on "The Founders' Trust." Many prominent alumni and former deans were present to join in the ceremony.

Among the noted professors at the University this year are Dr. Buss, former consul to Japan, from whom many of the girls in the chapter are enjoying courses in international relations; and Dr. Eriksson, whose recent book on "The New Deal" has received much comment of late.

The University has redeemed itself in the athletic world this season by winning its first game with Oregon State by a large margin and now has new encouragement for a more successful season. The Olympic games were well represented by the following members of Troy who were on the winning team for the United States: Foy Draper, Earl Meadows, Bill Sefton, Delos Thurber, and Kenneth Carpenter. The recent tennis matches also found one of the Trojans, Gene Mako, on the Davis cup team.

The chapter was much honored this past semester in having two of its members receive a straight A average; they were Patricia Dean and Willimina Montague. Several other members received above a B+ average.

The Γ chapter is exceedingly proud of its representation on campus this year by Lucy Ann MacLean, vice-president of the student body; Elizabeth Dean, secretary of Mortar Board; Mary Moore, secretary of Women's Self Government Association; and many younger members who are on committees and in various clubs.

The chapter now has a new smoking lounge which is an added attraction. Also several of the bedrooms were re-decorated during the summer.

INITIATED, June 16, 1936: Martha Ruby, Glendale, October 3, 1936: Barbara Lou Allen, Hollywood; Sidney Brough, Norma Dolan, Los Angeles; Georgiana Graber, Ontario.

As autumn sees the beginning of a new college year, it also marks the start of another successful season for members of California Δ chapter of II B Φ with the pledging of twenty-three freshmen. This is the largest group to be taken on the campus this semester.

On Monday, the day following pledging, the new pledges were formally presented to the campus at the semi-annual open house always held after rush week.

During the summer, members under the direction of the house-affairs chairman, redecorated and refurbished the chapter room, guest room, and patio. This is only a portion of the extensive redecoration program the chapter has set forth, and it is hoped that the rest may be completed soon.

Members of the chapter are taking a prominent part in campus activities. Barbara Dunn is vice-president of the senior class; Mary Sue Howard is vice-president of the Associated Women Students and a member of Guidon, an auxiliary of Scabbard and Blade; Frances Wolfe is organization manager of the yearbook Southern Campus while Tic Toc claims as its members Barbara Dunn, Dorothea Elwell, Barbara Conner, Patricia Irwin, and Patty Maguire.

California Δ is happy to welcome a new chaperon, Mrs. Grace N. Chaffee, of Santa Barbara, California.

Chapter social events have included a cooky-shine, initiation banquet and initiation dance. During the summer many informal rush parties were given at the homes of the various members and alumnae.

Pledge Day, September 13, 1936

INITIATED, August 30, 1936: Betty Inda, Eureka; Gene Wines, Reno.

Rushing was very successful this year. Due to a local Panhellenic ruling, no favors, elaborate invitations or decorations were allowed. In this way the rushee can become acquainted with the girls under a natural feeling.

During the summer the smoking room was remodeled and completely refurbished in Monterey Furniture.

Models for Nevada A at the annual Y.W.C.A. Fashion Show were Jean Rice and Patricia Meaker.

The annual University of Nevada Homecoming was held October 24. The float and house decoration carried out the idea of an old fashioned bouquet. A luncheon for the alumnae was held at the Century Club.

The University of Nevada has the largest enrollment in its history with a total of 1016 students.

An event of social importance this semester was the Sophomore Hop. Jean Rice was elected as Sophomore Class Queen at this time.

On October 10 the new House Mother, Mrs. Amy Lee Mathews, and the new pledges, were presented to the people of Reno. Other social events included the preference dinner and our pledge dance.

INITIATED, May 9, 1936: Joan Ackley, Kathleen Bowen, Norrine Brown, Frances Covington, Jane Davis, Dorothy Denton, Eunice Francke, Geraldine Gallagher, Shirley Gardiner, Virginia Gledhill, Margaret Guernsey, Judith Hampton, Mary Catharine Howell, Grace Mary Ivers, Josephine Moffat, June Mortensen, Anna De Ogilvie, Margaret Paine, Jane Ray, Martha Richardson, Dixie Scowcroft, Beverly Sims, Dorothy Stauffer, Kathryn Smith.

Scholarship lists published by the Dean showed the names of fifteen $\Pi B \Phi$ members. They were Mary Francis Hetzel, Ruth Sims, Theresa Hagen, Eunice Francke, Marjorie Judd, Dorothy Thompson, Ruth Hardy, Marion Fuller, Alice Barker, June Mortenson, Jane Ray, Mary Creer, Susan Richardson, and Margaret Boud.

Grace Mary Ivers was elected president of Trotters, selective riding organization. Mary Francis Hetzel, was chosen president of Art Guild, society for artists. Ruth Hardy was elected president of ΔM . June Mortensen, Martha Richardson, Francis Covington, and Bertha Barker were taken into Spurs.

The active chapter and alumnae joined together to celebrate the Founders' Day banquet and initiation banquet. Greek goddesses who carried the arrow were represented by girls in $\Pi B \Phi$.

Utah A is sorry to have lost several of her outstanding girls. Mary Jane Snow has transferred to Stanford University. Gwen Strandquist, Ione Thompson, and Ruth Smith have gone to the University of Washington. Margaret Strobel received a scholarship to Barnard College. Jane Ray is attending the college of William and Mary. Judy Hampton is attending the University of Idaho. Dorothy Thompson has gone to the University of California. Louise Thompson is attending the University of California at Los Angeles, and Margaret Keyser is going to Vassar.

REPLEGDED: Grace Mary Ivers, Beverly Sims, and Margaret Paine.

Again Arizona A received the scholarship cup for leading the campus in scholarship. Needless to say, the chapter is working to keep its standing.

Jane Keel and Jeanne Metcalf were chosen for Mortar Board. Virginia Narr made F.S.T., the junior women's honorary, and is also secretary of Associated Women Students.

Hope Cogswell has just been made a member of the sophomore honorary, Rattlers. Jeanne Metcalf is in charge of the faculty and administrative section of the Annual. Anne Hayden presented a loving cup to the riding department to be given each year to the high point girl in the horse show. Jane Keel won the cup this year. In tennis Patty Dalzell and her partner won the mixed doubles tournament. Lota Clapp also participated. Virginia McCoy, Janet Coleman, and Margaret Hudson are members of the A.W.S. circulating library.

Edited by LOTT A JOHNSON WEIR, Illinois Z

The Nancy Black Wallace Club at Salem, Oregon reports that it is small enough to know everyone and large enough to function.

The February issue of THE ARROW is to be devoted to alumnae interests and news.

The Los Angeles Club carries the names of nearly 800 members of Pi Beta Phi, so the time and type of meetings must be varied.

ALPHA PROVINCE

BOSTON CLUB

The annual summer meeting of the Boston Club was held July 11, at the summer home of Mrs. David Nickerson, in Quincy.

The first activity of the current season is a cooky-shine at the home of Mrs. Malcolm Green, Newton Highlands, on October 8. Mrs. R. Bruce Scott, Alpha Province Vice-President, is to be our guest. Other interesting meetings include an illustrated talk on the Indians of the Southwest, by Dr. Leland C. Wyman, in December; a dessert-bridge and fashion show in March, proceeds to go to the Settlement School; Founders' Day luncheon in April, with the active chapter as guests. Many members eagerly look forward to the initiation and banquet of Massachusetts A chapter. At that time, alumnae re-live their college days and new initiates see the Fraternity offering friendships and service, not only during college years, but all through life.

Several newcomers to Boston have already become active members of the club. Any who have not done so are asked to communicate with the secretary, 26 Whitman St., Lawrence, so that they may take advantage of what the club has to offer.

DOROTHY E. HEY

BUFFALO CLUB

The Buffalo alumnae club has been holding regular monthly meetings, generally luncheons. Our president for this year is Helen Bartol Leonard.

Ruth Minard Miller went as delegate to the Alpha Province Conference held in Toronto in April. Following this a Founders' Day celebration was held in Hamilton, Ontario, with a high tea to which were invited all Pi Phis of Ontario and western New York. This was very successful and aroused great enthusiasm. The final meeting of last season in June was a picnic at Emory Park, husbands and families being added attractions. Following convention Helen Leonard, our delegate, entertained at a dessert luncheon after which she gave a most interesting and comprehensive report.

A tentative program for the year will include luncheons at the homes of members, followed by business meetings and short talks on our altruistic project and the way our Fraternity functions. Meetings are followed by bridge.

The chairman of the Settlement School committee, Ethel Volgenan, has submitted plans for raising money this year by selling paper products and coat hangers; by continuing our regular voluntary donations of quarters at each meeting; and by a sale of Settlement School products in November. The club is very sorry to lose Erna Lewis, who is returning to Cornell University for graduate work.

STATE OF MAINE CLUB

During the winter of 1935-36 the alumni in Portland and neighboring towns were called together for the purpose of forming a State of Maine alumnae club. At the Founders' Day meeting it was decided to have a state convention in July at Belgrade Lakes. To this meeting all Pi Phis in the state were invited. There was a large attendance and much enthusiasm. The state has been divided into ten sections with a group chairman for each section. A special chairman has been chosen for isolated alumnae.

Mrs. Bruce Scott, province vice-president, has visited the Portland group. Plans have been made to help with rushing and to contribute to the Settlement School.

ELIZABETH LAUGHLIN

NORTHERN NEW JERSEY CLUB

Our regular September meeting was held at Echo Lake Country Club where we had a most delightful organ recital and tea. About fifty girls were there.

October 3, our October meeting, was held at the home of Mrs. George Craig in Upper Montclair. Mrs. R. B. Scott, our Province Vice-President, talked to us, and we had as our guest the President of the New York alumnae club.

We are making plans for our annual dance on December 5. All activities seem to be well under way and we feel we're off to a big year.

ELIZABETH L. OWEN

NEW YORK CLUB

Helen McKendrew, the club president, began the year by sending out a letter and program, which not only outlined the activities of the club for the coming year, but also was an inspiration to every New York member of Pi Beta Phi. Seven hundred notices were sent to Pi Beta Phis in New York and its suburbs.

The year promises to be one to which we all look forward with a great deal of pleasure. The club invites every Pi Beta Phi in or near New York City to participate in the activities this year. The first meeting was a luncheon, on October 3, at Beekman Tower. Mary Scott, Alpha Province vice-president, was able to arrange her biennial visit to the club for this meeting. Reports on Convention were given by Mrs. Scott, Norma Hopson Jones of the New York Club, Vibert Duncan of the Northern New Jersey Club, and Mabel Guthrie of the Westchester Club.

The second meeting will be a tea and display and sale of Settlement School handicraft at the home of Mrs. McKendrew, on Saturday, November 7. A musical program has also been arranged.

The Deb. group, composed of girls out of college three years or less, will have their first meeting and election of officers early in October. They have many new ideas for entertaining the recent graduates who have come to New York from colleges all over the country. Graduates from the Deb. group were cordially welcomed into the "Senior" Club.

New York Panhellenic is renewing its custom of awarding an annual $500 Graduate Fellowship to a member of a women's national fraternity.

Mrs. F. F. DARLING

ROCHESTER CLUB

The Rochester alumnae club held its first meeting this year on September 23 at the home of the president, Georgia Dunkel, with twenty-one members present.

Our program for the year was discussed and will include eight regular meetings.

A committee was appointed to plan to raise money for the Settlement School. A bridge tea has been decided on for October 24 at which Settlement School articles will be displayed.

The bridge group which last year proved so successful a means of earning money for the Settlement School has this year grown in numbers. With twenty members interested we are considering having two groups meet.

The number interested in the Book Club has also increased. Eighteen members will each buy a book to be exchanged each two weeks.

With these and other plans to be discussed at our second meeting on October 14 we anticipate a very pleasant year.

FLORENCE C. MARSHALL

TORONTO CLUB

The Toronto alumnae club is holding its first meeting on October 6, at the home of one of its members and each succeeding meeting, when possible, on the first Tuesday of each month. We are continuing with the same plan as last year, namely to divide the members into seven groups, the Executive Committee making the eighth. Each group, with its hostess will take full charge of that particular meeting, supplying the entertainment, speaker, etc. In arranging the meetings this way, we are hoping that each member will feel that she is taking a more active part in the organization.

The first meeting will be devoted to the Constitution and in addition will include Tats Ball, who will speak on Convention. The subsequent meetings have been planned with a view to giving a diversity of interest. At the annual birthday party celebrated with the active chapter in December, the draw will be made for the raffle, by which we are hoping to raise a substantial amount for our altruistic work. The magazine agency this year will be under the supervision of Dorothy Banwell, and it is hoped that Toronto Pi Phis will avail themselves of this opportunity of raising money for Settlement School.

We are looking forward to a very successful year and are happy to welcome our new members.

HELEN M. BARBER

BETA PROVINCE

AKRON CLUB

Our first meeting was a luncheon at Tally-ho Tavern in September when we made plans for the year. Our October meeting will be a picnic at Metropolitan Park for the wives, husbands, and sweethearts. In November we shall have a rummage sale. Last summer we helped with rushing inviting graduates of the Akron high school who were going to colleges where there are Pi Phi chapters.

MARY KAY EVANS

HARRISBURG-CARLISLE CLUB

A large card party to be held in early December and the sale of Settlement School products continuously throughout the year were the two money-making plans adopted by the Harrisburg alumnae club.

The first meeting of the fall was a dessert-luncheon held at the home of Mrs. Paul Hutchison, October 3. Mrs. Harvey Simmons was co-hostess. Twenty-four members of the club were present. Ruth Shawfield, who, as an international exchange student, spent the past year studying at the University of Lyons, Lyons, France, told the club of her experiences.

The club extends an invitation to membership to all Pi Phis who live in the vicinity of Carlisle and Harrisburg.

EMMA M. SHAWFIELD

MORGANTOWN CLUB

The September meeting of the Morgantown alumnae club was held at the Hotel Morgan. Twenty members were present for the dinner and short business meeting that followed. Suggestions were made to the chairman of the program committee as to the type of programs that are most popular.

Mary Jane Baker gave a résumé of changes in rushing rules for the current year.

The club welcomed one new member, Mrs. De Witt Clinton (Pennsylvania B) who has recently moved to Morgantown from Coatesville, Pa.

October meeting will be devoted to a report of Convention by the President of West Virginia A, Eleanor Hastings, and a review of the September ARROW by Anne Traubent.

November—This meeting will be devoted to reviews of current books.

December—Christmas music and story by outside guest.

January—A social meeting, dance with husbands and friends as honored guests.

February—An Americanization program with outside speaker and discussion by various members of the club.

March—Health program.

May—Election of officers and bridge party.

June—Senior tea.

We hope to have several members from Fairmont and Clarksburg join us again this year.

The club will have as its honored guest, in October, Beta Province Vice-President, Mrs. H. C. Johnson, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

NELLIE PHILLIPS TROTTER (Mrs. JOHN H.)

OHIO VALLEY CLUB

The Ohio Valley alumnae association opened their winter season with a luncheon-bridge at the home of Mrs. William Chance, of St. Clairsville, Ohio. She was assisted by the other St. Clairsville members, Mrs. William Hopkins, and the Misses Jean and Jeanette Nichols. Fourteen members were present.

The annual rushing party was held August 25, at Monument Place, in Wheeling. Thirty-five members were present, including eight actives, and nine rushees.

A new type of meeting is being initiated this year with more meetings being held in the homes instead of tea-rooms. Each meeting will be entirely different, with games, book reviews, and novel parties planned. There will be three meetings held outside of Wheeling this season. One in Moundsville, one in Steubenville, and one in St. Clairsville. We are looking forward to a particularly successful year.

HELEN BIEBERSON COOK

PITTSBURGH CLUB

The Pittsburgh alumnae club has started on another good year under the active leadership of its President, Mrs. William A. Heazlett.

With an increased membership the goal for the year, the first meeting—a delightful Pi Phi Brunch at the home of Mrs. Floyd Carson of Wilkinsburg—found us welcoming four new Pi Phis in this vicinity. Our Convention delegates made us all realize what an inspiration Convention had been, and we discussed in detail business enacted in Chicago. This meeting was an occasion of real festivity as well, for we made it a kitchen shower for Harriet Wilson, one of our past presidents who is about to be married, and mingling our sorrows with our joys—a farewell party for our beloved Lois Finger.

Our Pi Phis next assembled on October 15 for a cooky-shine at the home of our vice-president, Mrs. Boyd Newcomb, 643 Gettysburg Street, Pittsburgh. This was to be our evening meeting of the year, and we had a merry time laying the ghosts!

November 21 will find us entertaining our members and friends at our Arrow Craft tea at the home of Mrs. William Heazlett, 721 Hill Avenue, Wilkinsburg. Articles from the Settlement School will be on display and we are urging our friends to come and do their Christmas shopping early.

Our Christmas party on December 12 will be held at the home of Mrs. C. S. Fuller, 106 Bevington Road, Forest Hills, at which time we will pack a box of Christmas toys for the Settlement School.

"A Pi Phi at Little Pigeon" promises to be one of our most interesting programs, as one of our very active members, Mrs. James L. Garrison, will tell us of her visit to Gatlingburg this fall. This meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Hugh Jones, 156 Race St., Edgewood, Pa., on January 16.

For our February meeting on Saturday the 20th we are to be the guests of Lucille Cook at the East Liberty Y.W.C.A. This is a be a meeting full of Pi Phi surprises!

In March we are journeying far afield—to Boulder Dam—as another of our very active members, Mrs. Conrad Mvhr, will describe her six months' residence there as the wife of a consulting engineer, Mrs. W. W. Steele of 1518 Franklin Avenue, Wilkinsburg, is to be the hostess for that occasion, March 20.

Our Founders' Day luncheon is always the most elaborate party of our year, and will be held on Saturday, April 24, at one of Pittsburgh's lovely clubhouses.

And Pi Phi will meet for the final session of the year over the bridge tables at the home of Mrs. Warren Reding, 302 Overdale Road, Forest Hills, on May 22.

During the year that is past, through the untiring efforts of our magazine chairman, our commissions on magazines jumped from $5.15 to $24.25. We are very proud of that record for a club of 24 members, and as Mrs. James L. Garrison has consented to take the agency for another year, we are expecting great things. Won't all Pi Phi in this vicinity, whether members of this alumnae club or not, keep this in mind and send Mrs. Garrison your magazine subscriptions and renewals? Her phone is Churchill 9035.

It is with very genuine sorrow that we must lose our beloved Lois Finger, who is moving to the west coast. Lois has been a very active Pi Phi all the time she has been in Pittsburgh, and has been a constant source of inspiration to all of us. As Province President for the last three years she has kept us in close touch with the Pi Phi in the colleges of Beta province, and her presence will be keenly missed. How we envy the Seattle Pi Phi into whose midst she is moving!

We are delighted that one of our own members—Mrs. Floyd Carson, has been selected to succeed Lois as Province President. Lucille has long been an enthusiastic Pi Phi and very active in the alumnae association. To follow in the footsteps of Lois will not be easy, but we are convinced that Miss Onken and Grand Council could have found no one more able to do so than Lucille.

ALICE FALLER (Mrs. C. S.)

DELTA PROVINCE

ANN ARBOR CLUB

The first meeting of the Ann Arbor alumnae club was held at the Michigan League on September 26. Mrs. Warren F. Cook was elected president to take the place of Mrs. Charles Jamison who has been appointed Province Vice-President.

We are looking forward to a very enjoyable year. In October the club will entertain the pledges at a supper at the home of Mrs. Riggs. The fall rummage sale will also be held in October with Mrs. Walter V. Marshall in charge, and the proceeds will be given to the Settlement School. The annual exhibition and sale of Settlement School products will be held at the chapter house for two days in November and tea will be served.

We are very happy to welcome into our club five new members: Mrs. Robert M. Whitmer, Mrs. Edwin P. Vary, Mrs. John W. Merkel, and Margaret Hiscock, all of whom are members of Michigan B and are now living in Ann Arbor, and also Mrs. Richard Degener of Ohio B.

DOROTHY PALMER

DETROIT CLUB

To meet a growing desire on the part of members to become better acquainted the Detroit alumnae club has planned to hold monthly meetings for the entire club. These will vary in form, luncheon meetings, teas, a cooky-shine, and a husbands' party. They will vary in interest for each will have a speaker or program. Most of the meetings will be held in the homes of members. Our three groups, functioning in the north, west, and east parts of the city, will continue to meet as often as they desire. The first meeting will be a tea at the home of Mrs. B. Raymond Hoobler on October 27. During the Christmas holidays Mrs. J. L. Asselin will open her home to us and our guests, the active members of Michigan A and B whose homes are in the city.

We are fortunate in having Mrs. Gatzward as our president for another year. Mrs. Moritz Mueller will have charge of the magazine subscriptions and Mrs. Earl Bridge of the sale of Settlement School goods.

We wish to urge all Detroit Pi Phi who have not been identified with our club, or those former members whom we have not seen recently, to join us and to help us have a happy and successful year.

MARY THOMPSON BAUMANN

FORT WAYNE CLUB

A picnic in honor of actives back from school was held during the summer in Foster Park. Each member furnished some delicious dish, and we all found it very enjoyable being together for one gathering in the summer.

On September 2 a rush party was held in the spacious home of the Misses Helene and Loretta Foellinger on Old Mill Road. The house was decorated with garden flowers and the punch table was centered with a mixed bouquet and flanked with silver candelabras. Individual corsages were given the rushees.

The re-elected officers of the club were the hostesses for the first meeting held in Mrs. A. P. Hattendorf's home. Our new trays, which were donated to us by the Coca-Cola Company, and secured through the efforts of Mrs. Merle Abbott, simplified our serving, and they will be passed from one hostess group to the next for our dinner meetings each month.

At the business meeting, a report of Convention was given and plans were discussed for the year. The month of October was set for a rummage sale, which type has been most successful in the past. We also planned to repeat our Settlement School tea and decided to have it sometime early in December. Each year our sales increase, and we feel it is a fine way to help our School in Gatlinburg. We hope this year to see our sales increase again, for Settlement School articles make lovely Christmas gifts. We have already had requests for purses, etc. We believe our sales will continue to grow by keeping the display before the public each year.

PEGGY PERRINE

INDIANAPOLIS CLUB

The Indianapolis alumnae club opened the new season with a luncheon at the Indiana I chapter house, September 12, 1936.

The most important fall event will be the bridge party to be held at Block's Auditorium, October 24. Cleo Hall (Mrs. Ellis) is chairman of the bridge committee. An annual bridge tournament for the purpose of raising funds for the Settlement School has become a well established tradition of the Indianapolis club.

At intervals during the year the alumnae club will meet informally with Butler University active chapter to discuss pertinent fraternity problems. The first meeting was held at the Indiana I chapter house, September 30, at which time "Rush" was the topic for discussion.

The program was an interesting résumé of Convention. Jane Beasley, Indiana I Convention delegate, talked on what Convention meant to her. Marianne Wild (Mrs. Robert S.), assistant to the Grand Vice-President, gave a highly entertaining slant on Convention personalities. Marian Darr, president of the club, spoke on "News Flashes from Convention." Among other things she reported on Convention awards and sketched the growth of alumnae clubs, emphasizing the part that they have played in the growth of the Settlement School. Helen Lewis (Mrs. B. C.) told about the social activities of Convention.

The splendid work of the membership committee resulted in the presence of 101 Pi Phi, representing the four Indiana chapters and twelve out of state chapters. The year 1936-1937 promises to be one of the best in the club's history.

KATHERINE BOOK

LAFAYETTE CLUB

The Lafayette Club began the new year with several changes. It was decided by the local members to eliminate local dues and charge thirty-five cents for each member at our dinner meetings. It was planned to have more social times among our own members.

Our plan is not to have a Settlement School tea this year but to have a sale of the articles in a store down town. We are also to arrange a continuous display of articles in the Home Economics Department at Purdue University. We have planned a party for both active freshmen and seniors. Our aim is to improve our program this year and spend more time free from money making worries.

ELIZABETH PATTERSON

SOUTHWESTERN INDIANA CLUB

The first meeting of the Southwestern Indiana Alumnae Club this fall was a business and organization meeting. A rummage sale was held on October 3. Our program for the year includes:

October 12, Favorite Dish Dinner followed by a review of Convention.

November 9. Luncheon followed by a Settlement School Program.
 December 14. Luncheon and review of history of Pi Beta Phi.
 January 11. Christmas luncheon.
 February 8. Luncheon with program on "Pi Phis in Limelight."

March 7. Luncheon and Pi Phi Arrow Review.
 April 11. Founders' Day cooky-shine.
 May 9. Luncheon and Pi Phi Arrow Review.
 June. Picnic.
 The club is looking forward to an interesting year.
 RAGENE RALPHY WILLIAMS

EPSILON PROVINCE

COLUMBIA (MISSOURI) CLUB

The Columbia Club has had several very interesting meetings since the last letter was written to THE ARROW. Our Founders' Day banquet was postponed until May 12 in order that we might have Miss Onken with us for the occasion. Her presence at the banquet proved to be a real inspiration to Missouri A chapter as well as to each member of the alumnae club.

The May meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Hartley Banks with Mrs. David Meeker and Mrs. Gene Smith as assisting hostesses. After the business meeting we were entertained with a play reading by Miss Evelyn Wright of Stephens College. The seniors of the active chapter joined us for tea.

The June meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Berry McAlester, with Mrs. Frank Dearing as assisting hostess. The town rushees were discussed and voted upon. The new rushing rules were read and discussed.

On August 6 we entertained the rushees with a progressive dinner in the form of a world cruise. Invitations were in the form of passports and each course was served in the home of one of our members. The various homes were decorated to carry out the idea of the cruise, with place cards and favors to correspond. It was a very successful party and, apparently, the members enjoyed it as much as the rushees did.

Our October meeting was held at the home of Queen Smith, with Mildred Allton and Hughlett Whittle as assisting hostesses. After the business meeting Edna Brewer, our Convention delegate, gave a most interesting report. Frances Logan, a very talented member of the active chapter, sang several Pi Phi songs for us. The freshmen of the active chapter joined us for tea.

The club is happy to welcome Mrs. Blakely Murphy and Mrs. M. B. Tree as new members.

RUTH JONES SCURLOCK

ST. LOUIS CLUB

The club held a successful meeting in September with an unusually large attendance. New members from the local active chapter were welcomed, using a ritual which our president brought back to us from Convention. Plans for raising money for the Settlement School were discussed. We shall have a rummage sale and a theater benefit before the holidays. We are continuing supper meetings followed by programs.

RACHEL D. CAMPBELL

ZETA PROVINCE

MIAMI CLUB

The Miami Club has decided to meet the first Wednesday of every month, at 10:30 A.M. Two members entertain together. We have a business meeting, luncheon, and bridge for those who can remain.

The club entertained Panhellenic last year. We had a Founders' Day luncheon, a benefit bridge party, and one rush party recently.

We are planning two more rush parties—a tea in July, and a dinner in August.

The club is stronger now than it has been for quite awhile. New members are joining all the time.

We have sent in back dues—donations to Settlement School and Endowment Fund which is a much better showing since last year.

MRS. GEORGE B. ROMFH, JR.

ORLANDO CLUB

Our program for this year is as follows:

September 22—Mrs. Wm. N. Ellis, hostess. Plan for Year's Work.

October 13—Mrs. Burton Smith. Settlement School meeting.

November 10—Mrs. W. A. Pattishall, hostess.

December 8—Mrs. Loomis C. Leedy, hostess. Christmas party; Christmas dance, benefit of Settlement School.

January 12—Mrs. L. R. Nydegger. Constitution and Fraternity Study.

February 9—Mrs. James Armstrong.

March 9—Mrs. Earl Mann, with nearest active chapter.

April 13—Betty Babcock. Election of officers.

May—Founders' Day.

June 8—Mrs. Frank Ufer, hostess.

The opening meeting of the season at the home of our new president, Mrs. William N. Ellis, found the members of the Orlando Alumnae Club in the very best of spirits after a most successful season of summer rushing. The chairman of the club rushing committee, Mary Lanier, joined with a number of actives from other parts of Florida in entertaining nearly 20 rushees at a beach party. This party proved to be such a memorable occasion that the idea of an all-state houseparty for rushing purposes is now being promoted among the alumnae as well as the actives.

The club gave an informal out-door steak supper for the local rushees and a number of out-of-town guests as well as the Orlando Country Club just before the girls left for their various colleges. The committee worked untiringly on this party and the result was a source of great satisfaction to many! Now we are looking forward to an "At Home" for the rushees of Florida I, our nearest active chapter, and hoping that our influence and help may also be felt there.

Good fortune seems to increase as the season develops, for we now have word that Miss Onken will be our guest for the October cooky-shine. With Miss Onken to whet our already eager enthusiasm, this season bids fair to exceed all previous records.

DAMARIS WILSON

TAMPA CLUB

The Tampa alumnae club was very active in rushing this summer. A beach party, a luncheon, and a formal dinner were given honoring a group of rushees who entered college this fall. A great deal of individual rushing was also done.

The alumnae club feels they were quite successful in their rushing as nine of our freshmen pledged at Florida B.

The club plans to continue with the usual supper meetings.

We are glad to welcome Miss Mary Irene McKay of Florida B into our club.

SARAH STUART

ETA PROVINCE

DU PAGE CLUB

The 1936-37 season of the Du Page Alumnae Club will open with a meeting at the home of our president, Nestor Moore Thorwaldson, with Minnie Armstrong Johnson assisting, on October 12. Mrs. Nina Harris Allen will give a report on Convention. The program for the year will be presented to the club and it is hoped that this will be not only a very interesting year for those of our group but a beneficial one for Pi Phi projects as well.

The November meeting will be devoted to the Settlement School, possibly by a tea and sale of Arrow Craft articles. The December meeting will be a Christmas party, all members bringing gifts for a box to be sent to the children at the Settlement School, and a "white elephant" sale will be held for the Endowment Fund. At our January meeting we plan to have a review of the History number of THE ARROW. February will be purely a social meeting. For the March meeting a study of other fraternities and their projects is being planned. April is to be devoted to Founders' Day.

Our club has a new local graduate this year, Eileen McNellis, of Wisconsin B. We are planning to make a special effort to enlarge our membership. Clara Gloss Bates is in charge of a membership drive and we hope to see some fine results.

We enjoyed having our Province President, Mrs. Hazel Murkland, as our guest in May at a luncheon and meeting later at the home of Clara Bates. Mrs. Murkland inspired all of us, and with her visit and the conference held by Eta Province, which many of us were able to attend, we have become most enthusiastic.

MINNIE JOHNSON

CHAMPAIGN-URBANA CLUB

Our fall season opens October 18 with a dinner meeting, the program being built around reports from Convention. Also a report will be given by the delegate from the active chapter of Illinois Z. At the November meeting the pledges are to be entertained by the club, thus beginning a friendship which we hope will continue. Our club meets the third Monday evening of each month from October to June and is always glad to welcome visiting Pi Phis. The plan of dinner meetings is to be continued, thus adding substantially to the Settlement School fund.

MABEL K. HOBART

CARTHAGE CLUB

The Carthage Club meets every two months at the homes of the members. This year the hostess, instead of serving refreshments, will give seventy-five cents into the treasury.

We greatly enjoyed the annual cooky-shine at Arrow Point at Hamilton, Illinois, on August 22. About fifty were present, including Miss Onken. At our September meeting we had a report of Convention from our delegate, Miriam Williams, and from Alice Rock Smith.

MIRIAM WILLIAMS

CHICAGO WEST SUBURBAN CLUB

The September meeting of the Chicago West Suburban Club was a luncheon at the home of Mrs. J. R. McDonald in Berwyn. Miss Viola Beebe gave us a very interesting résumé of her summer's tour of Europe. Mrs. E. P. Gale, delegate to Convention, read her report. Twenty of our members attended Convention and enjoyed meeting old friends and making new ones.

During the summer the club recommended eight girls to chapters in various schools, several of whom have pledged. We are looking forward to a very successful year under the able leadership of our new president, Mrs. L. S. McWilliams. The program consists of an art tea, an afternoon of poetry, a walking rehearsal, historical pageant, besides the usual children's Christmas party and the picnic. We have also planned for our Settlement School sale in November. Our active membership is 35.

ADELINE STEWART SCHROEDER

GALESBURG CLUB

The past year for the Galesburg Alumnae Club was a most successful one with good attendance and programs throughout the year.

The year's program closed with a breakfast at the Country Club honoring the seniors of the active chapter. A delegate was sent to Convention and many members were able to attend at least some part of it. In August a picnic was held at the home of the president Mrs. Fayette Bjorkman of Knoxville and reports from the Convention were given.

Our first event this fall was a rushing party for which the active chapter furnished the entertainment. We are very happy to welcome as one of our number, Mrs. Carter Davidson, whose husband is the new president of Knox College. We are giving a tea in her honor October 7.

DULUTH CLUB

We opened the 1936-37 season with a most enthusiastic luncheon meeting at the home of Ruth Russell, having an attendance of 22. Margie Dunn was the assisting hostess. Our new president, Gladys Bowman, presided at the meeting following luncheon, and the following program for the year was submitted:

September: Nearest Chapter. Mrs. Clinton Russell and Mrs. Roderick Dunn, Hostesses.

October: Dinner Meeting for Mrs. Knapp, Province Vice-President. Program—Pi Phi Songs. Mrs. F. P. Hough-

Plans are under way for a very busy, and we hope, successful year.

FANNY HERLOCKER

MILWAUKEE CLUB

The Milwaukee Alumnae Club opened its year with an increase in active membership. The first meeting, which was in September, was held at the new home of Mrs. C. Ray Cook, the club president. Plans were discussed for the annual rummage sale to be held on October 1 and 2, to raise money for the Settlement School. Later in October, a guest tea will be given at which Settlement School articles will be displayed and sold.

This year the club has decided to adopt the plan of having all business matters discussed and taken care of at meetings of the Executive Committee which will be composed of the officers and chairmen of committees.

MRS. G. KENNETH CROWELL

ROCKFORD CLUB

The Rockford Club opened its season with a supper and meeting at the home of Miss Edith Whiting. A report on Convention was given by Mrs. Robert Shumway, our delegate.

The program for the year is to include a report on magazines under the direction of the magazine committee, a Settlement School program, a Christmas luncheon, a cooky-shine, a study of the constitution and nearest active chapter, a review of current novels, a bridge, a Founders' Day luncheon and our annual June picnic. Meetings are held on the second Tuesday of each month at the homes of members.

HELEN FOX

NORTH SHORE CLUB

North Shore's summer party was a dessert bridge in August at the home of Mrs. H. M. Harper. In September the club sponsored an exhibit of new patterns by the Towle Silver Company, thereby netting the treasury $75. Our first fall meeting was a tea at the home of Mrs. B. R. Hall at which Mrs. Hope Graham told of her summer travels in England and the Scandinavian countries. In October we had a rummage sale at which we cleared $225. A committee is now working on a plan for selling advertising for the fronts and backs of playing cards. This plan has great possibilities and should be profitable for any club undertaking it.

Acquaintance bridge parties will be held the first Friday of each month to enable the old members to know better the newcomers.

HELEN BOGUE DICUS

PEORIA CLUB

The Peoria Club opened its fall activities with a luncheon meeting at the University Club on September 21. Plans were made to continue regular monthly meetings during the year. At most of the meetings luncheon will be served at the homes of various members. Programs are being planned which we hope will prove inviting. An extensive membership drive is already well under way. We all look forward to an active year in Pi Beta Phi.

JEANETTE BROWN MCCUSKEY

SPRINGFIELD (ILLINOIS) CLUB

A tea at the home of Julie MacPherson made a pleasant beginning for the year's program. We were happy to have Miss Onken with us on that occasion. She gave us an interesting report on Convention. During the business meeting officers were elected and plans made for raising funds for the Settlement School. Eighteen cook books were ordered for the club. We were to welcome several new members.

meeting following luncheon, and the following program for the year was submitted:

September: Nearest Chapter. Mrs. Clinton Russell and Mrs. Roderick Dunn, Hostesses.

ton and Mrs. James Leonard, Hostesses.

November: Mrs. Jim Dan Hill and Helen Thompson, Hostesses. Book Review—"Gone with the Wind." Mrs. Houghton.

December: Settlement School Meeting and Sale. Mrs. Elmer McDevitt and Ruby Burtness Olmstead, Hostesses.

January: Mrs. Lawrence Bowman and Mrs. Lloyd Gilmet, Hostesses. Reading—Mrs. Roderick Dunn.

February: Evening Bridge—Husbands and friends, Mrs. Elmer Blu, Hostess.

March: Examination Questions and Constitution Meeting. Elizabeth Huey and Evelyn Deighton, Hostesses.

April: Mrs. R. R. Reed and Mrs. A. L. Turnquist, Hostesses. Piano Numbers—Evelyn Deighton. Founders' Day Luncheon.

June: Spring Picnic—Mrs. J. F. Parker and Mrs. Walter Clark, Hostesses.

We are very glad to welcome to our membership Leonore Andrist Johnson (Mrs. James T.), Minnesota A, who has been moved to Duluth from Minneapolis.

The highlight of the meeting was the presence of Mrs. Philip Murkland, Vice-President of Eta Province, who spoke to us in a very inspiring way. We shall be looking forward to Mrs. Murkland's visit next summer.

RUBY BURTNESSE OLMSTEAD

MT. PLEASANT CLUB

The Mt. Pleasant Alumnae Club held its annual breakfast at the Harlan Hotel June 1. There were between 75 and 80 present.

BOULDER CLUB

The Boulder Club closed a successful year in May with a buffet supper honoring the seniors. The new year began in September with a dinner at a nearby mountain resort. Plans were made for the year, the meetings to be in the form of, suppers for which each member pays fifty cents. The "gypsy basket" is still going the rounds to the delight of the members who receive it and the good of our treasury. We find this an excellent way to make money for the Settlement School.

The scholarship award was presented to Dorothy Knowles. During the summer a recreation room was added to the chapter house, the dining room was done over, and a new piano and oriental rugs added to the living room. There is also a new sleeping porch.

LOU H. McALLISTER

LINCOLN CLUB

The Lincoln Club has been busy all through the summer helping the actives with rushing. Twenty-five dollars was given to the rushing committee to help with summer rushing. We also furnished and served the picnic supper at the home of Mrs. Charles Stuart and helped with the dinner dance given at the university club. During rush week different alumnae committees were appointed for every party and they very capably took charge of all the

This year the club is going to try and have all their meetings in the evening so more of the younger girls may attend.

For our October meeting the alumnae entertains the actives, patronesses, and pledges.

We are having a Christmas Tea, also two buffet suppers and the proceeds will go to the Settlement School Fund. We also have on hand articles from the School the year around.

Several of the alumnae went to Arrow Point where Mrs. Parks and her daughter entertained all Pi Phis from Illinois, Missouri, and Iowa. Again we were privileged to hear from Miss Onken who gave us a very interesting talk on Convention.

As the summer was so warm we did not have our annual summer picnic.

Mrs. Margaret Torrence Schoonover spoke at the home of Mrs. Whiting on "The Trip Around the World" where many alumnae were present. She also spoke to the P.E.O. chapter on Japan.

JOSEPHINE ROGERS CARPER

ST. PAUL CLUB

The year's work opened with a dinner meeting at the home of Sylvia Gray Martin, the principal topic being rushing. We also made plans for the year's programs and we look forward to a successful year under our president, Irma Smith Lampert.

NELLIE C. ACYD

decorations and food as well as taking active part in rushing.

The Lincoln Club also helped with the improvements in the chapter house. Our house mother's living room was almost entirely redecorated with money donated from our treasury.

The first regular meeting, a buffet supper at the home of Mrs. George Burgert, was very well attended by Lincoln Pi Phis, and we were happy to have several out-of-town guests. Mrs. Howard Kirkpatrick gave a very interesting report of the National Convention and plans for the coming year were enthusiastically discussed.

MARIAN BECKER IRELAND

OMAHA CLUB

This summer the club assisted the active chapter in rushing by giving a tea at the home of Mrs. Payson Adams and a luncheon at the Blackstone Hotel. Other parties were given by different members of the club.

Several plans to raise money for the Settlement School have been discussed. Miss Beatrice Edmonds, California A, who gives interpretive play reviewing, will give us a program in February.

The club expects an increased membership this year. The program committee is working on plans and we look forward to an interesting and successful year.

KATHRYN RUEGGE RHODES

KAPPA PROVINCE

EL PASO CLUB

Our last meeting in September was taken up with the preparation of recommendations we wished to send to the active chapters on El Paso girls going off to school this fall. We were quite pleased with the results and are happy to announce that Helen Harris, Ann Harris, and Louise Jameson are new El Paso pledges at the University of Texas. Helen and Ann are the young daughters of our president, Mrs. Arthur Harris.

As several of our members are still out of town we have put off making definite plans for the year until our October meeting. Frances Rosser Brown has written us that she was greatly inspired with ideas while at convention this summer, so we are looking forward to hearing from her on her return.

ETHEL M. SCHWARTZ

FORT SMITH CLUB

Our meetings are held the first Monday night of the month in the homes of the members. The business session or program is followed by an evening of bridge.

Our past year was one of the most successful under the leadership of Thelma Alexander.

Contributions: Settlement School, $25.00; Endowment Fund, $5.00; Student Loan Fund, $5.00.

Founders' Day banquet was given at the Woman's Club with twenty-two Pi Phis present.

Our club is looking forward to a splendid year with our ever-increasing membership and under the direction of our new president, Betty Speer.

Regular meetings were not held during the summer. In June a garden party for the rushees was given at the home of Gordon Kelley.

Unfortunately the club lost four members who have moved out of the city.

Two members of the club attended the State Convention at Little Rock in June. Betty Tolson of Fort Smith was elected president of the Convention.

The club extends a cordial invitation to the Pi Phis of the nearby towns to extend the meetings.

RUTH MORTON

OKLAHOMA CITY CLUB

If attendance at the first fall meeting is any indication, our club will have a very successful year. Many who had been inactive "came back into the fold" and several new members have joined. In October we held our first financial project, a silver tea for the benefit of the Settlement School. In addition we shall sponsor a book review, a style show and a bridge to fulfill our financial obligations.

LOUISE INGLE

STILLWATER CLUB

Oklahoma B is proud to have Mrs. C. M. Noble back this year as chaperon to the active chapter. She is a past Grand President and was the honor guest at the convention held in Yellowstone Park. She attended the convention in Chicago last summer and was introduced.

Rush Week proved successful for us. We pledged twenty girls; Kappa Alpha Theta being next with eighteen pledges. To date we have the Freshman Queen, Band Queen, member of the girls quartet, and Secretary to the freshman class to our credit.

Mary Tree Watson spent the summer at Lee, Massachusetts, studying and dancing with Ted Shawn.

Emily Davis, Associate Professor in the School of Home

Economics, spent last year at the Ohio State University getting her Ph.D. She spent the summer in Europe and is now back and active in the club.

Anybody knowing of desirable girls coming here to school next year please write in early with their recommendations. It would be a great help and avoid a lot of last minute confusion.

CYNTHALICE D. BERRY

TULSA CLUB

Their May meeting of the Tulsa club was held at the home of Mrs. Wayne Parkhurst. This was a business meeting at which reports were read and officers elected for the coming year. In June the alumnae entertained at a garden tea for the active chapter and the rushees. During the summer rushing activities have been carried on by a secret committee of alumnae and the club has also aided the active chapter with rushing. Officers were hostesses at the cooky-shine in September to which the club was invited.

ESTHER K. HOWARD

LAMBDA PROVINCE

BOISE CLUB

The program committee has met with the new president, Doris Fisher Coffin, and has outlined a delightful series of evening meetings to be held the first Monday of each month at eight o'clock. Each meeting is in charge of a different committee and is to be held at the homes of the chairmen of these committees. Late in the summer a committee from the club met with the local active girls and planned the formal rushing dinner held at the Owyhee Hotel in September. There are several new Pi Phis in Boise and we look forward to having them become members of our club.

MARGARET TEED

FANNIE WHITENACK LIBBEY CLUB

Fannie Whitenack Libbey Club opened its fall activities with a rushing party. In conjunction with the Washington Beta chapter, the local alumnae club gave a theater party for girls going away to school. The host of the evening was spent in getting acquainted at the home of an active, Miss Mary Nelson, where refreshments were served and sorority and fraternity songs were sung by the members.

The first dinner-meeting was held October 1 in the home of Mrs. Charles R. Chastain; Mrs. Betty Jackson and Miss Julia Shadbolt assisted. Miss Peggy Brown, Washington A, a new comer in our city, and Miss Katherine Steward, a recent graduate from Washington B, were received as new members. Mrs. Ben Perham, Jr., who has been away for some time, was welcomed back into the club.

During the business session, Miss Katherine Steward was appointed chairman of the Rushing Recommendation Committee; Mrs. Charles R. Chastain, Hostess Chairman and Mrs. George Rankin, chairman of the Settlement School sale. It was reported that an order had been sent in for Settlement School articles and plans are being made for a tea at the local Y.W.C.A. where the handicraft articles will be on display for sale and reorder; various local women and other fraternity women will be invited to the tea.

Money making projects which are under consideration for the balance of the year are a dessert auction sale and a coverlet on which chances will be sold. Meetings are scheduled through May.

It was decided to change the meeting night from the third Thursday to the third Wednesday. The next meeting is to be held October 21 at the home of Mrs. Erling Hessiesen assisted by Mrs. Russell Smyth and Mrs. Ben Perham, Jr. A White Elephant sale is being planned for the frivolous part of the evening's program.

RUTH ALEXANDER

CORVALLIS CLUB

The Corvallis Alumnae Club held its first meeting after the summer vacation September 25 at home of Marion Oliver, at which time plans for the coming year were discussed, and our schedule for meetings was arranged.

Our first project this year for the purpose of raising funds will be a rummage sale to be held the second week in October.

The club was happy to welcome Eleanor Inness of Illinois B-Δ into the group. Eleanor came to Corvallis this fall to accept a position as a member of the staff of the Oregon State College Library.

Unfortunately two of our members will not be with us this year. Alice Ingalls has departed for Honolulu to hold the position of instructor in journalism and English at the Honolulu Central Junior High School. Carrie Boultinghouse is now residing in Los Angeles, California.

At our last meeting in the spring the Club entertained the new chapter initiates with an informal garden supper at the home of Marion Oliver. This event proved to be very successful in that the club members and the new members of Oregon B became much better acquainted.

MARY WOODCOCK

NANCY BLACK WALLACE CLUB

The club in Salem feels elated over plans made at the September meeting.

On the second Thursday of each month at 7:30 P.M., dinner dessert meetings will be held at the homes of various members. Visiting Pi Phis are surely welcomed. After business meeting the time is to be spent sewing for the local hospital. Bridge also is a diversion for those who wish it.

Our autumn rummage sale will bring in funds for our national projects. We shall keep part of such proceeds for our local activities. Our members derived a great pleasure this past year in remembering our sick Pi Phi with flowers and our new babes with gifts, Pi Phi spoons. Such courtesies make our members enjoy the bonds of wine and blue more than ever. Also we always give one rush party during the late summer. This year a dinner was most successful. Oregon A and Oregon B greatly appreciate this effort on our part.

Pi Beta Phi seems to be the only Panhellenic group to have a chartered alumnae club in Salem. Since they are many fraternity groups represented here, we are justly proud of this fact. We are looking forward to visits from our national officers.

VERNA WEAVER MAY

SEATTLE CLUB

A business executive council meeting was held in September at the home of Mrs. Dallas Donnan. The first meeting of the year for the club as a whole was a dinner meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles Stuart. Eighty alumnae were present to hear Mrs. Howard Fletcher give an interesting report of Convention. We look forward to a happy and enthusiastic year.

MRS. DALLAS DONNAN

WENATCHEE CLUB

The Wenatchee Club held its first meeting of the year in September at the home of Mrs. Jimmy Garrett, our president, with Mrs. Harry Penton assisting. We were delighted to have as guests several active members from Washington A and B. Plans for the coming year were discussed.

Florence Parr, a member of our group, has opened a music studio in our city.

Our group is small but enthusiastic. We look forward to our meetings which are held the first Monday of each month.

FRANCES PICKENS

MU PROVINCE

BERKELEY CLUB

The club calendar opened later than usual this year due to prolonged vacations of a great many of our alumnae members. The scheduled Fall Luncheon was held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Carlson, on Tuesday, October 20.

A number of fashion teas have been held, sponsored by the various fraternities, and have been well attended by our Pi Phi members. The Panhellenic Tea was held at the Mark Hopkins Hotel in San Francisco, on Tuesday, September 22. The various San Francisco shops showed clothes, which were modeled by the active college girls. Jean Hagan and Nancy Lou Glass were the Pi Phi models participating. Other fashion teas have been given by Kappa Kappa Gamma and Kappa Alpha Theta.

Plans are being made for a cooky-shine, and then the annual Settlement School card party, held at the chapter house in Berkeley, sometime in November.

STEPHANIE SUE GLAISTER

GLENDALE CLUB

Glendale Alumnae Club opened the fall season in September with a thrilling report of the Convention, by Jeanette Ruby, Convention delegate.

An interesting program for the ensuing year has been planned under the leadership of the president, Elizabeth Randall. In October, members of the club will take food for a joint cooky-shine with the girls of California Δ, at their chapter house in Westwood Village. In March, the same plans will be carried out at the chapter house of California Γ. At each of these meetings, the recognition pin, given by the Glendale Club and won by the most outstanding girl of the previous pledge class, will be presented to her. In November there will be a musical Settlement School tea, at which Alice Prindle Teegarden of KFWB "Slumber-Time" fame, will be presented. Various other programs will be featured by members of the club during the year.

At this season of the year, Glendale alumnae wish all other active chapters and alumnae clubs a happy and successful year in Pi Beta Phi.

LOUISE SPAULDING MALIN

FRESNO CLUB

This year we are having program cards sent to each of our old members and to several Pi Phis who are new in this part of California. We are hoping to increase our membership in proportion to our growing interest and enthusiasm.

This year we have planned to make napkins for the Pi Phi house at Stanford—the work to be done at one of our meetings. Our Settlement School benefit tea in December will be held in the University St. Playhouse, situated on the campus of Fresno State College. We expect to draw a large group of interested guests since the Arrowcraft articles are becoming more widely known to the general public of Central California.

Our Founders' Day celebration last spring at Mrs. Picher's home in Orange Cove proved so popular that we are going to picnic again next April in the back yard of one of the members.

ALICE M. REGAN

HONOLULU CLUB

The Honolulu Alumnae Club started the year with a bang. The July meeting was at the Kahala beach home of Geraldine Ridings Denison, Pennsylvania A. Members and guests were asked to bring bathing suits or knitting. Twenty-two came, and I wish I could tell you how gorgeous it was with colorful chairs right on the beach, sheltered from the sun by a spreading hau tree, Koko Head (an extinct volcano) in the distance to the left, Black Point on the right, and the whole blue Pacific in front. Tea was served on a brick terrace beneath another spreading hau. Guests included: Mildred Brown, Oregon B; Ruth Bailey Burrell, Colorado B; Lucinda Griffith, Kansas A; Susanne Lovelace, Colorado A. It is a joy to know these visiting Pi Phis. In addition to the out of town visitors there were several who had recently come to Honolulu to live: Jeanette Foster Alexander, Colorado B; Margaret Beede, Nebraska B; Marjorie Mullenback Clark, California Δ; Alice Kiewit, Nebraska B; and Charlotte Gibner Train, California A.

In August Fayne Burdon Bowers, Oregon B, and Genevieve Tillery Williamson, Oregon B, were luncheon hostesses at the Uluniu Swimming Club, Waikiki. More than twenty were present. A swim was enjoyed before lunch, and a lazy afternoon was spent visiting and knitting on the broad open lanai. The beach was gay with bright umbrellas and bathing suits of startling Samoan prints.

The September meeting is to be an Aloha luncheon for new members and for Madeline Bradley Wilson, Oklahoma B, who leaves in October to make her home in Manila, much to our regret as Madeline has been one of our most interested and interesting members. For these guests of honor we shall have flowers leis, which like "Aloha" signify either welcome or farewell.

The October meeting will be a travel tea, as two of our members spent the summer in the Orient. Bernadine Downie, Iowa B, has the unusual opportunity of getting off the beaten path and visiting the interior of China, where her brother is located. Muriel James Bergstrom, Michigan B, California A, had the good fortune to meet on her travels five Pi Phis whom she had known before at Stanford and Long Beach.

The November meeting will be devoted to local welfare, the December to a Christmas party, and the January to a study of the constitution. In February, husbands will be entertained, and in March, we expect to hear all about our Settlement School from Alice Kiewit, one of our new members, who has taught at Little Pigeon. Founders' Day we expect to celebrate with a cooky-shine, and in May we shall have election of officers for the coming year.

We are delighted with the sudden influx of new and younger girls and roughly estimate that there must be about forty-five Pi Phis now in the Islands. We hope that every Pi Phi coming to Honolulu will get in touch with the alumnae club.

MARY STUART WHITE

LONG BEACH CLUB

Three delightful meetings were held during the summer. In June an informal beach picnic party at Abalone Cove, Pales Verdes, in July a bridge luncheon in Laguna Beach at the Cafe Las Ondas which is owned and operated by a sister Pi Phi Constance Day Tawney of Minnesota A, and our August meet was a steak bake at one of our own Long Beach beaches where husbands and escorts were entertained in the evening.

The fall season was opened September 22 with a breakfast honoring Army and Navy Pi Phis in our midst at Lakewood Country Club. The hostesses of this delightful affair were our president, Mrs. Abraham, Mrs. Ralph Murry and Mrs. Hoxie Griswald.

An interesting program for the year was given out by our president.

All newcomers to Long Beach and nearby towns are urged to communicate with Frances M. Hayes, 120 Lindero, Long Beach, phone 87941, so that they may be included in the alumnae club activities.

FRANCES M. HAYES

LOS ANGELES CLUB

The Los Angeles Alumnae Club, under the leadership of Alice Livingstone, Minnesota A, will meet October 9, for dinner at the home of Fredericka Montague. At this time graduates of the two local chapters will be initiated into the Los Angeles Alumnae Club. Active alumnae Convention delegates will report.

The benefit bridge party for the Settlement School will be a late winter affair, as will the evening party honoring husbands and escorts. The Founders' Day banquet is always a big and inspiring event in Southern California. Hundreds of Pi Phi from all parts of the country attend and many old friends are found when the chapter roll is read.

The book groups and bridge groups are so popular that they are continued as a regular part of the year's program. The Los Angeles club carries the names of nearly 800 Pi Phis in its files, so that necessarily the time and type of meeting must be varied. The two local chapters in Los Angeles, California Γ and California Δ, as always, loom largely in our plans. The Christmas dinner party will honor their seniors.

As sponsors of the Pi Beta Phi Cook Book, national in its scope, this club feels the responsibility connected with its distribution. And so, much effort has gone into the plans to acquaint all clubs with its contents.

Ruth Barrett Smith, who has recently moved to Washington, is missed very much. Her cordial personality and wise council has meant much to us.

VERA BONSALE OLDS

NEVADA CLUB

The first meeting of the club, at the home of Dorothy Higgins Bell, held shortly after the opening of the University in August, was the usual happy reunion, filled with vacation reminiscences and plans for the coming year. Formal reports on Convention were deferred until the September meeting. We were proud of our representation in Chicago—seven Nevadans, including Jessie McClure of the active chapter; Ethel Lunsford Frost, vice-president of Mu Province; Katharine Reigelhuth, the alumnae club delegate, and her alternate, Dean Margaret Mack; Miriam Butler and Katherine Clark; and Mary Louise Durkee, who represented the Little Pigeon Alumnae Club, but who is an alumna of Nevada A, now teaching at the Settlement School.

Following a successful rushing season, the alumnae gave the preferential dinner at the chapter house, turning over the profits to the house fund. Another autumn benefit project planned is a card party on October 17, at which one of the handsome Settlement School bedspreads will be awarded to the winner of the raffle. There will also be a cooked food sale in November.

Several of our members found interesting occupations during the summer. Carrie Traner was a delegate to the national Y.W.C.A. convention in Colorado Springs. Mary Vaughn is with the Whelan Photographic Studios in San Francisco. Henrietta McElroy was selected as an apprentice to Clem Throckmorton, New York City scene designer and play producer. The appointment grew out of her successful work with the Reno Little Theater.

Those of us fortunate enough to be in Reno in the late summer enjoyed seeing Helen Cahill Jones, now of St. Louis and Phoebe King Higgins, of Hot Springs, Arkansas. In September, we had a brief visit from Jane O'Sullivan Coffin, who, with her husband, Harold Coffin, is touring the United States in the interest of the Hawaii Tourist Bureau. Under the name of Jane Coffin, verse has appeared in many magazines. San Francisco newspapers spoke of her on her arrival as the "Poetess of the Palms."

We are happy to welcome two new members: Ruth Robbins Coleman, Arkansas A, whose husband has recently joined the University Department of Physical Education as a member of the coaching staff; and Virginia Harger, Washington B, who comes to the campus as assistant to the dean of women, Margaret E. Mack.

As in previous years, our meetings are on the third Tuesday evening of each month.

RUTH MILLER FERRIS

PASADENA CLUB

Sincerely determined to make the 1936-37 season the best ever from the standpoint of attendance, activities and building of a greater Pi Phi spirit, the Pasadena Club held its first meeting on October 3. In order to promote acquaintance, girls from the same chapters and states act at the same meetings as hostesses. In this way we believe that those belonging to the same chapter, although separated by many years, will renew old memories and make new friends.

Our meetings dates are alternated monthly between Saturday and Thursday evenings. All Pi Phis living in this community, whether members of the club or not, are contacted by letter and are invited to join us.

ALICE B. CHAINLEY

SAN FRANCISCO CLUB

Our first alumnae club meeting of the fall season was a cooky-shine held at the home of Mrs. Irving Rhine (Carol McBoyle). During the evening questionnaire forms were distributed to be filled in by the members, regarding types of programs for the meetings and suggestions for cooperation and club betterment during that year, in order to gain a more comprehensive picture of the interests of the members of the club. One of the suggestions mentioned in the questionnaire was the organization of bridge or study groups by various members. One bridge group has already been organized and meets monthly, the money collected to be added to the Settlement School Fund.

A report was given of the Panhellenic Tea held on September 22. Two California Betas, Jean Hagen and Nancy Lou Glass, took part in the fashion show. Over one thousand tickets were sold and the San Francisco Alumnae Club sold more than its quota.

After the business meeting a "White Elephant Sale" was held, the proceeds to be added to the Settlement School Fund.

On October 27, the San Francisco Club will meet at the home of Miss Helen Hayes for a dessert and coffee evening.

There will be an outside speaker on the program. We are also looking forward to a Christmas Tea in December at which there will be a display of Settlement School articles, and a talk on "Holiday Flower Arrangement."

VIRGINIA CANFIELD

SAN JOSE CLUB

The San Jose Alumnae Club opened the fall season with a meeting at the home of our new president, Grace Aldrich, September 22.

Our meetings will be held once a month, on the second Tuesday.

We were very happy to welcome as a new member, Dorothy Langfield, California B.

We regret losing three of our members this year. Frances Grant has moved to San Mateo, California, Lola Davis has moved to Fresno, California, and Norine Hanna is teaching in Wells, Nevada.

In December we will hold our annual bridge tea and sale of Settlement School products at the St. Claire Hotel.

The Settlement School meeting will be held in January at the home of Grace Aldrich. Mildred Brown will give the report on the School.

In February we will have the Constitution meeting at the home of Margaret Jewell. Marion Stevens will give the report.

Dr. Dorothea and Dr. Helen Lee will entertain the club in April with a Founders' Day program.

We are looking forward with a great deal of pleasure to a visit from our Province President, Ethel Frost.

ETHEL HART

SANTA MONICA CLUB

The Santa Monica Club plans to hold monthly meetings this year usually in the evening and at the homes of members. Our programs will consist of book reviews, musicales, travelogs, lectures and bridge. We look forward with special interest to the breakfast party to be given in April honoring all grand officers in Southern California.

Our most altruistic activities will consist of the making of articles for the Needlework Guild of America, the selling of articles from the Settlement School, and soliciting of magazines subscriptions to aid the School.

FRANCES CONKLIN RAILLEY

TUCSON CLUB

A program of meetings for the coming year has been made out by the president, Edith Parker Kerr. The October meeting will be given to business. The Arizona A chapter delegates will give a report on Convention and the chapter rush captain will tell about rushing and pledging.

The November meeting will be a Settlement School benefit bridge party. Arrowcraft articles will be sold and the proceeds will go to the School.

In December there will be the annual Christmas party for the chapter at which time a gift will be presented to the house.

In January there will be a business meeting and a study of the constitution followed by bridge. In February there will be a cooky-shine and in March another business and social meeting. The officers for the ensuing year will be elected at this time.

April will bring the Founders' Day banquet and the installation of officers.

RUTH BENZIE BUSHNELL

UTAH CLUB

Utah Alumnae Club held the first luncheon meeting of the season on Saturday, October 2, at the chapter house. Plans for the four major meetings were discussed and suggestions offered for the remaining meetings in the form of book reviews, musicales and bridge instruction.

The elimination of a cateress was given a trial and luncheon was prepared and served by members and the profit placed in the treasury.

Letters have been sent to out of town members and local members have all been contacted by telephone urging them to become active and pay their dues.

One of our two representatives to City Panhellenic will serve as president of that organization this year.

We were happy to have another of Mrs. Frost's enthusiastic and inspiring letters read in meeting and to know that she will again serve as our Mu Province Vice-President.
