A deep felt thanks

New York Alpha of Pi Beta Phi would like to thank everyone for the support and concern during the loss of our three sisters who died in the bombing of Pan Am Flight #103 last December.

Through your generosity, a memorial is being established by the chapter and the Syracuse Alumnae Club in remembrance of Karen Hunt, Julianne Kelly and Alexis Tsairis.

We cannot emphasize enough our gratitude for your kindness and thoughtfulness in our time of sorrow.

A special honor

At the Pi Beta Phi Convention in San Diego, my chapter was honored to receive the Helen Anderson Lewis Award for Outstanding Community Service. It was a wonderful honor for our chapter! It was especially wonderful because of the lady, Helen Lewis. Mrs. Lewis was Province President of our province many years ago when she still lived in Detroit. While she was Province President, Michigan Alpha renamed their Outstanding Sophomore Award, given annually at Spring Formal, the Helen A. Lewis Award in honor of her. The really neat part of all of this is that I was honored with the award my sophomore year, as was my alternate delegate to Convention, Juliane Malia, just this spring. So, you can see how special this award is to our chapter, and especially to Juliane and me. We had our picture taken with her the night of the Arrowmont dinner. (See page 7)

This was really a special thing to us and proof of the true bonds of sisterhood found in Pi Beta Phi.

Bethany Munoz, Chapter President
Michigan Alpha, Hillsdale College

In appreciation

Thank you to all the wonderful Pi Phis in chapters, alumnae advisory committees and alumnae clubs with whom I have had the privilege of working during my term on Grand Council.

Allowing me to serve you in friendship and love has been a tremendous experience in my life. I hope that, because of our exchange, there is a little more of the true meaning of Pi Beta Phi in each of us.

In spite of this mutual exchange and growth, it was determined that my service to the Fraternity in a national leadership role, was no longer expected. This I deeply regret, but I am truly thankful for my time and service with the many Pi Phi sisters who have added so much to my life.

Carnation Outreach

The North San Diego County (Calif.) Alumnae Club is in the heart of a wonderful retirement area. Many people move here from all over the country, leaving family and friends behind. The thought occurred to us that some of these newcomers moved away from their Pi Phi daughters and those daughters might like to have us adopt their mothers, somewhat on the order of the collegiate Alum-Mum program.

We would love to hear from any Pi Phi who has a mother living in our area. Send us your mother's name, address and phone number and we will assign one of our members to be a surrogate daughter. We will visit, make periodic phone calls to your mother, send birthday cards, answer questions or whatever we can do to be helpful.

Some of us have mothers living in other locations and they would like to have your club adopt their mothers too. Would other alumnae clubs be interested in establishing a network throughout the alumnae clubs so that wherever your mother lives there would be a Pi Phi to look in on her?

Our club covers the area of Escondido, Rancho Bernardo, Poway, San Marcos, Fallbrook and many other small towns. If we can help, send the information to me, Min Brown Wells (Mrs. R. M.), 17555 Adena Lane, San Diego, CA 92128.

New national officers are installed in June

Two new members took their places on Pi Phi's Grand Council during installation ceremonies June 22 at the San Diego Convention.

Sara Shipley Bowers, better known as Sally, is a North Carolina Alpha and the new Grand Vice President of Alumnae. A resident of Fort Smith, Ark., Sally is former Director of Chapter House Corporations.

Beth van Maanen Beatty takes over duties of Grand Secretary, after serving as Director of Academic Standards for the past biennium. Beth hails from Nassau Bay, Tex., and is a Texas Gamma.

Re-elected to their offices were the remaining five officers on Council. Carolyn Helman Lichtenberg, Ohio Alpha, is serving her third term as Grand President, and calls McLean, Va., her home. The second Carolyn on Council is Carolyn Pavletich Lesh, from Richardson, Tex. Called Carolyn Ann to avoid confusion, she is a Texas Delta and in her second term as Grand Vice President of Membership. Adrienne Hiscox Mitchell lives in Hillsborough, Calif. In her third term as Grand Vice President of Philanthropies, Adrienne (pronounced with a short "a") is a proud Kansas Alpha Pi Phi. Jo Ann Minor Roderick, Grand Vice President of Collegians, was first elected to Council in 1987. She is an Oklahoma Beta and keeps tab on her chapter since she lives in the Oklahoma State college town of Stillwater. Grand Treasurer Carol Inge Warren is also in her second term of office. Carol lives in Lisle, Ill., and is a North Carolina Beta Pi Phi from Duke.

Convention honor initiate, Anna Lee Fisher, seated, shares her pleasure with her husband's mother, Eleanor Yothers Fisher, Florida Beta, standing behind, and her two daughters, 5 year old Kristin and 5 month old Kara. At the left is Anna's mother, Elfriede Tingle, who lives in San Pedro and was doing baby sitter duty while Anna was occupied with initiation ceremonies.

Directors

Five of the eleven Fraternity Directors are new to their posts, with all five moving from province officer ranks.

Ann Warmack Brookshire, Texas Beta, is the new Director of Academic Standards, Ann lives in Tyler, Tex., and was formerly Chi Alumnae Province President (A.P.P.).

Sara Oliver Millener, former A.P.P. for Epsilon Province, assumes her duties as Director of Alumnae Activities. Sara is a Tennessee Gamma and hails from Simpsonville, S. C.

Oklahoma Alpha Lou Ann Montgomery Carter was elected Director of Chapter House Corporations after having served as Gamma Province President. Lou Ann lives in Wilmington, Del.

Gayla Velvin Ferree, also an Oklahoma Alpha and former Tau Province President, has become Director of Rush. Gayla lives in Fort Worth, Tex.

A midwesterner from Palatine, Ill., Sheila Graham Sherman is the new Director of Undergraduate Programming. Sheila is an Illinois Theta Pi Phi and former Lambda Province President.

Continuing in their offices for another two years are Sarah Ruth Mullis, from Atlanta, Ga., South Carolina Alpha, Director of Alumnae Advisory Committees; Janet Blume Hamilton, Indiana Zeta, from Stamford, Conn., Director of Alumnae Extension; Sara Wareham Waggoner, Wisconsin Alpha, from Orange, Calif., Director of Alumnae Records; Kay Cromb Brada, Kansas Alpha, from Wichita, Kan., Director of Collegiate Extension; Betty Blades Lofton, Indiana Gamma, from Indianapolis, Ind., Director of Membership; and Elizabeth Jordan Holman, Arizona Alpha, from Paradise Valley, Ariz., Director of Pledge Development.

Arrow flies higher for Astronaut initiate

The first "mother in space" is a distinction earned by Anna Lee Fisher, alumna initiate of Pi Phi's 1989 Convention. A UCLA cum laude graduate, Dr. Fisher received a B.S. and M.S. in chemistry, as well as a medical degree. Her specialty is emergency medicine.

In 1978, Anna was selected by NASA for astronaut training. She was a flight engineer aboard the Discovery shuttle that, in 1984, retrieved two satellites in a "space salvage" mission. On that assignment she logged 192 hours in 127 orbits around the earth.

Anna's husband, Dr. William F. Fisher, is also an astronaut. They live in Houston, Tex., with their two daughters, Kristen, five years old, and Kara, five months old.

As an astronaut, Anna gives special programs as a volunteer in schools ranging from elementary level to colleges and universities. She also participates in Girl Scouts. In October, 1988, she was named one of the 100 outstanding women of the world by Ladies Home Journal.

Anna has several ties to Pi Phi. Her mother-in-law, Eleanor Yothers Fisher, is a Florida Beta Pi Phi, as is her sister-in-law, Julie Fisher Brewer, and her husband's aunt, Jean Yothers. Bill Fisher took his sister Julie's Pi Phi pin into space when Discovery thundered into space in August, 1985. (See ARROW, Spring 1986) Anna was initiated with that pin.

Convention Keynote

'Pi Phi Power means women in action'

Carolyn Helman Lichtenberg
Grand President

As we endeavor to focus on charting the course toward and for a new decade, perhaps Carl Schultz's quote says it best:

"Ideals are like the stars . . . We will probably never reach them, but like the mariner of the sea, we chart our course by them."

The Founders of I.C. were idealists in a time when a very limited number of institutions were even offering higher education to women. Libbie Brook Gaddis, in speaking of those beginning ideals, wrote:

"Believing that young women of other colleges would favor the idea [of a secret society], we were encouraged to present it to them. The idea was more popular that we had hoped for, and we builded better than we knew."

Our Founders probably thought they were reaching for the stars when they envisioned a national fraternity for women, but with 122 chapters, two colonies, over 350 alumnae organizations, and 160,000 initiated members, we'll all agree that their ideal surely has been realized.

The often quoted Mr. Webster describes ideal as "one considered to be the best of its kind." From those founding years through this past biennium, Pi Phi leaders have navigated our Pi Phi vessel very skillfully, keeping foremost in the mind that Pi Beta Phi is the best of its kind. The events and accomplishments of our 122 years are fact and a great source of pride for all Pi Phis.

As Greek popularity rides the crest of the wave, Pi Beta Phi continues to take the lead by challenging the muddy waters, remaining steady as we go, and providing the best crew, best training, and best materials possible.

Looking back at the wake of the past biennium, we see that a record number have been pledged and initiated. Pi Beta Phi pledged this year nearly 5,000 young women. Of that number, 14.8% were legacies. Of the 1,900 legacies participating in rush, 34% pledged Pi Beta Phi. Pi Beta Phi academic standards continue to be very positive as the 1988 calendar year statistics indicate for all chapters a GPA of 2.892.

Greek popularity is very evident to the Pi Phi extension department as in the past two years 160 extension inquiries were received.

The toe of the star gazer may get stubbed if he is not aware of what is around him. Fraternity leadership has prepared for the future by listening and observing and by being willing to take risks through change.

A ship in harbor is safe, but that is not what ships are for. The past biennium has witnessed many changes. Major changes include:

- Province redistricting to bring better balance to both the collegiate and alumnae provinces.
- Chapter accounting transferred from a national to a local accounting system.
- Two new directorships established.
- New, improved insurance coverage.
- Two new positions at Central Office: Communications Coordinator and Assistant to Executive Director.
- Historic preservation fund established.
- Because the Pi Phi ARROW printer, Banta, phased out magazine printing, Pi Phi found a new printer.
- Extension programming revamped.
- A new Golden Arrow insignia offered.

A record number have contributed to the Pi Beta Phi annual drive, The Friendship Fund. Many goals necessitate funds far beyond those obtained through dues and fees. These gifts from alumnae continue to make the difference between general maintenance of Fraternity programming and that progressive step forward!

Pi Beta Phi is the best, and she intends to continue that standard as fraternities and sororities ride the peaks of Greek popularity.

A look ahead

In the midst of Greek favor and growth, there are clouds on the horizon. Looming over our Greek society are shadows of alcohol abuse, academic deterioration, declining ethics and standards, and hazing. Colleges and universities are becoming more skittish about student behavior. More and more universities are questioning the role of Greek organizations on their campuses. Almost without notice, entire Greek systems, men's and women's groups, have been banished from Colby, Amherst, and Franklin and Marshall Universities. Newsweek, in a seven page article called "Fraternities Under Fire," had a subheading that read, "At the height of their popularity, Greek organizations face charges of racism, violence, and hooliganism."

We know that poor behavior is not necessarily a fraternal characteristic, but Greeks are easily identifiable and highly visible. This negative side of fraternity life often does not represent the norm, and more often than not concerns the activities of men. The damage is done however to the university, the local fraternity system, to the women, and to the Greek system as a whole.

Our course for the future calls for human dignity and respect and standards of the highest order. One of the greatest dangers we face today is the acceptance of unethical behavior as a norm. If enough people do it, it must be right and therefore ethical!

I call on alumnae to insist on, and the young women of Pi Beta Phi to stand up for, the ideals in which they believe, the ideals upon which Pi Beta Phi was founded. Reinforce high standards of others through positive peer expectations. Ethics will not complicate but will help define one's life. Pi Beta Phi can play a vital role in the crisis of values and ethics the Greek world is encountering.

As a new decade approaches, the winds will be shifting. Wisdom tells us that there is nothing as certain as change. For example, nationally, and probably most evident on urban campuses, campus life in the next decade will be influenced by increasing numbers of ethnically diverse, female, and older students. More will work, commute, and attend classes part time. By the year 2000 one of every three U.S. citizens will be Hispanic or Asian. College chapters of the future will exist on much more ethnically diverse campuses. Student organizations must reflect the racial and ethnic diversity of contemporary American colleges. The faculty and administrators are more than ever addressing these needs. They are looking to Greeks for support.

Generally, students will tend to be conservative. They will continue to pursue job-related majors and be extremely concerned about getting a good job after graduation.

The day of the campus as a computer-intensive environment is just dawning, and technology will have a major impact on student life in the next decade. Colleges and universities have merely scratched the surface in terms of computer-assisted and interactive video instruction.

Other obstacles to our system include declining college enrollment, depletion of the volunteer ranks as more and more women return to careers, increasing cost of education, and more demands on our time.

Charting the course

The time is here; the time is now. The hardest part of being a success is that you have to keep on being successful! How do we plan for this new decade? How can we chart our course by our ideals?

First we must analyze ourselves, our organization. The Fraternity, locally and nationally, does not live in a vacuum, but is subject to a myriad of forces. We must self-appraise in relation to our surroundings, which are constantly changing. Knowing our shortcomings is more important than listing our accomplishments. Reciting the story of our firsts and our gains is helpful only if it points the way to an even better Pi Beta Phi tomorrow.

Second, we cannot be fearful of change. John F. Kennedy said, "Change is the law of life. And those who look only to the past or the present are certain to miss the future." To continue full speed ahead, we must be risk takers. Our Founders were dreamers; they were risk takers at a time when few women were even entering college.

Tomorrow's challenges will be our achievements, and a successful voyage is the product of skillful navigation. To chart the course is the critical task of the leader.

Sheila Blair, Executive Director of Leadership Birmingham, in the recent Junior League Review, had this to say about leadership, "... while some people do indeed seem to be 'born' leaders, many, many more become leaders by behaving like leaders." In trying to identify what sets leaders apart, Ms. Blair concludes,

"Leaders see the big picture. They place the here-and-now in the context of something larger.

Leaders communicate. They interpret what they see and think. They listen well.

Leaders take reasonable risks, knowing that there will be times when they will fail.

Leaders teach. They take it as their responsibility to organize thoughts and impart information so that others can more easily understand challenges and opportunities.

Leaders follow. They understand the role of followers and practice followership themselves.

Leaders manage. They know how to motivate others and get the job done."

A leader has the ability to use her skills and vision to make decisions, provide inspiration and influence positive action. A true leader works with others to find a solution to a problem rather than finding a problem for every solution.

Bennis and Nanus, in their book Leaders, define leadership as what gives an organization vision and the ability to translate that vision to reality.

The catalyst for all of this is the best part and Greeks have a monopoly on it. We have people power! We have Pi Phi power! We have our ideals, our ritual, our living membership of over 136,000 members.

Greek membership means an extended family—a sense of belonging. Fraternity is living and working and enjoying life with one's friends for a lifetime. It teaches service to the community and philanthropy. Greek life means self-discipline and commitment to the best. Membership means sharing a support system not only during college, but for a lifetime. It provides opportunities for leadership and guidance for moral and ethical growth. Membership in Pi Beta Phi is a life long experience from which we will reap personal benefits in direct proportion to the amount of effort we put into it.

Take action now

Thoreau once observed that Harvard charged him far too much tuition for all he was taught, but charged him nothing for the best thing he received in college—the association with his peers that he would remember all of his life.

Our ritual is the glue of continuity which binds us together through successive generations. Perhaps by living closer to our ritual and our creed, the chore of steering the ship would be less burdensome. We would be less likely to run aground.

While achievements of individual members, chapters and clubs are significant, collectively the Pi Phi power impact can be profound. We have power to join together for a purpose. Pi Beta Phi can be a vital force for change. She can join in potent partnership to tackle tough issues facing the Greek community today.

Let's move out of the comfort zone, where it is easy just to exist. Let's make things happen.

Let Pi Phi speak out through example and lead Greek organizations back to high academic standards.

Let's rid our chapters of any hint of hazing and admonish those groups and individuals for continuing such practices. Even in its mildest forms, hazing is an enemy of fraternal ideals.

Let's address more aggressively the largest single problem on campuses today—alcohol abuse. Let's insist that our fraternal brothers and sisters obey the law.

Let Pi Phi take a stand against demeaning, degrading activities often requested of sororities by men's fraternities.

Raise your voices and refuse to condone raids where property is destroyed or when pinning ceremonies embarrass or demean.

Say "No" to campus activities that showcase bad behavior and reflect poorly upon the entire Greek system. Negative actions of a few must be dealt with by the majority.

Let Pi Phi take the lead by enforcing her own values and standards. We do have a right to insist that our members adhere to Pi Phi standards or forfeit membership.

Let's show our true colors and address the issue of cultural diversity. We should make available to all qualified, congenial women, regardless of different background or culture, the benefits of fraternal membership.

Let's remember our Ritual, for it continues to provide inspiration and a design for living. It espouses the ideals star gazers look for.

Pi Beta Phi is a personal thing that provides a lifetime of memories and experiences. It shares a secret place in the heart. It is a positive force in lives of those who live it unselfishly. Vital, active, supportive alumnae and enthusiastic, inspired actives are the future of the Fraternity.

Pi Phi Power means Women in Action. Our alumnae and collegians are architects for the future. There are over 160,000 of us now, and even though some observe and support Pi Phi from above, we can continue to make a difference. Let us cling to our ideals, grasp the challenges on the horizon, and lead to a stronger Pi Beta Phi than ever before. Pi Beta Phi can navigate the course to a secure future for Pi Beta Phi and Greek membership everywhere.

In keeping with the Convention theme, "Charting the Course to a New Decade," these nautical San Diego Pi Phis were among the many greeting Convention arrivals.

The Lichtenberg women—Sara, Carolyn and Betsy.

Sisters

by Barbara Sands Olsen

The heritage of a Pi Beta Phi background can be a great asset, and two young collegians exemplify that philosophy in a special way. The daughters of Grand President Carolyn Helman Lichtenberg are carrying on the tradition of life-long membership in the Fraternity.

Sara, chapter president of Ohio Zeta, attended her first Convention in 1987 in New Orleans. As a new initiate, she entered into province meetings and discussions with enthusiasm, and displayed a mature judgment and manner in her approach to Fraternity business. During rush at Miami of Ohio, Sara had kept her thought and choices private, but there were whoops of joy when the Grand President received a telegram which read, "I'm flying with the arrow... your little angel, Sara."

The 1989 Convention in San Diego saw another "first," in a Fraternity proud of leadership and pioneering in many programs. A second active member of the family joined in Convention proceedings. Daughter Betsy, an Ohio Alpha as is her mother, was an active participant. At the Iota Province party, Betsy said she felt she had been a Pi Phi for as long as some of the alumnae present, for she had helped bake arrow cookies and decorate angels for as long as she could remember.

Sara and Betsy joined their mother at the centennial celebration of Ohio Alpha last April. The event, chaired by Virginia Hoover Franklin of the Athens Alumnae Club, and Chapter President Nealie Pidcock, was a complete success as many Ohio Alphas returned to campus to pay tribute to the chapter and the Fraternity. A gift presented to Ohio Alpha at the time was a portrait of the Grand President of Pi Beta Phi, Carolyn Lichtenberg.

At the Convention awards banquet, Sara and Betsy joined their mother and four past Grand Presidents in the Loving Cup Ceremony. In true Pi Phi tradition, they have pledged eternal loyalty to the wine and silver blue.

The Nashville Alumnae Club Award was presented by Lucy Warner, GVP of Alumnae, to Jean Challinor Hall, of the Kansas City, MO Alumnae Club.

The Olivia Smith Moore Chapter Treasurer's Award was accepted by Luann Hoover for Lynn Brooks, Michigan Beta, presented by Grand Treasurer Carol Warren. On the right: The Historians Vase for the 2nd best chapter history was claimed by Margot Binnewies, California Kappa.

Julie Holzhall, Illinois Zeta, with the Frances Rosser Brown Award; Illinois Zeta Tammie Beckwith has the A.P.P. Award for Fraternity Education; Ruth Silman, New York Delta, accepted the M.S.F. ARROW Correspondent's Award for Christine Hollands; Denise Flanagan, North Dakota Alpha, accepted the Grand Council Scholarship Incentive Award for her chapter.

Illinois Epsilons Carol Richards and Amy Scallan with National Scholarship Plaque; Kristen Captain, Texas Zeta, with Elizabeth S. Koza Award; Lisa Gregg, Oregon Alpha, with Vera Moss Bowl.

With two years of planning behind her and a successful Convention underway, Karen Emberton, Convention chairman, took time to smell the roses ... or ... to hold a palm tree.

Fraternity honors Marilyn S. Ford

by Barbara Sands Olsen,
National Fraternity Historian

At its 57th Convention, held in San Diego, Calif., in June, Pi Beta Phi paid tribute to Marilyn Simpson Ford. Marilyn's 21 years of service to the Fraternity as Editor of The Arrow have been exceeded only by the late Adele Taylor Alford whose tenure was at a time when the editor was a member of Grand Council. To present-day Pi Phis, Marilyn Ford is synonymous with The Arrow, and all wish her well in her retirement.

Marilyn began her Pi Phi life as a Nebraska Beta, serving as vice president of her pledge class and of her chapter. After receiving an Associate Degree in Applied Arts from the University of Nebraska, she became the Director of Publicity and Promotion for KSCJ-Radio in Sioux City, Iowa, writing and broadcasting a daily and weekly radio show. She also edited the radio page for the Sioux City Journal. Marilyn holds a Bachelor of Science in Speech from Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill. and as a student there, was the only undergraduate (of four students) chosen to produce and direct a weekly program for a Chicago radio station.

Following graduation from Northwestern, Marilyn moved to Atlanta, Ga., where her first employment was as music librarian for WAGA-Radio. Within one year she was moved to the continuity department to write commercial advertising, and soon became that department's director. She served as Southwestern Area Red Cross Radio Chief, producing scripts for Red Cross chapters throughout that area. Later, Marilyn held the position of editor of an Atlanta weekly newspaper.

Marilyn Ford's expertise in journalism was duly noted when she served on the Daily Dart at Pi Beta Phi's Centennial Convention in 1967. "When Dorothy Morgan (then Grand President) asked me to take over the position of Arrow editor, I thought I would do it for two or three years and then pass it on. But being involved in national Fraternity work instilled a feeling of belonging that was difficult to give up. And so the years have passed with eighty issues of The Arrow added to the files. I wouldn't have missed it for anything!" So spoke Marilyn in recalling her appointment. She had never worked on a magazine prior to that 1968 date, yet under her tenure the Arrow has grown in size, coverage and direction. It is one of the finest examples of Greek society publications.

Marilyn met her husband, Bill, through a Georgia Alpha Pi Phi who was dating him at the time. They have been married for over 40 years and are the parents of three sons and one daughter. Each of their children is married, and there are three granddaughters, with another grandchild expected soon. They live in the Atlanta area, where Marilyn has remained active in all alumnae activities.

As president of the local alumnae club, she led the group to its highest-ever paid membership, making personal calls and arranging for area coffees to attract new potential members. At a new member luncheon, Marilyn's busy mind wandered, so rather than the Pi Phi Grace, she led the group in her children's prayer, "God is Great, God is Good..." During another speech, she forgot the name of a prominent Pi Beta Phi officer, and was corrected from the audience. The "slips" she handled with the same aplomb as when, as our brand-new editor, she no longer received her own Arrow, a situation quickly corrected by rank of office.

Marilyn chaired the Georgia Alpha House Corporation Board when money was raised and the new chapter house built. She and her special Pi Phi friends who also worked on that committee continue to attend new chapter installations whenever possible. The Atlanta Alumnae Club awarded her the Brady-Cowart Alumnae Club Spirit and Service Award in 1987. The club has honored Marilyn on a national scope with the Marilyn Simpson Ford Arrow Correspondent's Award, available to chapter correspondents.

The Arrow editor's skills and expertise are of the highest caliber; she has brought well-deserved honor to Pi Beta Phi through her services to the entire Fraternity world, having held all offices, including the chairmanship of the National Panhellenic Editors Conference. A member of the Board of College Fraternity Editors Association, she has written its Editor's Edition for the past three years and, at CFEA's conference in July, she was voted "Honorary Life Member" of the group. The story, "The Infertile Egg," appearing in the Fall 1988 issue of The AR-

Convention goers may remember Marilyn as Fozzie Bear in the historical program at Louisville in 1983.

Jennifer Moeller, the newly appointed editor of The ARROW, and retiring Marilyn Ford, enjoy a brief respite during San Diego Convention festivities.

ROW, won second place in the "News Article Content" category at that same meeting. Her biography appeared in Who's Who in American Women several times in the 1970s. Marilyn wrote the National Panhellenic Conference skit for presentation at the 200th anniversary celebration of the Greek system, held in Williamsburg, Va. in 1976. She also wrote a show, complete with music, for the editors and Central Office executives to present to National Panhellenic delegates during a later meeting.

Marilyn is proud of her Pi Phi heritage; her mother and her mother's two sisters, a cousin and a niece are Nebraska Betas. Another aunt and a cousin are also Pi Phis. She has a collection of over 200 angels which she has gathered in travels around the world, including one from Vatican City. Also collected on travels throughout the United States and Europe are over 150 pieces of arrow jewelry.

As is true of all Pi Beta Phi national officers, Marilyn Ford feels a deep gratitude to her family members for their understanding of her commitment to the Fraternity. She said, "Involvement in Fraternity work, whether on the local, province or national level, is time consuming, yes, but most rewarding. It cannot be done, however, without the help and cooperation of one's family. My four children have grown, married and become parents themselves during my years as Arrow editor. During all this time, my husband, Bill, has supported me all the way. He has cooked meals, planned trips and vacations around deadlines and proofs times, cancelled plans when a frantic Arrow crisis has appeared and made last-minute trips to the post office so I wouldn't miss a deadline. He's a true Mr. Pi Phi and I love him and thank him for it!"

At the closing session of Convention, Barbara Sands Olsen paid tribute to Marilyn Ford. Speaking on behalf of all Fraternity members, she said, "It is with deep-felt honor that we recognize Marilyn today. As she hangs up her typewriter and galley proofs, as she writes 30 to her "Off the Arrow Hook," and to her career as editor of the Arrow, we wish her the very best for all that is yet to be. With respect for her accomplishments and with love for her as our Pi Phi sister, we honor her!"

Pi Beta Phi presented Marilyn Simpson Ford with a specially engraved plaque, a gold pin in the shape of a feathered quill pen, and with the coveted Dorothy Weaver Morgan Award in recognition of her devoted service.

Twenty- Something

And making a difference

by Jenny Moeller

Twenty years ago man first walked on the moon, and in doing so said, "One small step for man, one giant step for mankind." Thus, the course of history for America's space program was changed. It was with that same pioneering spirit, 20 years ago, that Pi Beta Phi launched the formalized graduate consultant program. In the past two decades, recent graduates, with a keen sense of adventure and determination, have stepped into a role which has allowed them to make a difference in the lives of thousands. A consultant, too, is not just taking a step for herself, but is taking a step towards building and strengthening the Fraternity, influencing its course of history.

In 20 years the graduate consultant program has evolved from a one-woman mission into a highly structured and specialized program. Today the program will send out, to explore new frontiers, ten highly motivated leaders representing a variety of academic and geographical backgrounds. Some will be a part of the foundation for establishing a new Pi Phi chapter; others will travel the United States and Canada meeting as many as 1500 women in one semester. Regardless of the position, these women will leave footprints on the hearts of many chapters and individuals.

One consultant notes, "Imagine, if you will, receiving a thank you note in the mail with 125 signatures. In no other job can one touch the lives of so many."

Pi Beta Phi's consultant program concentrates on lending support and guidance to brand new chapters as well as established ones. A Resident Graduate Consultant (RGC) is assigned to a new colony or chapter where her responsibilities include pledge education, instruction in Fraternity heritage and Pi Beta Phi procedures, and the instilling of Pi Phi values and standards. An RGC makes a difference in assuring growth and development of a new chapter. During her term, she is able to watch a seed that she helped plant grow in the life of a new chapter. With her nurturing, this infant group of congenial young women blossoms into a healthy and vital Pi Beta Phi chapter.

A Traveling Graduate Consultant (TGC) travels full time, visiting chapters from coast to coast. She may visit a chapter to provide rush assistance, conduct officer training, share ideas or help with problem solving in a specific area of chapter programming. In the course of one year, a TGC's schedule may take her to over 30 Pi Phi chapters. The impact that she makes can be seen on 124 Pi Phi college campuses. A TGC works as one liaison between the national Fraternity and its collegiate chapters. By sharing resources and ideas, she is able to link chapters of various sizes and backgrounds.

One past TGC, reflecting on her year, said, "One thing is evident. I will have to look long and hard before I find a job with as much excitement, challenge and rewards as found within the consultant program of Pi Beta Phi."

At twenty-something, these young women are given the opportunity to make a difference. They are stepping into one of the most exciting and coveted positions in the Fraternity. Chapters realize the benefits gained from a consultant's expertise, as she brings them the best ideas and most successful plans for all areas of programming. Chapters are able to relate to a consultant as a peer advisor when dealing with such contemporary issues as hazing, alcohol abuse or eating disorders. A new chapter or colony is dependent on the consultant to guide it in establishing structure and chapter procedures, as well as developing their local traditions. By sharing the intrinsic sense of Fraternity value and ideals, an RGC is able to see the true sense of sisterhood develop.

Barbara Tootle, assistant to the President at The Ohio State University and former OSU Greek Affairs Advisor for 11 years, has assisted with Pi Phi consultant training for a number of years. She comments that young women today recognize the consultant program is not "time out" from career plans, but is "time ahead." The consultant is given the opportunity to have immediate decision-making authority, interaction with upper-level management personnel and independence rarely seen in an entry-level position generally available upon graduation. Previous consultants agree that they have enhanced their qualifications and polished skills that they used later.

"In working as a merchandise director of Horchow, I find myself constantly drawing upon my experience as a consultant," said one former consultant. "I am using skills that were first discovered and then developed by the graduate consultant program."

Another summed it up well by saying, "I knew that other jobs would always be an option for me, but only once would I have the opportunity to work as a consultant. It is truly a once-in-a-lifetime experience—and what a difference it has made!"

It makes a difference to Pi Beta Phi women, to our Pi Beta Phi chapters, to our Fraternity and to a strengthened fraternal system.

At twenty-something, you can make a difference

Qualifications: Any graduating senior who has held a chapter or campus office, with leadership and communication skills and a strong desire to serve the Fraternity.

Interview: In February, those deemed by members of Grand Council to be most qualified are invited, at Fraternity expense, to meet with current consultants and be interviewed by a committee of Council members and the Consultant Coordinator. Positions are offered to those selected as soon as possible after all interviews are completed. Although the selection process is very competitive, all interested women are encouraged to apply. Special abilities and talents may be uniquely suited to fill a particular position.

Application: Application blanks are mailed to chapters in the fall and may be obtained from the chapter president, or by sending the request blank below. Completed application and references must be received by the Grand Vice President of Collegians by January 1, 1990.

I am interested in the Pi Beta Phi Graduate Consultant Program.

Arrowmont campaign unveils exciting plans

by Adrienne Hiscox Mitchell,
Grand Vice President of Philanthropies

Exciting plans for the future of Arrowmont were announced to San Diego Convention delegates in June when a capital campaign, Blueprint for the Future, was unveiled. A large triangular package some eight feet high and four feet wide, completely covered in brown paper, was literally unwrapped to display architectural drawings and future programming details.

Following an audiovisual presentation which depicted a week in the life of an Arrowmont student, Convention attendees were the first to learn about the $2.2 million campaign for Arrowmont, a Blueprint for the Future. Components of the campaign are a much needed 50-bed dormitory, a painting studio, and endowments for children's programs and an artist-in-residence program. Grand Council and the Settlement School Board of Governors have spent over two years exploring the feasibility of these projects. Results of studies indicate the projects are not only feasible but necessary to maintain Arrowmont's standing as one of the top five non-degree granting, fully accredited art/craft schools in the country.

Jean Wirths Scott, former Grand President, is chairman of the capital campaign. A steering committee is being formed and is anxious to hear from all Pi Phis with an interest and ability to assist in the campaign. The Pi Beta Phi Settlement School was conceived and developed through the efforts and generosity of Fraternity alumnae. Over the years all Pi Phis have shared a great pride in the value and effectiveness of work done through Settlement School. Today a similar pride can be expressed for Pi Phi's major philanthropy, Arrowmont School of Arts & Crafts. The campaign steering committee hopes this pride will translate into strong support from clubs and chapters throughout the fraternity. Interest and suggestions should be directed to the campaign chairman.

New legislation

Convention delegates adopted legislation providing for a change in the governance of Settlement School. Beginning September 1st, the seven members of Grand Council joined ten other Pi Beta Phi alumnae as voting members of the Settlement School Board of Governors. The Director of Arrowmont School becomes an ex-officio, non-voting member of the Board. The new Board make-up better reflects that deemed appropriate for the governance of Settlement School/Arrowmont as a tax-deductible, non-profit entity.

At the time the expanded Board of Governors is installed, Arrowcraft will be separated from Settlement School and established as Arrowcraft, Inc., a taxable, non-profit corporation in the State of Tennessee. This new corporation will free management to employ a variety of sales and marketing techniques previously disallowed when the Shop fell under the educational, charitable designation given to Settlement School.

Arrowcraft, Inc. will be governed by a five-member Board of Trustees consisting of the Grand Vice President of Philanthropies, the Grand Treasurer and three other Pi Phi alumnae. Grand Council envisions an eventual expansion of Arrowcraft merchandise to include Pi Phi sportswear and other items with special appeal to collegians. Profits from the sale of these items will benefit the Fraternity, while profits from traditional Arrowcraft items will continue to be designated for Settlement School/Arrowcraft.

Though some significant changes were adopted at Convention and exciting plans presented, much remains the same. Success of the Arrowcraft Shop continues to depend upon sales generated by Pi Phis. (Be sure to shop the catalog accompanying this issue of The ARROW) And Settlement School/Arrowmont continues to rely upon the support of all Pi Phis, be it through clubs, chapters or individual members, that it may fulfill its mission of enriching lives through art.

Instructor Bob Paulson, Carbondale, Ill., made several trips to Cades Cove with his Arrowmont painting class during June. Paulson donated one of his oil pastels to the Arrowmont auction. Proceeds from the auction go toward Arrowmont scholarships.

Former BOG Chair returns with hubby

After a long time away from Arrowmont, former Board of Governors chairman, Helen Deppe Vollmar, was back in April for a week of Elderhostel with her husband, Joe. Helen studied ceramics while Joe was out nearly every day in the Great Smoky Mountains National Park shooting color slides with his classmates. Their cheerfulness and wit was enjoyed by everyone, and before leaving Helen took a few moments to reflect on what Pi Beta Phi and Arrowmont have accomplished. She also talked about how unusual it seems to outsiders that Pi Phi supports a visual arts complex.

"I think that's because there's a lack of understanding among people who aren't Greek. They think, because the Greek system is a 'joiner' organization and one must conform, that [this relationship] becomes a paradoxical kind of thing."

Helen admitted that on the surface artists and Greeks do seem like strange bedfellows. "But Pi Phi did this and we certainly were with the crafts many years before craft became the big thing. When the machine took over, crafts were looked down upon because people wanted things that could be manufactured; these handspun looking things—who wanted those? But Pi Phi, through their work with these mountain people and their weaving, did have an appreciation for that.

"At the 1964 Convention in Victoria, we voted on what kind of project to have for the second century of Pi Phi, and there were a lot of ideas presented. Because we have been associated with the crafts for so many years, with Marian Heard starting the workshops here in 1945, it really behooved us to continue in that field."

Marian was at Arrowmont during Helen's stay and walked through the main building with her. "It was such a thrill to be with Marian and go through the building," said Helen, "because in 1971 when I came on the Board, it had just been finished. Then it was like a new home, or a house that is empty, because there was so little in it. To come through after all these years, and see it so alive with all the marvelous books in the library and beautiful pieces in the gallery that these artists have given us..."

The well-equipped studios made Helen feel that Arrowmont's facilities have been well used over the years. "Seeing all the activity going on here was just wonderful. As Marian was leaving, we stood looking back at the building. Seeing it in the afternoon sun, it was so beautiful with all the shrubs and dogwood trees. I couldn't help but feel that Marian was really looking at it as her dream that came true. How wonderful it is that Pi Phi is sponsoring this place where people with dreams can put those dreams into reality."

— A REMINDER —

Settlement School/Arrowmont contributions qualify for corporate matching funds.

Former Board of Governors chairman, Helen Vollmar, visited Arrowmont with her husband, Joe, almost 20 years after her last visit. Helen was Arrowmont's Elderhostel hostess and both she and Joe took a class during their stay.

Arrowmont memories called Esther back

It has been 43 years since Esther Lowry spent six weeks taking classes at Arrowmont. She first heard of the program from her high school art teacher and came to Gatlinburg in 1946, Arrowmont's second summer of operation.

"I think there were three hotels here at the time, and the bus station."

It was a quieter time one sometimes hears about from long-time Settlement School employees, but now Gatlinburg has no bus station, and far too many hotels to count.

When asked why she came back for an Elderhostel class after all these years, Esther remarked, "Well, I think the six weeks I spent here were probably the nicest six weeks of my life."

In the interval between Esther's two visits to Arrowmont, she married, had two girls, and went into the restaurant business, then a franchise for Holiday Inn. Her life became pretty busy with the franchise, and that was when she learned how to fly.

"I was on the board of directors with International Association of Holiday Inn, so I had to travel back and forth from our business in Thomasville, Ga., to Memphis, and around to the different Holiday Inns." About 25 years ago, she earned her pilot's license and soon she was racing airplanes.

"I flew my first race when I had my license less than a year," she says.

The famous Powder Puff Derby was the largest women's air race and it ceased to be about 13 years ago. Consequently, a group of women fliers formed a race called the Air Race Classic, of which Esther is president. Her term in office last three years.

Considering her involvement in air racing, one might think that a week at Arrowmont would hold little interest for Esther, but she didn't hesitate when she said, "I've always wanted to come back."

Joe Palmer, left, watches watercolorist, Ed Shay. Joe recently discovered Arrowmont and said, "This is just the beginning! I'm coming back!"

Student finds respite in watercolor class

Despite the fact that Arrowmont's workshop program is well known and respected in the craft world, it is not always easy for the isolated beginning artist to find out about it. Joe Palmer, who lives not too far from Gatlinburg, discovered what Arrowmont has to offer only by good luck. In May his wife took a group of elementary students on a field trip to Gatlinburg. Although merely chaperoning and not interested in art classes herself, she was greatly impressed. She knew that her husband had been searching in vain for a local watercolor class, so she took a brochure home and told him that she thought she had found just the thing he was looking for.

"I read it and sure enough, Arrowmont seemed to be exactly what I needed," said Joe.

"I am a pharmacist and I've always wanted to paint, but my profession required me to spend so much time in didactic work that I never got into painting. I'd find myself doodling a lot on the side of the page . . . I knew that was my art trying to come out."

After receiving a little watercolor kit as a Christmas gift, Joe discovered that he loved watercolor.

"I went to the library and checked out all kinds of watercolor books, and I'd go through them and I'd try this and that. But books weren't enough. I needed something more. When this brochure came and I saw that the instruction I could get is a one-of-a-kind experience, I thought that was just fantastic!"

Could Joe have learned as much by studying watercolor books for a solid week? "No, no, no. Definitely not! I needed somebody to say, this is the way you do it . . . lay the brush down this way . . . put it in the paint this way . . . use lots of water like the instructor, Ed Shay, does. I leaned toward drybrushing because I didn't realize how important it was to let the action occur on the paper. So I'm impressed. I've learned a lot. I really feel good about this experience.

"One of the things that has impressed me about Ed's method is that he was so free and so loose. However, what he was doing was gently urging us into experimentation on our own. You make a mistake—so what! It's only paper! He taught us to push ourselves and the colors to the limit of what we thought because everybody had been afraid to put the color on the paper."

Eventually Joe experienced a feeling of relief and relaxation. "It's expressive, it feels good! This freedom that Ed has led us into has been very subtle, but I feel myself changing."

Being able to get away from it all and wake up his sensibilities has been part of what Arrowmont has given Joe.

"In my business I go to work at 9 o'clock in the morning, answering phones, taking care of people's needs, and they're clutching me all the time . . . ten hours a day. You numb yourself to a lot of sensitivities." Joe decided that a class at Arrowmont was something he would do for himself.

"So that's how Arrowmont has given me, this week, far more than I had imagined. I've really been impressed . . . honestly."

High Risk Moms

"Angel" is a word that could describe Laura Krumwiede, daughter of Candyce Clifton Krumwiede, Indiana Delta. An angel who came into the world 13 weeks prematurely, weighing 28 ounces, is today a normal four year old with no severe complications related to her birth.

Candyce was a high-risk in pregnancy. After three unsuccessful pregnancies, (a miscarriage, stillbirth and the death of a baby), she was faced with the realization that the only way to achieve a living baby was to have one prematurely.

High-risk pregnancies can be difficult to handle, emotionally as well as physically. Even knowing the risks of the high-risk pregnancy, the pregnancy can be an experience very different from the one faced by women whose pregnancies are uncomplicated. Candyce found this out early in her last pregnancy, and she turned to a support group called "High Risk Moms, Inc."

A woman experiencing a high risk pregnancy can find that it is very difficult. She may be faced with months of bed rest (not because she is tired but for the health of the unborn baby), expensive medical tests such as ultrasounds and biophysical tests of the baby in utero, expensive drugs to sustain the pregnancy, and even long term hospitalization. The mother may also have to cope with other children at home which can add additional stress to the situation. A high-risk pregnancy is a stressful time, and many times people don't realize that fact. Even family members can have a tough time coping with the pregnancy.

A support group

This is why a group such as High Risk Moms is important. A high-risk mother may feel abnormal and long for that normal pregnancy. The media seems to focus on pregnancies as a chic thing to do—birthing rooms, the Jane Fonda exercise tapes, and the dream of delivering on Friday, home by Sunday and back to work on Monday. In a high-risk pregnancy this isn't the case. These moms are the special ones! The ones who wonder, day by day, even hour by hour, if the baby will kick or if the preterm labor will stop. A high-risk pregnancy can be a time full of apprehension and fear of what is happening to the baby.

High Risk Moms Inc. was founded in 1983. It is a self help emotional support group that offers assistance to mothers (fathers) who have had, are anticipating, or are experiencing a high-risk pregnancy. The group is based in the Chicago area. They meet monthly as a support meeting, and offer a telephone network system for bed restricted or hospitalized moms. They sponsor seminars twice a year that feature

Emotional support also needed

High-risk pregnancy can be a result of the mother's physical problems, but it also can be a result of her emotional state of mind. Many times a mother who has experienced repeated miscarriages, a stillbirth, or the death of a baby needs emotional support during a subsequent pregnancy. Once a person has experienced the worst, such as the death of a baby, assuming that a pregnancy always results in a live birth can be a factor in coping with the pregnancy. Many times these mothers need encouragement, hope, and reassurances as much as the mother who physically has a problem in pregnancy.

Candyce and her counterpart, Pat Smith, the founding "mother," have been working with the medical community to help professionals understand the "mother's perspective" of a high-risk pregnancy. The two do public speaking for nursing seminars, and attend conferences of nurses and social workers to offer assistance in understanding the "high-risk" patient.

Candyce recently served as chairman for the March of Dimes Walk America of DuPage County in Illinois. She and her daughter made public appearances for the March of Dimes to address the topic of high-risk pregnancies, prematurity and infant mortality. This foundation is also very concerned about the high-risk mother and her pregnancy. They are turning some of their focus on research in this area too.

Women's issues have become a focal point in the 1980s, and they will continue to be in the 1990s. The buzz word in the medical field is "high-risk"—the high-risk mother and the high-risk infant. As you continue to educate yourself about the world around you, remember that a high-risk pregnancy doesn't touch on just one sector of life, it can happen in every sector of life, even Pi Phi.

professional speakers. The group has launched a new program for area hospitals. They prepare holiday "cheer" baskets for mothers who may be in the hospital over those special days.

Candyce came to this small knit group as a high-risk mom. After she and her daughter were healthy and they had recovered from all the pregnancy complications and Laura's long hospital stay, Candyce began to get involved in High Risk Moms. Her involvement led the group into incorporating and receiving funding from such places as the March of Dimes Birth Defect Foundation, Astra Pharmaceutical Company, and Junior Women of Hinsdale, Ill. The network system is governed by a seven women board of directors.

High Risk Moms works closely with the medical profession. Even though the group is made up of lay persons, they still can be looked upon as experts because they have lived through the "high-risk" situation. Some have gone through it more than once.

As baby boomers have begun to have their babies, technology also has improved methods of achieving pregnancy for women who were told never to try. Women with health problems such as diabetes, lupus syndrome, DES daughters, incompetent cervix, and placenta previa have been able to carry babies to term. Even though, physically, a doctor can treat the pregnancy, many times the emotional aspect of the pregnancy can not be met by medical personnel. That is when a support unit such as High Risk Moms can be of important value.

'Nike' Buck is honored

Iowa State University honored Cornelia Lindstrom Buck on March 28, 1989. Nike, as she is known by all, received the award for "Outstanding Greek Alumni" after being nominated by Liz Fuhr, Iowa Gamma Chapter president.

Nike was an Iowa Gamma active from 1942-1946. She continued her support for the chapter as Alumnae Advisory Committee chairman from 1947-1950, and has taken the position once again.

Along with Nike's devotion to Pi Phi, she taught at Iowa State for 16 years. Her advice, guidance and encouragement for chapter officers has been a major factor in their success as leaders.

Special day honors Frances R. Brown

One of Pi Phi's national awards, presented annually, is the Frances Rosser Brown Award for the best pledge-active programming for Fraternity heritage. The silver pitcher traveling award was presented to the Fraternity by the El Paso Alumnae Club, honoring Frances, Oklahoma Alpha, who was national Fraternity historian from 1938-1946. She originated the chapter history program of the Fraternity.

Frances lives in Muscogee, Okla., and has earned many honors over the years. The latest occurred on April 1, 1989, when, on her 90th birthday, the mayor of Muscogee declared the day the Frances Rosser Brown Day.

Loved by all who know her, Frances is well known both inside and outside of Oklahoma. She had a dream fulfilled when, in 1966, the "Five Civilized Tribes Museum" opened in Muscogee, established to help motivate gifted Indians of the Choctaw, Chickasaw, Cherokee, Creek and Seminole Tribes. She helped establish two hospitals in her home town and she has received recognition from her church, the Elks, Kiwanis and Soroptimist Clubs, Delta Kappa Gamma, and is an honorary member of the Da-Co-Tah Indian Club.

In 1971 she was awarded the Distinguished Service Citation by the University of Oklahoma, the University's equivalent of an honorary degree. On Statehood Day, November 17, 1973, she was inducted into the Oklahoma Hall of Fame.

In September, 1984, Frances was awarded the Alumnae Achievement Award by Randolph-Macon, "conferred upon alumnae who personify the value of a liberal arts education and who have brought honor to themselves and to Randolph-Macon Women's College through their outstanding accomplishments."

Frances has worked tirelessly to preserve Oklahoma's history and heritage. She will always be "Mrs. Muskogee."

She is not the only distinguished member of her family, however. Her sister, Louise Rosser Kemp, also Oklahoma Alpha, of El Paso, Tex., was Grand Treasurer of Pi Beta Phi from 1967-1970. She also was honored recently when the middle school library at St. Clements Episcopal Parish School was named for her. Louise was on the founding board of the school and served on that board for many years.

Pi Beta Phi salutes these two distinguished Golden Arrow sisters.

Top teacher is named

Marta Hanson-Yemm, Indiana Epsilon, was honored recently when she was chosen Teacher of the Month in Boca Raton, Fla. Marta is an occupational specialist at Spanish River High School. She is a published author and illustrator of Years To Grow, a pre-school curriculum, and recently co-authored the Palm Beach County Guidance Curriculum for Career Education.

Marta believes that "You have to like what you are doing in order to be successful." She sees her job as helping students identify their likes and dislikes as they relate to their future career. Counseling parents to help them understand their children's choices is also a large part of her position as a college and career counselor.

A member of her local Pi Phi alumnae club, Marta was honored by the Greater Boca Raton Chamber of Commerce for her commitment to educating and encouraging leaders of the future.

Virginia Zetas kept it all in the family with six new "real" sisters added following rush. Back-front pairs (l-r) are: Lisa and Leslie Downs, Holli and Mandy Copley, Christy and Lynn Ann Butler, Deanna and Eve Dinning, Alicia and Amy Waters, Jamie and Dara Bain.

Five alumnae earn C.E. Scholarships

Five Pi Beta Phi alumnae have been selected to receive alumnae scholarships for the 1989-90 school year, selected by the Alumnae Committee for Continuing Education.

Kathryn Bart Autry, Georgia Alpha, is working toward an MBA at the College of William and Mary and will complete her program in 1991. She has served as president and treasurer of her Hampton Roads (Va.) Alumnae Club and has been instrumental in establishing a support group for families of handicapped children which has been active since 1984.

Susan Promes, Missouri Beta, is a full time medical student at Penn State College of Medicine who hopes to be an emergency room physician. Susan was a member of AAC for Pennsylvania Gamma at Dickinson College and has been involved with the Harrisburg/Carlisle (Pa.) Alumnae Club for two years. Through the years Susan has volunteered many hours to the YMCA/YWCA and the American Red Cross and has been a volunteer paramedic.

Jane Conyers Copeland, Ohio Beta, is pursuing an Association Management certificate through The Management Institute, New York University. Jane feels this will allow her to better serve the organizations with whom she works and volunteers. She is Executive Director of the Pagasus Therapeutic Riding, Inc., a program that helps disabled regain balance and coordination through horseback riding. An article about Jane and the program appeared in the Fall, 1987 issue of The ARROW. Jane was an ABO winner in 1960.

Betty Mason Kothe, Illinois Alpha, is currently working toward a master of arts in teaching. Her program was designed to improve and enhance the delivery system of classroom learning experience for the practitioner. Betty, a single mother of two, is not only attending graduate school, but is also working full time as a teacher's aide. Over the past 20 years, Bette has served her Fox River (Ill.) Alumnae Club in many capacities. She has been president, vice president, secretary and treasurer.

Bette McMahon, California Eta, is attending medical school this fall. She is a 1987 graduate of U.C. Irvine and has been working as a medical technologist/research associate at Nichols Institute. She is a member of the South Coast (Calif.) Junior Alumnae Club, is active in Red Cross organizations and has taught CPR classes.

Art professor named Outstanding Woman

In March, the San Antonio (Tex.) Express-News named Elizabeth Ridenhower, Texas Zeta, as one of its 12 outstanding women of 1988. Readers sent letters nominating women in ten categories and Elizabeth was the winner in the field of arts. Awards were presented at a continental breakfast April 1.

Elizabeth is an art professor at Trinity University where she joined the faculty 30 years ago. She was named 1988 Artist of the Year by the San Antonio Art League in recognition of her work on behalf of the arts in that city. More than 700 of her paintings may be seen in public places in San Antonio, private collections and homes. In Texas, her works have been shown at the Houston Museum of Fine Arts, Dallas Museum of Fine Arts, Fort Worth Carlin Gallery, Austin Laguna Gloria Art Museum and the Tyler Studio Gallery. She has also exhibited at Columbia University, in Monterey, Calif., and the National Museum of Women in the Arts in Washington.

In nominating Elizabeth, the Rev. Raymond Judd wrote, "Her influence as a teacher of art would mark her as an artist of rare distinction. In countless classes at Trinity and in lectures across the city, her artistic influence has made an incredible impact on hundreds of people. To meet [her] is to meet the grace and beauty of art; to study under her is to discover the world of art; to own one of her paintings is to surround one's self with the richness of life; to have her influence in design in one's home or office is to discover how much better life can be; to know her is to know art."

A group of Northern New Jersey Pi Phis, with a husband here and there, ended the club year and celebrated their Beta Province Ideal Club Award by cruising the waters off Lower Manhattan on the "Spirit of New York."

SHORT STORIES

OF SAGACIOUS SISTERS

Colorado Gamma, Colorado State

Four Pi Phis were on the Panhellenic Executive Committee at Colorado State last year, and brought home two awards from the Midwest American Panhellenic Conference. Pi Phi has the largest representation on the committee, holding four of the 11 offices.

Kansas Beta, Kansas State

Stephanie Hug is very involved in theatre at Kansas State. She has performed in a variety of works ranging from "lunch bag plays," only one hour in length, to the female lead in the last spring production.

Maine Alpha, University of Maine

Maine Alphas were excited to sit down

Oregon Alphas (l-r) Pam Cahill, Kelly Low, Tiffany Krieger, Jennifer Lasher and Kelly Chapel get ready for the University of Oregon's Greek Serenade competition. Pi Phis earned first place for their performance.

Michigan Alpha Susan Peterson stays very busy on the Hillsdale college campus. Susan's activities include being president of Omicron Delta Kappa, secretary of the Student Foundation and most recently, president of a local campus honorary, "The Lamplighters," an exclusive group of eight senior women.

to their first Founders' Day dinner in their new house. Many alumnae arrived for the eventful night which was highlighted by a turkey dinner with all the trimmings. Everyone sang songs and watched as poems were read to members.

In appreciation for their great effort and enthusiasm, Maine Alphas gave bouquets of flowers to the alumnae who helped with the process of getting the chapter house.

Illinois Eta, Millikin University

During Greek Week last spring, Vicki Blasucci, a junior elementary education major, won the title of Greek Goddess. This is the seventh year that Pi Phis have won this title.

Vermont Beta, University of Vermont

The chapter received the prestigious Lambda Cup at the annual Greek awards ceremony last spring. The Lambda Cup is presented to Panhellenic Council's choice for the best all-around sorority. In determining the winner, Council reviews questionnaires submitted by each sorority. The questionnaire includes items about the chapter's campus involvement and community service as well as individual members' excellence in scholastics and campus and community involvement. This is the sixth time Pi Phi has won this award, more than any other group on campus.

Texas Epsilon, University of North Texas

Lilian Avlogitos was chosen for the 1989 Women of UNT calendar. Lilian has been modeling for a local Dallas agency for three years. She was also featured on the cover of the Kappa Alpha swimsuit calendar.

Laurel Beverly, a member of New York Delta, was the 1988 Junior Miss of New York's capital district and first runner-up in the state Junior Miss competition. Laurel's honor was based on academic achievement, talent and character.

Illinois Epsilon, Northwestern University

Former Miss Northwestern, Heidi Heller, and her Pi Phi sister, Molly Mitchell, are putting their singing talents to work. Both are working as singing waitresses aboard the Spirit of Chicago—a cruise ship on Lake Michigan.

Iowa Gamma, Iowa State

Rush counselors at Iowa State begin working long before rush week. Pi Phis Betsy Fox, Laura Butler and Steph Kirsch started their duties last spring as they acted as tour guides for high school seniors during Greek Week.

Georgia Alpha, University of Georgia

Last May sisters invited their favorite teachers over for Apple Polish Dinner at the Pi Phi house. While everyone enjoyed a delicious meal, Ellie Frank, VP Mental, recognized those women who made the Dean's List, the best two- and four-girl rooms and the most improved GPA.

Indiana Delta, Purdue University
Susan Brock (Marion) was one of 100 people selected to tour with Waring's

U.S. Chorus for the summer. The chorus performed at such places as Penn State and the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C. Susan is also a member of the Purdue musical group, Purduettes.

Florida Beta, Florida State

During March, Florida State students may have had the feeling that something was missing. It could have been the elusive Tallahassee way of life- or the trash which they passed going from the dorm to class. The familiar bottles and candy wrappers were disposed of through an All-Campus Cleanup, organized by Lisa Bradford, campus director for Florida State.

"I've been thinking about this project for a long time," Lisa said. "(FSU President Bernard) Slinger had been rather upset about the lack of student concern for the campus, and I thought this would be a good way for the Greeks to get together and do something for the college. This was kind of a tester. Next year I want to get more people involved, and get some more publicity."

From 3-5 p.m. on March 29th, 20 women from each of 11 women's fraternities sported their sorority letters . . . and garbage bags!

Texas Zeta, Baylor University

Two Pi Phis, Milli Alexander and Nancy Bell have been selected to serve on Sentinell. This is a group of six senior women who serve as liaisons between the president of the University and the Board of Trustees.

Danielle Conselyea and Jodi Steltzer enjoy themselves as the Syracuse Pi Phis and Kappas celebrate their first Monmouth Duo since the recolonization of New York Alpha. The night began with an alumnae tea at the Kappa house and ended with a semi-formal.

Mississippi Alpha, University of Southern Mississippi

Stephanie Watson is spending her senior year as a southern style facilitator. During this time she will be helping with Mini Quarter activities. Mini Quarter is held during the summer for new USM students. During the school year, Stephanie will help promote USM when new students and dignitaries visit the campus.

Texas Beta, Southern Methodist University

Beth Clayton, an outstanding member of SMU's music department, was terrific in the opera, "The Apothecary." In other musical notes, several chapter members were involved in the revival of Script and Score, an old SMU tradition where the music and script of a short play are written and performed entirely by students.

Wyoming Alpha, University of Wyoming

Student Senate elections were held at the University of Wyoming last spring. Claudia Fidler, Brenda Hoy, Caitlin Long and Kristie Seeds will represent their respective colleges in the governing body of the university. This year Pi Phi had more members in Student Senate than any other chapter.

Washington Betas Kim Zutter and Amy Porter were among 12 women chosen to be in the 1989 "Women of Wazzu Calendar".

New York Gamma, St. Lawrence University

Kati Chenot's submission to the 1989 Juried Art Show was chosen from over 200 entries as juror's first choice. The university has since purchased her painting entitled, "Mon Pied."

Indiana Alpha, Franklin College

Senior Kelly Guilfoyle has been selected to serve a one-year fellowship with the admissions office. As admissions fellow, Kelly will travel to high schools throughout the state contacting prospective students.

New York Zeta, Colgate University

Pianist Wendy Knudsen was a featured student performer in a recent recital at Colgate University. Wendy has been playing the piano for 16 years and has performed twice at Colgate. Wendy was able to perform in Spain while studying in Madrid on a Colgate study program.

Indiana Gamma, Butler University

Missy Dollens recently served as the chairman delegate from Indiana to the American Diabetes Youth Leadership Congress. The congress was held in Washington D.C. in April, with two delegates from each state affiliate as well as from Puerto Rico and Canada.

Delegates for the congress were selected on the basis of leadership qualities and involvement with their local American Diabetes Association affiliate. While she was there, Missy not only attended leadership seminars, but also lobbied for diabetes related issues.

Florida Beta, Florida State

Jenny McCollum has been called the "voice of Florida State." She is the operations director of the campus radio station V89. Jenny is in charge of all financial dealings, sales and equipment at the station, and one frequently hears her over the air as a disc jockey.

Indiana Alpha, Franklin College

Samantha Williams received the William and Lynn Vandiver Bridges prize for summer foreign travel, awarded each year to juniors who have a double major in journalism and a foreign language, and who maintain a 3.0 GPA in both subjects. During this time, Samantha will be traveling across most of Europe, stopping in London, Normandy, Italy, Venice, Rome, Greece, Switzerland, Paris and Scotland. In addition, she plans to take time out to see her great great grandmother in Ireland. "I'm really excited," said Samantha. "One of the reasons I chose Franklin College was this scholarship. I have been working for this since I was a senior in high school, so I want to make the most of it." The award covers all transportation costs, daily living expenses, a Eurail pass and compensation for a summer job.

Georgia Alpha, University of Georgia

Heather Nance has been chosen to be a Georgia Girl. Georgia Girls are women chosen to help recruit prospective football players.

Kansas Beta, Kansas State

Jenni Stone is an accomplished musician. A saxophone player, Jenni holds her own recitals, plays each year in the Kansas City Jazz Festival and spends Wednesday nights performing in "Collegium Musicum" on campus.

Indiana Gamma, Butler University

Several Pi Phis have shown their leadership in Alpha Kappa Psi, a business fraternity. In their most recent elections, Pi Phis came close to closing out the offices as three members were elected. New officers include Lisa Collins, vice president of fellowship; Christina Brew, treasurer; Jamie Caudill, publicity chairman.

Idaho Alpha, University of Idaho

Oklahoma Alphas Cynthia White, alumna, and Dana Ogle, collegian at the University of Oklahoma, were contestants in the Miss Oklahoma U.S.A. pageant. Both finished in the top five.

Jessica Teisch, Arizona Alpha, received the Outstanding Freshman of the Year Award at 1989 Greek Awards, presented by Barbie Tootle, Ohio Beta, keynote speaker at the University of Arizona ceremony.

Glennis finds fame from football to Grand Marshall

Glennis McCrary Goodrich, Texas Zeta, received an unusual tribute in a recent Baylor celebration. She was chosen to serve as Grand Marshall in the November, 1988, Baylor University Homecoming parade in Waco, Tex. This honor is usually bestowed on a man, so Glennis felt quite honored to have been selected.

A Magna Cum Laude graduate of Baylor University, Glennis was a protégée of Dr. A. J. Armstrong, head of the English department for many years. She traveled in Europe on one of Armstrong's tours one summer, and celebrated her 20th birthday during a surprise party in Geneva, Switzerland. She earned membership in Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English fraternity. As a member of Alpha Omega, now Pi Beta Phi at Baylor, Glennis was a yearbook beauty queen in her senior year.

Elected by popular campus vote, she became captain of the first co-ed football team in the world! Pathé News took pictures of the 11 girls in the team's regular uniforms, except for the shoes. They had to wear their own!

A double major in English and education, Glennis was in charge of the religious section of the Baylor Annual in her senior year. Following her graduation, she went to Columbia University in New York to work on her Master's degree in English.

Returning to Texas, Glennis settled down in her home town of Winnsboro and taught high school English for three years. These were, in retrospect, the most rewarding years of her life. Some of her former students still keep in touch and several were on the sidelines for the Baylor parade that honored her.

Glennis and her late husband, Baxter Dee Goodrich, former chairman of the board, president and CEO of Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation, established a Goodrich Scholarship fund at Southwestern University in Georgetown, Tex., honoring his late mother and father. Dr. Schilling, president of Southwestern, wrote Glennis a letter of appreciation following her last gift to the University, three years after her husband's death, stating that it was the largest scholarship fund at Southwestern.

Glennis McCrary Goodrich was a yearbook beauty during her senior year at Baylor.

Glennis is still working, from an office in her home, five and six days a week, making investments which will later go to Baylor. She is currently working on a project to build a new music school building which will be named in her honor. She has already given $1.5 million to the project, scheduled for completion in 1992, with ground breaking to be held in January of next year. A room in the building will be furnished with the Goodrich collections of Dorothy Doughy birds, Irish Belleek, jade, Hawkes crystal, antiques, Persian rugs and paintings.

Glennis is a world traveler and has had many exciting times during her travels. In 1972, during a visit to Morocco, Glennis and her late husband were invited by the King's brother to a beautiful luncheon in King Hassan II's summer palace. Dozens of distinguished Moroccans attended. It was there that Glennis met the Moroccan Ambassador to Iran and his wife, Kinza. Kinza and Glennis corresponded for 12 long years after that luncheon, with the former continuing to urge Glennis to visit.

"Finally, in 1984, after (Ambassador) Mehdi was sent to London as Moroccan Ambassador, Kinza wrote me that I must visit them in the beautiful Moroccan Embassy residence, a few blocks from Buckingham Palace," writes Glennis. "I went and stayed three weeks, and if I were asked for the most exciting, most thrilling period of my life, those three weeks would surely be it! When I left, my hostess and the six servants followed me to the Embassy car which would drive me to Gatwick Airport, begging me not to leave!"

During one of the state dinners at the Embassy, Sophocles Papanicolaou, former financial advisor to King Constantine of Greece, and his artist wife, Lilika, were among the guests.

"As soon as Lilika heard that I was from Houston, Tex., she asked me to carry back with me to NASA the portrait she had just completed of Dr. Sally Ride, the first American woman astronaut to fly in space. I agreed to do it, and I am happy to say the portrait hangs at NASA."

Now Glennis' portrait will also occupy a place of honor—in the building that will bear her name on the Baylor campus.

Club celebrates silver birthday

During a recent luncheon and style show, the Richardson-Plano (Tex.) Alumnae Club celebrated its silver anniversary. The club was chartered July 16, 1964. Among the 50+ Pi Phis attending festivities were three charter members: Mary Loving Blair, Texas Beta; Loydell Nash Seward, Oklahoma Beta and Sharlene Smith Gaither, Texas Gamma, and twelve former club presidents. Additionally honored were Mary Blair, Golden Arrow, and Cindie Anderson Burkel, 1989 recipient of the Mary Blair Award for meritorious service to the club.

Highlight of the celebration was the presentation of her private collection of vintage clothing by Texarkana resident, Cornelia Fleeman DeWoody, Arkansas Alpha, mother of current club president, Kathy DeWoody Cullen.

Chairmen for this special event were Sally Smith Williams and Julie Smith Smiley. Immediate past president, Kay Kasten Anderson, was mistress of ceremonies.

Provinces Celebrate

Provinces Lambda and Mu Pi Phis gathered in April for the first joint Province Day, hosted by Indiana Zeta. Included were chapters from both Indiana and Illinois, including Northwestern and the University of Illinois.

Indiana Epsilon received the award for having highest house grade point average. In addition, for the first time in five years, the chapter initiated all 36 pledges together.

Amy Hilgendorf was named Most Outstanding Sophomore in Lambda Province. Amy has been a chapter officer, is a member of Academic Council and has upheld Dean's List of 3.5 or higher each semester.

HOLT HOUSE

Margaret Bowker Cooper, Illinois Alpha, is enjoying her 13th year serving as hostess at 402 East First Avenue, Monmouth, IL. She will greet you upon arrival at the site of our Pi Beta Phi founding.

Mrs. Cooper, what do you do at Holt House?

"My responsibilities at Holt House include the actual running of the house. I supervise maintenance of house and grounds; make appointments for use of the house by actives and alumnae and rentals by the public; conduct tours of the house for those who make appointments or those who just stop in, en route to other destinations usually, but who make a detour off Interstates 80, 74 or 34 to visit the founding home of their Fraternity, Pi Beta Phi."

What happens at Holt House throughout the year?

"Holt House is very busy at the beginning of each college school year when Illinois Alpha actives use it to prepare for all their rush activities. Formal rush party, pledging and initiation ceremonies, Cookie-Shines and Founders' Day celebrations are held here. Illinois Beta-Delta has its initiation ceremonies here and Illinois Theta brings its pledges here for tours and pre-initiation rituals. Other Illinois chapters and several Iowa chapters have come to Holt House. The Monmouth Alumnae Club has meetings and Arrowcraft sales in the home. The Monmouth Arrow Mothers' Club meets here too. The public rents Holt House at very reasonable rates for anniversary and wedding receptions, bridal showers, club meetings and occasional dinner meetings. (There is no charge for active and alumnae groups to use Holt House.) This past winter two weddings took place here."

What are some of the highlights for you in your position as hostess?

"I look forward to the annual meeting of the Holt House Committee, of course, when I have the opportunity to offer suggestions for improvements or repair work to the house and the grounds and to enjoy social time with committee members. I also enjoy the opportunity to meet various members of Grand Council who come to Monmouth from time to time. Meeting and greeting alumnae and actives who just drop in is always a rewarding and interesting experience. Too, it's been especially exciting to meet granddaughters and great granddaughters of some of the Founders."

The Holt House Committee and the National Fraternity are grateful to Margaret Cooper for her gracious hospitality at Holt House. We invite you to stop in for a conversation of your own!

Georgia Alpha has Golden Anniversary

by Eleanor Bushnell Lehner

When Georgia Alpha, Pi Phi's eighty-first chapter, officially joined the family in February, 1939, Grand President Amy Burnham Onken was on hand to install the new chapter and initiate its charter members.

When Georgia Alpha celebrated its fiftieth birthday in April of 1989, Grand President Carolyn Helman Lichtenberg was on hand to present Golden Arrow pins to those charter members, assisted by Sarah Ruth "Sis" Mullis, Director of Alumnae Advisory Committees.

The ceremony occurred at the opening night banquet celebrating "Fifty Years of Friendships" which took place April 7 at the Georgian Hotel in Athens. On February 4, 1939, the chapter's installation banquet had been held at the same location.

Georgia Alpha's membership in 1939 numbered eight colonizers and 13 initiates. Fifty Pi Phis from other chapters attended the initiation and installation events. From that small beginning has grown an award-winning chapter that now numbers 160 members. Approximately 350 guests attended the anniversary events.

As the banquet program continued, Georgia Alpha's first president, Alice Louise Hamlin Lowe introduced Dorothy Coleman Thorman, Illinois Epsilon, who joined the Georgia faculty in 1936 and served as faculty advisor to the new chapter. This lady of distinction, initiated in 1922, shared her recollections of Georgia Alpha's early days.

Ann Bass Godwin, another colonizer and former chapter president, regaled guests with comments about each colonizer as she was introduced. In addition to Alice and Ann, those present were Mildred Campbell Yates, Patsy Loomis Martin, Eleanor Bushnell Lehner and Anne Finch Taylor.

What is a colonizer? A simple definition might be: "A colonizer is a pioneer who leaves the security of familiar surroundings for the purpose of carrying a torch into unknown territory."

In 1938 Alice Hamlin, Missouri Gamma, was selected by Grand Council to transfer to the University of Georgia as president of a probationary group to establish a new Pi Phi chapter on that campus. Jean Parkinson, Nebraska Beta, was selected to serve as treasurer. The previous year Anne Finch, Texas Alpha, had enrolled as a temporary student in order to gather helpful information about life on the campus. Other colonizers who enrolled in 1938 were volunteers and included one from Florida Alpha, four from Florida Beta, and one from Virginia Alpha. These colonizers founded the chapter, with much help from their alumnae advisors.

Caroline Burson Thrasher, who officiated at all of the anniversary events, was Georgia Alpha's first pledge and first president. As chairman of the 50th anniversary celebration she devoted months to the preparations of this inspiring event. 350 guests attended the Saturday Founders' Day luncheon at the Athens Country Club.

Grand President Lichtenberg traced the history of Georgia Alpha, including details about the themes and activities of every one of the chapter's initial week of rush parties . . . to the delight of colonizers and charter members who had participated 50 years ago.

An evening "mixer" and a formal dance followed the luncheon. The closing event, on Sunday morning, was a combination buffet brunch and tour of the chapter house.

When they arrived to visit the house in which they had lived 50 years ago, early members discovered that their traditional Southern white frame home had been transformed into a handsome red brick mansion that coordinates with many of the other recently built or remodeled campus or community structures. They were pleased by the expanded interior space and the gracious decor on the lower floor. And they were delighted by the colorful, original decorations in the profusion of upstairs bedrooms. They were almost tempted to start college all over again.

Founders come alive in personal stories

by Martha Kay Kelly Carter

In the true spirit of Founders' Day, the Arlington Heights Alumnae Club remembers the Founders of Pi Beta Phi each year and reflects on their lives. It isn't often, however, that today's alumnae can be transported backwards in time for some personal glimpses of the college and family lives of those special women. Arlington Heights' own Juanita Wimbigler Reinhard did just that when, as a Golden Arrow honoree in 1989, she passed a picture to her sisters at Founders' Day and told a story.

Juanita wove a tapestry rich in Pi Phi history where her own family history was entwined. Although not Pi Phis themselves, Juanita's grandmother, Mary Louise Wimbigler and her great aunt, Alice Wimbigler, were close personal friends of Clara Brownlee Hutchinson, Emma Brownlee Kilgore and Inez Smith Soule. Many good times were spent on the Monmouth College campus where Alice was a math teacher for 50 years. Alice had such influence at Monmouth College that, in the 1940s, a dormitory was built and named in her honor and is still in use today.

As Juanita continued and the picture moved from table to table, stories of these proud women during college years and beyond became real. Stories unfolded about Juanita's maternal grandmother, Anna Porter Watt, and her membership in I.C. Sorosis in the 1870s. Stories continued of Juanita's mother, Lucille Watt Wimbigler, and her desire for the sisterhood during her college days at Monmouth in the early 1900s. Sororities were banned at Monmouth then. The ideals of our Founders persevered and sororities made a comeback in time for the oldest of Lucille Wimbigler's daughters, Elizabeth, to be initiated into Illinois Alpha in 1928. A second daughter, Maxine Wimbigler Menely, pledged loyalty to the wine and blue also at Monmouth and was initiated in 1936. The last sister, Juanita, became the last link in the long chain of her family's Pi Beta Phi history; a history that now includes three Golden Arrow sisters. Her own 50 years of Pi Phi memories began at Monmouth College like so many "sisters" before her. She was a very proud initiate in 1939.

For the Arlington Heights Alumnae Club, the 1989 Founders' Day was particularly memorable. We gave Golden Arrow Juanita her 50 year pin with our appreciation, our love and our thanks for her years of service to the Fraternity. In addition to her contributions to Pi Phi, what better place could Juanita concentrate her efforts but in service to the college her family has loved for so many years. After many years on Monmouth College's Alumni Board of Directors, Juanita is a worthy member of the Senate and Board of Trustees for the college.

We thank Juanita for helping us to turn back the calendar for a look at her rich Pi Phi history and her family's friendship with our Founders.

Amber Williams, Indiana Alpha, is one of eight students participating in a newly formed Franklin College pep band. The band plays for all home basketball games and helps in raising school spirit. With Amber is fellow musician Kevin Voigt.

Senate confirms Jenna Dorn for Labor Department post

Jennifer Lynn Dorn, Oregon Beta, an Oregonian who served four years on the staff of U.S. Senator Mark O. Hatfield, has been confirmed by the Senate as an assistant secretary of labor for policy.

Jenna, raised in Corvallis, graduated from Oregon State University in 1973 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in journalism. That year she was named Pi Phi's national winner of the Amy B. Onken award. While in college, she worked as a reporter for the Corvallis Gazette-Times.

After graduation, Jenna went to New Haven, Conn., where she took a clerical job in the Financial Aid office at Yale to help pay her husband's way through graduate school. Working menial tasks with other women who were busy putting their husbands through school lit in her a fire that still burns bright. After a brief stint in the advertising world—"more stereotypical women's stuff," she says—she returned to school herself to get a graduate degree in public administration.

As assistant secretary for policy, Dorn will assist Secretary Dole in carrying out the U.S. Department of Labor's mission of enforcing major laws protecting the wages, health and safety, employment and pension rights of working Americans.

In her role as the secretary of labor's chief advisor on policy and regulatory matters, Dorn will also counsel Secretary Dole concerning the department's responsibilities in equal employment opportunity, job training, unemployment insurance, workers' compensation, free collective bargaining, and labor statistics.

Dorn received a Master of Arts degree in public administration in 1977 from the University of Connecticut and served as legislative assistant to Senator Hatfield from 1977 to 1981. She also served as a staff member of the Jennifer Dorn returns to government service.

Senate Appropriations Committee, before joining then-Transportation Secretary Dole in the U.S. Department of Transportation.

Dorn was appointed as associate deputy secretary of transportation in 1985, also a Senate-confirmed position, and chief of staff at the department. Prior to this, she was the first director of the Office of Commercial Space Transportation, created in response to the President's Executive Order to encourage the development of the private sector space transportation industry. As a result of that effort, the U.S. for the first time has aggressively and successfully entered the commercial space market.

Prior to joining the Department of Labor, Dorn was director of strategic planning for the Martin Marietta Corporation in Bethesda, Md.

She is a member of the Oregon Women's Forum.

Circle the Dates

Ohio Iota, University of Dayton, will be installed the weekend of October 13, 1989.

Connecticut Beta, Yale University, will be installed the weekend of November 10, 1989.

Pi Phis from throughout the U.S. shared the friendship bond during 3½ months of Semester at Sea. Studying and visiting 11 countries were: Whitney Massey, Washington Alpha, front; 2nd row: Christine Rosenhauer, Ohio Eta; Allison Ward, Texas Alpha; Cynthia Cazort, Louisiana Alpha. 3rd row: Elizabeth Seeley, Washington Alpha; Marguerite McKeever, Ohio Eta; Lori Starnes, Texas Beta. Top row: Malda Swensen, Colorado Alpha; Kristin King, Arizona Alpha; Krista Ina, Oklahoma Beta.

Marilynn Edgecomb, left, and Jean Nelson are the 1989 and 1988 winners, respectively, of the Lincoln Alumnae Club's D. W. Morgan Alumnae Award.

Marilynn wins Morgan Award

In April, Nebraska Beta celebrated Founders' Day at the Lincoln University Club with recognition of excellence in both collegians and alumnae.

Tiffany Seevers, Mortar Board and Panhellenic president, received the Mildred Holland Cline Scholarship and the Kate Snow Pin for her outstanding contributions to chapter and campus activities.

Jean MacDonald Nelson, last year's recipient of the Dorothy Weaver Morgan Alumnae Award, presented Marilynn Monfore Edgecomb with this award for 1989. This award is given annually to a Lincoln Alumnae Club member who has shown leadership and promoted the ideals of Pi Beta Phi. Marilynn has served the collegiate chapter and alumnae club in many capacities, most recently as AAC financial advisor.

Both Marilynn and Jean have remained loyal to Pi Phi and have made consistent contributions to the Lincoln Alumnae Club.

Volunteer honored in Canada

Shirley Bradshaw, Manitoba Alpha, has been honored for the more than 25 years of dedicated volunteer commitment she has given in the city of Winnipeg, Canada.

One of 52 Canadians who recently received the Canada Volunteer Award—Certificate of Merit, from Health and Welfare Minister Jake Epp, Shirley is thrilled about this public recognition, but laughs that she's "just a girl who can't say no."

Nominated for the honor by the Society for Manitobans with Disabilities, required letters of support came from Creative Retirement, United Way and the Social Planning Council—all organizations in which Shirley has volunteered, often as a committee chair and/or as an informed, skilled board member.

An academic with a Masters from UCLA, she has been active in the University Women's Club, was president in 1979 and then served on the Status of Women and Human Rights committees and chaired the nominating committee for the Canadian Federation of University Women.

She has been active nationally in Pi Beta Phi, serving as Province Vice President, Director of Alumnae Programs, and member and chairman of the nominating committee. She continues to serve the Winnipeg Alumnae Club as its philanthropy chairman.

Though now professionally retired, Shirley has had a number of interesting careers. She has been a French and German teacher in Colorado and at the University of Winnipeg; personnel and interview training at the Great-West Life; censor of POW letters in Ottawa during the war and Director of the Women's Bureau of the provincial government until retirement in 1984.

In the University Alumni Journal, Mary Lile Benham wrote, "As well as natural endowments of intelligence and grace, Shirley has the ability to communicate to others the skills and knowledge she has acquired, particularly at the executive and organizational level. Here is a happy woman who feels she has experienced personal growth in the discipline of learning, in interacting with the interesting people she has met and in studying trends in her own community and the wider world community."

Shirley received her award at a luncheon last fall, along with letters of congratulations from Jake Epp and her Member of Parliament Dan McKenzie.

Sue Doan named Woman of Year

The Cincinnati Enquirer annually names ten area women as Women of the Year, honored for extraordinary community service. Nominations come from the community and an Enquirer panel makes the final selections. Chosen as one of the ten this year was Sue Logan Doan, Ohio Delta, and the winners were honored at a public luncheon last March.

Sue has certainly exhibited extraordinary community service. She raises funds and is a community liaison for the Human Involvement Project, Inc., working on both the 1988 and 1989 American Negro Spiritual Festival; she is on the board of St. Rita School for the Deaf; a chairman of The Unquenchable Fire, a fund-raiser for the United Methodist Church West Ohio Conference; a board member for a church-related nursing facility for the elderly; a board member of the association of volunteers for the Convalescent Hospital for Children where she organized and managed the 1984 Antiques Festival; president of the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra's Women's Committee and scholarship committee member for the College of Mount St. Joseph.

Volunteering was centered around the church when Sue was growing up on a farm in Kentucky. "If someone needed something, you went in and helped."

This, plus volunteer work encouraged by Ohio Wesleyan, are part of her motivation as a volunteer. She feels there are many people who sit back, who could do wonderful and needed jobs in their communities. Her advice is to call an organization and volunteer. Then be willing to accept direction and made some adjustments.

Sue has done just that, over the years. In his letter of nomination, chaplain John Wesley Seay wrote, "Sue Doan has revealed an ever increasing awareness of community needs and has shown an expanding commitment to serve humanity in meaningful ways."

Sue and her husband, Rupert, a judge with the First Appellate Court of Ohio, have one daughter. She considers that daughter her biggest accomplishment and enjoyed everything her daughter did in her growing up.

Last winter three Illinois Etas traveled to Peoria, Ill., to honor a 67-year Golden Arrow Pi Phi, Gertrude Wollenberger Leetz. Attending the celebration were (l-r) Ruth Ann Leetz, Gertrude, Beth Burkhalter and Kell Cates.

Children's Hospital of Birmingham, Ala., was recipient of local philanthropic efforts of the Pi Phi Career Club, an interest group of the Birmingham Alumnae Club. Jill Verdine Wood, left, and Kay Williams Wise, right, were two members who helped make Valentine door decorations for the young patients.

Initiation at Virginia Eta at the University of Richmond provided another three generations in Pi Phi. Initiate Tiffany Francis, center, joined her Texas Alpha mother, Marjorie Mallett Francis and her Texas Alpha Golden Arrow grandmother, Marjorie Archer Mallett.

Award is renamed

In recognition of her long standing service and faith, Michigan Beta has renamed its highest GPA award as the Edith Marshall Award. Edith Stanley Marshall, Montana Alpha, has shown her support for over 50 years in Ann Arbor by holding every office in the alumnae club. In addition, Edith has served as secretary for Michigan Beta House Corporation for many years.

At the 100th anniversary Founders' Day celebration, Edith donated her initiation pin with pearls to be worn by each recipient of the award in years to come. Senior Lynne Brooks, this year's winner of the Edith Marshall Award, accepted the pearled pin with a smile and a hug for a teary-eyed Edith.

Province officer is League Sustainer

The Junior League of Omaha Sustainer of the Year is Carolyn Steger Hansen, Iowa Gamma. A graduate of Iowa State University with a degree in home economics, Carolyn is the current Alumnae Province President for Rho Province.

Carolyn is a member of many civic organizations and service leagues. She is currently a member of the Omaha Symphony Association Presidents' Council, sits on the Omaha Playhouse Board of Trustees, is a member of the Salvation Army Women's Board, an Elder in the Presbyterian Church and a member of the Women's Town Hall Board.

In the League, Carolyn chaired the Heritage Theater Project which toured junior high schools with a play of educational value. She chaired the cultural arts committee and founded the discovering art project which still exists under the sponsorship of the Joslyn Art Museum. She also served as sustaining representative to the board.

A golfer, a bridge and tennis player, Carolyn and husband Robert have raised three children, all of whom are married. There are now two grandsons in the family.

Jan Shrader Mossman, Pi Phi's official parliamentarian, is a close and long time friend and was able to present the Sustainer of the Year award to Carolyn at the annual meeting of the JLO in May.

Nancy Olson is honored by Rockford Panhellenic

Nancy Nichols Olson, Illinois Zeta, is Rockford (Ill.) Panhellenic's 1989 Woman of the Year. A long time community leader, Nancy received the award last spring in recognition of sorority loyalty as a member of Pi Phi and more than 25 years of volunteer leadership in Rockford.

Nancy is the mother of four children and grandmother of nine. She has served as president of the Rockford Woman's Club and founding chairman and guiding light of the club's Senior Activity Center, the flourishing facility that has served thousands of senior citizens since 1961.

The Panhellenic winner is past chairwoman of the boards of the county home for the aged and Keith Country Day School's Home and School Association and an active member of her church. She initiated shut-in visits there, and has been chairman of the Board of Deaconesses.

Currently Nancy is secretary of the boards of Wesley Willow Retirement Home and the Rock Valley Foundation. She is also Arrowcraft chairman of the Rockford Alumnae Club, having served that group in all offices. She now opens her home annually for Arrowcraft sales.

Connecticut Alphas proudly display three trophies collected last spring. Awards included 1st, Greek Week; 2nd, Sigma Chi Derby Days; and Most Improved Chapter GPA.

Celebrate Kansas Beta!

Mark your calendars for April 27-28, 1990 for the Kansas Beta 75th Anniversary celebration. Plans include campus and house tours, a Founders' Day luncheon and a dinner dance.

Peacocks and Pi Phis combined to make a special Founder's Day for the Montgomery (AL) Alumnae Club. Celebrating at The Peacock's Feather were (Back, l-r): Marjorie Kale York, Jane Matthews Farnsworth, Carol Johnson Telehany, Tricia Ruth Culpepper, Kelly Pate, Carol Tew Bailey, Jane Pearson Roark. Front: Nancy Scott Mitchell, Dede Houck Harbin, Ella Boyd Martin.

When Elizabeth Collet, right, was initiated into California Alpha, she became the sixth Pi Phi in her family. Attending her initiation were her grandmother, Frances Ferguson Freeman, left, and her mother, Martha Freeman Reed, center, both Missouri Alphas.

Foyer is dedicated

On Founders' Day last spring, Illinois Eta Pi Phis dedicated the foyer of their house to Helen Moffett Russell, a dedicated, special Pi Phi. Mrs. Russell has devoted many hours and a lot of her love to Pi Beta Phi, and to show her how much the chapter loves her, the lovely foyer was named the Mrs. Helen Russell Hall.

Founders' Day was not only special to Mrs. Russell, but also to house mom, Mrs. Ruth Weekly. Mom Ruth had been house mom for three years and had decided that it is time to move on. Although this was Mom Ruth's last Founders' Day, it was really her first. Early that morning she was initiated into Pi Beta Phi.

Agnes MacDonald, Manitoba Alpha, is chairing the Manitoba Council on Aging, and last February was one of 15 Canadian women who attended the Ottawa Conference on Women & Aging. Agnes was a founding member of Manitoba Alpha in 1929.

Three Texas Alphas, including identical twins Alexandra and Mary Wallace, above, made their international debuts in New York City last December, presented by the New York Bachelors Club. The twins, along with pledge sister Cristy Craddock, were among 50 debutantes from around the world who were presented at the event benefiting the Leukemia Society and other charities.

Agency features Pi Phi talent

The recent opening of a new advertising agency in Austin, Tex., Warren/Martino, Inc., combines the talents of Gay Warren Gaddis, Texas Alpha, previously senior vice president at Fellers & Gaddis, and David Martino, former creative director at Fellers & Gaddis.

"Warren/Martino was formed with one basic idea in mind," Gay explained. "Creativity should be the driving force in the marketing process. While still maintaining a built-in measuring device for our projects, we're pushing the creative limit and seeking a new level of quality in client service."

Gay's career spans from Dallas as a writer/designer to marketing director of an Atlanta-based national management consulting firm. She was also head of the public relations department at Baylor Medical Center, largest hospital in the southwest, where she led the task force to design and implement graphic standards for the entire system. Most recently, she spent seven years building Fellers, Lacy & Gaddis, Inc., marketing consultants. As one of the firm's partners, Gay had management responsibility for the creative product for all clients, and served on the company's board of directors. Specifically, she developed a healthcare marketing group and is now a recognized expert across the southwest.

Between Gay and David, they have taken home over 40 local and regional Addy's, and over 15 Telly's. Their combined 25 years of experience involves work on a wide range of accounts including: transportation, cable, telecommunications, real estate, health care, financial services, professional services, hospitality, tourism, energy, retail, and food.

There are two Pi Phis working with Gay in her company. Texas Alpha Rena McGaughy was employed with a public relations and governmental affairs firm in Washington, DC before returning to Texas to join Gay's firm. An intern, Tiffany Waters, is also a Pi Phi, so Gay feels that the company is off to a good start.

Joan Caspero, Virginia Zeta, 3rd from left, joined other chapter presidents in a groundbreaking ceremony that kicked off the construction of a series of Greek housing at Virginia Tech. The new Pi Phi house is expected to be completed by fall 1990.

The enthusiasm and ingenuity of New York Gammas did it again! Greek Sing, on the Administration Building steps, kicked off Greek Week 1989 at St. Lawrence University. The annual competition was won for the third year in a row by the Pi Phis. (Photo by J. Brendan McLaughlin)

Renee Henry, right, Washington Beta, shares a proud moment with her Washington Beta mother, Nancy Heglar Henry, after Nancy was chosen Mom of the Year at Washington State. Nancy is also Pi Phi's Chi Province President.

Indiana Alphas Val Liby and Buffy Bemis were two of the top ten seniors in the 1989 graduating class at Franklin College. They were selected by their classmates and faculty members.

Virginia honors Isabel Rogers

A resolution passed by the Virginia General Assembly recently honored Dr. Isabel Rogers, Florida Beta, professor of applied Christianity of the Presbyterian School of Christian Education. The Honorable Franklin P. Hall, member of the House of Delegates, made the official presentation on Sunday, February 19, at Westminster Presbyterian Church in Richmond. It was an unexpected honor for Dr. Rogers who preached the sermon on that day.

The Virginia Senate and House of Delegates adopted the resolution to honor Dr. Rogers for "her term as spokesperson for the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.), for her many personal achievements, and for her continued devotion to her ministry, her ideals, and her fellow human beings."

Isabel is the immediate past moderator of the denomination. (See ARROW story, pg 17, Winter 1987) In 1986 while on sabbatical leave, she was a full-time volunteer in the Richmond YWCA's program for battered women and rape victims. She is presently an elder at the Ginter Park Presbyterian Church.

The General Assembly resolution cited her teaching, her campus ministry, her authorship of five Presbyterian study books and her service to battered women in their award.

She was awarded the YWCA's Outstanding Woman's Award in Religion in 1986.

Kate Elias, Texas Zeta, crowned the new queen at the annual Beaux Arts Ball in Jacksonville, Ill., following her 1988-89 reign. The ball is sponsored by the Art Association of Jacksonville. Kate is attending the Energy Institute in Moscow, Russia, this semester, pursuing her studies in Russian language and history. She is a summer graduate from Baylor.

Mandrell receives Wilkerson Award

by Lynn Alexander Carden

The Nashville Alumnae Club was delighted when Barbara Mandrell received the first Fawn Wilkerson Award on May 2 in the Grand Ballroom of the Hermitage Hotel in Nashville, Tenn. In attendance at the ceremony were chairmen of Christmas Village, sponsored by the Nashville Alumnae Club. It is a major contributor to the Bill Wilkerson Speech and Hearing Center.

Nashville's own Nancy Fawn Wilkerson Diehl and Jane Wilkerson Yount, Tennessee Betas, are the daughters of Fawn Wilkerson for whom the award is named. Nancy Hart Diehl Harvey, Virginia Gamma, along with others, including Pi Phi alumnae club president, Cathy Aderholt Head, Alabama Gamma, serve on the board for the Center. Through their representation, much significance is given to Pi Beta Phi.

As a facility of the Bill Wilkerson Hearing and Speech Center, the Pi Beta Phi Rehabilitation Institute honored Barbara Mandrell's efforts towards community awareness of seat belt usage. "We are deeply appreciative to her for speaking out on this serious issue," said Fred Bess, director of the Wilkerson Center.

"Most of our patients in the rehabilitation program have sustained head injuries because of automobile accidents. Barbara Mandrell's own rehabilitation has been an inspiration for many victims of car wrecks. Her courage and determination exhibited a strength of character essential for recovery," added Bess.

After her much publicized automobile accident in 1983, Mandrell took her seat belt advocacy to the Tennessee State Legislature and to the entire nation via a public service announcement on audio, video and posters which strongly urged "Buckle up—you may never have another chance."

Nuclear librarian elected to Board

Lois Shand Webster, Illinois Eta, of Glen Ellyn, Ill., is manager of Information Resources for the American Nuclear Society, and has been elected to the Board of Directors of the Special Libraries Association (SLA) for a three-year term. She took office at the Association's annual meeting last June in New York City. SLA is an international association of information professionals who work in special libraries serving business, research, government, universities, newspapers, museums and institutions that use or produce specialized information.

Lois has served as chairman of the Nuclear Science Division and the bylaws committee of the Illinois chapter and chaired SLA's bylaws committee for the past two years.

Her other professional activities include membership in the American Society for Information Science, the Council of Engineering and Scientific Society Executives, and the Chicago section of the American Nuclear Society. She has served as special libraries representative on the Advisory Committee to the Board of Directors of the Suburban Library System of Illinois, and on the Executive Committee and Board of Directors of the Metropolitan Chicago Library Assembly. She is currently listed in "Who's Who in Finance and Industry."

She has authored or co-authored more than a dozen papers, speeches, or presentations delivered in the U.S., Korea, Guatemala, Canada and Brazil. She has written a chapter, "Electronic Communications, A Passport to the World," in Association International Activity, published by the American Society of Association Executives in 1988, and has contributed an article, "Indoor Radon Conference," to the June 1987 issue of Nuclear News.

Lois is widowed, has three married sons and is the proud grandmother of four.

The American Nuclear Society is an international scientific, engineering and educational organization dedicated to the peaceful applications of nuclear science with a worldwide membership of more than 16,000 engineers, scientists and educators in government, academia and private industry.

Club sponsors career night

Last April, the Maryland-DC Suburban Alumnae Club and its Junior Group organized a career night for Maryland Beta actives at the University of Maryland. A junior alum, Sharon Olmstead, visited the career center at University and picked up brochures for the actives. She also explained several of the services provided there.

Breaking into small groups, based on careers of alumnae and interests or majors of the actives, gave undergraduates the opportunity to ask questions or share concerns with people in similar fields.

The evening ended with a Cookie-Shine. It was an enjoyable evening with time for fun as well as time to share meaningful information that may help the actives as they venture into the world.

An unusual number of VIP Pi Phis attended the tri-state area Founders' Day celebration last spring, sponsored by the Westchester (NY) Alumnae Club. From back, l-r: Susan Johnson, outgoing Northern New Jersey Club president; Pat Shidler, Alpha Collegiate PP; Pat Davis, Fairfield (Conn.) Club president; Nancy Keene, Beta APP; Barbara Feldkamp, Beta CPP; Kay Pirrong, Chair, Settlement School Board of Governors; Joan Stettler, Chair, Loan Fund; Patty Gervey, Westchester Club president. Front: Janet Hamilton, Director of Alumnae Extension; Anne Bartlett, Nominating Committee; Carolyn Lichtenberg, Grand President; Kay Baker, Alpha APP.

Lois Locke Curtis, Missouri Alpha, 1914, is a member of the Sarasota-Manatee (Fla.) Alumnae Club and celebrated her 75th anniversary in Pi Beta Phi at Founders' Day. She is a charter member of the club, chartered in January, 1965, and they presented her with a dozen wine carnations.

ALABAMA

Birmingham

Establishment of the Pi Phi Career Club as a new branch of the Birmingham Alumnae Club attracted a number of recent graduates and career women to evening meetings. Interesting programs enjoyed at the regular luncheon meetings included a demonstration of Christmas decorations, a holiday party featuring Christmas carols presented by a high school choral group and a talk on personal safety and self defense by a police officer.

Two joint meetings were held: one in October featuring a trunk showing and sale of Arrowcraft with a program presented by the Shop Manager, Mary Dale Swan, the other in April celebrating Founders' Day.

Our local philanthropy "Seniority Shopping" provided merchandise for two on-site shopping days at a retirement center. One day featured Arrowcraft and the other a boutique of Christmas gifts supplied by a local department store. The Career group selected the Children's Hospital for their philanthropic efforts and spent a fun evening making Valentine door decorations for the young patients.

Our annual membership luncheon opened the fall season. Highlight of our year was hosting Alumnae Province President, Gloria Sloan Gooder, and the 1989 Convention chairman, Karen Emberton. After hearing Karen's glowing Convention plans, many of us will be in attendance in San Diego.

December found us busy with the sale of Entertainment Books and Christmas greenery. Our Angels and Arrowcraft holiday tea helped make this a great year for Arrowcraft sales.

We were fortunate to tap one of our own members, author Jacque Michelson, who reviewed her new book "Divorce Survival."

Along with Arizona Beta we celebrated Founders' Day, held our annual Cookie-Shine and socialized with our husbands at the Cinco de Mayo party.

Barbara Langmade Maiuorm

Tucson

The Tucson Alumnae Club has been busy with some special events. One of the favorites was held at the Arizona Alpha chapter house. The Tucson Club invited the Green Valley Pocket Club for a luncheon and house tour. The day was enjoyed by everyone and was topped off with a meeting in the chapter room and a Cookie-Shine.

Another luncheon was held in March when the club enjoyed a presentation on philanthropies.

On Founders' Day, 12 Golden Arrows and one 75 year member were honored.

Susan Lopez Podgorski

ARKANSAS

Fort Smith

Our club has had an exciting year beginning with the April Founders' Day celebration. It was a salad supper at the home of Eloise Bedwell. All the Pi Phis were out selling hot dogs at the Fort Smith River Festival in May as our fundraiser. A rush meeting and supper was held in June at the lake home of Garnet Montgomery Watts. Our new Alumnae Province President, Jane Bonady Watson, visited in October at the home of Margaret Babcock Graham. Christmas was celebrated with our four new pledges and their parents, actives and alumnae with dates/husbands at the home of Janelle Young Hembree. It was beautifully decorated and it was a fun party for all.

CALIFORNIA

Central Orange County

For meetings having speakers, Program Chairman Barbara Beaumont Dreibelbis planned for our presenters to be Pi Phis. At one meeting on "How To Start A Small Business," Barbara spoke on her business of designed and crafted gifts, Elsie Beall Hale covered interior design, Janet Weatherall Marsh described beautiful fabrics and the classes offered at her Flying Geese Store—and all three ladies displayed delightful examples and fielded questions. At other meetings, Beleny "Binnie" Busby Beaumont demonstrated how to entertain with ease and grace; Johann Wertz Jonas, from the neighboring South Coast Alumnae Club, presented magnificent slides and memories from her travels in Africa; visiting APP Ellie Moore Merrick shared Pi Phi stories and experiences with us; and Bobbin Fuller-Vandenberg, a speaker and volunteer from our local philanthropy, the Women's Transitional Living Center for abused women, turned out to be a Pi Phi!!

Phyllis Cox Smith

Del Sol North

This year our big event was having Convention on our very surf. We looked forward to and planned for it all year.

In November we instigated an "Art Auction" party with the other three San Diego Clubs. It was a painless and lucrative way to raise needed "gold" for our contribution to the Welcome to San Diego Dinner.

The spring ARROW was very generous in its recognition of the crew of Sailing Angels, many of whom are members of our club. Patricia English Kelting, Welcome Dinner chairman, and Doone Hill Lewis, her assistant, are past presidents of Del Sol North.

Our final meeting was combined with a work shop, making parts for our "Orange Surfers" table decor.

Joan Maxwell Danzinger

Glendale

We held our November meeting at one of our city's historic treasures, The Doctors' House, named because its earliest occupants were four doctors, each following the other in ownership of the home dating from 1901. The home was moved to Brand Park and restored in furnishings and structure. A docent from the Glendale Historical Society gave us an informative talk. We enjoyed an Angel Exchange in December with the La Canada club at the home of Alice Hoyt Spence. We sent hand made angel card holders to new actives with a personal note wishing them luck in finals and letting them know they are in our hearts and minds. We look forward to another stimulating year.

Elizabeth McCullough Reynolds

La Jolla

We know all of you are by now familiar with our president's talent. The ARROW spring issue cover design by Ann Denker Webster was just a teaser for her creations greeting you at the superconvention in June.

With one exception, this year we scheduled an all-Pi Phi program year, beginning with a California Kappa collegian who had just returned from Arrowmont; continuing with Bill and Betty Paine Hunefeld's art collection; and Judith Mead Johnson's professional image enhancement. We also introduced a Saturday continental breakfast which helped us meet several new professional members. Our membership is up and growing, and California Kappa now has a house corporation, all of whom are alumnae of Virginia Gamma.

The Welcome to San Diego dinner committee of Convention had some good tricks up their sleeves waiting for June 17. By the time you read this, you will be looking back on this with a big smile on your Pi Phi faces.

Virginia Poust

North San Diego County

When you read these "Forum Notes" the 1989 Convention will be a thing of the past, but for those of us who were able to work "behind the scenes" it will be a cherished memory. We kicked off our year in September with Karen Emberton

Henry, Convention chairman, as guest speaker. Her enthusiasm was contagious, and 11 of our members were chairmen or assistant chairmen on the Convention committee. In addition, we called upon the rest of our angels for innumerable volunteer hours. Attending and working at Convention has served to remind us, as alumnae, that we are an integral part of a nationwide sisterhood, whether undergraduate or graduate.

November brought us a view of Holt House with a slide show presented by Judy Peters Ruzich and Dorothy Toll kept us busy making and filling children's hygiene kits for Hidden Valley House, women's crisis center.

Holidays bring our traditional ornament exchange as well as our Christmas greens fundraiser. Under the chairmanship of Joe Thompson Strong, we went over the top. Rudi Snider Fugate, membership chairman and president of Bernardo Gardeners, taught us the art of holiday floral arrangements.

Capping a busy, fun-filled year was our Valentine Buffet. Joan Pruitt Rearick kept beaux and husbands busy vying to name song titles with "love" in the title. Is there an eligible Pi Phi song?

Daphne McGavack Durant

Palo Alto

Have you ever been to Russia? Well, not many people have but our Palo Alto Alumnae Club is fortunate to have as one of our members a high school teacher, Grace Rynkus Hasbrook, who travels each summer with a group of students (as well as her husband!) to different countries in the world.

Last summer they toured Russia and Grace shared her collection of slides, as well as her impressions and stories, at our March meeting held at the home of Helen Vogl Van Horne. Members were fascinated. We were also lucky to have our Alumnae Province President, Nancy Trogman, present to enjoy the evening.

It was truly a night to remember and Grace made us feel as though we had made this exciting trip ourselves!

Cathy Sorensen Buurma

Riverside

Highlight of our year was the installation of California Lambda Chapter at the University of California/Riverside. Marilyn Matts Cartier headed a committee of alumnae who worked very hard during the summer and fall.

Our annual Arrowcraft sale was held in the fall also. Jane Stout Meairs' lovely home was the site of the sale. Kay Kline Harris continues to be our Arrowcraft chairman and, in addition to being chairman of the sale, she sells items from her home throughout the year.

Now that we have a local chapter at the University, we hope some of the area's recent Pi Phi graduates will join our club.

Judith Mober Borden

Sacramento

Sacramento Alumnae Club is having a busy and fun filled year. Socially, we started the fall season with a couples barbecue. Our Holiday Cocktail Party was, as always, a big success, giving us all a chance to try some great new recipes.

Our program schedule was varied and interesting. In an effort to include working membership, many meetings were held during the noon hour or in the evening. Highlights include a "Grazing Dinner" and program from a cooking specialty store with catalog sales. Another favorite was a tour of our State Capitol followed by lunch.

We have hosted the Pi Phi Domino Tournament, our major fund-raiser, for 22 years. Our profits were divided between the active chapters at U.C. Davis, California State University/Chico and the Grass Valley Red Cross, to help families devastated by forest fires last Fall in northern California.

Founders' Day was a special occasion, honoring 75 year Pi Phi, Rofena Beach Polk, California Alpha 1914. Also among our honorees were nine Golden Arrows.

Somehow, our president, Kim McLain Miller, led us in a very productive year, as well as gave birth to her first child, Jacob Malone.

Jane McFadden Fobes

San Fernando Valley

Each year the San Fernando Valley Alumnae Club honors its Golden Arrow members with a special luncheon at which time the club presents each new Golden Arrow member with her pin. This year we honored Nancy Haycock Kemp and Catherine Preston Parkins. Those attending the luncheon were also treated to a presentation by our hostess and speaker, Cheryl Trostrud-White, an expert in the quilting field. She delighted all with her designs and shared her experiences at Arrowmont as this year's Area Council Arrowmont Scholar.

Glodean Kerkmann Gates

Santa Barbara

We began the year with a luncheon at Montecito's Cafe Del Sol, where we introduced three new members to the club.

In February, we held an Arrowcraft sale at the California Zeta chapter house on the campus of the University of California, Santa Barbara. The sale was held during UCSB's Parents Weekend, so the alumnae had an opportunity to meet with some of the parents. We also enjoyed a delicious brunch.

Founders' Day was held at the Four Seasons Biltmore. This is always a big event for the Santa Barbara Club because we have the largest turnout all year of alumnae and actives. It gives alumnae a chance to hear about the impressive accomplishments the girls have made all year.

Marion Gaylord Macfadyen

Santa Rosa

Due to a very successful holiday auction held in November at the Wild Oak Saddle Club, Valley of the Moon Alumnae Club was able to support our Pi Phi philanthropies as well as several local ones. Our club feels it is important to be recognized locally. We voted to donate funds to Canine Companions, The Women's Shelter, and the Santa Rosa Children's Chorus. The Chorus was started in 1984 by Juelle Spindler Hinman. They continue to perform under her capable leadership.

Our club won a Best Yearbook Award for 1988-1989, thanks to the artistic abilities of President Jean Hart Carroll and past President Beverly Nelson Zahl. This was the second time our club has won this award; the first time being in 1977.

Verley Takkinen Gregerson

South Bay

Our annual Christmas party and gift exchange, directed by Program Chairman, Mil June Manning Heger, began with much enthusiasm as we sang and acted out the verses of "The Twelve Days of Christmas." Age did not matter as each member gave it her best and we ended our performance in joyful laughter. It was a perfect "ice breaker" and an introduction to the "Angel" gift exchange which followed. We had each been asked to bring a gift in the form of an angel, and the variety was fun to see. Christmas carols followed and the evening came to a close with the singing of "Silent Night." We all went home with a renewed feeling of Christmas and Pi Phi love in our hearts.

Sandra McCracken Jacobsen

South Coast

We have experienced another successful year under the leadership of Elsie Hale Beall. Our annual Arrowcraft sale was again held at the Sherman Botanical Gardens. Box lunches we prepared were an added inducement to many who attended from the community. Our annual Christmas party with our husbands lent holiday cheer to the season. Spring found us holding several joint meetings, with our Junior Group, Evening Group and with Central Orange County Alumnae Club. We all joined together for Founders' Day, along with the active Pi Phis from California Eta at the University of California, Irvine. The end of the year was a busy time as we were in charge of the programs and decorations for the Wine Carnation Banquet at the San Diego Pi Phi Convention. Workshops were held to assemble the centerpieces. Many Pi Phi alums contributed their time and talents to make this event a success.

Kay Brown

CANADA

Winnipeg

The club hosted a special evening in February when Agnes MacDonald spoke on the founding of Manitoba Alpha Chapter at the University of Manitoba in 1929. We were taken back 60 years to the experiences of university life and the year leading up to our charter. Joan Campbell Mackie added to the pleasure of the evening with her collection of Fraternity memorabilia, including a congratulatory telegram received as we became a new Pi Phi chapter. It was wonderful to reflect how friendships have continued and grown over the years. The Winnipeg Alumnae Club will celebrate our 60th anniversary the weekend of October 13-14, 1989.

Sbeila McKinnon Keatch

COLORADO

Colorado Springs

The club was thrilled to learn that it had been selected the Ideal Club for Alpha Beta Province. It has truly been a busy year. Highlights included starting an evening group, having the most successful Arrowcraft sale ever, and hosting a delightful Christmas coffee honoring Pi Phi collegians and their mothers. The club also held its only fund-raiser, a city-wide geranium sale.

Caryn Kocel

CONNECTICUT

Hartford

Our two nicest functions occurred at two consecutive meetings and involved renewing old friendships and making new ones. In December we invited the Manchester Alumnae Club to our Christmas party. Many were former Hartford alumnae and we had a delightful evening with them. They shared our annual Angel Ornament Swap. In January we invited Zeta Tau Alphas to join us. How stimulating to meet another Panhellenic group and to hear about their past and present! A potluck supper, an interesting AIDS awareness program, some wonderful slides of an Egyptian tour, the fun-filled Founders' Day brunch with Connecticut Alpha actives, and a surprise philanthropy program in May rounded out a successful season.

Isabelle Sands (Sandy) Sampson

Manchester Area

In October, we had a tour of the Hicks-Stearns Museum in Tolland, which proved to be extremely interesting.

A joint meeting with the Hartford Club in December and an exchange of angel ornaments with them gave old friends who hadn't seen each other for a long time a chance to visit.

April brought a Founders' Day Sunday brunch at the UConn Alum Center, hosted by the Hartford alums, and our annual Senior Farewell Tea at the home of Elizabeth McAvoey Stewart.

Marcella Burke Masinda

New Haven

October's meeting started a busy year for the New Haven Club. An Arrowcraft sale, Christmas cookie exchange, a Monmouth Duo party with a food drive, and a Founders' Day supper were activities that kept us busy.

These activities were overshadowed, however, by one big event: the club's involvement with a colonizing presentation to Yale University. There were many club members at the presentation and the meeting for alumnae interest. Of course, the club is very excited! We were among the first to know that the presentation was a success and that Connecticut Beta at Yale is now a reality!

Anne E. Varrone

Southern Fairfield County

Joey Blume Hamilton and Lori Hanley Moody organized a very successful and entertaining auction at our annual Christmas brunch. Patricia Wolfe Davis continues our Whig Rose stationery project. And now Tried and True Recipes is hot off the press, thanks to Carole Knoop Buffett.

Dorothy Damon Hagner, a true angel, is our nominee for the Evelyn Peters Kyle Angel award.

We honored three new Golden Arrows: Marquerite Clark Cody, Helen Martin Shiels and Evelyn Bandy Doyle.

Besides informative programs planned by Barbara Hrosenchick Colwell, we enjoyed a boat cruise on the Hudson, a 'behind the scenes' tour of Grand Central Station with our Westchester sisters and an outing to the Darien Dinner Theater.

The most exciting news is our involvement with Connecticut Alpha at the University of Connecticut and our new chapter at Yale.

Ann Beach Jaekle

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

Maryland-D.C.

Since our own Esther Cororan Namian is president of the Washington, D.C. Panhellenic, our year started with a tea in her honor, held at the home of Carolyn Ottinger Kovener. A lovely fall drive to Stonemont Farm, owned by Jodie Trader Long, began a Sunday of tennis, hiking, croquet and good food followed by viewing our Redskins in action. We learned how to "Manage Stress" at the home of Susan Perkins Marsh. Susan Streech Semones and her staff helped us prepare our own table decorations for the holidays, at the home of Edith Bohlayer Schaefer. The Super Bowl Party was a noisy gathering but FUN as a money maker for our club. Carolyn Shary Butts was hostess. "Aiming Straight" was enjoyed by the Junior Club members who joined us for the evening.

A summer picnic at the Spies Shore Shack, the hideaway of Evelyn Dean Spies, finished our year.

Carolyn Ottinger Kovener

Washington

Club members have enjoyed our luncheon gatherings starting last September for our planning and projects meeting, and running through May when we install our new officers. In October we shared the wonderful experience of a week at Arrowmont with two club members who participated in an Elderhostel program. In November we held a successful two day Arrowcraft Sale at the home of loyal supporter, Jane Bronk Councilor. The club has laid groundwork for a new approach to our sale next fall by renting premises for an expanded sale to introduce the fine handcrafted goods to a wider market.

The Christmas luncheon featured a slide lecture presented by a retired professor, who led us on a German tour of castles, villages and cathedrals. Founders' Day is always the big event for April, but we also anticipated a tour of Tudor Place, historic house and garden in Georgetown, recently opened to the public. A day in the Maryland countryside for a picnic lunch in June, at the home of Margaret Nicol Morgan, celebrated a year of cooperation and strong friendship for Pi Phis in Washington.

Nancy Fisher Mitchell

FLORIDA

Clearwater

We have had a year of varied activities. Programs have included basket weaving, self-defense and a talk by Muriel Hooper Curran about her trip to Australia. The meetings have been followed by lunch prepared by members. Along with a Christmas party for members and their husbands, there was also a brunch for actives. Bridge groups continued to offer more opportunities to be together as did meeting for lunch in restaurants and the annual Tasting Luncheon.

In addition to supporting Pi Phi interests, we continue to aid our community by donating baby food and formula to the local Food Pantry. We call this project "Food for Tots" and it brings satisfaction to us to help in this way. We also donate gifts at Christmas for children in need.

Rebecca Mertz Jones

DeLand

At our first meeting of the year, we entertained new pledges of Florida Alpha at Stetson. We enjoyed getting to know these new pledges as we ate a chili supper. In December the actives entertained alumnae at a Christmas tea. We presented a silver punch ladle as a Christmas gift to the chapter. We also made a cash gift to the Neighborhood Center, a community help center.

Our February meeting was a brown bag lunch at which time we viewed the slide presentation, "Arrow in the Arctic." Our special celebration at Founders' Day was recognizing our 75 year Pi Phi, Marian Wright Hull, a faithful member of our club.

Mary Ethel Prather

Miami

Three events were standouts in our 1988-89 club year. We entertained actives and pledges in August at a buffet supper. At our Christmas meeting we each took a toy for a small child who either had been abandoned or was in the care of the child abuse society. This made us think how lucky we and our families are.

In January we had Pi Beta Phi Day at the Races. Pi Phis from Hollywood, Boca Raton, Palm Beach and Miami, along with many husbands, joined together for a buffet lunch and fun at Gulfstream Race Track, owned by a Pi Phi husband. The 5th race was the Pi Beta Phi race, with the winner's trophy presented by a Pi Phi.

Jayne Rapp Dunker

Naples

This year all Naples is excited about the forthcoming opening of our fifteen million dollar Philharmonic Center for the Performing Arts. At our December meeting Myra Daniels, president of the Naples/Harmonic Orchestra told of future offerings. A wonderful asset—a dream come true! Two of our members, Mary Evelyn Jackson Deutschbein, Illinois Zeta and Ruth Kinyon Fisher, Missouri Alpha, are members of Ms. Daniel's board.

Our club participated in Salute to Women at Coastland Mall by displaying Arrowmont literature and posters as well as Arrowcraft items with a supply of one item for sale.

This year our Founders' Day program honored six new Golden Arrow members. Two of our members, Jean VanVoorhees Sherwood, Indiana Alpha, and Helen DeWitt Jury, Michigan Beta, gave brief accounts of their respective chapters' centennial celebrations of last October.

Helen DeWitt Jury

GEORGIA

Atlanta

The Atlanta Alumnae Club had a wonderful time meeting and greeting area actives and their mothers at the annual Mother-Daughter Christmas Tea. The tea was a great success with 90 people attending.

Club President, Amelia Rood Crockett, has offered her home for the gathering for the past two years. Carolyn Beasley Gilbert, chairman of special programs, was in charge of pulling it all together. Refreshments and goodies donated by club members were served.

Along with introducing the alumnae club to actives, especially those actives who go to school out of state, Vincie Albritton, vice president programs, had Arrowcraft items on display for all to see and purchase. Most of the fun, though, was getting to meet the girls and their moms.

Gina Bush Fisher

HAWAII

Honolulu

"Come Back to Pi Phi" was announced as our motto for 1988-89 by incoming president, Geraldine DeBenedetti, at the annual Founders' Day luncheon in April. With over 200 Pi Phi alumnae in Hawaii, our goal is to increase membership and participation in club activities. To encourage alumnae to renew their bonds with Pi Beta Phi, our annual membership book included the entire roster of Hawaii alumnae along with a complete list and description of events for the year planned by V.P. of Programs, Susan Schisler Lamond. The roster was computerized to indicate those interested in business ladies' lunch or bridge gatherings as another way to get more Pi Phis together. For the first time in many years, the yearbook was sent to all Hawaii Pi Phi alumnae rather than just current dues paying members of the alumnae club. The response has been positive and encouraging and we look for more of the Hawaii alumnae to "Come Back to Pi Phi".

Lani Neunzig Hearn

ILLINOIS

Arlington Heights

A variety of events made 1988-1989 special for the Arlington Heights Alumnae Club. Our year began in September with the annual opening potluck dinner held at the home of Eleanor Kinley Jackson. In October, we had our annual Arrowcraft sale which was very successful due to the dedication and hard work of many club members. In November, the collegiate coffee was held at the home of President Virginia Fairbank Tarrant. Area collegiate Pi Phis who were home for Thanksgiving attended with their mothers.

Our Christmas party was held at the home of Marlene Isgren Wenk. As usual, our creative sisters made beautiful crafts for one another. The Beaux and Arrows Brunch in February is always fun. It's an opportunity to meet the men in our sister's lives.

Our club's local philanthropy is Harbour House, a home for troubled and abused teenage girls. Our club is actively involved with one of our members, Barbara Lammers Zust, sitting on the Harbour House board. The club provided gifts for the girls at Christmas and Easter.

Desiree Luckey Robling

Avon-Bushnell (Libbie Brook Gaddis)

Twelve loyal alums were listed on our membership roll as our club celebrated its 60th anniversary.

Our group was pleased to celebrate Founders' Day at Holt House. Alumnae Province President, Elizabeth Davis Vance, was there to greet us, as was the hostess, Margaret Bowker Cooper.

Martha Welsh Davis has joined the ranks of our members who wear the Golden Arrow celebrating fifty years as a Pi Phi.

Each meeting continues to be a renewal of the special bond that binds us in our Pi Phi friendship.

Anne Eckley Haynes

Chicago West Suburban

September potluck continues to be the best attended meeting with the May salad potluck running a close second.

A November pre-holiday hors d'oeuvres party at the home of Marty Owen Arends proved very successful. Members were invited to come alone or with a date or husband, bringing a favorite hors d'oeuvres. A charge of $5.00 per person provided honey-baked ham and beverages.

A December guest day luncheon included our sale of Arrowcraft and an original bean soup mix.

Four new Golden Arrow members and Angel Award candidate Marylou Kinally Lungren were honored at Founders' Day, celebrated with the Hinsdale-Naperville Club.

Our big fund-raiser was a garage sale in May, with Lynn Matousek Gambill serving as chairman.

Virginia Rundberg Daugherty and Jane Thiem Hill excellently served as co-presidents.

Ina Chappell Davis

Monmouth

Monmouth alumnae enjoyed another year of monthly luncheons and meetings. In September we joined members of the national Holt House Committee and the Champaign-Urbana Alumnae Club for a special meeting at Holt House. Their president, Harriet Haycock Brown, presented Holt House with the gift of a rocking chair that had belonged to Fannie Thomson. It is a prized addition to the antiques at Holt House.

We had many contacts with members of the active chapter at Monmouth College. These included a Cookie-Shine in November, guests at our monthly luncheons and while distributing snacks during their exam periods.

Several members spent many hours needle-pointing Pi Beta Phi cushions for a pair of benches in the newly redecorated chapter room. The cushions were designed by Helen Adair Hayes and stitched by Sally Whitman Shroyer and Betty Duncan McBride.

Helen Adair Hayes

North Shore

Our year opened with a fascinating "Creative Cooking" demonstration at the home of Louise Bandy Green followed by a luncheon incorporating those delicacies. The November meeting at Barbara Busse Lawson's was preceded by a most interesting talk and slides of a friend's trip "Bicycling Through China." We celebrated Christmas with the Lake Shore Alumnae Club. Everyone brought gifts for mothers and children at the Evanston Shelter for Battered Women, local philanthropy of both clubs. In February we had a Day for Pi Phi at Jeanne Bresee Hindsley's home with a visit from Mary Ann Galusha Eiserman, Alumnae Province President. Belle Fullerton Foote entertained the group when we welcomed back Sonja Darling who told us about her life in Saudi Arabia.

Jane Edwards McPherson

Oak Park-River Forest

The enthusiasm and hard work of Sharon Polk Callard paved the way for a very enjoyable and successful Arrowcraft sale this year. All members gathered on a beautiful fall day at the home of Susan Gehlmann Schatz. Homemade cookies and cider were served as friends browsed among a wide variety of Arrowcraft treasures. The timing was right to do some Christmas shopping, which surely boosted sales.

Susan Kvasnicka and Nancy Crawford Koller combined their talents to earn an honorable mention for the club program and directory.

Time has been set aside at several meetings to work on items to be sold at Convention boutique. This has been a relaxing time for conversation and for getting to know each other better.

Susan Gehlmann Schatz

INDIANA

Bloomington

During the 1988-89 meeting year, the alumnae club held two meetings in members' homes, two in local restaurants and two at the Indiana Beta chapter house.

For the second consecutive year, local Pi Phis met with Bloomington alumnae members of Kappa Kappa Gamma for a luncheon celebration of Monmouth Duo. Last year Pi Phis asked the Kappas to meet and share historical anecdotes of their co-founding at Monmouth College. This year the groups outlined the philanthropic activities of each sorority. Pi Phi hope that such fellowship will be continued as an annual event.

Jean Johnson Smith

Fort Wayne

Our club began its 1988-89 year with a "Back to School" night. Wearing school colors, we met in the home of Debbie Root Stafford for submarine sandwiches and a wealth of memories. Vice President, Laura Augspurger Lange, surprised us with a Pi Phi test.

In November we enjoyed a well-attended brunch at the Orchard Ridge Country Club with Golden Arrows as our special guests. Following the theme "Seven Decades of Sisterhood," old photos, vintage Pi Phi jewelry and other college mementos were on display. The Golden Arrows were given wooden angel ornaments personalized with their name and initiation date.

Our April Founders' Day meeting was held at the Botanical Conservatory. After a tour of the beautiful spring gardens, we were treated to a Cookie-Shine and the gift of wine carnations by the Indiana Eta actives.

Peggy Biard Jackson

Indianapolis

Through the efforts of many loyal and active members, the club increased its membership from 227 to more than 300 during the 1988-89 year.

We introduced a new and improved club year-book, compiled by Betsy Mitchell Yates, at our first meeting in September, and followed the theme "Remember" throughout the year. Programs included our annual "Puckihuddle" and Arrowcraft sale in November, a Christmas coffee get-together, a luncheon/style show in March, a Founders' Day tribute in April, and a salute to our Golden Arrows in June.

A joint meeting in October with the Indiana Gammas at Butler University attracted 145 alums, actives and pledges!

Again this year we assisted the Crossroads Rehabilitation Center with its city-wide Easter Egg Hunt by cooking and coloring more than 5,000 eggs.

Our "Alum Mum" program with the Indiana Gamma pledge class was highlighted by a Sunday brunch, hosted by Anne Wells Hayes.

Diane Stout Parker

Michiana

Our club draws Pi Phis from northern Indiana and southwestern Michigan to attend luncheon, evening and Saturday meetings. In these busy times, we are proud to note that many of the members have enjoyed 20 years and more of Pi Phi friendship in our own club. In addition to regular business meetings, the club sponsored a Guest Night with a social hour at the home of Marilyn Foster Kalamaros followed by dinner at Sunny Italy. Members also sharpened their artistic skills by making wooden angel magnets which were sold at the San Diego Convention. A special interest program on domestic violence and victims' rights was presented by our own Vickie Foreman McIntire, a paralegal with St. Joseph County Prosecutors Office.

Bonnie Hewitt Bailey

Muncie

We had a very busy year beginning with the planning of our second Victorian Sampler Sale which included many Arrowcraft items, homemade noodles, and our own Pi Phi Cookbooks.

Three of our meetings took advantage of what Muncie has to offer—the new Muncie Cultural Center; a new restaurant enjoyed by Pi Phis and their spouses for a Beau and Arrow Evening, and the Ball State Home Economics facilities by asking a professor to show the Beeman Historic Costume Collection. These meetings were enjoyed by all.

We had two meetings with Indiana Zeta actives which included a Pound Auction/Cookie-Shine in their suite and Founders' Day. The actives seem to enjoy joining us as much as possible and are inquiring about ways we could do more together. We each received a note from an active Pi Phi, which told something about herself.

April 9 was our Lambda-Mu Awards Day. Awards chairman Phyllis Russey Miltenberger and her committee did a great job. A few clubs sold items made and a table for Arrowcraft was set up. Since we were hosting this event, we were very proud it was such a success.

Donna Richardson Huffman

Southeastern Indiana

Our fall meeting in Rushville was devoted to an Arrowcraft sale and discussion of rush activities. Greensburg members disclosed that a Greensburg girl, Jennifer Elizabeth Shine, now attending Southern Methodist University, has pledged our Pi Beta Phi Chapter there.

November we enjoyed a luncheon at the Greensburg Country Club followed by a white elephant sale that was quite successful. Proceeds were used for the Emma Harper Turner Fund and our local philanthropies.

We have thirteen very enthusiastic, active members in our Southeastern Indiana Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Club. The thirteen are Golden Arrows—all tried and true. The remaining three members provide the pep, vigor and dedication necessary to keep any group intact and valuable in their endeavors.

Martha Williamson Hogsett

IOWA

Des Moines

The club was key in drawing Pi Phi alumnae and other Greek alumnae in the area together in February for an all Greek luncheon and style show. About 75 people attended the style show at the Wakonda Country Club. Tracy Heskett Lepaltak was one of the models. Mary Kay Steele Mickelson, president of our club, made opening remarks.

It provided a great way for Greek alumnae to promote greater comradery.

Erin Monnig Rice

KANSAS

Wichita

At our fall kickoff in September, Pi Phi friendships were renewed at a festive buffet at the new home of Julie Ritchie Gladden. Plans were discussed for our profitable and successful Arrowcraft sale in October.

At holiday time we enjoyed entertaining the Mothers' Club and actives at a lovely Christmas coffee, held at the home of Penny Heyl Moss, Rho Province President. As the actives told of their various activities, it revived pleasant memories for all of us.

In January Karen Keyes Street hosted a Cozy up the Fire meeting at which time our Alumnae Province President Kay Knittle Brock, shared Pi Phi news and goals with us.

An annual highlight is entertaining our spouses. The Mexican Buffet Beaux and Arrows couples party was well attended as always, with everyone having great fun.

In June we had our annual Pi Phi Garden Fair, always so successful and well received in our community.

Helen Warwick Hodge

LOUISIANA

Shreveport

The Shreveport Alumnae Club combined programs and projects in 1988-89 with appeal for everyone. Members spruced up their wardrobes with a presentation by Pi Phi consultant Martha Vitale Westmoreland. The club learned crime prevention techniques from the Shreveport Police Department, baked cookies for the V.A. Hospital on Valentines Day, and spent an enjoyable and informative meeting on Arrowmont with the help of a video and a local artisan who studied there for eight summers.

In addition, alumnae and actives gathered in November for the annual Wine and Blue Brunch. February brought alumnae and their husbands together at the Beau and Arrow Supper. Pi Phis baked and sold decorated breads, Arrowcraft and held a silent auction at our Angels' Attic in December.

Founders' Day and rush meeting rounded out our year.

MICHIGAN

Bloomfield Hills

We began the past year with pictures and an explanation of "Arrow in the Arctic," which gave us new information about our Canadian philanthropy. A stage presentation, "Luncheon on the Aisle," was shared with alumnae from other clubs, as was our annual Christmas party at Nellie Welch Knorr's home; this was highlighted by Pi Phi Margaret Taylor Smith's review of her new book, Mother, I Have Something To Tell You.

An exceptionally fine program was given by attorney Walter Denison, who spoke and showed pictures of Kenya, where he has spent much time. Other alumnae clubs in the area joined us to celebrate Founders' Day. A pre-Christmas poetry reading, a report on "Crime Prevention," and manning a booth at the local fair to make money for Cystic Fibrosis and the Kidney Foundation rounded out a busy, informative year.

North Woodward

North Woodward Alumnae Club began the 1988-89 year at the home of Annette "Candy" Proteau Saltsman with a visit from Dorothy Hogg, the "Angel Lady." She brought with her many different samples from her collection of hundreds of angels and gave a very interesting talk complete with slides.

Marcia Opydyke Cramer, Alumnae Province President, a member of our club, made her official visit in November and brought us up to date on her Pi Phi activities. This was followed by a mini Arrowcraft sale.

December brought our traditional angel ornament exchange at the home of Debbie Walker Stamps. Following a light supper we joined the Bloomfield Hills Club for a festive evening of friendship, refreshments and carol singing.

We continued to support the Haven, a shelter for abused women and children. In February, club members assembled goodie bags of personal items collected throughout the year.

With these and many other activities it was a year of special interests for North Woodward alums.

Rozanne Williamson Oebring

MISSISSIPPI

Jackson

The 88-89 year began in September with a coffee to welcome new members and renew friendships. Our November meeting featured a visit from Omicron APP Linda Williamson

Barnette and a gourmet "Tex-Mex Samplings," demonstration by Susie Foote. Our annual Easter Egg Hunt for patients at University Children's Hospital was held in March, followed by a festive couples party on April Fool's Day at the home of Ruth Conway Fly. Two garage sales provided an opportunity for everyone to participate in fund-raising efforts.

We also provided meals for chapters at Ole Miss and Southern during their busy rush weeks. A first for our club this year was to recognize all Jackson new initiates with a congratulations card and a Pi Phi organizer to use during their first active meeting. The girls loved them! The year closed with a very special Founders' Day luncheon at the home of Pam Stanley Hopton. We honored our eight Golden Arrows and invited 13 unaffiliated Pi Phis from the Jackson area.

Summer activities included a party for Jackson actives and their mothers.

Approximately 500 club members in KC donated thousands of spirited, unselfish hours this year to maintain the admiration and respect for Pi Beta Phi within the community. Under the leadership of Kathy Horridge Smith, president, our club received two Sigma Alumnae Province awards: Judy Gray McEachen, winner of the Evelyn Peters Kyle Award; and the Pi Phi Sewing Group for Children's Mercy Hospital, directed for 14 years by Rose McColloch Dressler, recipient of the Northern Virginia Club Award for Outstanding Community Service to a local project. Mary Breed Brink received the club's Pi Phi of the Year Award for her contributions to the community as well as to service to Pi Beta Phi.

Five new Golden Arrows were recognized at a special luncheon: Patricia Fleming Allen, Kansas Beta; Jean McFarland Allen, Kansas Alpha; Charlotte Stahl Dixon, Nebraska Beta; Margaret Mauss Krause, Iowa Gamma; and Joan Darby Edwards, Kansas Alpha.

A continuity of events and increased efforts raised our fund-raising income to a peak $25,000 to benefit Arrowmont and Pi Phi philanthropies and two local beneficiaries. Congratulations go to Judy Gray McEachen who led sold-out trips on the 31st annual Theatre Tour to New York in the fall and to London in the spring, and to Barbara Roe Luhrs who directed over 30 committees of the 3rd annual British Faire, attracting 800 persons. Jeanne Taylor Cockayne deserves special mention for her job in charge of Arrowcraft sales: her donation of $1,200 to the club reflects her performance!

St. Louis

Sign of the Arrow, the St. Louis Alumnae Club's gift and needlepoint shop, continues to thrive. Proceeds from the shop are donated each year to charities that have demonstrated a need for our help. In September, $43,000 was given to ten organizations including Arrowmont. We are very proud of the Pi Phis who have volunteered so much time and talent to ensure the success of

Sign of the Arrow. Be sure to visit our wonderful shop the next time you are in St. Louis.

Omaha

Women helping women . . . Omaha Pi Phis' basis for choosing a women's shelter as their local philanthropy.

November 1989 marked the second year Pi Phi alums held a linen shower benefiting The Shelter, a non-profit, temporary housing facility which provides counseling and relocation services to women and children of domestic violence.

Club members donated bed linens, towels, toiletries, diapers and high chairs in addition to presenting Shelter Director Kathy Schenker with a $500 check, proceeds from our annual plant sale.

We will continue this tradition of giving each November to keep with the spirit of the holiday season.

NEW JERSEY

Northern New Jersey

1988-89 was a year filled with very special meetings. A highlight was a "mock initiation" where we honored a Golden Arrow, Dorothy Johnson Fredrickson, as initiate. President Susan Crabb Johnson, was instrumental in organizing this inspirational renewal of our vows. A Cookie-Shine followed this memorable event.

Our November meeting, held at the home of Leesa Mathews Wicker, was led by Anne Chestnut Bartlett, former Gamma Province President. Anne discussed current campus life and we reviewed the new pledge manual and heard about challenges and opportunities facing the actives. At the January meeting, our own Nancy Salter Keene, Beta Province Alumnae President, gave an informative view of the responsibilities of an AP.

At Founders' Day, seven alumnae clubs met in Rye, NY. Our Grand President spoke at this celebration.

Nancy Lobuis Hamilton

NEW MEXICO

Albuquerque

The 1988-89 year was one of renewal. Our chapter house on the University of New Mexico campus was redecorated and repaired. Our own Donna Walton Faulhaber, an Albuquerque architect, headed the committee. The project renewed the surroundings our New Mexico Alpha Chapter lives in, and their spirits as well. The house renovation was finished just in time for fall semester and one of the most successful rush periods ever.

Programming included functions geared toward different age groups, offered at different times of the day. Programs enjoyed included a tailgate party at Homecoming, a gourmet progressive dinner that included Pi Phi spouses, a Triad Supper with alumnae of Kappa Alpha Theta and Alpha Chi Omega featuring a program on UNM's Centennial celebration, and a Cookie

Tasting Party where recipes were sold with proceeds given to a local Pi Phi scholarship fund.

We ended the year with our Founders' Day celebration and remembered our Pi Phi philanthropies by including a silent auction of Arrowcraft items.

Sherri Gollins Edwards

Las Cruces

The club celebrated Chapter Loyalty Day in January at the New Mexico Beta chapter house with an alum-active Cookie-Shine. Alums dressed as Founders, wearing long skirts, long sleeve white blouses and golden arrows in our hair. The centerpiece, an arrow cake, had the names of our three Golden Arrow members, Ellen Olson Layton, Lola Turner Upton and Violet Broughall, plus the name of our alum initiate, Jenny Curry.

The snack pack project was continued for the second year. Parents of actives and alumnae club members are asked for financial donations or baked goods for sacks of nutritious snacks for actives during final week. This money-making project was a big success last year.

The year ended by celebrating Founders' Day in El Paso with the El Paso Alumnae Club and New Mexico Beta Chapter. This is a revived tradition—alternating hostesses between Las Cruces and El Paso.

Louemma Breckenridge Brookey

NEW YORK

Westchester County

Under the enthusiastic and energetic leadership of Patti Allison Gervey, the Westchester Club has successfully attempted two major events this year. In November, we sponsored a craft sale to gain new exposure for Arrowcraft, and the results were excellent. We hope this will become an annual event.

We also coordinated a Founders' Day celebration which included seven clubs in New York, Connecticut and New Jersey. We were honored to have Grand President, Carolyn Helman Lichtenberg as guest speaker. It was a rewarding experience to work together with the other clubs to share the responsibility in making the day a truly memorable one.

Our recently formed evening group is in full swing, and we are now holding functions both in the daytime and evening.

NORTH CAROLINA

Sandhills

Sandhills Alumnae Club is the sponsor of North Carolina Beta, the Balfour Cup winner in 1988. On April 4th, ten of our members attended North Carolina Betas' Founders' Day Scholarship Awards Banquet at Hope Valley Country Club in Durham.

Carolyn Helman Lichtenberg, Grand President, was guest of honor and gave an inspirational talk. Carol Hagaman Miller, Margaret Thomas Oliver and Louise Horrall Rogulic presented a clever skit on "Life After College" as alumnae. The banquet was a memorable occasion for all who attended.

Barbara Clanton Laughlin

NORTH DAKOTA

Greater Grand Forks

The club has two main fund-raising events each year. The annual wine and cheese tasting party/silent auction is a fun evening. Everyone brings white elephants to auction as a treasure. Donations are displayed and the silent bidding takes place first. Donna Abel McEnroe then auctions off any treasures that were neglected in the silent bidding. It has been noticed that some treasures come through the auction several years in a row.

Our second money raising project is our geranium sale just before Memorial Day. The garden center has up to 1000 plants in bloom for us each year. Barb Temple Lander allows us to use her home, garage and pool area each year for the sale. The rest of us bring coffee and bars for serving our customers and work with the sales.

This is also the time each year that we reserve for Arrowcraft orders. We have members and non-members alike who are regular customers.

Patricia McBride Leonard

OHIO

Cincinnati

Our year began with a make your own yogurt sundae party as the highlight of the September meeting. In October, Betsy Everett Rees spoke about jewelry making and Maureen Breen talked about her experiences last summer at Arrowmont.

Christmas was celebrated at our annual Christmas luncheon with an angel ornament exchange. Our first "Visit From Santa" fund-raising effort was a success.

In January, we were awed—once again!—by the talents of sister Pi Phi who displayed their latest needlework and craft projects.

We finished the year with the celebration of Founders' Day at a Mt. Adams restaurant.

Cleveland East

This has been a happy and productive year for Cleveland East Alumnae Club. Several events highlighted our programs. In November we joined with Delta Gammas (and two special auctioneers from a local radio station) to raise money for our Christmas Families. Pi Phi and Delta Gammas handmade items that were auctioned off—and what a terrific job they all did!

Our Christmas project was quite a success, with Debra Sandfur Harrington as chairman. We provided for several families during the season of giving. One situation especially touched our hearts. We made it possible for Tommy to obtain two hearing aids and he is now able to work with a teacher who will teach him to speak and communicate.

In March our own Dr. Carol Radar, DVM, spoke about pet care and problems. Carol entertained us with some X rays of pets and some of the things they ate. Patients and owners love Carol's sunny disposition and often shower her with gifts and cards.

Kimberly Svette Earley

OREGON

Lake Oswego, Dunthorpe

Members enjoyed the varied activities offered this year, from learning how to understand and control our cholesterol levels by a nutritionist, to a gourmet cooking class. A local expert demonstrated, while Pi Phi tasted and learned how to create quick and impressive hors d'oeuvres. Our annual Christmas meeting at the Portland Racquet Club was well attended and fun as one of our own Pi Phi narrated and alumnae modeled.

Our club also continues an on-going food and linen drive for local philanthropic groups. As we welcome new members, young and old to our club, we look forward to continued friendship in the wine and blue.

Mari Lou Psibogios Diamond

PENNSYLVANIA

Philadelphia—Main Line

This has been an exciting year for Philadelphia—Main Line. Thanks to the dedicated and loving work of our president, Susan Marshall O'Reilly, and our membership chairman, Myra DePalma Reimer, a new junior group was formed. These younger Pi Phi gather in the evening when there are daytime meetings scheduled. We all come together for Pi Phi fun when our juniors' career schedules allow.

November found Pi Phi traveling to New York City to see the Degas exhibit, arranged by Betty Wheeler Blackmore.

We were the guests of the local alumnae club of Kappa Kappa Gamma for a Monmouth Duo brunch in January. This is becoming an annual event.

Barbra Kelly Wilson and Janet Caldwell Yeats planned a wonderful Founders' Day luncheon and fashion show.

We finished the year with our annual Phillies night, hosted by Nancy Kirwin Giles and her Phillies owner husband, Bill Giles. Proceeds benefit the Epilepsy Foundation of Philadelphia.

Michele Liro Patterson

SOUTH CAROLINA

Greenville

"The Big Picture" was the 1988-89 club theme in which programs represented the art of fellowship and learning. The kickoff meeting, "Pi Phi Palate," was a fall food extravaganza featuring South Carolina's low country and upstate specialties.

"Paw Power," one of the most successful programs, involved alums and Clemson actives in a pledge training program modeled on the TV game show "Win, Lose or Draw." We coupled that fun with a presentation on Arrowcraft and a display of the Shop's latest handcrafts.

Strengthening Pi Phi connections continues as a major focus and included a joint Founders' Day luncheon for Greenville and Spartanburg clubs to honor our Golden Arrows. Clemson actives presented an outstanding program.

Our fund-raising expertise continues to grow by combining fun and fellowship at a Broadway Theatre Night, with an antiques appraisal (proceeds benefitting the club), and with the annual Spring "Trash and Treasure" garage sale.

Marianne C. Payne

TENNESSEE

Knoxville

Under the leadership of Jean Cowden Brown, we had many varied programs this year, spotlighting talented members.

Members Showcase, at the home of Liz Nelson Peebles, gave a look at members' hobbies and artistic achievements—from china painting to designing, sewing, and marketing loungewear, to an extensive antique doll collection, to the art of making hot tamales!

Madge Murray Mouser, our loungewear entrepreneur, put together a boutique item for Convention, an angel applique kit. Over 100 kits were sent to Convention.

Fantasy of Trees, a fundraiser for Children's Hospital, gave Pi Phi a chance to join other organizations to decorate and auction off a Christmas tree. Barbara Brubaker Neff came up with the idea, "And The Angels Sing," a dazzling Christmas tree of angels.

We continued our support of Serenity Shelter, a shelter for battered mothers and children, with a spring auction and dinner, with all proceeds going to the shelter.

We are very proud of our club this year. We received the Ideal Club award from Kappa Province.

Virginia Shalibo Marsh

Nashville

In September the Nashville Club celebrated its 60th birthday with a membership meeting at the home of Gail Danner Wilson.

The Christmas Village spirit was alive in November as co-chairmen Linda Gonzales Cato and Nancy Martin Tice led us through our 28th Christmas Village, benefiting Arrowmont and the Bill Wilkerson Hearing and Speech Center. December's gathering was a couples' Christmas cheer buffet, celebrating the success of Christmas Village, held at the 1840 home of Joann Sullivan Wilson.

T.I. Bond Bishop

TEXAS

Amarillo

It was quiz-time for husbands/dates at our annual Beaux and Arrows party in February. The men were given a "fill in the blank" type quiz on Pi Phi information, which was followed by an oral quiz. This provided the entertainment for the evening! Tracie Erwin Brooks' husband, Shannon, was the most knowledgeable Pi Phi man and took home first prize.

Our fund-raiser was held the week before Easter this year with an Easter theme. Bright yellow invitations were worded, "Break Out to the Pi Beta Phi Eggstravaganza." Easter lilies, Easter baskets and fillers were sold, as well as frozen casseroles, baked goods, Arrowcraft items and painted childrens' T-shirts. Debbie Saunders Corbin and Julie Peterson Storm prepared sandwiches in shapes of bunnies and ducks, and cheese spread was in a bunny shape. The party was in the home of Estelle Farris Marsh Watlington and was an outstanding event.

Virginia Frisbie Barbee

Hill Country

The Hill Country Alumnae Club held its winter meeting at the Old Post Office Cafe in Comfort, Tex., with Omega Province Alumnae Province President, Norma Richardson Loughridge, as guest speaker. She brought members up to date on the many Pi Phi philanthropies as well as the drug and alcohol awareness program in force and the networking system now available for Pi Phis.

The Hill Country Club meets four times a year and welcomes new members. June Olcott McAshan, of Hunt, Tex., is president.

Carolyn Brown

Houston

The club has had a busy and exciting year. Our first fund-raiser benefiting our Pi Beta Phi Library at Texas Children's Hospital was held in March. Many long hours and hard work went into this delightful luncheon and children's style show. Saks Fifth Avenue dressed our models, all children and grandchildren of Pi Phis.

The planning committee busily worked to ensure a charming event, with Beatrix Potter's Peter Rabbit and other characters providing the theme, decorations, favors and lots of festive surprises.

This first public appeal to raise funds for our library was a real success. Over $38,000 was donated to the Pi Phi Children's Library.

The Library is our major philanthropic effort in the Houston community. The Houston Alumnae Club has touched the lives of children and their families in a real and lasting way. Our benefit for the Pi Phi Children's Library was an inspiring and gratifying experience.

PI PHI, HOT DOGS AND TX-OU ... Each October at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, two rival football teams—U. of Texas and U. of Oklahoma—match up for a spirited game. Joining in the spirit are Pi Phi alumnae concession stand workers. This is one of our annual fund-raisers; we get a percentage of the sales. We manage to draw crowds by hanging a Pi Phi sign above our stand and by wearing Pi Phi paraphernalia. Sometimes loyal friends of Pi Phi even leave "tips" for our worthy causes (and good service!). Not only do Pi Phis work, but children and husbands volunteer (?) for the event. The "hot dog" crew this year included: Mary Sue Thorton Redwine, chairman and husband, Ed, Toni Luciano Anderson, Kay Kasten Anderson, Judy Lloyd Campbell, Leslie Douglas, Sarah Dunn Fisher, Sharlene Smith Gaiter, Terri Gish-Norum, Ferman Gleiser (spouse of Charlotte Wilmarth Gleiser), Susan Keil Long and Ju-lie Smith Smiley.

Sarah Dunn Fisher

San Antonio

Our city has a rich and diverse cultural history. The Alumnae Club focused on one aspect of this history last November during its annual progressive luncheon fund-raiser. Chairmen Cassie Hager Harte, Debbie Gay Baxter and Phyllis Gatti Smith held the luncheon in the King William District, less than one-half mile from downtown San Antonio. It is said to be one of the earliest planned subdivisions in Texas. The area, which flourished in the 1870s, has mixed architecture but there are mainly examples of early Victorian design. Residents of the neighborhood were predominately German so the district was named for the then German ruler.

The three houses toured during the luncheon were registered historic residences and have been highlighted in national magazines. Authentic German cabbage rolls and apple strudel were served.

The fund-raiser was a great success. Proceeds benefit Pi Beta Phi philanthropies and Grace Place, a local organization offering respite care for people with alzheimers disease.

WASHINGTON

Seattle

We have had a delightful year, starting with the August 30th Tour and Tea at the Governor's Mansion in Olympia. Two Washington Alpha alumnae, First Lady Jean Forstrom Gardner and Barbara Clanton Daniels, gave us a tour of the Mansion and explained the history of the beautiful furnishings.

Judith Manville Runstad, Idaho Alpha, was the Pi Phi Personality at our annual luncheon in January. Judy is a Seattle lawyer and past chairman of the United Way Campaign. We enjoyed hearing about her experiences.

At our March meeting in Bonnie Blanken-ship Chapman's lovely home, Liv Grohn showed Arrowmont slides plus slides from her two sessions there. Liv received scholarships to Arrowmont in 1987 and 1988.

Doreen Hubbard Conner

Wenatchee

Exciting news for the club in 1988-1989 was the naming of member, Connie Busigan Nelson, as Alpha-Gamma Alumnae Province President. At the fall meeting, Connie shared experiences of Officers' Workshop in Gatlinburg. Connie is mother of two Pi Beta Phis.

At the Christmas party, a change of emphasis resulted in members bringing children's gifts to be distributed to needy families rather than enjoying the usual gift exchange among members.

Founders' Day was celebrated in April with members enjoying a catered dinner. This was a dual celebration: first, honoring our Founders and second, the chartering of the club 60 years ago on May 13, 1929. Three of those charter members, Wardine Jesseph Fenton, Mildred Loudenbeck Schultz and Helen Campbell Horan are present day members and were recognized as 60 year club members and Golden Arrows. A new Golden Arrow member was honored this year also, Nellie Roseberry Wild. Another club honoree was Marilyn Gutz Liddell, named Alpha Gamma Province nominee for the Evelyn Peters Kyle Award. Celebration was the evening's theme.

Diversity of age and interest gives inspiration and stimulation to this club, the only University Greek alumnae club meeting regularly in this area. Pi Beta Phis celebrate sisterhood with joy.

WISCONSIN

Beloit

We have not been heard from for several publications. Yes, we do still exist!

Our dedicated 20 or so members meet four times a year. Two meetings are dinners held at volunteers' homes. Our menus and table settings would humble the finest of restaurants. Two meetings are luncheons held in a home or local Holiday Inn.

Last summer a group gathered at Lake Geneva, Wis. to brave a tour of the mail delivering boat and enjoy a festive potluck at organizer Gretchen Hobbs Allen's home.

For the first time in 19 years one of our members had a baby. Our club gift: Arrowmont bibs, of course. This extends our range from new mom to great-great grandmother. Our diverse lives provide chatter ranging from local politics, European travels, raising horses, how to "put-up" tomatoes to birthing calves.

Meetings are filled with laughter, warm memories and tender tears for those we lose. We cherish our bond and pride that only Pi Phi gives.

Sally O'Neal Donny

Madison

Madison alumnae had an exciting start last fall beginning with a meeting and tour of the Wisconsin Alpha chapter house. In November we had a very successful pecan sale realizing a profit of $500. In March we had a program on "Wisconsin's First Ladies" given by Nancy Williams, a Delta Gamma. We entertained 38 seniors at our senior farewell pot luck dinner in April. Each girl was presented with an angel lapel pin especially designed for us to sell at the Convention boutique in San Diego.

Convention Candida

This spectacular sand castle, built especially for the Pi Phis in the Champagne Foyer of the hotel, was dubbed "West Coast Holt House."

A thrill for Convention goes—the three Illinois Alpha granddaughters of Founder Jennie Horne Turnbull; Eleanor Turnbull Sassano and Marjorie Turnbull Fritz, both from Chappaqua, NY, and Kathryn Turnbull Campbell, Boulder, Colo.

Barbie Oliver Tootle, Ohio Beta, in a not-so-rare moment during collegiate workshops. Barbie is Program Coordinator in the Office of the President of The Ohio State University.

Mime Martha Miller Ehringer, Illinois Eta, entertained at the Legacy Luncheon. She is House Corp treasurer for California Kappa.

Sarah Bryant Tomasello, Florida Beta's "Duchess," leads the Convention in the song she wrote as a pledge, "A Pi Phi is an Angel in Disguise." It's a favorite song of all Pi Phis. (See story, ARROW, Winter 1988)

Past Grand President Sarajane (Sally) Paulson Vanasse urges a sale of her club's items in the Boutique.

Tim Burke, Pi Phi's official attorney, being serious.

Sandy Burns Matranga, California Epsilon, Convention Registration Chairman, being busy.

Arrowcraft Manager, Mary Dale Swan, being helpful.

Sue Cory Griffith, Wisconsin Gamma, local Photography Chairman, and her assistant, Jeanne Kloss Blair, California Epsilon, being relaxed.

A couple members of the Resolutions Committee being ... the end!

It was a good Convention!

off the Arrow hook

As this fall issue of The ARROW is being mailed, the new editor is busy gathering information for the winter issue. Jennifer Moeller, Pi Phi's Communication Coordinator, has been appointed by Grand Council as Editor of The ARROW.

Jenny is young, eager and talented. She has been working for Pi Phi for the past two years since her graduation from the University of Missouri journalism department. In 1987-88 she was Resident Graduate Consultant for Virginia Eta at the University of Richmond. Last year (1988-89) she was a Traveling Consultant. She knows Pi Phi.

Jenny was president of her Missouri Alpha chapter, an Honors College student and served on the Pi Phi legislative committee for Convention 1985. She also backpacked through Europe before settling down to her new 9-5 job.

Pi Phi welcomes Jenny as editor, and wishes for her all the pleasures that accrue to the position.

In the summer 1988 issue of The ARROW there was an article about Evie Hoppes Teegen, Iowa Gamma, and her activities with the Republican Party. Now she has received the ultimate reward for her years of service. Evie is the new U.S. ambassador to Fiji and three other small nations in the South Pacific—Tonga, Tuvalu and Kiribati. There are 322 islands that make up the Dominion of Fiji.

Evie has been a national Republican committeewoman since 1980. Last December she was part of a seven-member task force that traveled to four nations in Africa and participated in the 25th anniversary celebration of Kenya's independence.

Some interesting statistics presented at Convention by Grand Vice President of Alumnae Lucy Baker Warner: in the Fraternity there are 319 chartered alumnae clubs; 32 Pi Phi Pockets; 15 Junior and evening groups within the clubs, and an alumnae membership of 17,921. There were 385 new Golden Arrow members and 25 75-year members recognized and honored during the past year.

Watch for pictures of the province ABO winners, province Chapter Service Award winners, and province Evelyn Peters Kyle Award winners in the winter issue. Also included will be a list of the province winners of Ideal Alumnae Clubs.
